lowed to choose subjects and projects.

Individuals Stressed

Choosing their own subjects, makes the work more interesting, helps develop the student's techniques. The result is that the individual's work is stressed rather than the class'.

The various new mediums also make the work more interesting. Mr. Temesy pointed out a few besides the old standards crayon, water colors and charcoal. The students now work with oils, tempera colors, casein paint, conte crayon, pastel chalks, india ink and pen, even working in chalk with buttermilk and also crayon on sandpaper. The results are very effective when properly done.

But the painting, sketching and handcrafts do not take all the course's time.

The students now take time out to study the art work done through the ages since early man first scratched crude drawings inside caves. The Grades 9 and 10 study art done during the period from the cave-man to the rennaisance period, then in Grade 11 the students study up to modern art.

Grade 12 students trace the origins or modern art, studying the work of Africans, West Coast Indians and Orientals.

Plan Housing.

Various art topics are discussed; one is town planning, covering residential, recreation and industrial areas, homes and parking facilities. The students, working with a $10,000 price limit, design and build a home, including both exterior and interior furnishings.

Mr Temesy said that the chance students get to express themselves in the painting classes and develop their ideas helps them to overcome feelings of inferiority that some students have when they enter the Collegiate.

Monday, the students' work will be placed in the public library for its annual review by parents and public.

Sewell Blasts Ashburn's Alley

PHILADELPHIA, May 17 (AP) —Baseball has had "Greenberg Gardens," and "Kiner's Kitchen." Now it has "Ashburn's Alley." At least that's what manager Luke Sewell of Cincinnnati Reds had to say Friday night after a Richie Ashburn bunt helped beat his club in the 10th inning.

Sewell claims the third-base line at Shibe Park is banked a little so that Philadelphia Phillies' fleet outfielder can lay down his bunt and hustle to first base while the opposition waits for the ball to roll foul. Only the ball doesn't roll foul, says Sewell.

The Cincinnati pilot, perhaps a little on the edgy side as his Reds absorbed their fourth straight defeat since invading the east, wondered out loud about what a fine thing it would be if every major league ball park was laid out to fit a star player's specialty.

Sewell didn't say the Phillies' management had someone work on the third base every day keeping it manicured for the Ashburn bunts. But he said no one was hurrying out to correct the situation.

Allow Troops Stay In Japan

TOKYO, May 17 (Reuters) — Japan and the United Nations command have worked out a provisional agreement enabling British Commonwealth troops to stay in Japan while it is used as a base for Korea, foreign office sources disclosed today.

Since the Japanese peace treaty came into force last month, they have had no legal right to stay in the country. Technically all occupation forces should be withdrawn within 90 days of April 28, the date the treaty became effective.

American troops have stayed under the U.S.-Japan security treaty which came into force simultaneously with the peace treaty.

The provisional agreement, covering the status of non-American troops, now will give Commonwealth forces the same right.

It is expected to be signed next week and will be replaced later by a formal agreement.

Usually reliable sources here said the provisional agreement provides for Japan to make a stop-gap payment to cover the cost of services involved in maintaining lines of communication to Korea.

Cobourg C.G.E. Paper Costs High, Suspended

COBOURG, May 17 (ENS). — The Cobourg Works News, a paper published by the C.G.E. for distribution among its employees and also free distribution to a number of people in Cobourg, has suspended publication as an economy measure.

The paper was started in 1948 and was very popular with the employees. Its final edition was May 16.

In a message to the employees, works manager Harry Gadd said, in explaining the suspension of publication—"the decision to relinquish the News is arrived at with regret. We must however, make every conservation in cost that we reasonably can to meet today's very keen price competition."

The head office of the C.G.E. used a portion of the paper to inform the workers on production in the other C.G.E. plants and also utilized it to announce company wage policy.

Warkworth W.I. Start Work On Quilt

WARKWORTH, May 17 (ENS) —The guild of St. John's Anglican Church was held at the home of Mrs. Hunter, Tuesday. The president, Mrs. A. Meneilley, opened the meeting.

The ladies worked on quilt patches and the travelling apron was passed on to other members of the guild.

The members were pleased to welcome Mrs. McKibbon, the rector's wife and her mother, Mrs. Murphy of Toronto; also Mrs. Roy Smith of Campbellford, and Mrs. Thomas, a member of the guild who has returned to the community after spending the winter in Geneva, New York.

Mrs. Roy Shea invited the ladies to hold their June meeting at her home.

Mrs. McKibbon closed the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Hunter served lunch. Mrs. Shea moyed a vote of thanks to the hostess.

Insurance Group Meets

MARMORA, May 17—(ENS)—Marmora Council No. 279 Reliable Life Insurance Society met at the home of the chief councilor Mrs. I. B. Nichol on Tuesday evening for its regular meeting. The hostess served refreshments at the close.

Help Impoverished People Or Help Reds—Deifenbaker

COBOURG, May 17 (ENS) — Five out of six in the commonwealth were colored. Millions had an intimate acquaintanceship with hunger and, accustomed to tryanny for generations upon generations, they feared not the tyranny of Communism.

It was a fertile field for Communism if the prosperous white nations did not help them out. This was the picture graphically painted in words by John Diefenbaker in addressing a large Cobourg audience last night on freedom in the world today.

He spoke under the auspices of the citizenship education campaign of the Y.W.C.A.

Mr. Diefenbaker was extended a civic welcome by Mayor Jack Burnet and introduced by Dr. Fred Robertson, Liberal M.P. for this riding.

Becomes Frightening

Mr. Diefenbaker said that the world since 1945 had become most frightening in the extreme Communism was on the march the world over and he cited India and Ceylon as countries in which Communism had made startling progress in spite of the fact that these countries had been considered immune to that line of thought.

Freedom did not give one the right to do wrong but did provide the right to be wrong. He warned, however, against those who would use the liberties provided in a free country to undermine those very principles of freedom which allowed them to operate. There was a duty in the interests of preserving freedom in the commonwealth which the more prosperous nations should undertake, and that was to produce so much that the surplusses could be used to help out those countries in the Commonwealth, such as in Asia and Africa, which did not have a proportionate share of the world's goods. Otherwise, he warned, Communism would make inroads of such magnitude that the picture would be indeed a tragic one if the colored nations were to become Communist.

Have Destiny

"This Commonwealth, along with the United States, has an appointment with destiny, so great that it has never been equalled in its challenge before. We have a duty in our own country to foster the principles of citizenship so that all are aware of the duties and the privileges of citizenship.

"We must mobilize our spiritual forces, strengthen our Commonwealth, be our brother's keeper, help the people in Asia and Africa. To tell them of the freedom of Democracy does not feed empty stomachs in Asia and Africa. We must be realistic and share our resources so that there will be no chance for Communism to gain a foothold.

"There must be no discrimination because there we find the fires that destroy a nation. In the world we see in many places freedom fighting its greatest battle. On the brighter side we can hearken to the memorable, historic words 'whom the gods destroy they first make mad with power' and reflect on the Hitlers, the Mussolinis and their counterparts; 'the mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceedingly fine' and take comfort in those words; 'the bee fertilizes the flower it robs' and the last line 'when it is darkest, the stars are brightest'. Let us meet the challenge, act resolutely and with confidence."

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Gerard Cote of St. Hyacinthe, Que., is a strong favorite for the annual Yonkers A.A.U. marathon Sunday in Yonkers, N. Y. Nearly 100 runners will compete.

Cote, who has already gained a place on the Canadian Olympic team, is a three-time winner of both the Boston and Yonkers races. Jesse Van Zant of Boston won last year.

Another strong contender is Paul Collins of Wolfville, N. S., who runs in the colors of the New York Millrose A.A. He recently won the Canadian marathon at St. Hyacinthe.

The race actually is to choose United States representatives on the American Olympic team. An American winner would be sure to catch a place on the U.S. team.

Slammin' Sammy Snead made a farce of the $15,000 Wykagyl round-robin golf tournament on Friday when he forced two more brilliant sub-par rounds to push ahead of the gield by 30 points. He would have to break a leg to lose.

Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., and Irish Billy Graham of New York fought a bristling 10-round draw Friday night at Madison Square Garden in New York.

Canadian Olympic walking championships and Olympic trials will be held next month in St. John's, the Newfoundland branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada announced Friday night. The 10,000-metre walk will be held June 6 and the 50-kilometre walk June 18.

Battlefield and Arise, owned by Addison Stables, Toronto, carries the top weights today in the $30,000 added Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park, New York.

An appropriation of $2,000,000 for water conservation projects in Canada has been authorized by Ducks Unlimited, Inc., of the United States, officials of the organization announced Friday in Edmonton. The purpose of the $50,000 yearly program is to conserve run-off water.

The Eastern Canada Amateur Tennis championship matches, which have not been staged since before the Second World War, will be played July 7-13 in Quebec city.

Goalie Terry Sawchuk and rightwing Gordie Howe, top stars last season of Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League, have signed contracts for the 1952-53 season, general manager Jack Adams announced Friday in Detroit.

OLYMPIC WRESTLER — Adrien Poliquin, 22, of Montreal, has been chosen for Canada's wrestling team in the Olympic Games at Helsinki. Voted Canada's outstanding French-Canadian athlete at a festival held in Montreal last winter, Poliquin won all his Olympic trials bouts in the 125½-pound class at Winnipeg by falls. He won the Quebec provincial novice title in 1947, city and provincial championships in 1948 and since has won three additional Canadian titles.

Maritime Area Interested In Trade Fair

HALIFAX —(CP)—Industries in Canada's Atlantic provinces are taking greater interest in this year's Canadian International Trade Fair to be held at Toronto June 2-13.

J. G. Farquhar, field representative appointed to stir up interest in the Maritimes, reports that booth space this year will total 1,800 square feet compared with only 120 square feet at least year's fair.

The number of exhibitors from this region has increased from one to seven. Part of the increase is probably due to the assistance of the provincial departments of industry in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Both provinces offered exhibitors 50 per cent of the booth-rental costs.

Have Booths

The Maritimes' two major seaports, Halifax and Saint John, N.B., have booths to show off their respective facilities and industries.

Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation will have a visual display showing their operations, concentrated mainly on Cape Breton island.

Maritime Packers (Canada) Ltd. of Pictou, N.S., will display frozen sea foods and the House of Otho Gibbons, a new industry of Dartmouth, N.S., will show an aluminum folding airfoam comfort chair.

Industrial Shipping Company Ltd., of Mahone Bay, N.S., is exhibiting birch laminated motor boat hullse, and Dominion Bridge Company Ltd., will display heavy machinery and a model of the new Bank of Nova Scotia building in Toronto.

Two Charges Face Youth After Accident

Two charges have been laid against Jack Nurse, 18, 1 Lansdowne St., who was arrested after a slight accident on George St., at 2 a.m. today.

Nurse is charged with careless driving and leaving the scene of an acident.

George Sabourin, 271 William St., told police he was turning around in a driveway on George St., between Perry and Rink St., and after looking to see no traffic was coming he began backing out into the street.

He was about five feet away from the west curb of George St., he said, when a southbound car passed on the right side, and clipped the right rear fender of his car, then continued south on George St.

He followed the car south on George, then east on Lansdown St., until the car finally stopped. The driver was Nurse, who was later placed under arrest. He appeared in police court today on the two charges.

Retirement Age Declared Wrong Theory

OTTAWA, May 17—(CP)—A heartening saga of geriatrics was unfolded Friday before the Commons Committee on Veterans' Affairs.

After days of listening to various organizations urge higher war veterans' allowances, the committee sat back with pleasure and listened to a prominent Vancouver doctor tell about a spreading experiment in helping aged veterans help themselves.

Dr. Wallace Wilson, Veterans Department authority on geriatrics—care of the aging and aged—said that the department had already cut by half the number of aged veterans entering a departmental home in British Columbia and has revolutionized the lives of the men in the home.

Gladiolus Society Plan Provincial Show

Directors of Peterborough and District Gladiolus Society are planning to expand this year's show to provincial range.

Mrs. J. H. Leslie will distribute 500 prize lists among the Ontario growers of gladioli. This tenth annual exhibition in Peterborough will be held in the market hall, August 13 and 14. Numerous special prizes and trophies are being offered. Several new classes have been added.

Bud Lloyd, chairman of the junior committee, has arranged the most attractive list of prizes and trophies for that department. All junior members have received one dozen exhibition bulbs from the society to encourage the young folks to grow and exhibit flowers.

20 Displays

The society has secured twenty attractive commercial display booths, a new feature which will make the show more interesting.

Basket floral arrangements will be demonstrated by George Clark and Fred Storey. In the ladies division, Mrs. Earl Johns and Mrs. Chris Plunkett have been invited to demonstrate table decorations. They are outstanding floral artists Five valuable door prizes will be drawn each night of the show.

Directors are planning entertainment for the evening programs. James Weyer will be master of ceremonies.

This Ontario gladiolus meet will be broadcast on a Toronto radio station.

MOSQUITO KILLERS—Entomologists William Baldwin ,left, and Hedley James, with laboratory assistant Marta Vandergoeven, check the radio-activity of treated mosquitos with a geiger counter in experiments in mosquito control at Belleville, Ont. Mosquito larvae are made radio-active. Then parasites which eat the larvae also become radioactive. These are studied with a view to helping the parasites increase so that mosquitos can be kept under control.

New Commissioner Lauds Work Of Railways, Banks

The railways and the banks of Canada have done more for its industrial development than the public realizes, William L. Burnie, who was recently appointed industrial commissioner for Peterborough, commented in his office in the city hall Friday afternoon. "It would be impossible to estimate just what their contribution has been," Mr. Burnie said, "but some of the maintain special departments in their offices in such large centres as New York, Chicago and London, England. I know quite a number of their staff men who are engaged in trying to attract new industries to this country."

"Possibly the people do not hear much about the trade and industry branch of the Ontario government's Department of Planning under the direction of Mr. F. J. Lyle, but it certainly deserves mention for what they are doing. These are some of the agencies who have done substantial work in helping to build up the industrial structure of Canada."

Born In Montreal

Mr. Burnie was born and educated in Montreal, was first with the Grand Trunk Railway and then joined the C.P.R. With its engineering department he was introduced to the industrial proportional phase of its interests, and in 1919 he was sent to Toronto to open the C.P.R. industrial branch and office.

His duties took him from coast to coast in this country and into the central and eastern States. Railways are naturally interested in the industrial expansion of towns and cities for the development of their freight business. Specifically they endeavour to locate new industries adjacent to their rail lines.

Mr. Burnie was sent by the C.P.R. in 1924 to the Wembley Exhibition in England, and two years later he poined the Southern Canada Power Company of Montreal whose industrial enterprise reached out into the eastern townships of Quebec. Finally, in 1937, he was appointed manager of the company's industrial department, associated with Power Company of Canada.

Southern Canada Power had electricity to sell, and the aims of its industrial department was to attract manufacturers into its area as consumers of electricity.

Mr. Burnie is modest about his experiences with many companies that were looking for sites. He mentioned several of them mainly as an example of how manufacturers prefer to do their own surveys.

Own Impressions

"For instance, the Courtald Company, one of the outstanding textile firms of the Old Country, decided to investigate opportunities in Canada. I accompanied their Mr. Douglas, a Scotsman, on his first visit to Cornwall, where they finally located. Mr. Douglas didn't want any publicity about his visit, and I remember that we started out at 5 o'clock one morning to look over the town as it was then. Nobody knew that we had been there, and Mr. Douglas proceeded to form his own impressions of the place.

"My first visit to Peterborough was a result of correspondence and meeting with the late Simon R. Armstrong, who was city clerk and also industrial commissioner. Incidentally, through those visits I gained an impression of this community that has remained with me up to the present."

The Examiner asked Mr. Burnie what was that impression. In reply, he said: "I think the best thing I can do is to read you some paragraphs from a letter I wrote recently to the head of a firm I know in England."

The Burnie description of Peterborough, its people, industries, community and municipal establishment, with its central location in a beautiful lake country, was worthy of Chamber of Commerce publicity without any florid adjectives.

"My associations with Mr. Armstrong were most pleasant. Among them I recall a motor trip that took us one summer day over the Chemong Lake floating bridge. It was quite an experience. Although he couldn't get much time to be away from Peterborough, I know that City Clerk Outram has made good contacts in Montreal, and I heard of him in my rounds there. He also called on me several times. In fact, my relations with your city office confirmed my good opinions of Peterborough people."

Co-operation

"I feel that I shall have every co-operation from your City Clerk and the members of the city council, and I shall be grateful for the support the heads of industry and the merchants and the people generally can give me in trying to attract new industry to Peterborough. I remember a merchant of Granby, Quebec, who used to tell travellers, including any from the United States, that they should set up a branch of their business right in Grandby. I can't say what the results were, but that was an active spirit in trying to promote his community's growth.

"I have never said that I was instrumental in locating any industry in any place, and the reason was simply this: that the decision is always made by the man who owns industry or who is in authority as its representative. We can try to attract them and direct them, and that is just about as far as we can go, bringing out the best features of a community."

Mr. Burnie's resignation from Southern Power Company was entirely optional. Correspondence with the Peterborough city council began tentatively about three years ago, was resumed last year, and finally this year's council proposed to him an arrangement more or less part time. So far it has been chiefly full time in Mr Burnie's activities since he began his work on May 1.

Chairman of the council's manufacturers' committee is Ald. J. A Dewart, who planned the introductory meeting of the Peterborough Club Friday afternoon to enable Mr. Burnie to meet the leaders of the city's manufacturing companies.

W.A. Raises Money For Building Fund

BANCROFT, May 17 (ENS). — The Evening Women's Association of St. Paul's United Church met at the home of the president, Mrs. C. A. Eddy, on Tuesday evening for the May meeting.

Mrs. A. Severin was in charge of devotions, assisted by Mrs. C. Trotter. Mrs. Eddy presided during the business session.

Mrs. J. Follis was appointed convener of a rummage sale to be held in the church basement on Saturday, May 31.

Approximately half the allocation expected from this group towards the United Church Training School building fund was raised by collection from the members, and the remainder was voted from the treasury to round out this year's donation. Fifteen dollars was granted to the camp committee to aid in sending C.G.I.T. girls to camp this summer. Mrs. Jack Follis will act as the group's representative on this committee.

Mrs. Uena Trotter conducted two interesting contests and prizes went to Mrs. J. Follis and Mrs. E. Mather.

On the social committee for the evening were Mrs. J. Hattin, Mrs. K. Cutler and Mrs. C. Wark.

Three Bands Present Concert At Stirling

WARKWORTH, May 17 (ENS) —A massed band concert composed of bands of Frankford, Warkworth and Stirling under the leadership of bandmaster, Maurice Bell, was held in Stirling Sunday.

All the band instrumental numbers were taken by members of the Warkworth band, although before the band's organization none could play a horn.

The bands expect to hold a concert in Warkworth soon.

Also in the concert were the Frankford Male Quartet and Alfred Uetz of Belleville, former member of the Allegro Accordion club in Berne, Switzerland.

Seaman Sentenced BadConduct Discharge

PEARL HARBOR, May 17 (AP) —Seaman Bruce S. Hopping Friday was convicted and sentenced to a bad-conduct discharge on charges of criticizing navy discipline and trying to discredit publicly his commanding officers aboard the salvage ship Reclaimer.

After hearing the sentence, the 30-year-old Port Newark, N.J., lumber executive said "I'm glad."

The special navy court martial could have sentenced Hopping to six months at hard labor.

John Wells

MARMORA, May 17 (ENS). — The funeral took place in Marmora Township Friday afternoon of John Wells, leaving the residence of his brother Charles for Beaver Creek Free Methodist Church. Service was conducted by the Rev. G. H. Bache, assisted by the Rev H. A. Thaxter of Cordova. A duet was sung by the Rev. and Mrs. J. Paynter of Madoc, the former also singing a solo. Burial was in Beaver Creek Free Methodist Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Carl Bird, Arthur Caverly, Adam Chisholm, Kenneth Snider, John Goodrich and Wilbert Jones.

Mr. Wells, who was in his 87th year, died in Belleville Hospital on Tuesday where he had been a patient for only a week.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Wells and was born in Marmora Township where most of his life was spent.

He was a resident of the village for about a quarter of a century and returned to the township on the death of his wife about six years ago to live chiefly with his niece, Mrs. Stewart Hardy

He and his wife, the former Martha Nobes, were faithful members of the Free Methodist Church.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) B. Sutton (Leah) of Odessa, and one brother, Charles of Marmora Township, and a number of nephews and nieces.

Wee Davie Proud New Peer

LONDON—(CP)—Lork Kirkwood of Clydeside said in his maiden speech he is proud to be a member of the House of Lords.

The 80-year-old peer, once the terror of the Clydeside and long a campaigner against the very idea of the House of Lords, said in a loud voice: "I am proud to belong."

Lord Kirkwood, or "Wee Davie" as he is better known, said British workers are bored with talk about Britain's economic crisis. It would need a genius to make the crisis clear to everyone.

"Maybe that genius should start by educating the House of Lords," he said. "I sometimes wonder if we understand half of it ouselves."

The speech was in striking contrast to those Wee Davie Kirkwood used to make 30 years ago, when he was defying the late David Lloyd George and served prison sentences for his actions.

Marmora News

Mr. Tom McCann returned to his home in Malone on Tuesday after being a patient in Belleville General Hospital for several days.

The executive of Marmora Home and School Association met in the public school on Wednesday evening. Simultaneously Principal E. C. Prentice and J. Trombley of the public school staff planted some shrubs on the school grounds recently purchased by the association.

Mrs. G. R. Hartley is a patient in Belleville General Hospital as the result of a fall in her home.

Scientists Seek Enemy To Destroy Mosquitoes

By ROY PEACOCK

BELLEVILLE, Ont., May 17 — (CP)—It is not unusual to find a swamp infested with mosquitoes, but there's one eight miles north of here where the pests are radioactive.

William Baldwin and Hedley James,entomologists at the Dominion Parasite Laboratory here, are responsible, but they are only trying to lend nature a hand at mosquito control by determining the insect's natural enemies.

The purpose of their work is to identify mosquito predators which feed on mosquito larvae. Then they hope to cut down the pesky "skeeter" by increasing the number of the cannibals.

New Approach

Experiments in mosquito control are not new, but the approach of the two entomologists certainly is. From certain test ponds in the swamp north of here, they brought mosquito larvae into the laboratory, coated them with radioactive phosphorus in acid form and returned them to the ponds. When other swamp insects had had time for a good meal, the scientists brought back all the insect matter they could find in the test ponds.

This was tested for radioactivity with a Geiger counter—the radioactive mosquitoes inside other insects shone through—and certain insects took on new importance as mosquito killers.

Among them were two species of Caddis flies, a species of water bug, and damsel fly nymphs. One species of mosquito was found to be cannibal—while in its own larvae state, it feasts on the larvae of other mosquitoes. And snails taken from the test ponds also proved radioactive.

Now, both the investigators are convinced that the slow-moving snails catch and eat live mosquitoes. They also are sure that if the mosquito had no natural enemies, the country would be literally overcome with droners.

Mr. Baldwin is particularly interested in the radioactive phase of the work; Mr. James is the mosquito man. The latter's research work in this field has included experiments in mosquito control at Churchill on Hudson Bay.

Positive identification of the predators can be made only when the insects have reached the adult stage. Here the entomologists face a problem.

Some of their captive predators have eaten so much radioactive mosquito that they die before they grow up. The radioactivity is so weak,however, that there is no danger to humans. Still, the two experimenters, and their assistant, Mary Wilkinson, wear rubber gloves at their work.

Their findings will allow study of mosquito predators in their natural environment and will determine just how effective as a control each one is. Practical application of their findings will be to propagate the more active predators for distribution in areas where it is impractical to spray.

The entomologists believe that natural, or biological, control of insects is better than artificial means. Sprays may kill the pests but they also kill their natural enemies, thereby destroying natural control.

The laboratory here, established in 1928, is the only one of its kind in Canada. One of its biggest jobs to date has been the control of the spruce sawfly by the introduction of the sawfly parasite.

Entomologists point out that there is a difference between predatory and parasite control of insects. A predator eats its enemy; a parasite lays eggs on its host. When they hatch, the young live on the host, eventually destroying it.

1. IT'S HOMOGENIZED — All ingredients so thoroughly dispersed that they remain permanently in solution. Thus they perform their various functions rapidly and efficiently.
2. LOWERS OIL CONSUMPTION—High Viscosity Index and tough heat-resistant properties keep oil consumption down.
3. KEEPS MOTORS CLEAN — Detergent and dispersant additives hold dirt in suspension so that it drains away at regular oil change intervals.
4. PREVENTS ACID ACTION — Neutralizes harmful acids, protecting motor against this major cause of excessive engine wear.
5. FIGHTS WEAR—Gruelling road-tests across Canada, under supervision of an independent testing laboratory, proved that there was no appreciable wear on motor parts.
6. INCREASES GASOLINE MILEAGE—Cleansing action of oil, plus high film strength, enables piston rings to operate freely, thus sealing the combustion chamber.
7. PREVENTS ENGINE RUST—Penetrates and clings to engine parts, counteracting engine deterioration.
8. FLOWS FREELY—Low cold-test properties give instant protection to all vital parts.
9. RESISTS THINNING—Even under extreme heat, this amazing new oil keeps a protective film between vital engine parts.
10. SUPPRESSES FOAM — Provides "bubble-free" lubrication—offsets oxidation—reduces oil consumption.

"Third Lung" Gimmick To Help Climb Mt. Everest

By ADRIENNE FARRELL

KATHMANDU, Nepal—(Reuters)—A new lightweight "third lung", never before tried out on Mount Everest, will help an expedition of Swiss mountain climbers in their current attempt to conquer the world's highest peak.

In the rarefied air at heights about 26,000 feet, the eight Swiss climbers and their native porters will wear the oxygen container with its attached "lung" strapped to their chests to relieve the terrible gasping for breath on the mountain's upper slopes.

The group started negotiating the lower slopes last month.

Modelled on North American mining equipment, the "lung" weighs little more than two pounds—one-tenth the weight of the oxygen apparatus carried by previous expeditions.

The climber exhales through one tube into a container, thereby conserving the precious moisture and unabsorbed oxygen in his breath, an inhales pure oxygen again from the attached lung.

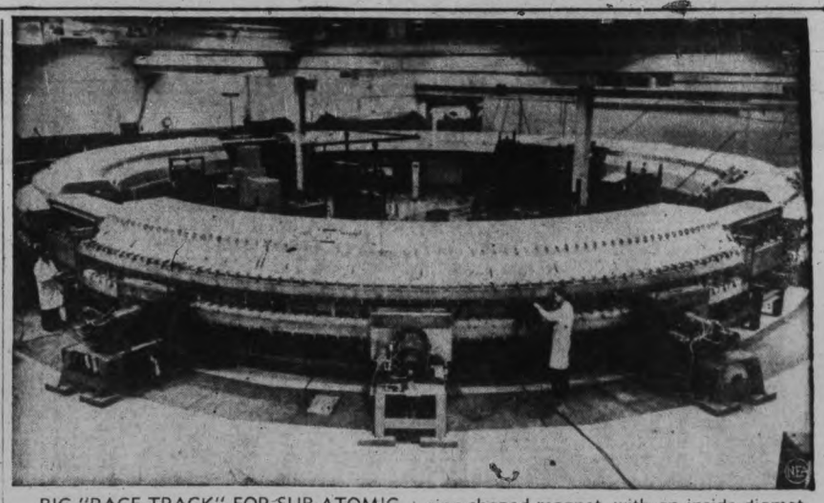
Oxygen equipment has been used on previous expeditions, but its bulk and 25 pounds weight made it of little value.

During the 14 years since the last attempt on Everest's summit, altitude research in war and peace, particularly by Air Force personnel, has enabled great improvements to be made in oxygen equipment.

Altitude resarch shows that in the thin air at 26,000 ft.— an unacclimatized man, unaided by oxygen, could live for only three minutes.

What happens at 28,000 feet, the height of Everest's summit, is unknown.

Without the aid of oxygen, every step is a labor and every breath a tortured gasping, even for the acclimatized man, at heights over 27,000 feet. Climbers are overwhelmed by a lethargy and irresolution which makes obstacles seem insuperable, and retreat becomes a relief rather than a defeat.



BIG "RACE TRACK" FOR SUB-ATOMIC PARTICLES. — Seeking further knowledge of the forces pent up within the atom, scientists put finishing touches on the mammoth Cosmotron, at Brookhaven National Laboratories in Upton, N.Y. The ring-shaped magnet, with an inside diameter of over 60 feet, weighs 2,200 tons, and will serve as a "race track" for protons, sub-atomic particles which will be made to collide with a target of carbon or liquid hydrogen atoms.

Spring-Fever Rioting Rages Across U.S. College Campuses

NEW YORK, May 17—(CP)—Spring-fever student rioting, rapidly spreading in popularity throughout United States Universities, was reported at three more schools Thursday night and early today.

Latest outbreaks were at New York's Columbia University, Florida's University of Miami, and Harvard.

At the same time, steps were taken at Indiana University to remove one of the causes of the riots—the demand for co-ed undergarments by male students.

Mrs. Alice Nelson, director of women's residence halls, announced that a barrel full of discarded undergarments will be given away on the campus today, free to all takers.

Several hundred males were stopped Monday night by Col. Robert Shoemaker, Dean of students, in a lingerie raid on the women's dormitory.

Battle 1,000 Students

At Columbia University, police and special guards battled more than 1,000 students early today as they tried to invade two co-ed dormitories of Barnard College, adjoining the men's campus.

About 300 co-eds in the dorms, Brooks Hall and Hewitt Hall, waved undergarments from their windows and tossed water at surging male undergraduates.

Male student "pantie raids" have been staged recently at a number of other schools, including the Universities of Florida, Nebraska, Iowa, Denver, and Otterbein College in Ohio.

At Yale University on Tuesday, some 1,500 students demonstrated over an argument involving rival ice cream vendors.

Thursday night, Harvard University students, not to be outdone by Yale, staged a riot of their own, although for a different reason.

Police said the melee began when about 1,000 students gathered to launch a country-wide campaign to put a comic-strip character in the White House.

Disturbing Peace

It was a boisterous but peaceful rally until another group appeared, offering a rival comic-strip character for president.

The opposing candidates were Pogo and Pappy Yokum and the ensuing fight resulted in arrests of 28 students, charged with disturbing the peace.

About 3,000 university of Miami students raided the Dickinson dormitories on the main campus early today.

Police and firemen used fire hoses and even sent for tear gas to quell the shouting, boisterous students.

University co-eds clustered on the balconies of their dormitory at the height of the disorder. Some called out invitations to the male students to invade the girls' living quarters and beckoned the more daring into fence-scaling forays over a six-foot barricade.

The students raged out of control for more than an hour before some measure of order was restored. By that time dormitory officials had herded most of the co-eds, some clad in pyjamas and other night attire, back into their rooms and out of sight. Knots of the shouting male students began drifting off.

By 2 a.m. the riot had quieted and university officials who made a quick check found little damage.

Rhymes 'Kid Stuff' To Harry Beatty, 6

SIMCOE, Ont.—(CP)—If you ask six-year-old Harry Beatty "What's New?" you are likely to get a verbal digest of the world situation with a little local news thrown in.

Harry, who thinks Mother Goose stories are "kid stuff," gets most of his information from the daily newspapers which he reads faithfully.

At four months he startled his parents by calling his father by name. At eight months he was imitating a local radio announcer and 10 months later he was doing children's jigsaw puzzles.

His mother, Mrs. Harry Beatty, says he has picked up all these things on his own. "We have not tried to push him."

Young Harry has some advice for other tots trying to get ahead. "Just listen to the older people talk and pay attention."

Crash Lands Jet In Field Pilot Escapes Uninjured

Canadian Riots In Germany "Overemphasized"

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, May 19. (CP)—Maj. Alex Stirton, public relations officer for Canada's 27th infantry brigade, said today he believes greater emphasis has been placed on weekend disturbances involving Canadian troops in Hannover, Germany, than actual events warranted. What appears to have happened, Stirton said, is that Canadian soldiers started fighting among themselves on Saturday evening outside a combined restaurant and beer parlor on Hannover's Goethestrasse, and that the nature of the fighting tended to be exaggerated by the "vast number of people" that gathered to watch it.

Four Canadian soldiers arrested by German police are being held pending further investigation. German police reports are that three Germans, all policemen, and one Canadian soldier "were slightly injured."

Stirton, speaking by long-distance telephone from Canadian headquarters just outside Hannover, said that two other disturbances during the weekend appeared to be "part and parcel" of the earlier trouble. One occurred near a serviceman's canteen and the other near a Jewish cemetery.

Full Investigation

"A full investigation is being carried out," said Stirton. "Meanwhile, it looks to us as though this was a case where a fight among soldiers became magnified owing to the vast number of people watching it."

Troops of the 27th Brigade were just back from training manoeuvres, and every regiment had ordered special patrols in anticipation of possible trouble. Despite the precautions, reports on just what happened are still hazy.

Officers in Hannover stress that relations betwen Canadians and Germans in the Hannover area have in the past been generally harmonious.

German papers in the area used the word "riots" to describe weekend events. But Canadian officers believe that is too strong.

Charged With Clubs

German police charged with clubs when Canadian attacked them swinging their belts, a German police report said.

Some 400 Germans gathered at the site of the clash and watched the fighting.

A group of Canadians tried to turn over a German police radio car, but the driver sped it off in time, an official police report said.

Hostages Held In Jungle In Plane Search

MIAMI, Fla., May 19 (AP) — Grim drama was being enacted deep in the Brazilian jungles today where a United States civilian aviation investigator and a Brazilian air force major tried to win freedom from a "wildcat" group of parachutists.

Gordon Bennett, chief advisor of the Miami international district office of the C.A.A., said 30 or more armed parachutists were holding Scott A. Magness, C.A.A. safety adviser from Miami, and Maj. Miranda Correa of the Brazilian air force.

He said they were being used as hostages in an attempt to gain transportation for the parachutists back to civilization from a helicopter landing strip 3.7 miles from the spot where a Pan American World Airways plane crashed April 29, killing 50 persons.

The pilot of a U.S. air force helicopter messaged his commanding officer in the Panama Canal zone that he had removed all U.S. government officials from the jungle "except one (Magness) who is being held hostage by Brazilian parachutists."

Flies In Supplies

He said he was forced to fly supplies to the armed group at the threat of death to Magness.

Bennett said the unauthorized expedition, led by Lino de Mattos, a deputy from the state of Sao Paulo, had been sponsored and financed by Adhemar de Barros, a former governor of Sao Paulo and mentioned as a possible candidate for president of Brazil in the next election.

No further information was available here, but it was known that there was conflict between the official expedition to the scene of the crash and the volunteer group.

The de Barros group had been urged not to attempt the journey but it parachuted into the jungle a few days ahead of the official party.

The crash scene is 591 miles south-southeast of Belem and 933 miles north of Rio de Janeiro.

Final rites for the victims were held at the scene yesterday. Because of the difficulty of removal from the terrain and condition of the bodies, officials ordered immediate burial.

Chinese General Joins POW Staff

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, May 19—(AP)—A former Chinese Nationalist general has joined the staff of Brig.-Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, commander of United Nations prisoner-of-war camp No. 1, as an adviser on Chinese prisoner affairs.

Boatner said the Chinese is an old friend from their Second World War years in Burma. The Chinese adviser is a civilian employee of the United States army. He requested that his name not be published to prevent possible reprisals by Chinese Communists against members of his family in Communist China.

The Chinese indicated he merely hopes to advise Boatner on what he thought would be the wisest, most humane and effective way of dealing with Chinese prisoners. Boatner himself is a Chinese expert.

Approximately 5,000 Chinese prisoners are held on Koje Island and have indicated a desire to return to their homeland in case of a Korean truce.

Border-Crossing Point Closed By Russians

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 19 (AP).—A sudden Communist order today closed one of five border-crossing points for German passenger trains linking the Soviet zone with West Germany.

Without explanation, the East German government shut off passenger traffic on the feeder line between Gutenfuerst in Soviet-occupied Thuringia and Hof, frontier communications centre in the American-zone State of Bavaria.

West German railway officials said passenger traffic on this line was not explicitly covered by Soviet-Allied agreements. But it had been carried on by a "gentleman's understanding" since the Berlin blockade was lifted May 12, 1949.

Adenauer Fights Back At Socialist Opposition

BONN, May 19 (AP).—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today cracked back at his Socialist opposition which announced it will fight to the bitter end to wreck his negotiations for a peace contract with the western Allies.

Bonn was in a flutter, with the government hoping to wrap up the deal this week. But the Socialists Sunday night demanded that Adenauer start negotiations over again on a basis of "genuine equality" with the West.

Adenauer's reply, in a statement to his Christian Democratic parliamentary delegation, was that if parliament rejects the contract there will be no chance for new negotiations. He said the Allies had told him so.

The Chancellor and three Western Allied High Commissioners met today, hoping to conclude the contract which will make the western half of Germany virtually sovereign and provide the conditions for the raising of German troops in western defence.

Fire Destroys Hotel At Muskoka

$1,500,000 Blaze Occurs 2 Weeks Before Resort Opens

BALA, Ont., May 19. (CP)—The Royal Muskoka Hotel, destroyed in a fire early Sunday, will be rebuilt on the same site. A spokesman for the Muskoka Lakes Navigation and Hotel Company, owners of the 175-room structure on an island in Lake Rosseau 100 miles north of Toronto, said replacement value would be between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

"We plan to get architects on the job right away," said Gordon Fairley, a company official. He added that it has not been decided what type of building will replace the hotel but plans will be discussed almost immediately.

Just Before Opening

The fire Sunday came just two weeks before the building, first of Canada's luxury summer hotels, was due to open for another summer season.

Maintenance crews in the vicinity when the fire was first noticed about 2 a.m. called firemen from Bala, 15 miles southwest of the hotel, and from Port Carling but they were unable to save the structure.

The hotel was built on an island in Lake Rosseau in 1903. Its first manager was Lucius Boomer, the man who later built the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

First Luxury Hotel

The Royal Muskoka, built at a cost of about $150,000 was the first of Canada's luxury summer hotels, and originally accommodated about 300 guests. Later, when it was rebuilt and private baths provided for each room, accommodation was reduced to about 150.

The hotel was opened by the Playfair family of Midland and the late Hugh C. Maclean of Toronto was president of the original company, a post he held until his death several years ago.

Report Condition Of 5 Serious

STURGEON FALLS, May 19 — (CP)—Five of 25 children, injured when they fell from a moving truck Friday, are still in hospital here in "serious" condition.

Police say no charges have been laid in connection with the accident in which seven-year-old Jeanine LaFortune was killed. She was buried beneath about 40 children who fell from a stake-body truck carrying 81 pupils to a concert in Warren, 10 miles west of here.

The truck was making a turn on the highway when a stake holding the home-made racks, broke, spilling the children onto the road.

Police said an inquest probably will be held in Sudbury later this week.

14 Trapped Four Hours In Peace Tower Elevator

OTTAWA, May 19. (CP)—Fourteen persons in an elevator built for nine spent four hours Sunday trapped inside Parliament's Peace Tower. They remained cheerful during most of their confinement, but most agreed they wouldn't care to make another sight-seeing trip to the top of the 330-foot-high tower.

Eight men, four women and a seven-year-old boy, together with the operators, were in the descending elevator when it stopped abruptly in the elevator shaft 30 feet above the tower's Memorial Chamber.

Officials of the company that installed the elevator said the cage was overloaded and was coming down too quickly. The safety brakes jammed, freezing the cage to the rails. The operator was Charles Michaud.

Finally Freed

Repair men raised the cage a few feet at a time. The occupants were finally freed at a landing about halfway up the tower. Workmen said there was no danger of the elevator falling at any time.

Tourists, who throng to the Peace Tower in summer months for the view of the city and distant Gatineau Hills, travel to the top in two stages—transferring from one elevator to another halfway up. It was the lower elevator that jammed yesterday.

In the group of tourists were three immigrants from Germany, two from the United States and one from England.

The only child, Guy Albert from Hull, Que., cried at first but when workmen started lifting the cage he shouted and kept the marooned party laughing.

Derailed Cars Pile Up In Town

SAWYER, Mich., May 19. (AP)—Railroad wrecking crews moved into this small southwestern Michigan community today to clear 59 cars of a Chesapeake and Ohio freight train derailed Sunday night in a collision with a pick-up truck.

The freight cars were scattered over a half-mile section of the railroad right-of-way. Cars were piled six high in the downtown area of the community of 150 persons located south of Benton Harbor, Mich.

State police reported no persons were killed in the derailment. Three 'teen-agers, passengers in the truck, were injured critically.

They were: Shirley Pratt, 15, and Starr Brightbill, 16, both of New Troy, Mich., and Roland Sonnenberg, 16, of Sawyer.

Police said the three were in the pick-up truck which rammed into the middle of the long Grand Rapids-to-Chicago freight train at a crossing north of here.

Railroad officials said the impact of the collision broke a brake beam on one of the cars, causing the derailment.

Name Board In Tokyo Check Dodd Capture

TOKYO, May 19 (AP)—The inquiry into the capture and release of Brig.-Gen. Francis T. Dodd by Communist war prisoners on Koje Island, Korea, today shifted to Tokyo.

Gen. Mark Clark, United Nations' supreme commander, named a board to study findings of a United States Eighth Army board in Korea on the kidnapping. It also will review recommendations by Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth army commander.

The Korea board's report was not made public.

The Tokyo board will report to Clark. He will pass it on with his recommendations to Washington.

Dodd, then prison camp commander on Koje, was seized by prisoners May 7 and released unharmed 78 hours later.

He is in an army hospital at Seoul for treatment of a gastric disturbance. Medical officers said he would be in hospital for some time but that his condition is "not serious".

Use Bayonets Drive Out Reds

SEOUL, Korea, May 19 (AP)—Filipino raiders in grenade-bayonet charges twice drove Chinese Communist defenders off an embattled hill on the Korea central front today.

It was the same hill west of Chorwon where men of the 20th Battalion combat team said they killed or wounded every one of 40 Chinese at its top yesterday.

The tough Filipinos hit the Reds again this morning. The Chinese fled. The Filipinos withdrew under Red mortar fire.

Later in the day a second Filipino patrol caught the Chinese napping. The patrol hurled grenades and charged with fixed bayonets. The Chinese fled.

Ten Reds were killed in the two assaults. The Filipinos were wearing regular issue U.S. armored vests. None were killed.

British Business Plans To Leave China

LONDON, May 19 — (AP). — Britain told Communist China today remaining British business men in China have decided to close down or dispose of their £300,000,000 investment and quit the country.

In a note delivered in Peiping, Britain also asked the Chinese Communist government to grant exit visas for an estimated 120 Britons, who would leave the country as soon as their business is wound up.

The note said the decision to give up any further attempt to continue in business in China was made by the business firms concerned.

A Foreign Office spokesman said Britain's one-sided recognition of the Peiping regime will continue.

Maintain Contacts

"Our contacts with China, such as they are, will be maintained," a foreign spokesman said.

Selwyn Lloyd, Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, is expected to make a statement in the Commons tomorrow on the withdrawal of British business men.

Newspaper reports said British owners will try to sell their property to Chinese government agencies, but there was little optimism.

"The Foreign Office thinks the chances of the companies getting compensation for their abandoned property are very small," said the Daily Express.

No Compensation Paid

The Communists ordered the seizure of all United States properties on the Chinese mainland at the end of 1950. No compensation was paid.

The Reds have seized outright only one British holding—the Asiatic Petroleum Co., in April, 1951. This was in retaliation for British seizure in Hong Kong of a tanker formerly owned by the Chinese Nationalist government and claimed by the Reds.

The properties Britain is reported planning to give up are located chiefly in Shanghai, Tientsin, Hankow, Canton and a sprinkling of smaller cities. Belonging to firms covering almost the entire field of commerce, the include factories, shipyards, warehouses, hotel and office buildings.

The firms include some of the greatest names in the history of trade in the Far East —among them the British-American Tobacco Co., The Shell Oil Co., Butterfield and Swire, Jardine, Matheson and Co.

Formerly 10,000 Britons ran the holdings in China. Now the scattered British colony totals only about 120 persons.

Getting them out may present keen diplomatic problems. Some western business men have been held in the past by the Chinese Red authorities until their employees were paid vast "settlement" sums.

Engine Conked Out Over Lake Near Port Hope

PORT HOPE, May 19. (ENS)—Flight-Lieut. A. H. Vickers of Hamilton crash landed his Vampire jet in a field four miles north of here Sunday afternoon, after grazing hydro wires and bouncing a half dozen times on the ground before his plane cut its way through a rail fence, leaving a trail of debris to where it finally came to rest in Lytle's pasture field. The front of the jet plane was badly damaged but the rest of it was damaged to a less extent and Vickers was able to walk around unhurt after he was pulled out of the wreckage by two farmers.

He had to be cut out of the cockpit of the R.C.A.F., plane when his feet and legs were pinned in the wreckage.

"They chopped the seat right out of the plane," Bob McCullagh, 17, a Trinity College student, said. "The pilot, after warning us to stay away from the ammunition, sat down and drank a bottle of chocolate milk and smoked a cigarette. I think the first thing he said to any one was: 'Don't tell my wife.'"

Attached to the 400th Reserve Squadron, Toronto, he was flying over the lake, south of Port Hope when his engine conked out. Due to service regulations, the pilot, who was the only occupant, gave out no information except to the R.C.A.F. investigating officers but the Examiner was informed by another source that the pilot did not bail out because of the danger that the aircraft might crash into the residential section of Port Hope. Instead he rode his stricken craft to the ground.

Plane In Difficulty

Duncan McMurray, employed on A. G. Waddell's farm north of Port Hope, saw the jet as it flew, apparently in difficulty, over a barn about three-quarters of a mile to the south.

"I thought it was going to hit the barn but it got over and then it seemed to go under the hydro wires. Then it clipped a wire fence and appeared to hit the ground several times and bounce up until it hit the rail fence at the south end of this field. The impact with the fence threw it around and it came to a stop facing opposite to the direction that it came in.

"Van (Nico Van Vlzen) and I ran across the fields to where the plane was and we saw that the nose of it was all smashed in. I expected to find the pilot dead as we pulled away the wreckage and pulled him out, but he was alive, although dazed. He came to and as far as I could see there wasn't

Indian Guide Drowns 2 Fishermen Saved

GARGANTUA, Ont., May 19 — (CP)—An Indian guide was drowned and two Detroit fishermen saved when their outrigger canoe capsized on nearby Andre Lake Saturday.

The body of Bill Perreault, 27, of Michipicoten Harbor, was recovered shortly after the mishap. An excellent swimmer, he had made no attempt to swim to safety.

The outrigger, attached for still fishing, collapsed, spilling the men into the water. Edwin and Victor Turashoff, brothers, were rescued by the rest of their party of six fishermen.

Gargantua is 95 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Youth Trapped At Bottom Of Big 90-Foot Crevasse

SPIRIT LAKE, Wash., May 19—(AP). — A young University of Washington student today lay trapped at the bottom of a 90-foot crevasse high on the icy slopes of Mt. St. Helens as experienced mountaineers battled to reach him.

The youth, 20-year-old Art Jessett, dropped from sight at the 8,000-foot level shortly after noon Sunday as he and three companions were descending the mountain.

Jessett called to his companions that he was trapped in a narrow ice hole about 35 feet below the surface of the snow He said he though he had broken his arm, then called that he was slipping. The party's only rope went with him.

Mountaineers from Seattle and Portland were called to aid in the rescue attempt. State patrolmen and members of the Mt. St. Helens ski patrol labored until nightfall Sunday without being able to reach the youth.

Bruce Ray of Seattle, a member of Jessett's party, said they found only a hole about the size of a man in the snow.

Another member of the party, Ford Oliphant, 20, of Chehalis, intercepted six other climbers on the mountain and borrowed a rope.

Oliphant was lowered into the ice hole as the others braced the rope with ice axes.

Oliphant said he found an ice ledge about 60 feet below the rim of the hole where he was able to stand.

"But as I stood there, the heat from my body melted the ice and I kept slipping," he said. Oliphant said he heard two groans from about 30 feet below him — then silence.

Office Workers At Ford Go On Strike

WINDSOR, May 19 (CP).—The Ford Motor Company of Canada today faces its third major work stoppage within six months.

Ford office workers went on strike late Thursday to back demands pending since last Aug. 1. Local 240, United Auto Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) which represents 900 members in the bargaining unit, established picket lines around the company's offices.

Company and union negotiators will continue their discussions at 11 a.m. E.D.T. today.

Although production workers reported today as usual, company officials said the five Ford Windsor plants can operate "for only a week" without the office workers. Day-to-day co-ordination of production made the keeping of office records "absolutely necessary" for plant operations.

If the office workers' strike resulted in a shut-down of the plants some 12,000 persons would be made idle, including 10,000 production workers and 1,100 superintendents and foremen.

Would Set Pattern

In a statement Sunday night, Rhys M. Sale, president of the company, said the strike was called in an effort to make the company grant a set of conditions that would set a pattern for organization of office workers in other large firms.

He said negotiators had reached agreement on 100 of 112 points at issue before the strike was called.

One in three persons in this highly-industrialized city is dependent on an income received from the 55-acre auto plant.

George Burt, U.A.W. Canadian director, made the strike announcement at a meeting attended by 500 members of the bargaining unit. A May 6 membership meeting gave the U.A.W. executive the power to call a legal strike to support their demands.

Main point at issue, said Mr. Burt, is a union demand for establishment of automatic wage progression within job classification. At present, increments to office workers' salaries come only with promotion from one classification to another.

Queen To Take Birthday Salute

LONDON, May 19 (Reuters)—The Queen will take the salute June 5 at the ceremony of trooping of the colors celebrating her first official birthday as sovereign.

Her birthday is April 26 but she chose to follow her father's precedent in celebrating an official birthday in June.

She will take the salute on horseback wearing full-dress uniform as colonel of the Scots Guards with scarlet tunic over a dark-blue skirt and a black tricorn hat.

After the ceremony she will ride, at her own wish, at the head of her personal guard to Buckingham Palace.

In Canada the Queen's birthday is celebrated June 9 under the Canadian custom of celebrating the sovereign's birthday on a Monday in June.

Police Search Many Cars For Liquor

BRAMPTON, May 19 (AP) — Provincial Police stopped hundreds of automombiles at roadblocks in this district 25 miles northwest of Toronto during the weekend and searched them for liquor. They charged nine persons with having liquor in an illegal place.

Officials said they are determined to wipe out "bottle parties" at dances in the area surrounding Toronto. They said numerous traffic accidents in dance hall areas stem from drinking by young men and women who, unable to buy liquor legally near the dance, take along bottles.

Law Authorities At Odds Over Brink's Robbery Clues

BOSTON, May 19 (AP)—Massachusetts and Rhode Island law enforcement authorities were at odds today as they sought solution of the fabulous $1,219,000 Brink's robbery and the gangland slaying of a wealthy road-house owner.

The apparent break became known Sunday when Rhode Island's Attorney General William E. Powers announced: "Thus far Boston authorities do not seem interested in the information available to us."

Powers accused Massachusetts authorities of a lack of interest in information which he said might lead to solution of the Jan. 17, 1950, Brink's robbery and the Saturday - morning ambush shooting of 49-year-old Carlton M. O'Brien.

Powers made the accusation shortly after Joseph F. McGinnis, 48, former convict and Boston night-club owner, had been released following lengthy questioning in the slaying of O'Brien. Two shotgun blasts killed O'Brien in front of his lavish West Warwick, R.I., home.

The attorney-general said investigators in his state had uncovered information indicating that the O'Brien slaying was tied up with the Brink's job.

Powers said the Brink's holdup was planned by McGinnis, O'Brien and Alfred A. Gagnon of Pawtucket, R.I., a prisoner at Rhode Island state prison.

Gagnon has named himself and O'Brien as planners of the robbery.

Power said "we have a witness who is ready and able to give evidence . . . that Joseph F. McGinnis planned the Brink's holdup with the witness and the robbery occurred exactly in accordance with their plans." He did not name his witness.

Authorities released McGinnis after he claimed that he was in his own place of business in Jamaica Plains at about the time O'Brien was slain.

Police Capt. Henry Miller of West Warwick, R.I., said later he had checked McGinnis' story and found the Boston man had no connection with O'Brien's death.

Cargo Plane Noses Over, Three Killed

HALIFAX, May 19 — (CP). — A Maritime Central Airways cargo plane Sunday tripped on its wheels while making an amphibious landing on a lonely Labrador harbor, killing three crew members.

Either faulty mechanism or human error caused the accident. The wheels, normally snug against the hull for such a landing, caused the Canso to nose over in the ice-dotted waters of Cartwright Harbor.

Aboard the twin-engined plane were G. J. Edwards, Lakeburn, N.B., pilot; John Dutchak, Charlottetown, co-pilot; and Clifford MacQuarrie, Victoria, P.E.I., engineer.

Efforts are being made to recover the bodies.

Dutchak, a native of Edmonton, played senior hockey in Edmonton and in the Quebec Senior League before joining Charlottetown Islanders of the Maritime Major League two seasons ago.

Ironic Prediction

Ironically, the body-belting defenceman predicted March 29 "this is my last season" for hockey. "Next year I'll watch the playoffs from the reserved seat section." That was after Islanders lost four straight to Halifax St. Mary's in the semi-finals.

He learned to fly in the R.C.A.F. 10 years ago.

Edwards, a native of Eastern Passage, N.S., joined the Air Force in 1939. He flew for Coastal Command in both Canada and England.

A radio operator at Cartwright reported the accident.

The Canso, on a charter flight with general cargo for a Saint John, N.B., construction firm, tipped on its snub nose and settled, partly submerged, in shallow water.

It marked the second time that an M.C.A. plane has brought death on a northern flight within two months.

Seek To Bring Back Goldeneye Duck

REGINA—(CP)—The Saskatchewan government is making an attempt to increase the population of the Goldeneye duck.

The drought 20 years ago took a heavy toll of the large trees along Saskatchewan's waterways, destroying the duck's nesting grounds.

Fred Bardo, director of the provincial museum, is fastening nail kegs to trees along waterways in the province in the hope that the ducks will be encouraged to nest there.

The lack of large trees for the birds was remedied in other areas by similar methods. Only 20 of the "bird houses" will be set out this spring but if the experiment should prove successful, it will be expanded into a full scale project.

The Goldeneye duck is a "bottom feeder" or "diver" and therefore is not harmful to farm crops.

Was Early Operator Of Atlantic Cable

WILMOT, N.S. —(CP)—Leonard Johnstone, pioneer morse operator who sent the first message across the Atlantic to inaugurate the trans-Atlantic wireless service for the Marconi Company, died recently at his home here.

His wireless career dated back to 1896 and at one time he was private operator for Guglielmo Marconi.

During the Second World War he was in the United States helping in the war effort, assisting in transmission of wiré photos from China and broadcasts to the armed forces in the South Pacific.

MOUNTAINOUS ISLE

The highest point of Reunion Island in the Indian Ocean is a 10,000-foot peak surrounded by extinct craters.

Kennedy Agrees With F-M Care

TORONTO, May 19 — (CP) — Agriculture Minister Kennedy of Ontario returned today from an inspection trip to the "foot-and-mouth" disease area in Saskatchewan and expressed himself as satisfied that Ontario was amply protected from the ravages of the disease.

Mr. Kennedy said he sees no reason why Ontario should set up disinfection baths at the borders of the province as has been the done in some sections of the west.

"I have never in my life seen anything like the clean-up measures that are under way," said Mr. Kennedy. "They may have been slow in starting but it certainly is thorough."

He said "the quarantine is the strictest I have ever seen," and that "there is no danger as far as Ontario is concerned."

Smog Makes Family Ill In Hamilton Area

HAMILTON, May 19 — (CP) — Smog drifting over the east-end of Hamilton made at least one Hamilton family ill early today and even disturbed the city's mayor.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Boyd called police shortly after midnight when a light mist drifting through an open window made them sick.

They also called Mayor Lloyd Jackson and got him out of bed.

Before the Boyd's could get to sleep they had to close all their windows and turn on fans to clear the air.

Two Gunmen Hold Up Service Station

HAMILTON, May 19 — (CP)— Two gunmen held up a service station attendant in downtown Hamilton early today and escaped with nearly $1,000.

Flavia Casagrande, 30, said the men shoved a double-barrelled shotgun into his back shortly after 4 a.m., ordered him to lie face down on the floor, and broke into the cash register with a tire bar.

British Business

The News Chronicle said a British decision to get out of China already had been communicated to the Communists in a formal note handed to the Chinese Premier and Foreign Minister, Chou En-Lai. A British foreign-office spokesman said he had no confirmation of the report.

Britain recognized the Chinese Communist government in January, 1950, and sent a Charge D'Affaires to Peiping. The Peiping regime, however, has ignored his presence and has sent no diplomatic representative to London.

Since the Communists took over, foreign firms have been plagued by special taxes, fines, and government-ordered wage scales for Chinese employees.

Along with this, British traders have been hard hit by western bans on the shipments to the Reds of strategic materials since the Korean war, and by growing Communist refusal to buy from the west the textiles and other goods China's opponents in Korea are willing to sell her.

Red Denial Termed Lie By U.N. Delegate

By SAM SUMMERLIN

MUNSAN, Korea, May 19 —(AP) —The top United Nations' truce negotiator today described as an "out-and-out" lie a Communist denial that the Reds had agreed to allied screening of captured Communists.

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, senior U.N. delegate, told the Reds:

"Had the results been to your liking you would have enthusiastically welcomed the product of the screening."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il replied:

"It is inconceivable and nobody would believe that our side which is firmly opposed to the retention for our captured personnel by your side under whatever name, could have agreed directly or indirectly to your so-called screening."

Prefer Death

A recent allied quizzing of Red prisoners-of-war, the allies said, showed that nearly 100,000 North Koreans and Chinese prisoners prefer death to returning to Communism.

The issue of exchanging prisoners blocks an armistice.

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark Clark, U.N. supreme commander, announced that Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., will succeed Joy as senior U.N. delegate Friday.

Joy will become superintendent of the United States naval academy.

The 37 minutes of bitter debate produced no progress. The truce delegations will meet again tomorrow at 11 a.m. (10 p.m. E.D.T. Monday).

Joy did not use the word "lie" inside the conference tent. He told reporters that Nam Il denied that the Communists ever agreed to the screening."

"That is an out-and-out lie," he said.

Two Wolves Seen Near Stouffville

STOUFFVILLE, Ont., May 19— (CP)—Two wolves which residents say were "as big as small bears" were seen Sunday in this district about 25 miles northeast of Toronto. Charles Hooper, a farmer, spotted them while he was walking across his fields.

"They were huge and fearless," Hooper said later. "They just sat down on their haunches and stared at me. I didn't have a gun."

A posse sighted the wolves but could not get a shot at them.

Lucky To Be Alive

Vickers, who is 31, married, and is employed as an engineer by the Canadian Westinghouse in Hamilton, said that he couldn't tell anything about what had happened because of service regulations. He said he was attached to the 400th Reserve Squadron, Toronto.

"I can say, though, that I am lucky to be alive," he declared.

Electric power was interrupted in Port Hope and it was thought at first that the plane had broken the hydro line in its landing but the wires were intact. However, the metal body of the plane apparently caused a short circuit.

Dr. C. B. Kelly of Port Hope examined the pilot and found him to all appearances unscathed except for a cut over one knee. Air force ambulances and R.C.A.F. personnel arrived later from Trenton.

Pending the arrival of R.C.A.F. crash personnel, the area was supervised by Provincial Constables W. Baluk and Vic Piper of Cobourg.

Passing of the Royal Muskoka leaves Bigwin Inn as the only hotel of the type in Northern Ontario. The original bonds for the hotel were guaranteed by the old Grand Trunk Railway.

Mr. Maclean's son, Andrew D. Maclean, recalled that several of Canada's Governor-general were guests at the Royal Muskoka along with many distinguished visitors.

Sir Robert Borden, then prime minister, and Lady Borden were guests of Hugh Maclean at the Royal Muskoka when the First World War broke out.

"I well remember," Andrew Maclean said Sunday night "driving Sir Robert and Lady Borden in a fast motor launch across Lake Muskoka to Muskoka Wharf to catch the train for Ottawa. That was Aug. 2, 1914."

Asks Inquiry On Newsprint

WASHINGTON, May 19—(AP)— Sen. Herbert O'Conor (Dem. Md.) said today he has asked a United States Senate judiciary sub-committee staff to investigate possible anti-trust violations in connection with a proposed $10-a-ton increase in newsprint prices.

O'Conor told the Senate he has received information indicating the Canadian corporations which are allowed the price increase "actually are controlled by American money and thus are hiding behind their Canadian incorporation to shield this continuing monopolistic 'tax' on American newspapers."

O'Conor said the U.S. office of Pdice Stabilization has a direct responsibility in the price increase "to bring home to the Canadian authorities the resentment aroused in all sections of the United States by this drastic display of intent to cash in on the fact that America is so thoroughly dependent on its Canadian sources of newsprint supply.

"Relations between the two countries have been exceptionally fine, but instances like this of willingness to take advantage of American industry wherever the opportunity offers, will not help to maintain or to strengthen the present satisfactory ties," O'Conor said.

Natural Park Of Hog's Back

OTTAWA —(CP)—Scenic Hog's Back, a 15-minute ride from the heart of the capital, will shortly be developed into a natural park and picnic area.

One of the capital's most attractive spots, it has been turned over to the Federal District Commission by the Transport Department to provide an evergreen entrance to the Mooney's Bay recreation area, to be developed on F.D.C. land by the city of Ottawa.

The rocky wooded slopes of the Hog's Back ridge immediately east of the tumbling Hog's Back Falls are to be cleared of shacks and cottages to make way for scenic walks and picnic groves. Cottages along the canal road north of the Hog's Back also are to be torn down to make the picturesque waterfront accessible to the public. About 75 families are affected by the move.

South of Hog's Back, between the winding Rideau River and the Bowesville Road, is the property to be developed by the city as a swimming and recreation centre.

The Commission says that with the great increase in Ottawa's population in recent years, the need for close-in picnic and recreation grounds has become acute.

As long as most local residents can remember, the swirling water at the base of the falls has been a dangerous swimming hole, unsupervised by life guards and treacherous in its physical form.

Now, with the city planning to develop a vast swimming area, and with the F.D.C. ready to transform the cottage-cluttered Hog's Back into a beautiful park, Ottawa will have a country-type recreation area within its own city limits.

Horse Wins Bout

SANTIAGO, Chile, May 19. (AP)—A train accident that started when the locomotive hit a horse ended Sunday in the death of the engineer and the serious injury of three other crew members. After hitting the horse the engine jumped the tracks, spun around, smashed into the tender, and crushed the baggage car. No passengers were injured.

Gas Lamp Centre Of Jury Interest

HULL, Que., May 19—(CP)— Testimony today at the murder trial of Rheal Leo Bertrand centred on a gas lamp found in the ruins of the lonely logger's cabin where the accused's bride of two months met her death.

Bernard Peclet, expert chemist from the Medico-Legal Laboratories of the Provincial Police in Montreal, testified Saturday that the lamp was not even in working order, that it contained no inflammable fuild at the time of the fire and that it did not explode.

Today, he was cross-examined by Defence Cousel Joseph Ste. Marie of Hull. Mr. Peclet could not swear that no one had "played" with the lamp before it was turned over to him for laborator tests.

He said a hole in the reservoir of the lamp resulted from the fact that it had rested on a burning beam during the fire and not from an explosion. He said he could not explain why the globe of the lamp had not exploded.

Ordinarily a globe would not have to fall far in order to break.

Mr. Ste. Marie asked one of the jurors to push off the railing in front of the jury box a globe similar to the one that was found in the cabin's ruins. When it hit the floor after the four-foot fall, the globe broke in hundreds of pieces.

Canadian Riots

Strong German police forces and Canadian military police were called out a few hours later to quell another fight between about 60 Canadian and an equal number of Germans in Limburger Strasse, also in the city.

A third minor clash occurred shortly afterwards near Hannover's Jewish cemetery, but Canadian and German police quickly dispersed about 20 Canadians and Germans involved.

German police used their clubs on Allied soldiers for the first time reported in this country's occupation to quell the brawl.

Still Checking

Spokesmen for the Canadian 27th Infantry Brigade said they were still checking to see if there were any Canadian casualties.

The fighting started when a regimental policeman entered a German inn on Hannover's ill-famed Goethestrasse to check the passes of soldiers there.

A group of Canadian soldiers refused to hand him their passes and the fight started after a brief dispute.

The innkeeper called a German riot squad, which arrived after the fight had developed into a free-for-all, joined by numerous Germans.

Birth Control Problem To Be Dropped

GENEVA, May 19—(AP)—The World Health Organization withdrew from the controversial problem of birth control today after delegates from several Roman Catholic countries warned that action in this field would endanger existence of the organization.

Norwegian delegate Dr. Karl Evans brought up the subjects last Friday with his proposal that W.H.O. ask a committee to study the "health aspects", of the world population problems, including possible government propagation of birth control methods in overpopulated countries.

Dr. J. J. Van de Caseyde, of Belgium, submitted a counter-proposal forbidding W.H.O. action. Approval of this resolution would have put a stop to the assistance which W.R.O. technical services already are giving to the governments of India and some other countries on "family planning."

After a two-day debate, supporters of the Belgian proposal appeared to have a majority but all delegations agreed today to drop the matter without a vote, in the "interests of harmony."

Dr. G. A. Canaperia, of Italy, told correspondents in his view W.H.O. should stop advising governments on family planning as a result of the discussion. Secretariat officials said, however, they did not consider themselves bound by the view of any one delegation in the absence of a formal decision of the assembly.

Dr. Brock Chisholm, formerly Canada's deputy health minister, is the administrative head of W.H.O.

250 Students Return To Classes At School

OWEN SOUND, May 19—(CP)— About 250 students of Grade 10 today returned to classes at the Owen Sound Collegiate and Vocational Institute joining 350 students of Grades 11, 12 and 13 and a special commercial class.

They returned only a week after fire gutted 10 rooms in the central portion of the school. Grade 9 students have been dismissed for the remainder of the term.

The link that had to come

The two main roads to the solution of life's problems, divergent though they may have seemed to be, are the way of Science and the way of Religion.

These two paths converge in Christian Science. Today the rational thinker finds logic, supported by proof, in the religious thinker's deep conviction of a primal cause, or intelligence, called God.

Science and religion can now agree, for through the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, the actual Science of Christianity has been revealed.

This great book shows, through reason and revelation, the solution to problems of health, supply, or of any other kind. It may be read or obtained at all Christian Science Reading Rooms. The coupon is also for your use.

Canadian Legion Told Defences In Grim State

By DOUGLAS HOWE

MONTREAL, May 19—(CP)—Despite the post-Korea expansion of the armed forces, the Canadian Legion's national convention was told today the "very grim" state of Canada's defences still is its No. 1 issue.

Group Capt. Alfred Watts, of Vancouver, retiring president, launched five days of business sessions with the statement that the Legion's 1950 call for compulsory training was "a voice crying in the wilderness'—and an indication that the call will probably be sounded again.

The signs are that the delegates will reaffirm the belief that Canadian youth should be given compulsory military education in the reserve forces.

The issue will be hammered out in this great French-speaking city after Defence Minister Claxton has a chance to state the government's case Tuesday when he will probably report the armed forces approaching the 100,000-mark in manpower, well over twice their pre-Korean size.

Solemn Ceremony

The biennial convention was formally opened Sunday night by the Governor-General in a ceremony solemn, sedate and colorful and filled with traditional reverence for Canada's 100,000 war dead.

Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, speaking after being presented an honorary life membership, told an audience of 1,700—dozens of distgruntled Legionnaires who came too late battered at the doors but couldn't get in because the theatre was packed — that Canada has changed greatly in the years since 1939.

The statistical yardsticks of soaring production, population and industry tell only half the story, he said. The other half consisted of things hard to describe, but the most striking of all was in national self-reliance. And most important of all was the fact Canada's sense of international responsibility was growing with her surging stature.

Mr. Claxton, Veterans Minister LaPointe, and Lt. - Gen. G. G. Simmons, Chief of the General Staff, were among the dignitaries attending the formalities. Both Montreal's Mayor Camillien Houde and Premier Duplessis of Quebec sent substitutes.

Mr. LaPointe spoke today and made particular note of the fact that only 63,000 of 1,290,000 veterans of the two wars are not in Canada's employment stream.

Of 350,000 First War veterans, a monthly average of 6,875 were registered for employment, while another 26,326 were drawing veterans' allowances, paid to aged and needy ex-servicemen.

"Only about 37,000 were unable to take their places for at least a part of the year in gainful employment."

Of 40,000 Second War veterans, only 26,000 had failed to enter the employment stream.

"These figures provide striking proof that our citizens who had the courage to risk their lives in war have the same courage to stand on their own feet in civilian life . . . They had no intention of becoming wards of their country on return to civilian status."

Outlines Aim

Group Capt. Watts, in his report, recalled "Operation Preparedness," the Legion's 1950 campaign to bring about compulsory military training.

He added:

"It is our endeavor to go as far as possible in convincing the government and the public of the very grim situation they faced then (1950) and still face. As it turned out we were a voice crying in the wilderness but we have continued to cry and a committee still is working on that resolution and will have something to say. It is probably the most important and difficult problem the Legion is called upon to face."

He said, too, that the Legion is alert to snuff out all signs of Communism in its ranks. Reds have been banned from membership for several years.

Final Contract Awarded For New Hospital

CAMPBELLFORD, May 19 — (ENS)—The Campbellford Memorial Hospital Board at a meeting held here last week awarded the final contract for work on the new hospital building. This will make the completion of the new hospital a certainty this summer or early fall.

The contract, in the amount of $11,000, went to a Belleville tile and terazzo contractor.

The award of the contract coincides with the announcement of a campaign to raise a final $20,000 to bring the quarter million dollar building to a completion. The campaign is expected to be an all out drive, of short duration, and will be sparked by Percy White, local pulp mill manager. It will start in the near future.

The directors of the new Hospital Board were named at a meeting held in the council chambers, after the final contract had been let. The new members of the board are: president, H. M. Donald; secretary, F. S. Linton; treasurer, R. D. McDonald; directors, W. F. Scott, A. B. Billen, (reeve of Seymour township), A. D. Bennett, C. H. Davidson, W. W. Archer and R. J. Locke, (reeve of Campbellford).

Stolen Cigarettes

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP) — Police Sunday seized three men and cigarettes valued at $60,000 which they said had been stolen Thursday from a Hammond, Ind., firm.

Man Fails To Appear At Cairo Riot Trial

CAIRO, May 19 (AP).—Socialist leader Ahmed Hussein failed to appear today for his trial on charges he instigated the Jan. 26 fire riots which almost destroyed this great African metropolis. His lawyers said he was ill.

The military court directed a medical commission to investigate the claim and then recessed until Thursday.

The prosecutor-general has asked the death penalty for Hussein and five others accused with him on the same charge.

Hussein has said he is innocent and was in jail when the riots broke out. Police say they arrested him on the night of the riot, in which up to 67 persons were killed. J. McLeod Boyer, Canadian Trade Commissioner, was among those killed.

New Confession In Murder Case

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP) — A man who has been in jail seven months awaiting trial on a murder charge was told Sunday that another man has confessed.

"I've prayed every night," said Grant Smith, 25-year-old Negro, "and my prayers have been answered."

"I knew the Lord would not let an innocent man suffer," he said. "Even when those men identified me, I knew the police would try to help."

Detectives William Fredrickson and James Droney, who doubted Smith's guilt in the robbery slaying of Mrs. Helen Benson last Oct. 13, brought good news for Smith.

It was a statement by Theodius Hester, 25, admitting the crime and naming two others as participants—Arthur Murphy, 27, and Percy King, 24. King and Murphy deny Hester's statement.

The assistant state's attorney, John Long, said he would leave for California today to investigate the ease.

Compromise End Strike At Lab

PEARL RIVER, N.Y., May 19 (AP)—A compromise wage agreement early today brought an end to a picket line siege at the Lederle laboratories, where an airlift was used to feed self-imprisonede plant workers and the research animals.

The strike started last Wednesday, and on Thursday the company reported picket-line disorders.

Since then, no one had gone through the picket lines, and two small planes were used to take food supplies to the 400 humans and 500,000 animals in the plants.

Production had ceased at the 400-acre Lederele establishment, the world's only producers of the wonder-drug auereomycin. Those camped inside the plant maintainede research tests into such diseasese as cancer, poliomyelitis and tuberculosis.

Daugherty said an eight-cent-an-hour wage increase had been agreed upon at an all-night bargaining session between the company and the chemical workers' union (A. F. L.).

Dies From Injuries In Queen E. Crash

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 19 — (CP) — Thomas Maxwell Fitch, 21, of Brantford, died today in hospital of injuries suffered Sunday when his motorcycle crashed into the rear of an automobile on the Queen Elizabeth way about two miles north of here.

Fitch, who worked as a machine operator for the steel company of Canada in Brantford, was one of nine members of a Brantford motorcycle club on a week end tour of the Niagara Peninsula.

California Frog Wins

ANGELS CAMP, Calif., May 19 (AP)—A California frog was declared winner of the annual Calaveras county jumping contest Sunday after an Oregon croaker was disqualified. Big Six, handled by Ed Gunter of Gustine, Calif., won the event—made famous by a Mark Twain story—with a leap of 14 feet, six inches. The longest jump was 14 feet, 8½ inches by Pancho, entered from Lakeview, Ore. But Pancho was ruled out because he edged out of the circle before his jump.

Uranium Discovered

FREIBURG, Germany, May 19 (Reuters)—Uranium has been discovered in old silver and cobalt mines in the Kienzig valley in Germany's Black Forest Mountains. Prof. Franz Kirchheimer, geologist who investigated the old mines, said uranium is not known to be present anywhere else in West Germany in a quantity worth mining.

Coronation Beer

LONDON, May 19 — (AP) —A firm of British brewers announced today it is ready with a special coronation beer to help celebrate the crowning of its Queen in June, 1953. The coronation brew will be a little more than three times as expensive— five shillings a pint —and three times as strong as the usual lager.

OBITUARIES

FREDERICK MARTIN STAFFORD.

Frederick Martin Stafford, 83, died suddenly in St. Petersburgh, Fla., last week.

Mr. Stafford was the father of Mrs. Donald A. MacTavish, R. R. 1, Peterborough, and grandfather of Mrs. R. G. Clarke, 573 McCannan Ave. He visited his daughter regularly over the past several years.

He owned a dry goods store in Sudbury until his health failed and he sold out to a large chain store about 1932. Since then he has spent his winters in Florida and visted his family.

He is survived by Mrs. D. C. Fulton, (Mary), Toronto; Mrs. MacTavish (Gladys), Peterborough; Mrs. S. A. Beath (Irene), Toronto; and Godfrey and Jack of Geraldton, Ont.

The funeral will take place on Thursday with burial in Prospect cemetery.

WILLIAM FLOOD.

A resident of Peterborouh most of his life, and of Detroit, Mich., for the past 20 years, William Flood died Sunday after a short illness in Detroit.

A son of the late Francis Flood and Mary Ann Herr, Mr. Flood was born in Ashphodel township, coming later to Peterborough, where he worked with the Canadian General Electric. While here he was a member of Sacred Heart church.

Surviving are two sisters and two brothers in Peterborough, Mrs. Kate Gilman, Mrs. Mary Noble, Michael and Hugh Flood, and two sisters in Detroit, Mrs. Theresa Weisnel, and Mrs. Amelia Duggan.

The body is resting at the Lane Funeral Home until 8:45 a.m. Wednesday. Requiem mass will be celebrated at 9 a.m. in Sacred Heart church and burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery.

ByLaw Restricts Firecrackers

Council of St. Thomas passed a bylaw at a special meeting last week restricting the sale and discharge of fireworks to May 24 and July 1.

Peterborough declined to take that precipitate action, but decided to enquire what was done elsewhere.

Possibly the council hesitated in applying a restrictive regulation after retailers had stocked with firecrackers expecting the usual business.

Fire Chief Smith is proposing to the council that some definite check should be put on small children getting and playing with matches and setting fire to things.

The department had a surfeit of grass fires this spring. One of Chief Smith's proposals is that children should not be sold matches unless on the written request of a parent; and also that the fireworks season be confined to the week preceding and including May 24.

Ban Lifted On Jet Flights

LONDON, May 19 (AP)—The United States Third Air Force today lifted a ban on flights to its Thunderjet fighter planes based in the United Kingdom.

The fighters were grounded last Friday after one caught fire and crashed in the sea off Southern England. It was the second crash in three weeks involving a plane of this type.

On April 27 one plunged into a building in St. Peters, Kent, killing the pilot and a British man and woman. A second woman died of injuries from the crash over the weekend.

An air force spokesman said all Thaunderjets henceforth will be given a thorough check before leaving the ground.

10 More F-M Cases Discovered In Britain

LONDON, May 19 — (Reuters) —Ten more cases of livestock foot-and-mouth disease were confirmed in England and one in Scotland over the weekend.

This brought the total of outbreaks since the national epidemic began last November to 308.

The general ban on cattle movements in England and Wales was lifted May 16, but restrictions in many affected areas remain.

Final Showing

MILLBROOK, May 19—(ENS) —Final performance of the operetta, "The Sunbonnet Girl," was put on by St. Andrew's choir in Coldsprings on Friday evening. After the performance the choir presented Miss Ellen Kent with a pin as a thank-you for her help in decorating the stage and with costuming. Reg. Atchison received a picture for his work as fiddler accompanying the square dances. The operetta has been presented nine times.

Maintains Reputation

PARIS, May 19 — (Reuters) — Gaston Fribault Sunday maintained his reputation for the fastest service in Paris by winning the annual waiters' race along the Grand Boulevards for the second year running. Carrying a tray with a full bottle of wine and two glasses, he ran the five kilometers (about three miles), from the Bastille monument to the Madeleine church in 21 minutes, 26 seconds.

Plums From Confederation

When Newfoundland became a Province of Canada on March 31st, 1949, no one could accurately predict the financial consequences of the union. In fact, to prevent any large deficit in the new Province's budget in the first few years, under the Terms of Union one-third of the $42,000,000 cash settlement handed over by Canada to the Newfoundland Government was to be used only "to facilitate the maintenance and improvement of Newfoundland public service." Newfoundland has still more than $11,000,000 of this on deposit in Ottawa, which it has not and cannot use because it is earmarked for current account spending. The Province has not had a deficit. It has, instead had large surpluses.

* * *

Newfoundland has boomed since Union, and is continuing to do so. In a recent speech in the Newfoundland legislature Premier Joseph Smallwood, who led Newfoundland into union, outlined the remarkable benefits Confederation has brought; and sketched the Province's immediate and far-reaching plans for further development.

Confederation with Canada brought at once, and has continued to bring, quite remarkable benefits to virtually all of our people. It brought Canada's famed social security and social welfare benefits: Family Allowances, Old Age Pensions, Unemployment Insurance. It brought considerably increased wages for our 3,500 railway employees, who went over to the C.N.R. It brought considerably increased wages for our 2,000 workers at Gander Airport, and Goose Airport. It brought considerably increased wages for the 2,500 civil servants who left the Newfoundland Civil Service and were absorbed into the Federal service, and for the 1,000 or more additional Newfoundlanders taken on by that service. It brought considerably increased pensions and other benefits to our thousands of veterans of both world wars. It brought many hundreds of thousands of dollars in wages to Newfoundlanders employed in various Federal public works.

These things which Premier Smallwood mentioned are bringing into Newfoundland cash payments amounting to two million dollars a month, in monthly cheques. They are made directly to the people and are quite apart from other millions paid into the Newfoundland Treasury by Ottawa each year. More than 300,000 of the island's 360,000 people share directly in these cash benefits from the Government of Canada.

General Eisenhower Learns About Muck-Slinging

General Dwight Eisenhower is learning, in the most unpleasant manner possible, that there are among his countrymen a number to whom vilification is second nature. He has become the target for a campaign of vicious misrepresentation that is probably unmatched in United States political history. It has been said that it is the worst campaign of character assassination since that of 1928 against the late Alfred E. Smith. We recall that campaign, but we do not consider it nearly as venomous as the present one against General Eisenhower.

Some of the charges and misrepresentations are not in themselves derogatory. They refer to attributes, beliefs, or qualities of which many men are proud. For instance, he has been called both a Roman Catholic and a Jew; we know many who take great pride—and rightly—in Roman Catholicism, and we think it was Viscount Simon who once answered, when accused of being a Jew, that he was not, but if he were he would be very proud of it. The calculated appeal to religious discrimination is the evil thing in these charges.

The statements made about the general are wildly contradictory. One message names him a Negro-lover, another describes him as an advocate of white supremacy. He has been called a minion of Wall Street, and the tool of the Kremlin. He is, they say, a friend of Joe Stalin's, and a drinking companion of Marshal Zhukov, yet they also say he is the pawn of the New Dealers. Another line is that the general has not entered the campaign because he is a sick man—so ill that he dare not submit to a press interview for fear of a nervous collapse.

We have often wondered why men accept the burden of political life in democratic countries. On the whole, the reward seems none too generous for able men, and the ablest seem to be the most likely to suffer abuse. The campaign against General Eisenhower increases that wonder; it is a sickening demonstration. He undoubtedly has the courage to survive it—but it would not be surprising if the incident deterred many in future from yielding to a call to be of service to their country.

Children War Against Caterpillars

This district, like most other parts of Ontario, is soon to be blighted again by tent caterpillars. Their webs, full of crawling insects, are blotching trees along county roads, highways, cottage property and throughout woods, even more thickly than last year. It seems we can only wait for the insects to become caterpillars in a week or two and to advance in their hordes, laying bare the trees as they go. Children at the Curve Lake Indian reservation school north of Peterborough have not stood helplessly by.

Under their teacher, and with the incentive of prize money offered by the teacher and the Indian merchant there for the largest bag, the youngsters are advancing on the tent-like webs before the bugs can advance on the trees. In the two weeks' campaign the children of the small rural Indian school beside Chemong Lake destroyed 14,768 nests, each crawling with hundreds of incipient caterpillars. The nests were brought to the school yard, counted and destroyed under the teacher's supervision. The winners of the fourteen dollars prize money—and we take pleasure in mentioning their names here—are Betty Taylor, 3,187 nests destroyed; Beverley Knott, 2,910 nests destroyed, and Jack Whetung, 2,311 nests destroyed.

Teacher Bertha Long and her pupils of the Curve Lake school are teaching Ontario government departments and some of the rest of us not to stand helpless before the caterpillar doom.

Memorial To The King

A New Zealander has suggested that as a Commonwealth memorial to the late King, several stately homes in various parts of England be acquired and converted into schools for Commonwealth pupils. It is an imaginative proposal and appeals instantly to the heart and senses. From his early manhood as Duke of York, King George VI had a deep personal interest in the welfare and training of youth. Fine "public" royal schools, perhaps bought by the separate Dominions and endowed by monies contributed to a memorial fund, would be a distinctive and personal tribute to the King.

The education and training which boys receive in English "public" schools—that is, boarding schools—is the best the world offers, and princes and commoners from many nations are sent to them therefore. That each year such educational advantages could be offered selected pupils from the Commonwealth nations in the name of the King would be remarkably beneficial not only to the pupils but to the Dominions from which they would return, as King's Scholars. Whether or not the best benefits would come from establishing new and separate schools is doubtful; however, the idea is splendid. What could be finer than to offer Commonwealth pupils a schooling in some of the ideals, disciplines, historic traditions and British duties which informed the King himself.

There will be more than one memorial to King George. It would be a travesty of remembrance if, in utilitarian zeal, no image of the King himself were carved in stone, to recall to future generations not only the name of the devoted monarch, but his features. In the last twenty years it has become the fashion to deride statues. A statue is bad only if it is badly carved or designed. Nations which are richest in traditions, art and history, and peoples which are most generous in their sense of obligation to their great men are generally those possessed of much statuary. To scorn a statue as a memorial because it is not useful is to demean the person memorialized. Certainly London, which has erected a memorial likeness to the heroic wartime chief of the American state, must have a statue of its heroic wartime King.

The Ballet Festival

Canadians who are interested in the artistic development of our country will take great encouragement from the success of the Canadian Ballet Festival which was held recently in Toronto. The critics have praised the quality of the work shown; the public has supported the festival; the quantity of work which was available to make up the festival shows that there is a vigorous ballet movement in this country. All of these things are good to know. And has this information any significance for Canadians who are not particularly interested in the ballet?

We think so. The prosperity and vigour of artistic movements of all kinds are evidences of national prosperity and vigour; as our country grows the demands of our people for entertainment and fulfillment of all kinds grow with it. We still look to the U.S.A. and to Britain for much of our entertainment, but increasingly we are bringing forth work in the arts which is our own, and which we applaud without regard to its possible acceptance elsewhere. We have borrowed standards of criticism from other lands, but we are creating the work to which those standards are applied. Only a healthy country, developing in quality as well as in bulk, can do this, and the success of Canadian ballet is only one aspect of the success of Canada as a whole.

Musical Notes

by PETER PIPER

IT HAS OFTEN been stated that "music runs in families", though whether this is entirely a matter of heredity in the case of musical families it is impossible to say. Heredity is a queer thing and works in an unexpected way, so scientists tell us. When Isadora Duncan wrote to Bernard Shaw suggesting that they should unite eugenically to produce the perfect human being that would combine Shaw's brains and Isadora's beauty the sage wrote back to enquire what if it should inherit his beauty and her brains!

Doubtless heredity is of some account, though in the case of the offspring of musical parents the child has the advantage of being steeped in a musical atmosphere from babyhood and if it has any musical inclinations it should have an advantage in that direction. Leaving aside the never to be resolved question of the relative importance of heredity and environment the fact remains that there are several instances of notable musicians being related. Alessandro Scarlatti, the great operatic composer of the seventeenth century, had a son, Domenico, whose harpsichord pieces are still as fresh as when they were first written. Leopold Mozart, father of the great composer, was a capable though pedestrian musician in his own right, and forwarded the technique of the violin in a text-book which was issued in an English translation a few years ago.

The Rubinstein brothers, Anton and Nicholas, were both important figures in Russian music during the last century: incidentally Arthur Rubinstein, the famous living pianist, does not appear to be any connection with them. The Strauss dynasty of waltz kings is another example of a musical family: once again Richard Strauss, their namesake, comes from an entirely different family. Talking of namesakes, the composer of that sugary little ballad, Passing By, E. C. Purcell, should never be confused with the great Henry Purcell.

THE MOST FAMOUS of all musical families is undoubtedly that of Bach. This remarkable family was domiciled in Central Germany from at least the beginning of the sixteenth century, and from the time of Luther and the age of Bismarck produced a succession of professional musicians, culminating in the great Johann Sebastian. Reference books give 53 Bachs, of which no less than eight are treated separately. Apart from Johann Sebastian himself the most important are his three sons, Wilhelm Friedemann, Carl Philipp Emmanuel and Johann Christian, eloquent testimony to the teaching ability of their great father, who taught them all that was necessary. Johann Christian, the youngest of Johann Sebastian's numerous progeny (he had 20 children by two wives), settled in England after a stay of six years in Italy, and is often known as the London Bach. His fame was so great in his lifetime that writers of the time, when speaking of Bach, invariably referred to him rather than to Johan Sebastian, who was comparatively unknown.

Despite his father's teaching Johann Christian's work betrays little if anything of the paternal influence in his style. In keeping with the trend towards lightness and elegance so characteristic of the rococo era his music is devoid of the solidity and complexity of Johann Sebastian. There is no trace of the deep feeling that pervades the work of his father. This is not strange, when one appreciates the extent to which Johann Sebastian's music was motivated by the hymns and worship, not to say the dogmas of the German Lutheran Church. Johann Christian, by going abroad and changing his religion (he became a Roman Catholic while in Italy), cut himself off from the roots of tradition in which his father's art found its highest expression. It remained for Mozart to assimilate the characteristics of Johann Christian's "galant" style, including many turns of phrase that we now consider as distinctly Mozartian, and endow it with a deeper significance.

IN KEEPING WITH the unpredictable nature of heredity there are numerous examples of unmusical children of musical parents and vice versa. Even if the story of the child Handel creeping up to the garret at night in his father's house to play the harpsichord is a fabrication, and the life of Handel is cluttered up with so much legend as to make the legends of the saints commonplace by comparison, it might very well have happened. Papa Handel was a prosperous barber-surgeon, in the days when the powerful guild of the barbers carried out surgical operations (without anaesthetics) and blood-letting. He was distinctly unenthusiastic at the prospect of his son embracing the profession of music, feeling doubtless that it was rather a come-down in the social world for the son of a barber-surgeon to become a mere fiddler. But young George Frederick possessed (possibly by inheritance) a good measure of constancy of purpose that seems to thrive on obstacles like a mountain stream. Berlioz, whose father was a doctor, studied medicine in Paris in deference to his father's wishes, encountering great opposition from his family when he decided to take up music.

Some composers, such as Haydn and Dvorak, sprang from humble peasant stock, far from the teeming musical life of the cities. But perhaps the greatest number of geniuses has originated in families where one or more of the parents was fairly musical in a modest way. Beethoven, Elgar, Stravinsky, Gounod, Mendelssohn, Puccini, Brahms and many others belong to this category.

WITH CERTAIN NOTABLE exceptions the mixed choir is the rule in church music on this continent, and even in England many choirs that formerly used only men and boys are relying more and more on women's voices. There is no doubt that women are easier in most ways, though they introduce a few fresh problems. There is a constant and large turnover in a boys' choir, owing to the breaking of their voices just when they are at their most useful point, whereas a good female chorister can continue to be useful for many years. The new boy has to be taught the craft of singing from scratch, thus taking up a good deal of the limited period in which his voice is of use. From a disciplinary angle women are easier to manage, though a good disciplinarian should actually find boys quite tractable.

When all is said and done, though, there is something other-worldly about the singing of boys that makes one forget that individually they are inky little scamps and transports one into uncharted regions. The very inexpressiveness of their voices emphasizes the universality of the words that they are singing, while the warmer tones of a woman's voice tend to interpose the personality of the singer. Amongst male church choirs the choir of Kingston Cathedral take a high place on this continent and Peterborough music-lovers have had an opportunity of hearing them sing last Friday.

Meanderings of an Octogenarian

By BERTRAND RUSSELL, O.M.

(Ed. Note: Earl Russell was born on May 18, 1872, and this article has been specially written for the occasion of his 80th birthday.)

MY LAST ten years, according to the Scriptures, ought to have consisted of labour and sorrow, but in fact I have had less of both than in most previous decades. The world takes a lot of getting used to, and I have only lately begun to feel more or less at home in it.

Eighty years ago when I was born, my grandfather, whom I well remember, (Lord John Russell 1792-1878, famous British Liberal statesman) had just reached the age of eighty. Now that I have reached that age my only grandson (so far) is a few months old. If he lives to my age he, my grandfather and I, will between us have covered about two and a half centuries. The changes in the first two-thirds of this period I know something about. The changes in the last third (perhaps fortunately) are as yet a matter of conjecture.

My grandfather was born at the height of the French Revolution, in the month preceeding the September massacres. He imbibed in youth an admiration for Fox and a contempt for Pitt. His first literary venture, written while Pitt was still Prime Minister, contained an ironic dedication to him, ending with the words, "may you remain at the helm of State long enough to bestow a pension upon your humble servant." My grandfather entered Parliament in 1813 for a semi-rotten borough of his father's. He visited Napoleon in Elba, he introduced the Reform Bill in 1832, and his last term as Prime Minister was in 1866.

AS FOR ME, my early youth was passed at the very summit of the Victorian epoch. I saw Disraeli driving to the opening of Parliament in 1879. I knew Kinglake, the historian of the Crimea and the author of "Eothen". I knew Sir Moses Montefiore, who had retired in 1824 and spent the next fifty years in combating the disabilities of Jews, in which my grandfather ardently supported him. I knew Lecky, the historian of rationalism. In Paris I went to tea with Whistler and there met the poet Mallarme.

England in those days was still aristocratic. Country houses and town houses retained all their pomp. Democracy had begun to exist as a theory, but not as something that coloured people's everyday thoughts. There was an old Duchess of Cleveland whom I knew who was outraged by the institution of Bank Holidays and exclaimed acidly, "What do the poor want with holidays? They ought to work." This was thought a little extreme even in those days. But at the same time some sympathy was felt for the old lady in having to endure such a vulgar and democratical period

With the greatness of the aristocracy went the comparative unimportance of the Crown. The great Whig families felt towards the Hanoverian dynasty much as they might to an old family butler. It was they who had hired the dynasty and, if at any time it should cease to give satisfaction, they could send it back to Hanover.

I WELL REMEMBER the first crack in the imposing aristocratic facade. It was when Keir Hardie, who had been newly elected, came to the House of Commons in a cloth cap instead of a top hat. When it was found that no thunderbolts cut him down for this impiety, strange new doubts began to germinate in men's minds. The flood of revolution was let loose. The landed aristocracy was reduced to a ruin which began with Lloyd George's Budget. Gone are the days, when, in the immortal words of Gilbert and Sullivan,

> Every boy and every gal,
> That's born into this world alive,
> Is either a little Liberal
> Or else a little Conservative.

Those who had thought that the poor ought to work became themselves poor. The revolution which has taken place in the social life of England has been accomplished without the use of the guillotine or the concentration camp, though it has been more profound than anything that the guillotine achieved in France. And as the great have lost status in England, so England has lost status in the world. Britannia no longer rules the waves, but goes cap in hand to Washington to beg permission for command of some outlying minor naval force. India, which only a few years ago Mr. Churchill could describe as "the brightest jewel of the British Crown," has declared itself a Republic. The change both internally and externally has been great and swift. For old people like myself the mental adjustments involved have not been easy.

WHAT, I WONDER, will my grandson have seen if he lives to the year 2052? Will the next eighty years be more eventful than those that I have experienced? Will they continue the downward plunge towards disaster, which has characterised the latter half of my life? Or will mankind see the abyss ahead and turn back into a happier landscape? I do not see how any rational prognostication is possible, and I find that I have two entirely different visions of the future according as I happen to feel cheerful or the reverse.

On gloomy days I foresee a third world war in the near future, lasting for years and ending indecisively after unparalled destruction—ending not in a real peace but in a grim determination on both sides to renew the fight as soon as possible and to continue this time until a definitive issue has been reached. In the course of these struggles I see Western Europe with its cities reduced to rubble and its countryside transformed into a radio-active desert. I see the total expulsion of all white men from Africa, and Asia rendered even poorer than at present by internal strife. I see Latin America throwing off the yoke of the United States and reverting to barbarism. I see the United States shorn of power, surviving like the Byzantine Empire at the last fading glimmer of a more civilised age, endeavouring to survive behind defensive walls and living on old ideas which the rest of the world will regard as archaic. This is what I see on a gloomy day.

ON CHEERFUL DAYS I see a quite different vision. I see Russia and America gradually growing less suspicious of each other, and arriving at last at the point where a genuine accord is possible. I see an international authority more capable than the United Nations of enforcing its will upon recalcitrant members, and therefore able to make world peace secure. I see Communism losing its fierceness and white men learning to acquiesce in equality for those of different pigmentation. I see science at last allowed to bring to mankind the happiness it is capable of bringing, instead of the universal death and destruction which is now threatened.

I do not know which of these two visions has the greater likelihood of being realised. What does seem to me nearly certain is that mankind cannot go on in the old ways, and that things must get either much better or much worse. Man has survived hitherto because his ignorance and incompetence have made his folly ineffective. Now that science has shown us how to make folly effective we must abandon folly or perish. Perhaps my grandson will see the issue.

Resettle The Doukhobors

(VANCOUVER SUN)

ANYONE hoping for a quick, easy solution to B.C.'s 50-year-old Doukhobor problem won't find it in the excellent report of the Doukhobor Research Committee.

But realists will approve the judicious use of carrot and stick in the program the committee recommends after two years of intensive study by historians, anthropologists, psychiatrists, sociologists and agricultural experts.

It proposes shrewd firmness in handling future outbreaks of violence by the Sons of Freedom.

But it also asks concrete and understanding action by the government to whittle away at the 2,000 Freedomite fanatics who cause all the trouble in the Kootenays.

The committee finds the vast majority of B. C's 10,000 Douks have to all intents and purposes become law-abiding Canadians who need only moderate assistance to buy the land they now lease from the government and aid in regenerating it.

Most people will agree that Freedomites should be assisted in emigrating if any country will take them.

If they're to remain here they should be resettled in a new community and aided in setting up a new life that will keep them too busy and happy to bother their neighbours.

At worst they should be aided in re-establishing themselves in their present location.

It's good news that many young Freedomites are already swinging to Canadian ways The pace can be increased by supervised education and economic aid. This trend to Canadiansim however is the root cause of the violence incited by a shrinking core of fanatics who must be dealt with firmly.

A special penal colony to hold fanatics convicted of violence could take away much of the glamour of "martyrdom" in mass penitentiary sentences.

Similarly the steam could be taken out of the dying practice of nudism by making it no longer a criminal offence and dealing with such outbreaks as unlawful assembly.

And young Freedomites could be discouraged from violence by depriving those convicted of their exemption from military service as pacifists.

Special efforts to educate the children must be made, and as a special incentive to full citizenship all Doukhobors should be given full provincial and Federal voting rights.

Uncertain Democrats

(Ottawa Citizen)

Some Italian workers, returning to their native land from Czechoslovakia, after five years, are reported to be thoroughly disillusioned over life in that country under Communism. As they had gone there as ardent Communists, as "voluntary shock workers," this may make others less prone to hearken to blandishments from beyond the Iron Curtain.

The story of one of these men is one of oppressive toil at bare living wage, and he claims his experience was typical.

Believers in the democratic way, however, should not become unduly complacent over the incident. These Italians were revolted by the low living standards they encountered. It was the low level of existence, apparently, rather than absence of freedom, which led them to renounce Communism. But only so long as their own country offers them a somewhat better living might they be expected to prefer democracy to Communism. And they might as easily plump for an alternative form of dictatorship that tempted them with promises.

In many lands where poverty is widespread democracy still lacks a firm foundation. If it is to be sure of survival, poverty must be overcome.

AIRBORNE WATCHDOGS GUARD CANADA'S EASTERN COAST—Two giant Lancasters patrol the sea lanes off Canada's east coast in search of the "enemy" submarine H.M.S. Alcide as a long-range flying boat uses jet-assisted takeoff to become airborne from a tiny northern lake after a rescue flight. Two RCAF squadrons, 404 and 405, are sharpening up on war techniques at their east coast base in Greenwood, N.S. The units are using Lancaster bombers that have undergone over 100 modifications to change them from bombers to coastal patrol machines. H.M.S. Alcide, a submarine on loan from the Royal Navy, has been the target for the "green" crews learning the subchasing methods developed during the last war. In addition to the coastal patrol squadrons Greenwood is the home of the RCAF's No. 103 Rescue Unit which with its Lancasters, Cansos, Dakotas and helicopters has effected some of the most daring rescues on the Atlantic.

Warns University Not To Be Influenced

KINGSTON, May 19—(CP)—Dr. E. W. R. Steacie, president of the National Research Council, said Saturday that the less a university lets itself be influenced by society, the better.

"Ivory tower" universities are the only foundation on which a firm modern society can be built, he said at the arts convocation of Queen's University. "I feel the less the university lets itself be influenced by society and the more it tries to influence society, the better."

Dr. Steacie received an honorary degree from the university while one of the other honorary degrees went to Thomas Hilliard Wholton, principal of the Galt Collegiate.

Some 270 graduating students received their degrees at the ceremony.

10,000 Welcome Korean Veterans

VANCOUVER, May 19 (CP).—A throng of more than 10,000 packed the sunlit streets of downtown Vancouver Sunday to welcome home 1,157 Canadian soldiers from Korea.

The U.S. Navy transport Pvt. Sadao S. Munemori docked one hour behind shedule after a 15-day voyage from Kure, Japan. The gangplank was shot across at 11 a.m. and three hours later the first troop train pulled out for Montreal. Two others followed at half-hour intervals for Toronto and Ottawa.

It was the biggest movement of troops by ship in Vancouver since 1918 when the Empress of Russia brought back Canadians from the battlefields of France through the Panama Canal.

After the hurly-burly of disembarkation, the smartly turned out troops, performing like a precision drill squad, paraded for nine blocks. Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes, chief of the army's western command, took the salute on the reviewing stand in front of the courthouse as bells pealed from Christ Church Cathedral across the street.

Leads Parade

Major J. H. J. Gauthier of Montreal, commander of the shipboard troops, led the parade. General Vokes held the salute as the two dozen platoons clicked by at the "Eyes right."

The army almost had to compete for marching space. A navy parade commemorating the Battle of the Atlantic dismissed in front of the cathedral minutes before the army march-past. A Shriners' band was in the next block and the Corps of Commissionaires was also on parade.

Thousands lined ramps overlooking the dock and other ships in harbor set up a deafening din on whistles and sirens as the Munemori slid under Lion's Gate bridge spanning the harbor entrance and moved to her pier.

The welcoming speeches from the jetty were lost completely when the public address system broke down, but the men shouted "bravo" anyway.

The troops came out of the line only about a month ago. They comprised men from nearly all units fighting in Korea, the Royal 22nd Regiment, Royal Canadian Regiment and Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, with supporting services.

Movement home of the original Canadian brigade in Korea will be completed early in June. More than 1,000 soldiers will arrive here in about a week and a similar number early next month.

Missed Rocky

Some of the men said they were disappointed their old boss, Brig. John Rockingham, wasn't on hand to greet them. He arrived home Thursday and left for Ottawa Saturday to report to the chief of the general staff.

Maj. Real (Buck) Liboiron, D.S.O., wouldn't strike you as a man who would cry. He said he did Sunday, though, when the ship rounded Brockton Point and downtown Vancouver burst into view.

"Over there, there's nothing but brown hills and small shacks. And then we came around that point and there were all the tall buildings and the green mountains. Tears came to my eyes. We don't realize what a wonderful country we have."

The husky major from Ponteix, Sask., is one of three Canadians to win the D.S.O. in Korea. He was decorated for his part in the heroic stand of the Royal 22nd Regiment in November. The 150 Van Doos refused to yield their position and stood off the massed attacks of hundreds of Chinese Communists for five days.

Maj. Liboiron said it would be difficult for either the UN forces or Reds to break through one another's defences now. The Chinese were dug in to a depth of 10 or 15 miles while UN troops were sitting behind 15 aprons of barbed wire.

He said the truce talks are known to Canadian soldiers as "no progress".

Pte. Jack Sargent of Owen Sound, who won the MM May 30, 1951, just a month after he sailed from Seattle for Korea—expressed his satisfaction at being home in this way:

"There's nothing there, just nothing. All you can do is lie in a hole in a hill and fight the Chinks."

The tall, robust Sargent won his decoration for covering the retreat of 29 buddies when they were trapped in a valley near Chorwon.

"I didn't stop to count how many I got but they never touched me. Splashed some mud in my face, that's all."

Once off the ship, the men were served coffee and sandwiches by the Sally Ann and smoked despite the "No Smoking" signs in the pier shed. A major rushed about telling the men to douse their fags, but they lit new ones after he had passed. The major finally gave up when he saw a general and brigadier puffing away.

L-Cpl. Gord Dawe of Verdun said fighting along the static lines is "monotonous but they keep throwing shells into us now and then and raising hell."

Consensus was that few of the men plan to remain in the army. "I'm just a displaced civilian," said Capt. Antonio Giroux of Montreal.

Traffic Accidents Cause 8 Of 18 Weekend Fatalities

By The Canadian Press

Traffic accidents claimed eight lives in Eastern Canada during the week-end, raising the toll of deaths in the area to 18.

Six persons were drowned, a Canadian Press survey showed early today. Others were killed by a train, smothering and an industrial machine. One man died of unknown causes.

Nine persons were killed in Ontario, four in Quebec and one each in New Brunswick and Newfoundland.

Two-year-old Alec Johnston of Hull, Que., was sitting between the tracks of a nearby railroad when he was struck by a train. A two-month-old baby, Lawrence Baston, smothered to death in his crib at Toronto.

Two persons were killed when an automobile was struck by a police cruiser 10 miles north of Toronto. Dead are Hugh MacDonald, 56, and his wife, Ethel, 60. Another double fatality occurred near St. Johns, Que., 25 miles east of Montreal. Roger Trottier, 20, and Joseph, 52, both of Montreal, were killed in a two-truck crash.

At Toronto, John Earle Jones was killed when a dump truck smashed into a street car in which he was riding. Lise Depres 2, was struck and killed by a truck at Stoke near Sherbrooke, Que.

Giovanni Xami, 59, of Laonsing, Ont., was killed by a truck in Toronto. Sixty miles north of the city, Wesley Mackey of Uptergrove died when an automobile struck the bicycle he was riding.

Found Dead

Joseph Baner, 29, of Delhi, Ont., was found dead by other members of his fishing party near Port Rowan on the shore of Lake Erie.

Three persons were drowned when their amphibian aircraft landed on the harbor at Cartwright Harbor, Labrador, with its wheels down and sank.

Another unknown man, wearing uniform of a corporal in the army, leaped from a bridge into the Reversing Falls rapids at Saint John, N.B.

James Delanoey was drowned in the harbor at St. John's, Nfld.

Orval Morphey, 35, died at Port Arthur after a 130-mile mercy flight from the scene of an industrial accident in his home town of Emo. His clothes caught in the spinning shaft of a machine in a lumber mill.

At Kingston, a soldier was drowned in the St. Lawrence river when an outboard-motor boat capsized. His name was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Woman Fortune Teller Robs 2 on Highway

KINGSTON, May 19 (CP) — A smooth-talking woman fortune teller Sunday robbed two elderly men whom she stopped at different points on the highway.

Milford Wagar, 70, said he lost $15 and Gilbert Woods, 60, reported a loss of $50.

Wagar said that, while he was walking on the highway, a car pulled up ahead of him and a woman got out.

"She walked back to me and started to talk. She ran her hands over me. When she was gone, I found my $15 was gone too."

Blue Man Wins Preakness, Looks Good

BALTIMORE, May 19 (CP).—Blue Man, a major disappointment in the Kentucky Derby, scored an easy victory over nine rivals in the Preakness Saturday and established himself as the ranking contender for the title of top three-year-old of the year.

The handsome son of Blue Swords came through with a brilliant stretch run to whip a field that included the highly-touted Sub Fleet, regarded as his chief threat in the Pimlico racing classic.

Calumet Farm's Hill Gail won the Derby with Sub Fleet and Blue Man third. But Hill Gail has an ailing ankle and may not race again this season.

When they start voting for the best three-year-old next fall, the ballots will go to the horse which did the best job of manhandling his opposition. Right now, Blue Man appears to have the stuff necessary.

Blue Man, Kentucky-bred, is owned by Arthur W. Abbott of Rye, N. Y.

Abbott's cold trailed the Preakness field Saturday as Primate and Jampol battled for the lead in the 1 3-16-mile gallop for the best part of $113,270.

Knocks Them Off

Then jockey Conn McCreary gave him the word. Blue Man whooshed around his field, picking them off one by one.

Primate was through after the first mile as they swung into the stretch. Jampol held the lead then.

Everyone in the crowd of 29,345—largest at Pimlico since the war—plus millions watching on television must have known Blue Man was the big man. An eighth of a mile from home he zipped past Jampol, and when he came to the judges he was 3½ lengths ahead.

That gallop, clocked at 1:57 2-5 compared with Capot's 1949 Preakness and track record of 1:56, was worth $86,135 to Abbott who refused a top offer of $125,000 for Blue Man last winter in Florida.

Blue Man—and Abbott has only one other horse, an unraced two-year-old—now has put $178,785 into his bank account. And there's plenty more where that came from.

NO FLOP—Hitting a handy .335, Jim Pendleton has played right up to his publicity so far at shortstop for the Montreal Royals. He has booted a few but all-round there isn't a better man at the position in the International League.

Royals Sweep Doubleheader From Springfield

By The Associated Press

Montreal Royals, rated in preseason forecasts as a cinch for the 1952 International League pennant, are not letting the experts down.

The Royals are out in front by four games today and are going to be difficult to overhaul. They have won four more games and dropped f- ir less than their nearest rivals, Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Royals turned back Springfield Cubs 11-5 and 4-1 Sunday while the Leafs jumped from fourth to second place with a pair of 4-3 triumphs over Ottawa Athletics. Buffalo Bisons dropped from second to fourth place by dropping a doubleheader to the tail-end Baltimore Orioles, 10-2 and 1-0. Syracuse split a twin bill with Rochester Red Wings, winning the second game 3-1 in eight innings after losing the opener 5-0.

Get 15 Hits

Montreal pounded out 15 hits in the first game. Every Royal except Jim Pendleton got at least one. Junior Gilliam sparked the attack, driving in five runs. Tom Lasorda yielded eight hits, including two home runs by Jack Wallaesa, to gain his fourth victory without a loss. Hamp Coleman limited the Cubs to four safeties in beating Herm Besse in the nightcap.

Veterans Russ Bauers and Hal Hudson turned back the Athletics for Toronto. Andy Anderson drove home two runs in the opener on a homer and single. Leafs scored all their runs in the sixth of the second game to wipe out a 3-0 deficit.

Lefty Fred Hahn turned in a four-hits hutout as the Wings topped Syracuse in the first of two at Rochester. The Wings collected 10 safeties off Bob Keegan. Bob Holloman restricted Rochester to five blows in besting Little Jackie Column in the second game.

PITCHES DREAM GAME—Detroit Tiger hurler Virgil (Fire) Trucks unlooses a fast one during the fourth inning of his no-hit, no-run game against the Washington Senators at Detroit. Trucks fanned seven men, hit two with wild pitches and gave up three walks in racking up his classic. The Tigers won, 1-0, on a ninth inning homer by Vic Wertz.

Queen's Plate Entry List Cut After Three Division Trials

TORONTO, May 19 (CP). — About the safest bet is that the 93rd annual running of the nine-furlong Queen's Plate May 24 will be trimmed from its original entry list of 75 to about 14 by post time.

The three-division trial was the feature of Woodbine Park's opening day card Saturday and, with the possible exception of entries from the Toronto stable of E. P. Taylor, the rail experts weren't given much of a line on the greatest event of the country's racing calendar.

This isn't unusual, considering that only three trial winners in the last eight years went on to win the $15,000-added event and the Queen's 50 guineas open to Canadian-bred three-year-olds.

Red Martlet, the Taylor stable's big gun, fired a blank in the six-furlong event with a fifth-place finish in one division, but the establishment clicked in the other two with Acadian and Dress Circle.

Probable Winners

On their triumphs, the two Taylor racers and Latin Lad, owned by the Garden City Stable of St. Catharines, winner of the other division, must be considered seriously as probable Plate winners.

High up with these are two entries from western Canada—Our Omar, owned by Scotty Kennety of Winnipeg, and Lord Strome, under the colors of Jim Speers, also of Winnipeg. Both showed well in the short-distance trials and could make things interesting over the extra thre-furlong route next Saturday.

About 20,000 fans thronged the stands for the Ontario Jockey Club's opening spring meeting program. The track was fast although times of the winners—around the one-minute-13-second mark—were about three seconds slower than the track record over the route.

Latin Lad, a five-to-one shot, opened the trial proceedings with a half-length victory over Wait On Me from the Jo-Ann stable of Toronto. Red Martlet, a speedball in the morning trials, was fifth.

The Taylor entries went on to take the next two with Dress Circle, owned by Mrs. Taylor, one-half length victory over Allison Pass, a 25-to-1 shot owned by the Almar Stable of Toronto. Sunnycrest, even-money entry owned by Vince Sheridan, Toronto, was fifth.

Acadian made it look easy in the third division with a clear three lengths over the track.

West Yorks Edge Thistles 15-10

BRAMPTON, May 19 (CP). — Toronto West Yorks Saturday night defeated Fergus Thistles 15-10 in the opening game of their Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior series here.

Seven straight goals in the last six minutes of the third period gave Toronto a 13-7 edge to enter the final period.

Frank Facto led the winners with four goals. Other Toronto scorers were J. Kapasky, Nick Ferri, Bruce Webster, Sonny Rowntree, Leo Teatro, Jim McNulty, Bob Hilson and Clark Lyons.

For the losers, Len Caruso scored three goals and Al Garbutt, Bob Gear, Don Gear, Bob Dobbie and Abbott tallied the rest.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Quite a few from here took in the Queen's Plate trials at Woodbine on Saturday to help make up that 18,000 crowd. A bit on the chilly side but there's nothing like a few bets on the ponies to keep a person warm for at least a short spell. Del Mott and Byng Whitteker aired it o'er C.B.L. has been at it nine years and has written on horses and racing for various publications, including Turf and Paddock, only Canadian magazine devoted exclusively to thoroughbreds. Byng used to do hockey and boxing for the Kitchener station ere joining C.B.C. 15 years ago, and being on loan overseas to B.B.C. during the war years.

Rather cool Saturday, too, at the openings of the Kawartha and Peterborough golf clubs, yet a goodly turnout at both. 'Tis a fine social and sportsmanlike scene to see them flock to the links again for another big season. Every year finds more and more young chaps taking up this game, and more girls and young women, also teeing off. The local clubs are blessed with competent pros to teach the greenhorns what to do on the greens, and club facilities here are tops. Golf is definitely not an oldtimers' game exclusively but is a swell competitive sport for folks of all ages.

It's a Sound Circuit

The seven clubs in the Lakeshore Intermediate Baseball League have settled on their category. Lindsay, Bowmanville, Whitby and Cobourg are intermediate "A"; Port Hope and Colborne are rated "B"; while the Peterborough entry is junior "A" but may use up to five players of intermediate "A" calibre. This is quite a good loop with a number of the clubs importing players. Schedule opens here at seven p.m. this Thursday in Riverside against Howie Dalton's classy Cobourg crew. Locals drill nightly till then, and they might pull a surprise and upset Cobourg in the opener. Gord Snape and his squad will certainly be trying for that.

* * * * * * *

Pat Calladine, who is acting as temporary manager-coach of the senior Petes in the C.O.B.L., calls for 6:30 nightly drills this week (except Thursday) for all prospective players till the opening here Saturday. Kingston comes then for a seven p.m. ball fixture. Eddie Murphy sent up an outfielder from the Maritimes and he has been showing up well with the club. A few more imports may be used as needed but this week will pretty much decide what the club can field and what other help might be needed. There's the nucleus of a strong club there in seven or eight of last year's team which led the Viaduct League all through their schedule. Starting squad will likely be selected Wednesday night.

Yorks Sit On Thistles

Toronto Yorks served notice Saturday that they'd be real O.L.A. senior contenders this semester by defeating Fergus Thistles 15-10 to open their schedule. And without using their coach Don (Scotty) McPhail, as that high scorer hasn't yet received permission from Mimico to play for Toronto. A deal is pending on it. The game was staged at Brampton, but Yorks are at home in the East York arena tomorrow to Owen Sound, after St. Catharines pries off the lid this e'en in Hamilton. Two jousts on tap Friday, Mimico at Fergus, and Toronto at Peterborough. Week is wrapped up next Saturday when the Tigers of Hamilton go to St. Kitts, and the Petes trek to Owen Sound.

Local cricketers had much the better of Grove of Lakefield in the Oval on Saturday but had to settle for a draw in their exhibition with time up and two wickets to go. Score at the time was 112 for the P-W club and 38 for Grove. A previous meeting this season also resulted in a draw. May 24 sees Waterloo and Peterborough clash at the Oval in the first match of the Ontario county championships for the R. C. Matthews Trophy. On June 7, schedule play begins here with Grace Church "B" vs. Peterborough-Whitaker Club in the Toronto District Council. Schedule calls for 10 games.

Cricketers Tie As Time Called

By C. H. IRESON

Peterborough - Whitaker Cricket Club had the better of a drawn exhibition match with Grove School at the Oval on Saturday but could not get a victory. At the call it was Peterborough 112, Grove 38 for eight wickets.

The locals lost two wickets for three runs before T. Scott joined F. Booth did some fine batting, Booth's 35 included a six and three fours, while Scott retired with a slight injury and a 41 count to total 86 for three wickets. Later B Armstrong in three hits scored 12 to make it 112. N. Powell bowled three for 29, A. Harris three for 12 and T. Staples three for 13.

The School fared badly against Peterborough bowling and W. Rashleigh with 11 was top scorer. No one else got into double figures and it was 38 with eight down when time was called, leaving Grove 74 runs behind with but two more wickets to fall, but it had to go as a drawn game. F. Booth bowled 13 overs, eight maidens, and took three wickets for eight runs. W. Cridland had one for 10, F. Dyer one for 13 and Rollwagen in four overs took three for three.

Next Saturday, Peterborough County plays Waterloo County in Ontario county championships in the R. C. Matthews Trophy play. On June 7, the locals open Toronto Council competition with Grace Church "B" here.

Lindsay Victors

LINDSAY, May 19 — (ENS) — Two Peterborough players, Doug Loucks and Junior West, hurled three scoreless innings each as Lindsay Merchants of the Lakeshore League blanked Walkwoods of the Tri-County League, 5-0, in an exhibition game here Friday night. Loucks breezed through the first three frames, scattering three hits and fanning five. West also whiffed five and gave up nary a hit, while striking out five. Veteran Grant Wickett finished up the seventh inning. Doc Gleeson and Hal Williams split the Walks' mound duties, giving up four hits including doubles to Loucks and Sliver O'Donoghue. The Merchants open against Bowmanville Roses here Wednesday night.

The Canadian Olympic Association Saturday approved recommendations from its various affiliates regarding cycling, boxing, wrestling and weight-lifting positions on the 128-man team going to the Olympic games at Helsinki this summer.

The size of the boxing team was raised to seven to allow addition of Jack Butula of Kimberley, B. C., said to be Olympic calibre when he competed in trials last month.

The meeting also approved in principle a four-man equestrian team.

Wrestlers named to the team included Bob Steckle of Guelph.

The committee also approved selection of cyclists John Millman of Vancouver and Bob Henry of Toronto. Millman, who won the Olympic trial at Victoriaville, Que., recently is training at Brantford. He is a University of British Columbia student.

Don Moffett of Galt won the annual War Veterans' road race at Hamilton Saturday. Jaan Kivissild of Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto, was second.

Manchester United continued unbeaten in its North American tour by defeating a select team of the American Soccer League 5-1 at New York.

Sammy Snead harnessed a wild game in the nick of time Sunday to win his second $15,000 round-robin golf tournament at New Rochelle, N. Y. He edged rallying Carry Middlecoff, who came on brilliantly by two points.

Ron Necciai, rookie righthanded pitcher who set a modern baseball record last Tuesday by striking out 27 men in a Class D Appalachian League game, came through with a new mark Saturday night. He struck out five men in one inning. Two men got on base when the catcher twice failed to hold the ball.

Windsor Collegiates regained top place in Western Ontario Secondary School Association track and field competition, dominating the 30th annual championships Saturday in London. Windsor won three of the four team championships and three of four individual titles. One of the six records broken went to Alex Pierce of Brantford who hurled the javelin 164 feet, one inch.

Vic Dyrgall, veteran distance runner of the Millrose Athletic Association of New York, won the annual Yonkers marathon Saturday. Canadians failed to finish in the first 10.

Ottawa's Don McEwen staged the best performance of his college career Saturday, running a 9:01.8 two-mile on a muddy track in a light drizzle. The record-smashing run was the highlight of Michigan's dual-meet track victory over Notre Dame.

Shantz Shuts Out Indians As Athletics Triumph 2-0

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Little Bobby Shantz and Big Gerry Staley, a pair of first-rate pitchers with second division teams, are setting a terrific pace for the other 164 Major League hurlers. Shantz, the Philadelphia Athletics' southpaw, Sunday became the first American League pitcher to win six games as he shut out the Cleveland Indians, 2-0, Staley, six-foot St. Louis Cardinals' right-hander, became the National League's first seven-game winner as he foiled Philadelphia Phillies, 4-3.

The 26-year-old Shantz now owns more than half of the seventh place Athletics' 11 triumphs. Staley, two years older, has registered exactly half of the fifth place Cardinals' 14 victories. Although 13 pitchers won 20 or more games last year, neither Shantz nor Staley were among them. them. Bobby bagged 18 wins in 1951 and Staley notched 19.

They appear to be headed for their first 20-game season in the big time.

Only Three Hits

Shantz surrendered only three hits to achieve his first shutout in the opener of the doubleheader with Cleveland. The Indians came back to register a shutout of their own as Mike Garcia blanked the A's, 6-0, despite yielding nine hits. Bob Feller, the Cleveland loser, gave up only seven hits but two of them were home runs by Eddie Joost and Gus Zernial that accounted for both Philadelphia runs.

The Indians pounded Sam Zoldak and Carl Schieb for nine hits in the nightcap including doubles by Larry Doby, Bob Kennedy and Harry Simpson. Kennedy drove in two runs and Doby scored twice. It was Garcia's fifth win and fourth straight. Shantz, who has allowed only 17 runs and 46 hits in 60 innings, has won five in a row.

The Indians retained their 2½-game lead in the American League as the second place Washington Senators were held to a split in their twin bill with the Chicago White Sox. A bases-loaded single by Ray Coleman produced two sixth-inning runs and gave the White Sox a 6-4 victory after Lou Sleater had pitched the Senators to a 2-1 triumph in the opener.

In Third Place

Boston's Red Sox remained in third place with a 7-4 win over Detroit while New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns divided a double header. Vic Raschi hurled a five-hit 8-1 triumph for New York after the Browns had eked out a 4-3 decision in the first game.

Brooklyn took undisputed possession of first place in the National League, thrashing Chicago Cubs 7-2, as New York Giants were kept idle because of rain. The Giants were supposed to have played two games with Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rain also washed away the scheduled twin bill between Cincinanti Reds and the Braves in Boston.

Brooklyn collected only four hits but three Bruin hurlers handed out 10 free passes and hit two batters to set up all Brooklyn runs. Unbeaten Preacher Roe helped win his fourth game with a pair of run-scoring singles and catcher Rube Walker knocked in two with his first homer of the season. Knuckle-baller Willie Ramsdell, former Dodger, was the loser.

SWEATER QUEEN—Betty Neden, 19, five-foot, nine-inch girl from Clarkson, Ont., has been voted Canada's "Sweater Queen" in the finals of a country-wide competition. Second of the 10 finalists was Fernande Giroux of Quebec City. Betty, born in Lethbridge, Alta., won a complete wardrobe, trips to Montreal and New York and a week's holiday in Jamaica. The contest attracted 1,400 entries.

Manufacturers' Discussions Will Feature Economic Situation

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

A study of the changes which have taken place in Canada's economy since the beginning of the year and what further developments may be expected in the coming months, will be a feature of the annual general meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

The meeting will be held in Toronto May 28-30 and more than 1,000 industrialists from across Canada are expected to attend.

As has been customary when the C.M.A. meets in Toronto, the meeting, in addition to holding plenary sessions, will split up into separate conferences on topics of particular concern, enabling the delegates of member firms to concentrate on the subjects in which they are most interested.

In addition to the conference on current economic conditions, others will be held on defence production, employer-employee relations, transportation, industrial design, education and fire protection.

Speakers at the economic conference will include Finance Minister Abbott; W. F. Bull, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce; Maj.-Gen. H. A. Young, Federal Deputy Minister of Resources and Development; Paul S. White, Montreal; W. M. V. Ash, Toronto; Richard Fry, financial editor, Manchester Guardian, Manchester, England; W. J. Borrie, Vancouver, president of the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada; and W. J. LeClair, Ottawa, secretary-manager, Canadian Lumbermen's Association.

Labor Minister Gregg will open the conference on employer-employee relations.

Even With Demands

The current review of Greenshields and Company, Montreal investment firm, makes the following comment, in part, on economic conditions:

"For some months now it has been apparent that in most commodity sectors supplies have caught up with demand, and this is evidenced by the drop in prices at both wholesale and retail levels.

"In the hope that prices will decline further, consumers are spending less and saving more than would notably be the case at this time of year.

"Furthermore, the stretching out of the defence program has brought about not only an easier supply situation for many products, but widspread belief that there is no imminent danger of a third world war and no need to resort to advance buying.

"On the other hand, as has been repeatedly pointed out by government officials, while inflationary tendencies are on the wane, the threat from this source has not disappeared.

"Payrolls continue to show significant increases when compared with corresponding months a year ago . . . It should also be noted that operating profits of Canadian corporations are appreciably higher than a year ago and that, while taxes take a much larger slice than before, an increasing proportion of these taxes now go to defence, which is non-productive so far as civilian consumption is concerned.

"With contracting and expanding forces in the economy pretty well balanced, the outlook is somewhat confused. Of course, the situation could change rapidly were some new development to occur on the international scene."

Two Killed In Crash With Police Car

CONCORD, Ont., May 19—(CP)—A former member of the R.C.M.P. and his wife were killed Sunday when their automobile collided with a Provincial Police car.

Hugh MacDonald, 56, and his wife, Ethel, 60, of Toronto, died shortly after their car flipped over and went into a ditch of No. 7 Highway near this community 10 miles north of Toronto.

Provincial Police Constable Norman Percy Ferris, 33, driver of the cruiser, suffered head and chest injuries. Constable Ferris, a native of Guelph had just received his first posting.

Two Pogo Fans Collide On Street

LONDON, Ont., May 19 (CP)—A government stenographer was walking along Richmond St., on her way to the Federal Building deeply engrossed in her Life magazine. There was a full page series of Pogo, her favorite comic character.

She walked head on into another pedestrian also deeply engrossed in reading the Free Press.

"Sorry," she said, "I was just reading Pogo."

"Pogo eh? the man replied. "I was reading him here in the paper too."

Springville News

Mr. and Mrs. Eric McLean of Mt. Pleasant attended the presentation at Springville Church when their son Ralph and his bride, formerly Dianne Cullen, were presented with a floor lamp.

Miss Hazel McIntosh, teacher-in-training at Peterborough Normal School spent this week with Miss Mae Renouf at S.S. No. 3, Smith School.

The Rev. A. E. Larke and Miss Eleanore Bowles attended the Y.P.U. Officers' Congress at Norwood on Saturday.

On Thursday evening the Cavan Y.P.U. played a game of softball against Springville Y.P.U. in Jack Preston's field near Scott's Corners. The score was 37-21 in favor of the Springville team. Howard Johnston has been appointed captain.

ANCIENT BREED

The Shetland pony of today is substantially the same type as it was in the days of the Roman ocucpation of Britain.

ALLEGED SLAYER—Archie Seneca, 33-year-old Indian father of six children, shown handcuffed to Provincial Constable Will Laughy, is charged with the murder May 11 of Mrs. Lydia Riley, 64. The bodies of Mrs. Riley and a young Indian couple, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Henry, were found in a gully north of the Muncey Indian reserve near London, Ont. All had been killed by bullets from a .22 rifle.

Peterborough's supply of milk is beginning to overflow its trade outlets.

ART EXHIBIT

An exhibit of art by students of P.C.V.S. will go on display tonight in the main hall and auditorium of the Public Library.

PUT OUT GRASSFIRES

Firemen used two handpumps to put out a fire that broke out in a field southeast of the Western Clock Co. plant Sunday noon. There was no material damage.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Wilbur B. Patterson, 304 Caddy St., a teacher at King Edward public school, has been named as winner of a $50 scholarship in Spanish at Queen's University.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION.

Harry G. Silver, past president of the Peterborough B'nai B'rith Lodge, was elected to be the official delegate at the annual convention of District No. 1 at Kiamesha Lake in Upper New York State, May 25 to 28.

BEAUTY OF MAY

The lady's slipper of the orchid family is coming into bloom in the moist and shady sections of woods back in Peterborough's lake country, and elsewhere the oriole is flashing his black and gold feathers amid the apple blossoms.

DAMAGE $350 IN CRASH

An estimated $350 damage resulted when two cars collided at Hunter and Mark Sts., early Sunday morning. Roy Pammett, 166 Clifton St., was travelling east on Hunter St. Ron Hickey, 210 Prince St., Oshawa was going south on Mark St., when the accident occurred.

UPSET TEA BURNS CHILD

Three-year-old Diane Halstead, 278 Rogers St., was treated for first and second degree burns at Civic Hospital Sunday evening after she upset a cup of scalding tea. Diane's mother, Mrs. William Halstead had just poured the tea when the girl upset the cup and the hot liquid spilled down her back and right side, causing the painful burns.

BUSES VISIT PORT HOPE

Three double-decker buses from London, England, will pay a visit to Port Hope sometime during the summer. Mayor W. N. Moore recently received a letter requesting permission for the buses to visit the lakeshore town. Permission was granted. The buses are making a tour of the United States and Canada.

ENLISTING PARENTS

In his organization of the Peterborough Schools safety patrol, Constable Don Mackay is speaking at meetings of several Parent-Teacher groups this week. He is at the Sacred Heart School Tuesday evening and Immaculate Conception Thursday. On Tuesday May 27 he will be at Prince of Wales School. Co-operation of parents is essential to the fullest success of this new campaign to safeguard school children at traffic crossings.

SALVAGE OPERATIONS TOOK PLACE at Pigeon Lake on Saturday when the Grumman amphibian plane that crash landed a week ago Friday evening, was brought ashore. The crash involved the owner Louis Cadesky, 50, Toronto broker, three guests and pilot Dunlop Mathias of Peterborough. A broken arm to one passenger and head injuries to others, aside from shock, were the only injuries received. The $25,000 plane will be dismantled and trucked to a repair depot. Mr. Cadesky could not say whether he would have it repaired or purchase a new craft.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

School Days

Collegiate students have moved out into Confederation park to do their studying at noon hours as the end of the year and examinations begin to loom near. At least the books give them an excuse to loll about in the sun on the grass and enjoy the fresh air and sights before moving into closed in class rooms.

5 Fires In Year Claim 4 Lives $806,000 Loss

A year ago today—on May 19, 1951—Peterborough had the second most serious fire since it was incorporated in 1850. Three regular firemen and a volunteer were killed when part of the second floor and a wall collapsed while they were fighting the Zacks' block fire on George St.

Besides the four fatalities there were 15 regular firemen and volunteers treated in hospital during the $500,000 blaze that gutted the stores of Ed Riley, Fred Pulver's Ltd., Tip Top Tailors and Agnew-Surpass.

Fund Begun

A $60,000 fire fund was set up to take care of the dependents and contributions were received from all over Ontario. The next week firemen from centres in Ontario and Quebec came to Peterborough to pay their respects to the four men who had died in the fire. A mass funeral service was held at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

The three regular firemen were George Reynolds, 66, Orville Rome, 42, and Grover Deck, 29. Early Spencley, 34-year-old Peterborough florist was the fourth casualty. He was helping with the hoseline when the roof collapsed at 10 a.m., about four and a half hours after the fire was first reported.

A crew of 200 volunteers helped city firemen search through the tons of charred debris for the bodies of the buried men. The last body was recovered in the basement of what had been the Ed Riley store at 3.15 a.m. Sunday, 17 hours after the cave-in.

$806,000

Within the year the city has had five serious fires with the toll in these five alone coming to nearly $806,000.

They are:

May 19, 1951—Four killed, 15 injured and $498,904 damage to the building and contents in the Zacks' block fire.

Dec. 17, 1951—Two upstairs residents made temporarily homeless and nine others forced to vacate nearby apartments because of a $33,000 fire at the Wiseman Fashion Shop, 432 George St.

April 3, 1952—A $158,000 fire at the rear of the Hollywood Cafe that damaged the Cafe, Buehler's grocetería, and destroyed eight apartments. Twenty occupants of the apartments were made temporarily homeless and six others were forced to vacate because of smoke.

April 28, 1952—A $72,000 fire in the cowbarn at the exhibition grounds in which more than 200 boats belonging to the Peterborough Canoe Co., 1,050 laminated wood rafters, belonging to Timber Structures of Canada Ltd., were destroyed.

May 6, 1952—A $45,000 fire that destroyed the Lawrence Salvage Co. warehouse at Erskine Ave. and McKellar St.

Within the year, two of the businesses have returned to George St. after being wiped out in the Zacks' block fire. Fred Pulver has opened his modern women's wear shop and Agnew Surpass's new store opened Saturday. Ed. Riley is having the old Fitzpatrick and Geraghty Ltd. building, south of the Dominion Bank, remodelled before moving in. Tip Top Tailors have moved to 328 Water St. and company officials said they had no immediate intention of moving back to George St.

Five Toronto People Hurt As Car Overturns On Road North Of Lindsay

Woman Held In Ross Memorial Hospital With Fractured Collarbone, Bruises Car Skids On Loose Gravel, Rolls Over

Five Toronto people were injured Sunday afternoon when their convertible car skidded in gravel and overturned on the Rockcroft Road, a mile north of Highway 36. Four of them were admitted to Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, and the fifth received outpatient treatment. Still in Lindsay hospital with a fractured left collarbone is Mrs. Bernie Milley, 28, of 38 Main St., Toronto. She is also suffering from body bruises and cuts, as well as shock.

Given Treatment

Others who received hospital treatment were Bernie Millie, 31, husband of Mrs. Millie, a cut on the head that required four stiches to close, and a back injury; Winston McCharles, 31, also of 38 Main Street, a fractured left collarbone and cuts on the right hand; his 25-year-old wife, Mrs. McCharles, an injured back and a cut on one elbow.

Kenneth Hammond, 22, of 61 Holborne Avenue, driver and owner of the car, received a cut on the left arm. He was not admitted to hospital.

All but Mrs. Millie left hospital Sunday night and returned home to Toronto.

Skidded on Gravel

The five were driving along the Rockcroft Road late Sunday afternoon, when the 1947 convertible skidded in the loose gravel. The front of the car struck an earthen bank and the car turned over on the road. All five managed to crawl out of the passenger's door and they were taken to Dr. W. D. Thomas of Bobcaygeon by passing motorists.

Dr. Thomas gave them first aid and then took them to Lindsay hospital.

The roof of the car is smashed in and the windows are broken. Damage is about $700.

O.P.P. Constables Wallace Mohns and George Louth investigated.

Car Jolts, Door Flies Open Ankle Injured

A Lakefield man nearly had his right foot torn off when he partly fell out of the car he was travelling in on the Selwyn to Lakefield road Sunday evening about 6:30.

The man, Harold Watson, 24, Lakefield, had been visiting a cottage with his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Harris of Lakefield. Mr. Harris was driving.

Still near Selwyn on their way to Lakefield, the Harris car met an oncoming car. The road is heavy with gravel and the Harris car swung out to give plenty of clearance.

The car slewed and went partly into the ditch. The right rear door where Watson was sitting jolted open and Watson's leg slipped out and hit the road.

Before the car could stop, he pulled his foot back in but his ankle had been fractured and dislocated and the flesh badly torn.

He was taken directly to St. Joseph's Hospital where Dr. Donald Whyte operated. It is believed the ankle will be saved and there will be no need to amputate it.

Lumley On Honeymoon

OWEN SOUND, May 19—(CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lumley today are on a honeymoon in northern Ontario. Lumley, a goaltender of Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, and Frances Buckley of Owen Sound were married here Saturday. They will spend the summer at a cottage at Sauble Beach, 20 miles west of here.

May 24 Fireworks Go Off Week Early

THOROLD, May 19 — (CP) — Citizens had a May 24 fireworks display one week early—but it cost Arthur McKeague about $5,000.

Mr. McKeague, owner of a book store, heard some firecrackers explode in a show case. He grabbed a handful of the exploding fireworks and threw them outside in an effort to prevent a fire.

He was too late. In a matter of seconds, the store was a large display of Roman candles, rockets and firecrackers, which spread fire to every section of the store.

The building was saved from destruction.

Magistrate Says 'Heavier Fines' In Liquor Cases

A warning that from now on, drivers convicted of driving while their ability is impaired by alcohol can expect heavier penalties than the $50 minimum in certain cases was given by Magistrate W. R. Philp today.

The Magistrate issued the warning which is in line with similar ones given by Toronto, Ottawa and Windsor Magistrates recently, when he fined an Oshawa man who pleaded guilty to the offence.

Fred B. Preston, assured the Magistrate he had never been charged on an offence of any kind before and that it would certainly not happen again.

He was arrested by O.P.P. Constable Wally Mohns on the Keene Road Saturday night and was returning from a fishing trip. The car weaved on the road Constable Mohns said and when he asked Preston to get out of the car after he had stopped it, he said Preston staggered slightly and smelled strongly of alcohol.

Crashed Plan e Raised From Bottom Of Pigeon L.

On Saturday, eight days after a Grumman amphibian plane owned by Louis Cadesky, 50, Toronto broker crash landed at dusk on Pigeon Lake, a salvage crew, directed by Orillia Air Services, raised the ship from where it was lying on it back in 30 feet of water. Windy weather last week made operations impossible until the water quieted down.

A hand operated winch raft owned by the Department of Transport (of Gannon's Narrows floating bridge) together with Mr. Cadesky's farm tractor worked the machine from shallow shore water and beached it. The port wing stabilizer float which received the crash impact was pushed through the top of the wing tip but aside from water damage further harm to the ship could not be determined at the time. It will be dismantled and trucked to a repair depot.

Hit Log

Four Toronto people and the plane pilot, Dunlop Mathias, of Peterborough, were involved in the crash a week ago Friday evening when the Cadesky plane CF-CFH hit a submerged log while coming in for a landing about half a mile southwest of the Cadesky summer home on Pigeon Lake. Carl Millard, 38, of Toronto suffered head injuries and a broken arm. Both he and Mr. Cadesky were given first aid treatment and went to Toronto that evening by car.

The twin-engine Grumman worth $25,000 had only been purchased by the owner three weeks prior to the Pigeon Lake crash. On Saturday evening Mr. Cadesky would not speculate on whether he would have the machine rebuilt or buy a new one.

London Band Arrives In Style

Salvation Army's International Staff Band of London, Eng., arrived in the city at noon today for their concert at Brock St. auditorium tonight. They were accompanied by Commissioner W. R. Dalziel, Toronto, from Hamilton where they played at the week end.

Travelling by transport bus, the band was met ten miles down the Peterborough-Port Hope Highway by Major J. D. Sharp of the Peterborough Corps, Bandmaster Gerald Routly, Mel Shadgett, Charles Eade, and Provincial Constable Scott who led the bandsmen on the rest of their journey into the city.

They were luncheon guests of Rotary Club. Joining in the welcome at the Empress Hotel were Brigadier Reg. Gage, divisional commander, Belleville, and Mrs. Gage.

The itinerary of the International Staff band takes them to Kingston Tuesday and Belleville Wednesday. They then travel by plane to Vancouver for their engagements on a trip back to the east.

Large Audience Enjoys Different Choirs

A capacity audience attended the Saturday night session of the Peterborough Music Competition Festival at Queen Mary Auditorium.

The highest mark of the evening was awarded to the Coventry Singers. This group received 170 marks (84 and 86) for their singing of "Evening," by George Dyson and a selection of their own choice.

The Glenlyon Singers of Perth, under direction of John Hooper were the other entry in the class and received 82 and 85 marks for a total of 167.

Highest marks in the piano class went to Mary Wootten and Fred Redwood for their playing of "Passacaille," by Handel in the open piano class.

Choirs and soprano, tenor and bass solo classes will be heard at tonight's session in Queen Mary auditorium.

Collegiates Compete

Kingston and Peterborough collegiates and Bowmanville High School will be competing in the class for mixed choirs under 21.

Girl Just Learning Car Runs Amuck

Giving his 18-year-old sister a driving lesson Saturday night, proved quite an experience for John Hartwick, R.R. 8 Peterborough.

At Perry St., Miss Bernadette Hartwick swung the light truck she was driving west from George St., but she lost control. It mounted the south curb of Perry St., crashed through a fence, continued through a newly planted flower bed and finally stopped when it struck a tree on the lawn of James Perms, 39 George St., north.

Considerable damage resulted to the front end of the truck. Miss Hartwick was driving on a 60-day instruction permit.

Sea Cadets Hold Annual Inspection

About 100 sea cadets will parade for their annual inspection Tuesday evening.

Lt. Commander George J. Manson, deputy director of sea cadets at Naval Headquarters, Ottawa, will carry out the inspection in the new market square at 7:45 p.m.

The cadets will put on a demconstruction of boat pulling and other cadet activities as part of the inspection.

Rambling Reporter

ANGERED BY PARKING TICKET

A Brantford man who said he was "still foaming," over a parking ticket for being nine minutes overdue on a parking meter phoned the Examiner Saturday morning and said, "You have a lovely city hall but it's a bit rough to expect out-of-town visitors to pay for it." He said it was the first time he "had been nailed in a strange town for being overdue nine minutes." After putting three copers in a meter on George St., he and his family went in to a restaurant for breakfast. They were a bit longer than they expected and when they came out, they were greeted by a parking ticket. After cruising around the block "for five time to find a parking place," only to find the old police station was no longer being use," the man was strongly critical of what he termed "the city's poor policy," when he paid the fine at the new police station.

TESTING HER SPEED—The 52,000-ton United States, America's largest ocean liner, heads out to sea off Newport News, Va., for a series of rigid tests which are expected to prove her the fastest big vessel afloat. The $70,000,000 liner, 990 feet long, will carry 2,000 passengers on her regular Atlantic express crossings. As a troop carrier, her capacity is an entire division.

Arms And Legs Made Of Glass Help Amputees

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, May 19—(AP) — New arms and legs for amputees now are being made from glass.

Glass also has given one man an artificial shoulder, to replace his own removed in an operation. Glass braces and splints are helping people use paralyzed arms and fingers to shave or feed or do other things for themselves.

The glass is Fiberglass, the cloth made entirely of glass. Layers of the cloth are treated with resins and molded to any desired shape or form. It hardens into lightweight, sturdy, non-irritating limbs or devices.

Glass arms and legs are being made by two firms, one in Atlanta, Ga., the other in Minneapolis. They can be wiped clean with a cloth, don't absorb perspiration, and can be made faster than wooden limbs. They still are being studied to learn how serviceable they are.

Glass parts for special cases are being made the the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, New York University-Bellevue Medical Centre, and at the Mellon Institute, Pittsburgh.

Rebuild Humans

Fiberglas is one of the newcomers among several kinds of metals, plastics and other materials that can be used to rebuild humans for normal or more normal activities, said Dr. Allen S. Russek, a staff doctor and assistant professor of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at New York University College of Medicine.

Glass offers special advantages sometimes, Dr. Russek said. The hardened glass-plastic can be sanded, cut, drilled, fitted with ratchets, pins and buckles to permit movement and action.

In the Institute's workshop, a glass splint was fashioned for a little girl left partially paralyzed by polio. She could close her hand but couldn't open it again.

The splint is molded to fit over her wrist. It has springs attached to rubber tips that fit over her fingers? When she wants to open her hand, the springs do the work.

Another splint is a razor holder, for a man whom polio left with no muscle power in his right hand and arm, but with some in the finger muscles. He slips the curved splint over two fingers. The lightweight razor is attached at the end of the splint, and now he shaves himself.

TANKER BURNS AFTER EXPLOSION — The tanker F. L. Hayes, carrying 700,000 gallons of high octane aviation gasoline, exploded and sank after an early morning collision with the steamship Barbara Lykes halfway through the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal near Summit Bridge, Del. Six of the tanker's crew were rescued, but four others were missing.

Coronation Souvenirs Put On Open Market

LONDON —(CP)—Relaxation of rules governing the use of Royal titles, emblems and photographs, for next year's Coronation, has been authorized by the Queen.

The order permits reproduction of the Royal Arms, Royal Ciper, The Crown, Royal Standard and approved Royal photographs, for the manufacture of permanent Coronation souvenirs. The relaxation, however, does not apply to items of a temporary nature, including articles of dress.

The Queen has also approved reproductions of Royal photographs and of the Crown, either separately or in conjunction with other emblems, while the Royal cipher may be used for decoration. This concession is granted on condition that displays are not associated in any way with the advertisement of individuals, firms or commodities. This applies particularly to display of the Royal Arms in shop-window decorations by firms that are not Royal warrant holders.

Reproduction of the Royal standard is permitted, but as the personal banner of the Queen it may not be flown by any other persons.

Russians In Exile Can't Agree On Post-Communist Setup

By DANIEL DE LUCE

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 19 —(AP)—Are you going to carve up Russia into small countries after another war? Junk an entire social system?

These questions tantalize 1,500,000 former Russian citizens who brood in foreign exile.

In their discontent and frustration, they are drawn to many centres abroad of anti-Kremlin plotting, some tiny, others numbering their membership in tens of thousands.

The majority of the revolutionary cells are located in West Germany. Others are scattered around the world, including Canada, Switzerland, England and the United States.

Their agitation is a babel of many tongues, for they are from myriad peoples ranging from the Baltic Sea and Danube Basin to the Pacific. Tempted to fight more among themselves than with the Kremlin, they disagree violently on "liberation" aims.

Would Purge Influence

Some ex-Ukrainians want to create a vast Ukrainia, free of every vestige of Great Russian influence, reaching from the Polish Plain to Vladivostok.

The Great Russians, whose kinfolk are pre-eminent in Russia, would like to have all the Soviet peoples stick together in a new and better form of federation.

Men descended from mountaineer clans in the Caucasus scheme to transform that ancient land bridge into a series of midget Albanias. Exiled Kazakhs, Kirkhis, Tadzhiks, and Uzbeks talk fiercely of splintering Soviet Asia.

Not only racial differences breed disunity. At odds in each group of common blood are Mensheviks and Trotzkyists, intellectuals and peasants, Christians, Moslems and convinced atheists, ex-imperialists and ex-Communists, socialists and capitalists and a wide variety in between.

No Clear Idea

As yet, no foreign power appears to have a clear idea of what to do with Russia if it is ever conquered or collapses internally.

The Soviet Union has approximately 200,000,000 citizens living in one-sixth of the world. About half are Russians.

In waging psychological warfare against the Kremlin, western powers come up against a dilemma. If they disaffect minorities by promising them independence, they drive the Great Russians more firmly into the Kremlin's grasp. If they play ball with the Great Russians, the minorities are liable to be fatally discouraged.

One lonely effort to unite Emigres into a solid front is being made by a private organization, the American Committee for the Liberation of the Peoples of Russia, Inc., headed by Admiral Alan Kirk, U.S. ambassador to Moscow until early this year.

Last year, the committee helped five Russian Emigre factions get together at Stuttgart and agree to form a council for the liberation of the peoples of Russia. Afterwards, the five met with six non-Russian minority groups at Wiesbaden and announced they were "united in our recognition of the unconditional right of our peoples to self-determination."

Churches Sell Roofs

KINGSTON, May 19—(CP)— A soldier was drowned Sunday while trying out an outboard motor on the St. Lawrence River four miles northeast of here. His name was withheld pending notification of next of kin. Arthur Archer of Kingston said he was riding in the boat with the soldier when the boat tipped over about 100 feet from shore. Archer threw him a life preserver, the soldier laughed, then disappeared.

Makes Big Offer

DOVER, England — (CP) — A local newspaper contained an advertisement from a Canadian seeking to buy a special copy of "The Compleat Gard'ner" an edition written by the chief gardener for the Kings of France and published in 1693. The Canadian, whose name was not disclosed, offered £7,000 for the volume.

Accidentally Shot

NAPANEE, May 19 (CP)—Ronald Storms, 15-year-old Children's Aid Society ward, was shot in the stomach accidentally Sunday on the farm of Roy Wagar of Sillsville, 10 miles south of here. The boy was taken to hospital in Kingston where an emergency operation was to be performed.

House Painting Record

EOMONTON, May 19—(CP)— A Canadian house-painting record was set Saturday. Fifty Edmonton painters covered 1,200 square feet on a duplex bungalow in eight minutes and 18 seconds.

Germans Seek New Homes In Canada, Commonwealth

By JACK HENRY

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 19 —(Reuters)—Hundreds of thousands of Germans who once wanted to emigrate to the United States now are looking to Australia, Canada, South Africa and Argentina instead.

But with improved economic conditions in West Germany the desire to emigrate also has decreased.

A U.S. emigration official says that about 80 per cent of the more than 200,000 Germans who have registered for emigration to the United States have not applied for their visas.

During the great "emigration rush" of 1948, many Germans regarded the U.S. as the most desirable haven to which to escape from poverty-stricken post-war Germany. Since then, they say, much of the "glamor" of the United States has worn thin.

Altogether 32,000 Germans emigrated to Canada in 1951 and German interest in finding new homes in the Commonwealth countries is increasing because of assisted emigration plans and belief that these territories still offer great opportunities for economic development.

Check Conditions

A West German delegation is due to arrive in Australia soon to investigate on-the-spot living conditions of German emigrants. On its report will depend whether the West German government accepts an Australian offer to allow about 12,000 German immigrants into the country in the next 12 months.

About 8,000 Germans have emigrated to Australia since 1945. All either financed themselves or were financed by their future employers.

Last year the Australian government recruited about 1,000 Germans to work on the railways. They received six months' free training before starting work. The only stipulation was that they had to be bachelors between the ages of 18 and 45.

Emigrants to South Africa are at present leaving at the rate of between 1,000 and 2,000 a year. German interest in Africa is high because of past associations with pre-First World War German colonies there and the large German community in South-West Africa.

The Germans have been told that South Africa needs 10,000 skilled workers from western Europe, including Germany, immediately and possibly another 12,000 to 15,000 in the next three years.

Several hundred Germans have also emigrated to New Zealand and India since the war.

New Secretary Addresses Cancer Society

Maurice J. Grimes, newly appointed executive secretary of the provincial branch of the Canadian Cancer Society, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Peterborough unit of the society held Thursday night.

Mr. Grimes expressed the wish that he wanted to be of service to the local unit. He complimented the work that was being done.

Mrs. Bradshaw, chairman of the service committee reported that 1,018 dressings had been made by groups in the city and district. These groups include St. John's Ambulance group, Stewart Hall Baby Band, Stewart Hall Red Cross, Mrs. James Tinney's group of the 57th Chapter of I.O.D.E., Gleaners of Park St. Baptist Church and the Mr. and Mrs. Club of Murray St. Baptist Church.

Industries Help

William Ovens, chairman of the Lay Education Committee reported that he had been receiving excellent co-operation from industries in the city in distributing literature and information about cancer.

Dr. Louis Zacks, Dr. D. W. Clark and Dr. W. J. Warren, all members of the unit executive, reported that they were receiving new patients who were becoming familiar with cancer symptoms through the mediums of literature, press, radio and films.

It was reported that $4,536 had been received in the recent campaign. The objective is $8,815 and donations are still being collected at the Bank of Nova Scotia.

The next meeting of the executive will be held on June 25 at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Holt, Fife's Bay, Lake Chemong.

Havelock Private Arrives In Korea

HAVELOCK, May 19 (ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Post have received word from their son Private Warren Post that he has arrived safely in Korea. He stated that they had a good voyage, and before proceeding to Korea had spent five days in Japan. His unit, the R.C.O.C., sailed from Seattle, Wash.

Pte. Post, a veteran of the Second World War, re-enlisted in February, 1947, for service in Korea, training in London, Petawawa, Kingston, Edmonton, Churchill (three years) returning to Kingston from where he entrained for Seattle as a paratrooper for service overseas.

Private Post trained as a paratrooper for service in World War II but after he went overseas he was promoted to drill sergeant and saw service in France, Belgium and Holland. Before the end of the war he gave up his sergeant's stripes to enter active service as a private.

Private Post comes from a family with a fine army record. His three brothers served in the Second World War. He and his brother, William, who was a corporal in the tank corps of the Royal Canadian Regiment were granted compassionate leave in the fall of 1945 on account of the death of their brother Pte. Edward Post. Another brother, Carman, with the Essex Scottish Regiment was killed at Dieppe.

Pae. Post's father was a member of the 93rd Peterborough Battalion and saw active service from 1916 to 1919. Two uncles, Rhynard Post of Peterborough served with Canadian Mounted Rifles and Carman Kelly of Havelock who enlisted with the 93rd Battalion but was too young to go overseas with them, later transfered to the Medical Corps and was killed while serving aboard the Llandovery Castle sister ship, 20 miles off the Irish coast in June 1917.

On Flying Mission

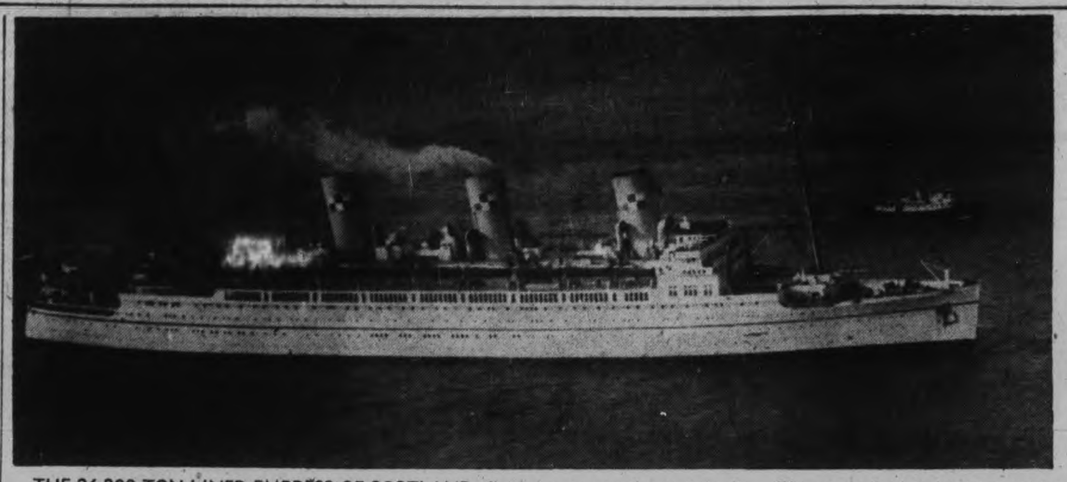
ST. THOMAS, May 19 (CP) — The Rev. G. D. Francis of Aylmer left Sunday on the first lap of a Flying Mission. He took off in his plane, a Stinson Voyager, purchased for him by his congregation at the People's Full Gospel Tabernacle for missionary work in Western Canada and Alaska.

4 Killed In Explosion

KILMARNOCK, Scotland, May 19 (Reuters)—Four men were killed and four injured in an explosion in the switch house of a power station Sunday. Electric current was cut off over a wide area of South West Scotland.

Ask Disaster Area

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP)— — The Great Lakes Harbors Association has asked Congress to recognize the entire Great Lakes shoreline as a disaster area. The Harbors Association said the entire shoreline of the lakes is threatened by disaster from near-record lake levels.



THE 26,300-TON LINER EMPRESS OF SCOTLAND, flagship of Canadian Pacific's North Atlantic fleet and the largest ship ever scheduled to dock in Montreal, is expected to tie-up in the harbor this week. The vessel has undergone a few changes to enable her to sail up the St. Lawrence to the metropolis. The masts had to be trimmed by 45 feet so she could clear the Quebec bridge, but with the water at its high spring levels there will be only a foot clearance between the mast and the highest span on the bridge.

Radar, Telephone Help But Men Run Air Defence

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK, May 19—(AP)—The air defence of the United States is composed of planes and plans, of radar antennas and anti-aircraft guns, of hot telephone lines and secret control centres, but mostly the air defence of the United States is composed of men.

Ordinary non-electronic men with non-electronic nerves.

For them the possibility of an enemy attack in this seventh year of the atomic age has never become academic. They live with it every day.

Mostly, they watch and wait, at a variety of places many miles apart but each dependent on the other.

They watch and wait in remote radar rooms; in the thick boredom of pilot ready rooms.

It's not all waiting. Several times a day, a little pin head of light pops up on a radar screen that can't immediately be identified.

Radar controllers jump for scrambler phones, pilots break out of ready rooms, jet fighters race for the Canadian border, or the Pacific or Atlantic Ocean, or inland points.

For every one of the 10 minutes or 20 minutes it takes from scramble to identify the unknown planes—the men involved have no way of being certain that this is not just another practise alert or a commercial plane off course or an enemy bomber.

Added to the strain of waiting is the tantalizing fact that complete and perfect air defence is an economic impossibility.

Better Protected

In the e nt of an all-out enemy attack, some bombers would get through. How many?

In early 1951 Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force Chief of Staff, estimated that the U.S. defences could not prevent more than 30 per cent of enemy planes attacking in force from reaching their objectives. Has the country improved in the year since?

"We have gained primarily in quality," said Brig.-Gen. George F. Smith, vice-commander of the Eastern Air Defence Force.

"Korea has drained off many of the planes and trained people we might have based at home but we have in turn converted many of our less suitable airplanes to modern aircraft more suitable for air defence.

"Depending on weather conditions, the number of attacking planes, and other factors, I would say we are able today to do a somewhat better job than a year ago when Gen. Vandenberg made his statement."

Until 1949, air defence was relatively non-existent. Then, President Truman announced Russia had exploded an atom bomb. Suddenly everyone was interested in air defence. It has been growing rapidly since. Today it is a network of radar, ground observer corps posts and intercept planes, bound by a well-organized military and commercial communications system.

The country is divided into three air defence forces: Eastern, with headquarters at Stewart Air Force base, Newburgh, N.Y.; Central, at Kansas City, Mo., and Western, at Hamilton Air Force base, San Rafael, Calif.

Traffic Deaths Drop

TORONTO, May 19 (CP) — Ontario traffic fatalities in April dropped nine from the corresponding month last year. The 57 traffic deaths during the month brought to 321 the number of persons killed in accidents throughout the province in the first four months of this year. In the first four months of 1951, 235 persons were killed.

Security Sends Psychologists To Montreal

WASHINGTON, May 19—(AP)—The American Psychological Association said Sunday that because of the U.S. Internal Security Act it has abandoned plans to invite the 1954 International Congress of Psychology to meet in New York.

Instead, the association said, the international gathering will be held at Montreal. The American association will hold its own 1954 convention in New York and originally had planned to invite some 600 foreign psychologists to attend.

Fillmore H. Sanford, executive secretary, said the association recognizes the need for security safeguards, but that the act "uses an axe in dealing with a problem that needs a razor-sharp approach." He added:

"The law causes trouble to all foreign scientists who are invited to this country. In effect it prevents a visit from an scientist—however brilliant his ideas—who has ever had any connection for any reason with any group that now is suspicious."

The International Congress of Psychology meets every three years. The last session, in Stockholm last July, attracted some 700 persons from 31 countries.

Bedtime Snack solves laxative problem

"Constipation made me sullen all day. What a change since I started to use ALL-BRAN regularly! Even my wife notices it!" writes man from Ville Montmorency, Que. If you suffer from irregularity due to lack of bulk, try a bowlful of this toast cereal every night before bed. It may bring back the youthful regularity you thought long lost. ALL-BRAN is the only type ready-to-eat cereal that supplies all the bulk you may need. It's high in protein and iron. Not habit-forming. Kellogg's is so sure you'll like ALL-BRAN that if you're not completely satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg's, London, Ont., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

LANDMARK BURNS — The 100-year-old Toronto Wholesale Fruit Market was destroyed Saturday in a fire causing damage estimated between $500,000 and $1,000,000. At downtown intersection of Yonge and Front Streets, the two-storey wooden structure once was Toronto's railway station. It had been used by wholesalers to market fruit and vegetables from a wide area of Ontario. The building was levelled in a half hour but 300 workers and customers escaped without mishap.

6 Textile Locals Vote To Quit C.I.O. For A.F.L.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19 (AP)—Six Philadelphia locals of the Textile Workers' Union of America (C.I.O.), representing 8,000 members, voted Saturday to quit the C.I.O. and join the rival United Textile Workers (A.F.L.).

They comprise all but two of the locals in the Philadelphia joint board of the C.I.O. union. One local, with 600 members, voted to stay in C.I.O. while the other, representing 2,500, will vote next week whether to follow the lead of its officers and remain in C.I.O.

George M. Powell, business agent of Local 206, announced the action. The directors of the board, Joseph Heater, who is on the national C.I.O. Textile Workers' payroll, was not available for comment.

Powell said, however, that "Heater is going along with the move to disaffiliate." He added that arrangements already have been made to join the A.F.L. but refused to elaborate.

The name of the person who made the so-called arrangements also was kept secret.

The action here was part of a mushrooming disaffiliation that erupted after an unsuccessful effort at the C.I.O. Textile Workers' national convention to defeat Emil Rieve as president.

George Baldanzi, former executive vice-president of the C.I.O. union, was beaten by a two-to-one vote by Rieve.

(Representatives of some 5,000 union textile workers at Hamilton voted to secede from the C.I.O. body. Hamilton locals constitute District 26 of the Textile Workers' Union of America and are affiliated with the Canadian Confederation of Labor. Jack Robinson, Hamilton T.W.U.A. director, is a supporter of Baldanzi.)

Rieve said he would fight even in the courts, any attempt to take away part of his 400,000-member union. The A.F.L. group claims 90,000 members.

Rieve had admitted that several locals in North Carolina and Connecticut had voted to leave the C.I.O. group, but he said the rebels "total no more than 25,000, if that many."

Rieve said the union constitution provides that the national officers can take over the assets of any local that decides to leave the C.I.O.—"and we will do just that."

Springville Mothers Mission Band Guests

SPRINGVILLE, May 19 (ENS)—Members of the Mission Band entertained their mothers at the May meeting of this group of boys and girls held at the home of Rocli Falokstra.

Freddie Falokstra read the scriptures, and Joy Seymour led in prayer. Mrs. Manson Cathcart, assistant leader, was in charge of the meditation period. Neal Cathcart took the offering. The temperance report was given by Lynda Northey and the peace report by Nancy Johnston.

A special feature of the meeting was the showing of three film strips on Canadian Indians and Eskimos with Mrs. Clifford Johnston in charge.

Recitations were given by Nancy Johnston, Joy Seymour, Rocli Falokstra, Donna and Nelson Northey. Lynda Northey sang a solo and Donna Northey gave a musical selection on the harp.

Churchill President Of Managing Editors

WINNIPEG, May 19—(CP)—R. J. Churchill of The London Free Press Saturday was re-elected president of the Canadian Managing Editors Conference at annual business sessions here.

Other officers are: D. B. Rogers, Regina Leader-Post, past president; Irene Masson, Le Soleil, Quebec City, first vice-president; T. N. Morrison, Welland-Port Colborne Tribune, second vice-president; MacIntyre Hood, Oshawa Times-Gazette, secretary.

Directors are: J. M. Murphy, Truro News; Robert Southam, Ottawa Citizen; J. M. Gordon, Winnipeg Tribune; Eric Knowles, Saskatoon Star-Phoenix; L. N. Smith, St. Catharines Standard, and Robert Hanson, Montreal Herald.

The conference recommended that future meetings be held in January or February. Site of the next meeting was left to the executive with the recommendation that it be either in London or Toronto.

CIRENCESTER, England—(CP) Because a train was too long for the railway station here, the guard signalled the engineer to move it up a little. The signal was mistaken and the guard, three passengers and mail had to be driven five miles by taxicab to the next station, where the train waited for them.

Sightseers Strip Parts Off Plane

GALT, May 19 — (CP) —Two Stratford men escaped injury when an old Tiger Moth plane was wrecked in a landing near here Saturday night.

Harold Stone, 27, was pilot with Arthur Holden, 32 as passenger.

The plane was smashed when it ran into an embankment at the end of a field after a good landing.

On Sunday sightseers stripped the plane of instruments, cut slices from the wing fabric and cut away the registration lettering on the fuselage fabric. Even the salvage value is gone now, said Robert Hastings of Stratford, the owner.

Increased Thought Said Given To Christian Science Teachings

A lecture sponsored by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Peterborough, was given in the Trinity United Church on Sunday. The lecturer was Oscar Graham Peeke, C.S.B., member of the board of lectureship of The Mother Church in Boston, and his subject was "Christian Science: The Divine Law of Healing." He was introduced by Mrs. Mary Moffatt, Peterborough.

Nothing concerning the man of God's creating can be deduced from material premises; his being is wholly spiritual, the speaker said in part. The carnal or mortal mind — a supposititious mind opposed to God, and typified by a talking serpent in the allegory contained in the third chapter of Genesis—falsely avers that man is composed of mortal and material elements. It also claims that he shall be held earth-bound and that eventually, through the process of disintegration, he must mingle with earth's elements. Another belief of this so-called mind is that every mortal has within him an immortal soul which is set free from its material habitation on the death of the mortal. The logic of the theory of an immortal soul within a mortal body has long been questioned by thinking people. But not until the discovery of Christian Science was the impossibility of immortality commingling with mortality made plain.

The Truth About Soul

Inspired interpretation of the scriptures shows that soul must be rightly understood in order to understand man's true being. In a few passages in the Bible the term "soul" is used to designate material sense; but a careful study of science and health shows that, in its higher and proper signification, soul is synonymous with spirit, or God. It is axiomatic that the real man, created in God's likeness, must necessarily be Godlike. He could neither be governed by material sense nor have within him a soul which is capable of sinning. As God's likeness he always reflects the harmony of soul or God. Consider this statement, given on page 311, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "So long as we believe that soul can sin or that immortal Soul is in mortal body, we can never understand the Science of being. When humanity does understand this science, it will become the law of life to man—even the higher law of soul, which prevails over material sense through harmony and immortality."

The wisdom of seeking this understanding should be apparent, for through it one discerns more and more clearly the allness of God and the unreality of matter and evil.

State of Spiritual Harmony

To attribute reality and power to matter is to become subservient to material conditions and thereby lose the true import of Jesus' teachings. It is unfortunate that most individuals have only a nebulous concept of the spiritual realm on which Jesus centred his teachings. He referred to it as the kingdom of heaven. He indicated the beauty and grandeur of this heavenly kingdom. He pointed out that it is not a locality but a condition of thought—a state of spiritual harmony. He said it is "within you"; but most people are not aware of that truth, because the true understanding of God and of man's relation to Him is, as yet, not generally sought. However, there is clear indication that most of the Protestant religions are giving increasing thought to the teachings of Christian Science and are becoming more in agreement with it concerning the kingdom of heaven, that it is a state of spiritual harmony, and that it is "at hand" — attainable here and now.

Bancroft Lions Stage Three-Act Comedy

BANCROFT, May 19 (ENS) — A three-act comedy "Widows Learn Fast" was presented by Bancroft Lions Club and Lionettes to large audiences in the community hall on Friday and Saturday nights. The production, directed by Ernie Thomas, rolled along smoothly, with accurate timing and well-directed punch lines. Action was fast and smooth and with a few minor exceptions voices carried well to the corners of the hall. It was well received by all.

Using Bancroft as a setting this Canadian play by E. Douglas Cooper had the story started and finished in a single day. From the time that the neighborbood girls met for their morning cup of coffee and daily back-slashing till the vivacious divorcee receives an unusual cure for dislocated sacroiliac events in the suburban house revolved around the doings of five women and two men, one the object of an intricate feminine plot.

The cast was—Peggy Martin (Irene Wrights); Peggy Maxwell (Madeline Hewithh); Kathy (Kay Lloyd); Dillis (Betty Thomas); Mrs. Jane Mack, (Mary Tompsett); Roy Mack (Art Tompsett); George Wilson, (Michael McAlpine Jr.); director, Ernie Thomas and promptor, Jack Hattin.

Between acts, Reg Wallis, entertained the gathering with a series of droll English monologues and recitations that included "Albert And The Lion" and "The Morning After The Night Before".

British Sailor Visits Relative In Marmora

MARMORA, May 19 (ENS) — Chief Petty Officer Norman Selley, who left Deloro at the age of three months, returned to this village over the weekend to visit his aunt, Mrs. R. Hammond.

C.P.O. Selley, a member of the crew of H.M.S. Sheffield, a British cruiser docked at Montreal, is a son of Mrs. Fred Selley and the late Mr. Selley. His mother is living at Southsea, Portsmouth, England. His father formerly worked at the Deloro Smelting and Refining Co.

The Sheffield was one of the ships in the Second World War action which ended with the sinking of the German battleship Bismarck.

Mrs. M. E. Neill

Pallbearers at the funeral of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Neill, a lifelong resident of Peterborough and district, were Robert McLean, Thomas McFarland, Lionel Prouty and E. C. Pringle.

Mrs. Neill, the former Mary McLean, was born in Lakefield but lived most of her life in Peterborough. She had been ill for a number of years, and she died in her 82nd year.

Left are a daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Griffin of Peterborough, a brother Robert McLean of Toronto and one grandchild. Her husband, the late Willam Neill, died some years ago.

The funeral was at the Bellegham funeral home with Major Douglas Sharp of the Salvation Army officiating. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

FIRE IN MOVIELAND—Firemen battle raging fire which broke out in one of the old sound stages on the back lot of the Warner Brothers studio in Hollywood, Calif. Equipment and property valued at more than a million dollars were destroyed. All of Burbank's firemen were called to help studio firemen fight the blaze as it ripped through "tinder dry" sound stages.

Play Takes Theme From Missions Book

HAVELOCK, May 19 (ENS)— The study, at the meeting of the W.M.S. of Havelock United Church at the home of Mrs. F. Rogers on Thursday, was in charge of Mrs. F. Chase and took the form of a play with Mesdames R. G. Newman, H. Watson, N. Blakely and H. Agnew assisting. Object of the play was to acquaint members of the W.M.S. with the book, "Through Missionary Windows," which contains a personal report of all the missionaries conected with the church and is also a statistical report of all the missionary organizations from the Dominion Board down to the individual societies.

The president, Mrs. R. G. Newman, presided. Mrs. H. R. Haacke led the worship period. The treasurer, Mrs. C. Spencer, reported that the receipts for this year amounted to $98. The temperance secretary, Miss M. Seeney, read several newspaper clippings in connection with that subject. The supply secretary, Mrs. A. Anderson, reported that the bale for home mission work containing one layette and a number of mitts and socks, was ready for shipment.

Mess of Pickerel

MARMORA, May 19 (ENS). — Roy Moss landed a fine pickerel at the dam on Thursday evening weighing 8 pounds 9 ounces. Thomas Paranuik, his neighbor, attempted to do better on Saturday morning. By 7:30 a.m. he was able to display four pickerel. The largest weighed 8 pounds 2 ounces two others around 5 pounds, and the fourth 4 pounds.

Helen Francis Becomes Bride Of Robert Hopkins

In a double ring wedding ceremony at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon, Helen Isobel, daughter af Mr. and Mrs. Roy Francis, became the bride of Mr. Robert Arthur Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hopkins of Peterborough.

Their vows and rings were exchanged before the Rev. Charles G. Bond. Organist Mr. Christopher Gledhill played the wedding march and organ music while they signed the register. Pink snapdragons and white carnations decorated the altar and the guests' seats.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a light blue gabardine suit with which she wore pink accessories, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas. Her bridesmaid was Miss Jean Finlay who wore a light grey gabardine suit with yellow and mauve accessories and her bouquet was of yellow roses and sweet peas.

The groom was attended by his brother Edward Hopkins. Ushers were Peter Johnson and Ray Lobb.

The reception was held at the groom's home, 520 Chamberlain St. Mrs. Hopkins wore for the occasion a beige silk dress with black and pink accessories and corsage of red roses. The bride's mother was wearing navy crepe and a navy straw hat, and had red roses pinned at the shoulder.

When leaving later on their wedding trip to Worcester, Massachusetts, the bride had exchanged her bouquet for a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and sweet peas on her wedding suit.

They will make their home in Peterborough on return.

Frances May-Garth Clark

The marriage took place in St. George's Anglican Church on Saturday of Frances Adeline May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric May, to Frederick Garth Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Clark, all of Peterborough. The Rev. H. J. Skuce officiated.

The church was decorated with ferns and spring flowers and the music played by Mrs. A. W. Watkins.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and she wore a gown of white chantilly lace and very full bouffant skirt of net that extended into a short train. Its nylon yoke was appliqued with net flowers and the long sleeves came to points at the wrist Little buttons fastened from neck to waist at the back. Her veil was chapel length of silk illusion embroidered at the edges and fastened to a little bonnet shape of chantilly lace edged at front with tiny orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of red roses and white carnations.

The bridesmaid was Miss Marilyn Wigg, who was frocked in orchid nylon made with a brocaded nylon bodice appliqued to a nylon net skirt with matching brocaded nylon cape with small pointed collar and with matching headpiece and mitts. She carried a cascade of sweet peas.

Groomsman was Ted Dawson and the ushers were Douglas May and Max Clark.

A reception was held in the Sunday school hall of the church where the bride's mother received wearing a gown of light blue with pink accessories and a corsage of pink rapture roses. The groom's mother, who also received, wore a gown of pale pink with black accessories and a corsage of pink delight roses.

Later the bride and groom left on a trip to Detroit. For travelling the bride wore a grey suit with red and black accessories. They will live at 217 Mark Street.

Dutch Couple Wed With Sermon Of Own Choosing

A wedding of interest was solemnized on Sunday afternoon following the sermon at the regular service of the Dutch congregation held in the Sunday school auditorium of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at Campbellford when Ytje Hoekstra of Havelock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hoekstra of Katlyk, Holland, became the bride of John DeJong, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. DeJong of Roseneath. The Rev. H. Moes of Bowmanville performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of floral nylon with white accessories. She carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations and fern.

Following a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will live on the groom's farm near Grafton.

It is customary in the Dutch church for the bride and groom to choose the text for their marriage service, and one taken from Joshua's renewal of the covenant between the Israelites and God—"As for me and my house we will serve the Lord" was the one chosen by them.

Mr. Moes said that Joshua was speaking to immigrants also but there was a great difference between the coming of the Dutch people to Canada and the Isrealites to Canaan although there was a similarity in the names of the countries. The Israelites had subdued Canaan because the Lord had ordered them to do so while the Dutch people had come here not as strangers and sojourners but to be greeted with the expression "New Canadians" which meant "come in and be one with us" and which they considered a great welcome.

Mr. Moes divided his message into three parts: 1. The possibility of serving God; 2. The propriety of serving God; 3. The sweet fellowship in the service of God.

In closing Mr. Moes said to the bridal couple, "If you direct your wedded life according to God's ordinances, you will say as you journey through life that it was the best earthly gift He ever gave you, when you gave yourselves to each other through His guidance."

Braund-Bedford Nuptials

In George St. United Church Saturday afternoon the Rev. Arnold A. Mathews performed the marriage of Angeline Adele Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bedford, Toronto, to Dr. J. S. Braund, son of Mrs. Stanley Braund and the late Dr. Braund.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. W. J. McBride. She wore a suit of mauve gabardine piped with purple and her hat was a bandeau of violas and her shoes and handbag were purple. Her corsage was of Talisman roses. Matron of honor Mrs. Harold Simmons wore a suit of pink silk bengaline and a matching flowered hat and her corsage was pale pink carnations.

Groomsman was Dr. R. Booker and the ushers were Richard Braund and Harold Simmons.

Spring flowers decorated the altar for the ceremony and Mr. Charles Allen played traditional wedding music on the organ.

The reception took place at Club Aragon with the bride's mother receiving, dressed in navy crepe and a navy hat trimmed with flowers and corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother who was wearing steel grey taffeta with a white straw hat trimmed with black velvet and a gardenia at her shoulder.

Following a honeymoon in the United States, Dr. and Mrs. Braund will live at 657 Bethune St.

4,000 Girl Guides To Parade Before Founder

TORONTO, May 19 — (CP).— Four thousand Toronto and district Girl Guides will march in a giant church parade here May 25. Lady Baden-Powell, widow of the founder of Scouting and Guiding and World Guide Chief, will take the salute.

She is scheduled to arrive here Sunday to take part in a fiveday conference of the Canadian Council of the Girl Guide Association.

The Gold Cord, highest honor in guiding, will be presented May 28 to 15 or 20 top-notch Toronto and district Guides, by Lady Baden-Powell.

Plans for the National Guide Camp to be held at Connaught Ranges near Ottawa July 14 to July 25 now are almost complete. Twelve hundred children from many parts of Canada will attend along with 28 Guides and Girl Scouts from Brazil, Curacao, Haiti, Barbados, Jamaica, and martinique.

Chief Commissioner Mrs. D. E. S. Wishart said the object of the camp is to impress upon the youngsters the privilege and responsibility of citizenship.

Church Honors Rural Members

Open House for members of the George St. Church who live outside the cit limits was held Sunday evening at the parsonage following the evening service which was dedicated to rural members.

About 100 enjoyed the social hour as guests of Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Mathews with elders and their wives. Mr. Mathews and Mr. P. M. McCarrell, clerk of the session, extended welcome and Mr. Charles Elliott spoke briefly on behalf of the session in appreciation of the contribution of rural members to the church.

Guest speaker for the church service was the Rev. A. E. Larke of Springville who gave an autobiography of his years of service in rural charges, particularly in the west. He and Mrs. Larke entertained at the reception with a vocal duet and Mr. Walter Dawson sang two soles.

Mrs. W. H. Frise and wives of session members served tea and refreshments.

The thanks of the guests was expressed by Mr. Melville Johnston of North Monaghan.

Directly following the church service a film "The Son", dealing with the drift of the rural people to the cities, was shown.

Bev. Goodman Chosen May Queen

Miss Beverley Goodman was chosen the May Queen of P.C.V.S. and crowned with a jewelled tiara at the May Ball in the school gymnasium Fridap evening.

The honor went to Miss Goodman unanimously after she had been selected from the floor by couples attending the dance, and given a three out of four decision by judges. Their opinion was based on personality, appearance and popularity.

Don Ash, head boy of the school, placed the crown on her head and Mr. C. S. Browne, principal, presented a bouquet of red roses with his congratulations.

Miss Goodman has been a cheer leader for the school and was a member of the Students' Council.

Chosen as ladies-in-waiting were Misses Aileen Todd and Barbara Walker who each received a bouquet of flowers presented by Mr. Browne.

This is the first occasion on which a May Queen has been chosen at the Collegiate. The Ball, which was semi-formal in character, was arranged by the Social Funetions committee with Miss Betty Jones as chairman.

Business Women Attend Service

To mark the first celebration of Business Women's Week in Ontario, beginning today, May 19th, the Peterborough Business and Professional Women's Club members attended the evening service at Murray St. Baptist Church on Sunday. The Rev. Ivan C. Morgan preached on the topic "Business of being a Christian."

Thirty-five members of the club had gathered previously at the home of past president Mrs. Lyda Telford, 658 Armour Rd., for a buffet supper.

Business Women's Week has been celebrated in the United States since 1928. Decision to adopt the practice in Ontario was reached at the conference of the B. & P. W. Clubs in Toronto last November. The slogan they chose is "Keeping pace with Canada."

Musical Horse Given Party

HALIFAX (CP)—The children tossed a birthday party in the barn the other day, and the star of it all was the horse "Melody Queen."

Melody, now 21 years old, is no ordinary horse. She has been the lead horse in the colorful Junior Bengal Lancers' musical ride for years, and almost 1,000 beginners have learned to ride on the patient steed.

For the party, Melody had a healthy-sized cake, complete with junior lancers riding around the frosted top, and presents included a handsome new bridle and bit.

She probably liked the lunch best. She was given carrots and apples with a bit of cake frosting.

Canadian Children Smarter Educational Director Says

MONTREAL—(CP)—Are Canadian children smarter today than children were 50 years ago?

Dr. W. P. Percival, director of protestant education for the province of Quebec, thinks the chances are that today's children are better in every respect.

He said in a speech during a recent visit to Macdonald College school for teachers that children today are healthier, taller, and better proportioned than they were 50 years ago.

"The boys of today are an inch and a half taller, and several pounds heavier than their fathers were at their ages. Girls are about an inch taller and five pounds lighter at their ages.

"Though one cannot prove the psychological and educational advances as conclusively as the physical, they are still demonstrable in some measure," he said.

"Fifty years ago the intelligence quotient was unknown. The causes of school failure had not been looked into scientifically."

If a child would not learn readily in the old days, Dr. Percival said, he was just written off as dumb, and teachers found a ready means to get these children out of their classes.

Memory Big Asset

"Discipline was administered with a strap, the emphasis in school was on memorization — Town's speller and definer contained such words as ensiform, concatenate, decrepitate, graminivorous, and herpetology. Many of these words were boyond the power of pronounciation and understanding of many a teacher and so it was not uncommon for such words to be skipped—without much genuine loss to anyone."

Dr. Percival said he does "not uphold all the foibles and trivialities of many of the present day so-called "progressive educationists".

"But I affirm that as education becomes increasingly based on the findings of science, as the knowledge of the psychologist grows more precise, as more strenuous efforts are made to find the most effective methods of teaching and learning, we shall find more and more of the useful to teach, and also how best to teach it, whether it be reading, arithmetic or history, discipline, morality, or the plain knowledge of how to get along better with one another."

Washable Hair On Dolls Delights Girls

LONDON—(CP)—A doll is giving young British girls lessons in hairdressing.

Costing just under £3, the blonder, blue-eyed doll has nylon hair that can be washed, set and permanently curled. Tools for the purpose are supplied, along with a booklet on styles. Little girls can experiment to their heart's delight — possibly mastering their own hair style that much sooner.

Other new designs in toys that catch the eyes of toddlers are gaily-tinted rubber models of Noddy the Dwarf and Mr. Big Ears—characters from books by Enid Blyton, possibly Britain's best-known writer of children's books.

A string of pink and blue birds perched on an elastic band that stretches across the hood of a baby carriage keep young children happy while mother gets the groceries.

All Children Equally Bound To Support Ailing Parents

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married for 22 years, and have four children, all boys in their teens. Four years ago I took my husband's parents to live with us; his mother is now 62 and his father 63. No one else wanted them, though, there are two other boys and two girls in the family. In order to support them I went to work, leaving my mother-in-law in charge of the house and children. The house never gets cleaned, or my clothes washed until Saturday when I am off. The grandparents boss the children, who can't even have company without them in the room. Between the children complaining and all the extra work, I am completely discouraged. On top of everything else, my husband has been going out with my sister.

Should I take the children and leave, letting someone else take care of my in-laws? I have given the children up as far as raising them goes, and I have given up my house due to his parents bossing everything in it. I feel that I have nothing.

MRS. B. H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You have been a docile doormat long enough, and no one could possibly blame you for revolting. Walking out of the house with the children may be a drastic step, but it's probably the only way to show your ungrateful family how much you have been doing for them.

Should Have Own Home

The most sensible solution to the problem, in the beginning, would have been to keep the in-laws in their own home, with every one of their children contributing something towards its upkeep.

All children, whether boys or girls, are morally bound to care for their parents; your sisters-in-law are casting off their responsibilities very easily when they tell you the daughters of a family have no such obligation. At the ages of 62 and 63, mom and pop are quite capable (unless they are ill) of caring for a small home of their own. Your place is at home with your own family, caring for them during the day—not working outside the home to ease the burden of your brothers and sisters-in-law. You've been entirely too good to the whole family, and a good jolt will do them no harm.

If the family can't agree to setting the old folks up on their own, the least they can do is take turns caring for them. Two and a half months out of each year wouldn't be too much of a drain on anyone's resources, and is certainly a much more equitable arrangement than having the entire burden on your shoulders. Should both these possibilities fail, take the children and let the family see how well they can manage without you. It won't be long, you may be sure.

A very interesting and informative book called "You and Your Aging Parents," by Edith Stern and Dr. Mabel Ross, has recently been published on this subject. Read it for further light on your own problem.

DEAR MISS DIX: For the past year and a half I've been going with a boy and we are really in love. Lately, however, he has begun to drink. I'm sure he'll stop when we're married. He's 20 and I'm 17. Do you think I should marry him now, or wait?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I cannot urge you too strongly to put all thoughts of marriage out of your head for a while. At your age, to acquire a husband who drinks would be utter tragedy. Women much older than you are unable to cope with such a situation, and for a youngster it would be impossible. If the boy loves you, he'll give up drinking of his own accord. Wait until you're sure he's stopped the habit before thinking of wedding bells.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two young girls who have been going steady with very nice boys for quite a few months. However, they never mention marriage, though they assure us they are in love. Do you think they will ever propose?

B. and N.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Let the poor boys take their time. You girls are altogether too matrimonially minded and the boys apparently just want good companions for the time being. There's plenty of time ahead, but if the boys realize that you're getting impatient, they're likely to run in the wrong direction.

Doctors Urged To Improve Night Service

MONTREAL — (CP)—Dr. A. D. Kelly believes an adequate night-time and emergency call service is one way in which Canadian doctors can improve their public relations.

Deput director of the Canadian Medical Association, he wrote in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Journal that the profession is going through a process of "soul searching," to find why some doctors are heroes to their patients while the profession as a whole is subject to much criticism.

"It matters little whether the public's complaints against us are well founded no not," Dr. Kelly said. "If they exist, we should take steps to remove the cause of complaint or to explain adequately why we do as we do."

Doctors are concerned, he said, with such statements as that the medical profession is not as interested as it should be in the personal problems of the patient, or that the cost of medical care is too high and doctors are making too much money.

Dr. Kelly says one of the commonest complaints is inability to get a doctor at night or on weekends. He said one of the remedial steps planned by the medical profession calls for establishment of adequate night emergency service.

Other steps planned include: support of a movement to restore the general practitioner to his rightful place as a family doctor; promotion of voluntary medical and hospital care insurance; and an endeavor "to clean our house of the unethical and unsavory practices of fee-splitting and rebating."

Mary Moore Says:

Pan Cookies For Impatient Cooks

There must be a host of my sisters (under the skin) who like to whip things up quickly — especially cookies. I just haven't the kind of patience required to cut out rolled cookies — unless they are shortbread at Christmastime.

Pan cookies are my dish—not that I get many of them. For there is a certain male vulture, initial of P., who hovers over me from the instant a pan is taken from the oven. Once he ate a cookie so hot I heard it sizzle on his tongue.

You'll love these butterscotch squares, and if anybody writes to me telling me they are familiar with them I'll — well, I'll tell them in a patient, quiet, restrained, motherly way that there must be some mistake—for they were made up this very afternoon by my friend Eleanor—my neighbor I borrow from. (Every woman needs a neighbor with borrowing privileges — to keep her confidence intact.)

Eleanor's Butterscotch Squares

One and one-half cups sifted flour, ¼ cup butter, ¼ cup good quality shortening, ¼ cup brown sugar, 1½ cup brown sugar, ½ cup each cocoanut and chopped walnuts, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 5 or 6 coarsely chopped drained maraschino cherries, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3 eggs. Cream the butter and shortening well together, and cream the ¼ cup brown sugar into them, then the flour. Press this mixture into an unbuttered pan measuring 7⅞ x 11 inches, pressing it evenly. Beat the eggs to mix them well, then add all remaining ingredients. Pour this over the bottom layer. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 40 minutes. Cut in squares while warm.

Favorite Brownies

One-half cup melted shortening or butter or margarine, 2 cups sugar, 2 beaten eggs, 2 or 3 squares melted cooking chocolate, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 1 cup unsifted flour, ½ to 1 cup chopped fresh walnuts or pecans. Add sugar to shortening and mix well, then stir in beaten eggs and melted chocolate and vanilla. Sift flour over and stir in. Add nuts to batter or, if desired, sprinkle them over the batter when it is spread in pan. Spread batter in pans to ¼-inch thickness. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. about 15 minutes. While warm cut into desired shapes with sharp knife.

Rich Date Bars

One cup sugar, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 lb. each whole but stoned dates and unbroken walnuts or pecans, 4 eggs. Separate yolks from whites of eggs and beat the yolks in a large bowl until foamy and lemon-colored. Beat in the sugar. Sift together the flour (which was measured before sifting), baking powder

Mission Boat On B.C. Coast

VANCOUVER —(CP)—Fourteen evangelists who never take up a collection are sailing up the British Columbia coast on a preaching mission.

They are aboard the "Lower Lights," luxuriously - appointed vessel equipped with everything from electric plumbing to plush carpets in the lounge, but which has no cigarets, playing cards or liquor cabinets.

Missionaries of the Apostolic Faith of Portland, Ore., operate the ship. Skipper Robert Crawford pilots her every year from the Columbia river in Oregon to the Alaskan Panhandle.

In the crew are an instrumental trio, a vocal quartet, some solo singers, an engineer, mate, radio technician and deckhand.

The captain is also known as General Overseer of the Apostolic Faith for the World, a title he inherited from his mother who started the church 46 years ago in Portland.

"Our faith is pretty much like that of the old-style Methodists," said the captain. "Sometimes we don't have time to stop and rent a hall in a hamlet. So we play music and preach through loudspeakers as we steam past.

"We don't even pass the collection plate. Once a church in Prince Rupert took up a collection for us, but we turned it back to the minister. Money is obtained from voluntary donations and tithing of salaries of church followers."

Converted Chief Liberia Success

TORONTO —(CP)—One of the greatest achievements of Rev. A. Cyril Holloway and his wife during 14 years of missionary work in the African interior was the conversion of an 80-year-old chief of a once vicious and powerful tribe.

The couple, who returned recently on furlough with their two young sons, said the chief is still a powerful influence among natives of 125 jungle villages. For years he looked to witch doctors for advice and shunned attempts to Christianize him.

"But last year, after months of effort and prayer, we got him to see the light of Christianity," said Mrs. Holloway. "He is one of our best converts and never misses a Sunday service."

They said that through their efforts and the work of seven other missionaries in Liberia, about 80 per cent of the natives have become Christians.

The Holloways are members of the World Wide Christianization Crusade, a missionary society representative of all Protestant denominations.

They met in Toronto 14 years ago, became engaged and went to Liberia where they were married.

After giving a number of lectures across Canada, they plan to return to Liberia.

New Toni WITH PRICELESS PINK LOTION

Holds the set longer than any other permanent!

Which Twin's Toni was set a week ago— and which was set today?

Yes, both twins have Toni's. Julia Lacy, on the left, had hers set just before this picture was taken — Cynthia, on the right, had her Toni set one whole week before and never re-set it! You can't tell the difference. Here's proof that Priceless Pink Lotion gives a wave that stays lovely without re-setting!

You'll forget all other ideas about permanents the first time you use New Toni with Priceless Pink Lotion. For the new Toni process is faster, gives a wave with the vibrant spring and silky-softness of a natural wave. Yes, and it holds the set longer than any other permanent you've ever had!

Never a lotion so wonderful! You've never used anything like Toni's new Priceless Pink Lotion! It curls more completely—yet is kinder to your hair! And that means a lovelier, livelier wave for you. Less re-setting. New freedom from the nightly chore of pin curls.

Never a neutralizer so fast! You save 20 minutes with the new Permafix method of neutralizing. And because Permafix neutralizes more thoroughly, it "locks in" your Toni wave so it can't come out. New Toni means all day—every day beauty for you month after month.

Never a guarantee so complete! If you don't say your new Toni looks lovelier and holds the set longer than any other permanent you've ever had, the Toni Company will cheerfully refund your money. So try New Toni—and you be the judge.

Ask for the New Toni at any cosmetic counter.

6—In Memoriam

DECK—In loving memory of Grover and his pals who died May 19, 1951.
No more to see his smiling face,
Or hear him say hello,
It came a shock we didn't expect,
A hard and bitter blow.
Happy and smiling, always content,
Loved and respected wherever he went,
Always thoughtful, willing and kind,
These are the memories he left behind.
—Faye and Art Dwyer.

DECK—In loving memory of our dear son, Grover Hudgins Deck and comrades, who died in the Zack's fire May 19, 1951.
Son of my heart, I miss you so,
Often my darling, my tears will flow,
Dimming your picture before my eyes,
But never the one in my heart that lies;
The stars seem dim as I whisper low,
My darling boy, we miss you so.
It's lonely here without you,
There is such a vacant space,
We will never hear your footsteps
Or see your smiling face.
As the angels keep their watch above,
Please God, just let him know,
That we down here do not forget,
We love and miss him so.
—Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Mom and Dad.

DECK—In loving memory of a dear brother, Grover Hudgins Deck, who died May 19, 1951.
We who loved you sadly miss you,
As it dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of you are ever near.
—Ever remembered and sadly missed by sister Edrie and brother-in-law Orville.

DECK—In loving memory of my brother, Grover Deck, who passed away May 19, 1951.
We smile with the world but never forget,
In our garden of memories he is with us yet.
—Ever remembered by Colin, Bernice and Coleen.

DECK—In loving memory of my dear husband, Grover Deck, who passed away May 19, 1951.
His memory is my keepsake,
With which I'll never part;
God has him in His keeping,
I have him in my heart.
Though out of sight, he is ever near,
Still missed, still loved, still mine;
He will live with me in memory,
Until the end of time.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife Betty and children.

FAULKNER—In loving memory of our dear grandson, Danny Marlow, who passed away May 19, 1951.
No stain was on his little heart,
Sin had not entered there,
And innocence was written
On his little face so fair.
He was too pure for this cold earth,
And perhaps not meant to stay,
And so God's holy angel took
Our darling Dan away.
—Sadly missed by Grandpa and Grandma Faulkner.

FAULKNER—In loving memory of our son, Danny Marlow, who passed away May 19, 1951.
A bud the Gardener gave us,
A pure and lovely child,
He gave it to our keeping,
To cherish undefiled;
And just as it was opening
To the glory of the day,
Down came the Heavenly Father
And took our bud away.
—Sadly missed by mother, dad and sister Judy Marlene.

GARDNER—In loving memory of our dear father, Alfred Gardner, who passed away May 19, 1942.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days,
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
—Always remembered by Alf, Annie, and grandchildren.

GARDNER—In loving memory of our dear father, Alfred Gardner, who passed away May 19, 1942.
You're not forgotten, father dear,
Nor ever shall you be,
As long as life and memory last,
We shall remember thee.
—Ever remembered by Gladys, Gordon, Sandra and Vickye.

6—In Memoriam

McILWAIN—In loving memory of our dear mother, Jessie McIlwain, who passed away May 20, 1950.
Two years have passed and gone
Since one we loved so well,
Was taken from her home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we placed upon her grave
May wither and decay,
But the love of her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.
—Sadly missed by her loving son Bud and his wife Hazel.

MY LAD
As a boy you were well liked,
You would always share whatever you had,
Sometimes you were good,
And other times you were like all boys bad.
As you grew older with
A wonderful personality my lad,
In all your exploits and pleasures,
You always thought of your dad.
And yet it's hard to believe that you are not here,
But still it is true oh how true lad.
And at time how we miss you dear,
But my boy I'm mighty proud to be your dad.
Al. Spencley.

In memory of our boy we lost May 19th, 1951.
ROME—In loving memory of my dear husband, Orville, who was killed May 19, 1951.
His memory is my keepsake,
With which I'll never part.
God has him in His keeping,
I have him in my heart.
Though out of sight he is ever near,
Still missed, still loved, still mine,
He will live with me in memory,
Until the end of time.
—Sadly missed by his wife Kathleen.

REYNOLDS—In loving memory of George A. Reynalds, who passed away May 19, 1951.
We often sit and think of him when we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own,
Like ivy on the withered oak; when all other things decay,
Our love for him will still keep green and never fade away.
—Ever remembered by his wife and family.

ROME—In loving memory of a dear father.
Gone dear father, gone forever,
Now we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Beverley, Sandra, Terry.

SPENCLEY—In memory of my dear brother Earl and his buddies, who willingly went into Eternity for others, one year ago.
"A Rose Thought"
Said the red rose to the white:
It must be we both are right.
Which is prettier, side by side.
Those who love us must decide.
If the Lord has favor shown,
He has never made it known.
Never once of roses said—
He loves more the white, than red.
Here together now we grow.
And the self same care we know,
Some the yellow loveliest think;
Some the white, the red, the pink.
We are roses one, and all,
Let us not to quarrel fall,
God has made us. No one knows
That He has a favorite rose.
—Marcella Spencley Vaipon.

SPENCLEY—In memory of Earl.
Sometimes a note of a song
Brings us a thought of you,
Sometimes a flower as we pass along,
Or a sky of azure blue.
Only a memory of bygone days,
And a sigh for a face unseen,
But a constant feeling that God alone
Knows just what should have been.
—Ever remembered in loving memory by his brother Frank, Hazel, Frankie and Jimmie.

SPENCLEY—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Earl Spencley, who lost his life one year ago today.
How little we thought when we woke that morning,
What sorrows the day would bring.
The shock was great, the blow severe,
To lose the one we loved so dear.
—Lovingly remembered by wife Florence and daughters Susan and Margaret.

SPENCLEY—In loving memory of a dear step-son and brother, Earl Spencley, who gave his life for others May 19, 1951.
The leaves of memories' pages are gently turned back today.
—Remembered by Jessie, Terry, Joyce, George and Walter.

SYMONDS—In loving memory of Robert George Symonds, who passed away May 19, 1941.
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile,
Of the one who once sat there.
—Ever remembered by his wife and family.

SYMONDS—In memory of Robert Symonds, who passed away May 19, 1941.
This token of love and affection,
Of a friend we shall never forget.
Your memory to us is a treasure,
Your loss a lifetime regret.
—Remembered by Mr. and Mrs. B. McCarrell and family.

BUYING — OR SELLING?
When Egg Prices are at peak next fall, will you be Buying or Selling? Provided you have housing for layers, probably more comforting to "pocket nerve" to have plenty home-produced eggs for table, surplus for sale! Well-started three-four-week-old Pullets fast growing, early laying, big-egg Bray stock, should lay by September if raised right. Very reasonably priced right now if taken "shipper's choice"— look: Heavies, per hundred, three weeks, $27.90 four weeks, $32.90. Mediums, per hundred, three weeks, $34.90 four weeks, $38.90. (If interested particular breer or cross, ask for "customer's choice" prices, slightly higher but still mighty reasonable.) Day-olds also available new lower prices. Golds Climb Steadily On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, May 13 — (CP) — Golds climbed steadily today in early afternoon stock market dealings as firm support bolstered a broad list of issues. Industrials, base metals and western oils made little headway.

Trading slowed from a brisk opening. Volume for the first three hours was 1,370,000 shares.

Banks, retail stores and miscellaneous issues posted a scattered list of fractional advances to form industrials' strongest sections. Papers, agricultures and steels turned downward.

Senior golds were mixed. Bralorne, Hollinger and Lake Shore strengthened while Dome and Giant Yellowknife weakened. Junior Producers and Prospects, however, posted a broad list of strong gains.

Western oils showed little trend. Central Explorers, Consolidated Cordasun and Pacific Petroleum pushed upward but Britalta, Okalta and Scurry dipped.

Base metals moved irregularly. International Nickel, Mindamar and Opemiska traded higher. Quemont, Sherritt-Gordon and United Asbestos eased.

CANADIAN COAL

The older coal beds of the Atlantic provinces are all bituminous, while other Canadian coalfields range up to semi-anthracite types.

Supply Of Skilled Workers Lagging Behind In Industry

OTTAWA, May 19. (CP)—The supply of skilled workers is not keeping up with Canada's industrial growth, the first National Conference on Apprenticeship Training was told today.

The conference, representing government, industry and labor, heard expressions of concern over the small scale of apprentice training, which could prove a bottleneck to expansion or in an emergency.

About 100 delegates opened a three-day session designed to find means of expanding Canada's reserve of skilled workers through training.

Chairman Arthur MacNamara, federal Deputy Minister of Labor, said that "above all" Canada must make sure her labor force has the skilled men it needs. The best way of meeting that problem was to train young Canadians.

George Haythorne, head of the Labor Department's research branch, said a department survey has shown an "almost microscopic" percentage of Canada's production workers being trained by industry for skilled jobs.

Lack Normal Replacements

It was unlikely that even enough training was being done to fill normal replacement needs for skilled workers due to death and retirements.

A shortage of skills, he warned, "can stop our production lines rolling just as effectively as power or raw-materials shortages can."

J. M. Pigott of Hamilton, construction executive and spokesman for the Canadian Construction Association, said in a paper that shortage of skilled men in the construction industry is the direct cause of work taking twice as long as a few years ago and of contributing greatly to increased building costs.

He blamed employers and unions in his industry for the shortage: The employers were largely apathetic. International officers of the unions were helping in training plans, but local unions were causing trouble.

Not Hard To Understand

"It is not hard to understand," he said, "that those responsible for the prosperity of the various building trades are always inclined to view with alarm anything but a very modest program of trade training. They are always in fear of creating too many tradesmen."

However, he said, the unions argued correctly that if the individual employers took on the number of apprentices that they are entitled to, and should take on, there would be no shortage.

In any event, Mr. Pigott said, there should be at least four construction-industry apprentices for every one being trained now.

Seven Jaycees At Conference

Seven members of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce attended the 7th annual regional conference, held during the weekend in Renfrew.

About 200 of the Jaycees from Peterborough, Kingston, Gananoque, Cornwall, Brockville, Hawkesbury, Ottawa, Arnprior and Renfrew attended the main banquet and heard an address by Frank Ryan, of Renfrew.

Alfred Blow, of Arnprior, was elected president of the region. Other officers were Don Reid of Ottawa, Bob Zimmerman of Renfrew, and Bogart Trumpour, of Kingston.

One of the highlights of the two-day convention was a parade in Renfrew with all the various units in the region advertising their district. The Peterborough contingent paraded with a McGinness trailer manufactured here. It was decorated with Jaycee banners and banners of 10 local industries.

All Fishermen

The delegates stressed the fishing potential of the Kawarthas. All wore plaid windbreakers and fishing hats.

They included Les Groombridge, president of the Peterborough unit, and Bernie Morin, Bill Waye, Arthur Smoke, Ron Balaam, Doug Vaisey and Reg Deeth. Their wives accompanied them on the trip and were taken on a scenic tour of the Calabogie country while the menfolk attended to business.

Dick Barton, of Ottawa, won the oratorical contest.

Entertainment was provided by the Peterborough unit.

Two Oshawa Youths Found Drunk In Car

Looking like an advertisement for the morning after the night before, two Oshawa teenagers appeared in police court today and pleaded guilty to drunk charges and obtaining liquor when under 21.

Cornell Hutchison, 18, 366 Mary St., Oshawa, was fined $15 and $2.50 costs or 15 days for obtaining liquor while under age. His companion, David Donald, 16, 220 Alice St., Oshawa was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for being drunk and $15 and $2.50 costs or 15 days for obtaining liquor when under age.

Chown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said that they came to Peterborough Sunday with an older Oshawa man who was found drunk in a hotel room.

The boys were found drunk in a car at the north end of the city and at first could not remember the man's name or where they were.

Missions Need Prayer With Money-Speaker

SPRINGVILLE, May 19 — The Springville W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. Morgan Cullen on Wednesday. Twenty-eight ladies were in attendance. Mrs. Murray, president, opened the meeting, and announced that about $70 had been forwarded to United Church Training School Fund, proceeds of a supper held for the Federation of Agriculture.

An invitation to a tea and sale of cooking and fancy articles at Fairmount on June 4 was accepted. Mrs. Whittington and Mrs. M. Cathcart were appointed a committee to arrange devotional exercises for occasion.

Mrs. Cecil Neals, program convenor, conducated worship services around the theme of "Mother", Mr. and Mrs. Larke sang a duet. "Mother's prayer." Mrs. Lytle reviewed the Study Book, "From Lakes to Northern Lights."

Mrs. Neals Called on Mr. Larke to introduce Mrs. Mathews as guest speaker.

Mrs. Mathews spoke on Missions as related to her own life stating that our young missionaries need prayers as well as financial support. Mrs. Whittington moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Mathews.

2 Foreign Airlines Cancel 5 Flights

NEW YORK, May 19—(AP)—Two foreign airlines announced today cancellation of five round-trip flights to Europe from Idlewild Airport as the continuing country-wide oil workers' strike threatened still greater reductions in service.

The cuts today by Air France and K.L.M., The Royal Dutch Airlines, brought total overseas flight cancellations at the airport to 36. These included 25 round trips to Europe and the Middle East and 11 to Nassau in the Bahama Islands and Bermuda.

Air France eliminated two round trips between Paris and New York and K.L.M. three round-trips to and from Amsterdam from their weekly schedules.

New Equipment For Railway

TORONTO, May 19.—New rolling stock to the value of more than $15,000,000 is now on order for the Grand Trunk Western Railroad, Donald Gordon, chairman and president of the road, stated at Detroit today following the annual meeting of the board of directors.

Delivery is expected this year of five 1200 H.P. Diesel switchers, 500 triple hoppers, 300 gondolas, 250 box cars, four baggage cars and six steel cabooses. Equipment now on order for delivery next year includes five first-class air-conditioned coaches, 175 covered hoppers and 600 box cars.

The president also stated that the headquarters offices of the company at Detroit would be moved early next year from East Jefferson Avenue to the Transportation Building on Lafayette Blvd., which the railroad has purchased.

Reviewing the operating results of the road last year, Mr. Gordon said that revenues reached $57,468,718, an increase of $129,427 over the previous year. However, due mainly to rising costs of labor and materials, operating expenses climbed to $46,778,405, an increase of $3,620,997 over 1950. This left net revenues from railway operations of $10,690,313 for 1951, compared with $14,181,883 in the previous year. After paying taxes and fixed charges, there was a net income deficit last year of $219,038.

Rockingham Confers With Defence Council

OTTAWA, May 19 — (CP) — Brig. John M. Rockingham, conferred with Defence Minister Claxton and the cabinet's defence council today, preparatory to taking over his job as director-general of military training.

Army officials said the former commander of Canada's 25th Brigade in Korea is concerned about the need for increased training in night fighting and likely will emphasize this in talks with army officials.

He may make a brief hop to Montreal to attend Canadian Legion meetings.

However, Army officials want to get him on his 30-day leave as soon as possible and Brig. Rockingham may swing back to Vancouver immediately after conferences here to start building a home on the west coast.

He told reporters Sunday, on arrival here, that his wife and he have an island on the coast, "and now she thinks we might build a house on it."

Mrs. Joseph Nicholls

The funeral for Mrs. Joseph Nicholls, 84, Lakefield, who died Saturday was held today in the Lakefield Baptist Church.

Born in Selwyn, the former Eliza McIlmoyle, Mrs. Nicholls was the daughter of the late William McIlmoyle and Margaret Stabler and has lived in Lakefield for the past 29 years. Formerly she lived in Smith township.

She was an active member of the Lakefield Baptist Church.

She leaves four daughters, Mrs. Percy McIlmoyle (Stella), Smith township; Mrs. Roland Darling (Edith), Douro township; Mrs. Wilfred Murduff (Alice), Lakefield; Ruby, at home; four brothers, Ephriam and Ernest, both of Saskatchewan; Harry, Toronto, and Lewis, Smith township; and three grandchildren.

The Rev. W. B. Walker of Lakefield Baptist Church conducted the service.

Pallbearers were: Clarence McIlmoyle, Clifford McIlmoyle, Melville Sanderson, Kenneth Sweeting, Everett Nicholls, Oscar Nicholls. Flower bearers were: Walter McIlmoyle, Alex Nicholls, Chalmer Sweeting, Seymour Sweeting, Reginald Bell, Cecil Cephas. Burial was in Lakefield cemetery.

Three Brothers Fined For Fight In Restaurant

Three Crough brothers and a fourth youth who started a fracas in a George St. restaurant at midnight Saturday spent the weekend in jail and appeared in police court today.

William Crough, 21, 223 Perry St., was found guilty of assaulting Constable John Conlin when he tried to put the four out of the restaurant and also of causing a disturbance. He was fined $50 and $2.50 costs or one month on the assault charge and $10 and $2.50 costs or ten days on the second charge. Crough won his argument that he had resisted arrest by striking Constable Conlin and a third charge of resisting arrest to which he had pleaded guilty was changed to not guilty and dismissed.

Paul Crough, 18, was found guilty of assaulting a restaurant patron who came to Constable Conlin's assistance and occasioning him bodily harm. He was fined $50 and $6.75 costs or one month and $15 and $3.75 costs for resisting arrest or 15 days.

In both the cases of Paul and William Crough, Magistrate W. R. Philp ruled that if the fines are not paid, the jail sentences are to run consecutively.

The two others involved in the fracas, Emmett Crough, 19 and John Berry, 19, 59 Aylmer St., were each fined $10 and $2.50 costs or ten days for causing a disturbance.

Hit Officer

Constable Conlin testified that when he asked the four to leave at the request of the proprietor, William Crough struck him in the right eye as they were leaving.

A scuffle started in the outer entrance to the restaurant and when James Guiry, 552 Homewood Ave., who was leaving the restaurant asked Constable Conlin if he needed any assistance, Constable Conlin said he did.

Then, Paul Crough grabbed Guiry by the tie, shoved him outside, and hit him in the face, fracturing his nose. Guiry's topcoat, tie, shirt and suit were produced as exhibits. The topcoat was spattered with blood stains and the clothing was also torn. After being examined by a doctor, following the fight, Guiry was taken to hospital for observation and later released.

Could Sue

Although he did not make any order regarding payment of the costs of getting the clothes cleaned and repaired, Magistrate Philp told Paul Crough he would be well advised to pay for it, otherwise Guiry would have good grounds for suing for payment.

Crown attorney John A. Bradshaw asked that the two Croughs be given jail terms both to teach them a lesson and to furnish an example to other young men in the city who are he said making a practice of causing fracases in restaurants which are continually involving innocent parties and preventing them from enjoying their meals in peace.

Obituary

ADAM R. ANDERSON

A druggist in Flushing, N.Y., Galt, Ont., and Peterborough, Adam Robert Anderson, 532 Charlotte St., died Sunday in hospital after a short illness. He had lived in Peterborough since 1930.

Mr. Anderson was born in Lanark country, came here while young and attended Peterborough collegiate. He graduated in pharmacy from University of Toronto, and went to Flushing to establish a business.

He left Flushing in 1921 and went to Galt, where he stayed until 1930, when he returned to Peterborough. In recent years, he had worked in a Charlotte St. drugstore.

Surviving are: his widow, the former Carrie Miller, one sister, Mrs. Arthur Elliott, Peterborough, and a brother, Dr. Andrew F. Anderson, Edmonton. His parents, Walter Anderson and Naomi Frankland, died several years ago.

Funeral service will be conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Comstock funeral home by the Rev. Ivan C. Morgan of Murray St. Baptist Church. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Developed Countries Expecting To Take Defeat On Paper

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 19. (CP)—Developed countries like Canada and the United States are expecting to take a paper defeat on a major economic issue during the session of the United Nations Economic and Social Council which opens Tuesday.

The under-developed countries are likely to push through a proposed plan for helping backward countries through an International Development Fund which would make outright money grants for such items as roads, schools and factories.

The developed countries argue that there now are enough international organizations—such as the Colombo Plan—to handle such problems.

But it is expected the underdeveloped countries will hold a majority in the 18-member economic and social council and push the plan through to ratification at the next meeting of the general assembly in the fall.

When the plan was discussed at the assembly meeting in Paris last winter, Canada indicated that it believes the pressure of defence rearmament now forbids any large-scale, new international development funds of the type urged by the under-developed countries.

However, it is understood that Canada will take part in the discussions of the new fund at the 10-week session starting Tuesday. Jean Lesage, Liberal member of parliament for Montmagny-L'Islet and parliamentary assistant to the External Affiars minister, will head Canada's delegation here.

Even though the under-developed countries will probably get U.N.-majority approval for an international development fund, it will not be possible to set it up without financial support of the developed countries, and the U.S. in particular. However, the U.S. is not seen ready to hand out money for this fun while favoring its own point four aid program.

However, it is seen possible that the U.S. and Canada will support a proposed investment corporation under the international bank which would try to stimulate private capital to risk funds in projects if the governments of the aided countries would furnish some guarantee of return in the future.

Council Members

The council members this year besides Canada and the U.S. are Britain, Argentina, Belgium, China, Cuba Czechoslovakia, Iran, Egypt, France, Mexico, Pakistan, Philippines, Poland, Sweden, Russia and Uruguay.

During the session delegates expect to debate proposals to maintain full employment in the world, raise agricultural and industrial production, control inflationary trends and raise standards of living.

Their program covers such world problems as newsprint scarcity; trade union rights, the question of equal pay for women, the fate of refugees, and the program for rehabilitation of Korea.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Members of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners meeting at New York three years ago Friday unanimously turned down proposals to legalize off-course betting. A. T. Cole, chairman of the New York Racing Commission, said licensing of bookmakers would "kill horse-racing" in the United States.

Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs struggled through a 9-9 tie game that was ended by darkness after 19 innings, 13 years ago Saturday. It was the longest National League game since the Chicago Cubs beat Boston 3-2 in 19 innings on Aug. 17, 1932. The National League record however is still the 26-inning 1-1 tie between Boston and Brooklyn on May 1, 1920.

Harold (Hal) Chase, one of the greatest defensive first basemen of all time, died in California five years ago yesterday at the age of 64. With the New York Yankees from 1905 to 1913 he revolutionized the fielding style for first sackers, and in 1916 won the National League batting championship with the Cincinnati Reds.

Lad 3 Injured By Wagon Wheel

CAMPBELLFORD, May 19 — (ENS).—Three-year-old Robert Allanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Allanson of Warkworth, suffered a fractured shoulder on Saturday evening, when he fell from his father's horse-drawn wagon. Robert was accompanying his parents to the town to purchase ice cream as a Saturday evening treat when he tumbled from the wagon to the pavement.

One rubber-tired wheel of the wagon passed over the little fellow, breaking his right shoulder. He was attended by Dr. R. Jolliffe of Warkworth, who took him to Campbellford hospital for X-rays. He was later taken to Belleville hospital where surgery was required.

Plans Divorce

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP) — Actress Olivia De Havilland's lawyer says she has separated from her author husband, Marcus Goodrick, and will soon file divorce papers unless differences are reconciled. She and Goodrich have been married about five years and have a son, Benjamin, two years old.

Marmora Mission Opens

MARMORA, May 19 (ENS)—A mission opened at Sacred Heart Church on Sunday and will continue with morning and evening devotions throughout the week. The Rev. Fr. Killingworth, of the Redemptorist Order of Peterborough, is conducting the services, assisted by the Rev. J. A. O'Neill.

Mrs. E. C. Clegg

The funeral for Mrs. Edward C. Clegg, 676 Water St., who died Wednesday was held Saturday from the Kaye funeral home.

Archdeacon W. P. Robertson of St. John's Anglican Church conducted the service.

Pallbearers were: G. K. Wainwright, H. H. Langford, A. E. Long, T. C. Tindle, G. Clegg, S. Armstrong. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Mission Band Meets

MILLBROOK, May 19—(ENS)—At the meeting of St. Andrew's United Church Mission Band held on Thursday, awards were given to the children selling the most greeting cards for the mission fund Gordon Gibson sold $23 worth, Judy Hobbs $18 worth, Glen Fallis 17.50, and Carol Ridge $12.50. Mrs. Arnold Fallis, the leader, told the missionary story and Marlyne Chapman lighted the candles in the worship centre. Band members were asked to bring in the five pairs of mittens asked for and used clothing for the bale.

Present Bill

COLOGNE, Germany, May 19—(AP)— The head of a German veteran group claimed Sunday that the United States owes $300,000,000 to Germans who were held as prisoners of war in the U. S. He also alleged that the U. S. fed its prisoners inadequately. The complaints were made by Walter Schoppmann, chairman of a group known as "the organiaztion of the hundred thousands," at a meeting of Germans who claim they suffered losses at the hands of the Allies during and after the Second World War.

New League Started For 'Amateurs'

By IRVING C. WHYNOT

HALIFAX—(CP) — Maritime sport organizations are catching up with the well-paid athlete who still calls himself an amateur.

Both the Maritime Amateur Athletic Union—which voted itself out of existence because of the shortage of real amateurs — and the Nova Scotia Amateur Baseball Association have recognized the advent of professionalism and have taken action.

The latest to act was the Amateur Ball Group, which for six years has seen the import-padded Halifax and District League become more and more of a professional loop. Hardly a team in the circuit now has more than one or two home-brews. Others are Americans, mostly from the college teams, who can earn as high as $200 a week for a top-notch hurler, for instance.

Class By Itself

The N.S.A.B.A. hasn't tossed the H-D League out altogether, but has put it in a class by itself, called Senior A, and has decided the league winner will not move into the provincial play-offs. Other Nova Scotia loops will be classed as plain senior.

The Baseball Group's ruling may have been hastened by the N.A.A.U. decision some time ago to vote itself out of business. The reason for this, according to the union president, was that there were "no amateurs." He suggested a new group be formed to administer track and field, which he called "the only amateur sport left."

Slow action on this suggestion, incidentally, almost left Maritime athletes out in the cold as far as the Olympic trials are concerned.

Without a body affiliated with the Amateur Union to sponsor their interests, Maritimers found themselves unable to enter the trials.

After considerable hustling, however, the A.A.U. gave approval to the idea of provincial associations and these were formed in time.

About the only group still not on record as recognizing the professional in so-called "amateur" sports is the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

Last season, a top goalie earned $250 a week in Maritime major league and indications are that if the league operates again next season, salaries will be on the upgrade.

Police Seek Driver Involved In Crash

FIELD, Ont., May 19 (CP) — Police today are searching for the driver of a late-model car involved in a collision near here Sunday night in which two persons were injured.

The injured persons, Stanislaus St. Martin, 65, of River Valley and Normand Aubin, 5, of Sudbury, were passengers in the car and said they did not know who the driver was. It was believed owned by a Sudbury resident.

The car collided with a taxi driven by Gerard Lafond of Field.

St. Martin suffered shock and undertermined injuries which the boy, son of Noel Aubin of (3 Smith Street) Sudbury, suffered shock, serious injuries to the mouth and other undetermined injuries.

Field is 30 miles northwest of North Bay.

3 Killed In Fighting

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, May 19 (Reuters) — Three Africans were killed Sunday night in fighting between native factions in the African residential area of Johannesburg. The fighting is believed to have been a continuation of a dispute in the same area last Wednesday when two Africans were killed and nine seriously injured.

Japanese Captures Flyweight Title

TOKYO, May 19 —(AP)—Yoshiro Shirai of Japan tonight won the world flyweight boxing championship, outpointing Dado Marino of Honolulu in a close 15-round bout. Marino weighed 112 pounds, Shirai 111.

The decision of the three Japanese officials was unanimous. An estimated 42,000 fans watched the fight.

The Associated Press gave Shirai seven rounds, Marino five and scored three even.

Marino cried after the decision was announced. Shirai waved to the crowd in response to the tremendous ovation.

There were no knockdowns. Maino's eye was puffed at the end of the fight, but he was not cut.

The two judges and the referee gave six rounds to Shirai, four to Marino and scored five even.

The Most Powerful Gasoline Your Car Can Use!

Today's more powerful engines require a highly complex gasoline to deliver their full power. There can be as many as 1500 different chemical compounds in a gallon of gasoline.

To select the best of these chemicals, and to arrange them properly to fulfill the needs of your car calls for the last word in refinery equipment and scientific skill. It is Shell's manufacturing policy to make "The most powerful gasoline your car can use." Shell activates gasoline by splitting and rearranging petroleum molecules.

The result—Shell Premium—the most powerful gasoline your car can use. See the Shell Dealer in your neighborhood.

Loch Ness Monster Reappears In Time For Tourist Season

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

INVERNESS, Scotland, May 19—(AP)—The Scottish highlands are stirring again with reports that the famed Monster of Loch Ness has come out of hibernation—or wherever it is that he lurks in winter time.

Strange footprints of fantastic size have been seen in gravel at Castle Urquhart. Between the prints was a long mark which some say could only have been made by a monster dragging his tail. A pier for small boats was smashed. There are no ice floes in the lake, and Scotsmen presume the pier crashed under the weight of the monster.

The tourist season is approaching and it is time to talk about the monster. It is pleasant and profitable to have hundreds of strangers prowling up and down the lake with field glasses.

The monster is a creature beloved in the Highlands, and thousands of persons believe he lives in the Loch, a sombre body of water in a long gash in the hills.

There is plenty of room for the monster, for the lake is 22½ miles long, a mile wide and, at one point, 724 feet deep. The monster needs room, because he is said to be something between 50 and 100 feet long with a head the size of a sack of barley atop a long neck and eyes the size of pancakes. His back has bumps, three or five, and a long tail slaps around.

Friendly Sort

No one wants harm to befall the monster so the report of footprints in the gravel was received with pleasure in Inverness.

Hundreds of persons in the Inverness region admit, off the record, that they have seen the monster.

"But they don't want to talk about it because they don't want to seem queer or be suspected of having hallucinations," said Miss Margaret O. MacDougal, acting librarian and curator of the Inverness Museum.

There is nothing new about the Loch Ness monster. In a monastery at Fort Augustus there is a record 500 years old of the monster's activity. It was set down by a pious monk who cannot be suspected of fibbing.

The record raises another point which provokes thought in the Highlands. Either the monster attains great age, or the contemporary beast is a descendant of the monk's monster. So maybe there are more monsters, with wives. Loch Ness may have a family.

Night-time ITCH Of Toes And Feet

Can Almost Drive You Crazy

When feet burn, sting, itch—and shoes feel as if they were cutting right into the flesh—stop at the nearest drug store and ask for a small original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of Essential Oils with Camphor, Chlorthymol and other antiseptics—so good that thousands of bottles are sold annually for relief from the almost unbearable itching of Athlete's Foot. Get a bottle today and prove it for yourself. Never have you found such fast and effective relief—and a good night's rest.

ON TOP OF WORLD—This photograph, just released for publication by the United States Air Force, shows field-hardened members of an airborne expedition that landed at the North Pole May 3 gathered in front of oil drums that mark the spot. The party landed at the Pole in a transport aircraft equipped with skis and plan to gather together information which will contribute to their knowledge of Arctic Ocean currents and provide fresh experience and scientific data to help combat any possible aerial invasion from the north.

Midland Paper Wins Adverfising Award

AURORA, May 19 (CP) — The first award of the Sears Trophy for outstanding advertising and promotional work among weekly newspapers in Central Ontario was made Saturday to the Midland Free Press.

At the annual meeting of the Central Ontario Weekly Press Association here, Paul Rice of The Huntsville Forester was elected president to succeed Frank Macintyre of The Dundalk Herald.

Other officers elected included David Phillips, Stayner Sun, secretary-treasurer; directors, George Cadogan, Durham Chronicle and Carl Mannore, Meaford Express.

Car Clips Street Car

TORONTO, May 19 (CP) — A passanger on a streetcar was killed Saturday night and five others were injured when a dump truck tore a hole in the front of the car in suburban Mimico. John Earle Jones, 36, of New Toronto, was killed. The motorman and four passengers were cut by flying glass Stewart Dugan of New Toronto, driver of the truck, was charged with manslaughter.

RCR's Hold Reunion, For Vets In London

LONDON, Ont., May 19—(CP)—Two hundred World War veterans of the Royal Canadian Regiment re-lived their old service lives Saturday at the annual reunion of the Western Ontario R.C.R. Association.

Major Jack Peterson of St. Thomas, and formerly of Peterborough, who was second in command of the regiment in Korea, told of the high morale and fighting spirit of the new troops who are carrying on the traditions of Canada's oldest infantry unit.

Editors Discuss News Problems

WINNIPEG, May 19 — (CP) — Canada's oil production by the middle of 1954 will exceed 400,000 barrels a day—the equivalent of the country's entire needs—Car D. Nickle, a Calgary oil expert said Sunday.

He spoke at a civic luncheon, final event of the three-day Canadian managing editors' conference here.

Development had been concentrated in the west, but prospects were bright for discovery of reserves in all provinces.

Mr. Nickle said oil development also represented for Canada and her friends a weapon which might become as important as the Atom Bomb in any war with Russia.

Technical Discussion

At a luncheon Saturday, William P. Stevens of Minneapolis, assistant executive editor of The Minneapolis Star and Tribune, said television has not yet learned how to be an effective news medium and he doubted if it would learn this art.

However, it had restored the newspapers' hustle to get news pictures. Picture competition had increased 100 per cent.

Technical problems connected with operation of teletypesetter circuits—a means of providing news in tape form to operate linecasting machines—were reviewed in a panel discussion. Speakers were Russell Stratton, teletypesetter consultant, New York; Thomas Morrison, Welland Tribune; MacIntyre Hood, Oshawa Times Gazette, and John Dauphinee, general news editor of The Canadian Press, Toronto.

Search Ships Bow To Stern For Smuggled Potatoes

VICTORIA, May 19. (CP)—All sorts of ruses are being used to smuggle European species of potatoes into Canada, it was learned here Sunday.

Federal Department of Agriculture officials disclosed that immigrants are chiefly being used to bring the potatoes into this country. The potatoes are wanted as seed stock by specialist growers.

European potatoes are banned to prevent two dreaded potato diseases—golden nematode and potato wart.

W. de Macedo, federal plant protection official here, said an attempt was made recently to smuggle into Victoria a European specie of potato in a sackful of bulbs shipped from Holland.

"But potato smuggling here is not to be compared with what goes on at Eastern Canadian ports," he said.

"Immigration officials at Montreal and Halifax are run ragged by the attempts to bring potatoes into Canada.

"Ships have to be searched from bow to stern," he said.

U.N. Guards Crush New Revolt By POW's At Pusan

PUSAN, Korea, May 20. (AP)—Communist war-prisoner rioting spread to a Pusan camp today and flared in two new but minor revolts at violence-ridden Koje Island Camp No. 1. One Red prisoner was killed and 85 were injured at Pusan. One United States guard suffered a minor injury in the 2½-hour battle of clubs and fists in Pusan Camp No. 10. No shots were fired by the United Nations guards, although they were armed. On Koje, it was disclosed that two mild revolts were settled without incident by the new camp commander Brig.-Gen. Haydon Boatner, during the first four days of his command.

These occurred while high-ranking officers of Gen. Mark Clark's Far East command in Tokyo studied reports on the February-March Koje riots in which 90 Red male P.O.W.'s and one U.S. soldier were killed.

One of the new Koje flare-ups involved the 400 women prisoners and civilian internees held on that island, 30 miles southwest of Pusan. The other was a sit-down strike by prisoner inmates of a U.N. command hospital and their prisoner-doctors.

No Violence

Boatner settled both with persuasion and firmness. There was no violence, no shots were fired, and no one was injured, he said.

At Seoul, Gen. James Van Fleet, commander of the U.S. Eighth Army, said the Pusan outbreak resulted from "an attempt by fanatical Communist prisoners of war to resist proper medical treatment of patient inmates of enclosure 10."

All the prisoners at Pusan previously were reported to have been screened. The army said they professed opposition to Communism and to repatriation to Red areas if a Korean truce is agreed upon.

No Communist prisoners were kept on Koje.

Today, the army said enclosure 10 is a mixed camp for both Communist prisoners who want to return behind the bamboo curtain and anti-Communist prisoners who don't. It did not say whether the rioters were Chinese or North Koreans, or both.

It said the incident occurred at 6:30 a.m. (5:30 p.m. EDT Monday).

The U.N. guard comprised combat-wise American infantrymen. They were armed but broke up the Red-led riot in 2½ hours without firing a shot. The prisoners

Claxton Hopeful Defence Bill Down After '54

MONTREAL, May 20—(CP)—Defence Minister Claxton said today, "No one I know of in a position of responsibility believes there will be war."

But, he told the Canadian Legion's national convention, Canada and her allies intend by 1954 to be in a position to guarantee the peace. After that, he said cautiously, the defence bill should go down.

Canada's defence effort already had absorbed 10 per cent of her population and still was growing. The army had nearly quadrupled its hitting power since Korea and the air force had boosted its fighter strength more than 50 per cent.

In effect, the minister rejected the Legion's anticipated bid for conscription by predicting that Canada will meet the targets of her three-year defence program on schedule and saying that will be enough to protect Canada and lay a groundwork for swift wartime mobilization.

Keeping Fingers Crossed

But, he confessed, he is keeping his fingers crossed about meeting those targets—including 41 air squadrons and "more than 100 warships."

Since Korea, he said, Canada has done these things:

1. Absorbed 1,500,000 servicemen, workers and dependents into the defence effort.

2. Boosted fighter squadrons to 19 from 12—about half are reservists — increased "major" army units to 22 from six and increased navy-warship strength to 38 from 29. She will launch another 16 warships this year.

3. Raised armed forces manpower to 97,000 regulars from 47,000, reservists to 57,000 from 50,000, and departmental civilian defence workers to 40,000 from 25,000.

4. Fielded a brigade in Korea which in a few weeks will be replaced by another; dispatched a brigade to Germany whose 6,000 men require 15,000 in the supporting pipeline to maintain it, not to mention men in the training and administrative establishments.

5. Sent two, and soon a third, fighter squadrons to England to start a 12-squadron contribution to the Atlantic Pact in Europe.

Mr. Claxton lauded what the Legion has done for the troops in Korea and urged Canadians to keep sending all sorts of reading material.

He said the number of civilians and servicemen in the full-time defence effort is 137,000, that the proportion of civilians—criticized in Parliament — is exactly the same as in the U.S., and that all told the men and women working in the defence program or supporting it number, with their dependents, 1,500,000 or more than 10 per cent of the total population.

Ontario Hotels Take U.S. Dollar

TORONTO, May 20—(CP)—Ontario hotels are going to accept the United States dollar at par for the time being, a meeting of hotelmen decided Monday.

Presidents and secretaries of most of the province's 22 hotel associations decided to treat Canadian and American currencies as equal unless the difference increases to five cents.

Then they will reconsider their action.

At present the Canadian dollar is at about a two-cent premium.

Girl Shoplifters Sell Loot To Classmates

VANCOUVER, May 20 (CP)—Police said Monday they have broken up an all-girl gang of juvenile shoplifters who "stole to order" and sold their loot to school classmates.

At least a dozen girls, age 13 to 15, are expected to be summoned before juvenile court, police said.

In the last two months, the gang led by a 15-year-old, has stolen hundreds of dollars' worth of blouses, skirts, coats, jewellery, and cosmetics. Most of the goods were sold at half-price to classmates. In several cases, police said, rental of stolen goods was used to force other girls to work for the gang.

U.K. Hopes Keep Foot In China Trade Door

LONDON, May 20. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said today Britain hopes to keep a foot in Communist China's trade door even though British firms now want to get out.

Eden told the House of Commons this might be done by setting up a new form of trading organization. He said such a group would represent British business in dealing with the Communists.

Eden estimated that British firms hold assets in China worth £200,000,000 to £250,000,000.

He said many British firms had long been operating at a loss in China and have decided to "apply for closure, custody, transfer or lease of their various interests as may be appropriate in each case."

He said the British government in a note to Communist China has asked that all facilities be granted to help the British firms close down and pull out their British employees.

2 Hostages Turn Tables Make Captors Prisoners

BELEM, Brazil, May 20 (AP)—Captives are reported to have become captors today in the latest episode of Brazil's jungle-rescue mixup. A Brazilian major radioed he had foiled a rival search group which held him and an American aviation official hostage at the scene of last month's crash of a Pan-American stratocruiser.

This cryptic mesasge was received Monday night from Maj. Miranda Correa as three planes with 38 Brazilian parachutists were sent from Rio De Janeiro to rescue him and Scott A. Magness of Miami, Fla., United States civil aeronautics authority safety adviser.

The pair, members of an official Brazilian-American expedition to the crash scene, had been reported held by some 35 Brazilians, Indian guides and newspapermen as hostages to ensure their own safe evacuation by airlift. The 35 were part of an unofficial group sent to the crash scene by a Brazilian politician as a private gesture.

Correa and Magness were members of the official party which set up a base at Logoa Grande, 900 miles north of Rio De Janeiro, and trekked through 35 miles of jungle to the scene where the stratocruiser crashed April 29 and killed all 50 aboard. They reached the scene Friday.

The unofficial party got there first by dropping parachutists 3½ miles from the spot and preparing a landing site for helicopters. This group was headed by Lino de Matos of Sao Paulo, a state legislator, and was financed by Adhemar de Barros, head of the Brazilian Airlines and a possible presidential candidate.

Correa's mesasge Monday night said the official party on arrival found the area ransacked and all money and jewelry which the plane passengers presumably carried missing. Arrangements are being made to search the freelance rescuers when they get to Belem.

A Pan-American announcement said all 50 had died instantly and that Brazilian officials had ordered immediate burial of the bodies on the spot.

Correa's message said he had a landing strip ready where a light plane could touch down. It was expected he and the others would be brought out of the jungle clearing beginning today.

Eva Peron Makes Visit To Canada

Flown To London For Bomb Treatment Reports Indicate

TORONTO, May 20. (CP)—A Toronto paper says today that Eva Peron, first lady of the Argentine, was treated with the cobalt bomb three weeks ago at Victoria Hospital in London, Ont. It says the wife of Dictator Juan Peron was flown to Ontario under "the tightest of security cloaks."

LONDON, Ont.—(CP) — Officials at Victoria Hospital here today denied a Toronto report that Eva Peron, wife of President Juan Peron of Argentina, as flown to London for treatment with the Cobalt bomb. Dr. Carmen J. Kirk, superintendent, said he had no knowledge that Senora Peron was admitted to the hospital, "even incognito."

The paper's front page story, says there was no indication or even a hint of the nature of Senora Peron's ailment. However, radiation from the cobalt bomb is usually a treatment for cancer.

"Nothing about her arrival, entry into Victoria Hospital, or the actual cobalt treatments was made known. Her departure was equally well covered with secrecy.

Identity Secret

"Not even some of those closest to her during the treatments were aware of her identity. They assumed she was some wealthy patient whose family did not wish knowledge of the treatments to leak out."

125,000 Couples Living In Sin

LONDON, May 20 (AP) — A woman member of parliament said today 125,000 couples are living in sin because of Britain's tough divorce laws.

The estimate was made by Mrs. Eirene White, a Labor member from Scotland, before a Royal commission on divorce law reform. Mrs. White said she based the figures on thousands of letters and interviews since announcing 18 months ago she would fight for amendment of the laws.

Main grounds for divorce recognized in British courts are cruelty, adultery and desertion. In many of the cases cited by Mrs. White, the married pair more or less drifted apart and neither can make a desertion charge stand up in court.

Mrs. White—42, married, and childless—is the author of a bill in the Commons which would entitle either party to a divorce solely on grounds of separation for seven years or more.

Say 65,000 Oil Workers Still On Strike

DENVER, May 20 (AP) — An estimated 25,000 of nearly 90,000 striking oil workers in the United States were back on the job today, 21 days after they walked out in a wage dispute.

More are expected to return by nightfall as additional settlements are reached in plant-by-plant negotiations across the country.

Meanwhile airlines, both in North America and Europe, are faced with loss of considerable revenue as the shortage of aviation gasoline grows.

It is expected to reach the critical stage by next week-end unless additional supplies are obtained. Most lines were caught with short supplies when the strike hit. The big question is how fast refineries can start real production again.

American Airlines president C. R. Smith said his firm may have to cancel more that 50 per cent of its country-wide schedules by the week-end.

A major break in the strike front was reached Monday when 10,000 Sinclair Refining Company workers signed a wage agreement. But a dark spot cropped up in the middle west.

A U.S. conciliation service spokesman said negotiations to end the strike of 7,000 workers at Standard Oil of Indiana's refinery at Whiting, Ind., broke down Monday night. A similar situation was reported at the Cities Service Company refinery in East Chicago where 800 are out.

At issue in the strike by 22 C.I.O., A.F.L. and independent unions, was an hourly wage increase plus increased night shift differentials. The unions originally demanded a 25-cent hourly boost on the average $2 to $2.10 hourly pay.

Royal Household Finances Studied

LONDON, May 20—(Reuters)—The House of Commons today appointed a committee of 22 members to figure out how much the government should provide for support of the Royal household.

Two women—one from each main party—are included on the committee, which consists of 12 Conservatives, nine Socialists and a Liberal.

Richard Butler, Chancellor of the Exchequer, is senior government member and Clement Attlee, former Prime Minister, leads the Socialists.

The committee will spend the next month fixing incomes of the Royal family and amounts that may be spent on household and other Royal expenses.

Tradition demands that a new Civil List, through which provision is made for the Royal household, be approved by parliament within the first six months of a new reign.

13 Miners Killed

CLERMONT FERRAND, France May 20—(Reuters)—Thirteen miners were killed by gas in a coal mine at Frugieres, near here, today. A rescue squad wearing gas masks brought six bodies to the surface. About 100 miners were working in the gallery when the gas seeped in. Some men jumped into the elevator cage to reach the surface. Others clambered to safety on ladders through the air shafts.

$500,000 Fire At Terminal

NORTH BAY, May 20. (CP)—A $500,000 fire which raged out of control for two hours early today gutted the Deluxe Transportation Limited's terminal in a residential section of this city's north end. One house was also destroyed and the roof of another damaged. The fire broke out at 12:30 a.m. when 12 night-shift workers were on duty in the big transportation company's frame building. Firemen, who at one time played 12 lines of hose on the fire, got the blaze under control two hours later. The company's lot covers about half a city block and contained a stock room, warehouse, storage garage, a repair garage and offices.

The fire, believed to have started when an extension cord short-circuited, spread through the stock room and within 10 minutes the repair garage—its wall penetrated by oil and grease through the years—was ablaze.

John Palangio, president of the Deluxe Transportation firm, said his firm lost three buses, one tractor trailer, three cars and a tow truck. Employees saved about 20 vehicles.

Operates 100 Vehicles

The firm operates the city's bus lines, a fleet of taxis and local and long-haul trucks. It has about 100 vehicles which operate in and out of North Bay.

Thirty minutes after the fire started it was at its height. Oil and grease drums in the storage room exploded and one eyewitness described the noise as "like machine-gun fire."

The explosions in the stock room were so violent that part of the concrete front of the building was blown into the street.

Flames from the seething walls of the terminal jumped 200 feet into the air and were visible for miles. A crowd of more than 5,000 persons, some of them in night attire, gathered to watch the spectacular fire.

A house belonging to Peter Ceresia was ignited by falling embers which soared over the district about 30 minutes after the fire broke out. Mrs. Ceresia and a son, Frank, were awakened by another son, Jim. The family escaped from the house just before it became an inferno.

Only One Curb Retained As Loan Restrictions Eased

OTTAWA, May 20. (CP)—All but one of Canada's restrictions on bank lending were listed Monday and there were indications that another of the controls on inflation may be suspended within a month.

The Bank of Canada announced it has informed all chartered banks of the suspension of credit restraints, imposed 15 months ago as a means of slowing up spending and keeping prices down.

Included in the curbs were those banning large capital loans running for a year or more, and purchases by commercial banks of corporate securities with longer than a year to run before they come due.

Banks now will also be permitted to make loans with instalment paper as collateral. Thus storekeepers and finance corporations can make loans to customers buying goods on instalments, and get loans from banks to continue operations using as collateral the securities they get from customers.

The only restriction retained involves bank loans with corporation stock as collateral. Banks may loan not more than 50 per cent of the stock value.

Monday's move means that most loans now will be governed by the regular banking regulations and by the supply and demand for loan money.

A sudden increase in bank loans is not expected. Many of the banks have lent as much money as they have available for such business. Merchants' inventories are high so they will not likely want to finance a large amount of new inventory purchases.

One of the few remaining anti-inflation curbs deals with deferred depreciation. There were indications that this would be suspended within a month.

Certain types of non-essential industries cannot make normal yearly write-offs of new equipment for tax purposes for four years after the equipment is purchased. This was intended to discourage such industries from competing for material and labor and forcing their price up.

Ridgway Begins Week's Course

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, a veteran leader of fighting troops in the Second World War and Korea, today began an intensive one-week course in how to build up and command a standby Allied army in Europe.

He will get advice from President Truman, military and diplomatic representatives of the United States and 13 other member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and United Nations officials.

Ridgway also will tell Senators his plans for taking over as new supreme commander of N.A.T.O. forces, the job Gen. Dwight D Eisenhower is leaving to enter the Republican presidential nomination campaign.

The Senate armed services and foreign relations committees, which invited Ridgway to appear before them, also are expected to ask him about affairs in the Far East, particularly the prisoner-of-war incidents on Koje Island.

Ridgway arrived here by plane Monday night.

Charge Civilian In Defence Dept. Theft

WINNNIPEG, May 20 (CP) — Charges of theft of civilian and public property will be laid against a civilian employee of the Department of National Defence as a result of an investigation carried out at Churchill, Man., it was announced here today by headquarters prairie command.

The charges will be laid by the commandant of Fort Churchill, Col. H. A. Millen.

The theft involves nine kegs of nails, cement, spotlights, building paper, rolls of wire and green tile, all the property of civilian contracting firms. Army equipment uncovered in the investigation, carried out by the Fort Churchill detachment of the R.C.M.P., included two $1,800 wireless sets and 4,000 rounds of ammunition and spare parts for a snowmobile.

Brand Ex-Convict Faker Didn't Plan Brink's Robbery

BOSTON, May 20. (AP)—Deputy Police Supt. James F. Daley today branded as a "liar and faker" ex-convict Alfred A. Gagnon who said he was one of the planners of the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery.

Gagnon of Pawtucket, R.I., named himself, Carlton M. O'Brien, Warwick, R.I., roadhouse owner, and Joseph F. McGinnis, former convict and Boston night club owner, as the planners of the big cash haul.

Gagnon is held in Rhode Island state prison awaiting trial on a charge of attempted robbery of a Providence diamond merchant.

O'Brien, 49, of West Warwick, R.I., who also owned a prosperous Providence, R.I., diner, was slain in gangland fashion Saturday morning in front of his home. Two shotgun blasts snuffed out his life.

Daley made the accusation in an angry answer to charges from Rhode Island Attorney-General William E. Powers that Boston police showed a lack of interest in information they had obtained indicating that the O'Brien slaying was tied up with the Jan. 17, 1950, Brink's holdup.

"This man (Gagnon) wasn't within 1,200 miles of Boston at any time from November, 1949, prior to the Brink's holdup, to March 5, 1950, following the Brink's robbery," Daley asserted.

Evidence gathered by F.B.I., Boston and State Police disclosed that Gagnon was in Tampa, Fla., from Nov., 1949, to March, 1950.

"We had the Gagnon story and the so-called confession to the Brink's case a year-and-a-half ago," Lt.-Det. James V. Crowley said.

"We checked all phases of it. He did not name McGinnis at any time until after the O'Brien murder Saturday, and even then, as we later learned, he named him only in connection with the O'Brien murder."

McGinnis was released after lengthy questioning by police in the O'Brien shooting.

Crowley also branded as a lie Gagnon's story that he bought the navy pea jackets, whipcord chauffeurs' hats and rope used in the Brink's holdup.

Motor Fails On Craft, 4 Tossed Out

3 Friends Manage To Reach Shore; Body Found Later

LINDSAY, May 20. (ENS)—An American fisherman, Charles Redifer, 49, drowned early today below the dam at Rosedale, 26 miles north of here on Highway 35.

Redifer, who came from Lakewood, Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland, was fishing for pickerel with three other people when the outboard motor on their boat failed. The current carried the craft to the dam and overturned it when the four tried to push off from the dam with oars.

Redifer was swept over the dam. His body was found a quarter of a mile downstream from the dam by two Rosedale residents, Paul Arkwright and Cecil Sutton. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Gratton Graham of Fenelon Falls.

Fishing with Redifer were George Fehlner and Mrs. Margaret Bate, both of Cleveland, and Bob Burrough, Rosedale, proprietor of the lodge at which the three tourists were guests.

Reached Shore

Burroughs swam to shore after the boat capsized, and Fehlner and Mrs. Bate clung to the boat, slowly edging it toward shore until their feet could touch bottom and they were able to beach the boat.

The four went out to fish about 11 p.m. Monday night, and the accident happened about 2 a.m. today. There is a drop of four feet to the water below the dam, which is on the stretch of water between Cameron and Balsam lakes.

Corporal Fred Rawlings of the Fenelon Falls O.P.P. detachment investigated. Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan of Lindsay said there would be no inquest.

Drought Area Gets Rainfall

DARWIN, Australia, May 20.—(Reuters)—Rain fell today over a wide area of drought-stricken Northern Australia where tens of thousands of cattle have died of thirst and starvation and a million more are threatened.

Cattle ranches estimated to be carrying one-third of the territory's cattle population had their first rain since last year.

The weather office reported clouds were still thickening up and more rain could be expected. Rain is also moving southeastwards into Western Queensland and late reports said it was raining steadily in some areas.

Cattlemen ran rejoicing into the warm drizzle, watching it soak into the blotter-dry land and brown, scorched grass. Hope returned to many a farmer facing almost certain ruin.

But for many more the drought remained. The parched Barkly Tablelands and the Victoria River districts to the east and the west of the north-south track and the Darwin and Gulf districts got none of the rain.

2 Diplomats Dropped From Foreign Office

LONDON, May 20 — (AP) — Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean, the two diplomats whose disappearance has embarrassed Britain for a year now, were dropped quietly from the Foreign Office roster today.

They have been absent without leave for long enough, Foreign Under-Secretary Anthony Nutting explained, and their appointments are being terminated as "a routine disciplinary measure."

Nutting announced the action to the House of Commons Monday in a brief statement on the two diplomats, last seen hurrying out of Britain to France on May 25, 1951.

MacLean, 38, was head of the Foreign Office's American Department. Burgess, 40, had just been recalled from the British Embassy in Washington, where he was second secretary.

There has been no real word of their whereabouts since then.

Speculation is that they have been swallowed up somewhere behind the Iron Curtain.

House Rejects Inquiry In Defence Dept.

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP) — The combined opposition groups in the Commons want a judicial inquiry into defence-department administration. Liberal members are opposed.

The Commons Monday night voted 92 to 42 against a Progressive Conservative motion asking the government for such an inquiry—with Royal Commission powers—to look into recent defence-establishment thefts and investigate the department's work generally.

The motion of George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, won backing for the other two opposition groups, but was beaten down by the government majority after Defence Minister Claxton had rejected it.

Technically it amounted to a want-of-confidence in the government as an amendment to a government motion to go into a committee of supply. The government did not accede to a C.C.F. suggestion that it overlook the technicality and support the proposal.

Everyone In Act

Members of all parties got into the debate, which ran through most of the afternoon and night sittings. More than a dozen took part.

Mr. Drew said continuing reports of theft and fraud in defence establishments make a judicial inquiry necessary. They indicated a "complete breakdown" of administrative supervision within the defence department.

He said he was critical of an inquiry launched by the defence department itself into Petawawa camp thefts and accounting practices generally. The inquiry is being conducted by George S. Currie, Montreal accountant and former deputy defence minister.

Mr. Drew said Mr Currie now is out of the country and the work at Petawawa is being done by his staff, making it little more than an "accounting procedure."

Losses Not High

Mr. Claxton replied that, despite charges of "wholesale looting" in the services, their losses through theft and fraud were lower than for comparable civilian establishments.

Denying "complacency" concerning irregularities, Mr. Claxton said he is not trying to whitewash anything.

But he said those who make sweeping charges should prove them. Charges of wholesale looting cast aspersions on the armed forces, and they resesented it.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Leader, and Solon Low, Social Credit Leader, expressed support for Mr. Drew's proposal.

Mr. Coldwell, who recently declined to support a motion by Mr. Drew for a general Royal Commission inquiry into government efficiency, said he would back this one because it dealt with a problem that was causing widespread public disquiet.

He suggested the government would be well advised to set up the inquiry in the interests of the Defence Department and Mr. Claxton's own position as minister.

Mr. Low said it was the "height of hypocrisy" on the part of government supporters to suggest the opposition was magnifying the case to embarrass the government. If there was no laxity, the inquiry would restore confidence.

Fast Workout

VANCOUVER —(CP)—Two policemen and several reporters were on the scene three minutes after the hold-up alarm sounded from the cashier's office at the bus depot here. Mary Frances Daniel explained "I dropped my cash drawer on the alarm button."

Charge Reds Tried To Loose Bees In Store

MONTREAL, May 20 (CP) — Seven persons, three of whom police said are Communists, were charged Monday with disturbing the peace by trying to let loose a swarm of bees and some frogs in Dupuis Freres department store, where workers have been on strike more than two weeks.

The alleged offences occurred Saturday. The store has been operating on a self-serve basis and offering 20 per cent discount on all marked prices since the strike of some 1,500 employees including sales clerks, mail clerks and warehouse men.

All seven pleaded innocent yesterday and were released on bail of $100 each.

The three named by police as Communists are Gabrielle Dionne, 25, a member of the Youth Friendship League; Sarah Tataigiane, 23, an officer of the National Federation of Labor Youth; and Jean Gadouas, 25, identified as a member of the National Federation of Labor Youth.

Police said Saturday's frogs-and-bees episode was the second attempt by Communists to intervene in the Dupuis Freres strike. On Friday night a group demonstrated against the company's working employees as they left the store and entered special buses. Stones were thrown at the buses and one man was arrested.

100 Reds Take Part

Police said more than 100 Communists took part in the trouble Saturday. The demonstration was broken up by members of the city's anti-subversive squad. Capt. Louis Champagne and Lieut. Boyczum, in charge of the squad, said they recognized the demonstrators as Communists as soon as they entered. Police said they milled with customers and then attempted to release the bees and frogs.

Following the arrest of the seven, the remainder paraded and sang but were quickly ejected from the store.

Leaders of the Catholic Syndicate Union which called the strike repudiated Communist intervention. Police said no present or former employees of the firm were involved.

Ford, Union Negotiators Make Effort To End Strike

WINDSOR, May 20. (CP)—Ford of Canada and Union negotiators were scheduled to meet again today in a further effort to settle a Ford office workers' strike which began Sunday. Following a negotiation session Monday, Joseph B. Kenny, president of Local 240, the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), called on Rhys Sale, Ford president, to enter into negotiations in person.

"If Mr. Sale cares to present himself to the (union) bargaining committee . . . and identify himself, I will be pleased on behalf of the Ford office workers to enter into negotiations with him."

Nine hundred Ford office workers struck Sunday in a wage contract dispute which dates from Aug. 1. They are asking for automatic wage increases within job classifications and for the institution at Ford office of the Rand formula by which office workers would be required to pay dues to the U.A.W. through the checkoff system.

Salary demand is for a $43.90 hike on a monthly basic of $191.56.

Offers $26

The company has offered a $26 increase, partly retroactive to June 1, 1951 and has refused the wage progression system and the Rand formula demands.

Company officials have stated that production organization is such that the Ford plant will be forced to shut down by the end of the week if the strike is not settled. A shutdown would make 12,000 Ford employees idle.

Western Oils Drift Slowly Downward

TORONTO, May 20 (CP) — Western oils drifted slowly downward today in early afternoon stock market dealings. Industrials, golds and base metals showed little trend.

A few lower-priced oils and secondary golds attracted speculative interest but most turnovers were moderate. Volume for the first three hours was 1,551,000 shares.

Retail stores posted a scattered list of fractional advances to form industrials' strongest section. Foods also drew firm support but papers, steels, banks and manufacturing companies slipped.

Western oil losses ranged from pennies to about $1. Britalta, Calgary and Edmonton, Del Rio, Gridoil, New Superior, North Canadian and Pacific Petroleum traded lower.

Base metals were mixed. Cassiar, Quemont, and Silver Miller strengthened while Hudson Bay, International Nickel and Yukeno weakened.

Senior golds made little headway. Giant Yellowknife, Kerr Addison and Lake Shore edged upward but Bralorne, Malartic and Wright-Hargreaves eased.

ers put up "bitter resistance," the report said.

Group of Agitators

The army announcement said:

"A small group of agitators among the 1,600 inmates of one compound in the enclosure had refused an order from U.N. authorities to come out of the compound for transfer to another compound. These agitators are part of a group of non-patients who ordinarily work as attendants in the hospital.

"They were ordered moved because their actions for several days had been impeding proper medical treatment of patient-inmates.

"An order for the group to report to the compound gate or be removed by force was delivered at 0630 hours (6:30 a.m.) when it was again ignored it became obvious that these men were organizing other inmates to resist the removal. U.N. guard troops were ordered into the compound.

Enforce Order

"Meanwhile, all prisoners in this compound were told to move to an open area to avoid possible injury in any disturbances that might be created. Only three prisoners obeyed the order. The U.N. guard detail, composed of combat-wise American infantrymen, then moved in to enforce the original order. The guards were armed but used riot tactics and, without firing a shot, separated the prisoners whose removal had been ordered and brought them out of the compound despite bitter resistance by many of the prisoners.

In the struggle one prisoner was killed, 85 prisoners were injured and later received medical care. Half the injuries were minor. One American guard received a minor injury. By 0900 hours (9 a.m.-8 p.m. E.D.T. Monday—U.N. authorities reported the 'situation well in hand' and said order had been completely restored in the camp. An official investigation is being conducted."

Canadian Producers Up Newsprint Price

TORONTO, May 20 (CP) — A $10-a-ton increase in the price of newsprint to United States users, effective June 15, will be put into effect by at least some Canadian producers. The increase does not apply to Canada.

Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Ltd., queried about reports that the increase had been made, confirmed that it had so advised its export customers. It is understood that at least one other large Canadian company has given similar advice to its American customers.

Charge Reds More Vicious In Blocking Korean Truce

MUNSAN, Korea, May 20 (AP)—United Nations truce negotiators today accused the Communists of "seeking every vicious means" to block a Korean armistice because of their "fear of the truth."

The especially-bitter 62-minute session at Panmunjom produced no progress on the lone issue blocking an armistice—what to do about captured Reds who do not want to return to Communist territory. The Communists want them back.

The truce delegations will meet again Wednesday at 11 a.m. (10 p.m. Tuesday EDT).

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, closing out his last days as head of the Allied truce team, said that in 10½ months of negotiations "I have not heard such vicious, degrading propaganda as that thrown at us today."

Joy declared the Allied stand that no prisoner be forced to return to Red control is governed by the humanitarian principles of the United Nations.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il opened the session by declaring the "public confessions" of Brig.-Gen. Charles Colson "have killed and buried the myth that our captured personnel refuse to be repatriated."

Colson wrote a letter to Red prisoners in the Koje Island stockade to gain the release of Brig.-Gen. Francis T. Dodd, held as a hostage. The letter has since been repudiated by top U.N. officers.

Nam Il accused the Allies of "inhumane treatment and murderous violence" against captured Reds.

Joy reiterated that the Allied proposal of April 28 is "firm, final and irrevocable." This plan called for the return of 70,000 of 169,000 Red soldiers and civilian internees held by the Allies. The Reds in a counter-proposal demanded that 132,000 captured Red soldiers be returned.

Can't Remember —Case Collapses

A woman whose face was so badly injured it "looked like a steam roller had run over it," according to a crown witness, said in police court today she did not remember how it happened.

Still wearing a metal brace on her fractured jaw, Jean Godfrey said she did not recall telling how she received the injury when crown attorney John A. Bradshaw, O.P.P. Constable Thomas Fitzpatrick and another officer visited her in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Her testimony collapsed the crown's case against William Godfrey, with whom she has lived for 12 years, who was charged with assaulting and occasioning her actual bodily harm on April 27.

Declared Hostile

She was carefully cross examined by Mr. Bradshaw after Magistrate W. R. Philp has declared her a hostile witness but she continued to deny knowledge of how it happened, or talking about how it happened to Mr. Bradshaw and the police officers. She also denied also for a justice of the peace when in hospital and said she was now back living with Mr. Godfrey in his Leahy Lane cottage.

After dismissing the charge for lack of evidence, Magistrate Philp ordered "Jean Godfrey, stand up. Anyone can see through the whole matter quite easily. You have adopted a certain attitude and no one can have much sympathy for you."

Eva Peron

Fewer than a dozen persons in Canada knew of the incident, the paper says.

"Shown wan and pale in recent news photographs, Eva Peron — the most powerful woman politically in the Western Hemisphere —is one of th few persons in the world to receive treatment from the Canadian-developed cobalt bomb."

Believed Cancer

Radio-active cobalt gives out radiation just as X-rays do. Canadian scientists have succeeded in packing more radio-activity into a given amount of cobalt than have the scientists of any other country. By this high degree of concentration, doctors are able to work with a concentrated beam—particularly valuable in deep-seated cancers where efforts are made to avoid use of the radio-activity beyond the area to be treated.

Mrs. Peron—known as Evita, or "Little Eva," to millions of Argentines—underwent a major operation in Buenos Aires last November. She had been ill several weeks with what doctors called acute anaemia. But evidence that she had been suffering from cancer came when it was learned that she had been treated by Dr. George T. Pack, a leading cancer specialist from New York. In December, Argentina made Dr. Pack a Grand Officer of the Order of Civilian Merit. President Peron attended the presentation ceremony in Buenos Aires.

Ingenious Cop Hooks Fish, Lands Canoeist

LINDSAY, May 20. (ENS)—"Such ingenuity on the part of the police officer is to be highly commended" stated Police Chief Arthur Webster here Tuesday. "However, perhaps Constable Hunter may have exaggerated a little."

The chief was explaining an incident which took place Monday evening before midnight. Constable John Hunter was on duty. He got a call to investigate a man in a canoe in the Scugog River, the report came from a factory night watchman. Constable Hunter arrived on the scene to find a man, apparently intoxicated in a canoe trying to get the outboard motor of the canoe going.

Afraid the man might fall into the river in his attempt, Constable Hunter attempted to call him to shore. But the man in the canoe didn't hear him. His ingenuity came to the fore. He walked up the bank, borrowed a casting rod and plug from a fisherman and tried to cast the plug over the canoe and hook on to it.

He was unsuccessful in catching the canoe. But he caught a fish. According to his report to the chief, "It was the biggest pickerel I ever saw but it got under a log boom at the sawmill and got away."

The commotion of hooking the fish attracted the man in the canoe. He came ashore of his own will to investigate. Constable Hunter nabbed him and had more trouble landing him than he did the fish. Finally he got him in the police cruiser. Unable to handle the obstreperous canoeist and drive the cruiser too, Constable Hunter engaged the night watchman as a driver. The watchman, unfamiliar with a gear shift attached to a steering wheel, was unable to get the cruiser out of first gear. However with the constable grunting advice from the rear seat, the trio finally managed to make it to the county jail. As a result Gordon "Red" McCabe is charged with drunkenness and Chief Webster is between the devil and the deep blue Scugog as it were. He doesn't know whether he should examine the town's ancient bylaws to find a charge of having care and control of a canoe, "while intoxicated" or whether to chastise Constable Hunter for turning in such an incredible report.

Battle For Members Begins In Divided Textile Union

BOSTON, May 20 (AP) — A C.I.O.-A.F.L. battle for members was under way today as George Baldanzi, former C.I.O. official who bolted to the A.F.L. announced his organization will throw all its resources into a drive to organize southern textile workers.

Baldanzi, former vice-president of the C.I.O. Textile Workers Union switched to the A.F.L. United Textile Workers Monday and said he hopes to bring 100,000 C.I.O. members into the A.F.L. fold.

The switch by Baldanzi stemmed from a recent convention battle in Cleveland where Emile Rieve defeated him for the presidency of the T.W.U.A. That culminated a long dispute between Baldanzi and Rieve over executive and organizational matters.

The C.I.O. union claims 330,000 members in the United States and Canada. The A.F.L. claims 90,000 members in its textile division.

Baldanzi, appointed A. F. L. union's director of the National Textile Organization said that 53,000 already have shifted from the C.I.O. to the A.F.L. in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, the Carolinas and Virginia.

He said he took a salary cut from $13,500 to $7,500 to go with the A.F.L.

Rieve said that his union has various mills and that even if workers secede, the union intends to stick by its agreement.

In Hamilton, representatives of some 5,000 T.W.U.A. workers have voted to secede from the C.I.O. union. Jack Robinson, Hamilton T.W.U.A. director, is a supporter of Baldanzi. He and Sam Baron, who was fired last year as Canadian director, head the secession movement in Canada.

In Thompsonville, Conn., Local 2188 of the T.W.U.A., composed of 2,400 employees of the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet Company, announced it had voted to leave the C.I.O. and join the A.F.L.-United Textile Workers.

The local supported Baldanzi at the Cleveland convention.

In Maynard, Mass., however, Local 140, representing employees of the Assabet Mills, voted to remain in the C.I.O., denouncing Baldanzi for leading a secession movement.

In answer to a question at a news conference Monday an A.F.L. spokesman said that $250,000 might be only a "tiny part" of the total required to bring workers into the A.F.L. fold.

Meanwhile, Rieve declared that Baldanzi and other seceding T.W.U.A. administrators and organizers could not deliver more than 25 per cent of the 100,000 C.I.O. members they said would join the A.F.L. within a year. He said the national C.I.O. organization has placed its resources at the dsposal of his union.

In inviting his former C.I.O. colleagues to enter the A.F.L. camp, Baldanzi urged them to "join with us in a new crusade to build a union based on democratic control by the membership."

Fire At Terminal

Another house adjoining the terminal was damaged. A 10-room empty brick house had its roof burned.

Move Furniture

Residents of the district removed furniture and valuables from their homes as a gentle wind spread their roofs with sparks, touching off several small fires.

Every available piece of fire-fighting equipment in the city was used in fighting the blaze including a ladder truck bought several years ago which was used for the first time. A fire truck from the North Bay R.C.A.F. station also aided city firemen for the first time. In all, four fire trucks were in use.

Rotary Aims Parallel Salvation Army

"Rotary and the Salvation Army have a great deal in common," Commander R. Dalziel, commander of the Salvation Army in Canada, said at the Rotary luncheon meeting Monday.

"Your aims of fun fellowship, faith and service run parallel with the aims of the Army."

Commander Dalziel briefly outlined the history of the Salvation Army. He explained that it was organized in Canada when there was a chance meeting of two members of the Army in the market place of London, Ont.

"Most of you are familiar with the work of the Army. There is no need to explain it," he said. "Our methods have changed, but we still follow the precepts of our founder, William Booth, who knew that man not only has an immortal soul but an immortal soul in a physical body. And that it is no good to talk religion to a man with an empty stomach.

"Out of this belief came the fusing of the Army's spiritual and social work."

Gave Concert

Commander Dalziel is in Peterborough with the Salvation Army International Staff Band of London, England, who gave a concert Monday night in the Brock Arena. The band is touring Canada this month to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the Salvation Army in Canada. The members of the band were guests at the Rotary meeting.

Following Commander Dalziel's address the band formed itself into a male choir and sang two selections, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Just a Smile."

Bandsman Brian Cooper played a piano solo, Turkish March, by Handel.

Commander Dalziel was introduced by Major Douglas Sharp, of the Peterborough Salvation Army.

The appreciation of the club to Commander Dalziel and the members of the band was expressed by Harry Northrop.

The following guests and visiting Rotarians were introduced by the Rev. A. A. Mathews, of George St. United Church Les Epstein, Portland, Oregon; the Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon, of Trinity United Church; A. J. Smith, Don Earl and Charles Ede, all of Peterborough; D. Smith, Oshawa; Norm Riley, Stratford; Ralph Buttler, Richmond Hill; Alex Cadman, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Ken Best, Woodstock; Brig. Gage, Belleville; Bandmaster Gerald Routley, Peterborough.

HELSINKI, Finland, May 20—(Reuters) — Finnish coastguard cutters will patrol off Russia's naval base at Porkkala, about six miles west of Helsinki, to prevent private yachtsmen straying into Soviet waters during the summer Olympic games, the Finnish press reported Monday.

Labor Relations Robb's Topic At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, May 20 — (ENS).—Malcolm Robb, well known Belleville lawyer, addressed the Rotary Club telling them "Labor relations is your business" on Monday.

Mr. Robb said that labor relations is "A problem, which unsolved, can lead this country to economic breakdown and disaster." He said the interests of labor and management were identical. It is in the interest of both to produce efficiently and cheaply, with as high a profit as possible. but to also keep consumer prices low. Henry Ford was probably the first man to see that management had to pay labor well, in order to give them an incentive to produce.

Mr. Robb spoke regarding trade unions and the problems connected with them. He told of the recent trouble with United States Steel. Forty years ago this firm forced their employees to work 12 hours a day, seven days a week, and 60 per cent of the employees were earning less than the minimum cost of living. During the same period, the firm used over 600 million dollars out of profits to pay dividends and to purchase equipment. They bought justice in the courts. This brought about the formation of unions and with the unions came strikes- violence and other problems.

The labor-management problem in Canada and the U.S. today is as great as ever. Mr. Robb told of the excellent labor relations enjoyed by a number of firms, who operate on a profit-sharing basis. He said there had been no per capita production increase during the five years 1945-50, but management had put over one billion dollars back into business during the same period. This can only mean higher prices and increased living costs. The farmer is the only individual who has made a per capita production increase, and this amounts to 29 per cent.

About two per cent of the industry in both Canada and the U.S. is operated on a profit-sharing basis, and these firms are producing more and more, at less and less cost, and can undersell their competitors on an expanding market. These firms give labor a stake in the business and the idea pays off. Mr. Robb mentioned one Hamilton firm that has reduced the price of the article it produces by 20 per cent during the past 10 years, while other companies in the same field have had to increase consumer prices 224 per cent. U.S. Senate investigators have found no failures in business in any firm operated on this principle.

Speaking of the communistic infiltration into the trade unions, Mr. Robb said that "Men like Mr. Millard, who is a militant socialist and is determined to crush free enterprise in this country," cannot succeed if we can take stock of the situation and come up with intelligent capitalism. He said that the situation in the country today is due to apathy, lethargy and neglect on the part of the average citizen, and that it could only be corrected if each citizen decided that they should do something about it, and do it now.

Mr. Robb was introduced by Bud Davidson, who told of the speaker's background, saying he had served overseas with the R.C.A.F., had won the D.F.C., and was named to the Judge Advocate's Board with the R.C.A.F. He is a director of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and takes an active interest in sports. P. G. O'Sullivan moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

Attendance, for the first time in many months, was 100 per cent at the Monday meeting. Guests were on hand from Toronto, Belleville and Cobourg.

Vern Spencer, chairman of the Easter Seal Campaign, said that collections were up this year. The club collected $307 last year and have collected about $445 this year, with more to come before the campaign closes this month.

Home For Officers

ASBURY PARK, N.J., May 20—(AP) — General Albert Orsborn, international leader of the Salvation Army, officiated Monday at ground-breaking ceremonies for a home by the sea for retired Salvation Army officers. Orsborn, who lives in London, is on the last leg of a 30,000-mile inspection trip to Salvation Army installations in Canada, the U.S., Hawaii and Japan.

Bus Strike Ends

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20 — (AP)—Pacific Greyhound buses began rolling today after 79 strikebound days in seven western states. A negotiated contract grants an immediate 4.6 per cent pay increase to some 3,000 drivers and station employees; a gradual change from a six-day 48-hour week to five days and 40 hours with no loss in pay, and costs-of-living increases if the federal index rises.

Could Have Had Goods If Asked

A reference to the current investigations into army camp thefts at Petawawa cropped up in police court Monday when evidence was being heard on a theft charge against Frank Scully, 38, 468 Stewart St.

Scully, assistant caretaker at the Armouries, pleaded guilty to stealing a chair and a pair of boots belonging to the 50th Heavy Anti Aircraft Regir

In giving eviden... Detective Sergeant William Clarke said that it was while investigating "other thefts" at the Armouries that Scully was seen leaving with a used packing case and the chair. He said Scully could have had the chair which was going to be thrown out anyway, had he asked for it. The boots, Clarke said were found at Scully's house when a search warrant was obtained, and Scull... admitted they were army pro... "The matter would not have ... taken as far as it has, if it had not been for the recent offences at Petawawa and other camps," Clarke said.

At the beginning of the trial, Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw asked that the charge which alleged the value of the goods stolen to be more than $25 be changed to less than $25.

Magistrate W. R. Philp fined Scully $... and $2.50 costs or 10 days in ...

Pumping Station Threatened By High Waters

COBOURG, May 20 (ENS). — Faced with a very serious threat to the water pumping station because high lake waters have eaten the bank to within 10 feet of the southwest corner of the building, the Public Utilities Commission has engaged the service of a consulting engineer who will inspect the situation Wednesday. Following his recommendations, the commission will hold a special meeting to take immediate steps to start whatever measures the engineer advises.

For several weeks the lake has been cutting away at the bank and last week a tall tree, whose roots had held the ground together, fell into the water when waves ate further into the bank and with the uprooting of the tree the lawn was broken up to within 10 feet of the corner of the building.

How solid the foundation footings are is not known, but members of the Utilities Commission are taking no chances on a disaster to the pumping station. Temporary retaining wall of rocks and cribbing has been built, but it is realized that permanent measures have to be started at once.

Worker Breaks Nose

COBOURG, May 20 (ENS). — Falling about 15 feet from an oil tank being built for the Imperial Oil Company at the waterfront, John P. Lavis, 20, of Cobourg, was injured Monday afternoon. He was taken to hospital where an examination revealed a fractured nose and bruises.

Campbellford IOOF Celebrates Birthday

CAMPBELLFORD, May 20 — (ENS)—Members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows celebrated the 133rd anniversary of the institution of the order on Sunday by attending services in Christ Anglican Church.

The parade to the church was led by the Campbellford Citizen's Band, followed by a detachment of the Cantons from Peterborough, Cobourg and Trenton. Members of the local lodge, No. 248 and the Loch Lomond Rebekah Lodge followed.

The Rev John McKibbin welcomed the lodges to Christ Church and expressed his own personal pleasure in sharing the service with members of the order. He delivered a thought-provoking sermon on the appropriate theme: "The Parable of the Good Samaritan", and pointed out how the three links of Oddfellowship—"Friendship, Love and Truth", fitted into this immortal story of the man who fell among thieves on the Jericho road.

Leg Over Leg Toward A National Library

It has been generally agreed for at least fifty years that Canada should have a national library. Perhaps it would have been better for the project if there had been some opposition to it; that might have aroused interest in it and a partisan spirit which would have shortened the time between the conception and the realization of the idea. Our progress toward a national library has been like that of the persistent but far from speedy animal in the nursery rhyme—

Leg over leg
As the dog went to Dover;
When he came to a stile
He jumped over.

An important stile was jumped over when Mr. St. Laurent let it be known that he would seek approval of a Bill to establish a national library. When the Bill is passed, as of course it will be, it will only be needful to get the money, build the building, acquire the books and the staff, and set the thing going. Some of us, if we are very, very much favoured, may live to see the completion of this worthy project. Another fifty years is a safe estimate for the time it will consume.

* * *

Nobody who takes any interest in such things is likely to deny that we need a national library. One of its main jobs would be to look after important literary Canadiana, and we hope that it will either include, or work very closely with, the Dominion Archives. This latter institution does grand work, but it is hampered by lack of facilities, and it is not so well known to Canadians as it should be; the Archives, we are told, contain much interesting matter which has not yet been thoroughly examined by scholars, and if Archives and Library work as one, some important discoveries in Canadian history are virtually certain to be made. A National Library will serve, it is to be hoped, as a centre and an inspiration toward literary scholarship in the Canadian field.

* * *

We would not presume to give advice to those who will be charged with the direction of a National Library. To Parliament, however, we may make a suggestion, and it is this: why not copy a good law in force in Great Britain, which rules that every book, pamphlet and publication appearing within the realm be required to forward a copy, free, to the British Museum, and the libraries of Oxford and Cambridge; surely everything published in Canada should find a home in a National Library? We do not imagine that anyone would quarrel with such a law, and although it would result in the accumulation of much that appeared to be worthless, it would provide a complete record of much that will be of interest in the future.

* * *

It cannot be said that the present Government is neglecting the Massey Report, and we think that they are tackling it from the right end; they are doing the obvious and generally agreed-upon things first. They have given substantial help to the universities. They are doing something practical about getting us a National Library. These are very real cultural benefits about which there can be no quarrelling. When these obvious and long-delayed matters have been attended to we hope that they will look into the more controversial chapters of the Report, and see what can be done in fields upon which agreement is not complete. Leg over leg, as the dog went to Dover . . . but he was a wise dog, who did not attempt to fly, and at long last he reached Dover.

What, No Dialect?

The Windsor Star, discussing dialects in Britain, makes the extraordinary statement that "Canada is peculiarly free of dialects." This forces us to think that the Star is incapable of detecting a dialect less obvious than that used, let us say, by Amos and Andy. Canada has plenty of dialects, many of them extremely interesting. Of course, many people believe that the way in which they speak is the way in which the Almighty, at the moment of Creation, ordained that a human being should speak, and that every variation therefrom is either an affectation or a dialect. But dialect maps of this country, and the evidence of recording machines, gives plenty of reason to believe that Canada is rich in dialect.

Canadian dialects very often have their roots in British dialects, which is understandable. But there are a few words which many Canadians pronounce unlike other people. One of these is "wash," which is often pronounced as if spelled "worrsh." Why? And why is it difficult for an Ontario Canadian to say "squirrel," which he changes to "squrrl"? And how often is stirrup pronounced "sturrp," and syrup as "surrp"? Are these things not dialect? They are, of course, only a few oddities which may be heard in many parts of the country, and are not therefore, regional dialect.

Good Canadian speech is free from illiteracies, and is sometimes mistaken for the speech of the educated Scot or Irishman, particularly in the British Isles. But good Canadian speech is still rarer than it should be, and the multitude of those who worrsh the squrrl in surrp is great.

But no dialects to be heard in Canada? And such a statement from the western end of Western Ontario? Open the windows at the Star, and listen again!

Research Into Algae

Two correspondents today write of scientific work that is being done at the University of Wisconsin to develop a cheap chemical which will destroy algae in water, but will not harm the fish or mar the water's potable qualities. In the middle of last autumn we heard a rumour of work being done at Wisconsin, and secured from that University a report, which we published at that time. The Department of Lands and Forests is aware of this scientific development; probably directly from the University of Wisconsin, and certainly indirectly, for we sent a copy of the news item to Mr. Scott, the Minister.

The practical application of the new chemical, and the propriety of its use in the Kawarthas to try to combat the algae nuisance, must be considered very carefully. We understand that as yet the Wisconsin investigations are hardly out of the science laboratories. There is always a necessary time lag between a scientific discovery and its general use.

Last November, before the provincial elections, the Honourable Harold Scott told audiences in this district that a full investigation of the algae problem would be undertaken. Several weeks ago we reported that $20,000 had been provided for field and laboratory investigation, a co-operative study under the aegis of the National Research Council, the University of Toronto, the Department of Lands and Forests, and the Department of Health. We hope that this investigation (which presumably will include a thorough examination of the Wisconsin discovery) will quickly bear fruit and lead to some positive attack this year upon the algae which are polluting the Kawarthas.

We are happy to have the reminder of the work of the Wisconsin botanists and chemists; any other correspondents who have anything to contribute to this question will be gladly heard by us and our concerned readers.

He Helped The Police

The maintenance of law and order is a special responsibility of the police; but also a general obligation on all citizens. Very often, however, a bystander witnessing a disturbance, cautiously moves away, and leaves it for somebody else to settle. Not so with a Homewood Avenue man last Saturday midnight. A fracas developed in a restaurant which this person was just leaving. One lone policeman was there to cope with four scufflers. He asked the policeman if he wished help in quelling the rowdiness. Yes; the policeman did. The bystander thereupon proceeded to help.

The four rowdy men were eventually got under control, spent the week-end in jail, and yesterday morning came under the properly stern eye of the magistrate, who fined them adequately, with alternative jail sentences. The policeman's civilian helper got for his pains a broken nose, a blood-stained topcoat and torn shirt and suit. We hope that this is not the only reward he gets for his voluntary assistance: a doctor's bill, a cleaner's bill, a tailor's bill, and bruises.

NOTES AND COMMENT

A British army chaplain complained last week about the "abysmal ignorance" of young people today and cited one soldier who thought that Good Friday was a sort of batman to Robinson Crusoe. Perhaps the parson was too serious to know when he was being spoofed. Anybody with the wits to associated Friday with Robinson Crusoe is wise enough to remember that Good Friday is a holiday and a holy day.

"In Mediterranean tourist cities, visitors are greeted with gay music and garlands of flowers. In Hawaii the newcomer is wooed with smiles and music. In Paris the stranger is welcomed with courtesy and charm. But in Vancouver the visiting motorist is liable to have his parked car carted off to the police station and kept there until he finds out where it is and pays a $3 towing charge." Thus says the Vancouver Province. Well, self-criticism is a wholesome thing, but out experience in Mediterranean cities, Hawaii and Paris is that the alluring greetings there are more expensive in the end than the $3 Vancouver exacts. At least in Vancouver you know what you are paying for.

'Civilized' Food Has Dangers

By SIR EDWARD MELLANBY, F.R.S.

THERE are many persons whose business in life is to study what people like to eat, and for their living they endeavour to make use of these instinctive preferences. They know, for instance, that softness and easy mastication, sweetness, flavour and colour in their proper places are highly appreciated. But the food professor does not confine his activities to satisfying the tastes of the consumer, although he must take this into account or go out of business. Often he devises methods which make food more easily available and with better keeping qualities.

Thus when butter is reduced in quantity, he produces a margarine which is almost as palatable. When sugar is scarce, he uses substitutes of intense sweetness such as saccharin or sodium cyclohexylsulphamate. When fat is scarce he proceeds to discover substances such as glyceryl mono-stearate and polyoxyethylene compounds which in small quantities give to the food a quality usually produced by fats. He finds methods of preserving food like bread from going stale and dry and fats from going rancid, and insecticides for increasing the yields of farm and orchard crops.

THE PROCESSING of foods has become a large and important industry, especially in recent years. How important can be seen from an excellent book on the subject recently published—"Townsman's Food," Magnus Pyke. Here will be found most interesting descriptions of many modern methods used by manufacturers in processing foods. Hardly any foodstuff escapes their attention, so that anyone who makes up his mind to consume only natural and untreated food will have some difficulty in doing so unless he can live on the directly supplied produce of the farm, dairy and garden. Where are we going in this matter?

The magnitude of the problem can be seen in the report of the Delaney Committee set up by the United States Senate in 1949 to consider the subject. This committee has stated that there are 704 substances used in food, and of these 276 have not been established as harmless and therefore form a potential problem of public health. Dr. Pyke says in his book that the food processor has chemicals to meet every need—preservatives, emulsifiers, colouring agents, flavours of all kinds, flour "improvers" and bleachers, anti-staling and anti-rancidity agents, sweetening agents, anti-oxidants and anti-septics.

THESE SUBSTANCES have no food value, and even if they are harmless some of them reduce the nutritional value of food, so that the consumer must buy and eat more of the treated food to meet his needs, a situation eminently satisfying to the food manipulator. If the consumer of the food and its producer are contented, is it anybody's job to interfere in such cases? Ought the consumer to be protected against his own ignorance and waste of money?

The question of the toxicity of food additives is a more serious matter, and where it has been shown by animal tests that these unnatural chemical substances are injurious, everybody would agree that they must not be used. Even the State usually steps in at this stage. But the great difficulty here is that medical and scientific knowledge of the harmful effect of unnatural chemical substances is very small, and new knowledge is hard to come by. Even if these chemical agents do not acutely produce ill health, they may well do so when eaten over a long period. The law of this country and the United States allows the addition of chemical substances to food so long as they are not known to be harmful. Again and again, however, some of these substances have been found to be poisonous long after they had been in wide use.

THERE WAS AN INTERVAL of nearly thirty years between the general adoption of the treatment of flour by nitrogen trichloride as an "improver" before it was discovered that such flour, or biscuits made from it, had killed many thousands of dogs with running fits. Yet we are still eating such flour. Dulcin had been in use for 50 years as a sweeting agent before its harmful effects were demonstrated. The azo-dye, butter-yellow, had been used as a colouring agent for many years before its cancer-producing properties in animals were discovered. Think also of the enormous quantities of liquid paraffin—that popular laxative—which all of us must have ingested in cakes and salad dressing before its use was stopped in 1945.

The fact is that we are playing with a potentially dangerous procedure and it is time the public took an interest in the matter. There is plenty of evidence on the medical side that we are making some serious mistakes in our present living habits, and these must be tracked down.

IN SPITE OF the enormous reduction in killing diseases brought about by modern medical discovery, a number of others have become more common and their causes have defied scientific investigation. They have no relation to poverty and indeed are more frequently found in the well-to-do, nor can they be explained on an ageing population basis. They include gastric and duodenal ulcers and appendicitis, high blood-pressure, heart disease (coronary thrombosis), some forms of cancer, anxiety neuroses and chronic nerve disorders. The statistician seems to have nailed down cigarette smoking as a factor in the recent enormous increase in cancer of the lung.

It may well be that others of these illnesses may ultimately be traced to food and especially to unnatural chemical substances used by the food technologist. At least in view of our past experience, the hypothesis is worth exploring. What action should be taken is a matter for consideration. We can, of course, continue as at present to wait for the decisions of the active United States organization and follow its lead. It might be better and would certainly be more dignified, to take a hand ourselves and have toxicological research on these substances started under official sponsorship. A Government committee is scrutinising the subject, but active research is also needed.

The parson in the course of his rounds, called upon a retired sea captain.

"Hullo, padre," greeted the latter, "it's a long time since you looked us up."

"Yes," replied the parson, "but I've been extraordinary busy lately. Today, for instance, I married four couples in twenty minutes."

"Not bad going, sir—twelve knots."

Electronic Brain And Chess Automaton

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

When the Duke of Edinburgh lost a game of "tick-tack-toe" to one of the "electronic brain" machines not long ago, the defeat was hardly a surprise. If we may believe the claims made for this machine, the est Prince Philip could have hoped for was a draw, since the electronic brain is said to lack the human capacity to err. If that is so, we predict that playing games with machines governed by electronic brains will not become very popular; there isn't much satisfaction in an impersonal contest in which no better than a draw can be gained.

This was not the first occasion royalty had faced a robot. Writing in The New York Times, Jorge Joveyn tells of the game-playing automaton that was perhaps the most famous in history. Its name was "The Turk"; it was the sensation of London a little over 125 years ago, and it was constantly referred to by a human pronoun—which eventually proved descriptively accurate. The Turk had come to London, Mr. Joveyn notes, after bamboozling royalty and commonfolks alike on the Continent, and his forte was nothing so simple as tick-tack-toe; if was chess. He had met and played Frederick the Great, the Grand Duke of Russia, and Napoleon, who, whatever his military genius, was a notoriously poor chess player and an equally poor loser.

The Turk was born in Vienna in 1770, the brainchild of Baron Wolfgang von Kempelen, a brilliant hydraulic engineer. Created primarily to relieve the boredom of Maria Theresa's court, The Turk was a life-sized, turbaned and robed wooden figure seated behind a wooden chest six feet long, two feet wide and three feet high. Inside the chest were brass fittings—ostensibly machinery—hinged partitions and a collapsible drawer, all so ingeniously arranged that a player could be concealed and not be seen even when doors fore and aft on the chest were opened and candlelight allowed to shine through.

The Turk always played white, and the chess pieces used were magnetized so that they attracted metal disks arranged beneath the board. Thus the concealed player could note each move, duplicate it on his own small peg set, and so follow the game. The concealed player put the automaton in play by manipulating a crank and lever. With great grinding, groaning and clanking. The Turk's left arm—he always played left-handed —would hover over a piece, lift it with mechanical fingers and make the chosen move.

The Turk had an even more spectacular career in the United States. Operated by two men, John Maelzel and William Schlumberger—the latter a chess-master and an inside man if ever there was one—he had a long and profitable run. Eventually, however, the fraud was exposed by another chessmaster who had worked with Maelzel in Europe; the Turk was driven into retirement, and in 1840 was put into the Chinese Museum in Philadelphia, to be destroyed when that building burned down fourteen years later.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin . . . For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not. For the good that I would do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do. Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me. For I delight in the law of God after the inward man: but I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death? I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. (Rom. 7:14, 18-25.)

❖ ❖ ❖

For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many), but to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we by him. (1 Cor. 8:5, 6.)

Letters To The Editor

CURE FOR ALGAE?

Sir: I quote an article from the May issue of "Popular Mechanics" that should be of interest and I hope that you will give it publicity and see that it reaches the proper authorities.

"Chemical Kills Algae In Lakes

Better swimming in small lakes is foretold through use of a chemical which kills blue-green algae. These algae are responsible for heavy summer growth in lakes. Extremely small doses of the chemical developed by University of Wisconsin botanists will kill the undesired algae without disturbing fish or other plant growth."

SINCERELY,
JACK TOWNSEND

Young's Point

Sir: As a regular summer visitor to Stony Lake (guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Beal, Peterborough and Big Island), I am interested and concerned about the bloom on the lake caused by blue-green algae and glad to learn that steps are being taken to correct this condition.

I thought perhaps the article which occurred in the March 8 issue of Science News Letter and quoted in the New York State Conservationist April-May 1952 (official publication of the N. Y. State Conservation Department) might not have come to your attention so I am quoting here what was said in that latter publication: "2-3 dichloronaphtho-quinone, Science News Letter March 8 says, will control the bloom of blue-green algae responsible for many of the unpleasant effects of heavy summer growths in lakes. According to the report extremely small doses of the chemical will kill the bloom-producing algae, but will not affect other plant growth in the lakes. The compound was found by University of Wisconsin botanists (Dr. Folke Skoog, George Fitzgerald and Gerald C. Geroff. . . Sc. News Letter) when they tested more than 300 substances looking for a substitute for copper sulphate commonly used as a lake algaecide."

The article goes on to say that this quinone chemical is apparently harmless to fish and other organisms in the water but that addition tests must be made to determine its effect after long exposure. Unlike copper sulphate the chemical does not form a permanent toxic deposit on the bottom of a lake. Science News says that the above-mentioned scientists are to report their further results in the July isue of the journal "Sewage and Industrial Wastes" and this report should be of great interest to all those concerned about the condition of Stony Lake

Very truly yours,
H. THORPE.

DIRTY WORK IN NASSAU

Sir: Where is the eye for rural beauty of our country road workers? Not at Nassau for sure. This past weekend the River Road got its yearly dose of calcium. Where are the paper bags supposed to be? Just drive north of Nassau on the River Road directly in front of three cottages and you will find one pile. Drive east of the corner on the township road to Douro and you will see another heap. Why? Is there nowhere to dispose of them at the county yard, instead of making an eyesore of our country roads? It would be interesting to see the reaction if they were piled in front of said workers' houses. Where was the patrol foreman? On a bender or pickerel fishing? Come on fellows, take them away. Is the county not paying you or were you afraid you would work overtime? You must have had plenty of time when you drove up a township road to dispose of them or were you putting in time on said road, afraid you would get to the barns too soon, and by the way it is not one of the roads that gets its spring dose.

NASSAU TAXPAYER.

Frozen Blood, New Braces To Help Hemophiliacs

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA).—A little boy in Michigan scared the daylights out of his playmates recently by telling them, "My mommy keeps blood in the freezer."

The strange part of his statement was that it was absolutely true. And the wonderful part is that the blood-in-the-freezer is one of two developments which are making life a little more bearable for the nation's hemophiliacs.

Hemophilia is the strange, rare malady which prevents the blood from clotting. In a normal person, blood automatically clots in about 10 minutes. In a hemophiliac, it may take two hours. That is often too late.

Induces Clotting

When a hemophiliac is injured, a quick transfusion of fresh blood —from a normal person—can induce clotting. But the blood must be fresh; the anti-hemophilia factor in the blood vanishes in from two to four hours after it is donated. Fresh blood is often difficult to locate in emergencies.

• • •

But, as of May 1, a new technique of quick frozen blood plasma has been inaugurated by the Blood Transfusion Association, and made available to the Hemophilia Foundation. This quick-freezing retains the anti-hemophilia factor, and such plasma can be stored in freezers for long periods.

That Michigan mother — like other mothers of hemophiliac children—keeps the quick frozen plasma in her freezer for emergencies. A doctor can easily use it for a needed transfusion to stop the bleeding.

This advance was discussed by Dr. Henry H. Jordan, an orthopedic surgeon at New York's Lenox Hill Hospital, who has been working closely with hemophiliacs for two years. It is in Jordan's department that the second development is taking place.

• • •

Affects Joints

Most persons born with the disease, if they survive for two or three years, have had hemorrhages in at least one joint. Usually, it is the knee that is affected and this hemophilic arthritis, as it is called, produces such a stiffening that the child is unable to walk.

Previously, nothing much was done for these people. Jordan cites one case of a child who had spent his entire life in a hospital, unable to walk for 11 years. Treatment was difficult, because of the tendency for additional hemorrhages.

Under arrangements made by the Hemophilia Foundation, patients with hemophilic arthritis are now treated at Lenox Hill Hospital. The first step is to straighten the affected limb, and then it is stabilized to prevent any re-buckling of the joint.

This is done by a slow, careful, painless application of casts, notably the Quengel Cast, a hinged affair of plaster of Paris. It is the cast that straightens the limbs, and it is a leather-and-steel hand-made brace—costing $150—that keeps it straight.

The brace is fitted with adjustable springs, an arrangement developed by the Army, it was explained by Dr. Jordan at a prize-winning exhibit at the New York State Medical Association Convention in New York. The springs are tense enough to keep the weak joint from giving way again. The whole thing is designed to distribute the pressure, rather than concentrating it in one spot which might cause a fresh haemorrhage.

More Cases

The rarity of the disease has prevented any great amount of work in the past. But the Hemophilia Foundation has changed that. Jordan cites his own experience as an example. For the first 28 years of his career, he had only two cases of hemophilia; since the Foundation began bringing patients to New York he has had 29 cases.

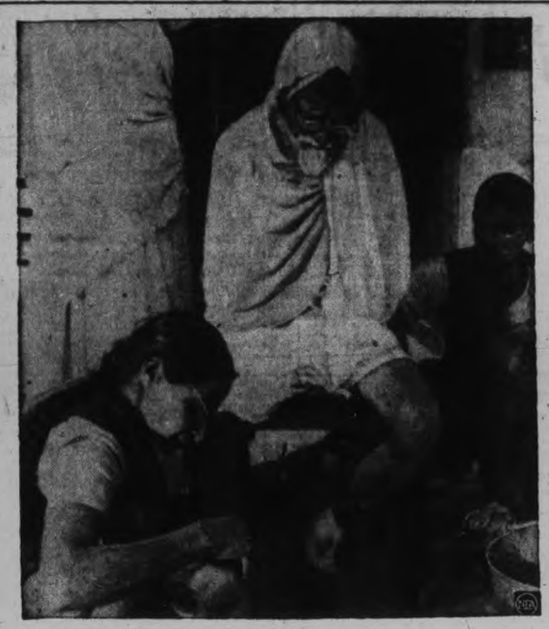
The result is, Jordan says, "the most rewarding experiences of my life." One 15-year-old boy was brought to the hospital. He had hemophilic arthritis in every joint. He couldn't sit, stand or walk.

One by one, the boy's joints were straightened. It took eight months. Now he can stand. He is currently being fitted with shoes. They expect he'll be able to walk very soon.

Singers Praised

FREDERICTON—(CP)—Adjudicator Reginald Green at the Fredericton Music Festival told the bilingual Nashwaaksis Memorial School choir: "You don't know how lucky you are in having a teacher who can speak the French language well and instruct you in the singing of French songs."

X-RAYS OF HOPE—Dr. Henry H. Jordan, at the Hemophilia Foundation exhibit at the New York State Medical Association Convention, points to X-rays of his patients. They tell a story of people who couldn't walk, because of hemophilic arthritis, who now can.



BEFORE STARTING OUT on his day's walk, Acharya Vinoba Bhave has his feet banaged by his sister, Mahadevan Tai.

MONTREAL —(CP)—So called "miracle men" who claim they know a good man when they see one were criticized at the McGill Personnel Appraisal Institute here. Dr. N. C. Kephart of Purdue University said good selection of employees depends on careful accumulation of knowledge concerning the man and the job.

Medical Association Protests Request On Package Deal

HAMILTON, May 20 (CP) — Ontario Medical Association executives Monday protested the application of the Ontario Hospital Association to the provincial government for letters patent which would permit "a package deal" of hospital and medical care.

The protest was made before 200 delegates at the first business session of the O.M.A's week-long 72nd annual meeting.

The O.M.A. sponsors Physicians' Services, Inc., a prepaid medical care organization. The Blue Cross is the O.H.A.'s arrangement for prepaid hospital care. In 1950, Physicians' Services and Blue Cross instituted a "package deal" which provides both medical care and hospital care by prepayment.

Dr. Charles Vaughan, president of the Hamilton Academy of Medicine, suggested that the Blue Cross organization was "creating an Empire" with a possible view to anticipating a government medical or hospital-care plan in Ontario.

Need Reserve

Dr. R. M. Anderson of Belleville, president of the P.S.I., in answering questions on the 10-per-cent "hold-back" retained by the organization on bills submitted by doctors, said the organization had yet to accumulate a satisfactory reserve.

Present reserve was only $82.62 a subscriber; a satisfactory level of reserves would be $5 a subscriber, Dr. Anderson said.

He said some specialists who took part in the P.S.I., were "overbilling" every patient, regardless of the patient's economic means. Dr. Anderson felt some specialists were taking advantage of the arrangement, whereby they are entitled to render additional accounts to patients where the services rendered have been in excess of those specified in the prepaid services contract.

Find Metal Capsules Not So Harmless

OTTAWA, May 20—(CP)—A handful of coin-sized capsules found on the grounds of the National Research Council property seemed harmless to 10-year-old Jackie Parks.

When he brought them home, his father put them in a can on a shelf. But one, left alone on a kitchen table, exploded spontaneously, rocking the building, burning a hole in the table top and filling the Parks' apartment with acrid smoke.

It is believed they are detonating caps for bomb or shell fuses.

Get 10% Increase

GUELPH, May 20 (CP)—City council Monday night voted a 10-per-cent increase to all salaried employees at city hall. Outside workers, members of various unions were granted an hourly wage increase at the beginning of the year.

Divorce Granted To Franchot Tone

LOS ANGELES, May 20 (AP)—Actor Franchot Tone Monday ended his tumultuous marriage to Actress Barbara Payton.

Tone was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce on testimony that his actress-wife had embarrassed him in front of friends and told them their marriage was a failure.

The 10-minute divorce hearing was in contrast to the hectic background of their marriage last Sept. 28 in Cloquet, Minn., two weeks after Tone, 47, was beaten up by Actor Tom Neal, in a fight over Miss Payton's affections.

Report 2 Clergymen May Lead Legion

MONTREAL, May 20—(CP)—For the first time, not one but two clergymen may lead the Canadian Legion for a two-year stretch.

The Legion's national convention will elect new officers later this week. Indications now are that the new president will be Dr. C. B. Lumsden, a professor of Bible studies at Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S.

Corridor talk has the Very Rev. Dean John O. Anderson, of Winnipeg, going in as first vice-president, the No. 2 post.

Dodgers, Giants Go All Out On Defence

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP). — Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants are going all out on defence, individually as well as collectively, in an effort to gain an advantage in the hot National League pennant chase.

Individual fielding averages today showed three members of each club leading in the field at their respective positions.

First baseman Gil Hodges (1.000), shortstop Pee Wee Reese (.984) and catcher Roy Campanella (1.000) are the league leading Dodgers. Reese is tied with the Giants' Alvin Dark for shortstop honors, both having made two errors while handling 122 chances cleanly.

The other pace-setting Giant glove men are second baseman Davey Williams (1.000) and third sacker Bobby Thomson (.986.)

Perfect Records

Johnny Wyrostek and Wally Westlake of Cincinnati Reds and Frankie Baumholtz of the Chicago Cubs head the outfielders with perfect records.

In the American League, third baseman Hector Rodriguez of Chicago White Sox and catcher Clint Courtney of St. Louis Browns, a couple of first year men are showing the way.

Rodriguez, purchased from Montreal of the International League last year, has made two miscues in 102 chances for a .980 average. Courtney is tied with New York's Yogi Berra percentage-wise at 1.000 but he has handled more chances than the Yankee backstop.

Other fielding leaders are first base—Mickey Vernon, Washington (.996); second base—Bobby Young, St. Louis (.992); shortstop—Phil Rizzuto, New York (.993), and outfielders Jim Busby, Washington, Dave Philley, Philadelphia, and Irv Noren, New York (1.000).

At The Kawartha

With a splendid turnout of 108 divot-raisers, the Kawartha officially opened its golfing season. Enthusiasm was shown early with a goodly crowd at No. 1 tee sharp at one o'clock. Slightly dull skies did not depress the followers of the white pill, while the favorable temperature made it a good golfing day.

The social evening that followed ranked high in the history of the club opening days. An excellent gathering enjoyed good fellowship, television, dancing and good food. Much credit is due to Little John McIntyre and his entertainment committee.

The results of the field day:

First Flight

First low gross—J. Condon. Second low gross, J. Clarkson. First low net, F. Todd. Second low net, R. Hay.

Second Flight

First low gross, B Grainger. Second low gross, N. Vitarelli. First low net, M. Vermette. Second low net, T. Cranfield. Third low net, R. Buchanan. Fourth low net, H. McKenzie.

Third Flight

First low net F. Worsencroft. Second low net, R. Howarth. Third low net, P. Pryde. Fourth low net, W. Beggs. 5th low net, J. Pirie. Sixth low net, G. Myles. Seventh low net, L. Longo.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Since sports scribes frequently discuss baseball in January, it's okay to mention hockey occasionally in summer. So, we'll chuck in two bits' worth—or, rather, Rollie Hall of England can contribute a shilling's worth. After seeing N.H.L. play for two months, he returned to England and said: "Give me English League hockey every time." He found the N.H.L.-ers play the man rather than the puck and, while they are big and fast, they lack science. Found stickhandling almost non-existent, and felt that high-sticking was the main idea. And he said an all-star English team would give any N.H.L. team a run for its money.

* * * * * * *

Well, Rollie has some good points, but we agree with Baz O'Meara that a junior "A" team from Canada would likely take an English all-star squad. Certainly a club like Detroit Red Wings would have a nice breeze in such a series. However, there isn't too much fancy stickhandling in modern pro hockey, and the moneyed players certainly do carry their weapons high. It's a definite trend in Eastern Canada and the States to use the bodies and the wood. Not nearly as much body contact in European play. Also, our lacrossers found a more open style of play in Vancouver last fall, and consequently drew frequent penalties for playing the rugged eastern style out there. 'Twas frowned upon in B.C.

* * * * * * *

Should Own Net By Now

Speaking of the gutted-stick game, veteran Bill Whitaker has come out of retirement to play goal again for St. Kitts for his 20th season. Played the tail-end of last season and was his old starry self. That's a long spell to be minding the nets in that game. Bud Smith will be sub-goalie for the Cheevers' crew. Bill Nelson, six-four and going 230, is with the A's, too, and they look for Tank Teather to perform again. Don Frick is out a month with stomach trouble, whilst Tony D'Amico and Kenny Croft are absentees at the moment—probably contract trouble. But the Athletics should come up with a strong squad this campaign.

* * * * * * *

Men's softball starts at the Bowl d'Ashburnham this Thursday at seven. George Hawkes' Revoys open 'gainst Buck Legrow's U.E.W. team, followed by Lindsay vs. Red Sullivan' East City club. Lakefield is the other entry. Opening ceremony, draw for 15 prizes, and they're off and running. Payne and Smith the umps. Loop is trying out a new rule this year for a spell, calling for no full inning of the first game to start after 8:30 p.m. The idea is to keep the boys stepping fast and run off the nightly twin bill twice a week in snappy fashion. A good move for players and fans. Schedule will be drawn up shortly.

Lakefield Shaping Up

Most valuable player in the men's circuit last season, Terry Woods will be with the East City crew this semester. Haven't much info on the other league entries as yet, though Lakefield showed a lot of promise in a recent 12-1 exhibition win o'er Grant & Loucks of the Civic Loop. Same teams meet again tomorrow in Lakefield. Of last year's Lakefield team, Joe Blewett, Gord Henry, Jack Larkman, Red Wasson, Fran Loyst, Bill Twist, and Doug Hunter are again available, plus Tom Junkin, former Beaches fastballer and now playing manager of the team. Also John Lickley, star shortstop of Toronto Evans a year ago, and pitcher John Hinton of U. E. last year.

Senior and junior baseball commences here this week. In fact, Gord Snape's junior entry in the Lakeshore Intermediate League starts at seven p.m. Thursday in Riverside against Howie Dalton's classy Cobourg crowd, a loop fixture. Haven't heard the juniors' lineup yet, but Gord has been working with a big turnout and should come up with a good club. Senior Petes start their campaign in the C.O.B.L. at seven Saturday night, the May 24th holiday. That one is in Riverside against Kingston Ponies, reckoned a potent squad this season. As soon as Pat Calladine lists his lineup we'll run it. They drill nightly this week, but for Thursday. Time the league schedule was released.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The executive of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association Monday appointed a committee at its Montreal meeting for further development of junior players.

The committee will draw up recommendations for uniform teaching of fundamentals among school children. The executive also decided to support again a national caddy day with $300.

The executive discussed the possibility of an international team match between Canadian and United States pros along the lines of the Ryder Cup matches between Britain and the U.S.

The 1952 P.G.A. will be held in Winnipeg in advance of the Canadian open which starts July 16.

Norman Bud Poile, former National Hockey League player, has signed a contract as playing coach of Edmonton Flyers of the new Western Hockey League, manager Jim Paul announced Monday in the Alberta capital. Poile played for and coached Glace Bay, N.S., Miners last season.

The lightweight heavyweight title match June 23 at Yankee Stadium, New York, between Sugar Ray Robinson and titleholder Joe Maxim, will not be broadcast and telecasting will only be done on the special theatre network. The International Boxing Club has closed a deal with the Theatre Network Television, Inc.

Despite a staggering total of 39 postponed games in the major baseball leagues so far this year because of rain and cold weather, attendance is running parallel to the 1951 figures. The totals for both leagues are 2,676,587, compared to 2,665,295 for the same period last year.

Bill Veeck of St. Louis Browns is really set to eat and sleep baseball. In a few days he will be moving with his family into their new five-room apartment in the old two-storey building at the entrance to Sportsman's Park in St. Louis. The living room overlooks the main ticket windows.

Toronto Leafs Polished Off By Syracuse

By The Associated Press.

It isn't often that one night's action scrambles the positions of four teams in a league. But the International League has been engaged in such a close battle for second place that almost anything can happen on any given night.

Before the four games Monday night, Toronto Maple Leafs were second, Syracuse Chiefs third, Bufaflo Bisons fourth and Rochester Red Wings fifth. Today it reads, Syracuse second, Toronto third, Rochester fourth and Buffalo fifth.

Syracuse polished off Toronto 7-3; Rochester nipped Buffalo 7-6; the league-leading Montreal Royals pounded Springfield Cubs 13-5, and Ottawa Athletics nipped Baltimore Orioles 4-3, in the night's action.

Bill Drescher's three-run homer was the big blow in the Syracuse victory, although Hank Workman also smashed one. The blows enabled southpaw Bill Woop to hang up his first victory of the season. Duke Markell was the loser.

Hard-earned Win

Rochester's victory over Buffalo was a hard-earned one. The game went 10 innings and it wasn't decided until Rip Repulski whacked a home run off veteran Hank Borowy. Jack Fasholz, who went the last three innings was the winner.

Montreal had no trouble taking the measure of Springfield, although young John Podres had to be relieved by Gil Mills in the fifth with the bases loaded and one out. The latter got credit for the triumph.

Charlie Bishop scored his fourth victory for Ottawa and in the process struck out nine Orioles. Coaker Triplett banged in two Ottawa runs while Harvey Gentry scored one and knocked in another.

City Carpetball

The results as shown completes the 1951-52 season play.

Legion No. 2 won the President's Cup in two straight games from L.O.L. No. 14 by scores of 12-3 and 19-4. Old King Billie must have forgot his "White Charger" or something.

Postponed games results: Glens No. 1 won both games from St. George's No. 12 by scores of 11-6 and 21-5.

Orphans No. 16 dropped both games to Legion No. 8. Scores were 5-20, 9-10. The Glens No. 1 picked up two more games by scores of 12-8 and 17-3 from Legion No. 11.

Second Armour No. 3 won by default from Moose No. 9.

Results of the last scheduled games are: Legion No. 2 split with Red Patch No. 10 by scores of 8-12 and 14-4, thereby losing their chance to go into first place. Legion No. 8 broke even with Fire Hall No. 15 by scores of 10-11 and 15-12; St. George's No. 12 won both games from Legion No. 4 by scores of 15-7, 12-11; L.O.L. No. 14 split with S.O.E. No. 5; scores were 20-12 and 17-3; Legion No. 6 defaulted to Fire Hall No. 13, as did Legion No. 11 to 2nd Armour No. 3. Orphans No. 16 won both from Quakers No. 7 by scores of 12-10 and 12-8.

Don't forget the banquet at the Orange Hall on Wednesday, June 4, at 6:30 p.m.

Some of the skips have not said how many will be attending from their team.

If any team wishes to see the season's score cards for their team they are available at the secretary's home.

There are two big kicks resulting from this season's play: too many postponed and defaulted games.

TRIO OF WINNERS—These Canadian-bred three-year-olds won their respective divisions of the Plate Trials, the six-furlong tune-up for the Queen's Plate to be run May 24 at Toronto. Acadian, left, owned by E. P. Taylor of Toronto, led from barrier to wire to win handily in a minute and 13 seconds, fastest time of the three sections. Latin Lad, centre, from the Garden City Stables of Niagara Falls, Ont., won the first division in 1:13 1/5. Dress Circle, right, owned by Mrs. E. P. Taylor, came from last place to win her division in 1:13 2/5. The 93rd running of the Queen's Plate is at a longer distance, 1⅛ miles, and some of the also-rans in the Trials may be heard from in the extra three furlongs.

Business Girls' Golf

The business girls' section of the Peterborough Golf Club held their opening with Captain Shirley Sackville in charge of arrangements.

A turkey dinner completed the day's activities with prizes being presented by Mrs. Pam Westbrook and Mrs. Barbara Williamson who were guests.

Prizes were won as follows: Low net, Esther Might; low gross, Marcel Coulas; hidden holes, Betty Bullock, Shirley McKenzie and Grace Ingram; least number of putts, Betty Castle; putts, Lillian Wesley; honest golfer, Veronica O'Leary, and youngest golfer, Judy Strickland. Jean Castle won low net for 18-hole players; low gross, Margaret Behan; hidden holes, Shirley Sackville and Gladys Mortimer. Lucky prizes were won by Zetta Jamison and Del Smedmor.

Queen Mary Victors

Queen Mary intermediates downed Grove 17-8 Monday in their school softball meeting. Haig, Jobbitt and Hendry went best for the winners, with Casey and Duncan tops for the other side. Queen Mary scored five in the first, two in the second and fourth, with four counting each in the third and fifth. The Grove crew tallied two each in the first, fourth and fifth, one apiece in the second and third. Teams:

Grove: Copping, Patterson, Read, Casey, W. Simons, Heard, Hargreaves, Duncan, Dwyer, F. Simmons, Doughty.

Queen Mary: Goodfellow, Jobbitt, Wilson, Hendry, Brown, Haig, Bignell, Dunn, McArthur, Foy, Matthews, Clarke. Umpire, R. K. McKee.

A School Slugfest

Prince of Wales won 33-26 over Queen Mary yesterday in a school slugfest. Merrett hit two homers for the losers, as runs came in batches on both sides. Two innings saw Prince of Wales score 10 runs each, while Queen Mary counted no less than 15 in a wild second stanza. Teams:

Queen Mary: Rusk, Stinson, Merrett, McDougall, Adlam, Webb, Staves, Green, Milne, Johnson.

Prince of Wales: Hegadoren, Davis, Sucee, Rose, Iveson, Wells, Heron, Myles, Batley, Johnston, Patterson, March.

Umpire; Mr. Rutheford.

Livingstons Defeat Mustangs In First Game Of Cage Series

TILLSONBURG, May 20 (CP). —Tillsonburg Livingstons did just what the gymnasium experts figured they would.

The Canadian senior basketball champions defeated University of Western Ontario Mustangs 79-65 Monday night in the opener of their best-of-five series to decide Canada's basketball representatives at the Olympic Games in Finland this summer. But the champs had to come from behind to whip the college titleholders.

It wasn't till the second quarter that Tillsonburg used controversial Carl Ridd of Winnipeg when they were down 21-15. Ridd was awarded to Livingstons by the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association to replace their United States star, Tommy Gibbons. The Western crew earlier threatened to withdraw from the trials if Ridd was used.

Ridd scored two quick hoops as soon as he hit the floor in the second quarter and Paul Thomas, Tillsonburg playing coach, tied it up at 25-25 on two free throws.

By the end of the half the Livingstons moved on to the top end of a 42-36 count, and by third quarter close had pushed it to 64-53.

The Mustangs did not use the reinforcements awarded them by the C.A.B.A.—Don McIntosh and Ed Lucht from the University of Alberta.

Forward Harry Wade paced the winners with 21 points: 14 in field goals. Little Bill Pataky was close behind with eight field goals and three free throws for 19 points for Western.

Paul Thompson scored 14 points while Bob Phibbs tallied 13 for Tillsonburg.

Captain Doug McNichol and Glen Pettinger each scored 13 for Western.

Referees Kitch McPherson of Hamilton and Roy Pethick of Toronto called 57 fouls, 29 against Western.

In the dressing room blond Paul Thomas said, "We'll take them in three straight."

The second game will be played in London tonight and the third in Tillsonburg Wednesday.

P. of W. Boys Win

Prince of Wales took a 20-8 intermediate school softball win yesterday over Queen Alex on the former's diamond. They racked up nine runs first time at bat, adding five next, heat and six more in the third. The losers were held to three in the second, four in the third, and one more in the fifth. Each side had two strikeouts. Teams:

Queen Alex — Woods, Tucker, Hamilton, Ratz, Williams, Philips, Norris, Triggs, Levine, McFarlane, Sexsmith, Ward.

Prince of Wales — Parker, McFadden, Barrie, Jay, Murphy, Shaw, Robinson, McIntosh, Morley, Johnston, Faulkner.

Umpire—J. Burns.

Shirai Victory Rags To Riches Story In Japan

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — The fabulous rags to riches boxing tale of Yoshiro Shirai came to light today, a few hours after he won the flyweight championship of the world.

Shirai, who captured the crown in Tokyo Monday from Dado Marino of Hawaii, is the first Japanese to win a world title.

Dr. Alvin Cahn of Chicago, Shirai's manager, knew at first sight when he saw Shirai working out in a Tokyo gym that he was potentially a future champion. He was boxing to support his family of nine, made destitute by war-time bombings.

The National Boxing Association told today how Dr. Cahn, a botanist working with the United States army in Japan, wrote a lengthy letter to the association here asking for guidance on Shirai's future. His protege was not world famous then.

In his letter Cahn frankly told the commission "I am not a fight manager by profession but by a freak twist of fate. It is a crazy situation, but there it is.

"I stumbled into a Japanese gym in which many boxers were training. In this gym I found a boy who was trying to box instead of slug; he had a good defence and good footwork . . .

Fighter Undernourished

"When I took him over he was underfed, undernourished, almost without clothes. He was fighting seven to eight times a week to feed and support his parents, brothers and sisters, all nine of them living in two crowded rooms in a tenement.

"He took to my coaching like a duck to water—despite the fact that at the time we had not a single word in common (he now speaks English) — and absorbed everything I gave him 'on sight.'"

"Within 11 months he won both the national flyweight and bantamweight championships of Japan, knocking out both champions who were considered invincible.'"

Dr. Cahn told the N.B.A. Shirai has revolutionized boxing in Japan and has forced the abandonment of antiquated slugging for modern boxing technique.

His letter then asked:

"Where do I go from here? I need advice and have no one to turn to. May I ask you—formally or informally, as you wish— to advise me?

Then came the developments that led to Shirai's lifting the crown from Marino. The N.B.A. for the first time in its history, started rating Shirai as a contender, merely on the basis of the manager's glowing reports.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

Hockey in the major sphere is a hard game, a hard-hitting game, but we believe that one player, whose body-checking was the terror of opposing forwards when he was at the peak of his rugged career, moves into well-earned retirement with a keen appreciation of the sporting spirit of old-time ice-enemies who might have crashed him when he had not much left with which to combat them, but didn't.

No one ever played the game harder than did John Sherratt (Black Jack) Stewart, at the peak of his career with Detroit Red Wings, or when he first joined forces with Chicago Hawks.

Black Jack Stewart, 185 pounds of brawn, muscle and courage, was rated one of the most punishing body-checkers in the National Hockey League. He hit with shattering force. He and Jimmy Orlando, in the hey-day of both, formed a defense for Detroit Red Wings which kept many an opposing forward awake nights, counting the teeth he might not have after the next game.

Stewart was still a great hockey player when he was traded to Chicago Black Hawks. But the crashing, hard-hitting type of game he played finally bounced on him, as if retribution had set in. A disc slipped in his back, forced him to quit. With typically grim spirit, he fought this off, took daily hours of exercise even while flat on his back in bed. He came back to play, apparently recovered. Then he ran into even greater misfortune at the beginning of the 1951-52 season. He crashed into a team-mate, fell backwards, struck his head heavily, and sustained a severe concussion.

Even after that, Jack Stewart came back again. But quickly it was apparent that all Stewart had left was the light of battle that blazed from his dark eyes, and the grim set of his mouth. That was enough to render many opponents cautious, as they recalled his body-checking prowess, but it soon became evident that Stewart couldn't hit a body-check, that he was depending on skill and experience to foil opposing players.

And here this observer saw what he believes to be one of the finest sporting gestures made in hockey action. For years Stewart had been a star, a player who asked no quarter, gave none. He was a hockey player's hockey player. But when in the closing chapters of his career, when he might easily have been knocked over, perhaps badly hurt, if crashed by an incoming attacker, other players seemed careful to avoid him. It wasn't through caution, at this time. At least, that's what we are sporting-minded enough to believe. It was out of sheer respect for a once-great player who in his hey-day would have mowed down the invaders. Briefly put, the boys just didn't want to hurt Jack Stewart. They had too much regard for his courage, for his great record as a hard-hitting, game and accomplished defensive star, now not quite able to defend himself.

So this observed believes Stewart carries into his retirement a recollection that sporting spirit runs high among the players of the League.

Maglie Clips Pirates 4-0 Wonder If He'll Ever Lose

By ORLO ROBERTSON, Associated Press Sports Writer

The seven National League rivals of New York Giants were wondering today if Sal (the Barber) Maglie is ever going to be beaten. And you can't blame Pittsburgh Pirates if they shake their heads emphatically. The 35-year-old right hander from Niagara Falls, N.Y., has racked up seven victories this year to run his undefeated string over a two-year span to 10. He has met and whipped them all except St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs.

In 62 innings, he has allowed only seven earned runs for the enviable average of 1.02.

The Pirates have a special reason for wondering if Maglie is unbeatable. When he blanked them 4-0 on seven hits Monday in one of the three games played in the Majors, it marked the 13th straight time the curve-ball ace has turned back the cellar-dwelling Bucs.

Third baseman Bobby Thomson supplied the batting power for Maglie's second shutout of the season. It moved the Giants back into a tie for first place with the Dodgers, who played a 1-1 tie with the Cubs in a game called by rain after one was out in the top half of the seventh.

Thomson drove in all of the champions' runs with a double and two singles to pace an eight-hit attack against loser Howie Pollet, Bob Friend and Ted Wilks.

Only One Walk

Maglie allowed only one walk and fanned six to run his league-leading total to 42 strikeouts. Only one Pirate got past first base.

Billy Loes, who has won four straight for the Dodgers, and Turk Lown hooked up in a hurling duel before rain put an end to the night proceedings.

Loes started badly by yielding singles to Eddie Miksis and Dee Fondy but then struck out five in a row, two short of the major league record.

In the only game played in the American League, Lou Boudreau again called on his sharp-fielding old-timers to give Boston Red Sox a 3-2 victory over Detroit Tigers.

The victory, credited to rookie Bill Henry, lifted the Sox into a virtual second-place tie with the idle Washington Senators.

Although a rookie pitcher received credit for the win, it was veterans that supplied the power. Walt Dropo and Clyde Vollmer drove in the winning runs with long flies in the seventh. Ellis Kinder and Mel Parnell, two more veterans, came on to save Henry when the Tigers threatened.

The veteran combination of Stephens, Dropo and Bill Goodman also came up with four double plays.

The only other scheduled game, St. Louis Cards at Philadelphia Phils, was postponed by rain.

Hear Arguments On Gut Dam On May 27

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — Initial arguments on a motion to alter or remove Gut Dam, on the ground it is contributing to the high level of Lake Ontario, have been set tentatively for May 27 in Federal district court here.

This was reported Monday by Clayton Burwell, lawyer for the Lake Ontario Land Development and Beach Protection Association, Inc.

Burwell said the association seeks to have a three-judge court hear the case because it feels that a constitutional issue is involved.

The dam, located in the St. Lawrence river near Ogdensburg, N.Y. was constructed by Canada—with the consent of the United States Congress—in 1902.

Unconstitutional

The association, Burwell said, contends that Congress acted unconstitutionally in giving its permsision.

The association, in seeking removal of the dam, holds that it has caused the lake's level to rise from six to eight inches, thereby increasing damage to lake shore property.

Since the suit was filed Canada has agreed to submit, wtih the U.S. government, a joint suggestion to the international joint commission that it consider the problem of high water for the entire Great Lakes.

President Truman has directed the army engineers to survey the damages and recommend remedial action.

Tape Libraries

TORONTO, May 20 (CP) — Blinder readers may soon have libraries of paper tape, thanks to a Braille reading machine unveiled Monday at the Canadian National Institute for the Blind headquarters. A punched paper tape is fed into the mechanism which sets up a continuously moving line of Braille type on an endless plastic belt.

N.S. Industrialist Sees Miracles In Tiny Gadget

By JOHN TRACY.

RAHWAY, N.J., May 20 (CP)—A Canadian-trained engineer, Ralph R. Layte, who has a yen for tinkering and looking into the industrial future, hopes to have a hand in making the comic-strip detective's "two-way wrist radio" a reality.

The wrist radio is only one of the possibilities in the mind of the 59-year-old Layte, who heads an industry making $25,000,000 worth of products a year.

The Nova Scotia-raised industrialist has been president of Purolator Products Inc., for 11 years. His firm expects to embark soon on the manufacture, through a subsidiary, of transistors, the pea-sized substitutes for radio tubes and the like.

Layte said that when problems of producing the revolutionary little crystals have been solved, they will have potential applications in automatic bookkeeping machines, mechanical brains with unheard-of capacities—and even the wrist radio.

"I don't know whether this thing might go over or not, but I'd hate to pass it up," he said in an interview. "Its possibilities are beyond imagination."

Layte, whose firm is chiefly interested in making filtration equipment, said the transistor "could be the tail that takes care of the dog."

Previous Brainwave

Once before, as a young engineer just a few years out of Nova Scotia Technical College, Layte got what he considered a revolutionary idea. He thought of combining the radio and the phonograph. He made a rough combination to show his chiefs at the firm where he worked then. They rejected the idea, but other firms carried it through.

Layte, who won the Military Cross and was twice wounded with Nova Scotia's Highland Brigade in France during the First World War, picked up his early knowledge of radio when he joined the old Royal Flying Corps. He put his knowledge to good use later when he worked in Japan helping another company make his combination radio-phonographs.

When he returned to the U.S. from Japan, he was ready to catch on with a small company that was likely to grow. He went with Purolater, which then had 80 employees. Now it has 1,500.

Layte approaches business with the independence of the farmers of Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley where he grew up. Now he is trying to show that independence makes for success in business.

Learn Principles

He is one of a group of industrialists who are trying to teach high school students that business is created and nourished by people. The method is to help the students from miniature businesses, learn about production, costs and sales. The students operate the business, which may be turning out plastic gadgets or taffy, and pay all the bills. All they got from the industrialists is guidance.

"It instils in their minds the principles of free enterprise," said Layte. "It gives them some incentive to get on, rather than have the government or their fathers-in-law take care of them.

"The only trouble is that we're not reaching enough of them. While we're teaching business principles to some, some other so-and-so is teaching them Communism."

Layte was born in Boston, but while still an infant was taken back to the family farm near Paradise, N.S. He goes back each year to visit his mother, Mrs. Annie Layte, who still lives on the old homestead.

Lakefield IOOF Hold Parade To Church

LAKEFIELD, May 20 (ENS) — Headed by the C.G.E. Pipe Band, members of the Lakefield I.O.O.F. lodge paraded to the morning service of the United Church. Attending also was the Rebecca Lodge of Lakefield. The Lakefield lodge was augmented by many visiting members from Peterborough I.O.O.F. Lodge.

The minister, the Rev. W. H. Tonge welcomed the lodges on behalf of the Session and the congregation, and delivered an address on the subject "Friendship, the Reward of the Faithful." The responsive reading was led by Noble Grand, Ralph Jackman.

During the service the sacrament of baptism was administered to Sharon Ann, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Calberry.

The choir contributed an anthem, "Stand Up for Jesus."

Replacing the evening sermon, two films, "The Creation Story" and "A Boy and his Prayer," were viewed by the congregation.

Guest soloist, Mrs. Donald Hendren sang "I Come To Thee."

Elected President

OSHAWA, May 20 (CP)—Malcolm Smith defeated Chris Mason in a two-way vote for president of Local 222, United Auto Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), union officials announced Monday night. Balloting in the 9,000-member local took place last week. The post will be a full-time paid job for the first time since the local was formed in 1937.

Rev. C. Richmond Inducted At Christ Church

OMEMEE, May 20—(ENS)—The Rev. Charles Richmond was inducted as rector of Christ Church, Omemee, and the parishes of St. James, Emily and St. John's, Emily, on Sunday evening in Christ Church, Omemee.

The ceremony, witnessed by members of the three congregations, opened with the robed choir of Christ Church leading the procession..

The rural dean of Victoria, Rev. H. Hasketh of St. Paul's Church, Lindsay, read the mandate of induction and ministerial license, after which the Venerable Archdeacon W. P. Robertson of Peterborough led in prayer.

The rector, accompanied by rector's warden, George Stephenson and people's warden Walter Reeds, came before the Archdeacon to read the oaths previously taken by him before the Bishop. The formal mandate was read publicly by the rural dean, and handed to the rector. The people's warden having read his appointed portion handed the keys of the church to the rector who responded: "I receive these keys at your hands as a pledge of your recognition of me as your appointed minister."

After the singing of a hymn, the Archdeacon and the two wardens conducted the rector to the font, prayer desk, Bible lectern, pulpit and the Lord's table. The rector then took up his formal church position.

The sermon was preached by Archdeacon Robertson who took as his text John 16: 12-13.

The two country parishes were well represented by their congregations and their wardens. St. James was represented by rector's warden, Alton Clarke, and people's warden, Donald Franks, and St. John's by Boyd Windrem, rector's warden and Nelson McConnell, people's warden.

After the service Mrs. Richmond invited the church officials to an informal cup of coffee.

There will be a confirmation service at Christ Church on June 20 at 8 p.m., conducted by Rt. Rev. Bishop Wells.

Canada Places Ban On Animal Feed

OTTAWA, May 20 — (CP) — Canada Monday banned imports of certain types of fertilizers and animal feed from the United States to prevent a possible spread of anthrax, an animal disease which has attacked and destroyed cattle in some parts of the U.S.

The Agriculture Department announced prohibition of imports of fertilizers containing animal products, bone meal, and livestock feeds which contain animal matter.

Exports Increase

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP)—Canada's exports, maintaining unprecedented buoyancy, jumped to $358,500,000 in March, pushing the total for the first three months of 1952 to a peak of $1,000,000,000, the Bureau of Statistics reported Monday.

GEORGE ST .CLOSED

During the Jaycee Jamboree which lasts all week the extension of George St. that runs through Morrow Park will be closed to motor cars and trucks. Patrons of the jamboree wanting parking space may get admittance at the Lock St. entrance.

HAWKS ARRIVE TOO

Mosquitoes have returned to pester gardeners, fishermen and others who venture forth these long evenings, and ranging the sky overhead the nighthawks have arrived to feed on the stinging pests. "And so on ad infinitum." Meanwhile black flies are drawing blood in the backwoods country, and will likely be active for another two weeks.

ANOTHER T.W.U.A. LOCAL

The Textile Workers Union of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L) has been certified as the bargaining agent for 52 production workers at the Cobourg Matting and Carpet Co. Ltd., Cobourg. This makes 13 locals in the Trent Valley area, Albert E. Johnston, director for the Trent Valley Area, said today. More than 1,450 production workers are represented.

HORTICULTURAL MEETING

Professor F. A. Montgomery of Ontario Agricultural College will be the speaker at the Horticultural Society meeting on Monday, May 26 at 8 p.m. in the Y.W.C.A. His topic, "Spring Flowers," will be illustrated. This is the last meeting of the present series, and Prof. Montgomery's first visit to Peterborough. He comes highly recommended.

ASSET OF BEAUTY

That central sweep of green sward from the Court House hill down through Victoria Park, across the City Hall lawn and further through Confederation Square is demonstrating its municipal landscape value these days in the aspect of completion of the scheme. W. G. Morrow would have heartily approved the beauty of it.

MOTORCYCLISTS BETTER

William Foster, 18, of Water St., and Nancy Parnell, 17, of Euclid St. are both reported to be "improving" today from their serious injuries received late Friday night. They were thrown from their motorcycle when it went through a ditch and struck a parked car on the driveway of the Hitching Post, two miles southwest of Peterborough. Foster has a fractured pelvis and head injuries and Miss Parnell has cuts on her head and legs. Both are now conscious.

Close Off Street In Brookdale For Fireworks

City council gave its approval Monday night to a request from Brookdale Home Owners' Association for temporary closing of a street section Saturday night May 24 for neighborhood fireworks.

From 8 to 10 p.m. traffic will be excluded from Chesterfield Ave. at Mason and Wolsley Streets and Aberdeen Ave. at Stewart St. Obviously the home owners intend to provide a group display for the children of their neighborhood.

Chief George Smith will also assign one of his men to the McKellar and Hamilton Streets section off Park St. south where residents are providing a similar 24th of May program for their young folks.

Approval has also been given to fire works Saturday night at the Jaycee Jamboree at Exhibition Park.

Community supervision is a step in the safe direction, Chief Smith commented today.

Overhaul At Hatchery Suspends Operations

The Department of Lands and Forests trout hatchery at Codrington has been undergoing a complete overhaul and work will continue until it will be too late this year to distribute fry from it.

Before the hatchery was closed 50,000 fingerling trout were distributed to Northumberland County streams. Deer Lake Hatchery will bear the brunt this season, though in lesser numbers and Peterborough County will get 7,000; Victoria, 6,500, and Durham 11,500 fingerlings. Yearlings for the waters of Haliburton County will be sent out from the Skeleton Lake hatchery this month.

Little Britain Girl Wins Highest Mark In Festival

Faye Rich of Little Britain was awarded the highest mark of the Peterborough Music Competition Festival Monday morning. The English Adjudicator Ronald Biggs awarded her 90 marks for her singing of The Tired Moon by Kurth, in the girls' solo class under 9 years.

"This was the most outstanding performance I have heard so far in the Peterborough festival," Mr. Biggs said in his adjudication. "It was a truly lovely and artistic performance. Her singing was extremely musical."

This year both music adjudicators are using the following marking system: 75, average; 80, good; 85, very good; 90, distinction.

Queen Mary auditorium was filled again for Monday evening's session.

Massed Choir

A special feature of the evening was a massed performance of three choirs from Kingston and Peterborough Collegiate and Bowmanville High School under the direction of Adjudicator Alex Redshaw.

Mr. Redshaw brought these three choirs on the stage following the adjudication of the class in which they were entered, to sing, Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee, by Bach, and, Early One Morning, by Dunhill.

The Kingston Collegiate Glee Choir distinguished themselves by winning first place in both classes in which they were entered. They were awarded 170 marks in class 75 and 172 marks in class 76. Both classes were for mixed voice choirs under 21.

Kiwanis Club

The Peterborough Kiwanis Club were awarded 170 marks for their singing of Dear Land of Home by Sibelius, and O What a Beautiful Morning, by Hammerstein.

Choirs, and bass, contralto, soprano and baritone solo classes will make up tonight's program at Queen Mary auditorium.

John Moore, of Reaboro who was awarded first place in all classes he entered in the 1951 festival will be competing tonight in the bass solo class.

Results of Monday's festival sessions are as follows:

13 Local Men Enlist In Navy

Thirteen city and district men have responded to the Royal Canadian Navy's call for recruits in the week the R.C.N. recruiting office has been open here.

Lt. W. R. Whitman, in charge of the recruiting group, said today that the navy had not expected such a large response. Last of the 13 recruits was attested today by Lt. Whitman.

Chief Petty Officer V. Champagne will be in the city for the rest of the week, and any interested in joining the navy can reach him at the Queen's Hotel. Lt. Whitman will return on Friday to attest any who are recruited this week.

Following are the 13 recruits: Kenneth Lawson, 684 Frank St.; Carmen Caccavella, 506 Elm St.; Robert R. Dormer, 91 Lynch St.; Frank Tuck, Cricket Place; Roy Elliott, 543 Reid St.; Murray A. Yelland, 398 London St.; Clifford Graves, 595 Erskine Ave.; Joseph Creally, Maniece Ave.; Hewitt Stinson, 705 Victory Cres.; Allan Gunn, 575 Downie St.; Neil W. Freeburn, Young's Point; Leo Turpin, Havelock, and Roy M. Davidson, Lang.

Asks Permission To Rent Boats

Leslie Cleveland, Hastings Rd., Norwood, submitted a new idea to the council Monday night. He asked permission to operate children's paddle boats in Little Lake this summer.

This kind of amusement for children was fairly common in England, Mr. Cleveland wrote. His intention was to rope a small area in shallow water, about 120 ft. by 20 ft., probably off the Riverside Park picnic grounds, and charge 25c a half hour. This proposal was referred to the parks committee.

In planning a little dash of formality for the opening of the Men's Softball League Thursday evening at Ashburnham Bowl, John McPhee is encountering opposition from the Soroptimist Club. Not that either party is aware of it, Mr. McPhee wrote the council requesting the presence of a battery to start the season. Ald. Harold Rehill reminded Mayor Waddell of the Soroptimist dinner invitation.

Ald. Anglesey, chairman of the parks committee, was written down as a certainty. Ald. Gillespie said he'd go if he was in town, and anyway the softballers might prefer someone else because he had been at opening games two years. It sounded as if Ald. Anglesey would have to get the battery mate in spite of the S.C.'s dinner.

JUST AS EASY

Anyone who thinks fishing is as easy as rolling off the proverbial log should ask John T. Thompson, 45, of 158 Edinburgh St., for his opinion. On Sunday, Mr. Thompson was enjoying the warm May air and the beauties of nature as he leisurely fished and hoped for a bite, while casting from a log in the water. Then suddenly the calm surface of the lake was broken by a loud splash. After being fished from the lake, Mr. Thompson landed in hospital where he is recuperating from a broken right arm.

Geddes Harper New President Of Lions Club

Geddes R. Harper, Monday night was elected president of the Lions Club by acclamation. He succeeds James McCulloch and will assume office July 1.

About 45 members of the Lions Club turned out for the elections for the year 1952-53. The new officers were installed by Charles Carter of Bowmanville, former district governor.

Mr. Harper is manager of the Kingan Hardware Co. Ltd. He was born at Dalhousie Lake in the Ottawa Valley and has been a resident of Peterborough since 1927. During the Second World War he served with the Prince of Wales Rangers and the Winnipeg Rifles.

For the last five years he has been a member of the Lions Club. In 1951-52 he was third vice- president.

Following is a complete list of officers for 1952-53: Geddes Harper, president; Joseph Brown, Frank H. (Rusty) Edgar, and Walter Mortlock, vice presidents; Ron MacGee, secretary; Harvey Weidner, treasurer; Clarence Harloff and George W. Hutchinson, directors (Lynn Morrison and James Laidlaw have another year to serve as directors); Lewis Horning, tail twister; and Ray Clark, lion tamer.

GEDDES HARPER

World Picture.

Mr. Carter reviewed the change in the world situation since he spoke to the Peterborough Lions Club seven years ago.

He found the "picture not too satisfying." The times are serious, he said, reminiscent of 1938 and 1939.

"Germany, a beaten nation six years ago, is today demanding concessions as the price for doing something for their own defence."

Mr. Carter didn't think we have "taken our ease."

"We have made tremendous advances in the last seven years," he said . . . "Canada and the Canadian people have reached a point of leadership in the world."

He said that Canada has also taken cultural steps forward, as shown by the interest and sponsorship of ballet, drama and musical festivals. And there has been "a step forwar" in writing.

President James McCulloch was chairman.

Capacity Crowd Enjoys Salvation Band

A capacity audience at the Brock St. Arena Monday night greeted the International Staff Band of the Salvation Army from London, England.

About 2,500 people were present to hear the program that lasted slightly more than two hours and provided one of the best evenings of band music heard in the city for some years.

The band doubled in brass as a choir, and provided excellent music both ways. As a male chorus, it showed great discipline and restraint and offered its full power only when called on.

Seven numbers by the band, two songs by the male chorus, a recital, two piano solos and a brief scripture reading rounded out the program. Two of the band numbers were showcases for solo artists Ken Crane on the euphonium and Cyril Brisley on the trombone.

Brian Cooper played two piano solos, a selection from the Children's Corner Suite by Debussy, and Turkish Rondo by Mozart.

Tone Poem.

Particularly impressive was the tone poem by the full band, Heroes of the Faith, written by Senior Captain Charles Skinner. It was a musical portrayal of the martyrdom of the Christians by the Romans.

Chairman for the program was Commissioner William R. Dalziel, Commissioner for Canada of the Salvation Army. Leader was Colonel Normal Duggins, and bandmaster was Senior-Major Bernard Adams.

War Cry Seller Loses Dog Companion

Harry Illingworth of 195 Rubidge St., best known to Peterborough residents for his enthusiastic selling of the Salvation Army publication, "War Cry," has lost his constant companion, a brown male cocker spaniel who answers to the name of "Blondie." Blondie was let out of the house a week ago tonight for a bit of exercise and he hasn't returned and Mr. Illingworth is downhearted. "I'm afraid he's been stolen," he told the Examiner today. If he was still in the city he'd be home by now. Still, I keep hoping he'll turn up." Blondie would have been four years old on May 31—Mr. Illingworth's 86th birthday.

Beginner's Luck

One city angler is bemoaning the fact that he didn't teach his wife enough about baitcasting after buying her a new rod, reel and line. He took her pickerel fishing over the weekend, and after a brief reminder on the technique of casting, watched her first cast. It started out well. The bait arced out over the water, followed by the line, the rod and the reel. Mrs. Angler forgot to hold on.

Petitions Signed For Small Jobs Of Walks, Drains

City Clerk Outram reported to the council Monday night petitions sufficiently signed for the following works:

Sidewalk on Maria St., north side, from existing walk to Rogers St.; sidewalk on Devon Ave., both sides, from Ford St. to Hayes St.; sidewalk on Steele Ave., west side, from Cameron St. to Riverside Drive; storm sewer on Aberdeen Ave., from Downie St. to west limit of lots 99 and 100. A motion by Aldermen Gillespie and Rehill directed preparation of a bylaw authorizing these works.

Fire Loss $206,900

Chief George Smith reported April fire loss at $206,900 of which $79,600 was on buildings and $127,300 on contents. Of the 85 alarms, 75 were by telephone, three from alarm boxes, one was verbal, five by sprinkler systems and there was one listed as Chief's special.

Chief Smith reported 555 inspections during the month, of which 20 were made by himself.

Meter Receipts

Police issued 451 parking tickets at one dollar each in April, as compared with 192 in April, 1949; 414 in April, 1950, and 383 in April, 1951.

Meter collections at the curbs were $2,406.51, as against $2,194.48 in April last year.

Total for four months was $9,201.36, and to April last year $8,281.02.

The meters on the city square came up with $925.40 in April. Their total for ten months, beginning July, 1951, was $8,169.35.

Total collection from the curb meters since May 12, 1947, to the end of April, was $138,924.35; add the city square revenue, and the total was $147,093.70.

Collections for April as reported by City Clerk Outram were: Licenses, $1,214; police court, $1,647.12; miscellaneous, $714; restrooms, $52.90; parking met $2,406.51; and city square me $925—total, $6,959.93.

O.P.P. Investigate Two Cottage Breakins

O. P. P. Constable Russell Pollard is investigating two summer cottage breakins— one at Curve Lake and the other at Catchacoma Lake. The loot, if any, is believed to be small.

W. J. Ferver of Erie, Pa., who has a cottage on Curve Lake, reported Monday that a rear window of his cottage had been forced open. Mr. Ferver removes his valuable furnishings during the winter months so he does not think that much was taken.

He discovered the breakin when he went up to the cottage last weekend to clean the place up for the summer.

The Catchacoma cottage is owned by Sidney Armstrong of Toronto. It is believed a window was forced here as well. A full inventory has not been taken so Mr. Armstrong's loss is not known.

City Council Moves To Buy Lots

Bylaw Gives Approval To Ask Board For Annexation

Authority for the council to apply to the Ontario Municipal Board for an order to annex that part of Smith township which has been given the name of Queen Elizabeth subdivision was embodied in a bylaw Monday night. This area is separate and distinct from the larger Land Assembly block. The bylaw passed.

The bylaws introduced by Ald. T. D. Miller appointed William Beggs a member of the council succeeding Norman C. Graham for the unexpired part of his term until Dec. 31; provided for an agreement between the city and Charles Warnock & Co., Toronto, appraisers, for special assessment of larger industrial and commercial properties; and also authorized the city to buy the four parcels of property comprising the Queen Elizabeth subdivision.

Third reading was given to a bylaw for the resurfacing of George St., between King St. and the C.P.R., with an asphalt top.

License Cabins

Council approved the recommendation of the finance committee authorizing City Clerk Outram "to issue a license to Gordon A. Hamblin for the tourist cabins at 85 Lansdowne St., under the provisions of bylaw No. 4894, and that, when these licenses have been obtained, the city clerk be authorized to issue a provincial license to Mr. Hamblin."

The assenting motion in committee by Ald. S. J. Black was seconded by Ald. H. T. Rehill.

"It took them about five years to get that," Ald. H. N. Young remarked.

Frowns On Cabins

Reports from Chief Thompson and the Department of Health recommended the licensing of these cabins which were an inheritance from the municipality of North Monaghan. City Council had shied away from their recognition, partly according to the policy of frowning on the permitting of cabins within the city. The eight will yield $10 each a year to the treasury.

Hydro's Helicopter Patrols Cut Line Inspection Costs

TORONTO, May 20—With four helicopters streamlining the Commission's line-spreading activities, Ontario Hydro, through pioneering the use of these machines for this work in Canada, is currently effecting considerable savings in time and money in checking its 6,000-mile network of high-voltage transmission lines.

In making this announcement, Chairman Robert H. Saunders pointed out that the cost per mile had been cut by almost half by using the air patrols and occasional ground-crew inspections. The main saving, he stated, was in the cost of the housing, trucks and equipment necessary for the original foot and automotive patrols.

"Today," Mr. Saunders stated, "our aircraft range from Cornwall in the extreme east to remote Red Lake in the northwest. In addition to economy we find, in many cases, that a more thorough inspection is possible by this comparatively new method."

Since the inception of this method of powerline inspection in June, 1949, the air patrols have covered over 110,000 miles. The four Hydro pilots have, during this period, logged approximately 2,541 flying hours.

The saving of time is also an important features, Mr. Saunders stated. "One of our helicopters," he said, "with a two-man, pilot-observer crews, can inspect approximately 100 miles of line in 2½ hours. This job would take at least 10 ground patrolmen about two days, providing they had favorable weather and ground conditions."

Routine Inspectioins

Hydro's four plane fleet of helicopters, powered by 200-horsepower air-cooled engines, carry out routine inspections throughout Ontario in weather varying from about 100 degrees in the summer to between 40 and 50 below zero in the winter.

In order to keep a constant check on the widespread transmission network, the province is divided into 12 patrol areas. Most of the operations are carried out from Malton Airport, near Toronto, while a secondary base is located at Fort William. Central workshop and hangar facilities are located at Malton, with secondary workshop facilities at the northwestern base.

Malton-based helicopters inspect the 4,000-mile Southern Ontario network, and also travel to North Bay and from this stop-off point cover about 1,000 miles of line in the North-eastern region. Approximately 1,000 miles of line in Hydro's North-western region is inspected from the Fort William base.

Having demonstrated their efficiency in detecting possible trouble spots on lines and insulators, thereby minimizing the likelihood of power interruptions, the Hydro chairman stated that helicopters speed repair operations and help the Commission to maintain the vital flow of power to Ontario's homes, farms and industries.

Specialized Flying

The patrols require specialized flying as powerline inspection calls for contour flying at average heights of 100 to 150 feet, with the aircraft maintaining a steady distance from transmission lines and towers. In order to avoid fatigue and eye strain on this job, it is not advisable to fly more than 1½ hours at any one time.

The inspection trips are often made over isolated and bush country, and the long distances involved offer unusual flying problems. The machine flies loop circuits on these trips and may not return to its main base for two to four days in some areas, and from one to two weeks in others. For refuelling purposes, some 40 gasoline caches are strategically located in these remote areas.

In addition to line inspections, the Commission uses helicopters to survey and locate new transmission line over inaccessible country, thus enabling engineers to choose favorable routes and realize savings in construction costs. The machines have also been used to string lines over swift waters and deep ravines.

However, while the helicopters are usually employed on full schedules for all these operations, they have been used for other emergency purposes. In this connection, Chairman Saunders mentioned the use last year of a Commission helicopter for transporting firefighters and equipment to a forest fire in the Cogama area, near Timmins. Hydro has again offered this service to the provincial government.

DEMANDS AN APOLOGY — Lt. Col. and Mrs. Leonard Haseman look over some papes at their Ft. Belvoir, Va., home after Mrs. Haseman demanded an apology from Sen. Lyndon Johnson, chairman of a Senate investigating committee. Testimony before the committee claimed that Mrs. Haseman revised housing plans for North African air bases to provide more housing plans for North African air bases to provide more room for her own home. Her husband was in charge of construction of the bases. She denied the charge and said she should have an apology.

Discontinue Delivery

KITCHENER, May 20 (CP) — Wednesday milk deliveries are being discontinued effective May 21, the Kitchener-Waterloo Milk Distributors Association announced Monday.

Guides, Brownies, Scouts At Church

LAKEFIELD, May 20 (ENS)—Attending the morning service at the Church of St. John the Baptist in observance of Empire Youth Sunday were the Girl Guides, the Brownies, the Lakefield Sea Scouts and the First and Second Cub Packs. The parade was headed by the bugle band of the Lakefield District High School Cadet Corps commanded by Bill Down and directed by band master, Bill Twist.

Color bearers were Patty Jakins, John Nickels and David Payton, and officers on parade were Brownie Leaders, Mrs. R. Doubt, Captain of Guide Company, Mrs. Eldon Jewell, Mrs. John Trickett, Skipper Ken Jakins, T. Payton, T. Last, Ron Kingdon, Don Nichols and Ruth Fraser.

"First Unto God and Then to the Queen" was the subject of a challenging address by the rector, the Rev. J. L. Delaney. Assisting in the service were Brownie Leader, Mrs. Doubt, Skipper Ken Jakins and group leader chairman, Mel. Kingdom. The morning lesson was read by captain of Guide company, Mrs. Eldon Jewell.

Won't Ask Resignation

KITCHENER, May 20 (CP) — The Waterloo township council Monday night voted down a police committee recommendation that Police Chief H. J. Schedewitz be asked to resign. The recommendation, result of a secret week-long inquiry into police activities, was defeated 3 to 2. Reeve James Johannes and Councillor Clayton Ricker resigned in protest from the police committee.

Churches Sell Roofs

LONDON, May 20—(AP—Some hard-up British churches are selling their roofs to get out of debt, the Church of England Building Society reported Sunday with regret. The roofs bring a high price because they are made of scarce lead needed for Britain's rearmament program.

Given $50,000 Grant For Law Course

TORONTO, May 20—(CP)—A grant of $50,000 to establish a centre for the study of comparative law at the University of Toronto's School of Law has been made by the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

Distinguished comparative lawyers from Quebec and the United States will give lectures at the University of Toronto's Law School.

It is expected that this will lead to a more regular exchange of teachers among law schools in Canada and between Canadian and American law schools.

Unemployment Fears Concern Legion Members At Convention

MONTREAL, May 20—(CP)—Veterans' unemployment fears have sparked the first big issue of the Canadian Legion's national convention, its 14th and its biggest. The Canadian National Railways and displaced persons were the foils.

It happened Monday as the Legion, in its first day, piled through a host of resolutions involving improvements in pensions, treatment, rehabilitation and employment.

Except for a brief, indecisive scrap over whether veterans should be allowed to appeal pension commission rulings to the Exchequer Court, there was no controversy until the unemployment question came up.

Today, with 1,100 delegates and alternates on hand, the spotlight will swing to Defence Minister Claxton and Brig. John M. Rockingham, just back from Korea.

The jobs issue arose over a resolution urging the Legion's executive to take steps to "have veterans given a fair chance of getting employment whenever an opening is made, more especially employment on the C.N.R., where veterans apparently have been shown very little consideration.

Too Many Immigrants

Later resolutions said unemployment has been increasing and that immigrants and displaced persons are being brought in to take jobs veterans should have. These were referred back to a committee because of faulty wording but enough speakers touched on them to indicate they are a sore point.

The first resolution was finally passed but only after the reference to the C.N.R. was deleted. The argument waxed strong over whether the C.N.R. does or does not discriminate against veterans.

It was deleted primarily because some speakers said it was wrong to single out one firm when the resolution should be directed to the government to cover all state-owned enterprises.

A number of speakers charged that displaced persons and immigrants are being given jobs which veterans should have, that C.N.R. extra-gang foremen in one part of Eastern Ontario are ordered to hire only D.P.s, and that in Alberta there has to be a special inquiry every time a D.P. is fired from certain construction jobs.

STOP! IT'S TRADE-IN ZONE TIME

YOU SAVE MONEY AT THE TRADE-IN ZONE!

In every tire's life there's an ideal time for trading. This is when your tire has paid for itself in mileage and safety, but still has good value as a recappable carcass. This is the TRADE-IN ZONE shown in the illustration above. It's the point where we can give you the best trade-in allowance because, even though you've had the best out of the tire, it has value for use on other vehicles where safety is not a factor.

Are your tires in the TRADE-IN ZONE? Now is the time to find out. Have them checked by experts at our Trade-in Zone headquarters.

Famed British Spy Reveals Wartime Exploits In New Book

By JACK AULD

LONDON, May 20—(Reuters)—Some 32,000 Gestapo agents were concentrated in Paris to uncover the wartime resistance movement when a British Secret Agent carried into the city a suitcase containing documents about the then unused deadly V-weapons.

He arrived by train with the suitcase buried among German officers' luggage.

After a night in the city he took the bag first to Arras and then to Charente, and eventually it was secretly flown to England in an R.A.F. plane.

It was his second clandestine visit to occupied France. On a third he was betrayed, tortured, and twice sentenced to death. The first time a French friend managed to bribe a Gestapo officer to mislay the sentence order. French money parachuted by the British government was used for the bribe.

Exploits Revealed

This is the story revealed in a book, "The White Rabbit," about the exploits of British wartime agent "Shelley," otherwise Wing Cmdr. F. F. E. Yeo-Thomas of the R.A.F. The title, "The White Rabbit," comes from the code name given him in secret BBC messages to the French resistance movement.

Yeo-Thomas, was both before and after the war was a director of Molyneux, the Paris dressmaking firm, now at 51 is the Federation of British Industries' representative in Paris.

After a second mission unifying underground groups, Yeo-Thomas saw Prime Minister Churchill in 1944 to obtain more help for the underground groups.

He went back to France again because the Gestapo had seized another agent as the "White Rabbit," and Yeo-Thomas determined to rescue him before a telltale white streak reappeared in his dyed hair.

He was seized at a subway station and later repeatedly semi-drowned in an ice bath without being made to talk or betray his comrades.

At Fresnes jail he was lodged in a punishment dungeon among the rats on D-Day, and sang "God Save the King" and "Tipperary" when the news filtered through by way of an air vent.

But he was moved to Germany as a "dangerous terrorist, to be exterminated," and placed in Buchenwald Concentration Camp where 3,000 prisoners died daily.

He and two other prisoners evaded the executioner by changing identities with three Frenchmen who had died in the typhus block.

His final escape was made during a murderous forced exodus of hundreds of prisoners eastward as the allies advanced. After organizing a break-away from a halted train, Yeo-Thomas lost his companions and tramped on day and night until he reached the advancing Allied columns and safety.

"...the willingness to find a way"

A man who started a new business a few years ago recently wrote to pay tribute to the bank's part in helping to make it a success:

"We were fortunate in having, as our banker, a man who could combine with experience the willingness to find a way that called not for experience alone but for imagination as well."

The chartered banks are forever alert to the fresh problems, the changing needs of their customers. At all times, in all your banking problems, you can depend on your local bank to bring experience and imagination to the task of helping you to "find a way".

Movie Column

Believes French Stress Courtesies More

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 20—(AP)—Several years ago, three struggling actors named Jean Pierre Aumont, Louis Jourdan and Claude Dauphin were living together in Paris. Whenever the phone rang, they would jest:

"If that's Hollywood with more movie offers, tell them we're not interested."

Today, Dauphin is the third member of the trio to find fame and fortune in Hollywood. He now is making love to Doris Day in "April in Paris."

Dauphin hastens to correct the common beliefs about Frenchmen.

"It is not true that we are unusually great lovers," he said earnestly. "I don't think any nationality has a monopoly on that. Love is the same in every country. It is wonderful!

Use Flowers

"I think you might say that during the courtship we treat our women more tenderly than Americans. We have a great concern for the little courtesies, such as the sending of flowers.

"We think much less about sex than Americans do," he observed. "I think it is because we have existed many more centuries as a people, and we have developed an attitude toward sex. It is taken for granted.

"But in America, there is much dwelling on sex. It is talked and whispered about to a great extent. America is much more sex-conscious than France."

Dauphin became a reigning star of the French stage and sceen, inheriting the position vacated by Charles Boyer. During the war, Dauphin distinguished himself in the French Underground and as a liaison officer with the allied forces.

After he made a Broadway hit in "The Happy Time," Dauphin wanted to take an American play back with him to Paris. He discarded "The Happy Time," a story of a French-Canadian family with a reputation for romance. "The French would have considered it too naive," he said.

Stage Hawaiian Show At Lily Lake School

LILY LAKE, May 20 (ENS). — The school at Lily Lake was fileld to capacity Friday night to hear a Hawaiian program arranged and conducted by Mrs. Ethel G. Cochrane of Peterborough and her pupils. It was sponsored by Lily Lake W.A. The president, Mrs. Arthur Hancock, opened the program.

Adele Cochrane sang two solos, "This Little Light" and "A Bushel and a Peck." During the intermission tickets were sold on an auto robe. Adele Cochrane drew the lucky ticket of Mrs. Allan Robinson of R.R. 6, Peterborough.

The program then continued with an instrumental, "Waikiki Mermaid" by the Hawaianettes, and "Nobody's Darling" by the boys' group. Adele Cochrane sang "Fella With An Umbrella" and "Aba Daba Honeymoon." A mixed quartette played "On Moonlight Bay." Allan Tucker again played two piano solos.

The progrm was brought to a close with the orchestra playing "Now It's Time to Say Oloha-Oe to You."

To Exclude Press

Daring Young Men Of '27 Forgotten Heroes Today

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK, May 20—(AP)—Twenty-five years ago, they were the daring young folks of the flying machines.

Some flew oceans solo for the first time. Others proved multi-engined planes could reach far lands. They set long-distance records and hearts fluttering. They won acclaim abroad and at home.

Today, these air pioneers of the great ocean-hopping craze of 1927 are scarcely known to later generations of hero worshippers. Some still fly. Some don't. But almost all of them, knowing now what they know about aviation, wouldn't dare make the same flight in the same plane.

There was Charles Augustus Lindbergh . . .

May 20, 1927, he took "The Spirit of St. Louis" up through the morning mist at Roosevelt Field, Long Island and headed east. Thirty-nine hours and 29 minutes later he landed in Paris. More than 30,000 Frenchmen closed in on him, and the age of heroes had its greatest hero.

Other men had flown the Atlantic before. But Lindbergh was the first to call his shot, the first to fly all the way from New York to Paris and the first to do it alone.

Other, bigger planes were waiting to take off for the $25,000 prize posted for the first non-stop flight to Paris. Lindbergh got away first, and with little fuss. He simply said, "so long," and took off.

Lindbergh was feted all over Europe, returned to the United States aboard a cruiser and was greeted with 1,800 tons of confetti in New York. (The armistice in 1918 rated only 155 tons.) He was presented the Congressional Medal of Honor and other decorations by President Calvin Coolidge.

Secluded Life

In the last 25 years, Lindbergh has been the object of world adulation for his flight; intense sympathy for the fatal kidnapping of his son in 1932, and bitter controversy for his "America first" stand in the years before the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

Today, at 50, Lindbergh lives with his wife, the former Anne Morrow, and their three sons and two daughters at Darien, Conn.

He lives in an anonymity of his own choosing. He sees no reporters, grants no interviews.

And then there was Clarence Chamberlin . . . .

When Lindbergh reached Paris, Chamberlin painted out "New York to Paris," on his Bellanca monoplane. He changed his goal to Berlin.

Until the last minute, the identity of his passenger remained secret. It turned out to be Charles A. Levine, millionaire manufacturer.

Early in the morning of June 4, 1927, with Levine at the controls of the "Columbia" at Roosevelt Field, both men took off for Berlin.

Landed In Field

After 46½ hours, during which they set a long-distance record. Chamberlin and Levine ran out of gas. They landed in a wheat field at Eiseleben, 110 miles southwest of Berlin. They, too, won big receptions abroad and at home. Chamberlin made $75,000 in prizes, lectures, endorsements and personal appearances.

Today, the white-haired flier makes his home in Bridgeport, Conn., where he operates a dairy farm and foreign car agency.

And Levine? Five years after the flight, he testified he was penniless. In 1937, he was sentenced to two years in prison for smuggling tungsten into the country. Today, the people who knew him don't know whether he's dead or alive.

MENTAL QUIRKS

It is estimated that as many as 60 of every 1,000 persons in Canada require or could benefit by, psychiatric treatment.

Judge Shot

CAIRO, May 20 (AP) — An Arab news agency dispatch from Baghdad said Monday that Said El Aaragi, a lawyer, walked into a court at Al Hella near Baghdad Sunday and shot to death the presiding judge. The judge had dismissed an appeal against a three months sentence passed on the lawyer's brother.

TEN/TEST INSULATING SHEATHING

THE "SENSIBLE" INSULATION FOR ANY EXTERIOR FINISH

BRICK • STUCCO • SIDING

It's good sense to use TEN/TEST Insulating Sheathing — Asphalt Coated both sides and edges to prevent moisture penetration — insulates efficiently and strengthens the walls in one application.

1. Save as much as one-third on application. Speedy installation lowers labor costs.
2. Save on waste by using all cut-off pieces with this modern sheathing! Large 4' x 8' and 4' x 9' panels are economical, easy to handle.
3. Save on fuel through strong, draft-free construction. 1" of TEN/TEST is equal to 3" of solid lumber in fuel-saving value.
4. Save valuable time! All panels are white-ruled at 16" nailing centres, to go up fast in any kind of weather.

Hope To Revive Historic Club

HALIFAX — (CP)—The fate of historic Studley Quoit Club, a sport and social centre for nearly 100 years, will be decided soon.

The Horseshoe Club was organized in 1858 and was disbanded three years ago. During those 91 years the name "Studley" was known far and wide among many types of travellers including royalty.

By the early part of the century, the club's popularity was well established and membership grew to 100. King George V, while Prince of Wales, on duty on this Naval station, was a guest at Studley. When Edward VIII, as Prince of Wales visited Halifax, he was charged by his father to make inquiries about Studley.

Despite its fame, no clubhouse was ever erected on the grounds. On days of play tents were pitched in the shade of the trees.

Changed conditions, especially the advent of the motor-car, with the opportunity to quit the city for week-ends, was a major factor in the passing of the old park.

Members hope to keep up some semblance of the old club even if it's only annual get-togethers to talk about the "good old times."

Rundle-Signorello

MARMORA, May 20 (ENS). — The wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's Anglican Church, Marmora, Saturday of Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Signorello of Toronto, and Stanley Alfred Rundle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie R. Rundle of Marmora.

Canon J. M. Brownlie officiated. The church was adorned with tulips, snap dragons and apple blossoms. Wedding music was played by the groom's mother, organist of the church, who sang before the arrival of the bride "When Song is Sweet" and during the signing of the register "God Gave Me You".

The bride who was given in marriage by Major Percy Gray, uncle of the groom wore a gown of white brocade and net in ballerina length. Her veil of white embroidered net was caught to a pearl embroidered crown. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. B. V. Jesshope of Toronto as matron of honor was gowned in orchid brocade, ballerina length and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. She was also atteded by Miss Edith Blasioli who was dressed in yellow lace and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Both wore hats of tulle and flowers.

A. W. Marks of Toronto was groomsman with Marvin Fleishman and Ray Schuster also of Toronto being ushers.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents where his mother received, wearing a gown of grey printed silk with a white hat with green trim and corsage of pink roses and white sweet peas.

The bridal couple left on a trip to Montreal, the bride travelling in a blue suit dress with white picture hat.

They will live in Toronto. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Jesshope and Mr. James Brodie, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. R. Aitkenson, Niagara Falls; Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. James Wright, Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Abrams, Napanee; Provincial Constable and Mrs. H. Gould, Madoc.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH the alkaline (no-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). University Women Have Large Crowd At Open Meeting

The largest crowd yet to attend the annual "open meeting" of the Peterborough University Women's Club was in the Y.W.C.A. recreation room Monday evening to hear Byrne Hope Sanders. President Mrs. C. G. Boyd extended welcome and following the speaker's address the club members were hostesses for a social half-hour with refreshments.

It is the practice of this club to bring an outstanding speaker to the city each spring and invite the public to share in their meeting. Mrs. W. A. Henderson introduced Miss Sanders and an expression of appreciation was voiced by Mrs. V. C. Northcott.

One point in the address was specifically for the club members. Miss Sanders was referring to survey work in connection with her Canadian Opinion business and she said "University graduates always have an opinion." Many people interviewed do not have an opinion at all, a regrettable state for Canadians, she feels.

It was urged also that organizations should not hold themselves as "non-political" but should be ready to listen to all shades of political opinion. Members should also read and otherwise inform themselves on each of the political parties, including those they do not agree with, Miss Sanders thinks.

Gladys Murphy Bride Of Paul Turcotte

A pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday morning in St. Peter's Cathedral when Gladys Illiene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Murhpy, became the bride of Paul Joseph Turcotte son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Turcotte all of Peterborough.

The Rev. J. F. McGuire said the nuptial mass and Monsignor P. P. Butler was present in the sanctuary. Mr. Anthony Denoble sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus" accompanied by Mrs. R. G. Aman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a Queen Anne Collar, tiny self-covered buttons to the waist, and a full skirt forming a slight train. Her fingertip veil was of silk illusion embroidered at edges and adorned with a hand beaded tiara. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Reg Tapp, attended her sister as matron of honor and was gowned in powder blue taffeta with a small picture hat of matching color in silk net. She carried a nosegay of red roses and pink sweet peas.

Mr. Albert Turcotte was groomsman and the ushers were Jack Murphy and Jack Black.

A reception was held in the Kawartha Room, Empress Hotel, where the bride's mother received in a gown of navy blue crepe with white accessories and wearing a corsage of pink roses. The groom"s mother also received, wearing grey flowered crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white roses.

For a wedding trip to Toronto and Buffalo, the bride chose a suit of powder blue linen with navy accessories and carried a pink shortie coat.

Realize Worth Of Canada Do Something About It: Byrne Hope Sanders

To incite Canadian people to a realization of the worth of their own country, not to just take it for granted, was the purpose of Byrne Hope Sanders in two exhilarating addresses made in Peterborough on Monday.

"Unless we're careful, something is going to happen to Canada that we don't want," she warned. "The struggle today is for the mind of man —not for the country. This is something we can do something about."

Now studying the "mind beat" of Canada as a business, Miss Sanders is seeing what persuasive talk is doing to this young verile country on the verge of a period of prosperity, and she is afraid for it.

"Only 43 per cent of the people think Canada should go on as it is, a member of the British Commonwealth. The rest want it a country by itself, or joined with United States," she stated. "Ten years ago, 47 per cent were satisfied. What will the precentage be in 10 years from now?" Though 90 per cent of Canada's population lives within 100 miles of the U. S. A. borders she feels they should help the situation under a "good neighbour" status.

The "thinking" per centages are based on the total population, old and young. Pull out the thinking of the young people and the percentage drops away down, she added.

Miss Sanders worked with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and she knows that the Canadian people worked together in many different ways to win the war. Now, she would like to see them work just as hard at winning minds.

Change Influence.

The turning of young Canadians toward the United States is, she admitted, in many cases the fault of the parents and people of the older generation. "Gods that we worship write their names in our faces" she quoted and pointed out that by talking about British traditions and instilling a sense of loyalty these young people will be influenced in that direction. "These traditions grew with us because our parents told us" said Miss Sanders.

Some words of advice to parents were inserted when she referred to the protest about crime comics. Miss Sanders' suggestion is for parents to get down on the floor and read the comics with the children, then talk them over, which usually results in the children themselves deciding some are unsuitable reading. She also said "Parents should be able to talk to their children and have them listen, and, let their children talk and be able to listen."

Fostering interest in trade relations with Great Britain, which is actually self-interest since one-third of the Canadian income comes from abroad, was the speaker's second point.

Young people who want to buy from and sell to United States should be reminded that this may be done in a time of plenty, but, in a period of depression these markets will be closed both ways and only British and European markets are open. Miss Sanders has since the war worked on the Dollar-Sterling Trade Board for the purpose of increasing buying in Britain.

British Now Minority

Third point in this speaker's addresses was the "changing content of this country." From the most recent census she quoted figures showing the people of British stock in the minority for the first time in Canada's history. Of the 14 million residents, 45 per cent are British, more than 30 per cent French and more than 20 per cent European.

"We are mising out in not truly trying to understand Quebec" stated Miss Sanders. "We should be brave enough to produce a flow between the provinces. Too often on any national program, there's a separate plan for Quebec." She thinks the inter-provincial visits between students of high school age, is a splendid way.

Suggested phrasing for a greeting to new Canadians was "We have a wonderful country—what are you going to contribute to it?"

"Logically Canada has no right to be a country at all" the speaker pointed out. All across the country there are longitudinal interests—people looking south of the border to people in a similiar setting geographically with similar interests.

Speaking further on the struggle to win the mind of man, Miss Sanders compared with the old days when a fortress with someone always on guard was the only defence. Mechanically the fortress is enlarging to what extent is not known and there must therefore be an entire country of people on guard. This is where she urged her audiences to take up the battle.

Take Off Blinkers

"In looking for the dangers, we must get rid of the blinkers of prejudice, ignorance, lack of understanding." She suggested as first steps to "read something you don't agree with, delve into ideas you don't understand, so you will know what to say to communists who are most persuasive in their conversation."

Getting more women into public positions was also urged by Miss Sanders. She pointed out this is the second Elizabethan era. It should bring forth trained women with fresh ideas and fresh minds. The place to start is in the women's organizations with younger women taking over the leadership.

Closing appeal from Miss Sanfollowed by these remarks: "We and do something about it" was ders, "Think of what Canada has can't do anything unless we believe. The moment we believe we'll want to do it."

She then reminded "During the last war, millions of people in Russia were our allies; millions of people in China were our allies. They are not now. The people of India are not as close as they were. There is no reason for us in Canada to be contented."

Miss Sanders' evening address to an audience of men and women prominent in business and professional life was sponsored by the University Women's Club of Peterborough. In the afternoon she spoke to a group of ladies under sponsorship of St. Paul's Ladies' Aid.

At the candy table Pat Killingbeck and Pat Weston were kept busy with their pretty boxes of "home made sweets".

Mrs. Eric McKinstry and Mrs. G. Eason were in charge of the home bake table.

Singapore Girl Wins U.K. Scholarship

LONDON—(CP)—Miss Lim Bek Noo of Singapore has been awarded a scholarship to the Royal College of Music here on the recommendation of Dr. Thomas Fielden, noted British composer and music professor. The three-year scholarship is worth £200 annually.

Dr. Fielden is one of four examiners visiting various Commonwealth countries for Britain's Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music. The examiners, in the course of their three-month tours, will examine about 20,000 music students and teachers for the awarding of diplomas and the scholarships available to Commonwealth citizens.

Miss Lim Bek Noo, 22, an assistant organist at Singapore Cathedral, is also an outstanding pianist. Daughter of a Singapore law clerk, she played the organ in the cathedral during the Japanese occupation.

Dr. Fielden recently heard her at the cathedral organ in a choral celebration. He described it as a remarkable demonstration of her power and ability to control massed choral groups.

B & PW Club Elects Miss A. Hardwicke

The Business and Professional Women's Club met in the Green Room of the Y.W.C.A. Monday, May 19, for their regular monthly dinner meeting. There were 35 members present.

Following a delicious dinner, under the management of the North End Group, the meeting proceeded with president, Mrs. Jean Watson in the chair.

The following slate of officers for the coming year was presented and unanimously approved.

President, Miss Alice Hardwick; 2nd vice-president, Ester Thornton; recording secretary, Miss Helen Moore; treasurer, Miss Robina Carter; corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Lytle; archivist, Miss Mabel White. The matter of appointing a first vice-president was left to the incoming officers.

Miss Sarah Eastwood installed the new officers.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Watson for her excellent work during the past two years.

The meeting was brought to an early conclusion so that the members might attend the lecture by Byrne Hope Sanders.

Women MP's Defend Drivers

VANCOUVER—(CP)—At a traffic commission meeting here Ald. Roland Girving and Ald. Birt Showler took a pot shot at women drivers and were taken to task for their remarks by two women.

Mrs. Tillie Rolston, former Progressive Conservative member of the Legislature and Social Credit candidate in the coming provincial elections, said the charge that women were poor drivers was foolish. Women drivers' saftey records were better than those of men.

Ald. Anna Sprott, Liberal candiate in the elections, said women were wonderful drivers. "They don't go weaving in and out of traffic lanes as men do."

Plainville News

Over 100 friends in the Plainville United Church and the community met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Buttars bringing a shower of gifts for the latter's brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Reg McKinlay. Mr. and Mrs. McKinlay and 4 children, lost their home and all their furnishings and clothing in a fire recently. Over $600 dollars had also been donated.

May meeting of the Plainville W.M.S. and W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. William Herriott. Eighteen ladies were in attendace. After the business, Mrs. Malcolm Buttars took charge of the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Lou Buttars, Mrs. Alen Buttars and Mrs. John Linton, using a chapter from the study book, "From Lakes to Northern Lights". The new president of the W.C.T.U., Mrs. William Herriott, conducted a brief session, with a reading, some discussion and prayer. Lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. King's group.

Rural Life Sunday was observed at Plainville Church Sunday. The printed leaflets were used and the Rev. A. Y. Robertson's sermon was based on the parable of the sower.

The Young Adult Group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Herriott Sunday evening with 26 attending. Mr. and Mrs. S. Herriott and Mrs. and Mrs. Edgar Buttars were the couples in charge of the evening. Their short worship service had as its theme "Rural Life". The guest speaker for the evening was Miss Lindy McIntosh of Gore's Landing and Peterborough, speaking on her trip of last summer to the British Isles and the continent and showing her colored slides of the trip. She is a very enthusiastic speaker and her talk was very much enjoyed.

Has 8,000 Eggs In Collection

EDMONTON — (CP)—Archibald D. Henderson who has the most complete collection in Canada of North American birds' eggs says egg collecting is not so bad as some people think.

"There is a lot of prejudice against egg collecting," said the 74-year-old farmer, "but I'd like to point out there are few hobbies quite so harmless.

"People think that when we take a set of eggs, we destroy a whole brood of young birds. This isn't quite correct, because within two weeks the parent birds have built a new nest and laid more eggs. That applies to almost every bird."

8,000 In Exhibit

Henderson, a farmer in the Lac La Nonne district about 50 miles northwest of Edmonton, has about 8,000 eggs in his collection including those of the now-extinct passenger pigeon and the Guadeloupe petrel.

The oologist, technical name for an egg collector, has in his collection eggs of 930 species found in areas from southern California to Greenland. Henderson is credited with several "firsts" in oology and ornithology.

Mr. Henderson is credited with finding a bonaparte gull, the first since 1866 when one was discovered by a Hudson's Bay Company factor in the Arctic. The Alberta farmer's find was a nest in the Lac La Nonne area in 1926.

About 1923 Mr. Henderson found several nests of great grey owls. He supplied a nest, a set of eggs and mounted specimens to a large United States museum. The Alberta farmer said that as far as he knows the specimens he provided form the only complete set in a museum anywhere in the world.

Patience A Factor

Egg collecting calls for great patience.

"First you've got to find them," Mr. Henderson said, "and that's quite a trick in itself."

Then identification must be made beyond the slightest doubt. Sometimes this involves waiting for hours until the birds return to their nest.

After the eggs are blown comes the tedious work of filling out data cards, cataloguing and indexing the eggs.

Mr. Henderson, a native of Barrie, Ont., came west in 1898. He left the train at Calgary, travelled to Rocky Mountain House, Alta., and rode down the North Saskatchewan River to Edmonton on a raft.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

One Way To Disguise Using Milk

After hearing on the radio that the sales of canned dog meat have doubled in a community, and that a Social Worker declares it is used as sandwich spread for children, and after hearing from a Red Cross canvasser that one family on whom she called could not afford milk or even milk powder let alone contribute to a charity drive—after hearing those two pieces of news I think I should stress the importance of milk anyway. We should be thankful that in some cities the Boards of Education provide milk free to the children whose parents cannot pay.

If there are members in your family who do not like milk to drink I think you will find these milk desserts useful. For you know, milk is a "must" for good nutrition in the diets of children and adults.

If desired, skim milk, or reliquefied skim milk powder may be used in place of whole milk in these recipes.

Spanish Cream

One tablespoon gelatine, 3 tablespoons orange juice concentrate or fresh orange juice, 3 cups milk, whites and yolks of 3 eggs, ½ cup less 1 tablespoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt; soak the gelatine in the orange juice for 5 minutes. Scald the milk with the sugar in top of double boiler, then pour it slowly, while stirring, over the beaten egg yolks. Return to double boiler, cook til mixture coats spoon stir constantly. Remove from heat. Add salt. Let cool a little, then fold into it the soaked gelatine, stirring until dissolved, then the stiffly beaten whites. Turn into moistened individual gelatine will be required.

dish, an aditional ½ tablespoon moulds. If to be moulded in large

NOTE: If desired, packaged jello powder may be used. Reduce sugar to ¼ cup in the custard. Do not use gelatine or orange juice. Pour the hot custard over the jello powder in bowl and stir until dissolved, then fold in whites and chill as above. This gives the Cream a delicate color and the flavour of the packaged powder.

Steamed Custard, Caramel Coated

Three whole eggs or 6 yolks, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1½ cups milk. In top of double boiler beat the yolks or the whole eggs until thoroughly mixed. Blend in the sugar, salt and vanilla. Pour in milk. Stir over boiling water until custard coats spoon. Remove from heat at once. (If custard should start to curdle beat vigorously with rotary beater until it is smooth.) Cool a little. This part of this recipe is a custard that may be used as a dessert or with cake or fruit.

For the caramel coating melt ½ cup icing sugar in top of a small 1-quart double boiler over direct heat. Stir constantly until medium brown. Stir in 2 tablespoons boiling water. Remove from heat. Tip and turn the pan until the caramel coats the sides to height of 3 inches. Chill. When this is chilled, pour into it the cooked custard (above). Cover. Cook 45 minutes over simmering water. Turn out onto round serving bowl. The caramel will then run down the sides like a sauce.

Sending Papers Causes Problem

OTTAWA, May 20 — (CP) — Hometown newspapers are a great pleasure to the Canadians fighting in Korea, but their bulk constitutes a transportation problem all the way from the source to the front line.

This was reported at a press conference Monday by Brig. J. M. Rockingham, home after 13 months in command of the 25th Brigade in Korea.

Advertising matter was interesting to those in a position to take advantage of the bargains, he said, but the soldiers in Korea are not interested in apartments, fur coats or refrigerators.

He suggested that arrangements be made through some organization to have newspapers for the troops clipped of all advertising and placed in envelops labelled according to the area of origin.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Wants Learn Trade Help Family

DEAR MISS DIX: Lately I have been thinking about the high cost of living, and our inability to save money. Have you any solution to this problem? I am married, 27 years old, with a wonderful husband and a son 6 years old. The doctor tells me I will not have more children. I would like to work but I feel my son needs my guidance for a few more years. Then I will be able to work and in the meantime I'd like to prepare for a trade. I haven't any money for educational purposes, but would like to know of a place where I could go at night. I have gone to public night schools and will go again if I can't find something more definite.

I want very much to lessen the burden on my husband's shoulders and work toward a better future for all of us. BRIDIE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your clear thinking and sensible outlook should make you a valuable asset to anyone, when you are able to go out for a job. I agree wholeheartedly that your youngster is still too small to be left without you; he is your chief care now and until he is well able to be on his own, your place is with him. However, while he is at school, you have plenty of time to do your own schooling. This would be a better arrangement than night school, if you can find what you want during the day.

Since you didn't give me your address, I am unable to supply information on educational institutions near you. The Labor Departments of many states have excellent guidance service for women seeking to learn a trade; write to the department at your state capital and see what help they can extend.

Practical nursing would be an ideal field for you. The social service department of a local hospital will help you locate a good school. You will probably have to pay for your own tuition, but if it can possibly be managed I'm sure you'll find it a worthwhile investment. There is a terrific demand for practical nurses, so you'd have no trouble getting work when you want it; furthermore, the working schedule is sufficiently flexible to be accommodated to home responsibilities. Think this over. If you want further information, a self-addressed stamped envelope will bring it to you.

DEAR MISS DIX: Two years ago I met a nice boy in the service. I went with him, wrote to him and liked him a lot. We are both in our early twenties. As time went on our differences caused disagreements, then we'd make up, then disagree again. Finally, in January, our friendship came to an end. We parted on friendly terms, but definitely parted.

This is the funny part—for the first time in my life I find I have fallen in love and it's with him! As far as I know he doesn't have a girl, but I don't know how to go about winning him back myself. ROSE L.

ANSWER: Your predicament isn't nearly as funny as you think—it's simply a case of being too sure of a man, then realizing when he's gone that he was, after all, the one! Nothing ever seems so desirable as the things we lose.

How to regain him is a difficult question. After being so vacillating, it's a bit late to go stalking; perhaps the best thing to do is bide your time for a while and see if he, too, has discovered you are his own true love. It's entirely possible and I hope it's the way things work out for you.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Can you help us, as you have helped so many others? We are two European women, 35 years old. We've been in Philadelphia for three years and haven't had a chance to make friends at all. We speak fluent English, German and Italian, have good jobs, and would be very grateful if you could tell us how to meet folks. JOAN and MARY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Perhaps the good people of Philadelphia can offer suggestions for these two nice young ladies. There probably are many community groups open to them where their splendid European background could be put to work on a common project.

6—In Memoriam

CROUTER—In loving memory of Sidney Wallace Croute, who passed away May 22, 1937.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one I loved
From memory pass away.
—Ever remembered by daughter, sons, daughter-in-law, grandchildren.

McILWAIN—In loving memory of my dear mother, Jessie McIlwain, who passed away May 20, 1950.
Her smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall,
She had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet her
Some day, we known not when,
To clasp her hand in better land
Never to part again.
—Remembered by son George, daughter-in-law Marcella and two grandchildren.

McILWAIN—In loving memory of my dear mother, Jessie L. McIlwain, who passed away May 20, 1950.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember her who once was here,
And who, though absent, is just as dear.
—Remembered by son Orville, daughter-in-law Jean and two grandchildren.

McILWAIN—In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Jessie Louise McIlwain, who passed away May 20th, 1950.
Her last parting wish
We would like to have heard,
And breathed in her ear
Our last parting words,
Only those who have lost
Are able to tell,
The pain in the heart
In not saying farewell.
—Lovingly remembered by daughter Clara, son-in-law Arthur and grandsons.

McILWAIN—In loving memory of our dear mother, Jessie McIlwain, who passed away May 20, 1950.
Two years have passed and gone,
Since one we loved so well
Was taken from her home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we placed upon her grave
May wither and decay,
But the love of her who sleeps
Shall never fade away.
—Sadly missed by her loving son Bud and his wife Hazel.

7—Cards of Thanks

I wish to thank the attending doctor, nurses and staff of Civic Hospital, also clergy and Women's Friendly Group of All Saints' Church and friends for hteir cards and kindness during my recent illness.—Mrs. Manley Turner.

I wish to thank the doctors and nurses of Civic Hospital, who cared for me during my recent confinement.—M. Sculthorp.

I would like to thank attending doctors and nurses of Civic Hospital, visiting clergymen, friends and neighbours and organizations who sent flowers, cards and treats during my recent illness.—Miss Ruby McIntyre.

Kathleen Griffin wishes to extend heartfelt thanks for many kindnesses shown from relatives, friends and neighbours. Especially thanking Major Douglas Sharp, Byersville Home League, V.O.N. and Red Cross for kindness tendered during the long illness and death of a dear mother, Mrs. Mary Neill.

Mrs. G. Parker wishes to thank all those who helped her after her accident on Friday, May 16, especially the ladies at the Simcoe St bus stop.

BUYING — OR SELLING?

When Egg Prices are at peak next fall, will you be Buying or Selling? Provided you have housing for layers, probably more comforting to "pocket nerve" to have plenty home-produced eggs for table, surplus for sale! Well-started three-four-week-old Pullets fast growing, early laying, big-egg Bray stock, should lay by September if raised right. Very reasonably priced right now if taken "shipper's choice" — look: Heavies, per hundred, three weeks $27.50 four weeks $32.50. Broilers, per hundred, three weeks $27.50 four weeks $32.50. (If interested particular breed or cross, ask for "customer's choice" prices, slightly higher but still mighty reasonable.) Day-olds also available new lower prices. S.A. Staff Band Impressed By Green City

The evidence of green ground space around so many of the homes of Peterborough's people is one of the impressions members of the International Staff Band of the Salvation Army will take back to London with them.

Lawn and garden room for flowers and grass, and maybe some vegetables at the back, that will be one of their remembrances of Peterborough.

Two other impressions: people's warmth of friendliness and the neatness and trimness of the city.

The visiting musicians were guests last night in various homes. Conductor, Senior-Major Adams relaxed after the concert in the hospitality of Bandmaster and Mrs. Gerald Routly, and although he was leaving at 9 a.m. this morning for Kingston, he chatted until nearly one o'clock.

Conductor Adams said that from the time he stepped off the bus at the Empress Hotel Monday he felt that he was among a very friendly people. Rotary Club set that impression and it remained throughout the day's touring and evening concert.

"Some of the bandsmen told me they felt very happy here, and Peterborough appeared to be a city to which they would like to come and live," Mr. Routly told the Examiner today. "I think our own corps would like the citizens to know that their welcome was so deeply appreciated by the International Staff Band. We are all grateful that everything turned out so pleasantly and successfully."

The band will be at Massey Hall, Toronto, Thursday, May 29, on their return from Western Canada.

Egypt Presents Latest Proposals

LONDON, May 20 (Reuters) — Another chapter in Britain's prolonged negotiations with Egypt over the Sudan unfolded today when Egyptian Ambassador Amr Pasha presented his country's latest proposals for settling the dispute.

He called on Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and outlined Egypt's attitude to a British plan calling for direct consultations with Sudanese representatives on the future status of that country. The meeting lasted three-quarters of an hour.

His statement embodies counter-proposals to the British plan, which was believed unacceptable to the Egyptians because it failed to give explicit recognition to King Farouk as King of the Sudan.

Details of the Egyptian counter-proposals were not known immediately, but they at least left the door open for further discussion.

City Council

Just as a reminder of official action arising from the finance committee, Ald. Miller's report as chairman included this clause: "That the old city hall buildings at Simcoe and Water Streets be razed, and that the city clerk be authorized to advertise these buildings for sale by tender for razing, and to advertise the market weigh scales for sale."

Request Of Mormons

Another item was: "That Mr. K. S. Baker and Mr. Melville T. Burgess be informed that this Council cannot consider their request for permission to hold street meetings unless the request is made by the proper authorities of the church which they represent."

In their letter to the committee they wrote that they were elders of the Church of the Latter Day Saints.

The attitude of the committee was that this request was from two individuals, and it was felt that they should submit an application from their church in some official way, indicating their association with it and the endorsation of a directing board or head.

It was also suggested that they should request use of a park rather than a street and thereby avoid obstruction to the increased motor traffic.

Secret Plans Stolen

MEXICO CITY, May 20 (AP)— A military engineer told police Monday night confidential plans for a new Mexico military air base were stolen from his parked car Saturday. Authorities ordered an investigation. The officer, Maj. Carlos F. Bravo Troncoso, said the plans were in a brief case left for a few minutes in the car parked on Reforma Avenue.

Von Schirach and Speer Spend Days Doing Laundry

BONN, May 20 (Reuters)—Two former Nazi leaders, now jailed as war criminals, are doing laundry from their fellow prisoners, it was disclosed Monday night.

Launching an appeal for better treatment of war criminals, Hans Rechenberg, custodian for the family of Walter Funk, former Nazi economic minister, gave reporters details of how the jailed leaders are living at Spandau prison, near Berlin.

He identified the laundrymen as Baldur Von Schirach, once Nazi youth leader, and Albert Speer, former armaments minister in the Hitler war cabinet.

Erich Raeder, former grand Admiral, is acting as prison librarian while his colleague, Karl Doenitz, works in the garden.

Rudolf Hess, deputy Fuehrer, who flew to England on a mystery mission during the war, is doing nothing at all, Rechenberg said. He seems mentally unbalanced.

The prisoners are allowed one book each from the library every two weeks. They can receive and write one letter monthly.

Every two months each is allowed to receive one visitor for 15 minutes.

Rechenberg said the prisoners know nothing of what goes on in the outside world.

Doctors' Bills Said Bargain Of Present Age

HAMILTON, May 20 (CP) —Dr. J. L. Galbraith of Toronto said today that a man who pays a doctor's bill is "getting the bargain of the age."

In a report to the 72nd annual meeting of the Ontario Medical Association, he said a recent survey of medical costs has shown that patients now are getting the best value ever for what they spend on medical costs.

He said the average Ontario family spends 3.5 per cent of its annual income on medical care. About one-third of that amount goes to the physician, as distinct from the dentist and other workers in the medical field. Thus the physician receives an amount "less than that spent for recreation and about the same as that spent for liquor."

Medical services which cost the householder a week's wages in 1939 could be purchased for slightly more than half a week's pay in 1950, he said.

He said the public generally regards the cost of hospital care and drugs as too high but does not usually criticize medical fees. He advised "frank discussion" of fees between doctor and patient before treatment is undertaken.

Had Questionnaire

Dr. Galbraith reported also on a questionnaire he had sent to Ontario doctors.

The questionnaire recommended a composite bill for surgical fees where three or more doctors were involved. Dr. Galbraith said it was felt that the rate for such services—as scheduled by prepaid medical plans—was, in general, fair.

The division of the fee was improperly balanced. Small groups of specialists at present were drawing a greater share than their services warranted.

He said the questionnaire also indicated doctors thought the obstetrical fees were too low.

"Many tradesmen now charge more for their services than does the doctor," he said.

University Of Michigan Has Journalism Course

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 20—(AP)—The University of Michigan today announced a three-year graduate program in journalism.

"The program recognizes the coming of age of the profession of journalism and girds the intellectual resources of the university for the responsible functions of journalism in an increasingly complex and contracting world society," said Prof. Wesley H. Maurer, department chairman.

The program, covering both domestic and international journalism, will carry a master of arts degree for a two-year study. An additional year of internship on a domestic or foreign newspaper will offer a certificate of proficiency.

Obituary

MRS. MAX SEGER

Mrs. Max Seger of Sinclair St., Alexandria, Ont., died suddenly at her residence on Sunday. She was born at Alexandria, Anna, daughter of the late John Alexander Grant and Janet Morgan and has lived in the village all her life. Mrs. Seger was 75 years of age.

She leaves her husband, former police chief of Alexandria and inspector of shipping of Montreal Harbour Police, and two daughters, the Misses Helen and Marguerite Seger, both at home. There is one sister, Mrs. E. J. Carmichael of New York City and three brothers, Archie C. Grant of St. Paul, Minn., J. A. Grant of Seattle and Joseph P. (Kid) Grant of Oba, Norway. Mrs. Seger was a member of St. Finnan's Cathedral and of its League of the Sacred Heart, Catholic Women's League and League of Mary.

Funeral will be held on Wednesday from an Alexandria funeral home to St. Finnan's Cathedral and burial will be at Alexandria.

Open Month Late

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 20 —(AP)— The United Nations has decided to open its seventh general assembly a month late, around Oct. 21, in a move to escape most of the heat of the United States presidential election. This was disclosed today by well-informed sources. The new schedule would defer the general debate, in which each chief delegate outlines his country's position on a host of explosive issues, until after the U.S. election next Nov. 4. Routine matters would be handled between the opening date and the election.

T. O. Donaldson

The funeral for Thomas Orlando Donaldson, 643 Charlotte St., who died Friday was held Monday from the Comstock funeral home.

The Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United Church conducted the service.

Pallbearers were: Blane Till, James MacDonald, Sydney Ward, George Green, Ernest Reid, Thomas Neil. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Predict Harvest Good In Britain

LONDON, May 20 (Reuters).—British farmers are forecasting the best harvest for years following spring weather which brought days of sunshine after a wet spell.

An Agriculture Ministry official said today, "Reports indicated good prospects even before the recent favorable weather."

Wheat is well advanced, and even a summer of little rain would be unlikely to affect it now. Barley, sugar-beet and potatoes are also doing well.

There is also more pork in sight. Following official encouragement of pig breeding to produce meat quickly for home consumption, England and Wales now have nearly 4,000,000 pigs, 1,000,000 more than last year.

Though farms across Britain have been badly hit by foot-and-mouth disease among cattle, reports show that fowl pest among the poultry is on the down-grade.

Netherlands Suggests Special Court Set Up

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands, May 20 (AP)—The Netherlands suggested today that a special court be set up at the Hague to iron out differences which may arise among the six nations in the proposed European Defence Community and the Schuman coal-steel pool.

The Dutch foreign office announced today that Foreign Minister Dirk U. Stikker this week will formally submit to the five other E.D.C. members—who also belong to the Schuman plan — proposals for a new tribunal to solve any disagreements growing out of the working of the two international plans.

The other nations involved are France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Iceland Restrictions Bring Dutch Protests

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, May 20 (Reuters).—The Netherlands has added her protests to those of Britain concerning Iceland's new fishing restrictions, it was learned today.

The Netherlands government sent a note to Iceland May 9, details of which have not been released. It is believed, however, to object to Iceland's extension of the territorial limit.

Britain also sent a note of protest, rejected by Iceland, over the restrictions which forbid foreign fishing vessels to fish some of the best waters around Iceland.

The Netherlands note is believed to have agreed on principle to the Icelandic move but protested that any such moves should be made as the result of an international conference.

Force Special Meeting Of Bonn Parliament

BONN, Germany, May 20 (AP)— Anti-rearmament Socialists today forced a special meeting of parliament for Friday in a last-minute effort to block the Allied-West German peace contract.

Friday is the day the big three western foreign ministers are to arrive in Bonn to put the finishing touches to the contract.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced Monday night the contract will be signed here Monday and a parallel pact making Germany a partner in the six-country European army will be signed in Paris the same night.

Gets Through Blockade

TEL AVIV, May 20 —(AP)— A shipload of food for Israel reached Tel Aviv Monday after passing unmolested through the Egyptian blockade. Observers said it is still too early to determine whether the ship's arrival indicate the Egyptians have lifted the blockade they have maintained since the Palestine war against Israel-bound cargoes at the Mediterranean end of the Suez Canal.

Says Objectivity False God In News Writing

CHICAGO, May 20 (AP). — A midwest newspaper executive declared Monday night editors ve made a false god of objectivity" and called for more thorough analysis and interpretation of news.

But he cautioned against going overboard in interpretation to the extent that "we tell about the news—but not the news itself."

Gideon Seymour, executive editro of The Minneapolis Star and Tribune, expressed these views in a speech to the national awards banquet of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity.

Seymour said that with increased public interest in radio and television programs and in magazines the circulation of newspapers likewise has been growing.

Other communication media had not changed the function of newspapers—"they have enlarged it."

"We must accept this challenge. We must accept the responsibility of giving the news in its right context. We must interpret, background, and analyze.

No New Task

"This is no new task. Sports pages have been doing it for decades but in other news fields, the question (of bias) does come up . . . We have made a false god of objectivity."

Seymour said that simply putting two sides to a question in equally prominent position on news pages does not necessarily mean editors have been objective.

"Sometimes this leaves the reader confused. The real issues may not be presented at all.

"Newspapermen must be able to adequately analyze and interpret, point out where there are evasions . . . where there is merit."

Unions Hold Council Of War

CAPETOWN, South Africa, May 20 (AP)—South African Trade Union leaders called a council of war today to fight a government decree calling for the ouster of a key union official under its suppression-of-Communism Act. It was the first time Prime Minister Daniel Malan's Nationalists have taken such action against a unionist.

The order was issued Monday night against Emile Sachs, general secretary of the South African Garment Workers' Union. A veteran union organizer, he has been a storm centre of the country's labor movement for more than 20 years. Sachs was told to stay out of union affairs for two years and not to leave Transvaal province during that

Panty-Raid Craze Spreads To Seven More Universities

NEW YORK, May 20 (CP) —The panty-raid craze spread to seven more universities in various parts of the United States Monday night.

Male students at Minnesota, Northwestern, Wisconsin, Missouri, Ermont, Delaware and Connecticut, taking their cue from publicity given to previous raids, stormed women's dormitories with varying degrees of success in hunts for undergarment souvenirs.

In some cases, the girls urged the invaders on, in others they gleefully discouraged the attack with pails of water and similar methods.

One school, Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn., took steps to head off any future raids. Officials said that any student found taking part in Sunday night's raids would lose their good standing. That would mean they would become eligible for army call-up.

More than 3,000 students took part in the raids at Storrs, Conn., some scaling trellises and rushing doors to women's residences. Buckets of water kept them under control.

At the University of Vermont about a dozen youths entered a girls' dormitory but were removed and locked up in jail. They were later released without being charged.

Surprise Sortie

Some 500 students made a surprise sorties against three women's dormitories at the University of Minnesota. There was little damage and the only arrest was a student letting the air out of police-car tires.

At Evenston, Ill., some 200 Northwestern University women serenaded in front of the men's dormitories. The boys applauded the girls, and then some 1,000 of them paid a "return visit" and snatched lingerie in five dormitories.

Heavy Damage

At Columbia, Mo., 3,000 University of Missouri men sutdents assaulted sororities on their own campus and dormitories at Stephens College and Christian College, both women's schools. Acting police chief J. L. Parks said damage might run into thousands of dollars.

A mob of some 1,000 to 1,500 men students scampered into three women's halls at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. It was all in fun, the police said, and there were no incidents.

At Newark, Del., some 250 male students stormed eight co-ed dorms on the University of Delaware campus and made off with what was unofficially described as quite a bit of unmentionable loot.

One student was trapped on an upper floor by girls wielding a fire hose. He received a bath before escaping.

Commits Suicide

BISHOPS STORTFORD, England, May 20 (Reuters) —Victor Bayliss, 39, won £2,000 in three weeks on horse-race bets—and then threw himself under a bus. A court of inquest was told Monday he thought bookie gangs were after him because he had "cleaned them out".

RE-UNITED AFTER 39 YEARS—Mrs. E. J. Whelan of Gillingham, Kent, England, arrived in Canada to visit her sons who went aboard the ship at Montreal to bring her home with them. Shown herse are J. D. Whelan, Birdsall Station, Mrs. Whelan, F. D. Whelan, Keene, and his wife. Another son took the picture.

English Mother Visits Sons After 39 Years Separation

Jack Whelan of Birdsall is enjoying a re-union with his mother, Mrs. Ellen Whelan of Gilingham, Kent, after a lapse of 39 years.

Mrs. Whelan arrived in Montreal on May 6 after a trans-Atlantic trip from Liverpool on the Empress of Canada. Though 79 years of age Mrs. Whelan enjoyed a "very good trip" and has started a three months stay in Canada with her three sons—Jack of Birdsall, Fred of Keene and Arthur of Thorold.

What she has seen already of Canada impresses her. She likes the uncrowded, vast expanses of country, and she is looking forward to additional travel during her visit here.

Visited Malta, Egypt

Mrs. Whelan is no novice at ocean travelling. Her husband, the late John Whelan, was a soldier in the Imperial Army and she accompanied him during his service in Malta and in Egypt. It is, however, her first trip to Canada.

In Gilingham she lives with her three daughters—Nellie, Kathleen and Connie. During the Second World War they had their share of close calls. Kent was crossed by enemy and Allied planes on their sorties to and from the continent. On one occasion a near-miss from an enemy bomb smashed the windows in the house and caused other damage.

During the war she was visited by her son Arthur of Thorold who is a photographer and took a photo of the family re-union on the main deck of the Empress of Canada.

She will spend a month with each of the three sons and then return home.

B-H PAINTS last longer!

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Scouters' Club

The bi-monthly meeting of the Scouters' Club will be held in St. Luke's parish hall Wednesday evening of this week, May 21. We understand that there are several matters of interest to be placed before the meeting, and would suggest you all get out and support this worthy movement.

A Welcome

It is with great pleasure we welcome another new member to the commissioner's staff in the person of Mr. McInnis, who is taking over the vacancy caused by the retirement of Bill Jordan. Mr. McInnis was formerly in scouting as district commissioner for Trenton. He will now be chief of the Oneida Tribe of our Scout Association and will have under his guidance St. Luke's, St. Andrew's, Knox and Murray St. groups, and we are sure he will find many friends along this new scout trail.

St. Luke's Report

Jack Steen and Darrel Halstead were invested into scouting. Games of "chariot race" and "stepping stones" were added in the program and gave a deal of fun to all. But the evening was not complete with some of the boys passing tests, such as Jim Chambers, cleaning shoes, public telephone; Bob Simmons, book balancing, highway act; Daird Choate, folding clothes; David Pilley, Kim Salonius, Bob MacDonald, highway act; Jack Steen, time, book balancing; John Chambers, laws; Douglas Pammett, promise and salute; Darrell Halstead, book balancing and time. The boys are requested to try and get full uniform as soon as possible and bring in their camp dues before the end of the month.

At Trinity

The troop were pleased to learn that they had cleared about $28 towards their camp equipment on the sale of bird-houses at the recent sportsmen's show, with Don Spearin being awarded credit for the best bird-house in the display. Bill Hendry and John Phillips passed map reading under the examination held by F. Neeson, and another group of the fellows passed their public service work. The Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon was in attendance to continue his course on the religion and life badge work. Three patrols from this group attended the Ganaraska reforestration camp.

Following the opening ceremonies at the last regular meeting, the following badges were presented: Artist, to Bob Shimer; gardener, Daird Giles; collector, Michael Philp. The pack was then divided into teams and proceeded to Victoria Park where the scores chalked up 17-15 for the red and green sixes. The pack then returned to their headquarters for the closing ceremonies.

Over The River

Mark Street pack chalked up another weekend of activities both in and out of doors. One of the outstanding features was the pirate's treasure hike at which the sixes were taken to a spot just out of town and given maps in proper skull and cross bones style, giving directions as to where the various treasures were hidden. The seconders were in charge of the maps. These maps had been drawn up the previous week by the various sixers, under the guidance of the leaders, and articles had all been hidden for one week. Every item was found. Then followed a ball game and another wide game. The trek home took the form of an observation hike with some real silent tracking inserted when the gang came upon a skunk, looked on at a safe distance as it ambled along the road.

Signalling was the main theme of the indoor meet, and the following boys pased their second-class test: Don Munro, Arnold Allan, Jack Ferguson, Ron Davis, Bobby Duncan and Wayne Owen, with Wayne being presented with his second star for work accomplished. Highway regulations were demonstrated in action, with the boys being taken on the streets for definite instructions.

St. John's

On Sunday morning the troop, pack and members of the group committee and Mothers' Auxiliary attended diving service to commemorate Empire youth Sunday, and also for the presentation and dedication of colors. A good attendance was on hand for the occasion. The standard-bearer was senior sixer Blain Calhoun, with the guard, sixer Jim Baker. The colors were presented to the pack by Mrs. Bruce Baker on behalf of the Mothers' Auxiliary, and then carried to the altar where group chaplain Archdeacon W. P. Robertson conducted the religious rites. And with the singing of the hymn, "Youth of the World Arise," the scouts and cubs joined in the closing processional, following the choir from the church. The pack activities are now centred on the coming weekend camp to be held at the scout grounds on the weekend of June 6, 7 and 8. Bagheera was absent from the above ativities, owing to sickness in his household, and we trust that all will be well in time for the camp.

Gred Reports

The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite rover crew spent a weekend of real scouting activity, travelling to the district camp-site with the 5th All Saints' scout group. Those in attendance were skipper Art Rose, assistant rover mate Dave Hatton, rovers Len Foskett, Ken White, rover squires, Darrell, Lipsett, Ron Hatton, R. Brier and Bill Van den Bilt.

During the weekend the crew was engaged in three main services. First, was cooking for the troop. Scouter Fred Jay had in camp all members of the troop who had not previously been to camp as a pre-camp training in readiness for their coming summer camp. The crew cooked for 22 persons at each meal. The second project was the lowering of the flag-pole and painting same. On re-erecting the pole the crew painted a circle of stones around the base of same. The final project was the repair and waterproofing of the district tents. As an added service to the district, the crew also put a new look on one of the cabin doors and made a general clean-up of the camp.

No Homers Yet Off Mike Garcia

CLEVELAND, May 20 (AP). —Opposing batters have been getting more safe hits off Mike Garcia than any other Cleveland Indian hurler, but the big bear curently sports the best earned-run average in the major leagues.

The answer to that paradox is that hits against Mike seldom are for extra bases and seldom pay off in runs.

The 28-year-old righthander has allowed 65 hits in 63 innings, but his earned-run average is an even one. He has five victories, two losses and six complete games in seven starts.

Sunday Garcia beat Philadelphia 6-0 for his fourth straight triumph and first shutout. The Athletics rapped nine hits, but all were singles. They got only one base on balls, and they left 10 men stranded.

Garcia hasn't been tagged for a homer so far this season.

Charge New Murders

MOSCOW, May 20 (AP)—Pravda headlined today that the American military is "preparing new murders of war prisoners on Koje Island"'. The Soviet paper, organ of the Communist party, said the Americans have directed artillery at the prisoner-of-war camp. It predicted new bloodshed there. Pravda said there were about 800 women and some children in the camp.

Smallpox Outbreak

PUSAN, Korea, May 20 (AP) — An outbreak of smallpox has taken 10 lives in the southeast Korean coastal town of Ulchin, the United Nations civil assistance command said today. A special plane flew 30,000 doses of smallpox vaccine to Ulchin.

King Edward Triumphs

Free Bus Rides, Teapots Cause Tempest In House

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP)—Talk of teapots, serving forks, boots and free bus rides found its way into Monday's debate on defence spending in the Commons.

Julian Ferguson (PC-Simcoe North) called it "looting" for the defence department to have used two army buses May 2 to carry high school cadets from Finch, Ont., to see the parliament buildings and the war museum here.

The culinary touch was brought in by J. M. McDonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, who rapped the services on their now famous order of serving forks and voiced mild astonishment at the army's tea-drinking capacity as indicated by an order for about 29,000 two-quart pots.

Mr. McDonnell wanted to know, too, what the army wants with 1,304,000 pairs of boots shown recently to have been ordered.

Mr. Ferguson, waving a government return giving details of the 185-mile bus trip for the cadets, called it "wholesale looting" carried out by "Liberal politicians."

"What a training scheme" he exclaimed at a section of the return saying buses are made available for carrying out cadet training programs.

"The trtaining program in this instance," he said, "was a visit to the House of Commons of a group from a Liberal member's constituency, free of charge except to the taxpayer. Looting! That's another word for it . . ."

Transport Minister Chevrier said Mr. Ferguson was doing himself no credit in making the charge. The cadets were entitled to the trip to Ottawa as part of their training.

Mr. Chevrier said the cadets were from Finch High School and from the Avonmore cadet corps. Other cadet corps in the area would be given the same consideration for such a trip if they saw fit to apply.

Mr. Ferguson said it still wasn't right that they should come in army buses.

Mr. Chevrier said it wasn't Mr. Ferguson's prerogative to judge. It was the prerogative of army officers.

Public Meeting Forces Board Back Down

CARDINAL, May 20—(CP)—A public meeting of students and ratepayers Monday night forced the Eastern Ontario village school board to back down on its decision to dismiss high school Principal A. C. Reid. Four of the five board members announced their resignation.

Agitation to retain Mr. Reid, who was hired last fall, was headed by the students. Ninety students signed a petition Monday and paraded the streets protesting the board's decision not to re-hire Mr. Reid next fall.

1,800 Fly Atlantic

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—The International Air Transport Association estimated Monday that 1,800 persons will fly across the North Atlantic today and Wednesday during the 33½ hours required for the Lindbergh flight just 25 years ago.

Student's Body In Crevasse

SPIRIT LAKE, Wash., May 20 (AP)—Police reported Monday the body of Art Jessett, 20-year-old University of Washington student, has been recovered from the icy crevasse he fell into Sunday on Mount St. Helens.

Jessett dropped through the snow "bridge" over the crevasse Sunday afternoon as he trailed three companions on their descent from the 9,671-foot peak.

For a while the others could talk with him without being able to see him in his ice trap below. Then he slid further down. They heard intermittent moans from the crevasse depths and then there was only silence.

The only rope in the climbing party was coiled around Jessett's shoulders when he dropped through the snow that covered the treacherous crevasse with the cry: "I'm slipping."

Gardiner Hopeful F-M Outbreak Ending

REGINA, May 20 (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Monday he is "cautiously optimistic" that the worst of the foot-and-mouth disease outbreak in Saskatchewan is over.

"We now have gone three weeks without any new cases and I have every hope the disease has been licked," Mr. Gardiner said in an interview.

However, he said, if a new case is found within the next two or three weeks no one should say "Gardiner's wrong again."

"We are not making any apologies for anything that has been done or hasn't been done," he said.

Reports Baron In U.T.W. Employ

HAMILTON, May 20—(CP)—J. Harold Daoust, Canadian director of the Textile Workers' Union of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), said Monday night that Sam Baron, former Canadian director of the union, now has "entered the employ of the Communist-dominated United Textile Workers (A.F.L.) in Canada."

In a statement, he said:

"In effect, he is setting up a new Communist front trade union organization."

In Boston Monday, George Baldanzi, a former officer of the C.I.O. Textile Union, was named national director of the A.F.L. union.

Mr. Daoust said: "Baldanzi was executive vice-president of our (C.I.O.) union for 13 years, during which he launched bitter attacks against the U.T.W. (A.F.L.) as a scab and racketeer outfit in the United States and as a Communist group in Canada."

Ottawa Lawyer Heads Benevolent Fund

OTTAWA, May 20 — (CP) — Bernard M. Alexander, Ottawa lawyer, Monday was elected president of the R.C.A.F. Benevolent Fund. He succeeded the late Air Marshal H. Edwards.

Air Commander D. E. Mackell, fund manager, reported grants and loans to R.C.A.F. veterans and dependents totalled $2,537,246 since the fund was incorporated in 1944. Last year grants and loans totalled $26,557.

The fund had assets at the end of 1951 of $3,721,888, including $55,000 cash and $3,306,930 in securities.

Several Flee Apartment Blaze

TORONTO, May 20 — (CP) — Several occupants of an east-end apartment building Monday night clambered down firemen's ladders to escape a blaze that did $25,000 damage.

Thirty - eight persons were driven into the street but no one was injured.

Wooden walls gave the blaze impetus as firemen from five halls fought to keep it from spreading to the entire block of old buildings.

Dense smoke which covered the sky for blocks hampered firemen and caused most of the damage. Cause of the fire was unknown.

Postal Truck Ambushed In London

Seven Men Get Loot Of £100,000, Blackjack 3 Guards

LONDON, May 21. (AP) — Seven masked men ambushed a postal truck and made off early today with loot estimated in newspaper reports at up to £100,000.

Three guards attempted to fight off the robbers. They were blackjacked into submission. Two of the gang then drove away with the truck, followed by their five accomplices in a black sedan.

The truck was found five hours later, abandoned near the scene of the robbery. The holdup took place on a side street, only a block from Oxford Street, the London department store centre.

The thieves had rifled the truck of registered mail and parcels.

Eight days ago thieves boarded a Bright-to-London train and stole £10,500 from a locked mail car.

A post office official said the latest loss "is certain to be many thousands of pounds" but declined to give any figures until the senders of the stolen mail and packages had been interviewed.

The robbers stopped the truck by swerving their car across its path.

PARIS, May 21. (Reuters) —General Eisenhower will hand over the supreme command of Allied Forces in Europe to Gen. Matthew Ridgway on May 30 and will fly home the following day, it was officially announced today.

Flying Out Members Of Jungle Search

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 21 — (AP)—Members of two feuding expeditions to the wreckage of a Pan American stratocruiser were being flown one by one today out of the thick Brazilian jungle where they had been taking turns holding each other prisoner.

The bizarre sequel to Brazil's April 29 air disaster in which 50 persons died appeared to be ending happily after an aerial shuttle service begah flying out the two men left from the official Brazilian-American search party and the remnants of 35 armed members of a private expedition financed by a wealthy politician.

Latest reports said all but two of the official party have been hauled by helicopter back to their base at Lagoa Grande. Still in the jungle were Brazilian Air Force Maj. Miranda Correa and Scott Magness, U.S. Civil Aeronautics Authority Official, who were held hostage for a time but the free-lance group as insurance for their own rescue.

The topsy-turvey situation arose after Adhemar De Barros, former governor of Sao Paulo, impatient at the time it was taking officials to get an expedition to the crash scene, formed his own rescue party. It got there first by dropping parachutists 3½ miles from the wreckage, where they cleared a small space in the jungle for helicopter landings.

The official party, which set up a base 35 miles from the wreckage, started there May 10 on foot. On Friday they finally beat their way on foot to the wreckage.

The Sao Paulo group had reached there three days earlier, but following strict orders, said they did not touch the remains.

Finding all the persons on the stratocruiser dead, the official party buried the bodies and returned to its Lagoa Grande base.

Magness and Correa remained behind at the parachutists' advance point.

The Sao Paulo group's helicopter developed engine trouble.

Correo ordered Matos and his followers to hike to Lagoa Grande where they could be flown out by plane. The latter, not relishing the idea of slogging through jungle wilds inhabited by savage tribes, took Correa and Magness hostage.

Later they apparently became alarmed at radio reports of the furor created by the action and turned their captives loose. Correo then reported that he was holding Matos captive, but Tuesday night Brazilian Air Froce officials said peace had been established.

Threat Made Pinklist Area School

Federation Demands Principal's Resignation Accepted

LAKEFIELD, May 21. (ENS) —A threat of "pinklisting" by the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation hangs over the Lakefield District High School Board.

Board chairman George McIlmoyl said at a special meeting on Tuesday night that federation representatives had intimated there would be "pinklisting" of the school if the board did not accept the resignation of Principal R. E. Sutton.

Mr. Sutton's resignation was received in a letter and laid over to the next meeting of the board. He gave no reason for his proposed resignation.

Six other resignations received were accepted. Four were from teachers, one was from a teacher (also a board member) who was to have joined the staff in September, and the sixth was from Edward Rath, public school board representative on the high school board.

It is understood that a fifth teacher will resign soon.

Staff Differences

Behind the mass resignation lie differences between Principal Sutton and the teachers on his staff. These differences were not specified at the meeting.

Mr. Rath said he resigned from the board because he was "unable to stay on any board that wilfully ignored information that they knew had caused the resignation of at least four teachers."

He told the Examiner today he would prepare a full statement which he would release "in a day or two." This statement would go to the public school board, explaining his stand.

The teacher who was to have started in September is Gordon Hunt, a member of the school board for several years. He said

Reign Of Terror In POW Camps By Red Fanatics

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Senator Styles Bridges (Rep. N.H.) quoted Gen. Matthew Ridgway today as saying fanatical Communists in United Nations prisoner-of-war camps have committed atrocities and conducted a reign of terror against other prisoners. "The general confirmed that bodies have been found in these camps," Bridges told reporters. He said that in a closed-door session Ridgway expressed confidence, however, that rebellious and defiant prisoners can be put under control.

Ridgway, former commander of U.N. forces in the Far East, was questioned extensively about the Koje Island incidents.

Senators said Ridgway told them the Communists have built up their forces in Korea during truce talks, and that the general was not optimistic that a satisfactory cease-fire agreement can be reached.

One Senator, who asked not to be named, said Ridgway's picture of Far Eastern conditions was "the most depressing thing I have heard in months." This Senator said he saw little chance for worlu peace or a even a trend toward it from conditions the general reported.

Sense Of Shame

Senator Richard B. Russell (Dem., Ga.), presiding at the session, told the general that the Koje Island affair has brought shock and a sense of shame in the U.S.

Russell gave reporters a copy of a statement he made.

In the statement Russell congratulated Ridgway "for the magnificent job you have performed as a leader of our fighting men in a grim and bloody war," but used such words as "bewildering" and "shocking" in reference to the kidnapping of a U.S. general by Communist prisoners on Koje Island.

Ridgway is en route to replace General Eisenhower as head of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces.

Senator Willis Robertson (Deb., Vam.) told reporters Ridgway was unable to shed much light on the Koje incidents.

"He told us he had left before a detailed report was received on what actually did occur."

John Garfield Found Dead In Apartment

NEW YORK, May 21 (AP) — John Garfield, 39, stage and screen "tough guy," died of a heart ailment today in the apartment of an actress friend, Iris Whitney.

She barred police from the apartment for more than a half hour, thinking they were newspapermen.

The actor was pronounced dead at about 10 a.m. E.D.T. by Dr. Charles H. Nammack, a private physician, who had submitted a routine telephone report to the medical examiner's office.

The medical examiner's office said a cardiac condition caused death and that there was "nothing suspicious".

Miss Whitney appeared in the Broadway play, "Dark the Moon" last year.

Garfield's name had been linked with various organizations, labelled as subversive, but he denied before the House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities last year that he never had been a Communist.

"I am no Red," he said, "I am no pink. I am no fellow traveller."

He gained fame on the stage for his portrayal of a boxer in the Clifford Odets play, "Golden Boy" in 1937.

He subsequently played gangster roles in Hollywood films and was starred in a number of Broadway productions.

Garfield, born Julius Garfinkle in Brooklyn, engaged in a number of juvenile scrapes and became a protege of Angelo Patri, child psychologist and writer. Patri was credited with starting him on his theatrical career.

Report Third Of Oil Workers Back At Jobs

DENVER, Colo., May 21—(CP)—Major segments of the United States oil industry remained closed today as an estimated 60,000 workers stayed on strike. They either refused to ratify back-to-work agreements or had not reached them.

Scattered settlements were reported, mostly among small locals. But O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International Union (C.I.O.), estimated that only one-third of the 90,000 refinery and pipeline workers who walked out April 30 have returned to their jobs.

Knight predicted that nearly all the strikers would be back by the end of this week.

However, talks between the C.I.O. union and the Tide Water Association in San Francisco broke off Tuesday night with a statement by union representative Verlin McKendree that "if this is an indication of what the industry is planning here, a strike is inevitable in California."

California refineries have kept working to supply the Korean war effort.

Slow Relief

The slow return of the industry's workers held little immediate hope of relief for users of aviation gasoline. The shortage of high-octane gasoline remains acute.

Trans-Canada Air Lines, among those affected by the shortage, Tuesday announced further curtailment of operations, this time on flights overseas. Flights to Paris will be cut out but service to London will continue. T.C.A. previously announced reductions in North American service.

The U.S. Wage Stabilization Board said gasoline restrictions for airplanes may not be lifted before June 6.

Motorists who suffered only slight shortages during the strike, probably will be supplied quickly. Auto fuel production requires only two days as compared with a week for aviation fuel.

Negotiations at Standard Oil of Indiana collapsed Tuesday night.

Too Good To Be True Policemen Discover

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., May 21 (AP)—Hunting for speeders on busy 18th Avenue usually is good and yields a tidy sum in fines for city.

But two traffic patrolmen sat in their squad car just off 18th Avenue for four hours Monday without spotting a single speed violator. Finally, as the policemen were about to conclude that sanity and respect for traffic regulations had suddenly overcome the city's drivers, a pedestrian advised them to drive two blocks down the street.

They did, and found a crudely-lettered sign which read:

"Warning! Speed trap ahead."

Reject Demands Britain Halt Using Of Napalm Bombs

LONDON, May 21. (AP)—A government spokesman today rejected demands that Britain call for a halt on the use of napalm (jellied-gasoline) bombs in Korea. Air Under-Secretary Nigel Birch declared in the House of Commons he is satisfied that napalm is dropped only on legitimate military targets.

"All weapons of war produce very terrible results. Those who start wars should reflect upon that before they start," he said.

Conservative Viscount Hinchingbrooke denounced them as "weapon whose propaganda counter-blast greatly exceeds their initial military effects."

Emrys Hughes, pacifist Labor member said that one napalm raid "an orphanage where 50 children were living was attacked and every one was burned."

Ask Two-year Service

Labor members pressed the government to ask countries in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to match B. tain's two-year compulsory military service.

Emanuel Shinwell, Defence Minister in the Labor Government said that for more than 12 months "pressure has been brought to bear on the other N.A.T.O. countries to do precisely what he did —to extend the period of national service to two years—and that none of them with the exception of the United States and Belgium have done so."

MONTREAL, May 21 (CP) — Charges that "swashbuckling bullies" from Germany are entering Canada to become a "cancer" on foreign ideologies were hurled across the floor of the Canadian Legion's national convention today.

Order Germans Give Up Homes

BERLIN, May 21 — (AP). — The Neue Zeitung, United States High Commission newspaper, reported today that residents of several East German border villages have been ordered to vacate their homes to provide quarters for Communist People's Police.

The German language newspaper did not say where it got its report. West Berlin police said they had not heard of the order.

Neue Zeitung said the vacate orders had gone to Western border villagers in Thuringia, Saxony and Saxon-Anhalt with the word that they must "make sacrifices in the interests of defence."

Refuse To Obey

The paper added that villagers in several districts refused to obey the order.

In its efforts to keep West Germany from signing the impending peace contract with the Western Allies, East Germany has threatened civil war and has increased its charges that the West is constantly violating its borders.

This complaint was intensified Tuesday night when 2,000 workmen of Oranienburg, in East Berlin, asked that the East German government not only make zonal borders "secure" against Western agents, but also tighten up on the east-west sector borders of Berlin.

Used Concussion Grenades To Quell Pusan Rioting

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, May 21 (AP)—A Chinese prisoner was killed by an Allied guard Saturday in the third prisoner-of-war incident reported in a four-day span on this riot-ridden rock.

The other two occurred at a women's P.O.W. camp and a prisoners' hospital.

The shooting of the Chinese prisoner—announced today—was the first fatality reported from the tough Koje stockade since Brig.-Gen. Haydon L. Boatner took command a week ago.

Boatner said a preliminary investigation indicated the prisoner was shot when he resisted search on his return from a work detail outside an enclosure holding 5,000 Chinese Communists.

Boatner said he conferred with a prisoner spokesman, Maj. Wei Ling, shortly after the shooting. On the camp commander's order, Wei returned to the barbed wire enclosure and within 35 minutes halted a demonstration begun by Chinese prisoners.

The U.S. Eighth Army at Seoul said guards used concussion grenades and a show of force to put down violence Tuesday at a Pusan P.O.W. hospital.

The army said the Red rioters were armed with makeshift spears, barbed wire flails, rocks and similar weapons.

Concussion grenades are designed to stun their victims. They do not burst into many small, sharp flying pieces as do deadly fragmentation grenades.

One prisoner was killed in the vicious fighting at the hospital in Camp No. 10. The army did not say how he died, but correspondents in Pusan said he may have been bayoneted.

Eighty-five P.O.W.s were injured. Half their injuries were minor. One American guard suffered a minor injury.

The army said Communist fanatics began fashioning weapons of long, steel-pointed spears from litter rails and tent poles when ordered to get ready to be moved.

When camp officers noted their activity, American infantry guards laid aside their nightsticks for rifles and bayonets and entered the hospital enclosure.

Head-On Crash Injures Five

LONDON, Ont., May 21 (CP) — A young couple due to graduate from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph Tuesday were among five persons injured in a head-on crash near Crumlin a few hours earlier.

The impact ripped one car like a paper box and pounded the engine of the other back to the windshield.

Charges of dangerous and careless driving have been laid against one of the drivers, James J. Green, 43, of Detroit, Mich., who was released on $50 cash bail to appear May 30.

On their way to their graduation ceremonies were Jean Davis, 22, of Napanee and Herbert Norry, 27, of Tilbury.

With them were Norry's brother, Robert, 25, owner of the car, and their father, George, 62, both of Tilbury.

Cancel Contract Of Meat Firm

TORONTO, May 21 — (CP).— The Toronto Board of Control today decided to cancel the contract of a firm which supplies meat to Lambert Lodge, home for elderly persons.

Alderman F. H. Chambers told the board that meat from animals too old for commercial grading was supplied to the lodge.

He said inspectors from the Federal Department of Agriculture confirmed suspicions of a detitian that the meat was too old even for a "C" grade.

"It was cow beef and not what the contract requires," he said.

Man 35, Killed Driver Goes On

UXBRIDGE, Ont., May 21 (CP) —John Crittenden, 35, was found dead today on a highway near here. Police said he was killed by an automobile or truck whose driver did not stop.

Constable C. G. Wilton said the man's battered body had been almost beyond recognition by the impact and that both legs were broken.

The body was discovered lying in a pool of blood in the middle of a concession road.

Constable Wilton said Crittenden, a farm laborer, was carried 30 feet by the vehicle before he fell to the road surface and was crushed under the wheels.

Police believe the vehicle which killed Crittenden was travelling at high speed. The man's mitts were found 50 feet south of the spot where the body was found and his hat 40 feet north.

Charge Withdrawn

MONTREAL, May 21 (CP). — Judge C. E. Guerin today ordered withdrawal of a charge against Dr. Leon Azoulay of unlawfully depriving an unmarried mother of her infant twins and detaining them without her consent. Dr. Azoulay was one of three persons charged separately with the same offence. Police claimed they were involved in a plan to procure babies for adoption in the United States and Canada.

Steel Priority Given To Market

OTTAWA, May 21 — (CP). — The Federal Government has decided to grant the Ontario government a priority on sufficient steel to begin part of the new wholesale food market at the western edge of Toronto, it was learned today.

A telegram to this effect likely will be sent to Agriculture Minister Kennedy of Ontario by Production Minister Howe later today.

The province applied more than a year ago for a permit to buy some 1,500 tons of steel for the multi-million-dollar market, but the request was turned down on the grounds that the project was not essential.

However, the destruction by fire last week of Toronto's downtown market and warehouse changed the situation.

Officials decided that the steel situation would not permit granting permission for the full 1,500 tons, but that the project was sufficiently important to direct enough steel to make a start on construction possible.

Fish Snags Angler Big One Gets Away

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif., May 21 (AP)—Robert Nicholas, 26, a merchant seaman, was fishing from the surf near here when he got a real bite. The jerk on his prized fishing pole was so strong that Nicholas quickly wrapped the heavy line around his wrist to save the pole, he related.

The fish dragged him into the surf and over jagged rocks, before he could free his wrist, Nicholas added. Bruised and scratched, he watched his tackle trail out to sea and figured he was lucky.

The fish is probably telling his schoolmates about the one that got away.

Farewell Calls

LONDON, May 21 — (CP). — L. Dana Wilgress, serving out his term as a Canadian High Commissioner in London today made farewell calls on representatives of New Zealand and Pakistan, and attended a tea party given in his honor at India House. He and his family sail for Canada next Tuesday to take up his new post as Under-Secretary for External Affairs.

Corporal, 21, Awarded Medal

OTTAWA, May 21 (CP) — Cpl. Delphis Cormier, 21-year-old member of the Royal 22nd Regiment, has been awarded the Military Medal for "an act of outstanding bravery and leadership" during an action March 24 last in Korea, army headquarters announced today.

Cpl. Cormier, now on leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Cormier, in Moncton, N.B., after completing a year of service in Korea.

The citation said he was commanding a six-man rear section of a fighting patrol at night when it was ambushed by seven Chinese soldiers. Three of his men were wounded by small arms fire and grenade fragments and "fierce hand to hand fighting ensued" in the darkness.

Cpl. Cormier pulled an enemy soldier off a wounded Canadian whom the Chinese were attempting to capture or kill. The corporal killed two enemy soldiers and "undoubtedly saved two of his own men who were wounded from falling into enemy hands."

Believes Aid To Hungry Asia Averts War

OTTAWA, May 21 (CP) —R. G. (Nik) Cavell, Canada's Colombo-Plan Administrator, said today he is fully convinced the democracies, with real sympathy and understanding, can maintain human freedom in Asia without a third World War.

But, he quickly warned, the Asiatics need food and the struggle against Communism grows more bitter by the day. The democracies could not afford to allow totalitarian power to become any stronger.

The Communists, he said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Ottawa Women's Canadian Club, are determined to win Asia. Canadians and other freedom-living men and women must realize that no Communists will help them bring about a truly free world.

"It should be obvious they (the Communists) are not working for a peaceful world except under their complete domination.

"They are attacking us in Korea, causing us considerable trouble in Malaya, in Viet Nam and in Burma. They are working hard to disrupt orderly government in all the countries of southeast Asia.

Vast Manpower

"The vast manpower of China is being used against us and we are beginning to see what a serious threat to the free world was brought about by our loss of the country."

That was why the Colombo Plan, the commonwealth plan to help southeast Asia build up its economy and provide more food for its people, was so important. The Marshall Plan program had helped stem the Communist tide in Europe. The Colombo Plan, in which Canada was participating, might do the same for Asia.

Mr. Cavell described the projects being undertaken in Asia with the help of the $5,000,000,000 six-year Commonwealth Colombo Plan, to which Canada is contributing $25,000,000 this year—the same contribution she made a year ago.

New Dams and irrigation projects are springing up, said Mr. Cavell. Rail lines are being overhauled and hydro plants developed. Many of the continent's rich deposits of coal, iron, bauxite, manganese, graphite, chromite and other minerals are being scraped from the ground to build up the economy.

Canadian money helped revive work on one big Indian irrigation and hydro project that had been stopped for want of funds.

Must Do More

But more had to be done. Greater bonds of understanding with the free nations of Asia had to be build up. Japan also had to be considered.

"Many countries in Asia fear a revived Japan might lead again to that Japanese aggression under which they suffered so terribly through the period of the Second World War.

"On the other side of the medal, there are over 82,000,000 people on the tiny Japanese Isands, and unless they can export their manufactured goods and so buy food, they cannot live today any more than they could before the Second World War . . . It is surely obvious that . . . only by the granting of concessions in the world trading picture can the Japanese be enabled to live."

St. Laurent Says Canada To Have National Library

OTTAWA, May 21. (CP)—Canada will have a National Library, but unless world tension eases it's going to be a long-term project. The legislative process was begun Tuesday in the Commons when Prime Minister St. Laurent launched a bill for establishment of the cultural centre. He said some preliminary work, such as cataloguing of books, already has started. But because of the defence efforts he couldn't say when men and materials could be spared for the library or what the whole project would cost.

It is likely that when the centre is built, it will be a bomb-proof, fire-proof structure on the banks of the Ottawa River close to the Parliament Buildings. That was the suggestion of the Royal Commission on Arts and Sciences and it was embraced by all parties in the Commons.

Mr. St. Laurent said Dr. W. Kaye Lamb, Dominion archivist and chairman of the national library committee, will be the first national librarian. The chief assistant will be French-speaking.

Hold Competition

A competition among architects will be held to select a design for the building. Once the library is established it will co-operate closely with other libraries in Canada. Microfilms will be used to make available copies of rare books that cannot be sent out of the library.

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F.-Winnipeg North Centre) said he thinks the national library should have not only books, but films, musical records and photographs depicting Canada's national life.

The only critical note in the 2½-hour discussion came when Ross Thatcher (C.C.F. - Moose Jaw) said it is strange the Government has no idea of the cost. Mr. St. Laurent replied that because of unknown factors he cannot indicate the cost, but when there is a prospect of getting started, estimates will be placed before Parliament.

Trade Minister Howe introduced a bill to amend the Canada Grain Act to increase the salaries of grain commissioners, reduce the number of assistant commissioners from four to three and make other technical changes.

No Legislation

He said the Government does not plan legislation for confiscation of overages which develop at country elevators in the handling of grain and distribute profits from their sale among farmers. They were only a small fraction of the grain handled.

At the night sitting the Commons approved in principle legislation providing for safety zoning of Canada's airports. It restricts the height of buildings and natural growths in the vicinity of airports and provides for compensating owners of property adversely affected by the regulations.

Transport Minister Chevrier said it is planned to start with the major airports. No structure can rise more than 150 feet in an area 13,000 feet from the centre of an airport and approach flightways extending outward at the end of runways will be restricted to structures not exceeding one foot in height for every 50 feet of distance. Restrictions of one foot in height for every seven feet of distance will be invoked on lateral slopes on each side of the flightways.

The minister said if any buildings must come down as a result of the regulations they will be expropriated.

He said where municipal airports are affected, municipalities will be expected to bear part of the compensation. It is planned to confer with municipalities and land owners alike as the regulations become effective at each airport, and it was thought settlements could be made without resort to the courts.

Tank Patrol Fights 6 Hours

SEOUL, Korea, May 21 (AP) — A United Nations tank-infantry patrol fought a six-hour battle with Red forces east of the Panmunjom truce site on the Korean western front Tuesday.

A U.S. Eighth army staff officer said the Allied tanks ran into small arms, mortar and rocket fire from a Red force of undetermined strength. The U.N. force dug in and pounded the Reds with artillery, mortar and tank fire before disengaging.

A delayed report from the central front said a Red ammunition storage bunker was destroyed and 31 others were damaged by U.N. tanks Monday. Another U.N tank force on the central front battled the Reds twice on Tuesday.

Western Oils Edge Down On Exchange

TORONTO, May 21 (CP) — Western oils edged downward today in early afternoon stock market dealings. Industrials, golds and base metals drifted aimlessly.

Trading was ragged. Volume for the first three hours was 1,760,000 shares.

Papers, retail stores and manufacturing companies posted a scattered list of fractional advances to form industrials' strongest sections. Utilities and foods held gains and losses in balance but agricultures, steels, refining oils and constructions slipped.

Western oil losses ranged to about 25 cents. Anglo-Canadian, Canadian Atlantic, Canadian Collieries, Harman, North Canadian and Western Homestead traded lower.

Base metals were mixed. Barvue, Consolidated Smelters, Mindamar and Sherritt - Gordon strengthened while East Sullivan, Hellens, Ontario Pyrites and Steep Rock weakened.

Senior golds were strong. Bralorne, Holinger, Kerr Addison and Wright-Hargreaves climbed moderately.

Donations To Fund Helped Buy Gift

WINDSOR, May 21. (CP)—The story of how "anonymous donors" paid part of the purchase price of a 1948 Christmas gift for Dr. P. J. G. Morgan, East Windsor Hospital superintendent, was told today at a public inquiry into the hospital's affairs. Mrs. Elsie Morley, about 26, who was Dr. Morgan's secretary for five years, told the story this way: When, in December, 1948, the hospital staff decided to buy a Christmas present for the superintendent, Dr. Morgan was asked his preference. He told them he would like a desk set and a $260 set was selected by staff members.

When a staff collection failed to equal that amount, Mrs. Morley informed Dr. Morgan and he told her to withhold the $165 difference from hospital Christmas Cheer donations. Over a 10-day period, she said, she had secured the $165 from the fund and purchased the set.

Under the questioning of commission counsel, she described the method by which the $165 had been withheld.

Records were kept of donations to the hospital's Christmas Cheer Fund if the envelopes in which they were mailed contained return addresses, she said. The amount of the donation was entered on a card placed in the hospital's records in the donor's name.

About 10 per cent of Christmas Cheer funds were mailed to the hospital by anonymous donors.

Built Up Fund

She said that as donations came in, she "built up" the $165 fund by withholding sums from bank deposit to the Christmas Cheer fund. "It would be fair to say" that most of the donations withheld were sent anonymously, she said.

The desk set had then been presented to the superintendent with the inscription: "From the staff of East Windsor Hospital, Christmas, 1948." Dr. Morgan had used the set at the hospital since 1948.

Buy TV Sets

Mrs. Morley said that the Christmas Cheer Fund has been used to purchase television sets for resale to "friends of Dr. Morgan's" no profit had been made on these transactions.

Arthur A. Macdonald, chief counsel for the investigating commission, asked: "How do you know sets were bought for re-sale?"

"Once we bought a set for a friend of Dr. Morgan's and he wanted it with doors. So we bought one with doors. On several similar occasions we did the same. For instance, once we bought one with blond wood for a man who wanted blond wood. Another gentleman wanted mahogany so we got a mahogany one."

The Christmas Cheer Fund had been debited in the name of the man for whom the set was intended, she said. When his cheque arrived, the fund would be credited. The two amounts had in all cases been identical.

The investigation which opened today was ordered by Attorney-General Porter on the instigation of M. Frank Brobst, ex-chairman of the hospital board. It is believed that it will continue about two weeks and will concern alleged mismanagement of the hospital's Christmas Cheer and Building Funds and of government grants.

Gordon Fraser, a Windsor attorney, heads the investigating body.

Reds Protest POW Incident

MUNSAN, Korea, May 21. (AP)—Communist negotiators at the tightly-deadlocked Korean armistice talks today demanded an accounting of an incident at an Allied prisoner-of-war hospital at Pusan in which one prisoner was killed and 85 were injured. The Communists got little satisfaction from Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, senior Allied delegate. He told the Reds: "The only progressive move your side can make is to inform us when you are ready to consummate a cessation of hostilities in Korea by accepting our proposal." The Reds are demanding the return of all their captured soldiers in the event of an armistice. The Allies say more than half the 169,000 Red prisoners refuse to return to Red rule. The United Nations command refuses to force them to go back.

The truce delegations will meet again Thursday at 11 a.m. (10 p.m. Wednesday EDT).

Joy, who goes to Panmunjom Thursday for the last time, gave North Korean Gen. Nam Il a stern lecture. He accused the Reds of "crass hypocrisy" and "childish distortions."

Academy Superintendent

Joy has been appointed superintendent of the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Nam Il seized on the Pusan riots to raise anew charges that the Allies committed "acts of terror" and murder in handling Red captives.

"Your side must bear the full and absolute responsibility for the consequences of the acts of terror and murder against our captured personnel which are evidently being brewed by your side," the Red general declared.

The U.S. Army said the 2½-hour fight at Pusan erupted when fanatical Reds serving as hospital orderlies defied orders to leave the compound for transfer elsewhere.

Malan Forces Push Fight Against Policy Opponents

CAPETOWN, May 21. (AP)—Prime Minister Daniel Malan's Nationalist forces kept up their relentless fight today against opponents of their white-supremacy policy. They kicked a Communist out of parliament and ordered another off the provincial council of Cape Province.

Both men represented colored voters (persons of mixed blood) of Cape Province, whose voting rights would be curtailed under Nationalist legislation now awaiting approval by the Senate.

The garment workers, meanwhile, called a meeting Saturday and planned a 24-hour strike at some future date to protest a government order that their general secretary, C. S. Sachs, resign his post on charges of being a Red.

Meeting to discuss the action against Sachs, the National Executive committee of the South African Trades nad Labor Council announced that union leaders thus affected would take legal action against the Minister of Justice for deprivation of "personal liberty."

Parliament's House of Assembly by a vote of 77 to 55 Tuesday expelled Sam Kahn and ordered the removal of Fred Carneson from the Cape Province Council. Both were said to be Communists.

First Such Action

The ouster of Kahn, first such action against a member of parliament, was voted under the "suppression - of - Communism" Act which bans the Communist party and makes it a criminal offence to spread teachings considered by the authorities to be Communist.

The statute is retroactive, barring from public or political office, anyone who has ever been a Communist.

Spokesmen for the opposition Labor and United parties argued that Kahn and Carneson were being penalized for having spread Communism before any law was passed to make the action illegal.

Kahn, in an 80-minute address to parliament before his ouster was voted, denied any wrong-doing since the act became law. He said his real crime was that he preached racial equality in a country where race bars are considered sacred.

Not Monopoly

"That view is not a monopoly of the Communists," he said. "Many Christians believe in equality of the races, too."

In the Senate, meanwhile, a high-ranking opposition leader warned that Natal will quit the union of South Africa if the Nationalist government "tears up" the constitution to steamroller its race segregation laws through parliament.

G. Heaton Nicholls, leader of the United party, attacked the government bill which would make the Nationalist-dominated parliament the highest court in South Africa on constitutional matters.

St. Laurent Has Citizenship Day Message

OTTAWA, May 21 (CP) —Canada has shown the world what groups of different origins can do through understanding and co-operation, Prime Minister St. Laurent said in a special message for citizenship day May 23.

Text of the Prime Minister's statement:

On Friday, for the third successive year, citizens of Canada will be celebrating Citizenship Day. The ceremonies that marked the two previous observances will be repeated in every province of our nation.

The economic expansion of Canada and its growing importance, nationally and internationally, entitle us to be justifiably proud of being Canadians.

Common Loyalty

As the various elements that make up our population continue to draw closer, it seems altogether fitting to observe our common citizenship and our common loyalty to Canada.

Thanks to the contributions made by the two older groups and added to by the other peoples who have come to Canada, we have formed one nation and we have shown the world what groups of differing origins can really do when they practise understanding and co-operation.

In spite of the stresses and strains of the present international situation, we remain confident and we will continue to work together towards a common ideal: that of a nation ever more united and anxious to contribute fully to the preservation of peace in the world and to the improvement of human welfare.

Wins New Battle In Franc-Saving Drive

PARIS, May 21 —(Reuters) — Premier Antone Pinay won another major battle in his "save the franc" campaign early today when the national assembly approved his plan for a gold-backed loan.

The assembly passed by 324 votes to 206 a bill authorizing the government to raise a loan, the capital value of which will be guaranteed against inflation by being linked to that of the Napoleon gold coin, while the interest will be free of income tax.

The loan will be launched next Monday with the hope of "thawing out" private hoards of gold and producing up to 100,000,000 franc ($280,000,000) of fresh money.

Returned To Jail, Cote To Stand Trial

HAMILTON, May 21 (CP) — Twenty-six-year-old Gerald Cote was returned from a Penetanguishene mental hospital to Barton Street jail. Cote allegedly shot and wounded a Hamilton police constable in a street gun battle last month.

He was committed to the hospital after a hearing in magistrate's court. Doctors at the institution returned him to the city jail Tuesday and he will appear again in magistrate's court next week.

Inspector of Detectives Walter Hagan said today that Cote had been judged sane enough to stand trial by authorities at Penetanguishene.

When Cote first appeared on an attempted murder charge he was sent to Penetanguishene for a month's observation.

it would be "unethical" for him to leave in the midst of the board's present troubles.

Therefore, he resigned his post as a teacher. He stays on as a board member, representing Harvey township.

Other Resignations

Other teachers who have resigned are: Lloyd G. Shepherd, J. G. Maloney, Mrs. Melba McEachran and Miss M. A. Green.

Two of these—Mr. Shepherd and Miss Green—are understood to have accepted teaching positions elsewhere.

Edward Rath, the board member who resigned after a two-week stay on the board, suggested at the meeting that the board meet with the teachers, a representative of the teachers' federation, and the principal.

Opposition to this suggestion came from six members of the board, with only Norman A. Moore, village council representative to the board, supporting Mr. Rath.

Too Late

In rejecting Mr. Rath's suggestion, Erie Pearson, county member, said he would have been willing to talk the problem over before the resignations were given, but not after.

Mr. Rath said that the school board knows "there is something wrong, but you don't want to hear it. Are you afraid of hearing it?"

Mr. Pearson said he didn't think the board was afraid of hearing it, but he, personally, saw no point in hearing it.

Wants Evidence Given

Mr. Rath said he would not be a party to withholding evidence which was available, and which had caused differences between Principal Sutton and the teaching staff. Mr. Rath was appointed two weeks ago, after the death of E. W. Bailey.

Max Tucker (Burleigh-Anstruther) and Edward Everett (Chandos) moved that the principal's resignation be laid over to the next regular meeting pending further information from the Department of Education.

The "pinklisting" would consist, said Mr. McIlmoyl, of the federation advising any teachers applying to the board that there were unsatisfactory relations between the principal and the teachers.

OBITUARY

ROBERT CARLETON PATTON

BETHANY, May 21 (ENS). — The funeral service held on Sunday for Robert Carleton Patton, aged 48 years, was the largest gathering ever witnessed in this community as hundreds of friends and neighbors gathered to pay their last respects to one who had been an extremely popular resident during his entire lifetime. He died on May 15 of a heart attack.

Only son of the late Robert Patton and Alma Thompson, he was born on his parents' farm, lot 21, concession 6, of Manvers township, attended Fallis school, had been particularly active in Junior Farmers' groups, holding several offices in the Durham County Potato Club; and for the past three years had been employed by the provincial government as the fruit and vegetable inspector for this district.

He was a member of the United Church at Bethany, serving for several terms on the Board of Stewards. He had also been a member of the Bethany Band.

The Rev. James Hampson of Bethany conducted the service, assisted by the Rev. E. Rowland of Grace United Church, Peterborough.

Burial was in Fallis cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Earl Walton, Newcastle; Ernest Cavano and Alfred Johnston, R.R. 1, Pontypool; and Ross N. Carr, Reg. Edmunds and Bruce Ryley of Bethany.

Flower bearers were: Roy Ferren, Douglas Logan, Harold Thompson, John Payne, Stewart Thompson, Harry Johnston, Clifford Richardson, Colin Richardson, Bruce Fisk, Bruce Thurston, Herb Patton, Earl Fallis, Weston Hutchinson, Earl Argue, Charles McNeil, Thomas Staples, Jack Armstrong, Edgar Beer, Morley Webster and Vincent Jackson.

Officials Say Eva Peron Still At Home

Deny Any Treatment At London With Cobalt Bomb

LONDON, Ont., May 21. — (CP)—Medical and governmental officials Tuesday night denied a Toronto report that Eva Peron, wife of Dictator-President Juan Peron of Argentina had ever received treatment from London cancer clinic's cobalt bomb therapy.

Dr. Carman Kirk, superintendent of Victoria Hospital, where the bomb is housed, said he had no knowledge of Eva Peron having been admitted to hospital, even "incognito."

Dr. Ivan Smith, director of the cancer clinic, and Dr. Frank Batley, who directs treatment, also denied the report.

At Sudbury External Affairs Minister Pearson said he knows nothing about the reported "incognito" visit of Mrs. Peron to Victoria Hospital. And said it is not likely she could have been in Canadian without his knowledge.

The Toronto report said that perhaps only a dozen people knew that she was in Canada.

Possible Confusion

Dr. MacKinnon Phillips, Ontario Health Minister, said it was possible there had been confusion with another young woman treated by the bomb. He had been informed she was a native of Ontario and had lived in Argentina. A patient in a Quebec hospital, the woman's maiden name was reported to the Seguin. Dr. Smith said he recalled the woman receiving treatment last December. "She was French, spoke little English although it was enough to get by on," he said.

Dr. Augustine Mores Martinez, the Argentine Ambassador said Mrs. Peron had been in Buenos Aires "during the last month."

Last year, Dr. Martinez said he was authorized to pay up to $1,000,000 to the Eldorado Mining and Refining Company, manufacturers of London's bomb, to provide treatment for the ailing but politically powerful Eva Peron.

Mrs. Peron underwent surgery last year for cancer of the uterus.

Although two women have been suggested as possibly Argentina's first lady in disguise, technicians said neither was Mrs. Peron.

The one identified by the name of "Seguin" was in Victoria Hospital in London from December to late March. She was about 25 or 26. Mrs. Peron is 30 to 33.

Another, identified as the wife of a Montreal doctor, was in hospital last month for only three weeks. While in Victoria, the 21-year-old woman met a man who had come from the same Quebec village she had and they spent considerable time talking about old acquaintances.

Motorcycle Race

COBOURG, May 21 (ENS) — First race sponsored by the newly-formed Northumberland and Durham Motorcycle Club is scheduled for June 7 at the Baltimore Community Centre half-mile dirt track. The club has a steadily-growing membership and the race on June 7 will be its first venture since it was organized. The race will be under the sanction of the Canadian Motorcycle Association.

Appoint Smith To Head Welfare Branch

BRANTFORD, May 21 (CP).—Jack Smith, president of the Ontario Welfare Officers' Association and a former welfare commissioner for this city, has been named administrator of the Provincial Public Welfare Department's child welfare branch.

His appointment was announced at the association's convention dinner here Tuesday night by Public Welfare Minister Goodfellow.

Gifford Price, a graduate of the school for social science, Toronto, has been named to head the new disabled persons branch of the department.

Mr. Goodfellow said the program of allowances for disabled persons, under legislation passed at the present session, should be ready to begin July 1.

Mr. Smith's appointment, said the minister, would not interfere with the work of individual welfare or children's aid societies. His department was concerned over the increasing costs of child welfare work of which the province paid 25 per cent.

It was important, Mr. Goodfellow said, that children's aid societies and similar welfare organizations should remain as autonomous bodies with a personalized approach and not become subsidiary Government departments.

Regulations under the new Disabled Persons' Allowances Act should be agreed by the cabinet in two weeks, he said. Disabled people have been neglected up to now and no other legislation has brought such favorable response.

Mr. Goodfellow said the province is spending about $12,000,000 on building homes for the aged. "These are homes—not poor houses," he said.

He said the cost of welfare services paid from Ontario taxation sources had risen from $9,600,000 in 1943 to $25,000,000 in the last fiscal year. In the last 10 years, at least $400,000,000 has been spent to aid the young, the old, the unemployable and the disabled.

Delegates said yesterday that nursing homes have been a headache to welfare administrators in Ontario for years, and the problem is increasing.

PTE. W. A. GRIEVES of the 37th Field Ambulance R.C.A.M.C. is shown aboard the U.S.S. Marine Phoenix en route to Korea. Grieves, a native of Campbellford, joined the army in Kingston in August last year, and landed in Korea a few days ago.

Game And Fish Charge All Tangled Up

COBOURG, May 21 (ENS) — Two charges laid against Aric Gerow of Rossmount under the fish and game regulations became bogged down in legal technicalities in police court here. Magistrate R. B. Baxter dismissed one case and adjourned the other for a week while an effort is made to straighten out some of the tangles. Gerow was charged with setting gill nets out in Lake Ontario in Haldimand township without the nets having attached the name of the owner. It was dismissed. He pleaded not guilty. He also pleaded not guilty to setting nets within 1,000 yards of the mouth of a creek in Lake Ontario.

Game overseer Vic Harris said that on April 8 he and overseers Reg. McCullagh and K. Tomlie saw nets being laid in Lake Ontario off Wicklow, by two men in a boat. He went up shore farther and saw a red truck parked which pulled away but was finally stopped. Gerow and a man named Warner Lowe were in the truck, Harris said. He rejoined the other two game overseers who had James Entwistle and Robert Winter with them. The game overseers told them they had been setting the nets too close to the mouth of the creek and the nets were seized.

Tomlie testified he saw the boat come ashore which had been setting nets and Winter and Entwistle got out. The red truck came down and when it didn't stop he fired a shot over it and it turned and came back. Gerow, who was in the truck, said they were not trying to get away but had driven down to turn around.

"As I see it the penalty is confiscation if the net is found without identification on it and that is the end of it. There is no evidence that Gerow was setting the net," commented the magistrate.

Defence counsel J. C. M. German agreed with the magistrate but Crown Attorney Harry Deyman contended failure to comply with the requirments as to identification of the net, invoked the general penalty section of the Act. It was his opinion the procedure was to take the net and then await a decision of the court as to whether or not there was a violation and where an offence was established, the court would order confiscation.

"I would say the only penalty is confiscation, the way the Act reads. Who sets the net is irrelevant. All that is necessary is to show that it was set without the name of the owner and proceed to confiscate it," said the magistrate.

"No court hearing is needed. The Act just gives the game warden the authority to seize the net. That is all that is necessary," said Mr. German.

"Why doesn't the Act say that no person shall set out a net without an identification tag? The section does not, in my opinion, constitute an offense but merely prescribes how a net shall be identified and says it can be confiscated. I cannot find that any court action is required," said the magistrate.

In connection with the charge of setting nets too close to the mouth of a creek the defence raised the point that it was not a creek but only an overflow across the beach from a pond which ordinarily drained through a culvert and the culvert in question was partly blocked. The case was adjourned in order to secure an authoritative ruling as to whether it was a creek or a temporary overflow.

Salvation Army Work In Cobourg District

COBOURG, May 21 (ENS).—The general public is unaware of the welfare work which is being done by the Salvation Army in Cobourg and district. However, with the annual Red Shield campaign at hand, the welfare work done by Lieut. D. W. Rea for 1951 merits attention.

Nineteen families were given fuel, ranging from a half ton to one ton; 110 articles of furniture were given out; 120 food parcels, value $800.; 560 free meals to transients at local cafes; 1,205 articles of clothing; lodging in special cases numbered 21; 350 welfare visits and interviews were made; 35 parcels of bedding were handed out. Ten Cobourg children sent to a 10-day fresh air camp in the summer. This will be increased to 15 this year. Forty-one prisoners were given counsel in the local jail and through the courts of this county. Several girls were sent to homes for unmarried mothers in Kingston and Toronto.

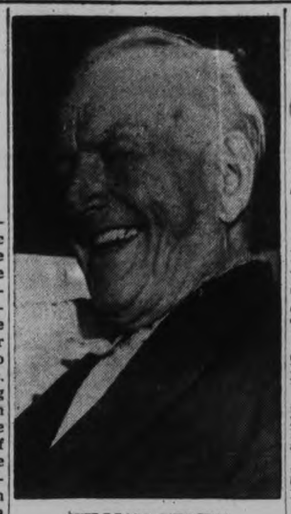
Failed To Show Intent To Defraud

CAMPBELLFORD, May 21 — A charge of false pretences against J. M. Benor, 22, of Campbellford was thrown out of court in Trenton Tuesday, when Chief Constable Taylor was unable to show any intent to defraud.

The charge arose out of the sale of an outboard racing motor, which Jack Kidd of Trenton sold to Benor. Benor gave Mr. Kidd a cheque for $1,150, not realizing that his balance at the bank on which the cheque was drawn was $200 short of that amount.

When the bank returned the cheque, Mr. Kidd contacted Trenton police and a warrant was sworn for Benor. When the matter was explained, and Benor had made good the $200 deficiency, Mr. Kidd offered to withdraw the charge, but this could not be done, as he had not laid the charge in the first place.

Benor was released on bail of $2,000 on Friday, after he went to Trenton to answer the charge. The bail was ordered returned on Tuesday, and the case was dismissed.



WILLIAM O'BRIEN

Downeyville Man Year Short Of Century Mark

Downeyville's grand old man, William O'Brien, is just one year short of the century mark today. Shortly after he celebrated his 98th birthday last year, he drove his 1928 Essex into Omemee, and bought a brand new 1951 model.

Although he is still enjoying excellent health, Mr. O'Brien gave up driving during the year and thus relinquished his "claim" to being the oldest car driver in Canada.

Mr. O'Brien was born on May 21, 1853, and is living with his only surviving daughter, Mrs. Mary Garvey, on the farm where he was born, two miles east of Downeyville.

He is not planning any celebrations for his 99th birthday today, but next year it will be different. He is looking forward to reaching that century mark a year from today and says he will have a real celebration on his 100th birthday.

An advocate of taking life as it comes, Mr. O'Brien attributes his long life to not worrying about anythingg. On his 98th birthday a year ago, he told the Examiner, "Nowadays, people get too particular about things. They are afraid to take chances. Why, I'd just as soon take a chance now as I would when I was young."

Three of Mr. O'Brien's four children, Mrs. John George (Gertrude), Msr. Joseph Larkin (Frances), and his only son Father Fergus O'Brien of Calgary, all died within the last few years.

On the family homestead east of Downeyville where Mr. O'Brien has lived all his life, he is still enjoying his retirement which he began about 30 years ago when he gave up active farming. He is able to go to church and visit his many friends in the community.

Mr. O'Brien's wife died 41 years ago, and he has 11 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Group W.A. Meets

HASTINGS, May 21 (ENS). — Group two of the W.A. of Trinity United Church met at the home of Miss Kate German.

A panel discussion "Waked Up" was taken by Mrs. C. Oliver, Mrs. L. Humphries, Miss Kate German, Mrs. J. Essex, Mrs. Robert Collins, and Mrs. F. Crate. The theme was on stewardship.

Parcels are to be sent overseas to boys in the service. Mrs. W. Way, Mrs. R. Collins, Mrs. M. Rymerson, and Mrs. A. Waters will act as the quilt committee.

The committee in charge assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

Remon Victory Seems Certain

PANAMA, PANAMA, May 21 — (AP)—Military strong man, Col. Jose Antonio Remon, appeared today to have clinched Panama's presidency, although his chief opponent, charging fraud, he petitioned the National Elections Board to annul the May 11 voting.

A preliminary count of the votes in almost two-thirds of the country's precincts—425 to 699—gave Remon 73,465 votes to 37,590 for Roberto F. Chiari.

The board was expected to meet today to name a committee to charged Remon's followers with double voting through the use of blank citizenship certificates and of bleaching solutions which washed away the indelible ink marking voters' fingers after they balloted.

The petition also accused the national police, which Remon headed until he became a candidate, of intimidating voters at gunpoint, imprisoning precinct board members, and stealing ballot boxes to stuff them with ballots marked for Remon.

Doctor Has Dual Role At Niagara Convention

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 21 —(CP)—Dr. W. J. Deadman of Hamilton Tuesday night played a dual role at the 16th annual convention of the Canadian Society of Laboratory Technologists. He was the guest speaker and attending physician.

After making his address, he was called on to attend Doreen Hulme of Toronto, formerly of Sault Ste. Marie, when the soprano fainted after singing a selection.

Dr. Deadman, Dr. Arthur H. Squires of Toronto, A. C. Dornbush of Pearl River, N.Y., Dr. T. E. Roy and James R. Pythian of Fort Erie participated in a panel discussion.

The convention closed today.

Mexican Oscars

MEXICO CITY, May 21 (AP)—Dolores Del Rio and Arturo De Cordoba were awarded Ariels, the Mexican Oscars, Tuesday night for Mexico's best film acting of the year. The awards were announced by the Mexican Academy of Cinema Arts and Sciences. Miss Del Rio, now in Paris, got hers for her role in "Dona Perfecta." De Cordoba's was for "En La Palma De Tu Mano."

Nehru Approves Commonwealth

NEW DELHI, May 21 — (Reuters) — Prime Minister Nehru today defended India's link with the British Commonwealth.

Speaking in the Upper House during a three-day debate on the president's address, Nehur said he could not understand critics who demanded that India quit the Commonwealth because of persecution of Indians in two Commonwealth countries, South Africa and Ceylon.

"Our being out of the Commonwealth would not help but would probably hinder,' 'Nehur said.

"Even with regard to the wider question of world peace our association with the Commonwealth has been very helpful. We have exercised influence in a somewhat more effective way than we might have been able to do otherwise. I do not think there is the slightest reason in not associating ourselves with the Commonwealth."

Arms and Men

Bertrand Russell, famed British philosopher and the third Earl of that name, wrote in this newspaper Monday on the occasion of his eightieth birthday his views of the past and the future. On his gloomy days, he foresees a terrible doom settling on civilization; on his cheerful days he sees Russia and America gradually growing less suspicious of each other and arriving at last at the point where a genuine accord is possible, the doom averted, and science bringing happiness to men instead of universal death and destruction. He does not profess to know which of these two visions has the greater likelihood of being realized. "What does seem to me nearly certain is that mankind cannot go on in the old ways, and that things must get either much better or much worse. Man has survived hitherto because his ignorance and incompetence have made his folly ineffective. Now that science has shown us how to make folly effective we must abandon folly or perish."

* * *

There it is. In Bertrand Russell's boyhood men were not crafty enough to make their foolishness their damnation and destruction. Now they are. And it is ominous in these post-war years that the whole civilized world is an armed camp—bearing arms more terrible and deadly than human ingenuity could before provide. It is said that we must be strong to preserve the peace. Yes. But that is exactly what others than ourselves are saying. The Russians, for instance, think that they too must be strong to preserve the peace. If things go on as they are everybody will be so damnably strong that only a terrible test of that strength can result.

* * *

We were reassured by the Minister of National Defence's statement yesterday. Mr. Claxton said: "No one I know of in a position of responsibility believes there will be war." He hopes that by 1954 Canada's defence bill will stop rising and begin to fall. He hopes that by that year Canada and her allies will be in a position to "guarantee the peace." We hope so too, most fervently; both for the sake of peace and to stop the incredible spending of manpower, materials and nervous energy which the present rearmament is causing, in Canada, among her allies and throughout the world. Consider Canada's spending now.

* * *

Half the national budget is labelled for military spending. The defence effort, Mr. Claxton said, is absorbing ten per cent of her population and more people and man-hours are being taken up every day. Since the Korean war began Canada has quadrupled her hitting power (i.e. her ability to wage offensive war) and the air force has increased its fighter strength more than half. Since Korea Canada has taken into the defence effort 1,500,000 servicemen, workers and their dependents. The number of servicemen and civilians employed full time by Canada's military machine is 137,000.

* * *

There must come a stop in this mad scramble to secure peace through strength. We hope that Mr. Claxton is right and that by 1954 not only will war not have broken out, but that Canada and her allies will feel so secure about the tenure of peace that the defence bills will be lessened. Otherwise, are the nations of the world not making, in Bertrand Russell's terms, their folly so effective that they will all perish? Certainly, civilization cannot advance if a major part of its time and effort and resources are turned from civilian to military uses.

Tourists and More

The tourist industry is probably this district's second largest industry. Yet areas involved in the tourist business as heavily as Peterborough and the Kawartha Lakes are doing a statistically blind business. In other industries more or less exact figures about the past, present and future of the business can be found, but not in the tourist industry.

No George Street merchant can calculate exactly what percentage of his year's business is due to tourist buying. The farmer does not really know if he ought to favour bigger and better tourist propaganda, more and better township roads for visitors, because he cannot know exactly how much of his sale of potatoes, lettuce and milk is to fill tourist needs. And the Province itself, operating a large and expensive Department of Travel and Publicity cannot really know when the costs are outstripping the returns. The Department has just issued a breezy, illustrated pamphlet—an analysis of the U.S.A. invasion on wheels to Ontario.

Calculations made from Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures, usually got through customs offices and at port of entry, cannot present either an accurate or a full picture. The number of American dollar bills passing through banks cannot alone disclose the amount of tourist buying. The Ontario Department has used these, and through a questionnaire filled in by tourists last season, hopes that it has arrived at a reasonable, fuller and truer picture of Ontario's tourist industry than former surveys have given. Here are some of the results of the survey, for what they are worth. They are based chiefly on tourists arriving from the States by car.

Ontario's total tourist income is estimated to have been $280 million dollars in 1951. That figure is startlingly high. It is higher than the Dominion Bureau of Statistics' estimate of the entire income from tourists across the entire country. If it is a reasonably true estimate, then the tourist industry of Ontario ought to get first priority in promotion and development.

The figure is based on an estimate of the average amount of money spent by the 1,343,081 motor parties who took out Tourist Permits for more than 48-hour travel in the Province; on the average expenditure of those who came by car and stayed less than 48 hours; and on the average expenditure of the 750,000 who came by rail, bus, boat and plane.

Last year 17,751,963 Americans visited Ontario, according to the Department of Travel and Publicity calculations. Another startling figure is given in the survey: that the summer tourist population in Ontario is greater than the total population of the province. More than half the visitors (59 per cent.) stayed less than one week, 30 per cent. stayed a week; nine per cent. two weeks. Only two per cent. stayed more than two weeks. However, 45 per cent. of the American tourists in Ontario last year were repeaters, and 28 per cent. were regular visitors. Most of the tourists favoured July and August (about equally) but 12.6 per cent preferred September. That is a good beginning to a great need of the industry—to spread it out over more than two months.

Among the 3,000 answering the questionnaire, 84 per cent. came for the sight-seeing and touring, 26 per cent. for city visiting, 14 per cent. to visit friends, and 32 per cent. to fish as well as sight-see. This is the same percentage who came to visit historical sights and shrines. Obviously, if the Kawarthas are not to put all their tourist eggs in one basket they should be prepared to offer historical things as well as fish to the tourists.

What About Deserting Wives?

We learn with interest that international measures are being discussed which will make it possible to nab a deserting husband in almost any part of the civilized world, and compel him to contribute to the support of his wife and family. This is good news, and we welcome it.

We should welcome it with a good deal more enthusiasm, however, if it were linked to news of a similar scheme to deal with deserting wives. Husbands who run away are many; many of them run away for good reasons, but they have a financial responsibility which cannot be thrown upon the state. But there are many runaway wives, as well, and a husband who is left with a family to care for is not in a happy state; he cannot marry again unless he gets a divorce, which may be a costly nuisance when his wife cannot be found, and the children have to be fed, clothed and looked after every day. What is being done to secure his rights?

As we pointed out in an editorial a few weeks ago, the status of women in our modern world is a strange and enviable one. They have all the civil rights of men, and at the same time they are permitted many of the irrationalities, dishonesties and irresponsibilities of their ancient, servile state. The descendants of the women who fought so bravely and idealistically for Women's Rights ought to keep up the fight, in order to see that the cause is not mocked in the modern world. To harry deserting husbands, and to ignore deserting wives, is to proclaim that women are licensed scoundrels, of whom common decency and responsibility must not be demanded.

NOTES AND COMMENT

An English teacher says that "I have got enough money" is bad grammar, but people who can say it seriously needn't care.

Illness, we read in a serious-minded contemporary, is the greatest time-waster known to industry. Another thing about it—it sometimes hurts.

A Chatham man of 102 faces charges of assaulting and harming a man half his age; he is being defended by a lawyer of 90. Let these ferocious antiquities pick on somebody their own age!

A man in Palmerston, Ont., blows his bagpipes with the aid of a vacuum cleaner. This eliminates that factor of human exhaustion upon which music-lovers have depended so heavily in the past.

Chauvinistic Russian History

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

ALL OVER the Soviet Union, historians and Party hacks are completing the task of re-writing school and university textbooks in the light of Stalin's new teaching about the history of Russia and the old Russian empire.

It is an enterprise unprecedented in the history of education, so immense that it would seem to be impossible, so fantastic that it might have been the imagining of a great satirist. But Stalin willed it and it is being done.

✧ ✧ ✧

COMPARED WITH THIS task, the notorious falsification of history which erased the name of Trotsky from the annals of the Russian Revolution was child's play. That falsification was designed to show that Stalin was, and always had been Lenin's most trusted assistant; it was simply a case of suppressing or distorting the truth about Trotsky and a number of old Bolsheviks whom Stalin had killed.

But the contemporary falsification concerns the history of whole peoples. It is designed to show that the Great Russians, who spread out over the vast Eurasian land-mass from Muscovy, are and always have been superior to all the other peoples who form what is today the U.S.S.R., what was yesterday the Russian Empire.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS GREAT RUSSIAN chauvinism is the direct antithesis of everything that Bolshevism was supported to stand for. For Lenin the equality of all races was an article of faith and the idea of Great Russians, or anybody else, ruling over lesser nations was anathema. It has taken Stalin, himself not a Russian at all, but a Georgian, and thus a member of one of the nations most cruelly oppressed by the Tsars, to revert to the idea of the supremacy of the Great Russians. And it is ironical that Stalin's first claim to fame as a Bolshevik leader and one of Lenin's lieutenants was his celebrated series of essays about the problem of the nationalities which advocated that principle of equality which he has now thrown overboard.

THE TASK of the historians is nothing less than to provide historical justification for the new Russian imperialism working in unholy alliance with the Communist drive towards world revolution: world revolution as dictated by Moscow, the capital of the new Russian empire; world revolution in the service of that empire.

It began a long time ago, as long ago as 1931, when the Bolshevik historian Pokrovsky, whose ashes had been interred with all honour in the Kremlin wall, was suddenly disgraced, his work pronounced an abomination, and his ashes removed from the Kremlin wall. Pokrovsky, who was Lenin's friend, had himself distorted history, in the interest of Marxism, as then understood in the Kremlin. His history had no great men and no great peoples: it was the interplay of economic forces on Marxist lines, inevitable, unromantic, unheroic, and bleak. In particular, the history of Russia before the Revolution was nothing but the story of tyranny and oppression.

✧ ✧ ✧

BY THE EARLY 'thirties, with Trotsky out of the way, Stalin was already building himself up, still largely behind the scenes, as a man of destiny. The Pokrovsky interpretation of history had no place for a quasi-divine figure exercising absolute paternal rule over the Russian millions. So slowly, gradually, feeling his way Stalin began to resurrect first the idea of national patriotism, then the idea of great men. The war gave him his supreme opportunity. Patriotism, overnight, became the greatest dynamic force; and the patriotism of the Russians was symbolized by Stalin. Thus, during the war, there appeared a string of books by senior Soviet historians which purported to offer revaluations of the great figures of the Tsarist past. Ivan The Terrible and Peter The Great were no longer to be regarded as reactionary tyrants; they were great Russian patriots who had forced the Russians forward towards the light. And their worthy successor was Stalin.

✧ ✧ ✧

IMMEDIATELY after the war the matter was taken a stage further. It was now firmly established that Stalin was a great man, the modern equivalent of the great Russian rulers of the past, and the wise father of his people. The next thing to establish was that the Great Russian people were superior to all the other nationalities of the Soviet Union and had a divine right to rule over all the rest, from the most backward tribes of Siberia to the highly-developed Ukrainians. Stalin gave his first hint of this new conscription—which was a reversion to the old imperial conception—at the great Victory dinner in the Kremlin on May 24, 1945, when he stood up before the elite of the Soviet Union and offered a toast to the people of Russia, meaning Great Russia, or the Russian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic, as Great Russia is known today: "I drink especially to the health of the Russian people, because in this war it has proved itself the outstanding nation among all the nations belonging to the Soviet Union".

✧ ✧ ✧

THAT was the formal reversal of the old policy of equality for all the nations of the U.S.S.R. The minority leaders trembled. The historians and hacks took the hint and got to work. Four years later Stalin made his extraordinary contribution to the science of linguistics, the main purpose of which was to glorify the Russian language, and therefore the Russian people, above all other languages and peoples of the Soviet Union. Meanwhile the historians had been producing results. History was totally re-written to prove that it was to the Russians and the Russians alone that the old Russian Empire, and therefore the Soviet Union, owed all progress and light. They went back a very long way, and attributed to the Russian people tribal ancestries which, to say the least, were highly dubious. But by the time they had finished the Russian people under Stalin were shown to be the heirs to a race superior to all others and destined to lead the world.

ONLY ONE THING remained to be done. The Russian people now knew where they stood; they were the new leaders. But the minority races of the U.S.S.R. who were once welcomed to the Soviet Union as brothers and equals, required re-education. It is this last process which is engaging the professors at this moment. Throughout all the minority republics, from Ukraine, to Uzbekistan, from Armenia to White Russia, the school books are being re-written. According to the first Secretary of the Kazakhstan Communist Party, writing in "Pravda" last month, the process is even yet not finished. And it is known that many schools are without text-books, because the old ones have been withdrawn and the new ones are not ready.

The next textbooks have all one theme. Instead of glorifying the national heroes of the sister peoples of the U.S.S.R. for their long and stubborn fight against Tsarism, these heroes are now cast down. They are shown as evil and reactionary men. And the reason why they are evil and reactionary is because in fighting against the Tsars, once the most glorious thing a revolutionary could do, they sought to deny to their peoples participation in the historical development of Imperial Russia and thus in the supreme experience of the Russian Revolution.

THE GREAT UNCOVERING, OR HIS ONE REDEEMING ACT

King George VI Memorial Plans

By PHILIP VERNON

AT the Mansion House Thursday afternoon, in the heart of the City of London, representative people from all over the United Kingdom and from other countries of the Commonwealth as well, met to initiate the plans for erecting a suitable memorial to his late Majesty King George the Sixth.

They met without their host, Sir Leslie Boyce, the Lord Mayor of London, who is still in hospital recovering from a complicated and dangerous operation; but a message was read from him in which he reminded the gathering that they, with their knowledge of all aspects of the nation's and the Commonwealth's life, could help to ensure not only that the form of the memorial was "wisely and happily" chosen, but that it reflected the wishes and feelings of the people as well.

A resolution moved by the Archbishop of Canterbury was passed unanimously, stating that the memorial should include a statue erected in a noble setting and also a philanthropic scheme. The resolution also asked the Lord Mayor of London to appoint a committee to carry the plans forward.

Some suggestions were made at the meeting as to the form which the philanthropic scheme should take—old people's homes and cancer research were among them—but it was not really the point of the meeting to call for, far less to discuss, such suggestions.

The procedure which is being followed is very much the same as that which followed the death of King George VI. The memorial to him took the form of a statue erected near the Houses of Parliament and also the establishment of the King George V Playing Fields all over the country.

✧ ✧ ✧

SO FAR no suggestion has yet been officially made as to where the statue to King George VI might be erected. It is, however, generally believed that serious consideration will be given to placing it near St. Paul's Cathedral and using the opportunity to carry out part of the City of London Plan for building a really fine approach to the Cathedral. St. Paul's at present is never seen at its best because of the business offices and warehouses which crowd round it. Yet its site, on the top of Ludgate Hill, is magnificent. The suggestion for placing the statue to George VI somewhere near it is sure to be widely supported.

As for the philanthropic scheme, there will be no lack of suggestions from all parts of the country and all walks of life. The scheme must satisfy three conditions however. It must be one which can be carried out, not in any one locality, but in all parts of the country. It must meet a real need. And it must be a scheme which, as the Lord Mayor of London said in his message, will draw a response from people everywhere. The objection to such deserving causes as cancer research is that there are already bodies for sustaining them. The objection to old people's homes, for example, is much the same: there are already bodies, including the State itself, which have the responsibility in these matters. It will be no easy task to choose between the many deserving schemes which will be put forward. Already numerous ideas have been put forward in the Press, including one for promoting visits from one part of the Commonwealth to another.

This idea certainly has its attractions, since contributions to the memorial appeal are to be invited from the Commonwealth. It is also expected that, though no invitation will be made, contributions will come from other countries outside the Commonwealth. One of the most remarkable facts which emerged on the death of George VI was the respect and even affection he had won in foreign countries—many of them republics. Those responsible for conducting the appeal have little doubt that these feelings will be given a more visible expression during the next few months.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease. . .

These twelve Jesus sent forth and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of Gentiles and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand . . .

What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops. And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. (Matt. 10:1, 5-7, 27, 28.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law . . . .

If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit. (Gal. 5:17, 18, 25.)

The Decline and Fall of the C.C.F.

(The Rural Scene)

The C.C.F. Party has fallen upon evil days. Its trouble is that it has no basic philosophy to guide its thinking and bind its members together. In the absence of such a philosophy the party has never been able to steer a steady course toward any definite goal.

In the twenty years of its existence we have seen its leaders chasing after such varied sophistries as technocracy, social credit, currency manipulation, producer monopolies of essential commodities, and almost anything that seemed to have a fleeting popularity.

The party came into being at the depth of the depression as a farmer-labor movement in protest against "the profit motive," which it looked on as the root of all evil in human relations.

As most people were dissatisfied with conditions in those depression years, it won considerable support as a party of protest.

But better crops and better prices have improved the lot of the farmers, and the great expansion of industry has created more employment at better wages for the workers, and more opportunities for advancement for those who are ready to grasp them.

These changes have left the C.C.F. with nothing very much to protest against. Its followers are finding the renewed activities around them more attractive than the carping criticism of the political malcontents. They have lost interest in the movement; and its leaders have lost their influence over them.

Travelling Creameries

(Irish Bulletin)

The first travelling creamery in Ireland set out 18 years ago along the roads of the Dingle Peninsula which juts into the Atlantic on Ireland's south-west coast.

A travelling creamery consists of a lorry-chassis with a van body and provided with equipment for separating milk. Each morning, a vehicle visits three stopping places, separates the milk at each point—the total capacity for the day being 2,500 gallons—and can be back at the creamery by mid-day.

The purpose of the travelling creamery is to serve areas where, due to the widespread situation of the various farms, it would be uneconomic to build separate creameries. With the travelling unit, it is possible to have one creamery set up at a central point, and each day the vehicles, which are garaged at the centre, travel around the country to various points, and separate the milk locally. The separated milk is then immediately returned to the farmer, and the cream is brought to the creamery. The idea of the travelling creamery originated at a time when a slump in the world prices of butter had reacted with particular severity on the prices of home-producing butter districts to dispose profitably of their milk, this system was devised, and proved an immediate success.

By 1949, 22 travelling creameries were in operation, and in the last three years a further 11 have been added to this number. At present, the Dairy Disposal Board has 12 units in commission in Co. Clare, seven in Co. Cork and 14 in Co. Kerry.

U.S. Speeds Up Insect War With New System

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States government has taken new steps to gear up its normal war on insects—and at the same time provide a skeleton defence organization against use of bugs in biological warfare.

The Department of Agriculture has set up a country-wide insect detection and reporting service.

It ties in with established programs of the Department's Bureau of Animal Industry and of Plant Industry and the program of the U.S. Public Health Service.

All these agencies have set-ups designed to get quick reports from any part of the country on any unusual outbreaks of diseases affecting man, plant or beast.

The new plan is an attempt to co-ordinate the efforts of all entomologists—whether federal, state, private or industrial—in keeping the country currently informed on the insect picture in general. Information clearing houses have been or will be set up in virtually every state.

Save Millions

Every week each state will report to the Department of Agriculture, which will combine the information and distribute it nationally. A few have already gone out.

The idea of a weekly national report is that states still free of a pest occurring in a neighboring state will be promptly placed on the alert against it and that manufacturers and suppliers of insecticides will know the location of danger zones where insecticides will be needed.

Dr. Avery S. Hoyt, chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, says "we believe that timely reports of insect development could save millions of dollars in crops and livestock damage each year."

He believes the setup offers an opportunity to detect "new species of insects before they gain sufficient foothold to become an economic hazard.

Kelvin Dorward, who is in charge of the new Federal division, says while it is designed primarily as a peacetime measure it "makes it possible to have the wheels geared up in case biological warfare defence is ever necessary."

Bonarlaw W.A. Meets

BONARLAW, May 21 (ENS).—St. Marks Church W.A. held their May meeting at the home of Mrs. John Edgitt. Mrs. E. Heath presided. Mrs. Jason Baker read the scripture lesson. Mrs. J. F. Baker presented articles purchased for the bale, also one dozen bleached cotton bags to be made into pillow cases. Mrs. Barlow gave her report on the diocesan annual meeting.

Clandestine Group

CAIRO, Egypt, May 21 (Reuters)—Police Tuesday night claimed they have discovered a clandestine branch of the International Jewish Organization, whose aim is to repatriate Jews to Israel. They have arrested 100 youths, members of the Egyptian branch of the organization which is alleged to have helped the departure of 32,000 Egyptian Jews.

Trade Volume Boosted

LONDON, May 21 (Reuters) — The volume for trade between Russia and Czechoslovakia will be boosted by 25 per cent over last year's figure under an agreement signed in Moscow, the official Czechoslovak news agency Ceteka said in a report received here today. The agreement, covering the year 1952, is an extension of the 1947 long-term agreement.

ROCKINGHAM REPORTS—Brig. J. M. Rockingham reports to Defence Minister Claxton at Defence Headquarters in Ottawa after leading Canada's 25th Infantry Brigade in action more than a year. He is scheduled to take over the post of Director-General of Military Training for the Army.

Manvers To Buy Land For Dump

BETHANY, May 21 (ENS) — At the May meeting of Manvers township council Deputy Reeve Earl Argue and Councillor John Payne were appointed as a committee to enquire what arrangements could be made for purchasing ground near the village of Pontypool to be used for a public garbage dump. The same committee were appointed to confer with G. Hamilton to make arrangements for the renting of his residence on Lot 6, Con. 3 for a reliefee.

The tender of Russell Kerr, R.R. 1, Bethany was accepted for crushing gravel at 85 cents per cubic yard delivered any place in the township, under supervision of the road superintendent, Alban Sisson.

Some sidewalks are to be repaired and additional sidewalks laid in the three villages of Janetville, Pontypool and Bethany during the year, the amount in each village to be decided on later.

A motion was passed agreeing to an open season for deer hunting in this municipality.

The following accounts were ordered paid: Hydro Electric Power Commission for township hall lights, $9.90; Counties Treasurer for hospitalization $200.50; Edward Humphage, services as Auditor $283.28; Township Treasurer road voucher $4,133.36; Manvers Telephone System, advance on service $1,000; J. C. Cummiskey, salary as clerk and balance of salary as tax collector $135; George Smith, janitor's salary $15.00; Dalton Brown, sheep worried $8; Grant to Millbrook Agricultural Society, $25; Merrill Brown, killing dog $5; Relief $195.02.

Saving Family Pets Hazard For Firemen

OTTAWA—(CP)—Every so often lives are lost in fires simply because of futile efforts to rescue the family pet. The safety of the pet sometimes seems more important than personal escape, and Ottawa firemen have recollections of many such incidents.

Veteran fire-fighter Art Des Rivieres recalls one blaze when a woman in a third-storey flat bluntly told firemen she would not go down the escape ladder without her four pet bulldogs and two canaries.

"I just won't come down without my pets," she cried from the window of her smoke-filled room.

Des Rivieres realized he had to get the animals in order to save her life. He entered the room by the window, threw the four pups into a pillowcase and handed them to another fireman. Then he went back and got the canaries.

Only then did the woman consent to be saved.

District Chief A. O'Neil recalls a similar incident, when the landlady of a burning building insisted he rescue her canary.

She forgot to tell him she had two canaries—one of them dead and mounted in a cage.

O'Neil came out with the stuffed canary.

Old Documents Found In Woodshed

CLARENCE, Ont.—(CP)—Documents and records that will add to the history of the lower Ottawa river district have come to light on the property of the Tucker family, merchants here and at Papineauville, Que., from the 1820s to the First World War.

The papers include financial transactions between the family and Louis Joseph Papineau, leader of the Quebec rebellion of 1837. There is also a "Breeches Bible" dated 1582 and English volumes dating back to 1569.

The books were taken by the Tucker family from England to Milton, Mass., in 1663. From there the family moved to Brandon, Vt., and thence in the early 1800s to Papineauville, five miles downriver from here and on the Quebec side. The family business was moved to Clarence, 25 miles east of Ottawa, more than 80 years ago.

Saved From Bonfire

For 50 years or more the books and records were stored in a woodshed. This spring the shed was torn down and the papers were about to be burned when they were salvaged by Margaret and Gladys Tucker.

Generations of the family had preserved their business records. They showed sales to Seigneur Papineau, including 62 pounds of beef for 15 shillings. There are also detailed records of the timber drives down the Ottawa river in days when lumber was king in the valley.

The books brought to America are vastly older than the bookeeping records, however.

The Breeches Bible, or "Geneva Bible," was first published in 1560. The Tucker family's copy was published in London in 1582 in the reign of Queen Elizabeth I. The Bible got its name from its translation of one verse in Genesis about Adam and Eve:

"They sewed fig leaves together and made themselves breeches."

Another old volume is the history of British Royalty up to the time of the "Queenes Majestie our deere sovereigne Elizabeth" and of other kings "from the beginning of the world."

BIG RAINSTORM

Greatest rainfall in one day in Britain was the 9.56 inches that fell at Bruton, Somerset, on June 28, 1917.

HOLSTEIN SALE—Premier J. Walter Jones of Prince Edward Island sold his four-year-old cow, Abegweit Plush, for $1,025 at the National Holstein sale in Oakville, 30 miles west of Toronto. Highest price of the day was $6,500 paid by Theodore Devine, Taunton, Mass., for an eight-month-old bull calf. Because of the United States embargo against Canadian cattle being shipped to the U.S., Devine arranged for its previous owner, J. J. S. McCague of Alliston, Ont., to keep the calf until restrictions are relaxed.

CARACAS, Venezuela, May 21 (AP)—The government of Venezuela Tuesday signed a five hundred thousand dollar contract with the Radio Corporation of America for construction of the country's first television station. It is scheduled to go into operation Nov. 24.

Nature Lover Makes Flower Gifts

YARMOUTH, N.S. —(CP)—Watson Raynard, of nearby Tusket Falls, has begun his summer campaign of distributing flowers to homes of Yarmouth and surrounding districts.

A naturalist at heart, Mr. Raynard wanders through the woods at his leisure, picks flowers and takes them to stores and houses. Last year he distributed free, about 1,000 bunches of various types of wild-flowers.

Living in retirement, Raynard maintains a keen interest in outdoor life and is an advocate of good clean amateur sport, especially boxing and baseball.

He is also noted for his ability to "call" deer. While moose calling is quite common among woodsmen, to call a deer requires an art that is not easily mastered. On several occasions he has given effective demonstrations which have silenced the sceptics.

THE Kanger PROTECTS THE FORESTS FOR THE BENEFIT OF EVERYONE

Holiday Week-ends mean Danger for the Fire Ranger

The danger of forest fires is multiplied by thousands as people head for cottages and camps on holiday week-ends. It's a danger period, and it's no holiday for the Fire Rangers who must be at full strength with all look-outs manned, patrols covered, equipment and transportation ready for emergencies. You can help by preventing forest fires. See that camp fires are properly built and thoroughly doused before you leave. When motoring never throw cigarette butts or matches from the car . . . and be equally careful when walking or working in the woods. Forest fires are expensive and dangerous. Keep it in mind—keep fire out of our forests.

LEGGO THE TOE—Carried away by the excitement of the game Jim Curran of Tillsonburg Livingstons clutches the toe of teammate Bob Phipps in the first game of the best-of-five Olympic trials basketball series between Tillsonburg and the University of Western Ontario Mustangs. Livingstons, Canadian Amateur Basketball Association champions, defeated the Mustangs, Intercollegiate titlists, 79-65 at Tillsonburg. Winner of the series will claim the all-Canadian title and the right to send representatives to the summer Olympics at Helsinki.

Livvies Defeat Western 75-69 For Second Straight Victory

TILLSONBURG, May 21—(CP)—Tillsonburg Livingstons, a great club in the clutches, are confidently expected to make up the nucleus of Canada's Olympic basketball team.

The Livvies, Canadian senior champions, roared to their second straight victory over University of Western Ontario Mustangs in their best-of-five Olympic trials series here Tuesday night. They blasted the Collegians 75-69 following up a series-opener 79-65 triumph Monday.

The winners, with an additional seven all-stars, will go to Helsinki, Finland, for the July 19-Aug. 3 Olympics.

Aided by Carl Ridd, flashy Winnipeg Grads star, the Livvies spotted the Mustangs an 18-14 first-quarter lead and trailed 60-59 going into the last 10 minutes. The Mustangs were ahead 66-65 with only seven minutes to go but the home-town club sifted through to assure victory.

Western, given permission by the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association to use Don McIntosh and Ed Lutch from the University of Alberta Golden Bears before this series started, decided to go without them for the second straight night. Coach Johnny Metras said it wouldn't be ethical to use the pair.

Not Concerned

The Mustangs have objected to Livingston's use of Ridd but the Canadian champions, awarded the player by the C.A.B.A., apparently aren't concerned about it.

Tuesday night's game was the roughest of the series. In the later stages Western lost four players via the foul route while Tillsonburg lost three. In addition, playing coach Paul Thomas of Tillsonburg and Walt Karabin of the Mustangs were disqualified with two minutes to go for fighting.

Fifty-eight fouls were called.

Bob Phibbs paced the victors with 23 points but the collegians' Doug McNichol took scoring honors with 25—nine field goals and seven free throws.

The Mustangs came up with their best game of the year but they ran out of steam in the late stages. They went ahead from the opening whistle, matched stride for stride until the final moments of the game when the Livvies came up with a rally that wouldn't be denied.

Rides 12 Winners In 14 Races

CHICAGO, May 21 -- (AP) — Jockey Johnny Adams—"just hot and lucky," he says—has ridden 12 winners in his last 14 races and appears to have an excellent chance to continue the streak.

The reason: Thoroughbred owners at the Lincoln Fields' meeting at Hawthorne race track are bidding for his services as if it were the Czar's legendary silver.

Johnny, 37 and a top rider for more than a decade, is a free-lancer and knows a likely horse when he sees one.

These circumstances, plus the appeal to horsemen of his flaming win streak, give him a decided edge over other jockeys in any given race—at least right now.

Can Choose Mounts

Johnny can just about choose the mounts he'll ride — a very pleasant prospect.

This afternoon, for instance, he is listed to ride six races (he could try for more, but it is unlikely) on the nine-race Lincoln Fields program. Four of his mounts are favorites and another is the second choice.

Adam's feat of being astride 12 winners in his last 14 starts—five Saturday, two Monday and five Tuesday—is one of the best marks over a three-day period since 1944. Bobby Permane rode five winners on each of three consecutive days at Tropical that year.

Adams, possibly fearing he'll jinx himself in the midst of his lucky streak, is reticent about discussing it. "Just say I'm hot and lucky," he said, "and that I've had some good mounts."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Comes a release announcing the fourth annual provincial interscholastic track and field championship meet in London on June 21 at Western. Ontario has been sliced into eight districts for the meet. There is Toronto and district, the T.S.S.A., Western Ontario, Eastern, Northern, Central, Niagara district and Hamilton area. Cup goes to the school contributing greatest number of points to the winning district's total. T.S.S.A. won it twice in three years and Niagara took it in '50. It is possible that some P.C.V.S. and St. Peter's High tracksters will compete in the meet.

He's a genial and likeable chap off the field but a real rugged customer with a webbed stick in his mitt. We mean Nit O'Hearn of the local senior lacrossers. Being a pro goalie in hockey winters, this Irisher is probably a frustrated fellow who feels he can't get in enough licks at the opposition from his cage spot, so he revels in his defensive and offensive role in the gutted-stick wars. A highly-effective player, Nit checks hard and scores his share of goals, too. Born in Halifax, he lived most of his life—apart from his U.S.A. hockey tours—in St. Kitts ere coming to Peterborough. He plans to settle here.

* * * * * *

Played It Eastern Style

Well do we recall how the Vancouver fans yelled for Nit's scalp in Mann Cup finals. Like the other Petes, he played the rugged eastern style, but he did it harder than most. The B.C. lacrossists prefer a speedy basketball type of play with little body contact. They had a pesky forward named Gogie Stewart, who wore a heavy helmet. He persisted game after game in trying to go through Nit on defence, using his helmet lowered for protection. Every time Nit's stick touched that helmet the western refs gave him a penalty. Gogie tried his luck once too often and came out of mixup with a cracked jaw which sidelined him. And O'Hearn went on to help his side capture the Canadian crown. He's a real scrapper, and will be seen in action here Friday against Toronto Yorks.

Revoy's tackle U.E.W. at seven tomorrow eve in the Bowl over east, and that one is followed by Lindsay vs. East City. Men's softball it is again with the City League twin bill opening after a brief ceremony. Also a draw for prizes. Lakefield is the other entry, and the two out-of-town teams should lend a lot of interest to the O.A.S.A. loop this summer. Revoy's have some Keene talent aboard, also. Double-headers every Tuesday and Thursday there till the schedule winds up in August, playoffs following. No league fixtures billed for Lindsay or Lakefield, but maybe the odd exhibition staged in these centres.

Juniors Out of League

Gord Snape has definitely withdrawn his local junior entry from the Lakeshore Baseball League. Says he is fed up with allotment of the use of Riverside Park for ball practices, and he has notified the league that his team is out. That forfeits the $100 bond the loop demanded that the club put up before taking its entry. Too bad but it's too late now to do anything about it. More give-and-take all around might well have seen things worked out okay, but 'twas not to be. Gord and his sponsor stand to lose nearly $200 apiece, plus their time and effort, and a lot of youngsters will be out of ball for the season. It's tough, too, on the league—forcing a revision in the schedule.

* * * * * *

An interlocking schedule will be worked out between the four-team St. Lawrence League and two of the C.O.B.L. clubs, Kingston and Belleville. The Petes didn't want those long trips to Brockville, Smiths Falls, Prescott and Cardinal, though the locals hope to stage some games this season also with Oshawa. The C.O.B.L. and St. Lawrence winners meet at schedule's end for the Eastern Ontario title. Meantime, Kingston Ponies come here this Saturday (the holiday) night to start the Central Loop schedule with the Petes at seven in Riverside. The Belleville Redmen commence their campaign in the Limestone City on May 26. Schedule out soon.

Cubs Thump Montreal Royals 6-2

By The Associated Press

Now Springfield Cubs, doormats of the International League for the better part of last season, are getting in on the act.

The Cubs today were in sixth place, but they're exactly two games out of second place, so tight is the race.

They whipped front-running Montreal, 6-2, Tuesday night after losing three in a row to the Royals. Al Ihde went the distance and gave up only six hits for the winners, although he got himself in trouble several times by issuing five walks.

Bob Alexander was the victim of the Springfield bats. He lasted until the sixth inning and in that space was tapped for eight hits and yielded three walks.

Jim Hughes and Jim Romano finished up for the losers, who still boast a four and a half game lead.

All the other clubs were rained out.

Snead won the tourney by the narrow margin of two points.

Club Withdraws Its Entry Lakesore Loop

Manager Gord Snape withdrew his junior Peterborough entry from the Lakeshore Baseball League on Tuesday. Due to open his schedule here this Thursday, he notified the league secretary and his Cobourg opponents of Thursday that the team was dropping out of the circuit. By doing so, it forfeits a bond of $100 put up to ensure the club's carrying out of its commitments.

Two weeks ago, Mr. Snape decided to withdraw his entry when some of his juniors began going out to senior practises. He was assured then by the senior club president that the junior team would not be raided. Two of his players, however, still preferred to try for a senior berth.

Use Of Park

"There's no system in allotting use of Riverside Park for practises," Mr. Snape said in explaining why he was "fed up and dropping out" of baseball. He said the seniors took over the park on occasions when his juniors were practising. The seniors replied by saying that the juniors wanted it every night and that the seniors should have first choice there, pointing out that the senior club had been mainly responsible for getting floodlights installed.

Asked if there was any chance of his carrying on with the Lakeshore League entry, Mr. Snape replied: "No, I'm definitely out this time and have notified the league to that effect. The club sponsor and I will split the financial loss of the undertaking to date, well over $300."

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club will this coming week-end officially declare their greens open for the 1952 season. For those who are observing the holiday on Saturday it will be Saturday afternoon, and for those celebrating on Monday, it will be Monday afternoon. On each of these days there will be a mixed tournament, draw from the board at 1:30 o'clock, with good prizes. Telephone your name in early.

As in past years these opening days have been "on the house," and this year is no exception: You are to be the guests of the board of directors. You'll meet many of your old friends. Let's hope for good crowds and good weather.

P.S.—We received a telephone message early this morning: "Expect schedule books by Friday."

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

At 36 you're an old man in baseball. You're days are numbered.

And when rain comes, the old men in baseball generally welcome it, for the layoff gives aching bones time to rest.

But not so Enos (Country) Slaughter of St. Louis Cardinals who sat in a New York hotel Tuesday and watched the rain beating against the windows.

"Rain, rain," he moaned.

It was a typical Slaughter remark for the 36-year-old Cardinal outfielder who joined the Redbirds 14 years ago still has a high competitive flame.

"I'm in better condition now than I've been in the last three years," he said. "I've been watching my weight."

Slaughtert's ambition is to play in his ninth All-Star game this year.

"Baseball is a great game," he added. "All you can do is give it all you've got. I don't know how to play any other way."

The Soviet women's basketball team is almost certain to win the European championship now in progress at Moscow, United Sattes observers in the Russian capital said Tuesday. They said the big, strong, fast Russian girls could give any American team a run for its money.

Five Toronto horsemen have been picked for Canada's first Olympic equestrian team, it was announced Tuesday in Toronto. Three of them will compete at the Olympic games in Helsinki this summer. L. J. Mcuinness, 31, captain of the squad, is owner of three of the five horses which will be taken to the games. Other team members are: Stewart Treviranus, Thomas Gayford, John Rumble and Walter Paddy.

(Eugene (Silent) Hairston, 22, ranks a 6-5 betting favorite in his middleweight fight tonight with veteran Jake Lamotta at Detroit Olympia. It will be a 10-rounder.

Don Cockell, British light-heavyweight champion, survived two early knockdowns at London Tuesday night and narrowly outpointed Italian champion Renato Tontini in a 10-round non-title match.

Cleveland Barons, who have applied for entry to the National Hockey League, Tuesday asked the American Hockey League annual meeting in New York to hold their franchise in abeyance, pending settlement of their National League application.

Steward Jimmy Phelan said on Tuesday at Montreal that 37 nominations have been received for the Quebec Queen's Plate 99th running at Blue Bonnets track in July.

Two rookies who weren't wanted—Hec Rodrigues of Chicago White Sox and Clint Courtney of St. Louis Browns—are giving American baseball league veterans a lesson in the art of fielding, the records show. Rodriguez has a .980 fielding mark while Courtney has a perfect 1.000. Rodriguez was given up by Brooklyn while the New York Yankees passed Courtney.

Senators Blank St. Louis On Jensen-Harris Ticket

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

The Jackie Jensen-Bucky Harris ticket is sweeping the United States since they opened headquarters at Washington, they've won more support there than Eisenhower and Taft combined. With impish delight in the embarrassment of the rich New York Yankees who let both men go, the public is getting a kick out of the surge of the underdogs.

Second place may turn out to be an over-ambitious perch for the Senators. But they are looking up—not down—at the moment. Only two games behind Cleveland after Tuesday night's 2-0 decision over St. Louis, the Jensen-Harris ticket is in the mood to claim a pennant on an early ballot.

Jensen rapped Tommy Byrne for a perfect 3-for-3 night. Since joining Washington, 17 games ago, Jensen has batted .373. That brought his season average up to .314.

While Jensen sprayed base hits, Harris, fired as Yank manager in 1948 basked in a new-found wealth of pitching. He opened the season with Bob Porterfield and a hope for the best. Now he hardly can wait for a chance to pitch Spec Shea (3-0) against his old Yankee mates.

Marrero Clicked

Connie Marrero, the chubby little Cuban, did the shutout pitching Tuesday night with a four-hitter.

Singles by Jim Busby, Jensen and Archie Wilson following Eddie Yost's inning-opening walk gave Marrero his two-run lead in the third. He didn't need that much. The Browns were hitless from the second to the eighth as Connie struck out eight and walked only two.

While the Yanks might have reasons to regret the deal that send Jensen to Washington, they could point with pride to the Johnny Sain purchase and Mickey Mantle's four hits at Chicago.

Sain's efficient six-hitter against Chicago Tuesday night for his fourth win, 4-3, made him the Yanks' top winner. Purchased last summer as a "stop-gap" pitcher, the curve-balling veteran has turned out to be a "stopper."

Rain washed the rest of the big league program down the drain, calling off scheduled Boston at Cleveland and Philadelphia at Detroit games in the American and the entire four-game National League chart.

There have been 47 postponements in both leagues this season or approximately 18 per cent of all playing dates. The National has been hardest hit with 26 including seven New York Giants home dates. The American has 21 washouts, six of them at Washington.

ON END—Driver Owen Toth's stock car did a head stand nosing into the ground at Elyria, O., yet he came out of the tumble unhurt.

Panty Raiders Meet Strong Opposition

NEW YORK, May 21 (AP) —Collegiate panty raiders hit again in many sections of the United States Monday night but co-eds and police stymied most attempts to filch lacy souvenirs. There were some arrests and a few reports of damage.

In general, however, the undie-snatchers seemed somewhat less boisterous than the thousands of youths from nearly a dozen schools that joined in the latest college craze Monday night.

The fad—raiding women's dormitories and sorority houses in search of undergarments—started some weeks ago. Authorities have blamed it on sex, simple-mindedness and just a means of blowing off steam before final examinations start.

At the University of Pennsylvania Tuesday night 200 policemen and four fire engine companies prevented students from raiding two women's dormitories and a nurses' home. An estimated 1,500 to 2,000 youths were in the crowd. Twenty-two more rebellious students were taken to the police station and later released with warnings.

Co-eds cooled off University of Kansas raiders with buckets of water tossed from upper windows. Several hundred men sought to enter two dormitories but only a few got in.

Wild Demonstration

Twelve University of Tennessee students were arrested during a wild demonstration. Carloads of students toured the campus area shooting out street lights, but no attempt was made to repeat the panty forays of the previous night.

Police halted a potential raid at Alabama Polytechnic Institute when several hundred students gathered. About 25 students rushed photographer Paul Robertson and reporter Bill Bates of the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser, destroyed films and told them to get out of town.

Students at Washington State College reported some success in their forays at Pullman, Wash. About 250 students invaded five housing units and picked up undies in four. Co-eds drenched some with water and two raiders were arrested.

Minor damage to women's quarters was reported during a foray for flimsies at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Other demonstrations Tuesday night occured at Kansas State College, Temple, West Virginia University and the Universities of Arizona, Georgia and Alabama.

Freed On Bail

LIMA, Peru, May 21 (AP) — The editor and the manager of the tabloid Ultima Hora were freed on bail Tuesday after being jailed for a week on charges of insulting the United States. The Peruvian government objected to the paper's handling of a story about a government note to the U.S. protesting a possible three cent a pound import duty on Peruvian tuna fish.

Martin Pledges Backing For Medical Research

HAMILTON, May 21 (CP) — Federal Health Minister Martin today paid tribute to Canadian medical research scientists and said the Canadian government is giving financial backing to their work.

Canada has won "an honored place" in recent great advances in medical science, Mr. Martin said in a speech prepared for delivery at the 72nd annual meeting of the Ontario Medical Association.

"It is the intention of the federal government . . . to put enough of our national resources at the disposal of our medical scientists so that the frontiers of scientific discovery can constantly be pushed back."

Federal aid already was "the outstanding feature of medical and public health research in Canada." This year it would account for approximately $2,000,000 of the $3,500,000 to be spent on health research.

Better Understanding

A fuller knowledge of the new drugs ACTH and Cortisone was giving doctors a better understanding of the human body's mechanism. Federal aid of $500,000 had speeded Canada's research program into the drugs "by several years" and the Connaught Laboratories at Toronto had produced limited supplies of ACTH for clinical use in Canada.

Reviewing research projects across Canada which have been aided by Federal funds, Mr. Martin said the "greatest care" has been taken to avoid duplication of effort.

"The general approach of Federal fund-granting agencies in this field is to encourage 'supported' rather than 'directed' research. In other words, the intention is to give maximum Federal support with minimum government interference."

Often some "brilliant discovery," such as Pasteur's finding that germs cause disease, had heralded a new era in medical history.

Now, "the imagination of health investigators is being captured by the new concept of the body's behavior emerging from studies of ACTH, cortisone, and their related hormones."

Medical research was one of the greatest fields for conquering new worlds, Mr. Martin said.

"Who knows what research discoveries lie ready to our hand?

"Who knows how few more segments of medical science might complete our understanding of the laws governing the human body, and answer questions that since the dawn of time mankind has asked despairingly?"

Coldsprings WI Plant Rockery For Summer

COLDSPRINGS, May 21 (ENS) —The Coldsprings Women's Institute held their May meeting on Monday afternoon. About 30 members of the W. I. and several members of St. Paul's church gathered at the rockery in front of the church, to weed and put on more earth.

Mrs. Keith Harper, president, presided. Mrs. Herb. McKinley read the financial statement showing $381.17 on hand.

The sunshine report was given by Mrs. Nixon Timlin.

It was voted to give $10 toward the Salvation Army Red Shield appeal.

Miss Eilen Gibson and Mrs. Fred Ford, were nominated as delegates to attend the district annual convention at Grafton on June 4.

Plans were made for the W. I. dance to be held May 30, Mrs. M. Alderson and party committee be in charge. It was decided to hold a dance once a month this summer, preferably the last Friday night of each month.

A committee of four W. I. members are to see about getting new swings and teeter-totters for the park.

Mrs. Charles Davidson of Cobourg, a life member of Coldsprings W.I. was presented with a small token in appreciation for her past and present help.

ManyNominated For Classic Queen's Plate

By JOHN PATERSON.

TORONTO, May 21 (CP)—It's almost as hard to get a horse to the starting gate as into the winner's circle this year in the Queen's Plate.

About 20 will meet the starter's gun. Another 130 Canadian-bred three-year-olds, nominated Dec. 1, 1950, for a $10 fee for this 93rd annual renewal May 24, won't be around for the 5 p.m. E.D.T. start.

Forty-eight owners paid the Ontario Jockey Club $50 May 1 this year. Last Dec. 1 payment of $15 was made to keep 75 in the hunt for the $15,000-added purse plus 50 guineas from the Queen and owners of all starters will shell out another $100 fee this Saturday.

Location and conditions of the historic spring feature have changed often since Don Juan was led into the winners' circle in 1860 at the Carleton Park in West Toronto. The distance then was the classic 1½ miles—same as the Epsom Derby—and was restricted to Ontario-breds owned by British subjects resident in Ontario.

In 1944 the race was thrown open to horses bred anywhere in Canada and owned by British subjects resident in any part of the country. As yet no owner outside Ontario has won although this year two Winnipeg-owned horses, Our Omar, from the A. G. (Scotty) Kennedy and Lord Strome, from Jim Speers' Whittier Park Stock Farms are given a good chance.

Between 1869 and 1883—when it was permanently settled at east-end Toronto's expansive Woodbine Park, the race was run at Guelph, London, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Newmarket, Whitby, Kingston, Ottawa, Barrie, Woodstock, Picton and Prescott.

In 1887 Robert Bond's Bonnie Duke won the first race at the shortened distance of 1¼ miles.

Distance Shortened

Because horses were not permitted to race in their three-year-old year before the Plate—except in the Plate trial—and training often was virtually wrecked by late springs the distance again was shortened in 1924 to its present 1⅛ miles.

One of the biggest upsets of the race's history occurred in 1924 when Maternal Pride, owned by H. S. Wilson of Oakville, flashed to a two-length victory and paid $193.35 for $2. That was the highest price ever posted in the classic.

Bearing a tradition almost as old as the Plate is the famed Seagram stable at Waterloo. The third generation member of the family, J. E. Frowde Seagram, will send Flareday and Hielan Laddie—winter book favorites—to the post Saturday in search of the stable's 21st Plate victory.

Veteran trainer Johnny Thorpe, more than 50 years with the stable was the exercise boy for possibly the establishment's greatest, the mighty Inferno, who won in 1905.

Most Memorable

Posibly the most memorable Plate was the 1939 running. The late King George VI and Queen Elizabeth saw Archworth scamper home for Toronto publisher George McCullagh. Archworth later broke a track record at New York's famed Aqueduct track and won other United States handicaps.

Another colt with the stamp of greatness was Willie Morrisey's Bunty Lawless. Bunty also went on to win U.S. handicaps and has been a successful sire. After making steady progress he came into his own in 1948 when he led all sires in Canada and has maintained it since, leading in 1949, 1950, 1951, when his get earned more than $100,000 each year.

The race record is held by Last Mark owned by the colorful Jim Fair of Cainsville, Ont. Last Mark won in 1948 in one minute 52 seconds.

The biggest crowd—48,500 — ever to attend saw Molly Moldy win in 1947 for the R. S. McLaughlin stable of Oshawa.

It is not expected the record field of 22 which raced in 1933—when King O'Connor won—will be challenged this year.

INSULT TO INJURY—With two out in the first inning, Bobby Thompson tripled for the Giants at the Polo Grounds. Thomson streaked for the plate with the second pitch to Bob Elliott. The Reds didn't take kindly to Augie Donatelli's decision, but the run counted and the New York Nationals were off to another victory.

Heckle Neimoeller

WIESBADEN, Germany, May 21 (Reuters)—Rival youth factions brawled and exploded stink bombs during a lecture here Tuesday night by Dr. Martin Neimoeller, Protestant church president in Hesse and leading advocate of a neutral Germany in the rivalry between east and west. Referring to Neimoeller's reported demands for conciliation talks with East Germany and Russia and his recent visit to Moscow, hecklers called him "Moscow emissary" and "stirrup holder for communism."

Say P.O.W. Camp Incidents Propaganda

TOKYO, May 21 (AP) — High-level officers in the United Naitons command today said riots and incidents in U.N. prisoners camps were provoked by small bands of die-hard Communists acting on orders to show that the U.N. is mistreating prisoners of war.

One riot, at Pusan Tuesday, and one incident, on violence-ridden Koje Island earlier this month, occurred in prisoner hospitals.

The next move of the Reds, the officers said, undoubtedly will be to unleash violent accusations that the U.N. command is so low and contemptible that it is even torturing patients in the hospitals.

The United States Eighth Army said the Pusan outbreak was touched off by a small group of agitators among hospital orderlies. One Red P.O.W. was killed and 85 were injured in the 2½-hour melee.

Prisoner-inmates and prisoner-doctors in the Koje hospital went on a sitdown strike Friday They were removed from the hospital to a separate compound Monday without incident.

"The (Pusan) riot Tuesday was only part of the over-all Communist plan," one U.N. officer said. He said these prisoners had not been screened.

Follow Pattern

"The Reds are carrying out this agitation in the prison compounds in South Korea, in the same way they operate on a world scale. First they attack in Korea, then Indo-China, then somewhere else. It all follows the same pattern."

Another high officer who is close to the prisoner problem had the same views:

"It looks as if there is a plan to embarrass and frustrate us.

"In addition they are providing themselves with a lot of manufactured incidents for propaganda purposes."

Gen. Mark Clark, U.N. commander, has increased the guard detail by more than 5,000 men, but there are 170,000 prisoners.

According to the screening report, only 70,000 of these are admitted Communists.

But there has been a suspicion within the U.N. command that some Communist soldiers in Korea surrendered under instructions to agitate within the prison camps.

It would not be difficult for a prisoner to confess hatred for Communism, then turn agitator once he was put in a compound of anti-Communists.

One thing is certain. The hard-core Communists inside the camps have outside contact.

It may be radio, an underground chain which includes a few small boats or even a fifth column among Korean guards.

But the prisoners have been too well informed on what was happening at the armistice talks and what was taking place along the battlefront not to have outside contact.

In addition to stopping the riots, Clark's prison camp commanders are going to have to destroy all contact the prisoners have with the Communist world.

KOREAN RELIC—Prime Minister St. Laurent holds an ash tray—a relic of the Korean war—presented by Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, Chief of the Naval Staff, on behalf of the Navy. The tray was made from the casing of the first shell fired by Canadian forces in the Korean war. The shell was fired Aug. 15, 1950 from the destroyer Cayuga, then commanded by Capt. Jeffry Brock of Winnipeg.

Boy Falls Off Pier Has Lots Of Company

BURNHAM-ON-SEA, England, May 21 (AP)—Six-year-old Billy King fell off a pier into the sea Tuesday. He soon had plenty of company.

Billy's sister, Dorothea, seven, jumped to his rescue.

Then their mother and an elderly woman passerby leaped into the water to help the children.

They were joined by two young men who swam out to help the lot.

All got out safely, but Billy and the elderly woman had to be revived by artificial respiration.

Stubborn Beaver Slow Power Jobs

CAMPBELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—The British Columbia Power Commission is having beaver trouble and it looks like a long battle.

Trouble started last year when power lines were laid from Duncan sub-station to a paper mill. A family of beavers dammed a small stream along the island highway.

Engineers dynamited the dam because it flooded the highway. The beavers moved a short distance upstream and built another dam. When this was dynamited, they built another. This was destroyed and they are working on still another.

Frank Assu, who lives at a nearby reserve, swears he saw beaver filling a six-foot hole for a power pole, replacing four feet of dirt.

Cable Ship Master Ends Long Service

HALIFAX—(CP)—Capt. Richard Beadon, who fought in submarines in the First World War and dodged them in the Second, has retired after 22 years as Master of the Western Union cable ship Lord Kelvin.

He had a total of 29 years aboard Western Union ships and was noted for skill and accuracy in navigation. It was often necessary for him to find and bring to the surface a strand of inch-thick cable submerged in the ocean depths as far as three miles.

A native of Devonshire, England, Capt. Beadon is a graduate of the famous British training ship Worcester and served as an officer in British submarines during the First World War. In those hectic days, he was fired on by both enemy and Allied ships.

At 37, he was appointed to a command by Western Union—the youngest ship master in the history of the company. During the Second World War, the Kelvin had a narrow squeak when German undersea raiders attacked shipping at St. John's, Nfld.

DECORATED — Cpl. Delphis Cormier, 21, of Atholville, N.B., has been awarded the Military Medal for an act of outstanding bravery and leadership in Korea. A member of the Royal 22nd Regiment, who since has returned to Canada on rotation leave, Cpl. Cormier killed two Chinese soldiers when their patrol ran into an ambush and saved three of his comrades who were wounded.

Warns Municipalities Can't Take U.S. Dollar

TORONTO, May 21 (CP)—Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar said Tuesday that Ontario municipalities must not accept United States funds at par in payment of taxes.

He asked:

"If their dollar is worth only 98 cents, why should we give them a two-per-cent discount? If they were given a discount, surely the local taxpayers should get the same?"

He was commenting on reports that the question had arisen in Chatham and in the Windsor suburb of Riverside and London, Ont.

Former Matador Now Bush Pilot

CRANBERRY PORTAGE, Man.—(CP)—Jim Foster of Vancouver, now a helicopter pilot for a construction company in northern Manitoba, once was an amateur matador in the bull rings of Colombia in South America.

Foster became interested in bull fighting while vacationing in Mexico where he attended a number of fights. When he took a position with an airline in Colombia he decided the best way to become acquainted with the people was to have an understanding of its national sport.

When not flying a DC-3 for the Internal Air Lines there he spent most of his spare time making friends with the matadors, banderilleros and picadores behind the scenes at the bull rings. It was only a matter of time before he became a full-fledged amateur matador.

Foster entered the bull ring six times during his stay in Colombia. On each occasion he succeeded in killing his animal. Twice he was thrown to the ground, suffering painful bruises, but each time recovered his feet before the bull could make its second charge.

He compares bull fighting to a form of ballet, the major difference being that the performers are "playing for keeps."

Law Hits Snag In Commons

OTTAWA, May 21 — (CP) — Legislation to implement 1949 Geneva conventions dealing with treatment of prisoners and civilians in wartime ran into objections in the Commons Tuesday night.

The legislation, one of a series of amendments to the National Defence Act, was delayed pending detailed explanation from the government.

The amendment would make the Criminal Code or other Canadian statutes applicable in cases of "grave breaches" of the convention such as torture. Canada has not yet signed the convention, and the bill provides that the amendment would not become effective until it was proclaimed.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C. (P.C., Nanaimo), objected to the measure pending a full explanation. He said it would make any accused Canadian troops subject to trial in the courts of other countries.

Two-Truck Collision Kills 1, Injures Five

STITTVILLE, N.Y., May 21 — (AP)—A collision between two trucks took the life of a Canadian woman Tuesday and injured her husband and their five children.

Mrs. Gordon LaLonde, 30, of Cornwall, was killed as LaLonde's panel truck and a highway truck collided on a hill in this Oneida County village.

Reported in critical condition were her husband, 31, and three of the children—Richard, 9, Diana, 10, and Patricia, 12. The other children, Cheryl, 6, and Phyllis, 11 months, were listed as serious.

The youngsters were reported riding on a mattress in the rear of LaLonde's truck.

Pearson Doesn't Know Of Eva Peron Visit

SUDBURY, May 21 (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said here Tuesday night he knows nothing about a reported visit to Victoria Hospital, London, of Eva Peron, wife of the Argentine ruler.

Questioned as he passed through here on his way to Ottawa, he said it is not likely she could have been in Canada without his knowledge.

"I just don't know anything about it," he said.

JAPANESE AMBASSADOR—Eikichi Araki, above, has been named to be first post-independence ambassador from Japan to the United States. Araki, 61, a former governor of the Bank of Japan will be formally appointed as soon as the United States approves his selection for the post.

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY—The latest Spring fad hitting colleges across the nation reached New York as 1,000 Columbia University men students staged a midnight raid on the girls' campus at Barnard College to collect coeds' lingerie. Here, students display their souvenirs. Thirty squad cars and 60 policemen quelled the demonstration.

Conscription Issue Brewing At Legion National Convention

MONTREAL, May 21 —(CP)—The Canadian Legion's national convention will probably decide today whether to throw another demand for conscription at the government or to accept the government's argument that it isn't necessary.

Defence Minister Claxton put the government's case Tuesday with hardly a mention of conscription. Today, the assembly of veterans of two wars, the biggest yet, squares away before a sweeping resolution calling for "total preparedness" including compulsory training in the reserves.

It calls for mobilization of all Canada's resources and for establishment of committees to help the government formulate defence policy.

Discuss Quebec Stand

The big Quebec delegation went into private caucus to discuss its stand amid indications that there is considerable sentiment in its ranks against the policy—a reaffirmation of one hammered out at the 1950 convention and vigorously backed in a national campaign that year. This is a considerably bigger Quebec delegation than the one that went to Winnipeg in 1950.

Other provinces are just as strongly for the resolution, indicating that it could brew up into the biggest scrap of the five-day convention.

Meanwhile, another resolution indicated disquiet about the defence picture was placed before the convention Tuesday and will be discussed in the general preparedness debate. It says there should be a Royal Commission inquiry into the reserve forces because they aren't nearly the effective organization the public thinks they are.

It says it would be 18 months before the reserves could handle compulsory training even if it was approved now.

Case Implied

Mr. Claxton's case against conscription was entirely implied but nonetheless obvious. He said Canada will fulfil her three-year defence program on schedule by 1954 and that there will then be adequate protection for Canada and, through joint allied efforts under the Atlantic Pact, sound guarantees of world peace.

Canada already was training per capita more men than some of her allies with conscription. If even the 8,000 men now in Korea were to come home suddenly, there wouldn't be enough room in barracks for them though all possible haste was being made in barracks construction.

The forces got 39,000 recruits last year, compared to 65,000 qualified and healthy young men who came of military age so they already were getting a high percentage of available manpower.

Quadruple Strength

The Army had nearly quadrupled its hitting strength since Korea—22 fighting units, compared to six, the Air Force had boosted its fighter strength and, said the minister, western capitals don't think there is going to be war in the near future anyway.

In its business sessions Tuesday, the convention:

1. Backed the Dominion Command's call to parliament for much higher war veterans allowances.
2. Wound up one contentious argument by overwhelmingly defeating a Prince Edward Island proposal that Pensions Commission rulings be open to appeal to the Exchequer Court.
3. Authorized a campaign to boost lagging membership, now well below the 300,000 mark after soaring beyond it.

Urges WomenCombat Enemies Of Education

LONDON, Ont., May 21 (CP) — Members of the Roman Catholic Women's League should join ranks with the Parent-Teachers Association to combat today's enemies of education — modernism, materialism and communism—delegates to the 32nd annual convention of London diocesan council, C.W.L., were told here Tuesday.

Speaker was Sister Mary Baptista of Woodstock, principal of the Woodstock Separate School. She said:

"For centuries, legions of Catholic women have guarded the interests of altar and home. Recently through organized effort, another line of defence is now needed, demanding our concerted efforts, to meet the insidious threats to Roman Catholic life. These threats are modernism, materialism and communism. They call for a specific remedy—obviously lay effort."

New Diocese At Ft. William

OTTAWA, May 21 (CP)—Formation of a new Roman Catholic diocese with an Episcopal See at Fort William, was announced today by the Most Rev. Ildebrando Antonuitti, apostolic delegate to Canada.

The diecese, established by the Pope, will have as its first bishop the Most Rev. Edward Q. Jennings, 56, present bishop of Kamloops, B.C.

The diocese comprises all the parishes and missions of the diocese of Sault Ste. Marie west of the 86th parallel of latitude and all the parishes and missions within the province of Ontario which formerly were within the archdiocese of St. Boniface, Man., The 86th parallel passes just east of Marathon and Geraldton, in Northern Ontario.

Fort William diocese has 32,000 Catholics, 50 priests and several institutions conducted by about 150 religious sisters.

County Council Asks Minister Back Charges

WELLAND, May 21 — (CP) — Welland County Council Tuesday night asked the Rev. G. H. Knighton, pastor of Central United Church here, either to make a public apology or substantiate his charges that the county home for the aged is "a disgrace to any community."

Mr. Knighton made the statement May 4 in a sermon in which he described a bedroom in the home as "nothing but drabness and an atmosphere of gloom and depression." He said Tuesday night he will appear before council today to back up his charges.

County councillors inspected the home Tuesday and Warden Paul E. Pietz said they were convinced the minister's allegations were not justified.

BRINK'S SUSPECTS—In the wake of the slaying of Carlton O'Brien (right), nightclub operator of West Warwick, R.I., authorities questioned Joseph McGinnis (left), Boston bartender identified by an informer as a mastermind in the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery. O'Brien, also a suspect in the case, was killed on the day he was to be questioned by the F.B.I.

Nursing Homes Prove Headache

BRANTFORD, May 21 (CP) — Nursing homes have been a headache to welfare administrators in Ontario for years, and the problem is increasing, delegates to the Ontario Welfare Officers Association convention said here Tuesday.

The association asked the Ontario government to share the financial burden involved in caring for patients unable to gain admittance to hospitals, homes for the aged or other institutions.

The delegates were agreed that it was unfair for municipalities to have to bear the whole cost of providing care for indigent patients in nursing homes.

A. H. Frame, Hamilton, conducted a forum on Children's Aid matters. Other principal participants were W. Clowes, Woodstock and J. Finlay, St. Catharines.

JOURNEY'S END—Two Canadian nuns who returned to Montreal over the weekend after a year's imprisonment in China blamed the misfortunes on "the new generation." Both Sister St. Victor and Sister St. Foye, who were accused of killing young orphans, said they had been jailed as examples to the Chinese people. In the above photo Sister St. Foye tells 25-year-old Elay Caro, who has come from the Philippines to become a nun, about her new homeland. Sister St. Victor looks on.

Northern Ontario's Riches Tapped By Railroad In 1902

NORTH BAY, Ont.—(CP)—The railway that opened up much of the treasure chest of Ontario's northland will be 50 years old next month.

The first sod was turned May 10, 1902, on the road whose steel rails were designed to link North Bay with Moosonee on James Bay, 500 miles to the north.

The Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, its builders called it. The name remained until six years ago when the provincially-operated road changed it to the Ontario Northland Railway to put an end to confusion with the Texas and New Orleans line.

At first, plans were for the railway to go 114 miles from North Bay to the head of Lake Timiskaming to serve as a colonization line for the 16,000,000-acre Clay Belt farm area.

Within a year after construction started, silver was discovered at Cobalt. By the time the steel reached its original destination at New Liskeard, it had been decided to push on for another 100 miles.

By 1907, the order was to go all the way to Cochrane, 286 miles north of North Bay. As the railway moved northward, prospectors and adventurers followed it. In 1909, golden riches were found in what now is the Timmins area and more gold was struck in 1912 in the Kirkland Lake district.

The next extension of the railway was in 1922—70 miles beyond Cochrane toward James Bay to make possible the great Abitibi canyon power development of 275,000 horsepower, a salvation for the nickel smelters of Sudbury during the Second World War.

East To Kirkland Lake

Between 1925 and 1927 the railway branched 60 miles east from Kirkland Lake to the copper-and-gold mining camp of Rouyn and Noranda in northwestern Quebec.

In 1927, too, about 1,500 men began to push the main line from Fraserdale to Moosonee, a job finished July 15, 1932.

The driving of the last spike brought the railway's total mileage with branch lines and sidings, to 725.

Construction of the Cochrane-Moosonee link, 186 miles long, led to discoveries of gypsum, lignite, kaolin clay and even a deposit of coral rock in which sharks' teeth had been embedded since prehistoric times.

Within the last 18 months, $5,000,000 worth of asbestos has been mined at Matheson, between Kirkland Lake and Timmins.

The railway has led to development of minerals, pulpwood and farm produce that yield the line $10,000,000 in annual revenue. It employs 2,200 persons and 22 of its 52 locomotives are diesels.

The O.N.R. was the first railway in Canada to use all-steel passenger equipment on daily runs on its main line. It also was the first railway anywhere to use nickel-steel in locomotive frames and the first to design a restaurant car.

Marmora IODE Books Film On Royal Tour

MARMORA, May 21 (ENS). — May meeting of Marmora Chapter I.O.D.E. was held last Thursday evening.

Mr. R. G. Walsh as Education convener said that the film of the Royal Tour would not be available for local showing until Nov. 20. It was decided to accept it on that date.

As welfare convener, Mrs. J. R. Reynolds reported a bale of clothing being sent to a needy family in the past month. An appeal for more used clothing was made.

Mrs. W. M. Regan, the regent, gave a report on the 32nd annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter held in Hamilton last month. In this report, Mrs. Regan stressed her impressions of the vastness of the work of the I.O.D.E. Last year $350,000 was spent, in welfare, education and ex-service activities.

The conveners were allotted their duties in connection with the forthcoming tea and bake sale.

Killed By Tree

LAKE COWICHAN, B.C., May 21—(CP)—James Phillips, 21, and Louis Ouellett, 24, working as partners on a power saw, were killed Tuesday when a towering tree they were cutting glanced off a jagged snag as it crashed to the ground and crushed them.

Lost In Swamp

ORANGE, Tex., May 21—(AP)—A couple lost in a swamp north of Orange since Sunday afternoon were found alive Tuesday in mud up to their armpits. They are Mr. and Mrs. M. B. (Jonnie) Johnson, both about 35. Both were reported in serious condition from exposure.

Says Canadians Ready To Pay For Freedom

OTTAWA, May 21 — (CP). — Prime Minister St. Laurent said Tuesday Canadians are willing to pay the price for security and freedom.

Canada must do her share to prevent another war, he said. The prevention of war is the most important task of the government. That is why Canada is a partner in the joint police action in Korea. That is why she is doing her full share as a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Canada is not a military country, said Mr. St. Laurent over the CBS's national network political series. Canadians do not like their forces in Korea They do not like them in Europe. They do not like to use wealth and energies to make armaments.

"But we are willing to pay this price to help make it possible for Canadians of our own and of future generations to live their lives in peace and freedom.

"That is why we are devoting half of the revenues of the government—half of our budget—to the building up of our defence forces.

Necessary Premium

"That is the premium we are paying for our national insurance against war. Though the premium is high, the cost is small indeed compared with what the cost of another war would be."

He said he believes Canadians are prepared to pay the taxes necessary to help prevent another war.

"Most Canadians want social security measures like family allowances, unemployment insurance and old-age pensions and they are prepared to pay for them too."

The policy of the government was to have security and development march hand in hand.

No Compromise

OTTAWA, May 21 (CP)—George Drew, national Progressive Conservative leader, said Tuesday there can be "no compromise with the Kremlin" under current world conditions. He spoke to some 150 High School students from all provinces gathered here for a four-day citizenship program.

Canada's Largest Ship Given Big Welcome

MONTREAL, May 21—(CP)—The 26,300-ton Empress of Scotland, largest ship ever to come to Montreal, docked here Tuesday night amid a boisterous welcome.

Hooting tugs, saluting merchant ships and thousands of cheering citizens turned out to greet Canada's largest ship, as she ended her voyage up the St. Lawrence River from Quebec City.

The liner previously was unable to pass under bridges spanning the St. Lawrence above Quebec City. Her masts had to be cut by 45 feet.

Police Hoaxed On Explosion

OTTAWA, May 21 — (CP) — Police reported Tuesday they were hoaxed by a report Monday of an Ottawa lad finding powerful explosives in a National Research Council dump.

The boy, Jack Parks, 10, found some coin-sized capsules in the dump at the eastern edge of the city. His parents reported to police that one, left alone on a table, exploded and burned a hole in the table.

After investigation, police reported Tuesday the capsules were component cells of a larger battery. They were "quite harmless," just as young Jack Parks thought in the first place. There was no explosion.

NewYork Paper Blasts $10 Newsprint Hike

NEW YORK, May 21—(CP)—The New York Daily Mirror says today the $10-a-ton increase in the price of Canadian newsprint sold to the United States "is a political move to increase American aid to Canada."

"No economic factor warrants this increase which will prove disastrous to some newspapers, a hardship to all," the Mirror says in an editorial.

VOL. CIV. No. 120 — WEDNESDAY, MAY 21, 1952

MAIN STREET TOPICS

5-HEADED DANDELION

A dandelion with five heads on one large stock was brought into the Examiner by Mavis Mitchell, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mitchell, 617 Ludgate St. Mavis found the whopper beside a ditch on Munroe St.

TOP SCIENCE STUDENT

Wilfrid Woodcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodcock, 291 Reid St., third year science student at Queen's University came first in his year in the recent final examinations. Wilfrid's top marks won him a $100 general proficiency scholarship.

UNVEIL PLAQUE

City council is arranging for the unveiling on Sunday, June 1 of the mural brass commemorating the names and service of the four men who died in the Zacks building fire a year ago. They were George Reynolds, Orville Rome, Grover Deck and Earle Spencley. The latter a volunteer assisting the firemen. It will be placed in the main office room.

ASKS FOR HEARING

J. E. Pierce, head of the city's sanitation department, will be given at his request an opportunity "to answer any questions touching the operation of his department." The citizens are aware of the fact that the only criticism of that department's management was made recently and publicly by Norman Graham, now a retired alderman. Mr. Graham said he was so dissatisfied by his experience that he preferred to quit rather than try to carry on. Mr. Pierce will be heard at the board of works meeting next Monday night.

HORTICULTURAL TIE

Mrs. E. C. Williams of Vancouver, formerly of Peterborough, has renewed her membership in the Horticultural Society. Others living at long distances, W. C. Wilks says, sustain their interest in the society. Membership is quite satisfactory, and new members are invited. The fee is one dollar. A convenient arrangement is to leave it with Miss Evelyn Scott at the office of the Department of Agriculture. Premiums are now being delivered. Chrysanthemums are expected this week.

SKIDS ON PAVEMENT

A parked car that pulled out in front of the Club Aragon Tuesday night caused George E. Henderson, McDonnel St., who was driving east along Highway 7, to apply his brakes. The car skidded on the pavement, made slippery by the rain, and sideswiped a westbound car driven by John Prince of Mattawa. Prince's 1949 car received $100 damage and Henderson's 1938-model, about $50. O.P.P. Constable Jack Ricard investigated.

Three Children Taking Part In Festival Slightly Hurt In Collision; Show Goes On

Three children taking part in the Kiwanis Music Festival were shaken up slightly Tuesday afternoon when the car in which they were riding was in an accident at George and Murray Sts.

Gordon Heard, Louis Black and Marilyn Heard, all of R.R. 4 Peterborough, were pasengers in a car driven by Leonard Wheeler, also of R.R. 4 Peterborough. The Wheeler car was travelling east on Murray St. and was in collision with a southbound George St. car driven by Dave Wilson, 697 Elcombe Crescent, at the intersection of Murray and George Sts.

The front ends of both vehicles were damaged considerably by the impact. Constable Grant Gillespie investigated.

The children, however, were not deterred and took part in the competition with their schoolmates.

Lily Lake School Singers Top Rural School Choirs

Lily Lake School, Smith township, was the outstanding competitor of Rural Schools' day at the Peterborough Music competition Festival Tuesday. Choirs from this school under the direction of Mrs. M. Kilborn were awarded first place in three of the four classes in which they entered. They received 80 marks in classes 124 and 125 (triple and double trios); and 168 marks in class 122, two-part chorus.

Approximately 40 rural schools and 700 students took part in the Tuesday sessions.

The outstanding soloist of the evening session was Francis Taylor, Lindsay, who was awarded first place in class 41, bass solo; and class 49, baritone solo.

Mr. Taylor with Ronald Magahay, Lindsay, also won first place in class 15, vocal duet with 86 marks.

Church Choirs

It will be church choir night at the evening session in Queen Mary School auditorium tonight. Three city church choirs, St. Andrew's United, St. Paul's Presbyterian and George St. United and Port Hope United Church choir will be competing in class 1, Church Choirs, open.

Another special feature will be class 60, Boys' Choir for unchanged voice. Competitors in the class are the 80th Wolf Cub Pack, Toronto; St. Chad's Anglican Boys' Choir, Toronto and boys' choirs from St. Paul's Presbyterian Church and St. Andrew's United Church.

Tenor and soprano soloist classes are also on the program.

2 Safes Robbed Same Night 15 Miles Apart

Thieves Tuesday night blew a safe at Port Perry and escaped with $750 in cash and $713 in non-negotiable cheques. The post office at Sunderland, 15 miles north of Port Perry, was entered and another safe robbed of nearly $200 in cash the same night.

Police have not indicated any linkup between the two breakins but Detective Sgts. William Stevenson and W. A. (Bud) Clarke of Peterborough have gone to Port Perry to investigate.

On March 30 the Brewers' Warehouse on McDonnel St. was broken into and about $1,000 removed from the safe there. The same gang is believed to have broken into the Perth Brewers' Warehouse during the first week in April.

The Port Perry robbery took place shortly after midnight. A cellar window of Silverwoods Dairy was jimmied open with railway tools and the thieves went upstairs to the main floor from the basement.

Blew Off Side Of Safe

They flipped a 500-pound safe over on its back, packed the cracks with layers of butter, chipped a hole in the safe and inserted a charge. They exploded it, using a detonator wire, and the side of the safe blew off.

Their loot included about $750 cash—the day's receipts from the milk drivers and money taken in at the office—and $713 in cheques, stamped for deposit only.

The main office was not ransacked.

Chief Constable George Holmes of Port Perry said that residents not more than 100 feet from the building slept soundly. It was a professional job, the chief constable thinks, because the glass of the main office, about four feet away, was not shattered.

There was no trace of nitroglycerine, he said.

The breakin was discovered early today when an employee found the door open and the safe blasted.

Pried Open

Nearly $200—some of it money orders—was taken from the Sunderland Post Office. There again the 500 pound safe had been turned over on its back, but it was pried open, not blasted.

A rear window was forced, permitting the thieves to get into the post office.

O.P.P. Constables Ted Craig and H. (Kit) Still of Beaverton are investigating the Sunderland breakin.

SHIP'S COMPANY AND QUARTERS of R.C.S.C.C. Howe, Peterborough's sea cadet corps, were inspected Tuesday night by Lt. Commander George J. Manson, deputy director of sea cadets for Canada. Rainy weather reduced an extensive program to just the inspection ceremony in the armouries. Lt. Commander Manson (left) accompanied by Lt. (Special Branch) J. Jeffries (centre) spoke briefly to the cadets while passing through the divisions.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Sea Cadet Corps 'Good Showing' For Inspection

Lt. Commander George J. Manson, deputy director of sea cadets for Canada, complimented R.C.S.C.C. Howe, Peterborough's sea cadet corps, for its "good showing" Tuesday night during its annual inspection.

Lt. Cmdr. Manson, accompanied by Lt. (Special Branch) J. Jeffries, assistant area officer for Eastern area, inspected the ship's company in the armouries.

During a brief address to the cadets after the inspection, Lt. Cmdr. Manson emphasized the importance of finishing school. He told the boys to take advantage of staying in school as long as possible.

Lt. Cmdr. Manson added that the discipline in the corps they might not appreciate now but that they would later in life. He said that they would look back on their cadet training with a good deal of respect.

The Lt. Cmdr. thanked the 50th H.A.A. Regiment for the co-operation in permitting the corps to use the armouries on short notice. He also thanked the parents for the keen interest they showed in the boys by turning out on such a rainy night.

Referring to the inspection he said it was a "good showing" despite the weather which forced an alternative program. He said that it proved the corps' ability to make the best of things, carrying on in an emergency.

After the inspection Lt. Cmdr. Manson presented able cadet certificates to 14 boys and petty officer certificates to Gerald Willis and John Harrison. Willis was one of 12 Canadian sea cadets to take a cruise recently from the east coast, through the Panama Canal, and up the west coast on the cruiser H.M.C.S. Quebec.

A large part of the inspection was to be held on Little Lake. The boys were to have performed boat-pulling exercises on the lake, sea rescues by breaches buoys, movement of injured by the Neil Robertson stretcher and sailing in the whaler.

After the inspection of the ship's quarters at the George St. wharf, the inspecting officers and the ship's officers attended a reception at the ship's commanding officer's home, Lt. Stewart Gardiner.

HOLD ORGANIZATION MEETING

City soccer players will meet Thursday night at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 p.m. to decide whether a city league will be formed this year. All interested are asked to attend.

HOWARD PAMMETT of Ottawa, formerly of Peterborough, is one of Canada's delegation to the 35th International Labor Conference in Geneva, Switzerland, during June. Mr. Pammett is the author of a serialized history of Peterborough that appeared in the Examiner. It is now being edited into book form.

11 Instructors Appointed To Playgrounds

Supervisors, swimming instructors and lifeguards for Peterborough's parks have been appointed by the recreation commission.

Joan Seymour, Mary Craw, Verna Rose, Anne Howell, Lyn Faircloth, Nan Pitchford, Grace Sampson, Phyllis Peryer and Evelyn Wallace were named supervisors for the eight city-sponsored playgrounds. So far only two boys, Malcolm McMartin and Jack Laundry, have been made supervisors; three others will be appointed.

Shirley Green will be in charge of the swimming instruction at Inverlea and Hamilton playgrounds. She will be assisted by Mary Rutherford and Lorraine Derry.

Gerard Armstrong and Barry Hollingsworth will be lifeguards. They will be on duty as soon as the warm weather permits, likely about June 15.

The playground supervisors will attend a special camp this year at Camp Quin-mo-lac, near Madoc, before the summer program begins July 2. Supervisors from Belleville, Trenton, Port Hope, Lindsay, Haliburton, Bowmanville and Oshawa will also attend the school.

District directors of recreation and members of the Community Programs Branch, Department of Education, will be instructors.

16,815 Tax Bills Mailed Out Much Higher

Mailing of 16,815 tax bills has been completed.

Although the clerical work was delayed three weeks at the outset by the council's efforts to trim the budget, the posting job was only one day later than last year.

The levy on public school supporters is 64.75 mills compared with 55.50 mills, last year and 67.25 mills for separate school supporters, who were taxed 57 mills last year.

The explanatory analysis of the rate is again included with the tax statements.

This year's 64.75 mills finds interesting comparison with the figure of 49.50, the public school rate in 1950 two years ago.

The difference, and that means the increase in that time, has been 15.25 mills, or just one-half the 30.5 mill rate in 1945; or the 30 mill rate in 1944 and for two other years in that decade.

General Rate.

The general rate for streets, police, and fire protection, is 27.83 mills this year as compared with 22.78 mills in 1950. A lot of salary money is shown in that package. The increase of five mills is equivalent to nearly $200,000 on the basis of the mills' approximation of $40,000.

Civic hospital rate in 1950 at 2.17 mills is this year 6.49 mills. That increase of four mills since 1950 amounts to around $160,000.

The school rates to public school supporters are 21.95 this year (15.72 in 1950), and to separate school supporters 24.45 mills this year (16.72 in 1950).

Unemployment relief at 1.02 mills in 1950 is shown at .98 mills this year.

Debenture charges show a slight recession, from 7.81 mills in 1950 to 7½ mills this year.

Break Down.

The break-down of the tax rate offers only round figures for the taxpayer to scan. If he is interested, which is unlikely, in any of the particulars of the 1952 budget, he should be able to get a copy of that tabulation at the City Hall.

The main fact of the present mailing of the bills is the financing of the city's administration and obligations. Costs generally have increased considerbaly since 1950, and the city's business is no exception. The council spent a great deal of additional time this year in its wrestling with the rate, and a detailed review and explanation was given to the public by Ald. T. D. Miller, chairman of the finance committee, when budget bylaw was passed.

Taxes may be paid as usual in three instalments, the first of which is due in June.

AAHHH!! IT WAS ONLY A TOOTH, Lewis Black says shyly to Janice Roland (above) after a minor car accident at George and Murray Sts. Tuesday afternoon. Eight-year-old Lewis was in a car taking children to the music festival at Murray St. Baptist Church when the accident happened. Despite the loss of a front tooth, he stayed with his group, competing in the rhythm band class for S.S. 11 Smith.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Struck On Head With Bar Man Beats Off Attack By Two Teenagers

Boys 15 and 16 Arrested In Evening Injured Man Says Knew Them On Sight; Makes Third Attack On Men Within Month

COBOURG, May 21. (ENS)—Though bleeding from being struck over the head with an iron bar, 56-year-old Reuben Ament of Shelter Valley Tuesday afternoon managed to beat off the attack of two youthful assailants. He gave O.P.P. Constable Lyle Erskine of Cobourg a description of his assailants and two youths were arrested Tuesday night. In Cobourg jail, probably facing a charge of assault with intent to rob, is 16-year-old Clifford Bilcox of Vernonville. His companion, also from Vernonville, is a 15-year-old boy who will appear in Juvenile Court.

This makes the third attack with robbery intended in less than a month on elderly men in Northumberland and Durham.

On April 23, Peter Rutledge, 27, and Mrs. Elaine Pont tied up 83-year-old Robert Alexander of Hastings and robbed him of a sum of money. Both were sentenced to 12 months definite and six months indefinite.

A 76-year-old Murray township pensioner was beaten and robbed of $200 on May 8 by Robert McFarland, 32, of Frankford and Evans Jones, 29, of Orland. Both men have pleaded guilty and are awaiting sentence.

Alone At Home

The third attack occurred at 2 p.m. Tuesday as Ament was alone in his home in Shelter Valley, a mile and a half north of Highway 2 and east of Grafton. His wife was away at the time.

Bilcox and his juvenile companion are said to have entered the house as Ament was working in the kitchen. One of them struck him over the head with a piece of scrap iron, opening up a deep gash.

Ament did not fall down and when he went to close with his assailants they fled. The injured man knew them by sight and called O.P.P. Constable Erskine who arrested them Tuesday night.

Dr. W. E. Wilkins of Cobourg treated Ament for the scalp wound that required several stitches.

Response Poor To Appeal For Memorial

Response to the appeal for money for the Kenner Memorial Fund has been very slow. "Disappointing"; "not coming in as fast as they should"; "why are people delaying?" " most disheartening" were some of the phrases members of the Fund committee used as they met Tuesday night at the Collegiate to discuss the appeal, now four weeks old, and to sift names and addresses of former pupils of Dr. Kenner preparatory to sending out another batch of 400 letters inviting their support.

To date 3,000 letters have gone out to former students and fewer than 100 have replied.

Good, But Few Donations

"The size of the individual donations has been very good, but there have been lamentably few. I think people are planning to give, but have delayed," chairman Howard Macdonald said. "We do hope that they will not wait any longer, otherwise the whole thing will bog down".

Donations have varied between two dollars and $25.

Mr. Macdonald explained that those who intend to give to the fund should not wait until they get a personal letter. "We simply cannot get either the name or the correct addresses of all former pupils, particularly of those who attended during Dr. Kenner's middle and early years".

Sifting Addresses

Before each batch of letters is sent out the committee members and other workers talk over the names and addresses, to get them as correct as possible. This was done again Tuesday night. The basis of the mailing list, now nearing completion, are old class records. Sometimes the name turned up is of a girl about whom only her maiden name in 1918 and her parents' address are recorded. Very often a committee member will recall her married name or the address of a brother or sister, and so the letter is sent out with a request "Please forward".

Letters have gone out mainly to addresses in Peterborough but hundreds have been sent to other centres in Canada, to the U.S.A., the West Indies and to England.

The purpose of the Kenner Memorial Fund is to establish scholarships at the new Kenner Collegiate and to put in its entrance hall a portrait of Dr. H. R. H. Kenner, principal and staff member of P.C.I. for fifty years.

Car, Train Hit Passenger Hurt

A collision between a freight engine and a car driven by Harold H. Newnham, R. R. 4, Peterborough, at 7.30 a.m. today resulted in a cut on the right ear of R. McLean, 14 Lee St., a passenger in the car.

Extensive damage to the front end of the car was caused by the accident which occurred at the C.N.R. crossing at Reid and McDonnel Sts.

The driver of the car told police he was almost to the tracks when he saw the wig wag signals going and applied his brakes but could not stop in time.

The car was travelling south on Reid St., and the train, a 15-car freight was proceeding at about ten miles an hour according to conductor J. P. Brennan.

The car was carried about 36 feet after the impact and the train is said to have stopped in about 80 feet.

Patrol Sergeant Claire McGillen and constable W. A. Scott investigated.

Movie Stars Lack Perfect Figures Too

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 21—(AP)—Don't worry your pretty head if you don't have a perfect figure, girls. Here are two experts who say that movie stars don't either.

Well, maybe there are two exceptions — Elizabeth Taylor and Marilyn Monroe.

This verdict comes from Al and Estelle Allardale, a husband-wife team and operators of an exclusive shop patronized by Hollywood fashion-seekers.

Flawless

"Every star has some drawback, as far as figure is concerned," reported Allardale. "The only ones who break this rule are Miss Taylor and Miss Monroe. Try as you may, you can find no structural defects in either one.

"But I do not mean that they are completely perfect. No one can be that good. Miss Taylor lacks a maturity, which is an important part or beauty. And Miss Monroe must dress very carefully, or she will look cheap."

"All of the other stars have some defect or defects, many of them glaring," Mrs. Allardale added. Together, they enumerated some of them. Their decisions:

Greta Garbo has feet that are too long and her posture is poor. Katherine Hepburn does not have enough in the right places. Jane Russell has too much bosom. Rita Hayworth is sway-backed.

Betty Grable may have beautiful legs, but she is too short-waisted. Shelley Winters has too much bosom and too much hips. Barbara Stanwyck is too thin all over. Bette Davis is too chunky.

Other Assets

"But all of these stars have assets that make up for whatever they lack physically," Allardale explained. "They have powerful personalities that make them exciting individuals."

"It's a matter of whether beauty is in the object or the eye," Mrs. Allardale remarked. "When beauty is lacking in the object, these women compensate with other elements. Irene Dunne and Eve Arden make up with chicness what they lack in natural beauty. Dinah Shore does it with warmth and appeal."

Allardale added that beauty is merely a matter of fashion, anyway.

JOHN W. WILKINSON, son of the Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Wilkinson of Oakwood, received the degree of Master of Arts at the Spring Convocation of Queen's University in Kingston Saturday. He obtained his undergraduate work at Queen's, receiving his honor bachelor's degree in mathematics and physics in May, 1950. For the past two years he has been holder of a teaching fellowship in mathematics while doing graduate work in that subject.

Privy Council Upsets Rulings Of Three Courts

LONDON, May 21 (CP)—The decisions of three Canadian courts were upset Tuesday in a Privy Council judgment upholding a 1947 order-in-council which vested oats and barley in "commercial positions" in Canada in the Canadian Wheat Board.

Respondents in the appeal were Hallet and Carey Ltd. of Winnipeg and Jeremiah Nolan, Chicago grain merchant who in 1943 brought 40,000 bushels of barley in various Canadian elevators. Appellants were the attorney-general of Canada and the Wheat Board.

The litigation resulted when Nolan successfully challenged, before the court of Queen's Bench for Manitoba, the court of appeal for Manitoba and the Supreme Court of Canada, the validity of an order-in-council dated April 3, 1947, vesting barley in the Canadian Wheat Board.

In giving judgment on behalf of the judicial committee of the Privy Council, Lord Radcliffe said that on March 17, 1947, the maximum price for barley was 64¾ cents a bushel, with support price slightly lower. The Wheat Board fixed a new maximum price for barley of 93 cents a bushel, the increase being accompanied by an order-in-council expropriating Western Canada oats and barley in "commercial positions" at the old max-maximum prices.

Expropriated holders were given an option to repurchase their holdings at higher prices. Nolan refused to admit that the governor-in-council had power to make compulsory acquisition of his barley and proceeded with two actions against it.

Lord Radcliffe said the order-in-council was made in ostensible exercise of powers conferred by the National Emergency Transitoinal Powers Act, 1945.

Form Couples' Club At Millbrook Church

MILLBROOK, May 21 (ENS)—Harry Williams of the high school staff was guest speaker at the meeting of the newly-formed couples' group of St. Andrew's United Church, held in the Sunday school room on Sunday evening.

Mr. Williams chose as his subject, "Impressions of England". It was necessary he thought to understand Engalnd, Scotland and Ireland because so many of us had our roots there. He, himself, had been born in England, but had moved to Canada at an early age age and had not been back until he went with the R.C.A.F. during the last war. What he saw then impressed him so much that he went back in the summer of 1950.

England he thought, had the most beautiful countryside in the world, and everywhere to be seen were evidences of the past, some say back as far as the stone age, the Roman era, and on to marks left by the Saxons, Danes, Norwegians and Normans.

Jack and Kay Crowley conducted the worship service. Mrs. Crowley gave the scripture reading and Mr. Crowley gave a talk on "Character". Bruce Ingham, for the monthly church news item discussed the letter of Dr. Kirkconnell, president of Acadia University, appearing in the latest "Observer", in which he defends his criticism of the Red Dean of Canterbury.

Alex and Roberta Gilbert, presidents, were in the chair for the business meeting. Henry Gray reported that the church board had granted permission to the club to go ahead with their project of fitting up a nursery. The nursery is to be used for the beginners in Sunday school, and for the care of small children while their parents attend church services.

Henry and Della Mae Gray, conveners of the social committee, served coffee and sandwiches.

At the morning service of St. Andrew's the following slate of officers of the Couple's Club was installed: honorary presidents, the Rev. Melville and Margaret Butler; presidents, Alex and Roberta Gilbert; secretaries, Clayton and Lola Thexton; vice-presidents and program conveners, Jack and Kay Crowley; social conveners, Henry and Della Mae Gray.

A.C.2 Wynn Mersereau and A.C.2 David Smith of Clinton air station, spent the weekend with the former's aunt, Mrs. M. E. Hobbs, and Dr. Hobbs.

George Ingham left at the weekend for Rydalbank, Ont., near Sault Ste. Marie, where he will work as a student missionary of the United Church.

Superintendent Dies

WINDSOR, May 21 (CP)—Frederick Stevens, drafting-room superintendent at the Canadian Bridge Company Limited, died Tuesday. He was 67. Survivors are his widow and three daughters, Mrs. J. L. Wild, London, Ont., Mrs. William Scholz, Detroit; Miss Marilyn Stevens, Kingston.

Hastings Ladies' Aid Plans Centenary

HASTINGS, May 21 (ENS) — The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held a special meeting on Thursday. The president, Mrs. Reta Johnston, presided and plans were made to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the church.

A special service will be held June 22 in the evening after which the congregation will hold a social hour in the Sunday school rooms.

On June 23, a strawberry social will be held on the church lawn, following which an entertainment will be held in the town hall.

Three-Day-a-Week Milk Delivery Plan

TORONTO, May 21—(CP)—The Toronto Milk Drivers' Union (A.F.L.) Tuesday night rejected a proposed three-day-a-week milk delivery plan.

The plan was negotiated by the union executive with the distributors and would have provided a $5-a-week wage increase for the drivers.

The meeting demanded that the drivers seek the increase without curtailed deliveries.

6 Orchestra Members Won't Be Rehired

TORONTO, May 21 CP) — Six members of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, barred from the United States by American immigration officials last November, will not be rehired next season.

Orchestra officials said Tuesday the six men, barred when the T.S.O. played a concert in Detroit, are not being dismissed because of their political views. The orchestra has two contracts to play in the United States next season —one at Detroit and another at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Charge Dismissed

STRATFORD, May 21—(CP)—A charge of assault occasioning bodily harm against school teacher Nelson Wird was dismissed Tuesday. The charge arose from the strapping of 13-year-old James Hyde of nearby Millbank. The boy was struck on the forearm, four inches above the wrist.

Man Does Housework Woman Gets Divorce

LONDON, May 21 (CP)—Mrs. Betsy Clarke was awarded a divorce Tuesday because her mate insisted on doing the housework.

Mrs. Clarke said husband Sydney, a butcher, took over her role of housewife — right down to cleaning, shopping and cooking—in 1949.

Justice Sir Henry Barnard, granting Mrs. Clarke a decree on cruelty grounds, said: "By long custom it is the wife's duty and the wife's privilege to run the house."

Loss Of British Market Blow–Diefenbaker

OSHAWA, May 21 (CP)—John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member for Lake Centre, said Tuesday night Canada's agricultural resources are being threatened because the government has lost the British market for cheese and dairy products.

He said farmers should set up organizations to see that agriculture will take its rightful place in this country in the way of a commonwealth trade conference.

Mr. Diefenbaker was speaking to more than 600 persons on behalf of Michael Starr, Progressive Conservative candidate in next Monday's federal by-election in Ontario riding.

Fire Threatens Marine Docks

DARTMOUTH, N.S., May 21 — (CP)—A fire that threatened for a time to spread to the Dartmouth Marine Docks was confined to a small coastal freighter early today when the vessel was cut loose from its moorings and allowed to drift into Halifax harbor.

The Brig.—Gen. Absolom Beard, undergoing repairs in the dockyard of this port, across the harbor from Halifax, burst into flame. The Dartmouth fire department cut her adrift shortly after their arrival.

A Halifax fireboat pulled alongside the burning vessel and is reported to have confined the blaze below decks.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a short-circuit.

Mitchell Defeated For Directorship

SIMCOE, May 21 (CP)—Grant Mitchell, Straffordville, director of the Ontario Fluecured Tobacco Marketing Association, was defeated by John Sofalvi Jr., R.R. 2, Port Burwell, as the result of balloting by Tobacco farmers in Zone 4.

The vote counted here Tuesday gave Mr. Sofalvi the directorshipp by 123 to 76. Mr. Mitchell is the second director to be ousted in the spring elections, Ted Cooper of Otterville having lost his seat on the marketing board to Jesse Gray, R.R. 2, Tillsonburg.

Election results from three other association zones will be counted this week.

PILOT RESCUED — John Newton, 27-year-old Toronto pilot, rescued after two weeks in the wilds of eastern Quebec, talks over the telephone in Montreal with his wife, who was in hospital awaiting the birth of a child. Newton, along with Kenneth McLellan Brown and Ludger Elemen, was forced down on ice-covered Magpie Lake, 75 miles northeast of Sept Iles, Que. They were rescued 13 days later when an R.C.A.F. search plane spotted their smoke signals.

Ottawa Refuses To Intervene Over Newsprint

WASHINGTON, May 21 (CP)—The Canadian government has rejected a suggestion that it intervene to forestall a $10-a-ton increase in the price of Canadian newsprint to United States customers.

Canada's production minister, C. D. Howe, described the proposed increase as "reasonable" and said it will go only halfway toward making up a decrease in returns to newsprint manufacturers.

The Canadian position was outlined in a telegram exchange between Howe and Ellis Arnall, U.S. price stabilizer, who said the plan to boost the price to $126 a ton is considered "unwarranted and improper" among U.S. customers and who asked that "the matter be revaluated and reconsidered and that the authorization for the increase be rescinded."

In the reply Howe said a $20-a-facturers had resulted from a change in exchange rates of the U.S. government.

"In limiting increase in sales price of the finished product to 50 per cent of loss of returns, manufacturers propose to share this loss equally with their customers. This reasonable proposal by industry would not seem to warrant use of emergency powers provided increase is limited to $10 per ton of newsprint."

Applies To U.S.

The increase applies only to the U.S. market which buys almost 89 per cent of the output of Canadian newsprint. This represents close to 80 per cent of the 6,220,000 tons used annually in the U.S.

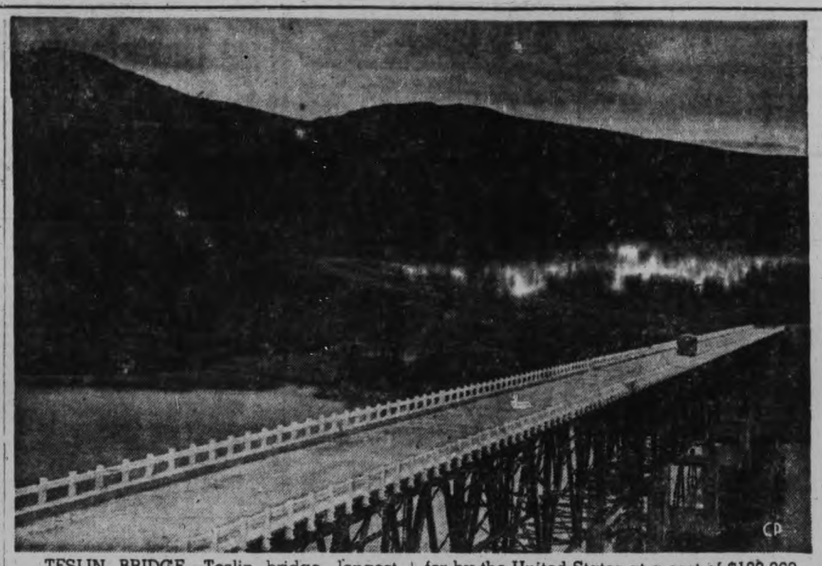
The increase, which becomes effective June 15, is the second within 12 months. Last July 1 a $10-increase was put into effect, bringing the price to $116. The price of $116 will continue to Canadian customers.

Arnall, whose telegram was date May 16, said that during the last 20 years, 749 American daily newspapers have disappeared from operation because of consolidations, mergers and failures.

He predicted the new cost increase will drive many small American newspapers out of business and ultimately will bring about increased costs to the American public.

The increase in the price of Canadian newsprint apparently will not be matched by American manufacturers who last year contributed 1,110,000 tons.

At Lufkin, Tex., an official of Southland Paper Mills said Tuesday the increase in Canadian newsprint would not affect prices of newsprint made in the U.S. because the office of price stabilization limits the price to $116.



TESLIN BRIDGE—Teslin bridge, longest single structure on the 1,523-mile Alaskan highway, is a vital link in the permanent, all-weather, gravel-surfaced highway which stretches from Dawson Creek, B.C., to Fairbanks, Alaska. Built 10 years ago and paid for by the United States at a cost of $138,000,000 the road was turned over to Canada in 1946. The road then became known officially as the Northwest Highway System, although most people still call it the Alaska Highway. The bridge is 1,466 feet long.

Camera's Value

MONTREAL — (CP) — "Photography is an artistic medium of expression," said Provincial Under-Secretary Jean Bruchesi in opening an exhibition of photographs here. He said "it compares very well with painting, sculpture and architecture." The exhibition is sponsored by the Montreal Camera Club which observes its 20th anniversary this year.

Will Return To Work After 1-Day Strike

KITCHENER, May 21—(CP)—Employees in the thread-tubing division of the Dominion Rubber Company voted Tuesday night to return to work following a one-day wildcat strike.

A walkout by about 500 workers Monday night resulted in a shutdown of the factory, affecting some 1,150 employees. A company statement said the work stoppage was caused by seven men.

The union had asked, the statement said, allowance for washup time, but that working conditions on this operation had been recognized in the rate of pay for the job.

Russ In State Of Siege Tokyo Mission Illegal

By ROBERT EUNSON.

TOKYO, May 21 — (AP). — A Japanese Foreign Office spokesman today described as "very delicate" the position of the Russian mission staff, which no longer has a legal right to be here.

The old Russian Embassy itself is in a virtual state of siege. The gates are closed. The staff uses gasoline and food imported previously.

There is no legal machinery for changing Russian money into Japanese curency for the purchase of supplies.

The spokesman, Masayoshi Kaitsubo, said that Japan would refuse to allow ashore any Russians who arrived to join the staff at the embassy.

Technically, Rusia is still at war with Japan. Russia refused to sign the treaty of peace at San Francisco.

Foreign Minister Katsuo Okasaki told the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Councillors (Senate) that the Russian mission virtually has ceased to enjoy diplomatic privileges.

Came With Council

The Russians came to Tokyo as part of the Allied Council for Japan.

Kaitsubo reported that Soviet employees remain here on six-month permits issued by the Allied command before the occupation ended on April 28. These permits no longer have any validity, but a U.S. Embassy spokesman said that the Japanese apparently intended to honor them.

If Russia reaches no agreement with Japan within six months, Japan would be in a position to inform the Russians that their welcome had ended.

The Japanese Government does not even know "how many personnel the Russians are keeping in their embassy," Kaitsubo said.

Rail Detective Fought Indians

HALIFAX —(CP)—Sgt. M. D. Coady, who encountered Indians and enemy agents during his 40 years as a railway investigator, has retired.

Joining the C.N.R. as a constable in 1913, Sgt. Coady served at various Nova Scotia centres and had many harrowing experiences.

He can recall the early days of his service when a big task was riding the trains to help quell fights between Indians returning from a market visit to the city with a few bottles of illegal "moonshine."

At one time, Sgt. Coady waited for 22 nights in below-zero weather to catch a thief suspected of breaking into box cars. He got his man on the 22nd night.

During the war years he was on call seven days a week to protect the company's lines and ride the gold trains, specials carrying millions of dollars worth of gold to Ottawa from overseas.

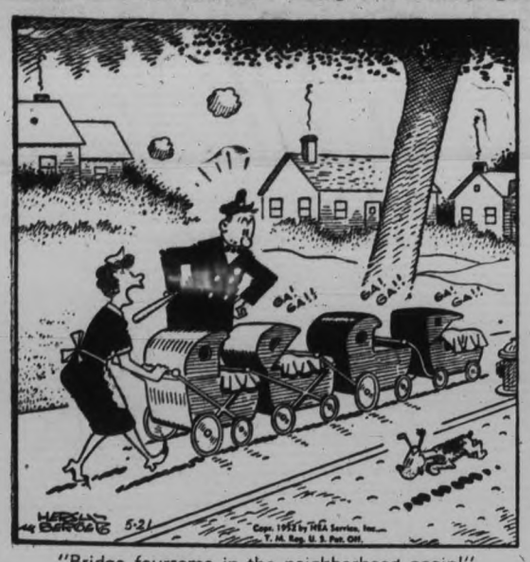
FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger



"Bridge foursome in the neighborhood again!"

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Campfire Picnic On May 24

Pan Broiled Meat cakes Wrapped in Bacon
OR
Kabobs of Lambs', Calves' or Chicken Livers, Onion and Bacon
Toasted Buns
Celery Hearts
Sweet Pickles
Bananas Apples Oranges
Milk Coffee Water

I know a man who actually goes on picnics because he likes them. Picnics I mean. Oh he likes his family too but that's irrelevant. Today at noon he told me that the best picnic our two families had ever had together was in August of 1944; when we had the above menu plus a fresh blueberry pie. We had the calves' liver kabobs and I still remember that glorious experience too.

If you haven't broiled yourself a kabob on a long fork or skewer or green stick you have one of the best eating thrills yet ahead of you. Or don't you like smoke in your eyes or ashes in your food or ants in your...slacks? Be sure to warn the members of your family that might object to such a prospect for the 24th, then plan to trundle off to some quiet watery beauty spot, far away from the whizzing traffic on the highway—and go native.

(Did I ever tell you that one summer we were chased away from the most enchanting little brook by a dour farmer with a long stick and a growling black dog? It only happens once in a hundred times so don't let it discourage you. Most farmers are very hospitable as long as you act respectable and put your fire out carefully.

Kabobs

These embrace almost anything that can be impaled on a long toasting fork or skewer or a whitled green stick. One inch cubes of steak or pork or beef tenderloin are top favorites, but I would prefer to have two picnics with lower cost meat than one with steak that would cost—well too much. Whichever type of livers you choose, cut the pieces into 1-inch cubes. Have ready pieces (not slices) of onion that will not break up when they are pushed onto the fork or skewer. I think the best way to cut the onions is once crosswise, then cut these halves into 4 quarters. Put a piece of liver on the long fork or skewer or green stick, then a piece of onion, then a thick slice of bacon about 1 inch square. Repeat. Now broil this over a hot but not blazing fire, turning constantly until the food is literally done to a turn. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, lean way over and eat.

I seldom suggest making Chili Con Carne for a campfire picnic, but it is an excelent dish. We used it once when we went elderberry picking. One of us had to stay by the fire and watch it but the rest of the crowd had time to pick baskets of elderberries. They very well knew they'd be eating them in pies the next day the next summer.

Campfire Chili Con Carne

In a large long-handled frying pan fry 2 cut up onions in ¼ cup bacon drippings for about 5 minutes. Add 1 green pepper if you care to. Add 2 pounds ground beef or cubed round steak, and cook over a glowing but not blazing fire until browned. Don't let it smoke (it's a bad habit!). Add 3 cups water and 1 cup tomato juice or a 6-oz. can of Italian tomato puree or paste, and 3 level tablespoons chili powder, 1 teaspoon each salt and sugar, and a clove of garlic minced finely. Simmer slowly until the crowd becomes so persistent you have to serve it—but about 5 or 10 minutes before this add 1 or 2 tins of canned kidney beans. We like very thick slices of toasted rye bread with this and an old-fashioned cabbage salad with Boiled dressing.

Make twice too much coffee and it will have takers to the last drop.

SUMMER GYPSIES—Two summer cotton prints with a gypsy air feature full skirts and moderate decolletage. At left, brown and beige silk paper dress has a separate triangle shawl collar tied in front over a hooked bodice. Skirt is softly gathered all around. At right it Batik-patterned French cotton in a one-piece dress with a tucked, button-front bodice in the same navy, red and white coloring as the skirt. Yards-long stole to match.

Kissing Couple Irks Neighbors

SLOUGH, England (CP)—Neighbors got up a petition to stop a young couple in this Buckinghamshire town from kissing goodnight over the garden gate.

The petition asks that a home be found for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Poole so they won't have to say good-night at the gate.

For the four years of their married life, both have been living with their respective parents because they cannot find a house of their own. They have two children.

The petition has been referred to the local council by Fenner Brockway, a Labor member of parliament.

6 City Women Receive Awards From Red Cross

Badges of Service, denoting a lengthy term of service to the Canadian Red Cross Society, have been awarded to six women of the Peterborough Branch. Not only have these members contributed much to the general work of the Society here, but each has made a contribution in a specific phase.

Miss Florence Gladman was on the committee at the wool rooms during the war years from the time they were opened in 1939 and still gives out the wool and looks after the knitting. She assisted at the Blood Donor Clinic during the war and is a member of the visiting committee.

Mrs. Edward Riley, Mrs. Clarence Neal and Mrs. Henry Rennie worked on the Blood Donor committee from its inception and during the war years helped regularly at the Clinic. They have since contributed greatly to the Blood Donor Service by helping with the cards and files once or twice a week, as well as helping at the clinics.

Miss Margaret White and Miss Jean Buck were cited for their work throughout the war years and since in the packing of all articles made in the work room and also the knitted articles.

Presentation of the medals with these citations has been made by president Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell.

Drinking Increase Figures Alarm W.C.T.U. Convention

TORONTO, May 21 (CP)—There were 1,400,000 more drinkers in Canada in 1950 than in 1945, Mrs. I. H. Perigoe, president Toronto District, Women's Canadian Temperance Union, yesterday told delegates to the 66th annual convention.

In Ontario, she said, it is estimated that 65 to 75 per cent of all persons over 21 are drinkers. Most of these are social drinkers and about six per cent problem drinkers.

Increase in consumption between 1945 and 1950 was 38 per cent for wine, 48 per cent for beer, while in the same period the population increased by only 12 per cent.

She quoted Chief Constable Chisholm as saying: "Toronto police prosecuted more persons for drunkenness in 1951 than at any time in the past 31 years." Of a total of 14,259 prosecuted, 1,521 were women. Last year's total showed an increase of almost 500 over 1950. Also during 1951 there were 248 young people, 30 of them girls, charged with obtaining liquor while under age.

In Canada much more is being done by the government to rehabilitate the alcoholic than to prevent sale of the product, said Mrs. Perigoe, in reviewing what other countries are doing to meet the latter situation. She paid tribute to the work of Alcoholics Anonymous and the Alcoholic Research Foundation. She said that a clinic has recently been opened at the Mercer Reformatory, with further clinics to be opened in the near future at other prisons.

Total abstinence, and the arguments which support it, should be placed more forcibly before the public, and should get more attention in the Christian churches, said Mrs. Perigoe. Some progress is being made in presenting the subject of alcohol education to school principals and the board of education, she said.

Residence Popular

A home away from home for young girls 17 to 24 from out of town, a centre which knows no barriers of race, color or creed, was the way in which Mrs. F. E. Matthews described Willard Hall. Most of its 162 permanent guests are business girls, with a few students, the majority of whom go to Ryerson Institute. Besides its permanent guests, the hall has accommodation for 23 overnight guests and 17 transients.

Permanent guests come from all across Canada, and a few from overseas. The Hall is conducted along the same lines as any well-run home, only restrictions being that girls must not drink or smoke, and if they are out late they must have a good reason.

About 23 to 35 marriages per year mean a lot of bridal showers, held generally in the lounge. Piano practice rooms are always booked to capacity, with a waiting list.

C.W.L. Announces Essay Winners

Annual essay contest sponsored by the Diocesan Catholic Women's League has met with good response, 75 essays being entered by school pupils of the Diocese.

After careful reading and due consideration by the judges, Mrs. Gus Torpey, Mrs. Roy Faux and Mrs. James Gifford, it was decided the prize should be awarded as follows:

First, Peter Delanty of Cobourg, Grade 8, on the subject "The Honorable Vincent Massey." Second, Lorraine Murphy of St. Joseph's Academy, Lindsay, Grade 9, on the subject "Caught in a Thunderstorm." Third, Ray Cranley of Immaculate Conception School, Grade 8, on the topic "The Girl Next Door."

These essays will be read at the C.W.L. convention in Parry Sound June 4th where the pupils will receive the awards.

I.O.D.E. News

PETER ROBINSON CHAPTER

The meeting of Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E., at the Y.W.C.A. Tuesday evening was sparked with the glowing reports of three recent money-raising events, a rummage sale, dessert luncheon and speaker and breakfast served to the Masons. Net profits exceeded the expectations.

Regent Mrs. P. C. Sanders heard the officers' reports.

Arrangements were made to sent a number of food boxes to Britain next month, as shipments had not gone out for several months. Mrs. Gordon Hill who is in charge of sending monthly gifts to a veteran in the Sunnybrook Hospital reported the last gift was a subscription to The Examiner which seemed to meet with the desires of the patient.

Miss D. Burgess reported clothing and milk had been supplied to three families in the city. A radio-phonograph is to be given the adopted school which is now the new school at Apsley.

A quantity of knitted goods, representing all the wool distributed, was turned in by wool convener Mrs. R. E. McBrien.

Plans for a picnic meeting on June 17th at Lakeview House were made. Mrs. Walter Fitzgerald and her group are in charge.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hill and committee.

Mrs. Russell Thompson, membership convener reporting 87 paid-up members; Mrs. J. J. Stewart, program convener; Mrs. Donald Paxton, lunch convener; Mrs. Dean Kelly, press reporter.

Mrs. LaBrash thanked the executive, teachers, Mr. Duncan Sinclair, principal, for their co-operation and help while she was president.

Attendance shield was won by Mrs. Wilson Small's room.

The nomination convener, Mrs. W. H. Hudson, gave her report and members then voted to select a treasurer and five executive members. The other offices were filled by acclamation.

Mr. Max Scott, Mrs. Stanley Flett and Mrs. Neil Rogers tabulated the results.

Mrs. LaBrash, president, installed the new slate of officers as follows: president, Mrs. J. J. Stewart; vice-presidents, Mrs. Wilfred Brown and Mrs. Arthur Spring; recording secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Pakenham; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. D. Duncanson; treasurer, James Redwood; executive members, Mrs. Allen McNab, Mrs. Reta Pakenham, Mr. Wilfred Brown, Mrs. Charles Puffer, Mrs. Joshua Osborne.

Mrs. Jack Cronin played a piano solo.

A film, Family Circle, was then shown by Earl Hamblin, following which Mrs. Stewart called on the guest speaker the Rev. H. K. Wright who spoke on the film, using as his key note Co-operation. He said families needed serenity, loyalty, co-operation, good principles, helpfulness, recreation, mental growth and spiritual growth to have co-operation in the family circle.

Mrs. Stewart then thanked Mr. Wright and Earl Hamblin on behalf of the association.

Lunch was served by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bongard; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Clarke, Mrs. Arthur Spring, Mrs. Melville Andrews, Mrs. Donald Audas, Mrs. William Chamberlain, Mrs. Arthur Davey, Mrs. Joshua Osborne, Mrs. Charles Puffer, Mrs. Fred Tredree, Mrs. Wilson Small, Mrs. Roy Cromie.

Business Women Displaying Poster

Posters being displayed this week in some places of business on the main streets are reproductions of the prize winning poster in the contest recently held by the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Ontario.

They are based on the theme for Business Women's Week, May 19 to 24, "Keeping Pace with Canada." The original poster was by George P. Rickard of London.

A member of the Peterborough B. & P. W. Club is either the owner of the business or on the staff of each store featuring a poster.

Young-McCauley

The marriage took place Saturday in All Saints' Anglican Church, Ven. Archdeacon C. W. Balfour officiating, of Dorothy Meryl McCauley to Gleen Arnold Young. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall McCauley of Apsley and the groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Young of Peterborough.

Gowned in white slipper satin with her veil caught with orange blossoms, the bride was attended by her sister Mrs. Harold Rose who was frocked in blue chiffon. Each wore a corsage of roses.

The groom's attendant was Ralph Fitzgerald.

A reception took place at the bride's home, and the couple left afterward on a wedding trip to points north. For travelling the bride wore a black and white check suit with black accessories and her corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Young will live in Kingston.

Thinks Women More Often Good Drivers

TORONTO, May 21 — (CP) — There are two types of women drivers—good and poor, says Mrs. Kay Petre, famed woman racing driver.

Mrs. Peters first began racing in 1933 on the noted British track, Brooklands. She wound up third in her first crack at car racing but in 1937 she set a record for women drivers of 150 to 160 miles an hour.

She thinks there are more good than poor women drivers in Canada, and that, she says, is because they start driving at an early age.

Mrs. Petre, women's advisor to the British Motor Industry, is in Canada to find out what Canadian women drivers like in cars. They've told her they like gay, attractive colors, inside and out. They want handy ash trays that don't stick, roomy glove compartments, leather upholstery and lots of windows.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Office Amorist Revels In Claimed Easy Conquests

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a college graduate, married to a fine woman whom I love very much; we have two children. I have a good position with a nice income.

Being in an office with men and women, it is necessary for me to come in contact with a certain young woman with whom I have been working. She has the most beautiful brown eyes I've ever seen. For the past six months it is apparent that she has come to mean more to me than just a co-worker. I look forward to going to work so I can see her. At an office party I kissed her and the world turned upside down. She, too, is married and very much in love with her husband. She has noticed my attentions toward her, and although she hasn't said anything, I believe her feelings are the same as mine. At times I believe I am in love with her.

Giving up the job and asking for a transfer is not the answer, but I am curious to see what your reaction will be. It took me four years to get the position I have, and I couldn't see giving it up.

BOB B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: And I am curious, Bob, to know just why you wrote to me. You surely don't want advice, and I'm sure you know what the reaction of any right-thinking person would be toward your situation. Your letter, which I have somewhat abridged, is positively boastful over this easy conquest—which certainly does neither you nor the beautiful brown-eyed lady any credit.

I do agree, changing your job would not be a solution. In the next job it would be a blue-eyed babe.

Grow Up!

You went to college, were in the service, and have been working quite a while, so obviously you're not quite as juvenile as you sound. Why not decide to grow up? Keep your mind on that job you worked so hard to get, or you may lose it.

Has it occurred to you that the young lady's reaction to your attentions may be nothing but a desire to please an office superior? You may be taking a lot for granted by assuming that she, too, has wandering affections.

You ask whether I think a psychiatrist would help you. Only to the extent that you are simply dying for a chance to get off some tall bragging about your romance, and if you care to pay the price, it might help to tell all. It might also convince you that you really are being a little silly. Your field of listeners is naturally rather limited otherwise!

Why not face facts squarely, Bob? You have been blessed with everything to make your life perfect; a good wife, pleasant home, fine children, lucrative position—what more could you ask for?

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a very nervous person, and I've noticed through the past few months everything upsets me. I have been writing to a nice serviceman and have always anxiously awaited his mail. Now I seem to be developing an inferiority complex and am afraid I'm not suitable for him. He is getting quite serious and, although I like him, I don't think it fair to encourage him while I'm in this condition.

VIVIAN

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: First of all, you need a good, thorough medical check-up. There is probably a physical cause for your extreme nervousness and, by carefully following the doctor's advice, you can clear up quite a bit of it. The rest is up to you alone. Since this boy has always been friendly, there's no reason for you to feel inferior because of him. Stop worrying and accept his friendship as it is offered. I would not encourage his serious intentions, however, until he is home and you have a chance to become better acquainted. You can change the tempo of his letters with a little banter.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Although we have only been married four months, my husband seems to be losing his affection already. I am very affectionate and also very sensitive. He likes to read in the evening, and I think that he should pay more attention to me.

MARCIA M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I have long ago discovered that "very sensitive" people are usually naggers; you're probably haunting the poor man to the point where he has to seek refuge in a book. Keep up your present tactics and the book will no longer suffice. His refuge will be outside the house, and it won't be too easy to lure him back!

What's Right?

You are driving to another city to spend a week-end with friends and they have let you know they are expecting you in time for dinner. At the last minute you are delayed in starting and know you won't be there by dinnertime.

WRONG: Explain to your host and hostess what happened after you arrive.

RIGHT: Telephone them long distance and let them know that you won't arrive in time for dinner.

6—In Memoriam

ARMSTRONG—In loving memory of our dear mother, Elizabeth Armstrong, who passed away May 21, 1950.
The depth of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well;
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by daughter Marjorie and son Robert and families.

JORDON—In loving memory of John Jordon, who passed away two years ago, May 21, 1950.
Gone, dear brother, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place;
A happy home we once enjoyed—
How sweet the memory still—
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Remembered by sister Elizabeth Moher and family.

Approves Divorce By Mutual Consent.

LONDON, May 21 — (Reuters) —Professor Laurence Gower, an expert on commercial law at London University, plumped for divorce by mutual consent, with no other grounds necessary.

In giving evidence Tuesday before the Royal Commission on marriage and divorce, Gower decried the practice of cooking up evidence of adultery where no other legal grounds are available.

At least, half the undefended divorces, he said, are faked. The husband registers at a hotel with another woman, but in many cases no "matrimonal offence" is committed.

This, said the professor, was a "distasteful business which reflects little credit on our legal system."

The commission is collecting evidence to embody in a report to the government advising on revision of the marriage and divorce laws.

Tobacco Growers Get Forecast Of Frost

HAMILTON, May 21 (CP) — Frost forecast for tobacco growers in Norfolk county as issued by the Hamilton weather office at 10:30 a.m.:

The storm which moved over the lower lakes last night brought a welcome rain of nearly one-half inch to the county. At Delhi experimental farm, it measured .38 inches.

Intermittent rain or drizzle, ending early this afternoon, clearing this evening; sunny and warmer Thursday, with risk of showers late in the day; winds westerly 15 this afternoon and north-westerly 15 Thursday. Low tonight 40; high Thursday 65.

Grass minimum temperatures throughout the county tonight 36-38 degrees.

CHEST INJURIES and cuts on the face and chin were sustained Tuesday night by 60-year-old Harvey M. Donald of Trent River, one-time mayor of Campbellford. Mr. Donald's car collided with a jeep on Stillman's Hill, Highway 30, during a heavy fall of rain. His badly-damaged car is shown (above). Kenneth Williams of Bloomfield, the jeep driver, was shaken up and sustained shock.—(W. W. Reid Photos)

Urge Doctors Make Closer Cancer Tests

HAMILTON, May 21 (CPJ) — When a man has been hoarse for more than a week or two, any doctor examining him should check for cancer of the larynx

That is hte advise Dr. R. D. Bell of Toronto today gave members of the ear, nose and throat section of the annual convention of the Ontario Medical Association.

"Most cancers of the larynx produce early hoarseness and are easily seen in the doctor's office."

He said some patients are treated for hoarseness without examination of the larynx, the cavity in the throat holding the vocal cords.

Need Recognition

Dr. W. T. Mustard of Toronto sid in another paper that recognition of early symptoms is highly important to successful treatment of injuries to the arteries.

"Arterial injury in the extremities should be suspected if any chance in circulation follows injury, no matter how trivial the exciting factor," he said.

In another paper, Dr. F. B. Bowman of Hamilton urged extensive use of surgical testing instruments, especially in the lower bowel, for early detection of cancer.

War Correspondents Form Corporation

TORONTO, May 21 (CP) —Incorporation under the Companies Act of the Canadian Press War Correspondents Association was announced today in the Ontario Gazette.

The association was formed in 1945 by Canadian Press staff men who covered overseas activities of the Canadian armed forces during the Second World War. Subsequently membership was broadened to permit membership by any uniformed Canadian war correspondents and some public relations officers.

Letters incorporating the association were issued April 30

First directors were Gillis Purcell, John Dauphinee, C. A. Day, Ralph Allen and Gregory Clark, all of Toronto. At a general meeting after incorporation, J. F. Sanderson of Montreal was elected president; Mr. Day, treasurer; Mr. Dauphinee, secretary; and Mr. Allen and W. A. Stewart of Montreal directors.

Vandals Wreck Home Of Travel Writer

VICTORIA, May 2 — (CP) — Attention J. A. Fitzgerald, producer of those travel films on lands near and far:

Vandals have disappeared into the sunset of beautiful Hill Island, lugging your bathtubs, doors, windows, and lighting fixtures.

They even carted away your kitchen sink, Mr. Fitzpatrick, and chopped up the kitchen cupboards and burned them in the kitchen stove.

Word of the vandalism was received here today from Sidney, near Hill Island and 18 miles north of Victoria. The island nestles in the blue waters of the inside passage.

The travelogue producer acquired Hill Island about three years ago during a visit to British Columbia. He built a house there for holiday use.

Mrs. Anna Stephens

CAMPBELLFORD, May 21 — Funeral services were conducted on Monday afternoon from the Bennett funeral home by the Rev. Dr. D. M. Smith of St. John's United Church, for Anna Bella Stephens, widow of Walter G. Stephens. Mrs. Stephens died Saturday after an illness of several months.

Though in her 91st year, Mrs. Stephens was able to keep her own home until last fall. She was a native of Seymour and a lifelong resident of the district. She was a member of St. John's United Church.

One son and one daughter predeceased her and one son, Robert of Peterborough, and one daughter, Mrs. P. Hashwell, also of Peterborough, survive.

Pallbearers were six nephews, Bert, Carl, Harry, Donald, Arthur and Willis Stephens.

Burial was in Mount Pleasant cemetery, Campbellford.

HARVEY M. DONALD

Mrs. H. B. Wood Dies At 72 In Trent River

Mrs. Eleanor May Wood, 72, Trent River, widow of Harold B. Wood died Thursday at her home and was buried Monday in Centre cemetery.

Mrs. Wood took a heart attack in her home while talking with members of her family.

She was born in Belmont township, daughter of the late John Hutchinson and Eliza Griffith. Her husband died about eight years ago.

After they were married, Mr. and Mrs. Wood lived some years in Toronto and then returned to the Wood farm south of Trent River. They farmed there until Mr. Wood died and Mrs. Wood moved into Trent River later. For some years Mr. Wood was president of the Campbellford district Cheesemakers Association.

Mrs. Wood was active in church work and for some time was secretary of the Trent River United Church Women's Association. She was also an elder of the church.

Mrs. Wood is survived by one daughter Mrs. Ray Brownsell, (Irene), Peterborough; and three sisters, Mrs. Rose Cunningham, Toronto, and Mrs. Mary Jane (Jen) Wilde and Miss Annie E. Hutchinson at home; and a brother Douglas, Havelock.

The funeral service in the Trent River United Church was largely attended. The Rev. R. G. Newman officiated assisted by the former pastor of the church, the Rev. J. W. Wilkinson of Oakwood.

Pallbearers were Robert Bateman, Campbellford; R. W. Umphrey, Smithfield; Archie Langford, Ray Wood, Stanley Wood, Peterborough and Earl Drain of Havelock.

Flower bearers were Arthur Wilson, West Huntingdon; Lloyd Vanvolkanburgh, Ward Glenn, Campbellford; Samuel Adams, Emerson Glenn, Clarence Glenn, Clifford Chaplin, Craig Brownsell, and Harold Thompson of Trent River.

Friends and relatives attended the funeral from such out of town points as St. Catharines, Toronto, Oakwood, West Huntingdon and Peterborough.

William Flood

Funeral of the late William Flood, long time resident of Peterborough who died on Sunday in Detroit following a short illness, was held today from the Lane Funeral Home to Sacred Heart Church. The Rev. Gerrard F. Sullivan said requiem mass and pallbearers were Leo and Richard Herr, Larry Meagher, Clinton Heath, Earl Gilman and Joseph Donoghue. Graveside prayers were said by the Rev. G. V. Gaughan and burial was at St. Peter's cemetery.

Problem Arrest

SOUTHEND, Essex, England, May 21 (Reuters)—Police arresting a 364-pound cab-driver for drunkenness had to take him to the police station in his own cab because they couldn't get him in the police car. Police told the court today they figured he was drunk because he tried to put pipe tobacco in his fountain pen. Driver Martin Aherne was freed on bail pending trial.

Former Mayor Injured In Headon Crash

TRENT RIVER, May 21 (ENS) —Harvey M. Donald, 64, of Trent River, a former mayor of Campbellford, received head and chest injuries Tuesday night when his car collided with a jeep, three and a half miles south of here on Highway 30.

Mr. Donald was driving through heavy rain to visit friends and play cards for the evening, a hobby he usually indulges every week. The accident occurred about 8 p.m. at the top of Stillman's Hill when his car collided almost headon with a jeep, owned by the H. J. McFarland Construction Co., and driven by Kenneth Williams, 47, of Bloomfield.

Deep facial cuts and minor chest injuries were received by Mr. Donald who was taken to the home of Chief Constable George H. Hardy of Campbellford. After first aid was given by Dr. C. A. Bright of Campbellford, Mr. Donald was permitted to return home.

Mr. Williams, the construction company driver, was shaken up and sustained slights hock.

Charge Laid

O.P.P. Constable Donald Erskine of Campbellford today laid a charge of careless driving against Williams.

The Donald car received at least $500 damage. The frame is bent, the body twisted, the left fender torn off, the radiator and grill smashed and the left wheel bent.

Both front wheels, the frame and body of the jeep were damaged. The left side was also dented.

Had No Permits Two Fined $250

After Allan Lewis and Harry Jones, both of Nick's trailer camp pleaded guilty in police court today to having liquor not obtained on their own permits, Lewis' wife, Mrs. Margaret Lewis, proprietor of the camp testified for the crown.

The camp is on Highway 28 on the northern outskirts of the city.

She said she took a full bottle of wine, produced in court, from her husband's car Tuesday. Another bottle, two-thirds full she said she took from Harry Jones' pocket.

"I pleaded with them to stop drinking and live right," she told Magistrate W. R. Philp tearfully. The Magistrate fined Jones $100 and $2.50 costs or three months and declared cottage number 12 where Jones lives at the camp, a public place.

The Magistrate said that Jones had been in other difficulties before and inferred that Lewis deserved a stiffer penalty. Lewis asked for the same fine. The Magistrate refused. He fined Lewis $150 and $8.50 costs or three months.

"You are comparatively well-to do," Magistrate Philp told Lewis and you spend your time and money for purposes that are only too well known to this court."

The main building and apartments above the store of the camp were also declared a public place.

Bruce Grills Heads Kinsmen

Election of officers resulted in the following being named to the executive of the Campbellford Kinsmen Club on Monday night. President, Bruce Grills; secretary, John Hill; treasurer, Dante Pace; Bulletin Editor, Paul Coughlan; directors, Glen Taylor, Ray Hall, Charles Wickens, Geo. Vice.

The new slate of officers will take over after the usual summer recess.

The Century Club, under Kinsmen auspices had raised sufficient money to assist the club in its commitment toward the building fund of the Campbellford Memorial Hospital, and $250 will be turned over immediately to the building fund. This amount was in addition to a previous donation of $300 made earlier in the winter to the Campbellford Emergency Relief Fund.

Retiring president Gordon Walroth attended his last meeting as a member of the Club, as he is due to move to Yarker to his new managerial post at the Bank of Montreal in that community.

Humor Based On Error Sales, Ad Told

All humor is based on error. This was the theory offered the Sales and Advertising Club Tuesday night at their stag party held at the Club Aragon by guest speaker James Gheen of New York.

A second point in Mr. Gheen's theory was that the more a person knows, the more he will find to laugh at. People tend to laugh at something that is wrong, he said, and the more they can identify as being wrong, the more they will laugh.

He quoted a New York professor who believed that a person's intelligence could be measured roughly by what he found humorous. People who laughed at themselves were of a high intelligence.

"I know people who should be laughing all the time," said Mr. Gheen.

Tuesday night's meeting was the last one at which H. B. Cowan presided as president. President-elect Russ Baer will be in charge of future meetings. Mr. Cowan introduced the new president, and the directors who were elected for the coming year.

Mr. Gheen was introduced by Ken Dalrymple, and thanked by Ernest Wolff. An instrumental trio and two singers from Toronto provided entertainment.

Bonarlaw News

Guests at the home of Mrs. Jennie Wellman on Sunday were: Mrs. Leona Walker and son Dale, Ardith Young, Mrs. Gordon Harris and son Bobby of Marmora, and Miss Bedore.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rowe of Hamilton visited friends in Bonarlaw over the weekend. Mrs. Rowe's father, Mr. John S. McKeown, returned to Hamilton with them. He expects to spend a month there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Brown of Marmora visited Mr. and Mrs. Simon Matthews on Sunday.

Mr. W. G. Stiles of Chatham visited his mother Mrs. Edith Stiles over the weekend.

Miss Bernice Scott Honored By Friends

NORWOOD, May 21 (ENS). — On Monday afternoon about 60 neighbors and acquaintances of Miss Bernice Scott, R.N., and Johnson McKay, whose marriage takes place Saturday, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Scott.

Miss Scott was away when the party arrived, and when she arrived home and stepped inside Mrs. Robert Garden played the Wedding March.

An address was read by Mrs. Jack Andrews. Miss Scott was presented with a mothproof wardrobe with two long door mirrors and a bedspread, besides a sum of money, on behalf of all the neighbors and acquaintances. Miss Scott was so surprised she was unable to speak.

Then Mrs. Robert Garden led in a sing-song and a musical contest, with Mrs. Clarence Copp and Mrs. Arnold Stevenson the winners. Lunch was served.

Office Must Close

HONG KONG, May 21 (AP) — The British-owned Canton Insurance Office, Ltd., active in China for almost 100 years, has been "compelled to cease operations through circumstances beyond our control," the company announced Tuesday at its annual meeting. A spokesman said the firm's China activities ended in April, 1951, but the process of withdrawal continued, an implication that communist authorities have not yet approved the company's liquidation.

Big Opportunity For Farmers Rural Churches

SPRINGVILLE, May 21 (ENS) —Rural Life Sunday was celebrated at Springville United Church on Sunday.

In opening his remarks the Rev. A. E. Larke said, "I feel a sense of indebtedness to what the rural church in this country has done for the Kingdom of God. Rural people are on the march as never before and greater days of responsibility are opening up to the rural people than ever in the past."

Canada, he said, had arrived at the third milestone in her life. The first passed away with pioneer living and it was characterized by the splendid work done by the saddlebag ministers of the Methodist Church. Among these early saddlebag ministers was Anson Greene, an early missionary preacher in Peterborough. He urged the congregation not only to remember the debt we owe to the past but to remember there are many frontiers of mission work still in the pioneer stage.

The second milestone was passed when farming arrived at the stage of consolidation, when some cash crops were grown and farming became not merely a subsistence occupation.

The third milestone was the period of intensification that we are now living in—with educational advantages through Women's Institutes, short courses, farm forums, etc.

These advantages made toward the more abundant life of which Jesus spoke when He said, "I am come that ye might have life and have it more abundantly."

Some Churches Lag

"Has the church in the rural area kept pace with the changes in farm life?" he asked. "Many have," he said, "but not all."

Jesus' word is still the message for our generation and he reminded the hearers that the parables, similies and metaphores that Jesus used were drawn from the life of rural people of His day.

Leaders in rural churches should cease to suffer from an inferiority complex, for nearly all the outstanding leaders in our national life have come from the countryside and the greater number of ministers from rural homes.

Our great need, he said, is an intensification of our spiritual life in the study of scripture, in daily family devotions and to work harder in the business of being Christians.

No Stepping Stone

No good minister is too good for a rural church and a rural church should not just be a stepping stone to a city church; rather rural leadership should be a great vocation.

One of the burdens resting on the church today is more candidates for the ministry, more than forty are short in Saskatchewan and some are needed in the Bay of Quinte conference.

In closing, Mr. Larke said, "The great day of the rural church is ahead, and under God it is your task and mine. May we not only be true servants of the soil but may the work of the Kingdom of God be done."

Surgeons In Madrid

MADRID, May 21 (AP) — The International College of Surgeons began its eighth annual conference Tuesday with 2,000 members present. During the meeting, surgical operations will be televised in a new system called vericolor. It permits simultaneous recording of sound and picture so that the operating surgeon may lecture his audience during the operation.

Miners Reject Italian Labor In Coal Fields Of Yorkshire

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 21. (CP)—Belief that the average Briton is reasonable and sophisticated, politically speaking, he has suffered a rebuff in the coal fields of Yorkshire.

There, despite months of wheedling and entreaty by government and trade union officials, British miners have steadfastly refused to work with Italians, thus ending the first major attempt to bring foreign workers other than refugees into Britain.

Nobody gains from the failure of this effort to kill the two birds of Italian unemployment and British manpower shortage with the single stone of international co-operation. The financial cost to the country will be considerable and the ammunition for Italian Communists ready-made.

Without actually going down a mine and working with the Italians, it is perhaps unfair to pass judgment on the reluctant Yorkshireman. But newspaper comment has been overwhelmingly critical, and the men have made no effort to justify their reiterated refusal.

Typical of editorial reaction was that of the Independent Liberal Manchester Guardian, which said a "handful of narrow minded" Yorkshire miners had forced Britain to break an international contract.

Costly Scheme

Breakdown of the plan may cost anything up to £200,000. Some 1,200 Italians already at work in British pits will remain, but 1,000 still in training or awaiting jobs will probably be offered other work, or sent home. Since the cost of training each man has been estimated at £140, nearly £150,000 has to be written off—not to mention the cost of bringing the Italians here and sending them back.

It has also been suggested that British authorities may be under a moral obligation to pay the men for the unserved portion of their two-year contract.

Italian papers have closely watched the progress of this ill-fated internaitonal experiment. Most of them have been bewildered by British insularity. The most moderate comment has come from the Quotidiano, a Roman Catholic newspaper, which says the men sent to Brtiain, mostly southern peasants, were badly chosen, including men who could not read nor write.

British reportes who have visited the fields where Italians are employed have been uniformly impressed, on the other hand, by the almost fanatical zeal the new workers have displayed in earning their weekly wage of approximately £7. A spokesman for the Italians said:

"We left Italy because we could not live upon the wages we were getting, or because we were not getting wages at all. We came to England because we were offered two years' work at good wages. If the alternative jobs we are offered do not pay wages high enough to make it worthwhile our being away from our wives and families, then we go back to Italy."

Obituary

ALBERT B. ARMSTRONG

WARKWORTH, May 21 (ENS) —Albert Bolton Armstrong, 82, died Monday in Belleville hospital after being critically ill for 11 days. He had been a semi-invalid for some years.

For a time, he farmed in Brighton township, later moving to Warkworth, where he operated a garage until it was destroyed by fire. He moved to Toronto, and only recently returned to Warkworth.

Born in Brighton township, he was a son of the late John Armstrong and Eliza Arthur.

Surviving are his widow, the former Frances Mae Goodfellow, two daughters and a son, Mrs. Clarence Potter, R.R. 1, Warkworth, Mrs. Louis Hay, Belleville and Charles of Orland. There are four grandchildren.

Pallbearers at his funeral today were Eldon Arthur, William J. Ross, Bolton Armstrong, Cecil Goodfellow, Grant Goodfellow, and David Dingwall Sr. Flowerbearers were there grandsons Jack and Bob Potter and Donald Partridge.

Service was conducted at 2 p.m. by the Rev. H. G. Lester of St. Paul's United Church, and burial was in Warkworth cemetery.

Black Watch Sails

SOUTHAMPTON, England, May 21 (AP)—Seven hundred officers and men of the first battalion of the Black Watch, crack Scottish regiment, boarded a troopship Tuesday bound for duty in Korea. The battalion will relieve the first battalion of the Leicester regiment. It sail today.

College Principal Speaks At Church

The Rev. L. K. Snider, principal of Lorne Park College, Port Credit, presided at the Sunday morning service in the Free Methodist Church, speaking on "The Advantages of a Christian Education."

A mixed quartet comprised of L.P.C. students sang twice in the service, three students spoke briefly, and another prayed. A member of the Board of Directors of the college, F. Barkey of Toronto spoke of the new administration building which is to be started in the near future.

The College which has 68 students from Grade 9 to 13 and in the Bible Department, is situated in a beautiful district two and one half miles northwest of Port Credit. The grounds face along both the Mississauga Road and the Queen Elizabeth Way.

Ten students from Lorne Park College were present, three of whom were from Peterborough Free Methodist Congregation: Esther Jane Robinson, George Green and Paul Johnston.

The quartet also sang in the Sunday School which preceded the service and had an attendance of 123 in the newly decorated basement of the church.

Thefts Described By Authorities

OTTAWA, May 21 — (CP). — A Defence Department spokesman described Tuesday how thefts were carried out in 1949 at the former army training centre at Farnham, Que., but denied that the camp virtually disappeared.

E. B. Armstrong, Assistant Deputy Minister of National Defence told the Commons Committee on Defence Expenditure that goods stolen from Farnham had an original value of some $27,000 and a depreciated value of $5,354. A total of $1,803 worth of the goods were recovered including 26 of the 31 huts which were taken.

Mr. Armstrong said evidence indicated the two civilian caretakers at the camp were selling the equipment to civilians who were buying it in good faith. One guard has since been convicted. The case of the other is still pending.

The 31 huts stolen, part of 214 buildings at the camp at the time, were placed aboard trailer trucks and taken from the camp, Mr. Armstrong said.

Other equipment stolen included 25,000 feet of copper wire, a number of windows, a baking oven, conduit pipe, shower stalls, and radiators. Some of this was recovered. The recovered huts, along with others at the camp, were later sold at about $26 each after Farnham was declared surplus late in 1949.

HOLLAND is a county where large families are the order of the day, if the 17 children of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander J. Scholten, formerly of Limburg, Holland, are any example. Train passenger agent Howard Keith (extreme left) had quite a problem, when it came time to distribute the 19 railway tickets, as the family boarded the Maritime train for Minto, N.B., where they will settle. Eldest of the group is 19, while the youngest, who travels in his own comparment, is only four weeks old. Mr. Schotlen, 43, is shown with his wife at left.

Prison Classes Cut Repeaters

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask.— (CP) —Statistics show that prisoners who have enough interest to pass a vocational course while in jail usually follow "the straight and narrow" path after they are released.

Maj.-Gen. Harvey Gibson, Commissioner of Penitentiaries in Canada, said during a visit here that the population of Canadian penitentiaries dropped by nearly 200 in the last year.

"Eighty-five per cent of prisoners who pass vocational courses provided in Canadian institutions do not commit further crimes after their release," he added.

Instituted 15 years ago as a result of the Archambeault Commission, the new program has put great stress on the teaching of trades or occupations and on sports, hobbies and culture to enable the offender to keep abreast of present-day trends, helping him to find a normal place in society on his release.

"During the last two or three years it has been found that the attitude of employers to men with prison records has been more friendly and understanding," said Maj.-Gen. Gibson.

"Chiefly responsible for this is the John Howard Society whose representatives interview every prisoner three months before his release and then explain the situation to his prospective employers."

1,208 More Births

TORONTO, May 21 — (CP) — There were 1,208 more births in Ontario in April, 1951, than in the same month last year. Marriages increased by 350 in the same period, deaths by 237 and stillbirths by 47. Top killers were diseases of the heart, 1,407; vascular lesions affecting the central nervous system, 580; cancer, 522.

Land Gift Movement Draws Indians To Another Ghandi

By TOM A. CULLEN

NEW DELHI, India—(NEA)—Mohandas K. Gandhi once summed up India's No. 1 problem this way: "Even God dare not appear before a hungry man except in the form of bread."

Today, a man who is popularly acclaimed as Gandhi's successor is showing his face to more and more of India's hungry men. He dares face them because he comes with loaves in the form of land acres that he has been able to wheedle from hard-headed landlords.

He is 57-year-old Acharya Vinoba Bhave, popularly known as Vinoba, and the face he presents to the needy is the lean, bearded face of an ascetic.

His rise as a religious and social leader has been as spectacular as the achievements of his Bhoodan Yagna, or "land gift" movement, as he calls it.

During the past year Vinoba has: Persuaded landlords to part with 100,000 acres of land, most of it in central India, to be distributed among landless peasants.

Travelled over 1,000 miles on foot, going from village to village, in his quest for land donations.

Set a goal of 2,500,000 acres to be collected within the next two years by himself and his co-workers.

"I want to check one revolution and I want to bring about another revolution," explains the reformer.

Until Gandhi's assassination in 1948, Vinoba was unknown in India except to the Mahatma and to a few members of the religious communities which Gandhi founded. His entry into public notice was a dramatic one.

In the stunned silence that followed Gandhi's death, Vinoba suddenly appeared in Delhi and began preaching. The spot he chose for his prayer meetings was the spot where Gandhi's body had been cremated, and he attracted tens of thousands seeking solace for what to them was a personal bereavement. From then on his role seemed cut out.

The "land gift" idea came to him last year on a walking tour to Hyberabad. There, peasants in 2,000 villages under Communist leadership had seized the lands, kicked out the landlords and set up thir own People's Committees. It took an army of special police over a year to subdue the rebellion.

"I realized then," Vinoba recalls, "that the mal-distribution of land was the canker eating at the heart of India."

On this tour Vinoba was approached by a group of "untouchables" with the request for land. He mentioned this at a prayer meeting, was amazed when a land holder promptly offered 100 acres. He repeated the experiment at other meetings with the same success, and he has been repeating it ever since.

Work stops in the villages when word spreads that his arrival is imminent, and old and young flock to meet him on the road. Peasant women, ordinarily shy, stoop and touch Vinoba's feet.

What the villagers see is a striking physical likeness to Gandhi, save for the wispy beard. Vinoba is even thinner than Gandhi, and like him, he wears nothing more than steel-rimmed spectacles and a loin cloth, supporting himself with a walking stick.

His personal regime is severe. Arising at 4 a.m., he first holds a prayer meeting, then breaks his fast with a little fruit juice followed by a bowl of curds sweetened with honey. Because of an ulcer, he can take no solid food.

At 5 a.m., he is ready to hit the road, his way lighted by a hurricane lamp. Usually he arrives at his village destination about four hours later, followed by two secretaries and an entourage of about a dozen persons.

Once arrived, Vinoba's procedure is to select a tree, usually a mango, for shade and to start preaching.

"All people are children of the soil," he will begin, "and it should belong to them just as a mother belongs to her children."

Then he will ask land holders to consider him as a fifth son, and to give him his share of their property for the benefit of the poor.

Landlords listen at first with misgivings. By the time Vinoba has finished talking, catching fire from his words, they are often clamoring for his attention with their offerings of land.

"It's real weird," says one American businessman in New Delhi, who has followed Vinoba's progress, "and it could happen only in India."

The going is not always so easy. In some provinces Vinoba's words have fallen upon ears as stony as the soil. His most spectacular success has been in the central province of Uttar Pradesh, where most of the 100,000 acres were collected.

"I am only an instrument in the hands of God," Vinoba recently told a prayer audience. "How otherwise can people who fight even for a foot of land be inspired to give hundreds of acres freely?"

Ridgway Warns Congress Red Charges Dangerous

5 Belleville Men Injured In Train Collision

TORONTO, May 22. (CP)—A twin-unit diesel locomotive pulling 67 boxcars and bound from Belleville to suburban Mimico today crashed into the rear of a caboose drawn by a steam locomotive. Five Belleville men were injured. The diesel, pulling a 5,000-ton load, reduced the caboose to matchwood. M. J. Kennedy, conductor, suffered severe head injuries. Also taken to hospital, but less severely injured, were brakeman Ernie Trumble, diesel engineer William Potts, Harold Gaffney and F. D. Carmichael.

Austin Mahon, C.N.R. terminal superintendent, blamed an open switch on the main line for the crash, which occurred on the eastern outskirts of the city.

Five cars were derailed. Traffic was not blocked.

Kennedy had recently returned to work after recovering from wrist injuries suffered in a previous accident.

F. H. Jones, of Belleville, fireman of the Diesel, said:

"We were almost on the other engine before we noticed we were off the main line."

After the engineer applied the brakes he said, "I couldn't see much chance of getting out of the cab so I lay down on the floor and waited."

He suffered only a scratched finger.

Fireman Fred Carmichael, 23, who was on the steam locomotive, said the first he knew of the impending crash was the order from his engineer to jump. He escaped with a shaking up.

"My mate was looking out the window and I was stoking the fire," he said. "He shouted at me to jump and I did. I didn't stop running until the dust had settled."

Kennedy, only occupant of the caboose, was pulled out of the wreckage.

Rail Dispute Ends In U.S. After 3 Years

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—Union-management peace for the first in more than three years, came to United States railroads today and the government was ready to give up its 21-month operation of the roads.

Three rail unions, with a combined membership of 150,000, signed a "memorandum of agreement" with the carriers late Wednesday night in the White House.

The agreement, unlike one signed by the same three union chiefs in December, 1950, is binding on the rank-and-file. The 1950 agreement was repudiated by a vote of the memberships of the three unions.

Actual return of the roads to their private owners will come as soon as the unions and the railroads sign a contract based on the terms and conditions of employment agreed to last night. That might take a week or more.

Agreement Results

The agreement, worked out between the carriers and the engineers, firemen and the conductors after intensive mediation efforts by Presidential assistant John R. Steelman, does these things:

1. Raises wages 37 cents an hour for men in the yards and 22½ cents for over-the-road employees.

2. Ties wages to the cost of living. Pay now goes up or down one cent each three months for each one point change in the government's cost-of-living index.

3. Lays the foundation for yardmen to switch from a 48-hour week to a 40-hour week and get a four-cent pay increase when the shorter work week takes effect.

4. Give the unions the right to reject carrier requests to run the same train crew through a divisional terminal point if the two parties can't negotiate their disagreements over these interdivisional runs.

The long dispute dates to March, 1949. Since then one or more of the unions—and a fourth big operating union, the trainmen— have gone on strike at least three times, all for short duration.

Stinging Speech Upsets Reds

MUNSAN, Korea, May 22 (AP)—Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy in his final statement as chief Allied truce delegate accused the Reds today of using the Korea armistice talks as a "stall to repair your shattered forces."

"There is not left to negotiate—the decision is in your hands," the admiral declared.

Joy, upon completing his prepared statement, strode from the Panmunjom conference tent. His action threw the communist delegation into a flurry.

But Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., Joy's relief, moved over into the U.N. chief delegate's seat and suggested a recess until Friday. The Reds made an unusual demand for an afternoon session. It lasted 29 minutes. Harison said North Korean Gen. Nam Il used it in a feeble attempt to reply to Joy in what Harrison called "plain drivel."

Joy said in his stinging farewell that the Allies won't back down from their refusal to return prisoners of war who do not want to go back to communist rule.

Police Hold Parley On Gold Smuggling

TORONTO, May 22 CP)—A police conference which started here is believed planning moves to combat gold smuggling.

Attending the secret sessions which started Wednesday officers of the United States Federad Bureaus of Investigation, U.S. treasury agents, customs officers from Canada and the U.S., as well as members of the R.C.M.P., Ontario Provincial Police and Toronto city police.

One report is that the meeting is aimed at finding ways of linking information obtained by the Ontario Provincial Police gold squad with persons arrested or under suspicion in the U.S.

It is thought to have been prompted by a recent upsurge in the amount of gold illegally entering the U.S.

Huge quantities of gold taken from Ontario by highgraders or stolen have been flowing southward across the border. Some estimates of the volume range between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 a year.

Says Gov't Surrender Has Ended Bargaining

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP) — A spokesman for the U.S. steel industry said today "surrender by the government to the pressure of labor unions," has ended collective bargaining.

Walter Tower, who retires Friday as president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, charged that "government has proved that it will give more than unions dared ask, even to the extent of confiscating company profits for that purpose.

In an address prepared for 1,200 steel executives at the 60th general meeting of the institute, Tower said that "collective' bargaining may now be defined as capitulation by the employer."

He assailed government controls which he said left to private management "the complete responsibility only for losses."

Navy Diver Finds Bagful Of Currency

WARWICK, R.I., May 22 (AP)—A navy diver, working with F.B.I. agents investigating the $100,000 Quonset Point, R.I., naval air station robbery, salvaged a bagful of currency today from the Pawtuxet river.

Reporters at the scene speculated that the bag contained the bulk of the stolen funds. F.B.I. agents wtihheld comment.

The $100,000 belonged to a credit union at the air station and was taken in a hold-up March 7.

The F.B.I. reported when it arrested Howard Hildebrandt, 25, and Robert La Plante, 27, Wednesday night that one of the men was carrying bills identified as part of the stolen cash.

Hildebrandt was arrested in New York city, where police also picked up Gloria H. Fazzina, 30, of Jersey City, N.J., a New York night club singer.

U.N. Planes Smash Supply Area

Special Tank Rifles Attack Red Defences Along 20-Mile Front

SEOUL, Korea, May 22. (AP) — Australian and United States fighter-bombers, in an all-out, hour-by-hour attack, today smashed a huge Communist supply area between the North Korean capital, Pyongyang and its port, Chinnanpo.

The attack began at dawn and continued throughout the day. The air force described the target area as a huge war-material manufacturing and supply area. Pilots reported 117 buildings destroyed and 80 heavily damaged.

Fighter pilots from the First Marine Aircraft Wing and the R.A.A.F. 77th Squadron took part in the big strike.

On the ground, U.S. Patton tank rifles shot up Red fortifications along a 20-mile sector of the central front Wednesday. One Allied tank was lost.

No Explanation

There was no explanation of the tactical plan behind the assault but the staff officer emphasized that the tanks were used as self-propelled guns and not in the normal tank fashion of fire and movement.

The obvious objective was to burst open the fortress-like earth and log bunkers the Communists have built during the lull in fighting. Artillery fire usually wastes itself on massive overhead shields of earth and logs, sometimes 15 feet thick.

The 90-millimetre guns on Patton tanks can fire with sniper accuracy up to 2½ miles.

The tank assaults ranged from Chorwon in the west to the jagged peaks south of Kumsong in the east.

The Communists struck back with 250 rounds of artillery and mortar fire but failed to halt the attack.

Elsewhere on the 155-mile front, Allied and Communist patrols clashed in fights lasting as long as three hours.

One of the biggest Red probes, west of the Pukhan river, was smashed in 35 minutes.

Taylor To Start Only One Horse.

TORONTO, May 22 (CP). — E. P. Taylor, prominent Canadian horseman, today said he will only start one of his horses in the Queen's Plate Saturday if his wife starts Dress Circle.

An Ontario Racing Commission rule about starters says "Not more than two horses of the same ownership or interests shall be entered in a race."

The O.R.C. dealt with the problem Wednesday but did not announce its decision.

Taylor has Acadian and Red Martlet entered. He recently sold his wife Dress Circle, which she entered in the Plate. Some racing interests said three horses running in the Plate under the colors of a man and wife are in contravention of a commission ruling.

THAT'S WHERE WE ARE—Bob Millsap, Creemore, says to Orneva Flack, Creemore, as he points to Peterborough on a map given them by Don Kingdon, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce. These children were two of a group of 50 boys and girls from the Creemore United Church Young People's Union who visited Peterborough today. They were met on Highway 7 near the Chemong Road turn and brought into the city with a police escort. They toured city factories, visited parks and saw the lift lock.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Tax Reductions Up Slightly After July 1

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP) —New schedules of tax deductions for persons paying income tax at source are in the hands of Canadian employers, who will start using them July 1, a revenue department spokesman said today.

The schedules incorporate changes in personal income tax of the last budget, which provided for a decrease of about six per cent in income tax and at the same time more than wiped out the increase with an old-age pension levy.

The resulting schedules—used by the employer to determine how much to deduct from each employee's weekly or monthly pay—are in most cases slightly higher than the ones now in force.

Says Windsor Mayor Bought Oven Set Through Fund

WINDSOR, May 22. (CP)—Windsor's Mayor Arthur J. Reaume was identified today as the purchaser of a Dutch oven set through an East Windsor Hospital operating fund. Mrs. Elsie Morley, 26, who was discharged April 30 from her position as private secretary to Dr. P. J. G. Morgan, hospital superintendent, described four such purchases to a provincial investigating committee.

They had been made on the superintendent's orders, she said. Purchase voucher forms certifying that the sets were for hospital use and not for re-sale had been used in the transactions. No sales tax had been paid on the articles.

Of the four sets, two had gone to the doctor and his family, one to the mayor and one to a Mr. Straith, Windsor.

The practise of purchasing articles for re-sale to hospital employees had been carried on from 1946 to the fall of 1951, Mrs. Morley said. In no case had sales tax been paid.

Outside Consumption

Questioned as to the disposal of hospital food, the witness said she could remember many instances in which it had passed to outside consumption.

In April, 1950, the hospital had supplied free food for a noon luncheon of 150 persons at Sacred Heart Church, Windsor. On other occasions, the hospital superintendent had donated roasts of meat to members of the office staff.

Once he had the hospital kitchen prepare individual roast chickens for a poker party he held at his own home, said Mrs. Morley.

The probe was ordered by Attorney-General Porter on the instigation of Frank Probst, former chairman of the hospital board. An audit showed the hospital lost $62,000 in 1951.

Mrs. Morley yesterday described two Christmas-present purchases to the Commission.

In 1948, she said, she asked Dr. Morgan what he would like the staff to give him as a Christmas present. When he suggested a desk set, the staff picked out one valued at $260.

Taken Out Of Fund

When the staff collection ran short of the purchase price, Dr. Morgan ordered her to take the remaining $165 out of the Christmas fund, made up of donations from the Windsor public.

She testified that liquor and television purchases for resale had Grave Words Hint New Crisis Soon To Face U.N.

By FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON, May 22. (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told Congress today Communist germ and gas-warfare charges against the United Nations in Korea are "a monumental warning . . . as menacing and urgent as a forest fire bearing down on a wooden village." Ridgway branded the charges "false in their entirety." The former commander of United Nations Far Eastern forces was not more explicit in his warning. But he appeared to be thinking along the lines of a recent statement by Defence Secretary Robert Lovett that Communists charge others with crimes they mean to commit.

Ridgway is here en route to take over the Allied command in Europe being relinquished by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He gave Congress a dramatic account of how the Eighth Army in Korea, only three days under his command, repulsed an attempt by the Chinese and North Koreans to knock it out after a long retreat, and rose again on the offensive in less than a month.

He spoke at length of the armistice negotiations, which he called "no failure" despite the lack of a cease fire, and of relations with Japan.

Ridgway said he approaches his new job in Europe with high confidence.

Gravest Language

Ridgway reserved the gravest language of his speech for his warnings about Communist germ and gas-warfare propaganda charges. He said:

"I wish to reiterate what I have repeatedly stated publicly, that these allegations are false in their entirety; that no element of the United Nations Command has employed either germ or gas warfare in any form at any time.

"In the whole black record of false propaganda, these charges should stand out as a monumental warning to the American people and the free world—a warning as menacing and as urgent as a forest fire bearing down upon a wooden village.

"The extent to which Communist leaders have gone in fabricating, disseminating and persistently pursuing these false charges should impress upon the brains of those who yet fail or refuse to see the purpose of Communism, the deadly danger with which it confronts us and the free world."

He made these other points:

1. The Communists have in their hands a "logical, reasonable and honorable proposal" for ending the

Ask Protection From Riotous Canadian Troops

HANNOVER, Germany, May 22 (Reuters)—City authorities said today that local innkeepers have asked for protection against "riotous" Canadian troops.

In a letter to the city, the managing director of the Innkeepers' Association, Hans Feigenspan, complained about "recent incidents" involving Canadians of the 27th infantry brigade under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization defence plan.

He cited a cafe brawl in which three German policemen were injured last Saturday.

Feigenspan also charged that some inkeepers had been beaten up by Canadians in recent months. Others had furniture and equipment in their taverns destroyed. He said Canadians brought their own liquor into bars and mixed it with beer—"with disastrous results."

Friedrich Seitz, a municipal official, said he did not think the complaints were "too important."

Poor Reputation

"Loudest protests came from those establishments which we Hannoverians know well as not being among the best," he added.

Canadian officers claimed reports of Saturday's brawl were "greatly exaggerated."

They said that generally their men and the German population "got on fine."

Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, commander of the 27th brigade, said relations with Germans have been good.

"Any representations by them are listened to as if we were stationed in Canada," he told a reporter.

Eight Injured In Collision

BELLEVILLE, May 22—(CP)—Eight persons were injured Wednesday, two severely, in a head-on collision between two cars at Milltown, 10 miles east of here.

Mrs. Doris Robidoux, 25, of Woonsocket, R.I., suffered facial and internal injuries when thrown into the windshield of her husband's car. Mrs. James McFarland 75, of Napanee, suffered internal injuries and a broken leg.

Police said the car from Rhode Island turned out to pass another car at the top of a knoll and collided with an east-bound car from Napanee.

Little Prince Annoyed His Pet Forgotten

LONDON, May 22 — (AP). — The elaborate machinery of British state springs into action at a crisp message from Buckingham Palace—"Prince Charles is crying. He cannot find his rabbit."

A luxurious black sedan sped down the tree-lined drive to Clarence House, across the park, and returned triumphantly a few minutes later.

Palace officials swarmed around the car and tenderly carried away the green hutch with the startled white rabbit perched inside.

The rabbit, prize pet of the three-year-old Prince, had been forgotten when the new Queen moved her family from Clarence House to the Palace.

But a lusty princely yell resounding through the Palace grounds Wednesday served as a quick reminder.

Truman Upholds Seizure Power

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—President Truman said today he has the power to seize private industries in an emergency and that nobody can take it away from him.

However, Truman added at a press conference that he will abide by the decision of the Supreme Court in the matter of his seizure of the steel industry.

Reporters questioned him in an effort to clear up what some of them called the apparent conflict between these two statements.

The president said he saw no conflict. He said nobody can take away seizure power from the President because it is part of his inherent powers.

In the case of the steel industry, a U.S. district judge has ruled that he acted without authority under the law or the constitution.

The issue now is before the Supreme Court.

Legion Asks Gov't Keep Meyer Prisoner

MONTREAL, May 22 (CP). — The Canadian Legion called on the government today to make Maj.-Gen. Kurt Meyer serve his life term in prison for war-time atrocities against Canadian troops.

The decision was made at the national convention after the chairman said Defence Minister Claxton has written the Legion "to give assurance there is no intention at this time to deal with Meyer's sentence," and to say that the Federal Government still retains ultimate control of Meyer.

Delegates, by a slim margin, in a standing vote, rejected the Ontario delegation's request that Meyer be brought back to a Canadian prison from Germany, "to restore confidence in the statements by the government and to keep faith with our dead comrades."

Things Different Now

POW's Under Firm Control In U.N. Camps—General

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, May 22—(AP)—Gen. James A. Van. Fleet said today the 80,000 stubborn Communist captives on riot-torn Koje island shortly will be "under complete control within their compounds."

The United States Eighth Army commander briefly visited this prisoner-of-war camp No. 1, where die-hard Reds two weeks ago seized and held the camp commander as hostage for 78 hours.

A few hours after Van Fleet left Koje a prisoner attempted an escape from notorious compound 76, but was forcibly dragged back by other prisoners. The Reds station their own guards inside the enclosure to prevent anti-Communist P.O.W.'s from fleeing. The man who attempted to slip through the barbed wire was one of the Reds' own guards.

Under its new commander, Brig.-Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, the Koje camp is "certainly fast approaching adequate security," Van Fleet said.

"I belive it is just a question of a short time," he said at a press conference, "when the prisoners will conform to all the orders of the camp and will be under complete control within their compounds."

Communist prisoners in Koje's 17 compounds have been in control within their enclosures since Brig.-Gen. Francis Dodd's seizure May 7.

No camp personnel have been permitted to enter the prisoner compounds since that date.

Van Fleet today was shown the compound containing 1,600 prisoners brought to Koje in the last two days from compound 10 in Pusan. These prisoners had rioted at Pusan, where one P.O.W. was killed and 85 were injured.

Later, Van Fleet visited the Pusan camp.

He complimented the way American infantrymen handled Tuesday's Pusan riot—with concussion grenades instead of bullets.

The army disclosed it used 300 soldiers to overpower the spear, club, knife and flail-armed rioters.

Pair Attempt Assassination

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, May 22 — (Reuters). — Two men attempted Wednesday night to assassinate the Indonesian military attache in The Hague, Lt.-Col. H. T. Harjono, it was learned today.

A telephone caller told Harjono late Wednesday night to expect an important telegram. Shortly afterwards two men arrived and told him: "We have come to fetch the papers."

Harjono told them he had no papers and one of the men forced him to go with them. On the apartment stairs he was put up against a wall and threatened with a pistol.

He managed to grasp the man's wrist and the pistol discharged. The second man then aimed his pistol at Harjono and pulled the trigger. But the gun jammed and he slugged the attache with the butt.

The noise disturbed other people living in the block and the attackers fled, the sources said.

Hold Post-Mortem On 2,000-Yr.-Old Man

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, May 22 (AP).—Danes probing the interior of their 2,000-year-old man have decided that he probably suffered from liver trouble.

The well-preserved corpse from the Iron Age, recently found in a swamp in central Jutland, was given a post-mortem examination at the prehistoric museum at Aarhus Wednesday.

Archaeologists already have decided that the man died from mulytiple injuries he suffered when he was sacrificed to the Nordic goddess of fertility. After the rites, the body was lowered into the peat swamp, which preserved it.

Examination of the liver, Dr. Willy Munch of the museum staff said, showed it was diseased. Munch said it was the best preserved antique corpse he knows of, and that the "hair, nails and even fingerprints are virtually indistinguishable from those of a living man."

Scientist And Young Pilot Try To Fly Like Buzzard

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., May 22—(AP)—A scientist and a young pilot are trying to fly like the Mississippi buzzard.

Dr. August Raspet, head of the Aerophysics Department at the Mississippi State College, and Dick Johnson, world's distance title holder in soaring, are teamed in the unusual experiments with a sail plane.

Because the buzzard glides through the air with half the resistance, or drag, of man's most efficient sailplane, Dr. Raspet and Johnson want to find out how he does it.

Johnson goes up in a sailplane and plays tag with the buzzards and radios information to Dr. Raspet.

This system of following the birds worked fine for preliminary tests but the team now is ready for deeper scientific delving.

That calls for a trained buzzard to fly around pastures and cotton fields, carrying a barograph and other instruments.

Raspet found a naturalist who trained one.

The buzzard learned to fly at his master's whistle and carry the necessary instruments but he choked on a chicken bone and died.

Now Carter is training two squadrons of buzzards, one to fly in wind tunnels and the other in free flight.

UN Command Fears Russia Ready To Strike In Korea

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO, May 22. (AP)—United Nations officers are eyeing suspiciously a buildup of Soviet strength in Asia because of the danger that Russia might leap into the Korean war. There is nothing to indicate right now that the Soviets are planning any more than to keep Chinese and North Korean soldiers well supplied with arms, ammunition and vehicles. But the belief here is that if the Russians ever decide to touch off a third world war, Korea is just as likely a spot as Europe.

The power which controls Korea also controls Japan and Japan is the last stand of the free world in Asia.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's remarks in Washington that Russia is carrying on a big and "significant" military buildup put on the record what staff officers at his old headquarters here have been observing for more than a year.

The threat is closer now because Korean roads are just about thawed.

The North Korean Reds, Russian trained and Russian equipped, started the Korean war on June 25, 1950. Summer is the best period for movement of supplies and tanks.

Although the danger period is approaching, the general belief here, however, is that Russia probably is ready to enter the Korean war only in case the Chinese Communists need help.

Face Important

"Face" is an important thing in Asia. If the United Nations were to launch an all-out attack, threatening the Communists with defeat, Russia undoubtedly would step in to save China's reputation among her neighbors.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U.S. Eighth Army Commander, estimates the Communist strength in Korea at 750,000 men with a substantial reserve force in Manchuria.

Red air strength is about 1,500 planes, with half of them jets, according to Lt.-Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Force commander

Present Situation

The situation, when Ridgway turned over command to his successor, Gen. Mark Clark, was this:

1. Despite the armistice talks, military strength of the Chinese and North Korean Communists had increased.

2. Personnel and equipment losses have been replaced

3. Communist soldiers have been equipped with a substantial amount of new clothing, even to the extent of having surplus for civilians.

4. During the last nine months the Communists have dug themselves into new and deep positions, so well constructed as to compare to the famous military defence lines in Europe. The bunkers are heated in winter and well stocked with food and ammunition.

5. There is no doubt but that the Communists are planning on maintaining strong positions in Korea.

Jet Explodes Burns In Dive

RAMSGATE, Kent, Eng., May 22 (Reuters).—An American F-84 Thunderjet power-dived toward near-by Manston air base Wednesday and exploded about 20 feet above the ground as the pilot, Capt. John Patrick O'Brien, tried to pull out. O'Brien was killed.

The plane was one of five in a special U.S.A.F. aerobatics team giving a demonstration to a group of Scandinavian journalists.

The team, known as the Skyblazers, are based at Furstenbeldbruck, Germany. The pilots had flown here especially for the exhibition and were just about to leave on the return trip when the accident occurred.

A witness said the five planes dived down from about 2,000 feet at "terrific speed." O'Brien's plane was about 20 feet above the runway when it "disintegrated." The starboard wing and a wing-tip gas tank flew off, there was a big explosion and the plane crashed in flames.

This was the third F-84 crash at Manston in the last four weeks. The other two were based there. The last accident, last Wednesday, prompted the U.S.A.F. to ground all F-84's in Britain for inspection. The ban was lifted Sunday midnight.

U.S. Dollar Down

MONTREAL, May 22 — (CP)— The United States dollar today opened at a discount of 1 21/32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, down 1/32 from Wednesday's close. That is, it took $0.98 11/32 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.75⅜, down ⅛ from Wednesday.

Legion Votes Drop Word Conscription

Plan To Use Term Selective Service For Military Duty

MONTREAL, May 22. (CP)—The Canadian Legion, spurred by the objections of Quebec, has wiped its hands of the word conscription. It still thinks there should be peacetime conscription as part of an immediate drive to put Canada on a virtual war footing. But, the Legion's national convention decided Wednesday, it shouldn't be called conscription.

The new word is selective service. The convention agreed there should be selective service "forthwith" despite Defence Minister Claxton's implied statement of Tuesday that it isn't necessary.

Today, the big convention will elect its officers for the next two years, probably topped as president by Dr. C. B. Lumsden, a one-armed amputee veteran of the First World War who teaches Bible studies at Acadia University in Wolfville, N.S.

It is also scheduled to hear Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington tell what the federal government is doing about civil defence.

The biggest issue of the five-day convention — it ends Friday — wound up in a blast of unanimity Wednesday.

Once Quebec command put itself on record as opposing nothing about reaffirmation of the Legion's 1950 "total preparedness" program except the term conscription, agreement was in sight.

Quebec Objects

Alex Solomon, a Montreal business man who is the provincial command's first vice-president, said Quebec objects to the word because it has political connotations which are distasteful. If, he said, the convention could find its way clear to accept the term selective service, all would be well.

Delegates from the other provinces shouted their approval.

The convention then reaffirmed a sweeping declaration which, if adopted, would mobilize all Canada's resources, direct man and womanpower into whatever line of endeavor the government thinks would do the most for preparedness, speed up the military effort, bring in manpower selective service for employment anywhere in war, and establish a non-political advisory committee for the defence department.

A head-table interpretation of the resolution's key paragraphs said the Legion supports immediate steps to institute compulsory service in the reserve forces and compulsory service anywhere in the regular forces if war comes.

A few minutes later, the convention quickly approved a call for a Royal Commission inquiry into the set-up of the reserve forces which, it said, couldn't absorb draftees for 18 months yet anyway.

OBITUARY

MRS. W. G. WEDLOCK

OMEMEE, May 22 (ENS). — Mrs. William G. Wedlock, 49, died suddenly at her home in Omemee Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Wedlock, the former Daisy Adams, was born and educated in Omemee. She was a daughter of the late Robert J. Adams and Ella Stephenson.

On graduating as a nurse from Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, she spent a year in Philadelphia, Pa., after taking post-graduate work in Montreal, she held a position in the Windsor Metropolitan Hospital until her marriage in 1930, when she made her home in Peterborough. Seven years later they moved to Kirkland Lake. In 1941 when Mr. Wedlock enlisted in World War Two, Mrs. Wedlock went to Toronto. They have resided in Omemee since August 1949.

She leaves her husband, one sister, Mrs. L. Brown of Timmins, (Marjorie), and two brothers, Allan of Peterborough and Lewis of Toronto.

The funeral service will be held at the residence on Friday at 2:30 p.m., conducted by the Rev. Charles Richmond of Christ Anglican Church of which she was a member. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery, Peterborough.

Synopsis:

Skies cleared in Southern Ontario by Wednesday evening, and today dawned bright and clear over the province. Today will be sunny and warm in all regions and for most localities this fine May weather will continue Friday. However there is a weak disturbance over Kansas which spread showers eastward into Ohio during Wednesday night. As this low pressure area moves slowly southeastward, a few showers will edge into Southwestern Ontario tonight, and broken cloudiness will extend northward as far as Toronto Friday. The future progress of this new disturbance will determine the holiday weather for Southern Ontario.

Minden To Build Curling Rink To Cost 7,000

LINDSAY, May 22 — (ENS) — On Monday evening, President Ken Currie, called a meeting of the Minden Curling Club at the recreation centre to discuss the building of a new curling rink for Minden. A very large number of enthusiastic curlers were present.

During this meeting tentative plans were made to build a rink 50 feet by 150 feet in dimension, probably it will build on the site of the skating arena. Estimate of the costs of building range from $6,000 to $7,000.

Two sheets of ice will be installed the first year. Hugh Nichol was designated as secretary treasurer. A limited company may be formed selling preferred stock at $100 per share. Paying 5 per cent. interest. It is hoped that each member of the Curling Club will also buy $25 shares. The Minden Curling Club last year had a membership of 40 men and 40 women curlers. With the rink in Minden it is hoped that this number can be doubled. It is expected that the rinks can be erected in time to be used next winter. With a curling rink in Minden and one in Haliburton inter-village bonspiels can then be held.

April Credit Balance At $25,400,000

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP).—Canada scored another big credit balance in her foreign trade during April as imports sagged while exports continued to ride on a boom which may turn 1952 into the biggest exports year in history.

Shipments to all countries climbed by $50,000,000 to $350,600,000 during April, up from $300,200,000 last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday. Sales to the United Kingdom more than made up for a small decline to the United States.

Imports, on the other hand, dropped by $67,800,000 to $325,200,000 from $393,000,000, mainly because of reduced purchases from the U.S. and Britain.

Thus Canada scored a favorable monthly balance of $25,400,000 and brought the total credit balance for the four months of 1952 to $109,300,000, compared with a deficit of $117,000,000 in the same period last year.

The surplus in trade will help Canada meet her balance of payments problems. Last year she ran into a total deficit of some $500,000,000. She found dollars to make up the difference through a big inflow of capital. Otherwise she might have had to dig into her reserves of gold and dollars or float new loans in the United States to meet the deficit.

Credit Balances Help

Credit balances also appear to have the psychological effect of bolstering the value of the Canadian dollar in foreign markets. It portraits a sound and strengthening economy to the foreign investor.

The exports boost during April pushed total exports for the four months to a peak of $1,350,600,000 from $1,119,200,000 in the same period last year. If exports continue at this rate, Canada will break the record of almost $4,000,000,000 achieved for 1951.

With imports for April down, total purchases for the four months slipped to $1,241,300,000 from $1,336,000 last year. Imports last year reached a record of slightly more than $4,000,000,000. Imports now are tapering off from that high level.

Davies' Play Chosen For Drama Festival

King Phoenix, a three-act play by Robertson Davies has been chosen by the Peterborough Little Theatre as their entry for the 1953 Eastern Drama Festival.

This decision was made Wednesday night at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Little Theatre.

The group presented Shakespearian plays at the past two Eastern Ontario festivals. This will be the first time that King Phoenix has even been presented in the city.

It was also decided to choose one of several workshop plays that the group will be studying to present at the Peterborough Drama Festival in November.

Stole From Store Sentence Suspended

David Peters, 37, 283 Armour Rd., was placed on suspended sentence for one year today, after he pleaded guilty to stealing a half dozen pairs of men's stockings from a downtown department store on March 29.

"You are being given one more chance," Magistrate W. R. Philp told Peters who has a record of convictions for theft and fraud. The Magistrate said he was taking into consideration the fact that Peters had no convictions since 1938 and also the respesentations made on Peter's behalf by his counsel James F. Dunn.

Little Theatre Elects M. White President

Miss Margaret White was elected president of the Peterborough Little Theatre at the annual meeting of the Little Theatre Wednesday night.

Joseph Barnard was elected vice-president; Joan Brown, secretary; and Leonard McNeil business manager. Jack Nichols is the immediate past president.

The members elected to the executive committee were: Robertson Davies, Maralyn Munro, Gertrude Cox, Jack Hamer, Jean Leach, Dorothy Shannon, Mary Johnson, Douglas Warner, R. J. Bolton, Fern Rahmel.

U. E. CONFERENCE BOARD

Thirty delegates—including 10 from Peterborough—will attend the joint U.E.-G.E. conference board meeting tonight at the Union hall. The board includes all six locals in Toronto and Peterborough who are in the Canadian General Electric Co. chain and members of the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America. They represent some 7,000 production workers. Main items on the agenda will be a discussion of the company's offer on job rates, and a brief submitted to the company by the union on health, welfare and pension plans. Next Tuesday the union and company will discuss these plans.

50 Young People Visiting City

Approximately 50 members of the Creemore United Church Young Peoples Union are the guests of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce in the city today. Creemore is approximately 20 miles south of Collingwood.

The group, who travelled to Peterborough in a motor caravan of ten cars, were met three miles out of Peterborough on Highway 7 by Don Kingdon, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce and were given a police escort into the city.

Tour Plants

The group toured the Quaker Oats Co. in the morning and went to Inverlea Park for lunch. In the afternoon they were taken on a tour through the Outboard Marine Co. and to the lift lock.

Following a dinner tonight at the Club Aragon they will go to the Public Library, the guests both of the Chamber of Commerce and the Peterborough Film Council. They will be shown two films, The Call of the Kawarthas and an R.C.M.P. film, Connor's Case.

Mr. Kingdon explained that this is the first of a series of visits of groups from Ontario communities that will be organized during the next few months by the chamber. The purpose of these visits is to publicize Peterborough.

been made on many occasions from the fund.

The witness said liquor had been purchased out of the canteen-fund—part of the Christmas fund—for resale to hospital board members and staff and to Windsor Mayor Arthur J. Reaume. She did not know whether it had been paid for since records of the transactions had disappeared while she was on leave of absence.

She described two such liquor transactions which had taken place in 1947. In one instance 24 bottles of rye had been bought for $86.40. In another an unspecified amount was bought for $200.

Arthur A. Macdonald, chief counsel for the investigating body, said that when Mrs. Morley took over administration of the canteen fund in 1952 the income of the fund was in vivid contrast to its income a year previosuly when it was being handled by Dr. Morgan. Fund receipts in February and March 1952 were $856 and $969 respectively. In 1951 the figures were $252 and $404.

Mrs. Morley testified that on three occasions Dr. Morgan put into the Christmas fund pension money remaining when patients died instead of turning it over to the patients' families.

Find Few Changes In Market Prices

TORONTO, May 22 (CP) —Prices showed few changes today in slow early afternoon stock market dealings.

Industrial dealings shrank to a few selected leading issues while few golds, metals or oils attracted speculative interest. Volume for the first three hours was 1,051,000 shares.

Steels posted a scattered list of fractional advances. Utilities, agricultures, refining oils and manufacturing companies also drew firm support but foods and miscellaneous issues slipped.

Western oil leaders were firm but lower-priced issues dipped. Canadian Williston, Home oil and North Canadian edged upward.

Bast metals were mixed Coldstream Copper, Consolidated Smelters, Mindamar and Quemont strengthened while Dominion Asbestos, International Nickel and United Keno Hill weakened.

Jury Acquits McCullough, Rule Insanity

WINNIPEG, May 22 (CP)—An assize-court jury found Wednesday that Gavin McCullough was temporarily insane at the time of the prayer-session slaying of his seven-year-old foster-daughter, Jan. 25.

The 52-year-old office manager was acquitted of responsibility for the bludgeoning and strangulation of seven-year-old Martha Louise but was ordered to the provincial jail at Headingly, Man., "until the pleasure of the Lieutenant-Governor is known."

McCullough's wife, Lillian, 52, jointly charged with murder, will not face trial. She has been declared insane and is a patient in a mental hospital.

Police discovered the child's body in an upstairs bedroom of the suburban McCullough home when they were called to investigate the couple's behavior.

Neighbors said they were praying, clad only in night clothes, in a snow-covered vacant lot. The temperature was below zero on the morning of the murder, Jan. 25.

Four psychiatrists called by Crown Counsel W. J. Johnson testified Wednesday that they believed McCullough was insane at the time of the act.

Rare Type

Provincial psychiatrist Dr T. A. Pincock, of Winnipeg, said McCullough suffered from a rare type of insanity at the time of the slaying.

He said it was "folie a deux" (communicated or imposed insanity). When taken away from the conditions that imposed it, McCullough had regained his sanity.

Dr. Pincock said he believed Mrs. McCullough was suffering from a severe form of insanity and had infected her husband.

"He was dominated, tired out and confused, and had a belief in the imminent end of the world," Dr. Pincock said.

Another witness, Dr. Edward Johnson, of the Selkirk, Man., Mental Hospital, agreed with Dr. Pincock's diagnosis of McCullough's insanity. He said the illness could be either temporary or prolonged.

In McCullough's case it was "very temporary."

Simple Case

Crown Counsel Johnson said in a nine-minute address to the jury that the evidence resolved itself to simple lines.

It raised only one defence, the defence of insanity. There appeared to be but one verdict in view of the evidence. That was not guilty because of insanity.

Defence Counsel A. J. Stringer called no witnesses.

In his address he pointed to a "tragic set of cirmcumstances" and said a visit to Winnipeg of the Rev. A. C. Valdez, of Phoenix, Ariz., who conducted a faith-healing mission had influenced Mr. and Mrs. McCullough to a fanatic state.

Defence Group Plans Routes Through Lindsay

LINDSAY, May 22 (ENS)—Nine men met in Lindsay recently to make plans for civil defence in the town. According to government recommendations two routes through every major settlement have to be determined in case of an atomic attack.

Staff Inspector Creasey of the Ontario Provincial Police with Staff Sgt. McClure met with Police Chief Arthur Webster, Fire Chief Alec Wylie, Assistant Chief William Spencley, Col. Miller Shields of the Canadian arsenal, Dan McQuarrie, welfare chairman, Corporal Ken Denniss of the Lindsay O.P.P. detachment and Frank Williamson at the town's representative. The men met last week and planned disaster routes through the town. These are two routes through Lindsay, one a refugee route and the other a priority route. The priority or primary route is for essential civil defence traffic such as fire vehicles, police ambulance, supply convoys etc.

The secondary route is to be used for refugee traffic.

The idea behind the whole plan is to provide for quick and adequate routes to evacuate bomb-stricken metropolitan areas such as Toronto, Hamilton, Kingston, etc. All people from Toronto area are to be relegated to sparsely populated areas north of Lindsay. "The quicker refugees from bombed-out areas can be evacuated from the Toronto district, the better it will be for all concerned," said Chief Webster. The area of destruction that bombs of known size can penetrate is about 80 miles so that Lindsay would be just on the fringe of the radio-active circle of a bomb dropped on Toronto.

The primary emergency route through town enters via Highway 7, down Kent Street to Albert Street, north thence to Wellington Street, and east to Queen Street. Finally along and out the Downeyville Road to Highway 7 again via township road.

The secondary route for refugees enters town from the south on Highway 7, goes up Durham Street west to Angeline and on out Angeline to Highway No. 35.

Remand Two Youths On Charge Of Assault

COBOURG, May 22 (ENS) — Sixteen year old Clifford Bilcox of Vernonville and a 15-year-old lad from the same village were remanded until Friday by the justice of the peace on a charge of assault with intent to rob.

Their arrest came Tuesday night following the complaint of 56-year-old Reuben Ament of Shelter Valley Road that he was slugged by one of two teen-agers on Tuesday afternoon in the kitchen of his home. Ament didn't fall down under the blow and the two youths fled. Later police picked up Bilcox and the juvenile.

3 Men Missing

PHILADELPHIA, May 22 (AP) —Three men of a seven-man tugboat crew are missing after a pre-dawn collision in the Delaware river today. The United States coast guard reported four men of the crew of the tug Patco were picked up alive after the tug sank near Tinicum Island, off Chester, Pa., south of Philadelphia. The coast guard said the tanker American Dealer collided with two oil barges being towed by the Patco.

ACROSS BORDER — Negro baritone Paul Robeson, barred from entry into Canada, sang for two hours from a flatbed truck before some 6,000 persons at the Peace Arch Park at Blaine, Wash., near Vancouver on the Canada-United States border. Robeson's appearance was sponsored by the left-wing International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelters Workers (Ind.) of Vancouver. Scores of Washington State patrolmen and immigration officials mingled with the crowd, many of them Canadians, but there was no disorder.

Dom. Woollens Operates At Loss In '52

Annual report of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd. reflects the difficulties experienced by the textile industry in 1951. Operating loss for the year was $590,000 and the total deficit of $724,410 compares unfavorably with the 1950 net profit of $174,456.

Sales during the past year represented a high physical volume, bringing in $9,685,000 against $9,618,000 in 1950. However, sales in the latter part of the year were at unprofitable prices.

Uncertain Outlook

Outlook for 1952 is uncertain, said president Henry Barrett. Imports continue in large quantities at prices below Canadian costs.

Reason for 1951's unsatisfactory results were: the sharp decline in wool prices and the large volume of imports at low prices. During the latter part of 1951 it was impossible to recover full material costs in the selling price.

Lindsay May Lose Festival Speaker McQuarrie Claims

LINDSAY, May 22 (ENS). — Lindsay is in immediate danger of losing one of the finest organizations of its kind in the province and the greatest drawing card from a business standpoint that the town possesses. Such was the warning issued Monday at the Rotary Club meeting by Dan McQuarrie who urged that citizens awake to the cultural and business worth of the music festival which is "being driven out of town."

Quite apart from the good that is being done for the children of the town and country in a musical way, the festival draws more people to Lindsay than the Lindsay Central Exhibition, Mr. McQuarrie stated. He thanked those responsible for making Marsh Memorial Hall available for the festival when it had been "kicked out" of other places but pointed out that the facilities were not nearly adequate for the large crowds that wish to attend and stated that many had to be turned away.

Lack of suitable accommodation in Lindsay for the musical festival and of a suitable auditorium for any large gathering, including the school children of the town and country prompted the Lindsay Rotary Club to appoint a committee at their Monday meeting to interview Premier Frost with a view to having an auditorium included in plans for the new collegiate. No such facilities are included in the present plans. The committee appointed S. R. Pitts, Dr. R. M. Parker, Col. T. H. Eberlee and Mayor Charles Lamb.

Bear Steals Calf

LINDSAY, May 22 (ENS). — Some time during the weekend, a large bear killed and carried away a five-week-old calf from the farm of James Orr, Haliburton. Mr. Orr lives about a mile north of the village. Other than a small piece of hide, no further trace of the calf or the bear has been found.

Elections In Their Air

In this part of Ontario, with fishing and spring and gardens and lilacs now engaging our attention, politics have departed our atmosphere. None the less, politics are engaging the ears if not the minds of people elsewhere in Canada. Six by-elections are being held next Monday to fill vacancies in the Federal House. British Columbia is having general elections, so is Saskatchewan. There was a big fete for Premier Duplessis a few weeks ago on the anniversary of his entering politics twenty-five years ago. Judging by the trumpeting then, Quebec may soon have an election.

* * *

In the six by-elections on Monday only one is to fill a seat formerly held by a Conservative; that is in the riding of Victoria-Carlton in New Brunswick. The other five seats were held by Liberals: Waterloo North; Ontario (a seat Mr. Walter Thompson resigned to wage his ill-fated and not particularly admirable campaign in the Provincial elections last year); Brome-Missiquoi and Roberval in Quebec, and Gloucester in New Brunswick. The campaigning seems quiet, from the vantage point of Peterborough, except in Quebec where Duplessis party men are sniping at the Liberals. It is hard to predict which way local feelings are going. Since traditionally by-elections tend to swing away from the party in power, the Liberals may lose a seat or two.

* * *

In Saskatchewan the C.C.F. Government of T. C. Douglas is likely to win again. Saskatchewan has been enjoying a good measure of prosperity these last few years; the C.C.F. there have veered noticeably away from socialism; oil profits are in the offing, and the people seem reasonably contented with the way the Douglas government is running the province. The situation in British Columbia is obscure. For the first time in eleven years the Liberals and Conservatives are free from the shackles of coalition, but a religious rather than political issue is in the background of the elections: whether the Province will have state-supported separate Roman Catholic schools, or not. It seems that the electors are dividing not on whether the candidates are Liberal or Conservative, but on which side of the separate school question they support. They are asking their candidates to declare themselves on this issue. The results will be interesting.

A Plea For Bigness

The American government keeps an alert eye on huge corporations to ensure that they do not become grasping monopolies which would throttle all competition. The U.S. has stern anti-trust laws and official "trust-busters." In an article in the American magazine Collier's David E. Lilienthal questions the attitude which has created these laws and the government practice in forcing large corporations to pare themselves down.

He says that bigness and monopoly are no longer the same thing. Mr. Lilienthal knows something about both. He helped create the huge Government-controlled Tennessee Valley Authority, and is a former chairman of one of the biggest monopolies in the States, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

The people of the United States now produce as much as all the rest of the world combined. How has it been able to do this, with only six per cent. of the earth's population and natural resources? Lilienthal says that the key to American productive and distributing greatness is Bigness—a special skill in creating and operating large-scale undertakings.

> "This technique of production—and with it the equally important art of an ethical distribution of production—is a creative thing, a combination of poetry and sweat. It calls for imagination, vitality, faith, as well as the skills of science, management, human relations and modern governmental techniques. It is the most exciting spectacle in the history of the world—the unfolding of American productive and social genius."

Size, says Mr. Lilienthal, is the United States' greatest single functional asset.

He believes that the hazards of Bigness are still considerable but that the dangers "have been reduced to manageable proportions" because of changes in the power of the public to protect itself: the increase in the strength and influence of organized labour, the increased role of government in economic affairs, the growing evidence of public responsibility on the part of business leadership, and new methods of decentralizing huge economic interests. The danger now, says Mr. Lilienthal, is that old and outworn prejudices against Bigness are needlessly stifling progress. "What we do not fully comprehend is that a profound change has taken place in the past two or three decades in our dependence upon Bigness for the very life of the country."

Mr. Lilienthal thus advocates discarding a theory and attitude popular on every American political platform for most of this century. It was in 1914 that a joint committee told Congress that "The concentration of wealth, money and property in the United States under the control and in the hands of a few individuals or great corporations has grown to such an enormous extent that unless checked it will ultimately threaten the perpetuity of our institutions." The Federal Trade Commission was set up that year. In 1951 the Commission used almost the same words: "If nothing is done to check the growth in concentration, either the giant corporations will ultimately take over the country, or the government will be impelled to step in and impose some form of direct regulation."

If Mr. Lilienthal is right that:

> "The wonders that Bigness has been able to accomplish, despite having one hand tied behind its back, give some inkling of what benefits it could bring if we changed our policies and permitted and encouraged it to work with both hands."

—then the fear of the Federal Trade Commission is groundless. If Mr. Lilienthal is right, Canada's economy is in the right framework. Making allowance for the difference in population and national wealth, combines and corporations in the United States are mere pygmies in comparison with the industrial and commercial giants in Canada.

Ontario's Tourists Ate Two Million Dozen Eggs

The Ontario Department of Trade and Publicity estimates that the Province had four and a half million bona fide American tourists last year, apart from those who just came over an international bridge to shop, see a play, or to spend an evening.

These 4,500,000 Americans in the province during the summer did the following amazing things, according to the survey: They spent $50,000,000 on food and ate two million dozen eggs; two million quarts of milk, two thousand tons of meat, one million pounds of butter, 375 thousand bushels of potatoes, five million loaves of bread, and other thousands of pounds of foodstuffs got from farms. If these statistics present anything like a true picture, the farmers, the truckers, the food processing plants, wholesalers and merchants of Ontario profit enormously from the tourist trade.

So does the Ontario Government. The U.S. tourists last year are thought to have bought $12,356,000 worth of gasoline from service stations. This would net the Ontario Government a minimum of four million dollars in provincial gasoline taxes.

We dare not say that the figures given in this latest Ontario survey are statistically accurate or truly representative of the state of the tourist industry. They do at least confirm what everybody knows: that the tourist business is big business; and that it puts money in the pockets of almost everybody engaged in any kind of business or industry in Ontario, even outside the famous tourist areas like the Kawarthas.

Ontario draws more American tourists than does any other province, and it is well to foster the industry, if the Province and people are to reap the rewards which the Department of Travel and Publicity estimates. The Kawarthas are favourably situated to attract Americans. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that 49 per cent of the American tourists entering Ontario come from the east-north central states: Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana. Tourists can quickly get over the flat, uninteresting lands of south-western Ontario, travel their average 537 miles per car (that is the average distance which the Ontario department estimates American tourists travelled in Canada last year), and lo! they are in the heart, at the hub, or entering the gateway of the Kawarthas.

"Subman Of Pestilence"

Americans who do not "Like Ike" have done some pretty hefty mud-slinging and name-calling to detract from the General's chances of nomination. They have nothing like the vindictive force and calumny of the Soviet-sponsored Berlin newspaper Taegliche Rundschau which the other day gave this welcome to General Eisenhower's successor, General Ridgway: "Chief of Staff of the Armies of Aggression—Pest General—Cannibal—Member of the Military Underworld—Imperialist Highwayman—Terrorist—Grinning Plague General—Bacilli Horseman of the Apocalypse—Subman of Pestilence—Enemy of Mankind."

NOTES AND COMMENT

A Florida jury has acquitted a 16-years-old bride of murder; she killed her husband in an argument as to whether cream should be used in catfish chowder. It's a pity some of our Canadian brides can't work up a little interest in the niceties of cooking.

Rich Young Man With Big Mission

By JOHN WORRALL (in Capetown)

THE ONLY BACKBENCHER in the South African Parliament who can always command the rapt attention of a full house is young Mr. Harry Oppenheimer, United Party member for Kimberley City.

The reason for this is not entirely because he is next in succession to the throne of the world's biggest gold and diamond empire, and as such inevitably inspires a certain awe among the Union's legislators. He also happens to be one of the ablest members of South African Lower House.

Government and Opposition, front and back benchers crowd in from the lobbies to listen to him. Not that he speaks often. He chooses his moments carefully—the Budget debate, a question of economics, of high finance, of goldfields politics.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALWAYS COURTEOUS, often witty, speaking in the well-modulated tones of an Oxford don, he steps authoritatively through the labyrinths of capital movements, interest rates, overseas loans and fiscal questions with the sure foot of an expert in his own right.

No member of the House of Assembly can speak with such authority on gold, the life-blood of the South African nation. His father, Sir Ernest Oppenheimer, one of the richest men in the world, helped to make South Africa one of the world's premier gold-producing nations.

In recent years, Sir Ernest has shifted many of his financial responsibilities to the slim shoulders of his son; so that today Harry Oppenheimer stands at the apex of that hugely intricate structure of companies belonging to the Oppenheimer group, which dominate goldmining on the Rand, and are now busy pioneering the rich new finds in the Orange Free State.

✧ ✧ ✧

HARRY OPPENHEIMER is dark, slim and impeccably dressed. He looks much younger than his forty-four years. He has a modest and diffident manner, and a charm that puts you at your ease within a few seconds of meeting him.

He went to school at Charterhouse, and after taking an honours degree in political economy at Oxford, went into the De Beers diamond organisation at Kimberley—where he was born—to learn the diamond business from the bottom. After serving with the Desert Rats during the War, he stood for Parliament at the 1948 General Election, winning Kimberley City, his father's former constituency, for the United Party.

The 1951 session brought Harry Oppenheimer firmly into the public eye. Not only was he becoming recognised in political circles at the "coming man", but he was labelled by the Nationalists overnight as Public Enemy Number One when the United Africa Trust Fund emerged with him as chairman of trustees and one of the principal sponsors.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE FUND WAS SUPPORTED by many big industrial and commercial enterprises. It had a very thinly veiled anti-Nationalist flavour, to which the Malan Government reacted strongly.

Its principal objects were to build up a united democratic nation on the basis of the accepted constitution, the elimination of racialism, and to work towards full understanding and co-operation between all the races which make up the Union's population.

The Government was alarmed at the spectre of the money power of South Africa ranged against them on the side of the United Party. A series of bitter attacks were launched against Harry Oppenheimer, as the main sponsor and spokesman of the Fund.

The Government saw the Fund as a sinister capitalist organisation dictating the policy of the United Party. Oppenheimer, who has liberal views on the colour question, was accused of planning the abolition of the industrial colour bar—White South Africa's biggest bogy.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE NEXT EVENT, which dyed Oppenheimer an even deeper shade of black, was the sudden spectacular appearance of the War Veterans Torch Commando. This virile movement was linked inevitably with Harry Oppenheimer, because its leader, Group Captain "Sailor" Malan, had been Oppenheimer's political secretary in the De Beers organisation, and was known to be a close personal friend.

Harry Oppenheimer has always denied that he had any part in the birth of the Torch Commando, although it is admitted that the Trust Fund has contributed to Commando funds.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN RECENT weeks Nationalist attacks on Harry Oppenheimer—some of them open outbursts of anti-Semitism—have coincided with accusations of subversion against the Torch Commando. These culminated in Dr. Malan's recent declaration that Harry Oppenheimer was behind "all the opposition to apartheid."

"He has more power today than anyone ever has had in South Africa", Dr. Malan told a Nationalist meeting in the Transvaal. "He has placed his millions at the disposal of the United Party."

Harry Oppenheimer, sitting in his modest office in St. George's Street, Cape Town, which he uses while he is down for the session, just laughs at these allegations.

"We should soon have trouble with our shareholders which are of all parties if we used their money for political purposes," he says.

✧ ✧ ✧

AT THE SUGGESTION that the Trust Fund is in the region of £1,000,000 he also laughs. Nevertheless, he will not reveal the the exact size of the Fund, even when pressed.

You cannot help being impressed by the sincerity and ardour of this young man for the cause of a more united and peaceful South Africa. He believes passionately that the two White races are capable of working out their salvation on a basis of justice for the non-Europeans. He believes in opening up the Union to immigration. He believes, in common with the growing number of industrialists, that the only way to solve South Africa's acute labour shortage is to open up jobs to more skilled non-Europeans. Fluently bi-lingual, himself, he is a firm believer in maintaining the two official languages—English and Afrikaans.

How powerful is Harry Oppenheimer? In view of his position it would be strange if there were not some strings he was able to pull when he chose. But he is no Rhodes.

He is not out on some gigantic empire-building spree. So long as he feels that the United Party, the Torch Commando and the United South Africa Trust Fund are the best instruments for achieving the goal he has set himself, then he will continue to throw in his not inconsiderable weight on their side of the South African tug o' war.

An American Opinion: "Don't Change a Word—Print It All!"

Bertrand Russell – Aristocratic 'Devil'

By MICHAEL DAVIE

BERTRAND RUSSELL, the third Earl Russell, was eighty last Sunday. Balanced precariously on his short body, his great head is still, however, capable of generating shocking thoughts, while his expression remains that of a cheerful and superior imp.

Russell now is respectfully regarded by the State (he is an O.M.), by foreign countries, (he is a Nobel Prizewinner), and by popular opinion (he is a successful broadcaster), as a great man.

In the past, he has been taken, if not for the Devil, at least for a close ally. In 1917, he was imprisoned for denouncing the war and simultaneously expelled from his Fellowship at Trinity College, Cambridge. In 1940, a New York college fired him on the ground that his views, especially on sexual morality, were destructive of public morals. Russell at eighty remains unrepentantly unrespectable. Only Bernard Shaw, in this century, preserved into old age such a capacity for tying squibs onto the world's tail.

British philosophers, in the last 150 years, have been on the whole content to philosophise in their studies. Russell, the most famous if not the best living British philosopher, has not; he has always been more of an aristocrat than a don. A Prime Minister's widow brought him up. At twenty, contemplating his relations in the Cabinet, he presumed he would have to be Prime Minister himself. The prospect bored him. He tried, instead, a don's life. Before he was forty, he had pioneered a new course for British philosophy: a course, typically, concerned less with the meaning of life than with the meaning of language.

But the aristocrat beat the don. Although Russell became a Socialist and gave away his property, his aristocratic disregard for society and society's opinions remained and remain. Between the wars he lived less like a scholar than like a journalist and essayist, pouring out books written in one of the most lucid prose styles of our time, attacking Communism (as early as 1920), Fascism, nationalism, bishops and conventions, and worshipping reason as his only god.

Society, its feeling outraged, struck back. Russell bounced, and society has now bowed to him. But the gay beam of his intellect still swings round, still burning fiercely with a doubt which is more illuminating than most brands of burning faith.

The Weapon To End All Wars

(Montreal Gazette)

When the atomic bomb was discovered, many people said that it was so horrible a weapon that it would likely mean the end of wars.

But when each new weapon is discovered, the same thing is said. Back in the year 1806 the American scientist, Robert Fulton, was experimenting with the explosive power of torpedoes. With regard to his new discoveries, he said: "I have no doubt war will be put to an end by being rendered so murderous that by common consent it will be abandoned.

Back in the 18th century a French Huguenot made a weapon so frightful that he predicted it would soon end all wars. That weapon was recently put on display in the Tower of London. It is a breech-loading carbine especially made for King George I of England.

The frightfulness of weapons, unfortunately, seems to be relative.

Submarine Danger

(Brantford Expositor)

One of the most persistent advocates of an adequate anti-submarine force for Canada is the Chief of Naval Staff, Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy. In his address to the University of Saskatchewan convocation, he re-emphasized that the submarine was a more serious threat now than it had ever been. Remarking that "the only possible enemy is well aware" of how submarines have improved, he said that the existing Russian submarine strength was already far greater than that which Germany had at the beginning of the Second World War.

What A Difference?

(Lethbridge Herald)

Fast-growing Edmontons funded debt at the end of 1951 was $0,500,000. This was an increase of $11,000,000 in one year. This year the capital city is borrowing heavily again to keep up with public improvements, schools, hospitals and the like as the biggest city in Alberta pushes up to the 200,000 mark.

The province of Alberta has a net funded debt of some $98,000,000, according to Premier Manning's last budget. Against this it has a "kitty" taken out of the oil wealth that is rolling into the province's coffers of $72,-000,000.

The province, with 900,000 people, owes $26,000,000 net. The city of Edmonton, with 170,000 people, owes $40,500,000.

What is happening to Edmonton is happening to every municipality in the province rural and urban. The municipalities are carrying the load while the province boasts of its bloated money bags.

Alberta government boasts about its generosity to the municipalities are a lot of eye wash. The figures tell the story.

Student Riots

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record

A form of madness and lack of restraint questioning the intelligence of American university students have been evident at a number of U.S. school recently. Demonstrations have taken the form of riots and so-called "pantie raids". In some of the outbursts students blocked streets, set fires in the middle of the streets, set off firecrackers and littered areas with paper and pillow stuffing.

Such incidents do not speak well for the disciplinary systems at U.S. institutions of higher learning.

As for the students acting in such unbecoming ways and creating a public nuisance, it would appear that they should be allowed less rope and given more work.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord, according as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue: whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity. For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

But he that lacketh these things is blind and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins. Wherefore, the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall: for so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. (II Pet. 1: 2-11.)

With Footnotes

(Winnipeg Free Press)

Awaiting Congressional consideration is the McCarran-Walter immigration bill, which has been severely criticized in U.S. liberal newspapers as discriminatory and of a character to create new barriers in the path of migration. For pointed comment however few of the editorials compare with a letter addressed to a New York newspaper recently by one, Mr. Arthur Silverblatt.

Mr. Silverblatt's method is to quote the verse of Emma Lazarus inscribed on the Statute of Liberty with the modifications which he thinks passage of the bill would make necessary appended as footnotes. The relevant portion of his letter follows.

Give me your tired (1), your poor (2),
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free(3),
The wretched refuse (4) of your teeming shore,
Send these, the homeless (5), tempest-tossed to me:
I lift my lamp (6) beside the golden door.

(1) Except those who, in the opinion of a consular officer, are "likely at any time to become public charges" (Sec. 212a).

(2) But only those of "higher eduation, technical training, specialized experience or exceptional ability" who are "needed urgently in the United States."

(3) Subject of course to the widened grounds for deportation contained in Sec. 241, which includes traffic offences as grounds and other restrictive provisions.

(4) But not including any person "attributable by as much as one half of his ancestry" to Asiatic races, regardless of the citizenship or country of birth of such person. (Sec. 202b).

(5) Except those convicted by foreign courts even if the offence involves no 'moral turpitude' by American standards. (Sec. 212.)

(6) Which lamp may be turned out under a provision authorizing the executive to set up new restrictions, and even absolute bars against immigration without legislative or judicial review, in peace time as well as war time. (Sec. 212a.)

We do not boast a Statue of Liberty in any of our ports of entry. Parliament nonetheless should be equally wary of clauses in Canadian immigration regulations which invite just such comments as those so neatly entered here by Mr. Silverblatt.

Jones: "Heaven bless him! He showed confidence in me when the clouds were dark and threatening."

Robinson: "In what way?"

"He lent me an umbrella."

"Germany rearming only a few miles across the sea isn't going to stop me having a paddle."

Largest Lock Opened In Holland

TIEL, The Netherlands, May 22 (Reuters). — The largest inland navigation lock in the world and a new stretch of canal linking the heavy river traffic of inland Europe with the North Sea were opened Wednesday by Queen Juliana.

The 45-mile Amsterdam-Rhine Canal, which cost about $23,800,000, will take ships up to 4,000 tons and halve the shipping time between Amsterdam and the Rhine to about 20 hours.

Yachts, canoes, and motorboats lined the canal as the Queen, accompanied by Prince Bernhard and the three princesses, steamed in the royal yacht through the 190-ton gates of the new lock.

Thousands cheered as the Queen took the helm and steered the yacht through a ribbon stretched across the canal.

New River Mouth

The waterway gives the Rhine a new river mouth into Amsterdam and eliminates the series of smaller, obsolete canals which have previously provided the waterway.

The lock at Tiel, where the canal joins the Waal River, or upper Rhine, is 1,170 feet long. Two other locks on the canal were also opened today.

The new canal opens a direct canal-river waterway from the sea to Basle, Switzerland, 500 miles away. France, Germany, Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Hungary, and Czechoslovakia now have a more direct link with the ocean.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Plenty of fight fans were surprised the other day when one Yoshiro Shirai of Japan defeated Dado Marino of Honolulu for the world's flyweight title. First boxing crown in the history of the Land of the Rising Sun, and 42,000 Tokyo fans were quite pleased indeed. Shirai is a young veteran of the Jap army in the last war and he has been managed some five years by an American botanist stationed over there. While baseball is pretty popular in Japan and they go in for some real heavyweight wrestling, boxing never did make much headway in that Far Eastern country. So, Shirai's victory was all the sweeter. Some touring Jap grapplers showed here last winter.

Three well-known local softballers lead their teams into action tonight in the Ashburnham Bowl, weather permitting, for the opening twin bill of the City League. Seven p.m. game has George Hawkes piloting Revoy's against U.E.W., skippered by Buck Legrow. Nightcap sees Lindsay's new entry go against Red Sullivan's East City crew. Fifth club in the circuit is Lakefield with Tom Junkin in charge. Don't know who manages Lindsay yet. An opening ceremony and a draw included on the planned program as the male softballers pry off the w.k. lid to start the semester.

McPhail Leads Toronto

Senior lacrossers practise tonight at seven—followed by a junior workout—in preparation for the O.L.A. senior scrap at Miller Bowl on Friday eve. That one has Don (Scotty) McPhail and his Toronto Yorks on deck 'gainst Bob Thorpe's local Timbermen. The Petes then trek Saturday to Owen Sound. McPhail is playing coach of the Yorks and his lineup includes: Nick Ferri, Ralph Gowland, Bob Hillson, Cam Sheppard, Clark Lyons, Jim McNulty, Leo Teatro, Bruce Webster, Bill Timpson, Frank Facto, George Johnston and several more. They've started off strong and should supply stiff opposition for the Mann Cup champs in this weekend engagement.

May 24th has always meant senior baseball in Peter Robinson's borough, and that's true this year. A game half twilight and part floodlight—it commences at seven p.m.—is listed for Riverside Park on Saturday to commence the C.O.B.L. schedule. Yes, it's Kingston Ponies vs. the Petes, ye olde tyme enemies of the Central League. First time in three years for the local diamondeers to play in this loop as they were in the Viaduct League the past two summers. Kingston had a whirl at minor pro ball but are now settling for the senior "A" amateur brand. Given good weather, this opening tussle should draw out a hefty crowd of ball fans.

They Could Use Griffin

Wouldn't Don Griffin of Peterborough fit it nicely on the Canadian Olympic basketball team which heads for Helsinki in July? Tillsonburg Livingstons, Canuck senior cage champs, presently lead the best-of-five Olympic trials series by two games to one over Western Mustangs, fourth fray being Friday. The series winners are allowed to bloster a bit in order to send the best possible amateur hoop squad over as Canada's representatives in the Olympic Summer Games this year. Don Griffin of Queen's was the only unanimous choice this year on the intercollegiate all-star basketball team. This high-scoring star should fit in perfectly on the big team.

Recreation Commission and the Jaycees again are joint sponsors of the lakeshore track and field meet in Morrow Park on May 24, same as a year ago. More than 300 girl and boy athletes are expected to compete here, high schoolers from Pickering, Oshawa, Uxbridge, Lindsay, Bowmanville, Campbellford and Peterborough. This is a sort of elimination meet and the ultimate goal is a crack at the provincial championships in London on June 14 when all eight sections of Ontario will be represented by the cream of the crop in track and field prowess. Local runners and jumpers have been training hard for this weekend's afternoon meet.

Mustangs Pull Off Surprise Beat Out Livvies In 83-82 Win

TILLSONBURG, May 22 (CP)—Citizens of this basketball happy western Ontario town today are a little worried about their Canadian senior champions. They aren't so cocksure now that the Livingstons will form the major part of Canada's basketball team at the summer Olympic games in Finland.

They have every reason to be deflated after what happened on Wednesday night when the underdog University of Western Ontario Mustangs came up off the floor to extend the best-of-five Olympic trials to at least four games with a tension-packed 83-82 victory. The Livvies won the first two by 79-65 and 75-69 scores.

A huge chunk of the credit should go to Bill Pataky who rose to the heights with only nine seconds of the game remaining. Pataky, no particular ball of fire in the opening games, scored the winning points and was third highest scorer on the Mustang team for the night with 14.

If there must be a goat, the tag probably will go to Carl Ridd, one of the best players in the country who joined the Livvies after Tillsonburg beat his club, Winnipeg Grads, in the senior final. He missed a free throw that would have tied the game with only one second to play in the game.

Just Misses

The Winnipegger's toss rimmed the basket with Tillsonburg behind 83-82. Allowed to play in the series by the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, he has been suffering from a bad cold and a charley horse and has been used sparingly in the series.

The crowd of 3,000 that jammed the arena for the game practically everyone figured would decide the team to represent Canada at the Olympics, saw the collegians battle it out on even terms throughout most of the game. They even outplayed the Livvies in the second quarter with a 43-36 lead and at one point in the last 10 minutes held a 76-71 edge.

The turning point came late in the game when Tillsonburg, ahead 82-81, tried the strategy of "freezing" the ball. They didn't figure on Pataky.

The collegian took the ball from playing-coach Paul Thomas at centre and went right through for his lay-up shot. The Mustangs entered the quarter on the short end of a 61-59 count and it was dog eat dog for the 10 minutes with the score changing hands several times.

Doug McNichol, high scorer of the series to date, came up with a 27-point effort, tops for the night.

Thirty-seven fouls were called against the Mustangs and 31 against Tillsonburg. The collegians, who faded in the late stages in the opening games, lost four players via the foul route in the fourth quarter while Livvies lost two.

Peterborough Team Second In Tourney

The third annual regional bowling tournament of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation was held at Kingston on May 17 with 13 teams, representing branches and regional offices in Montreal, Ottawa, Ajax, Toronto, Kingston and Peterborough tkaing part.

The Peterborough team consisted of Betty Worrall, Jane Tivy, Ed Collins, Norm Gibson, and Al Revie and placed second in the standing for the second consecutive year. Norm Gibson took the men's high single and high cross with scores of 303 and 734 respectively.

During the evening a banquet for the 130 guests was held at which D. B. Mansur, president of the corporation, presented the regional trophy to the winning team from Montreal.

Play-By-Play Inning

BROOKLYN, May 22 (AP).—Here's the play by play for the Dodgers' record-breaking 15-run first inning against Cincinnati on Wednesday night:

Adams threw out Cox. Reese walked. Snider hit a home run over the scoreboard, scoring Reese ahead of him. Robinson dropped a Texas leaguer in left field for a double. Pafko walked. Shuba singled to right, scoring Robinson, Pafko stopping at second. Byerly replaced Blackwell. On an attempted double steal, Pafko was out at third, Howell to Adams. Shuba went to second on the play. Hodges walked. Walker singled to right scoring Shuba, Hodges stopping at third. Van Cuyk singled to left scoring Hodges, Walker stopping at second. Cox, batting for the second time, singled to left, scoring Walker, Van Cuyk stopping at second. Reese singled to left scoring Van Cuyk, Cox stopping at second. Wehmeier went to the mound for Cincinnati. Snider walked filling the bases. Robinson was hit by a pitched ball forcing home Cox. Pafko singled to left scoring Reese and Snider, Robinson stopping at second. Smith replaced Wehmeier. Shuba walked filling the bases. Hodges walked forcing home Robinson. Walker's bounder took a bad hop over Hatton's head for a single scoring Pafko and Shuba and sending Hodges to third. Van Cuyk singled through the box scoring Hodges, Walker stopping at second. Cox, batting for the third time in the inning was hit by a pitched ball filling the bases. Morgan ran for Cox Reese walked forcing home Walker. Snider looked at a curve for a third strike.

Fifteen runs, ten hits, no errors, three left.

Big Track Meet Arranged In Morrow Park

More than 200 high school students from Oshawa, Pickering, Lindsay, Campbellford, Uxbridge, Bowmanville and Peterborough have entered the Peterborough and district high school track and field meet Saturday at the exhibition grounds.

The boys and girls will be contesting in senior, intermediate and junior age groups for Lake Ontario district championships and school honors. The winners will advance into the C.O.S.S.A. finals May 31 and from there into the Ontario tracks and field meet in London on June 14.

A year ago the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the recreation commission sponsored the first large track and field meet for high schools in the area. The team championship fell to Oshawa. Again this year the meet has the same sponsors, with recreation director Alex Sinclair as meet director.

Biggest Entry

The largest number of entries is in the senior boys' class, youths under 20 years. There the main interest is in the dashes, 100-yard, 220-yard, 440-yard, and in the longer runs, the half-mile and the mile. In addition there are events in high jumps, broad jumps, hop, step and jump, pole vault, shot put, discus and medley relay.

The junior boys' lineup is much the same except the dashes, 75 yards, 100 yards and no 440-yard run.

The junior boys, under 15 years, have dashes of 50, 75 and 100 yards as well as the running high and broad jumps, the shot put and a relay.

The senior and junior girls' events are the same, beginning with 50, 75 and 100-yard dashes, running broad and high jumps, softball throw and relay. The junior girls will not have a 100-yard dash.

The schools throughout the district have been holding school trials during the past two weeks to determine their teams. Two entries only from each school are allowed for each event, allowing only the schools' best to compete.

O.L.A. Junior Schedule

The Peterborough junior O.L.A. entry, the Filter Queens, commence their schedule in Brampton on June 7 and at home June 9. Playoffs call for fourth vs. second, and third vs. first, with semi-finals and finals best-of-five series. Games here start at 8:15 p.m. Following is the local schedule:

June 7—Petes at Brampton
9—Dundas at Petes
13—Petes at Mimico
16—Brampton at Petes
18—Petes at Toronto
23—Toronto at Petes
28—St. Kitt's at Petes (4 pts.)
July 5—Petes at Brampton
7—Petes at Dundas
9—Petes at St. Kitts (4 pts.)
11—Mimico at Petes
14—Brampton at Petes
17—Petes at Mimico
19—Toronto at Petes
Aug. 1—Dundas at Petes
6—Petes at Toronto
9—Mimico at Petes
11—Petes at Dundas

Hear Pendleton May Be Traded

By The Canadian Press.

Jim Pendleton is one of the reasons Montreal Royals are leading the International League by 4½ games.

The 26-year-old Negro from St. Louis is playing a bang-up game at shortstop for the Royals. But that fact, and his ability as an outfielder, might mean the Royals will have to let him go sometime soon.

There have been rumors that Pendleton may be included in a package with two or three other players to be traded by Brooklyn Dodgers, Royals' parent club, to Cincinnati for an established pitcher.

Activity in the league was washed out Wednesday. Three night games are scheduled today—Rochester at Montreal, Syracuse at Ottawa and Buffalo at Toronto.

Dodgers Annihilate Reds Score 15 Runs In 1st Innings 19-1 Rout

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Call the cops. Murder Incorpated is back in business at Brooklyn. With 15—count 'em, 15—record-breaking runs in the first inning, Boss Chuck (the Brain) Dressen's Dodgers did everything but bundle Cincinnati Reds in a cement vest. Fight referee Ruby Goldstein would have stopped it after the third pitcher was knocked out. And what did Dressen say? "Maybe we snapped out of our hitting slump." That wins the rubber ice pick as the understatement of the year.

Dressen's Dodger ruffians even roughed up the little red book of baseball. The statisticians will be busy for days, typing new lines into the old book.

Five records got the rubber hose treatment in the first inning while the Dodgers flexed their muscles for the home folks in a 19-1 rout of Cincy.

Maybe they'll find new broken records when they sweep out the wreckage at Brooklyn this morning. Here's what they found on Wednesday night.

1. Modern major league record of most runs scored in an inning, 15. (All-time high is 18 scored by Chicago Cubs, Sept. 6, 1883.)

2. Modern major league record for most times facing opposing pitcher in one inning, 21. (All-time high is 23, by those same Cubs in '83).

3. Major league record for runs scored in inning after two were out, 12.

4. Major league record for most runs batted in one inning, 15.

5. Major league record for most men reaching base safely in succession, 19.

For Good Measure

Just for good measure, Billy Cox, Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider tied a record by going to bat three times in an inning and Reese, Snider, Jackie Robinson, Gil Hodges, George Shuba and Rube Walker tied another by scoring twice.

To rub it in, pitcher Chris Van Cuyk's four hits—two of them in the big inning—were one more than he had in his big league career before Wednesday night. It was a romp for big Chris with an easy-going five-hitter for his third win. The only run was Dixie Howell's fifth-inning homer, his first hit of the year.

In the 15-run inning, the Dodgers had 10 hits—eight of them singles—seven walks and two hit batsmen.

Brooklyn took over undisputed possession of the National League lead as New York Giants split a day-night doubleheader with St. Louis. Cliff Chambers shut out the 1951 champs with four hits to hand Larry Jansen his first loss in the 3-0 day game. But Dave Kelso an old Cardinal jinx, came back to rack up St. Louis 8-1 for the 10th straight time since June 11, 1950.

Robin Roberts of the Phillies won his seventh straight since losing the opener by turning back Pittsburgh, 7-3, for the Pirates' 27th loss in 32 starts.

Tries Hard

Detroit's Virgil Trucks ran his hitless string to 15 2-3 innings in a bid for a second straight no-hitter before Billy Hitchcock of the Philadelphia A's broke the spell with one out in the seventh inning. Trucks' hitless string included one-third of an inning against Chicago, May 9, nine innings against Washington last Thursday and Wednesday's 6 1-3 frames.

Obviously nervous under the strain of trying to equal Johnny Vander Meer's 1938 record Trucks lost his control after the hit and had to be removed in the eighth. Dick Littlefield finished up his two-hitter for a 5-1 victory.

Cleveland lengthened its lead to three full games in the American as Early Wynn and reliefer Mike Garcia proved too much for the Boston Red Sox in a 5-1 night win. St. Louis Browns helped the Tribe by knocking off second place Washington, 2-1, when Sid Hudson walked home the winning run with the bases loaded in the 10th inning.

Allie Reynolds turned back Chicago with five hits and delivered a triple and single in the New York Yankees' 5-1 win, their eighth in the last 10 games.

The scheduled Chicago-at-Boston game in the National was rained out.

BC Development Annoys Senator

OTTAWA, May 22 — (CP). — Senator Thomas Reid (L.-British Columbia) said Wednesday that British Columbians are being conditioned by a propaganda campaign to forget the fishing industry in favor of dams and water power.

Senator Reid, chairman of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission, said much of the propaganda came from the Aluminum Company of Canada.

He spoke as the Senate sent to committee for detailed study a Bill authorizing the Canadian National Railways to build a 46-mile rail line from Terrace, B.C., to the Aluminum Company's $500,000,000 development at Kitimat.

"No more callous group of men ever came into the Province of British Columbia than the Aluminum people," he said.

"It has taken over a year and a half to two years to get the officials of this company down to the point where they are considering allowing sufficient quantities of water to enable sockeyes salmon to go farther up the river to spawn."

He said he doubts if the proposed agreement for protection of fisheries will provide enough water of the right temperature for sockeye spawning.

Legrow Signs Players

Playing manager Buck Legrow of the U.E.W. softballers in the City Softball League has signed the following players: Jake Wade, Reg. Leether, Bernie Robson, Len Williams, Jack White, Jim Conlin, Jerry Driscoll, Ray Craig, Tony Giardino, Howie Dalton, Harold Grafstein, Bruce Taylor, Johnny Balkwell and Legrow himself.

These players are to report to the Bowl at 6:15 tonight to help open the men's softball schedule.

Declares High Taxes Now Major Issue

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 22 (CP)—E. B. Joliffe, provincial C.C.F. leader, said Wednesday night that high taxes are becoming a major issue in every level of government in Canada.

"Pensions, family allowances and the like get the blame" he told a banquet of the Welland County C. C. F. Association. "Others will talk about the cost of the defence program."

"Actually most of our taxes are not being spent on either welfare or defence, but on a host of other things, including huge and indefensible surpluses."

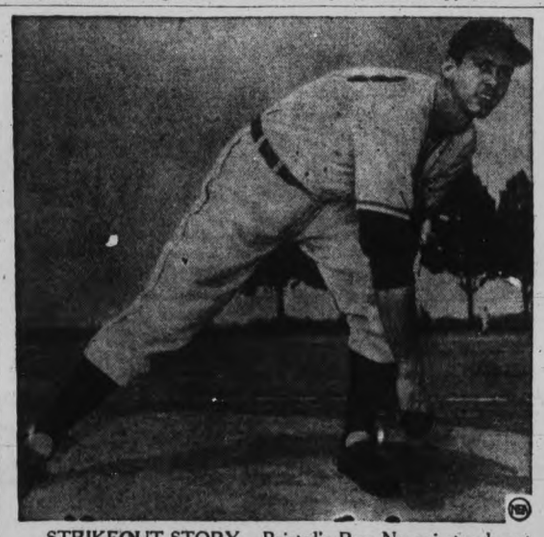
Frederic E. Dougall Publisher Dies

MONTREAL, May 22—(CP)—Frederic E. Dougall, 84, only surviving male member of a family which had a 105-year publishing career in Montreal, died Tuesday.

Mr. Dougall was publisher of The Montreal Witness, a daily from 1860 to 1913 and a weekly from 1913 until publication was suspended in 1938.

Other publications included World Wide, a news magazine published prior to the Second World War, and the Northern Messenger, a weekly Sunday school and home magazine published continuously for 87 years until July, 1950.



STRIKEOUT STORY—Bristol's Ron Neccai struck out 27 Welch, Va., batters in nine innings in the Class D Appalachian League to earn himself a "night" and promotion to a circuit of higher classification. This ran the incredible 19-year-old six-foot five-inch Pittsburgh farm hand's total to 77 strikeouts in 32 innings.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The Ontario Racing Commission kept mum Wednesday on a poser set by the three-entry stable of E. P. Taylor for the May 24 Queen's Plate in Toronto.

The O.R.C. dealt with the question but a spokesman said only "no comment" when asked if a decision had been reached.

Taylor has Acadian and Red Martlet entered and Dress Circle is entered under the name of his wife. Racing interests are asking whether it is a contravention of a commission ruling that: "Not more than two horses of the same ownership or interest shall be entered in a race."

Meantime, a poll of 16 trainers and owners showed the stable to beat is Taylor's. Five picked Acadian to win while others made Dress Circle their choice.

Jake Lamotta made his bull-like rushes pay off Wednesday night as he won a unanimous 10-round decision at Detroit Olympia over Gene Silent Hairston, 22. The former middleweight champ, now 30, tore into Hairston with windmill punches in the late rounds.

Undefeated Chuck Davey was signed at Detroit Wednesday for a return bout with Chico Vejar June 11. Davey won a unanimous 10-round decision over the Stamford, Conn., welterweight in Chicago May 7 after four knockdowns. The action-packed bout was acclaimed by many fight fans as the finest clash of the season.

Jean-Marc Beliveau, highly-publicized Quebec Aces hockey star, had an interview in Montreal Wednesday with Senator Donat Raymond, president of the Montreal Canadiens, but no decision was announced whether the classy centre will turn professional with the National Hockey League team next fall.

Russian Athletes may prove the potent "dark horses" of the Olympic games at Helsinki this summer, Richard M. Ritter, member of the United States Olympic committee, said Wednesday in New York. "We have been informed that Russia has had 2,000 athletes under intense training for two years," he said. "We know they are determined to make a tremendous showing for political reasons."

Promoter Herman Taylor announced Wednesday at Philadelphia that a $175,000 television package had been signed for the June 4 world heavyweight title fight between champion Jersey Joe Walcott and former titleholder Ezzard Charles. The Philadelphia area will be blacked out.

"GATINEAU RIVER" — This Gatineau River scene is one of the three paintings by Field-Marshal Earl Alexander now on display in London's Royal Academy. Lord Alexander, now Britain's Defence Minister, painted the pictures while he was Canada's Governor-General. The Royal Academy exhibition runs until August 24. The other paintings by Lord Alexander are "Ottawa" and "From My Studio Window." A landscape by Prime Minister Churchill also is among the 1,579 pictures hung.

Advise Shoring To Halt Erosion

COBOURG, May 22 (ENS) —A consulting engineer, called in by the public utilities commission to advise what can be done to halt erosion by Lake Ontario which threatens the wall of the water pumping station, Wednesday inspected the area and after making a verbal report told the Commission that he would forward a detailed report as soon as possible. Meanwhile the town engineer will make a survey to speed up the preliminary work.

A storm last week ate the bank away until only ten feet of solid land extends to the southwest corner of the pump house. The consulting engineer suggested driving in I-beams at intervals of 12 feet, 20 feet out from the shore line and dropping between the flanges, creosoted fir timbers. He estimated that it would take 275 feet of this construction to provide adequate protection.

Agree College Students Ignorant Of English But Professors Can't Agree On Solution

TORONTO, May 22 (CP)—Canadian University students nave too little knowledge of how to use English corrcetly, university professors agreed Wednesday night. But they couldn't agree on what to do about it.

The 75 professors, attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Conference of University Teachers of English did conclude that smaller classes would help.

Prof. F. M. Salter of the University of Alberta said: "We've got to get them interested. We can't do it by teaching them 29 rules for use of the comma."

Prof. John Peter of the University of Manitoba said English is badly taught in high schools. "What the schools are doing, I don't know. What the Universities are doing they shouldn't be doing."

Prof. Henry Alexander, head of the English department at Queen's University, said there is a group at the bottom of the freshman class which should not be at the University.

Prof. Arnold Edinborough of Queen's suggested the way to a better level of English is through reading aloud and emphasizing the spoken language.

Dick Powell May Give Up Acting Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 22—(AP)—Now it - Dick Powell who's toying with the idea of ending his acting career.

Recently the story was tagged onto Mrs. Powell, known to the movie-going set as June Allyson. She was reported ready to chuck her movie career in favor of one at home with her two children.

"I don't know how that story got started," said Powell. "June has never said that she would quit making pictures. But I'm sure of one thing—she's through making bad pictures.

No Parts

"I can't understand this studio (M.G.M.). Here they have the outstanding female attraction of the screen today; the polls have proved that. And yet they have no pictures for her. In the recent announcement of future production there wasn't one picture named for her. The pictures she has done lately have not been outstanding.

"June has got to the point where she doesn't care. She has a year to go on her contract. But I'm sure she would just as soon spend it at home — unless something great comes along."

Powell indicated that he would be willing to toss in his makeup kit.

"I've been in it 25 years," said the actor, whose youthful appearance belies the years. "I was five years in the east and 20 out here. That's long enough to be an actor.

Try Directing

"But I won't really be getting out of the business, just into another field. I want to be a director."

Powell nearly achieved his ambition recently. He had a friend, writer Bill Powers, whip up a screen story and they sold it to Paramount, along with Powell's services as director. But when the script got no action at Paramount, they arranged for R.K.O. to buy it.

Then the deal hit a snag. Jean Simmons was cast into the picture, and her contract apparently called for director approval. Powell was aced out of the director's spot. But R.K.O. has promised to let him direct another one.

Meanwhile, Powell's acting career shows no signs of slowing. He is currently appearing with Lana Turner, Kirk Douglas, Walter Pidgeon and Gloria Grahame in "Tribute To A Bad Man." Powell is also wound up in television.

Mission Circle Shows Toys For Indian Bale

MILLBROOK, May 22 (ENS) — Mrs. Eric Fallis of the Fallis line was hostess Tuesday evening to the members of the Golden Links Mission Circle of St. Andrew's church. Mrs. David Lunn conducted the worship service, assisted by Miss Marjorie Skitch.

In support of the campaign for funds for the building of the new United Church Training School in Toronto, Mrs. Arnold Fallis, Mrs. Homer Ouellette and Mrs. George Sedgewick read letters from deaconess and missionary graduates who testified to the worthwhile work the training school does.

The temperance report was given by Mrs. Eric Fallis. Toys brought for the missionary bale, which this year goes to an Indian mission, were on display.

Mrs. T. Wideman gave a report of the address of Mrs. W. B. Arnup, returned missionary from China, which was given at a meeting in Trinity church to which the Millbrook Circle had been invited. Mrs. Arnold Fallis told of the mission Band Rally for bands of the presbytery held in Mark Street Church earlier in the month where the local band presented the playlet "Barbara Goes to Vacation School."

A rpeort on "Canada Night" held May 1 in the Sunday School room was given by Mrs. Bruce Ingham. On that occasion Miss Bessie Banfill, who has served as a missionary nurse in hospitals in Northern Ontario, Saskatchewan and the Labrador, and who has also worked with the Indians of British Columbia, was the special speaker.

For the study period Mrs. M. E. Hobbs, the president, reviewed the book "Adventures in Two Worlds" by Dr. A. J. Cronin. Mrs. Alex. Gilbert and Miss Edith Clarke assisted by reading passages from the book.

Refreshments were served by the supper hostesses, Mrs. Cecil Hubbeard, Mrs. David Lunn and Mrs. T. Wideman.

Milk Price Boost?

TORONTO, May 22 (CP). — An increase in the retail price of milk was foreseen Wednesday for Toronto consumers if city milk drivers get their requested $5 a week increase, Kenneth Betzler, producers' representative on the Ontario Milk Control Board, told the semi-annual meeting of Toronto milk producers milk price from its 22 cents a quart delivered price and 20 cents at the store.

Youths Warned

MONTREAL — (CP)—Warning that such "toys" as air rifles sometimes lead youths into the paths of crime was issued by Police Director Albert Langlois here. Police are cracking down on the use of BB guns and similar weapons, which may not be sold to children under 14 without a permit.

Slave 25 Years To Save $43,500 Go To Bank It, Find It Burned

DAYTON, O., May 22 (AP). —Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. White got married 25 years ago. They decided they would live frugally and save something for their old-age.

White worked as a machinist and Mrs. White clerked in a store. They lived in a $12-a-month house. They didn't buy a car. They didn't smoke, drink, and only occasionally saw a movie.

They saved and saved. Finally, last weekend they counted up. They had $43,500.

"We'd better put this in the bank Monday," they said.

So, Monday morning Mrs. White put the money in its usual hiding place — a muslin bag pinned to her slip. But she had to clerk from noon until late in the evening, and so she did not get the money to the bank.

Monday night, the Whites told police Wednesday, the money was gone. After a day of searching, they decided the money had been burned up in the trash Monday morning.

But the only thing they have to bolster their theory is a pile of ashes. That's the only thing they have left.

Hotel Strike Looms

VANCOUVER, May 22 (CP).—Five hundred workers at Hotel Vancouver Wednesday voted for strike action in a wages dispute. The workers, members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, voted 409 to 38 to strike unless management accepts awards recommended by a conciliation board. Recommendations are for a 40-hour five-day work week and a 5.51 per cent wage boost.

Aneurin Bevan Offers Conservative Advice Against Strikes

PORTHCAWL, Wales, May 22—(AP)— Aneurin Bevan, the fiery Welshman leader of Britain's left-wing Labor bloc offered some conservative advice to Welsh miners Wednesday night.

He urged them not to act hastily in calling strikes in attempts to gain "what we failed to do at the ballot boxes."

Bevan hopes to grab party leadership if the Labor party defeats Winston Churchill's Conservatives in the next general election.

"Be careful lest we act precipitiously," Bevan, a former miner, told the coal diggers. "Remember that we are in sight and within reach of a parliamentary majority in consequence of the revulsion against the Conservatives.

"Industrial action for political objectives is a revolutionary weapon, so do not use it idly," he cautioned.

Some Welsh miners have been arguing for strikes for higher wages, which would embarrass the Conservative government in its efforts to make ends meet financially.

"Wanted To Slaughter My Cattle," Mariposa Farmer Says In Warble Fly Case

LINDSAY, May 22 — (ENS) — The Warble Fly Act of 1952 came in for considerable discussion in police court here Wednesday. Beverley Webster, Mariposa township farmer, was charged with failing to treat or make available his cattle for warble fly treatment.

Defended by W. J. A. Fair, Q.C., Peterborough, Webster pleaded not guilty to the charge. The case opened with the defence counsel arguing as to whether the bill is in force as yet since it is still a bill and not an act as yet.

George Greenway, Mariposa township clerk, testified that the council had passed the bylaw according to the act of 1949 for all cattle to be treated. Earnest Webber, warble fly inspector, testified that he had gone to the Webster farm on April 16 this year and the accused had stated at that time that he wouldn't have the cattle done until the township would "go good" for any losses sustained.

Mr. Webber said he returned to the Webster farm on April 17 with the district warble fly inspector, Everett Mark, and the accused said he had lost six cattle last year because the cattle had contracted pneumonia after the spraying. Mr. Mark testified that the accused would not even allow the cattle to be brushed, let alone sprayed.

Associate Livestock Inspector R. H. Graham went to the farm with Mr. Mark and the accused refused again. In cross-examination, Mr. Mark stated that Webster said "Go ahead and spray them if the township will go good for the losses." Mr. Graham testified that he and Mr. Mark had returned on Tuesday, April 29, and the accused just kept repeating, "Maybe I will and maybe I won't."

"Finally he said he would not let his cattle be treated and the conversation ended when he slammed the car door in my face," said Mr. Graham.

"He is charged under the 1952 bill?" queried Mr. Fair. "Yes."

"For violating the 1949 Act?" "Yes."

"But the regulations of the 1949 act are not carried over to the 1952 bill?" "No."

Mr. Fair moved for a dismissal but Magistrate E. A. Gee refused the motion. The accused was called to testify and said he had 102 head of cattle. He said he had shipped 42 head to Carden township on May 9, after he had brush treated them himself.

Crown Attorney L. W. Jordan repeatedly asked the accused why the three officers had to return to his farm and the accused refused to answer. Finally he said, "All they wanted to do was slaughter more of my cattle." Argument in the case continues this afternoon and Magistrate E. A. Gee reserved judgment on the case until June 6.

Hastings C.W.L. Meets

HASTINGS, May 22—(ENS)—The Hastings sub-division of the Catholic Women's League held their meeting in the school auditorium, commencing their new year under the leadership of Mrs. J. Collins. Plans for a bingo on May 26 were made. Committee in charge is Mrs. J. Powers, Mrs. B. Walsh, and Mrs. Lou. English. Arrangements were also made for the annual bake sale to be held the end of June.

Dean Garvey thanked the retiring executive and congratulated the new ones.

Wartime Hero Under Arrest

PORTSMOUTH, England, May 22 (Reuters)—A wartime submarine hero who refused to be transferred from his London home to the Portsmouth naval base was brought here under close arrest Wednesday.

Lt.-Cmdr. Alaister Mars, 38, had expected a permament London appointment eight months ago and had bought a house there, his wife, Renee, said today. In the last three years he and his family have lived in 16 different homes

His wife said he refused to leave for Portsmouth because there was no one else to look after his family

Three staff officers arrived at his home Tuesday night with a warrant and took him away

Mars, born in Newfoundland, was awarded the Distinguished Servie Order and the Distinguished Service Cross with bar for his exploits as a submarine commander in the Second World War.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

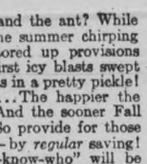
A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, May 22nd—"Rise and shine"... with a wonderful breakfast of 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat". This breakfast treat is so smoo-oth and delicious, it's guaranteed to waken any heavy-eyed sleepyhead. Easy to prepare, too—for 5 Minute "CREAM OF WHEAT" cooks to taste-tempting perfection in just 5 minutes of boiling. What's more, 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" is good for you. It supplies Iron for good red blood, and Calcium and Phosphorus—for diets deficient in these elements. Treat your whole family to "Cream of Wheat" some morning soon. One taste, I know you'll make it your family breakfast stand-by!

They All Say It ... Yes, all my friends say "This is the best coffee I've ever tasted!". And no wonder. For INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE is made by real coffee people ... it's the happy result of almost 100 years of coffee experience. The flavour's there—and the body—and the real lift. So when friends drop in ... serve Instant Chase & Sanborn Coffee. It's wink-quick to make one cup or a potful. Takes no longer to make than boiling the water. And it's wonderfully economical. (I save up to 40c a pound compared with ground coffee!) Switch to Instant Chase & Sanborn Coffee ... I know you'll be glad you did!

Remember The Old Fable about the grasshopper and the ant? While the foolish grasshopper spent the summer chirping merrily, the industrious ant stored up provisions for the winter. And when the first icy blasts swept the landscape, you know who was in a pretty pickle! Therein lurks a lesson for all ... The happier the summer, the faster it flits by. And the sooner Fall and Winter will be upon you. So provide for those new cold-weather clothes now—by regular saving! It's nearly painless that way. If you don't, "you-know-who" will be wrestling last year's hat into an excuse for this year's fashion. Why not put a small amount aside every week in a Savings Account at the BANK OF MONTREAL? And if you find it hard to save steadily—as so many of us do nowadays—ask for your free copy of "Personal Planning for Successful Home-makers" at the B of M. It's helped Canadians from coast to coast—and it can help you, too!

Made For Each Other ... melt-in-your-mouth canned salmon and tangy, exciting SUNKIST LEMONS. Yes, they're a tasteful "team" for a real treat. Serve the salmon cold in a salad—or piping hot as a main-course dish ... with lemon quarters for easy squeezing. That helps the folks to get all the zestful Sunkist lemon juice they want with their fish. M-mmm! Fresh lemon juice—so good—and good for them, too ... lots of Vitamin C! So make your fish-dishes famous for flavour—with the added zest of Sunkist California Lemons. They're the finest, juiciest grown.

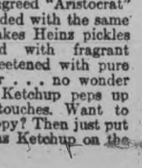


More Beautiful Women use Woodbury Face Powder ... why don't you? Yes, Hollywood stars chose WOODBURY FACE POWDER 6 to 1! What's the secret of its popularity? The makers of this wonderful face powder say it's preferred because of the special blending process and exclusive foundation-cream ingredient. It's so satin-smooth, so fabulously fine and velvety—clings so beautifully for hours. And the superb Woodbury shades are wonderfully flattering. See what Woodbury Powder can do for you—costs just 23c, 45c and 75c. And try the vivid excitement of Woodbury lipstick, too. Creamy, clinging—in 7 tempting shades ... 23c and 55c.

I've Discovered A Wonderful Way to clean my refrigerator. ENERGINE CLEANING FLUID does the trick! Yes, Energine works like magic to make porcelain surfaces sparkle — refrigerators, bathtubs, sinks, tiling and washbasins. Energine makes "child's play" of so many household chores. It's "certain-sure death" to grease spots ... will get rid of even those deep-down stains on upholstery, drapes and rugs. Contains no caustics nor acids and will not harm fast-dyed fabrics. Just try it once and, like me, you'll know that Energine is the handiest thing in the house. Ask for it at drug and department stores for as little as 25c.

Thirteen Is My Favourite Number when it comes to buying tomato ketchup. Because my "best buy" is the big 13-ounce bottle of HEINZ TOMATO KETCHUP. Just compare it with the 11-ounce bottle of some brands—and see how little extra you pay for Heinz quality. Made from pedigreed "Aristocrat" tomatoes—blended with the same vinegar that makes Heinz pickles famous—livened with fragrant spices—and sweetened with pure granulated sugar ... no wonder Heinz Tomato Ketchup peps up every dish it touches. Want to make hubby happy? Then just put a bottle of Heinz Ketchup on the table tonight.

It's A Not-So-Secret Secret ... something every good cook knows—a dash of WINDSOR SALT makes all the difference between "dull" and "delicious". Yes, both in the kitchen and at the table, Windsor Salt does wonders to brighten the flavour of your favourite foods. Try this, for instance: When you're preparing a whole fish (a baked haddock, for example)—rub the inside of the fish with Windsor Salt—as well as the outside. This permits the salt to bring out the delicate, fresh flavour of the fish in all its deliciousness. I'm sure you know lots of other ways to use Windsor Salt, as well. And I'm sure you agree with me that this famous, free-running salt is the best "flavour-brightener" there is.



Want A Wonderful Spring Salad that will add a piquant touch to your meals these lovely May days? Here's one ... and Lime Jell-O is the reason for its tangy, tempting flavour. That "locked-in" Jell-O flavour is sealed right in each tiny particle until you release it by adding water to the Jell-O. Keep several packages of JELL-O JELLY POWDERS on hand. There are seven grand flavours—for delicious desserts and salads such as this:

SPRING GARDEN SALAD

1 package Lime Jell-O
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sliced radishes
1 tablespoon finely-chopped green onion

Dissolve Jell-O in hot water; add cold water, vinegar and salt. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in radishes and onions. Chill until firm, in large mould or individual moulds.

Even A "Beginner" Can't Go Wrong with this wonderful stove. The new '52 GURNEY Gas Range has so many cooking helps. First of all, there's the famous Gurney "Even-Heat" oven that keeps the temperature exactly right—automatically—on the sides, the top, on the bottom ... and even in the corners. Then there's the automatic clock control for easy, automatic cooking. And I particularly like the glass oven-door panel so you can check up on your cooking without opening the oven door. But I'd suggest you take a look at the new Gurney features yourself. See your Gurney dealer tomorrow. He'll be glad to show you how carefree cooking can be—with the new Gurney Gas Ranges.

Textile Industry Now Optimistic

MANCHESTER, England, May 22 (Reuters)—The British textile industry is optimistic about the current slump, which has closed about 200 mills and made about 100,000 workers unemployed.

In its annual report, the Cotton and Rayon Merchants' Association Wednesday saw a more favorable turn in trade in the "immediate future." As surplus stocks are used up, it said, the industry will regain its confidence and international trade will improve.

It warned, however, that "many difficulties ahead made the future obscure." Among these difficulties were the possibility of the rearmament program taking many trained personnel, uncertain supply of raw materials, "the over-riding problem of the growth of the Japanese textile industry," and the import licence and quota systems still in force in many countries.

Meanwhile, the Manchester Guardian says today that Britain has surplus coal stocks for the first time since 1940, partly because of the lower demand for coal in the textile industry.

Hardship Of Parliamentary Life Takes Effect On Individual Members

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, May 22—(CP)— The first murmurs of disquiet over the hardships of parliamentary life are being heard in Westminster.

Being a member of the British House of Commons used to be counted an honor and a privilege. But in these days of near-deadlock, many M.Ps. wonder how long their constitutions can stand the strain of compulsory attendance and frequent all-night sittings.

One of the first members to do something definite about the situation is Canadian-born Beverley Baxter, Conservative member for Southgate and a frequent contributor to publications here and in Canada. Baxter has announced that he's giving up his job as theatre critic for the Evening Standard because he just can't spare the time to mix parliament and play-going. Instead, he'll write a column about politics.

Parliamentary Penitentiary

"It's becoming a little bit like jail," he said, "except that no one ever escapes."

As his final theatre column appeared, Baxter also put some of his thoughts on paper about the present parliamentary situation.

His conclusion was that unless something is done, Britain's "great parliament, the greatest in all history . . . will enter the twilight of the Gods."

Other members have expressed concern over the increasing demands of parliament. The Conservatives have a majority of more than a dozen over the opposition, but bills cannot be sent to a committee because there the majority would be far too small. So the House in effect itself becomes a committee, delaying business and forcing overtime.

Iain Macleod, newly-named Health Minister said in a recent interview a specialist had worked it out that the pace of parliamentary life has already made itself felt in its effect of the health of individual members.

Sidelines Stunted

Apart from physical damage, longer hours in the Commons will sooner or later diminish the current practice of a "sideline" job. Members receive £1,000 for their parliamentry duties and many of them are forced to supplement their income in journalism or other professions. In the last few years, the number of lawyers going in for politics has been reduced, the politicians such as Baxter fear that if the trend continues the House will ultimately be peopled with pensioned former trade unionists, gentlemen of leisure or men with a family business which runs itself.

"Already five of my Tory friends have indicated that they will not contest the next election," writes Baxter. "Like myself, they can not longer combine their professional and parliamentary careers."

Colgate Chlorophyll Toothpaste DESTROYS BAD BREATH

Originating in the Mouth.

Here is the magic power of chlorophyll to destroy bad breath originating in the mouth! New Colgate Chlorophyll Toothpaste in most cases acts quickly . . . acts thoroughly . . . and the purifying action lasts for hours! Keeps your mouth sweet and fresh longer! Use it after meals . . . before every date! It has a fresh, minty flavor you'll love!

FIGHTS TOOTH DECAY!

Many dentists blame acids in the mouth for tooth decay. Every time you use Colgate Chlorophyll Toothpaste — especially right after eating— you act against those destructive acids, help retard their formation. That's why regular brushing with new Colgate Chlorophyll Toothpaste is such an effective aid in fighting tooth decay!

CHECKS COMMON GUM DISORDERS!

In recent clinical tests, evidence revealed that chlorophyll promotes the growth of firm, healthy gum tissue. Colgate Chlorophyll Toothpaste brings you the effective benefits of chlorophyll in water-soluble chlorophyllins to help you care for sore, tender gums.

A Chance For Your Children That You Never Had!

Nothing can replace regular check-ups and care by your dentist. But today every child can be started on the road to healthy teeth and gums by using Colgate Chlorophyll Toothpaste right after every meal. Remember: dental authorities trace much loss of teeth to gum troubles! Chlorophyll can help prevent and check common gum disorders! It actually attacks the acids that often cause tooth decay!

Now! The Full Benefits of a Chlorophyll*Toothpaste in a New, Exclusive Colgate Formula!

How Colgate Makes Chlorophyll Work For You! Nature herself makes chlorophyll and puts it in all green plants to enable them to live and grow. But science must break down this natural chlorophyll into a usable, effective form (water-soluble chlorophyllins)—before it can help you against bad breath, tooth decay, common gum disorders.

That's why Colgate's experience and skill in creating an exclusive formula is important to you. In Colgate Chlorophyll Toothpaste you get the benefits of these water-soluble chlorophyllins in a safe, pleasant form!

For real help against bad breath originating in the mouth . . . common gum disorders . . . tooth decay . . . use Colgate Chlorophyll Toothpaste after eating. It's the finest chlorophyll toothpaste the world's largest maker of quality dentifrices can produce!

*Contains water-soluble Chlorophyllins

an appeal to All citizens

TO KEEP MAY 24th WEEK-END FREE OF ACCIDENTS

Because of the greatly increased traffic hazards during a holiday period, I appeal to all our citizens to put forth special efforts to keep our Municipality free of accidents during the coming week-end.

More cars will be on the streets and highways. Children will be free from normal day time school supervision. Summer cottages will be visited, and traffic volume will be much heavier.

The Ontario Department of Highways is urging the exercise of special precautions, and I know that all motorists, pedestrians and citizens will wish to co-operate fully in this road safety program.

I bespeak your earnest whole-hearted support by walking and driving with care at all times.

Mass Murder Being Practised In Many Lands—Pearson

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP) — The Commons heard Wednesday that genocide—acts to destroy racial or other groups—is still being practised in the world and particularly behind the iron curtain.

The statement came from External Affairs Minister Pearson as the House approved a convention signed by Canada three years ago outlawing genocide as a crime under international law. The convention also has been approved by 31 other countries.

The minister said by approving the treaty Canada is labelling genocide as a "monstrous crime," making it more difficult to commit and taking a step to protect minorities.

He said the convention is perhaps the most important new international law to develop since the Second World War. Under it the signatory nations undertake to prevent and punish by law acts committed with the intent of destroying national, ethnical, racial or religious groups in whole or in part.

The genocide debate took up most of the Commons busy halfday. The convention was approved by all members but most speakers believed it did not go far enough.

Should Take Lead

Leon Crestohl (L-Montreal Cartier) said Canada should take the lead in the United Nations in moves to give that body power to act in cases of such mass murder.

The genocide convention was approved by Canada in 1949, contracting countries undertake to enact legislation to provide "effective penalties" for crimes of genocide. They may also appeal to the United Natoins for action.

Alistair Stewart (CCF-Winnipeg North) and Gordon Graydon (PC-Peel) both said the convention does not go far enough. Mr. Stewart said the convention should have been signed by all the countries in the world and those which refused "must stand condemned by the world."

Mr. Crestohl, charging there now were acts of genocide in Iran and danger of them in other countries, including South Africa, said the United Nations should have the power of scrutiny and the power of sanctions to stop such acts.

David Croll (L-Toronto Spadina) said the conventon can be a "real weight" to throw into the international balance. But it should not be allowed to lull nations into a sense of false security.

Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) said besides condemning racial murder, Canada should take a stand against discrimination, which was still being practised in some forms against racial and other groups in Canada.

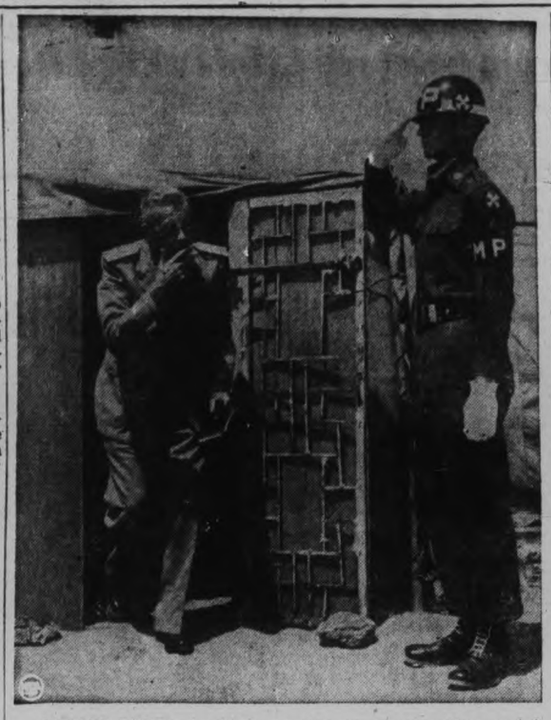
Approve In Principle

The House also approved in principle a measure to give statutory effect to the Japanese Peace Treaty. Final reading was given another bill advancing the date of the opening of the Supreme Court of Canada from the first Tuesday in February to the fourth Tuesday in January each year.

Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglington) protested what he termed the "high-handed" action of some American state and other authorities subpoenaing Canadian stock operators to appear at tribunals across the border. They had no right to do that since an American writ was not applicable in Canada or vice-versa.

He said Canadians who never broke the law had received the subpoenas. And if they ignored them, which they rightly did, they were subject to detention if they went to the United States.

The Toronto member raised the matter as the House approved a resolution giving parliamentary approval to amendments to the Canadian - United States Extradition Treaty. The amendments have been in effect since last fall and provide that persons using the mails to perpetuate international frauds may be subject to extradition.



BLASTS REDS—An M.P. guard snaps to attention as Admiral C. Turner Joy, head of U.N. team at Panmunjom, emerges from conference tent. Joy has blasted the Reds for using truce talks for propaganda. He termed Communist charges of prisoner mistreatment "fantastic."

Wrong Can Opener Sold

CLEVELAND, May 22—(AP)—A gold-plated, jewel-studded can opener has been sold inadvertently, the May Co. announced Wednesday. The department store said the opener, insured for several thousand dollars, has been sent to Cleveland for display purposes. A clerk sold it not knowing its value, the company said.

High Water Problem Along Georgian Bay

MIDLAND, May 22 (CP)—Some residents along this Georgian Bay shore area who built their homes on the mainland are now living on islands.

In the nearby Moon river area, high water in the lake has flooded behind the homes leaving them surrounded. Trees on low-lying land are standing in water deep enough to permit a boat to navigate among them.

All along the Georgian Bay shore spring storms and high water—nearly three feet above normal—have combined to submerge boathouses and docks and ruin other installations.

Many summer resort operators are raising their wharves and boathouses 30 inches above the water level. The Ontario Highways Department is raising a road near Waubashene three feet.

The government dock at Honey Harbor, now under three feet of water, is to be built up.

Reserve Decision

OTTAWA, May 22—(CP)— The Canada Labor Relations Board Wednesday reserved decision after a hearing on an application by the American Newspaper Guild (C.-I.O.-C.C.L.) for certification as bargaining agent for editorial employees of the CBC's news department. The CBC opposed the inclusion in the bargaining unit of certain senior editors and copy clerks.

5 Killed By Mine

TUNIS, Tunisia, May 22—(Reuters)—Five brothers were killed near here Wednesday when a wartime land mine exploded. The brothers, aged 21, 19, 17, 16 and 13, were working in the garden with their father and mother when one of them struck the mine with a shovel.

DRAMA IN NOVEMBER

Peterborough and District Drama Festival will be held Thursday to Saturday, November 20-22. This was confirmed at a general meeting of the Festival Association held in the City Hall Wednesday night, attended by representatives of seven drama groups. Peter McCombe presided.

INJURED CYCLISTS IMPROVE

Wiliam Foster 18, 368 Water Street, and Nancy Parnell 17, 318 Euclid Avenue, are continuing to show progress in recovering in hospital from the serious injuries they received Saturday night when their motorcycle went off the road, through a ditch, and struck a parked car. The accident occurred two miles south of the city on Highway 28.

BLIND SUBSCRIBER

Among letters received by the Kenner Memorial Fund committee was one from Norma Hughes, London, Ontario, enclosing a cheque for three dollars. "Dr. Kenner was indeed a good friend to me, and I am happy to have a share in any project which will keep his name and his work constantly before the students of P.C.V.S. I think the scholarship fund is a splendid idea and I believe it is what he would most want". Her signature was rubber - stamped, for Norma Hughes is now completely blind. She is employed in London by the National Institute for the Blind.

PRAISE FOR THE FESTIVAL

At the final performance Wednesday evening at the Queen Mary Auditorium both adjudicators spoke of their pleasure of being in Peterborough. Alex Redshaw commented on the great strides the Festival had taken since he last adjudicated it four years ago. Ronald Biggs, also of England, conductor, and a B.B.C. musical director, had praise for the excellence of the festival arrangements, of the performers, and of the audiences. He urged the importance of the festival. He said: "A world artistically sensitive is likely to be a better world". Mr. Biggs and Mr. Redshaw left at noon by train for St. John, N.B., to adjudicate their last Canadian festival before returning to England.

TALL TULIPS TOPPLE—Rains on Tuesday and Wednesday toppled the season's early tulips as the water weighed the blooms down. This year has been an exceptional year for tulips. Alf Pink, 612 Water St., believes he holds the longest-stemmed tulip in Peterborough. He holds a yardstick (above) beside his champion which stretches 37 inches from the ground to the tip of the bloom.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

George St. Choristers Win Top Choir Mark At Festival

George St. United Church was awarded the highest mark given to a choir at the Peterborough Music Competition Festival at the final session of the festival in Queen Mary School auditorium Wednesday night. English adjudicator Alex Redshaw awarded this choir 174 marks (88 and 86 marks) for their singing of "I Will Not Leave You Comfortless" and "Love Divine All Loves Excelling."

"This was very fine singing," Mr. Redshaw said. "There was a glow in this choir and they created the proper mood at once. They were extremely well-tuned and their phrasing was good. There was warmth in their singing and they moved along with great ease."

A brother and sister, Robert and Donna Willis were the outstanding contestants in the Wednesday sessions of the festival.

Day's Highest

Robert Willis was awarded the highest marks of the day (89) for his singing of How Beautiful Are Thy Feet from Handel's Messiah. He also stood first in vocal solo classes 70 and 31 with 87 and 88 marks.

Donna Willis was first place winner in class 148—Sonatina, either by Clementi or Kuhlau with 173 marks. Rena Glover and Donna Willis were awarded first place in girls' duet classes 91 and 90 with 86 and 87 marks. Rena Glover, Christine and Donna Willis were awarded 87 marks for class 88, girls' trio. All three girls are from Toronto.

Results of Wednesday's festival sessions are:

Fred Brant To Be Moved To Langstaff

Ontario Hospital To Take Brant When Room Available

Fred Brant will be transferred to the Ontario Hospital at Langstaff from the Civic Hospital here, as soon as there is room for him there, it was learned today.

Now that Brant is recovered from the effects of frostbite which made it necessary to amputate all his toes on both feet and about one inch of each foot, he is extremely restless and wants to get out.

The Brant inquiry held April 17 revealed that Brant had done considerable wandering from farm to farm around the Lindsay, Little Britain and Peterborough districts in recent years, and particularly the last few months.

Last Friday, the wandering urge proved too strong. Brant decided to walk out of the hospital, and did.

He hitch-hiked a ride downtown and went into an appliance store to buy a radio. Before the Examiner started the Fred Brant Fund, several readers, touched by his plight, sent money to him in hospital. The amount, said to total about $20, was deposited to his account in a local bank.

Gave Cheque

When he bought the radio, he tendered a cheque for the amount. The name drew the attention of the salesman. Brant readily admitted he was the Fred Brant who had had his feet frozen. The purchase of the radio ended at that point and Brant returned to the hospital on his own accord but slightly annoyed because he had not been able to purchase the radio to while away the long hours in hospital.

His return was greeted with relief by worried hospital authorities.

Brant has now been in hospital 121 days. The costs per day were estimated to be $13.75 per patient per day for indigents in 1951. Using this as a basis of calculation, Brant has run up a bill of $1,663.75, plus whatever the cost may be for the surgical operations on his feet.

The Ontario Hospital Act places responsibility for hospital care of indigents on the municipality where they have resided for the previous three months. Testimony of several witnesses at the Brant inquriy made it quite clear that he had not resided in any one place for three months prior to his first arrest here in January. As a result, the Civic Hospital is responsible for the costs of his hospital treatment.

The city pays the hospital an annual grant based on the rate of $3.50 per day for each indignet patient. This, plus the provincial indigent grants of $3.25 (the 1951 rate of provincial indigent grants) would amount to $816.75.

The balance of $847.00 will be absorbed by the hospital. Last year, the city made a grant covering the Civic's deficit of $40,033.05 and in the event of a deficit this year, the city will likely again make up the deficit, in which case the city may eventually pay all of Brant's bill, which increases every day.

In addition to what the city will pay for Brant's hospitalization through indigent grants, council will also be picking up the cheque for the Brant inquiry, which it ordered at request of the Police Commission, to investigate the circumstances of Brant's arrest and imprisonment and his general conduct as a citizen.

The overall cost of this inquriy at which Judge F. J. MacRae, of Whitby, presided, with Russell D. Humphries, of Oshawa, acting as counsel, has not yet been stated by council.

No Report Yet

The report has not yet been received, but Mayor Hugh Waddell said Wednesday that it is expected shortly.

Major Harry Everitt, of the Salvation Army, has been trying to get Brant admitted to the Lindsay Home for the Aged (where he stayed for a time before running away) and other provincial institutions. However, his efforts have not met with any definite success to date.

Certification of two doctors is sufficient to commit a patient to an Ontario Hospital, and Dr. C. H. Lowle, assistant director of Ontario hospitals, has assured medical authorities here that Brant will be admitted to the institution at Langstaf as soon as a vacancy occurs.

There is a farm in connection with the hospital and Brant, who now walks with only a slight trace of a limp, will be able to do odd jobs around the farm.

The hospital, on the northern outskirts of Toronto, is on the property of the old jail farm which was taken over by the Ontario government as a psychiatric hospital when the St. Thomas Ontario Hospital was loaned to the R.C.A.F. during the Second World War. It is owned by the City of Toronto and rented to the Ontario government.

$302.50 In Fund

Examiner readers contributed $302.50 to the Fred Brant Fund after reading that Brant had been taken from jail with his feet so badly frozen that part of both had to be amputated. Prior to being arrested on vagrancy, he had been taken five miles out of the city and left on the side of Highway 7. He had just finished serving ten days for vagrancy in the county jail and was arrested again five days after he had been taken out of the city and sentenced to five days on the same charge. In the meantime, his feet were severely frostbitten.

In addition to the amount contributed by Examiner readers, the Examiner has contributed $100 matching Donald A. McGillis' $100 contribution, the largest single donation. The total of the fund, which is now closed, amounted to $402.50.

Major Harry Everitt, who is administering the money, has bought Brant some new clothes and two new pairs of boots. A local firm has equipped the boots with sponge rubber in the toes, enabling him to walk as comfortably as possible on his toeless feet.

Water Cut Off At Lakefield Power Dam Boys Find Treasure Of Fishing Equipment

More than half the school boys in Lakefield were late coming home to their suppers on Wednesday evening. And when they did arrive they were soaking wet from the knees down. They struck a treasure trove in the raceway of the Lakefield power plant that had been drained dry. The limestone bottom was filled with a year's supply of lost fishing tackle.

The raceway from the dam to the power house—a distance of one block—is one of the favorite fishing spots on the Otonabee River and through constant fishing pressure, and a rocky bottom that snags well, the boys' haul was worth while. Plugs, spoons, leaders, sinkers, and all the usual breakway lures were harvested in their eager grubbing.

The reason for dewatering the raceway is that trouble was located in the generator at the power house, possibly in the bearings. Supervisor Phil Courneya at the Auburn power house thought that the Lakefield plant might be inoperative for a week or ten days until repairs are made. In the meantime power for the village is being supplied from Auburn.

Education Brd. To Decide Future Of Three Nurses

The proposal to amalgamate the health services of the Board of Education with the general health service of the Board of Health is back in the committee stage. Wednesday night there was a meeting of the Board of Health and the Board of Education's health committee. Before going any further they decided that the Board of Education must decide what they are going to do about their three nurses.

Under the amalgamation scheme as proposed by Dr. Kelly the three school nurses would be replaced by one fully-qualified public health nurse, bringing Dr. Kelly's staff up to one nursing supervisor and eight public health nurses.

The question facing the board is: What happens to their three nurses who have a combined service of 52 years—one of them has 38 years' service alone?

Mayor Hugh Waddell said this matter had better be settled or he could see the whole proposal once again bogging down.

Another Meeting

Another meeting of the health committee will be called at an early date to consider the contracts of the three nurses—Misses Mildred Drope, Mary Jory and Mae Stone.

K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, read some of the terms of an agreement, tentatively reached but never signed between the two boards back in 1948.

At that time the Board of Health agreed to 10½ days of nursing service in the city public schools and two full days at P.C.V.S. Mr. Wightman said that the school population has gone up roughly a third in that time. And it would presumably mean a corresponding increase in the amount of nursing time spent in the schools.

Dr. Kelly said that while the nurses might not be spending as much time in the schools, they would be spending it in the home "where their service is even more valuable."

"Is the present arrangement (in which the board maintains their separate medical and dental services) worth the extra expense?"

$54,000 Budget?

"That's getting to the crux of the matter," said Mayor Waddell. "In Kitchener the per capita rate for health services in the city is $1.42. Could we work out something on a budget of $54,000 or $55,000? Perhaps Mr. Wightman and Dr. Kelly could get together and work out something along these lines.

"It is very difficult to reconcile a figure of $1.90 per capita to the taxpayers of Peterborough to $1.42 as they have in Kitchener. Some cities are even as low as $1.14. . . . Kitchener is a place we like to compare with Peterborough. It seems to me we should stay in the neighborhood of $1.40 or $1.43."

The mayor said this was a technical question and could best be decided by Dr. Kelly and Mr. Wightman. The advice of Dr. Hiram Wright, former medical officer for the Board of Education, would also be sought.

It was agreed, however, that before any survey is begun of the exact services involved in amalgamation, the board must make a decision on the contracts of their three school nurses.

Havelock Co-Op Broken Into Robbed Of $65

While on patrol shortly after midnight, Provincial Police from Peterborough headquarters discovered a break-in at the Havelock District Co-Operative Services, Ottawa St., Havelock. The thieves got away with cash, handtools, clothing and household utensils, valued in all at $65.

It is the second time in less than a year that the Co-Op has been robbed. Last August thieves blew open a safe containing $320 cash after first packing it round with flour bags to deaden the sound of the explosion.

The break-in occurred sometime between midnight and 3 a.m. A pane of glass was broken on a loading door, on the south side of the building facing the C.P.R. siding, and once inside the thieves pulled the locks to unfasten the door.

$15 In Cash

There is no cash register in the office and the safe, blown last year, has not yet been replaced. Looking for money and valuables, the robbers rifled all the drawers in the desks and found about $15 in cash.

The rest of their loot included a "T"-square for measuring lumber, handsaw, drills for iron drilling, lawnmower, tea-kettle, toaster, two dozen pairs of socks and three pairs of expensive men's leather gloves.

After gathering their loot together, the break-in artists backed a truck or car up to the double front doors and loaded up the vehicle.

About 3 a.m., O.P.P. Constables Roy Feeley and Ross Tremills of Peterborough H.Q. were patrolling in Havelock when they noticed the double doors of the Co-Op open. They investigated and radioed their discovery to H.Q. Chief Constable Robert W. Hall of Havelock was aroused and so was Ross Hennigar, manager of the Co-Op.

O.P.P. Constable Tom Fitzpatrick of Peterborough is helping Chief Hall with the investigation.

G. J. Minelly, Trenton; minister of conference church, the Rev. H. B. Neal; secretary of billeting committee, Mrs. F. L. Weldon.

Board Of Health Destroys 800 Pounds Of Meat Seized At Butcher Shop

Guelph Reports 92 Pounds Seized Earlier Beef, Not Horsemeat No Charges To Be Laid Against Local Shop

More than 800 pounds of meat, shipped recently by Daley Brothers Limited of Smiths Falls to a local meat retailer has been destroyed, City Food Inspector Dr. Harold Worton said today. A bill of lading stating a 92 pound shipment of meat which arrived last Wednesday was horsemeat started an investigation by the city health department. There will be no charges laid as a result of the investigation. Dr. Worton said that a report from the Ontario Veterinary College at Guelph, where a sample of the meat was sent has confirmed his opinion that the meat was beef, not horsemeat.

After examining the meat, Dr. Worton and another veterinarian both stated the meat was beef, but a sample was sent to Guelph for positive identification.

Later, the meet was condemned as being unfit for human consumption in any case and was returned to the Smiths Falls firm which slaughters horses and cattle. A subsidiary of the same firm processes the meat for animal foods and the seized shipment was in an odorous state of deterioration when it arrived here.

Labelling Mistake

A mistake in the express office at Smiths Falls is blamed by both the company and the purchaser here for the meat being labelled as horsemeat.

The man who bought it insisted he had had no dealings with Daley Brothers, but had bought the boneless beef from a traveller.

The manager of the company told the Examiner last Wednesday "We merely ship meat to people and do not designate that it is for any particular use."

When the meat was condemned, the health department continued its investigation, as the result of a report that several other shipments had been received from the same source by the retailer.

"All meat from those premises has been disposed of as being not suitable for human consumption in my opinion," Dr. Worton said today.

He said it was all beef, and the amount destroyed was some "eight hundred odd pounds."

LIONS CLUB EXECUTIVE

Victor Frederick, Peterborough life insurance executive, Wednesday night was elected deputy district governor of the Lions Club. He has been a Lion for 15 years and for the last two years has been a member of the Peterborough Club. Thirteen clubs in Zone 10 were represented at the combined business meeting and social evening at the Empress Hotel. About 150 people were present. Mr. Frederick succeeds Charles Knox of Newcastle as deputy district governor.

Citizens Urged To Support Kiwanis Festival

The Kiwanis club in their sponsorship of the Peterborough Music Competition Festival warrants the whole-hearted support of the city, Alex Redshaw, English adjudicator told a capacity audience at Queen Mary School auditorium Wednesday night.

Mr. Redshaw made a short speech during the final session of the festival.

"This festival has grown from an infant to a real and big festival, since I was here four years ago," the adjudicator said. "The Kiwanians are doing a wonderful work for the development of culture and minds of young people in the city."

Will Get Tougher

Mr. Redshaw explained that organizing and operating a festival was a "hard job" and as the festival grew larger in future years the club will need increasing support.

"As this festival grows bigger both in space and time, the Kiwanians will be making additional appeals for interest and support," he concluded. "Don't let them down."

Mr. Redshaw's remarks were seconded by Ronald Biggs, the second English adjudicator at the festival.

Both adjudicators expressed their appreciation for the hospitality that had been shown them during their stay in Peterborough.

Five Stoppages Boost Time Lost

OTTAWA, May 22—(CP)—Five work stoppages in the textile industry accounted for more than 80 per cent of the total time lost from industrial disputes in Canada during April.

The Labor department announced that these five work stoppages were responsible for a combined time loss of 142,065 working days and involved 7,171 workers.

Preliminary figures for the month showed 35 strikes and lockouts, involving 12,055 workers with a time loss of 178,000 days, compared with 26 work stoppages in March with 5,204 workers involved and a time loss of 65,502 days. In April last year there were 22 strikes and lockouts involving 3,950 workers with a time loss of 10,199 days.

Of the 35 strikes and lockouts for varying periods during April, 15 were in effect prior to the first of the month. Of these 15, nine were terminated by the end of the month. Of the 20 work stoppages which started in April, 12 were terminated by the end of the month, leaving 14 strikes and lockouts still in effect at the beginning of May.

For the first four months of this year, there were 64 strikes and lockouts involving 29,384 workers with a time loss of 366,930 days. In the corresponding month a year ago, there were 74 strikes and lockouts with 19,261 workers involved and a time loss of 64,250 days.

HEAVY TIMEPIECES

Early-type watches were really portable clocks with a mainspring regulated by a balance escapement, as in clocks.

Must Tighten N.A.T.O. Ties

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—W. Averell Harriman said Wednesday that the progress towards unity made by the U.S. and its Atlantic Allies indicates they can tighten further their economic political and defence ties.

The mutual security director added that, as the strongest partner in the European alliance, the U.S. has a special responsibility to avoid misusing its strength and to try to see its neighbors' viewpoints.

"Things do not look exactly alike viewed from Washington, London, Paris, Rome, or other capitals," he said.

Hariman made his remarks in an address prepared for a luncheon meeting of the Atlantic Union Committee's National Council. He received the organization's annual award for having done most to forward mutual progress and increase the security of the Atlantic community.

The National Council opened a two-day conference to discuss the ways and means of strengthening the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Smart Bird

BALDUR, Man.—(CP)—A total of 323 birds of 31 different species were banded in the last 12 months here, according to a report to the Canadian Wildlife Service. Most were easy to trap and release after banding—except one hairy woodpecker who fed at the station all winter and never entered the trap.

GETTING TOUGH ON KOJE—Men of the 187th Airborne Division restring the fences with barbed wire at the prisoner-of-war camp on Koje Island, off Korea, where about 80,000 Communist inmates have been in a rebellious state for weeks. The paratroopers were sent to the island by the new Far East Commander, Gen. Mark W. Clark, to forestall any further trouble.

Cemetery Fire

BLIND RIVER, Ont. —(CP)—A grass fire which swept through the lower half of the Roman Catholic cemetery here destroyed several wooden crosses and a number of wreaths before being brought under control by volunteers. A cigaret thrown from a passing car was believed the cause.

Thief Spoils Cupid's Plans

TORONTO, May 22 — (CP) — Sylvia Gold, 19, probably won't be getting married in September because Wednesday a burglar stole her father's pants. The $1,400 Sylvia and her parents had saved for the wedding was in the pocket.

Sylvia's mother said she was awakened by the light from a flashlight shining into her eyes.

"I saw him very close but could not get his face very well," she said. "Then when I noticed it was not my husband I said 'What are you doing here?' He didn't say anything but started to run."

Mr. Gold, a milkman, and Sylvia chased after the burglar but he got away with two purses containing $184, a wrist-watch, a cigaret lighter, and the pants with the $1,400.

Sylvia a bookeeper, was due to marry Allan Isaacs Sept. 17.

Election Of U.S. President Carried Out In Four Stages

By JOHN TRACY,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 22—(CP) — The election of the President of the United States is a four-stage affair and American electors, who will vote this year, are near the close of the first stage.

The process starts with the primaries or State party conventions, proceeds to the big National conventions, and then to the actual voting. The final stage is the electoral-college vote, a vestige of the early days of the American Republic.

Purpose of the primaries is to allow the voters of each party to express their preferences for presidential nominees and to select delegates to the national conventions. The idea of the primary is that the people will, by having their say, thwart the party bosses in the "smoke-filled rooms" of U.S. political tradition.

But political experts say it does not always work that way and it has been found that political machines can often work their will through primaries as well as through conventions.

Laws in the 16 states that use presidential primaries are confusingly varied and sometimes ambiguous. In some cases, for example, citizens vote their presidential preferences while at the same time voting for convention delegates whose intentions they do not know.

No True Picture

All in all, the primary system as practised does not usually give any crystal-clear indication of the Nation's popular choices of nominees. For instance, of the 496 delegates chosen by presidential primary for the Republican convention in 1948, only 153 from five states were definitely obligated to support the candidate favored by the voters in their states.

The remaining 32 states pick their delegates through state conventions, or in a few instances, by state party committees.

Both big conventions will be held this year in Chicago, the Republicans meeting July 6 and the Democrats holding theirs July 21. Each party will select its candidates for president and vice-president and lay down its policy. Then the electoral campaign starts rolling.

Actual polling will be held Nov. 4 when more than 50,000,000 voters are expected to vote their choices for president and vice-president. In many states they will also vote for U.S. senators, governors and members of state legislatures as well as for various municipal laws.

In most states the paper ballot is used, but a growing number use voting machines. The machines, designed to speed up voting and counting of returns, are operated in a curtained booth by the voter who pulls levers opposite the name or party of his choice. More than 15,000,000 voted on machines in the 1948 presidential elections.

Soon after election day the citizens know who will be their president for the next four years. But one formality remains—operation of the electoral-college system, a hangover from the late 18th century.

Originally, Americans voted for members of an electoral college who, by reason of their knowledge and experience, were considered qualified to pick men to fill the important Government offices. Eventually election power was transferred directly to the voters, but the electoral-college law remained on the books.

Under present practice, each state has a number of electoral votes equal to the number of members it has in Congress. After it has been determined which states each presidential candidate has carried—even by the smallest popular-vote margin—the electoral votes for each of these states are totalled.

There are 96 senators and 435 members of the House of Representatives, making a total of 531 electoral votes. Thus a candidate must have a total of 266 electoral votes to win.

"WHERE'S UNCLE?"—Among the crowd of more than 10,000 who greeted the arrival in Vancouver of 1,157 Canadian soldiers returning from Korea was this forlorn little figure. His flag drooped and tears were close as John McGillivray, 2, asked everyone, "Where's Uncle Fred?"

Convict Bertrand Of Murder, Will Be Hanged

HULL, Que., May 22 —(CP)— Rheal Leo Bertrand, 37, convicted of murderiing his 55-year-old well-to-do bride of two months, was sentenced Wednesday to be hanged Aug. 8 in Montreal's Bordeaux Jail.

After Mr. Justice Francois Caron, wearing black silk gloves, passed sentence concluding with the customary "May God have mercy on your soul," the bells of a nearby Roman Catholic Church could be heard in the hushed courtroom tolling the Evening Angelus.

Bertrand, dry-cleaning establishment employee by day and part-time psychologist by night, was taken under heavy guard in a black limousine to the Montreal Jail.

The jury deliberated for 25 minutes before finding him guilty of murdering his second wife last Nov. 10, in a lonely hunting cabin at Lac Ste. Marie, 60 miles north of here.

Bertrand had been acquitted of murdering his first wife in 1933 after their car plunged into Lake St. Francois at St. Zotique, Que. She was drowned. He also served part of a 15-year sentence in Kingston penitentiary for attempted armed robbery at L'Orignal, Ont., in 1936.

Prisoner Faints

He was calm but pale as he heard the verdict. However he fainted when the judge retired for a few minutes before passing sentence.

Defence Counsel Joseph Ste. Marie said he could not say immediately whether an appeal will be launched.

The conviction marked the end of one of Hull's most spectacular murder cases. Bertrand stood trial twice on the same charge. His first trial ended abruptly when the presiding judge, Mr. Justice Valmore Bienvenue of Quebec, suffered a heart attack on the stand.

Mr. Ste. Marie and Crown Prosecutor Noel Dorion summed up the evidence Wednesday before a courtroom crowded with spectators.

Mr. Dorion said that although there were no witnesses to the fire in the cabin in which Mrs. Bertrand's body was destroyed, experts had testified that the destruction was such as to rule out the possibility of suicide. One expert said her body must have been saturated with inflammable fluid.

Witnesses told of conflicting reports by Bertrand of his part in the fire, and of Bertrand telling them before his wife's death that he had a "plan" and soon would not have to work.

After Bertrand's marriage Sept. 10 last to Mrs. Rosa Charette, they agreed to an exchange of property. She owned real estate worth at least $27,000.

Mr. Ste. Marie urged the jury to bring in a verdict "according to your conscience" and said the death could have been accidental.

Mr. Justice Caron, in his address to the jury, indicated that in his own opinion the circumstantial evidence warranted a verdict of guilty, but said the jury was not bound by his opinion. There was no question of manslaughter—it was either murder or an accident.

Apprentices Said Scarce In Canada

OTTAWA, May 22—(CP)—The first national conference on apprentice training Wednesday recommended the creation of a national body to tackle the problem of building Canada's reserves of skilled labor.

After receiving reports that the supply of skilled manpower is not keeping pace with Canada's expanding needs, the conference proposed a central committee representing governments, employers and labor groups to work out means to overcome the shortage.

Main duties of the committee would be to develop methods for increasing the number of apprentices in training and for standardizing training programs. The conference asked that it be set up as quickly as possible.

Another recommendation of the three-day conference was that governments and employers provide funds for undertaking field work with a view to getting both employers and labor more interested in apprentice training.

Renew Grants

The conference recommended, too that the federal government renew its grants of a few years ago whereby it gave capital assistance in setting up buildings and equipment for training in those provinces where it is needed. These grants totalled $10,000,000.

A further proposal for federal aid was that financial assistance be given the provinces to provide universitily training for teachers in order to raise the standards of vocational instruction.

A definite shortage of apprentices in various trades was reported by study committees Wednesday to the conference, representative of governments, employers and labor. One report said it is evident very little is being done in apprenticeship training in industry.

Major difficulties, the report said, are lack of interest by many employers; fear of labor surpluses by local unions, and possibly shortage of suitable types of young men.

Specific recommendation for meeting thes obstacles included:

1. Continued government support to apprenticeship plans in industry, with a view to expanding and improving this work.

2. That central labor bodies take the lead in advising local unions to co-operate in apprenticeship training plans.

3. That federal and provincial governments consider plans to have employers provide more opportunities for training.

Investigate Charges

WELLAND, May 22 — (CP) — Welland county council voted Wednesday to appoint an independent five-man committee to investigate charges of "disgraceful" conditions at the Welland County Home for the Aged. The Rev. G. H. Knighton, pastor of Central United Church, Port Colborne, said May 4 that the home reflected "an atmosphere of gloom and depression."

Mrs. Catharine M. Parkins, Port Dalhousie, Ont., for rescuing Jon and Don MacSwan, from the Welland Canal, Nov. 14, 1950.

Norman Edward Dann, 11, also of Port Dalhousie, for the rescue of Gary Richardson from Welland Canal, April 19, 1949.

James Setterfield, Brampton, for the rescue of Robert Ewles from the water below Etobicoke river, Sept. 27, 1951.

Roger Cross, David Mitchell and Robert Mitchell, all of Toronto, for assisting in saving the life of Bruce Hillis, Toronto at Alcona Beach, Stroud, Ont., Aug. 20, 1951.

Stanley Hamelin, Burlington, for the rescue of Michael Walton in the Burlington children's swimming pool, Aug. 13, 1951.

John Douglas Pears, Swansea, Ont., and June Marie Fraser, East York, Ont., for assiting in the rescue of Kenneth Hill and Glenn Fletcher from Lake Simcoe, July 22, 1951.

Roland Harris, London, Ont., for the rescue of Norman Nestle from the Thames River, London, Dec. 13, 1950.

Cpl. Frank Thompson, and Henry E. May, Ottawa, for assisting in the rescue of Linden and Dwaine Nichol at Dow's Lake, Ottawa, Dec. 2, 1951.

David Laurenson, North Vancouver, for the rescue of John Franklin at Stuart Island, North Vancouver, Sept. 11, 1951.

R. S. Knudsen, Victoria, for the rescue of John B. Mercer from Portage Inlet, B.C., Jan. 30, 1951.

James J. Morrissey, Duncan, B.C., for the rescue of Doreen Holling from drowning in a well, Dec. 13, 1951.

James P. Farmer, Enderby, B.C., for swimming ashore and obtaining assistance for the rescue of four persons at Mable Lake, B.C., July 26, 1951.

Allan Dick, Port Alberni, B.C., for the rescue of three persons at Somass River, near Port Alberni, B.C., Jan. 8, 1951.

Frederick Seddon, and Howard MacEachern, both of Vancouver, for assistance in the rescue of Frederick Harold Smith, from Kanaka Creek, near Haney, B.C., Sept. 10, 1951.

Earl Nyberg, Port Kells, B.C., for the rescue of George Ernest Moffatt and Lawrence Bernard Hartnett at Surrey, B.C., Feb. 14, 1951.

Frank Skidmore, Vancouver, for the rescue of four persons at Howe Sound, near Port Mellon, B.C., Aug. 12, 1951.

James A. Tingley, St. Boniface, Man., for the rescue of Claude Lavalee from the Assiniboine river, Winnipeg, Oct. 11, 1951.

Bruce Fleet, Elphinstone, Man., for the rescue of four persons at Clear Lake, Man., July 6, 1951.

Raymond Martin, Frank Fillmore and Robert Fillmore, all of Saint John, N.B., for assitance in the rescue of James Mugridge, Jr., at Fisher Lakes, N.B., July 23, 1951.

Mayda Klaudt, Redcliff, Alta., for the rescue of Mrs. Nellie McFadzen at Island Channel, South Saskatchewan River, July 31, 1951.

Donald West, Regina, for the rescue of David Gillis at Wascana Lake, Regina, Dec. 2, 1951.

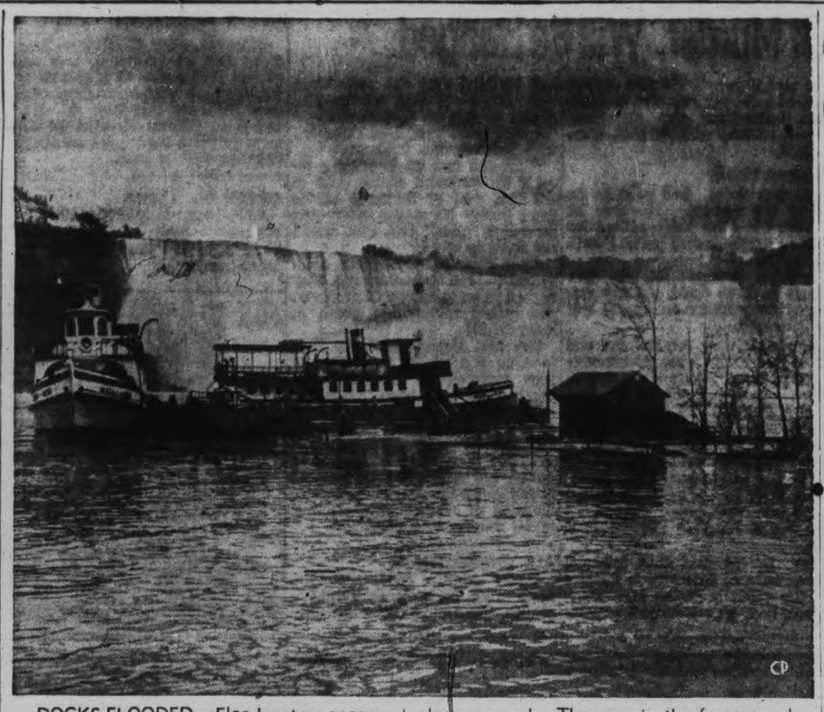
Eric G. Caines, St. John's, Nfld., for the rescue of Jeremiah Luby, at St. John's harbor, Sept. 30, 1951.

Fire Rescue

Those awarded for rescue of persons from fire went to:

Donald J. Smith and Ronald Mulholland, both of Halifax, for rescue of three women from a department store fire Nov. 30, 1950, in which 10 persons lost their lives.

Russell E. Leech, Albert Harman and Albert J. Costen, all of Toronto, for the rescue of Levi John Benson at Canada Wire and Cable Co., Aug. 24, 1951.



DOCKS FLOODED—Flood waters accompany the launching of a new Maid of the Mist steamer at Niagara Falls. The new boat, left, a smaller sister of the well-known honeymooners' special, centre right, rides the crest of the waters which are 10 feet above normal. The area in the foreground normally is dry land and the terminal of the incline railway. High winds sweeping Lake Erie from Toledo, O., to Buffalo, N.Y., drove the waters of the lake into the Niagara River flooding the Canadian docks of the steamers.

Call Gardiner Obstructionist In Cattle Inquiry

OTTAWA, May 22—(CP)—Four CCF members Wednesday charged Agriculture Minister Gardiner with thwarting the will of parliament by obstructing full parliamentary investigation into the government's handling of the foot and mouth disease outbreak.

The charge was contained in a letter sent by Percy Wright (Melfort), Hazen Argue (Assiniboia), William Bryce (Selkirk) and Owen Jones (Yale) to A. J. Bater (L., the Battlefords), who headed the investigation as chairman of the Commons agricultural committee.

Making their letter public, the CCF members sternly rebuked Mr. Bater for the way in which he handled the investigation and in this was supported by John Charlton (PC, Brant-Wentworth) who disclosed he also sent a letter of protest last Friday.

The Opposition members appeared to be launching a campaign to get the investigation going again, but there is little hope they will succeed immediately.

Both Mr. Gardiner and Mr. Bater are in Saskatchewan where a provincial general election will be held June 11 next.

Artists Help

AULAC, N.B.—(CP)—An art exhibit of pictures of Prince Edward Island scenes will be a feature of the P.E.I. information bureau here in July and August. The display will be changed every 10 days for benefit of travellers through here, junction point for roads into Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Married Population Gains But Single Folk In Majority

OTTAWA, May 22 — (CP) — Canada still has more single than married citizens, but between 1941 and 1951 the married population grew more than twice as fast as the single population.

This was disclosed Wednesday in a report on the 1951 census by the Bureau of Statistics.

While the total population rose by 2,502,774, or nearly 22 per cent, the number of single Canadians increased by 841,630, or nearly 14 per cent, to 7,072,505. The number of married Canadians rose by 1,524,993, or more than 32 per cent to 6,261,578.

At the same time, the number of widowed Canadians increased by 118,185, or nearly 23 per cent, to 643,348, and the number of divorced persons rose by 17,966, or 128 per cent, to 31,998.

However, in relation to the population 15 years and over, the proportion of single persons dropped 36.5 to 28.9 per cent, that of married persons rose from 57 per cent to 64.2 per cent, that of divorced persons rose from 0.2 to 0.3 per cent, while the proportion of widowed persons rose from 6.3 to 6.6 per cent.

Alcohol Addicts Discussed At Medical Association Meet

HAMILTON, May 22 — (CP)—Most excessive drinkers will succumb to alcohol within 20 years, and some within two years, Dr. R. G. Bell, director of Toronto's Shadow Brook Health Foundation, said today.

Dr. Bell, with experience with more than 1,000 alcoholic patients, told the annual meeting of the Ontario Medical Association that a person is an alcohol addict when he acquires physical changes with dependence upon alcohol phsiologically and psychologically.

When a person suffers unusual shortness of breath while activity is normal, swelling of the ankles, nocturnal astha and unusual cough or if he uses an extra pillow at night, the possibility of congestive heart failure is apparent, the convention was told by Dr. J. A. Lewis of London, Ont.

He emphasized that physicians must not forget that certain conditions such as thyroid disturbances, anemia or inflammation of the heart area may be an underlying cause of heart failure.

Dr. A. L. Chute, physician-in-chief of Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children, said a great many people whose urine show excretion of sugar may not be diabetic, although this is a method of testing for the disease.

Positive Test

In a recent survey of 11,000 people in three Ontario communities, 192 cases showed a positive test of sugar in the urine. On further examination, however, only 88 were found to be suffering from diabetes. Infections, wounds and burns or administration of ACTH or Cortisone might give rise to abnormally high blood sugar values.

Head wounds, brain tumors or hyperthyroidism might also be associated with higher sugar in the blood. But it was probably best to regard all cases of sugar in the urine as diabetic until proved otherwise.

Dr. Richard Weaver of Hamilton said surgeons should adopt a conservative attitude in disorders of female genital organs. In too many cases ovaries had been removed needlessly.

"The ovary is the most important organ of the female genital system," he said, "but unfortunately it lends itself to easy removal and is often blamed, both by the patient and the physician, for almost any discomfort in the lower abdomen and back. It seems to me that we should all feel that there is something sacred about ovarian tissue and make every effort to preserve it . . . "

At the O.M.A.'s annual dinner Wednesday night, Dr. R. H. Malyon of Toronto became president of the Association for 1952-53.

The committee on public health suggested Wednesday, in a report to the council of the O.M.A. That too much publicity is given to poliomyelitis and that members should refrain from giving out reports which might cause fear.

It also recommended that in an effort to promote accurate reporting of medical subjects that the O.M.A. offer publishing firms of the province the service of checking on newspaper and magazine articles about medicine for accuracy.

IT'S BUM, NOT 'BON' VOYAGE FOR THEM—More than 600 gloomy passengers, right, start to debark from the luxury ship "Lurline," of the Matson line, as jeering crewmen wave to them, from a San Francisco pier. Dispute over hiring of one steward precipitated the strike, and forced the liner to cancel passage for Hawaii-bound vacationers.

Have Trouble Making Reds Of Yugoslavs

By RONALD PRESTON

BELGRADE, May 22—(Reuters)—The Communists are having a tough time "purging" the more backward peasants of Yugoslavia who still believe in Vampires, practise witchcraft and take a bath—without soap—only on holidays.

Their level of rudimentary hygiene is so low that almost half of them die before the age of 30.

The Serbian Communist newspaper, Partiski Radnik, complained that Premier Tito's regime faces many difficulties in the struggle to raise the living standard of these people.

Even local Communist party members whose task it is to combat such backwardness, the newspaper said, are themselves "very little or not at all different in their way of life from the general average."

The newspaper described the area around Kljuch, in the north-east corner of Yugoslavia, as "a typical backward area," where the life expectancy is "worryingly short."

On an average 46 per cent of the population dies before reaching the age of 30, and the infant mortality rate is particularly high.

Drunk Mothers

Mothers give birth to children lying on rags in hay or straw. They drink large quantities of wine because it is believed it compensates for loss of blood. They often remain drunk for days.

In the village of Kladushnica, in the same area near the Danube, 15 women and 10 men exclusively practise witchcraft, claiming to be able to cure people and cattle of any ailment.

Special precautions are taken against Vampires. Three days after a death in the village, three women take earth from the grave and throw it into the Danube, a ritual which is supposed to destroy the Vampire by drowning.

Women in Kladushnica believe that harm will come to them if they comb their hair more than once a week. If they do it on Wednesdays or Fridays, the superstition says it will fall out and if they do it on Tuesdays, they may be struck by lightning.

Sleep With Cows

The Partiski Radnik also said "pagan rites" are regularly performed by young people in fields before their parents. And because of excessive drinking of alcohol in this custom, the paper said, "children often come to school drunk."

Villagers take a bath only on the eve of an important holiday and then in a barn in cold water and without soap.

A "large number of households," the paper said, have no beds or furniture. People sleep on boards among poultry and cattle. Where beds exist, bed linen is washed no more than once or twice a year, again without soap.

Lowly Relics

CAPETOWN —(CP)—South Africa's historical monuments commission was to have discussed interesting relics spotted from the air in Natal. The subject was dropped from the agenda however when an aged native informed a Commissioner they were the ruins of "Willy Nicholson's pigsties." Experts previously thought they were remains of a century-old camp.

Diefenbaker Criticizes Federal Budget

KITCHENER, May 22—(CP)—John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament for Lake Centre, Wednesday night criticized the Federal budget as a "budget of confusion—a mixed assortment of political tricks and financial sleight-of-hand."

Mr. Diefenbaker was speaking in support of Miss Elizabeth Jansen, his party's candidate in next Monday's Waterloo North by-election.

Zion Church Workers Plan 'Berry Social

HALL'S GLEN, May 22 (ENS)—Plans for a play and a strawberry social in June were made at the May meeting of the Willing Workers of Zion United Church. Members made donations for expenses of the play.

Mrs. C. Scott presided at the meeting, and a solo was sung by Mrs. George Dyson. Lunch was served by Mrs. A. Oliver.

GOING TO TURKEY—Mrs. Marion C. Pennington, assistant director of the School of Nursing at Dalhousie University, Halifax, since 1949 has been appointed adviser to the Turkish government through the World Health Organization. A graduate of the University of British Columbia, Mrs. Pennington served overseas with the Canadian army during the Second World War and later with U.N.R.R.A.

Expect 200 Candidates To File Papers

VANCOUVER, May 22 (CP).—More than 200 candidates were expected to file official nomination papers today for the June 12 British Columbia general election before nominations close at 1 p.m. PDT (4 p.m. EDT).

Unofficially, there were 211 candidates in the race for 48 seats —48 Liberals, 48 C.C.F., 47 Progressive Conservatives, 46 Social Credit, eight Christian Democrats, five Labor-Progressives (Communist), five Independents, two Labor, and two Socialist.

Alternative voting, enabling electors to mark their preference for all candidates on the ballot, will be used for the first time in B.C. If no candidate has a clear-cut majority on the first count on election night, a second count—or third or fourth, as the case may be—will have to be held.

But the second count will not be held until three weeks after the election. It is probable winners in many ridings will not be known and in the event of a close vote, B.C. may not learn which party is in power until July 3.

A total of 793,428 persons are eligible to vote, an increase of 144,409 since the 1949 general election.

Though normally the government could have continued in power for at least another year, a general election was forced by the breakup of the Coalition government of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives.

The Coalition had held power since 1941. It came apart suddenly when Premier Byron Johnson, Liberal Leader, fired Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, Progressive Conservative Leader and co-chief in Coalition.

Mr. Johnson accused Mr. Anscomb of abrogating parliamentary procedure by releasing details of the new Dominion-Provincial taxation agreement before discussing them with the Cabinet. Mr. Anscomb denied this and said Mr. Johnson was using a "flimsy pretext" to smash Coalition.

Thus, Liberals and Progressive Conservatives are going to the polls alone for the first time in more than a decade. Also seeking power are the C.C.F., led by 44-year-old Harold Winch, a member of the Legislature for 19 years, and the Social Credit Party making its first major bid in B.C.

Standing in the Legislature at dissolution April 10 was: Liberal 23, Progressive Conservative 11, C.C.F. eight, Coalition three, Independent two, and Labor one.

There has been only one by-election since the 1949 election. That occurred in October when the C.C.F.'s Frank Mitchell won Esquimalt riding, formerly held by a Progressive Conservative.

The campaign has been in full swing for three weeks.

The Liberals have claimed their party will provide "stable" government and attract capital investment to the province.

Main plank in the Progressive Conservative platform is establishment of a new system of government hospital insurance, dong away with the present compulsory scheme.

Missionary Tours Arctic

MONTREAL — (CP) — Plane, train or dog team—it's all the same to Archdeacon J. Harold Webster, founder of the St. Andrew's Anglican Arctic Mission, visiting here.

Stationed in Coppermine, an Eskimo settlement some 1,600 miles north of Edmonton, Archdeacon Webster makes three 1,000 mile trips by dog sled each year, instructing and giving medical aid to some 700 Eskimos. He flew with his family to Edmonton and took a train to Montreal.

He lives with his wife and 13-year-old daughter Margaret in Coppermine, where the temperature drops to 60 below zero and rises as high as 85 during the 40-day summer. Another daughter, Ann, is training to be a nurse in Victoria.

Fluent in the Eskimo language, Archdeacon Webster received his Divinity degree from Emmanuel College in Saskatoon.

He plans to fly shortly with his family to his home in Blackpool, England, for a month's holiday. On his return, he will take up residence at Aklavik, an Eskimo settlement on the Mackenzie river delta. An assistant, Rev. J. Sperry, will take over at Coppermine.

What's Right

A man starts to do something for a woman, such as picking up something she has dropped or getting out of a car to open a door for her.

WRONG: She beats him to it, saying, "Don't bother" or "I have it."

RIGHT: She lets him show her the courtesy and thanks him graciously.

✧ ✧ ✧

You are invited to a small tea or morning coffee and are not sure whether or not you will be able to go.

WRONG; Say to the person who has telephoned to invite you: "I'll be there if I can."

RIGHT: Explain the situation and ask if you can call back later and tell her whether or not you can come.

Say Drug Clinics Would Aid Many Addicts

VICTORIA—(CP)—Mrs. W E. M. Mitchell, president of the Victoria branch of the John Howard Society, an organization sponsoring penal reform and care of prisoners, believes that solution of the narcotics problem lies in clinics where registered addicts can obtain drugs at normal prices.

She said in an interview that addicts has told her their daily life consisted of stealing to buy narcotics, keeping appointments with peddlers and hiding from police. "That is a full day for them. They have no time for a job."

Because the traffic does not exist in Victoria, she said many were coming here from Vantouver to try to cure themselves.

"Every addict makes a sincere attempt at some time to get rid of the habit," she said. "It's not difficult to get an addict off narcotics; the real trouble is keeping him off."

Not Much Help

Usually there was nobody to help an addict, she said. Hospitals were closed to him and doctors feared to help, no matter how willing.

"Addicts are in and out of jail so much they are actually serving a life term on the instalment plan."

Mrs. Mitchell, said Vancouver has eight times as many addicts as all of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland where 395 are registered.

"The criminal addict is unknown in the United Kingdom, said Mrs. Mitchell who studied conditions there in 1949 with the aid of Britain's Dangerous Drug Department.

Registration and sale at normal prices would wipe out the peddler who thrives on heavy profits.

"His daily small requirement makes an addict normal and he can hold down any job he is fitted for," she said.

Grace Church WA Hears Fine Talk

An address of fine calibre was given by Mrs. Phyllis Kingdon at the meeting of Grace United Church W.A. Tuesday evening. Her topic was Faith in Everyday Living, based on the text "He that shall lose his life shall find it." She stressed the power of faith and the need of quiet meditation, and of living day oy day, to ease the weight of cares for young wives and mothers, so they may live cheerfully, forgetting weariness.

Mrs. Kingdon illustrated her points with her own experiences which had sent out such challenge and been defeated through the power of prayer. She said that tragedy and misfortune can be met and transformed into most cherished assets because Christians have for the taking the secret of victorious and happy living. In conclusion she encouraged the women to walk close to God by faith, strengthened by prayer.

Entertainment was provided in several numbers by the Kawartha Four Barber Shop Quartet of Messrs. George McKay, Harold Coulson, D. L. Montgomery and P. Chevalier.

The guest speaker was thanked by the Rev. E. W. Rowland and Mrs. Rowland thanked the singers. The program was convened by Mrs. Thomas Doughty.

Scripture was read by Mrs. Ross Wright and commentary and prayer given by Mrs. D. L. Montgomery.

President Mrs. Eric McKinstry held a brief business session when the treasurer's report of the recent spring tea showed it to have been very successful. The June meeting will be a pot luck supper which all members are urged to attend.

A donation of $25 was made to the lantern fund. A parsonage committee of Mrs. McKinstry, Mrs. G. Close, and Mrs. W. Hargreave was appointed.

Mrs. Angus Tripp, delegate to the W.A. convention at Wesley Church, gave an interesting report Letters of thanks were read from members who have been remembered during illness.

The meeting was closed with singing "Blessed be the tie that binds" and a happy social hour was then spent. The tea table was centred with lovely spring flowers and hostesses were Mrs. T. Goudy, Mrs. C. Wilson, Mrs. R. Wright, Mrs. D. L. Montgomery and Mrs. J. Morden.

At the request of Mr. Rowland, who is retiring as minister of this church in July, the group sang "Auld Lang Syne" before leaving.

Missionaries To Wed In Paris

ROSENEATH, May 22 (ENS).—The engagement has been announced of Clarice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Atkinson, Roseneath, to Rev. Donald Stegink, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Stegink of Holland, Michigan, U.S.A. The marriage will take place on July 5 in the chapel of the European Bible Institute, Chaton, Paris, France. Miss Atkinson and her fiance are both taking a language study course in Paris, before begininng work as missionaries at the Sudan Interior Mission Maradi, Niger Colony, French West Africa. Miss Atkinson was a former teacher at Roseneath school and is a 1951 graduate of the Briercrest Bible Institute, Caronport, Saskatchewan. Miss Atkinson's mother, the former Ada Payne of Lakefield, spent some years as a missionary in Japan prior to her marriage.

Most Originality Shown At St. James' Mothers' Tea

The most original tea arrangement of this spring season was produced on Wednesday afternoon by the Baby Band Mothers of St. James' Church. Every guest, and there was a large crowd in spite of the rainy weather, exclaimed with delight and admiration of the decorative scheme on arrival, then changed to comments of approval after being served hot chicken in shell patties.

The Swan Lake Ballet music must have been the theme of this decorating committee, headed by Mrs. Haig Bothwell, for graceful white swans, their necks curved in a pose of shyness, and colorful water lilies were the keynotes. A delightful miniature lake was in the centre of the tea room, attracting much attention from the youngsters, and the tea table centrepiece was a realistic facsimilie of the Swan Lake.

The swans formed an inviting line-up from the entrance of Wesley Hall right around the tea room. Space for the serving tables was marked off with a tiny white picket fence and overhead was a canopy of paper streamers in the pastel shades.

Each quartette table was centred with one of the pretty water lilies similar to those scattered over the large table reflector and floating in the tiny lake. These flowers, so much like real ones, were offered for sale after the tea.

The chicken patties were served with a small roll of potato salad and a radish, making a tasty combination. Tea and home-made pastries were served afterward.

Convener of the kitchen was Mrs. Noel Monks with plates being made up by Mrs. H. Bothwell, Mrs. W. Millar, Mrs. W. Baldry, Mrs. R. Chatten and Mrs. H. Winterbottom and Mrs. Mel Wright in charge of re-filling the tea pots.

Hostesses in the tea room were: Mrs. Norman MacMurchy and Mrs. Robert Stewart and the servers were Mrs. J. Roberts, Mrs. E. Bell, Mrs. Don Roode, Mrs Paul Holmes, Mrs. J. Simmons, Mrs. A. Fife, Mrs. M. Raines, Mrs. J. McGovarin, Mrs. Ben Dewar, Mrs. Harold Fife, Mrs. Howard Bell and Mrs. Wm. Roode.

Many of the guests were representatives of other Baby Band Auxiliaries in the city and the tea pourers were Mrs. Ray Parnell, president of George St. and Mrs. H. Guppy, president of Mark St., with past presidents of St. James', Mrs. Fred James and Mrs. Cyril Davis also presiding.

A home baking table was very well stocked but practically sold out in the opening rush. Mrs. Joseph Dunkerley and Mrs. R. W. Mader were in charge. A candy table was attended by Mrs. Don Perks and Mrs. Fred McGovarin and did a nice business too.

The bazaar table featured children's wear and aprons, all made by the members and of very good workmanship. Mrs Robert Pirie and Mrs. W. Seabrooke handled the sales.

The display of three complete layettes made for distribution by missionary headquarters was most interesting. Large dolls atop each pile of carefully made garments were wearing embroidered gowns and fancy knit sweaters and bonnets from the layettes.

Receiving at the door was president Mrs. Clare Jones and the minister's wife, Mrs. H. D. McCormack. Treasurer was Mrs Robert Menzies.

Others on the decorating committee were Mrs. Menzies, Mrs. W. Seabrooke and Mrs. Robert Stewart, who was also convener of the ticket sales. Mrs. Bothwell also had the help of most of the Auxiliary in putting up the decorations. All of the swans and the water lilies forming the wall border were cut out by hand. Mrs Bothwell's artistry added the features of the swans and inscribed some with inviting messages.

A nursery for the small visitors was operated by Mrs. Post and Mrs. W. Anderson.

Many Starving In Montreal Because Living Costs High

MONTREAL, — (CP) — Nan Garvock, dietitian-in-chief of the Montreal Diet Dispensary, says Montreal's underprivileged groups have hit a new low in nutritional standards.

"I have never seen such a low standard in my 28 years of experience," she says. "And the lowest income groups aren't the only ones who are suffering — high costs are also affecting the diets of the middle-income groups."

"If something isn't done to ease the rise of high rents and high food costs in which these people are caught we will reap a harvest of sickness and disease," says the Red Feather service official.

G. B. Clarke, general secretary of the Family Welfare Association, another Red Feather agency, says Montreal is Canada's most expensive place to live and at the same time has the lowest level of wages.

Miss Garvock said many of the families who come to the dispensary for help with their diets have only $26 a week income. "The rent and fuel have to be paid and it's the diet they cut down on," she added.

Just Hungry

The dietitian says that many of the people who come to the dispensary are ill simply because they don't get enough to eat.

"If we have a chance to give them the proper diet we can make new people of them in a few months," she said.

Mr. Clarke says the Family Welfare Association, which cares for about 2,000 people a month with financial aid, and gives social service assistance to another 1,500 a month, is faced with the necessity of allowing 50 cents a day per person for diet.

He said elderly people form the largest single group who need financial help, with families deserted by husbands and fathers coming second and illness third.

Not Adequate Help

Mr. Clarke said that under present provisions few of these people can be adequately helped. A family has to be deserted for five years before the wife and mother can claim help under the needy mothers act. She can get no assistance under the Quebec Public Charities Act unless she is ill.

"Recent Legislation in Quebec has improved the picture as far as prosecuting deserting husbands and fathers is concerned, but what can anyone do if the man prefers to go to jail rather than pay?" said the official.

Mr. Clarke said that Manitoba has answered that problem by sentencing defaulters to work on prison farms with their wages going to support their families.

57th REGIMENT CHAPTER

The 57th Regiment Chapter, I.O.D.E., met Wednesday evening in the officers' mess at the Armouries. Regent Mrs. M. E. Clark was presiding and 34 members were present. After the opening prayer and flag being brought forward, the reports of officers and conveners were heard.

It was decided the chapter will buy a book suitable for Empire study for each grade eight class in the city schools, as the usual essay contest and prize-giving has been discontinued this year.

Money was voted to various I.O.D.E. funds and $25 to the Canadian Cancer Society. Also a donation to the Lady Alexander gift fund to equip her electric kitchen.

The annual picnic is to be held June 25th at Mrs. G. A. Stewart's home, 445 Cameron St. The regent asked that members attend the annual remembrance service this Friday, May 23rd, at three o'clock in the chapel at Little Lake cemetery. She reminded also that the oldest member of this chapter, Mrs. L. A. S. Hay, celebrates her 99th birthday on June 2nd.

Convener of Empire and world affairs Mrs. W. G. Hall, prepared a paper on "Canada's Contribution" which was read by Mrs. Clare Stuart.

The regent and treasurer Mrs. R. Payne gave exceptionally complete reports from the Provincial convention at Hamilton.

Lunch was served by social convener Mrs. Walter Hughes and committee.

SACRED HEART SCHOOL

The Parent-Teacher Association of Sacred Heart School was addressed Monday evening by Constable Donald MacKay of the Peterborough Police Department. He demonstrated and explained how the children are being trained in the new street crossing patrol system and then answered questions of parents.

Retiring president Joseph Slattery opened the meeting and Monsignor P. P. Butler said prayers.

A new slate of officers was presented by nominations chairman Mrs. J. Callahan whose assistants were Mrs. Frank Kirkaldy and Mrs. Joseph Allen. The officers were installed by Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, head of the Diocesan Parent-Teacher Association, as follows:

President, Mrs. Vincent Flynn; vice-president, Mrs. Neil Collins; recording secretary, Mrs. Leo Martyn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Margaret McDougall; treasurer, Mrs. Don Coughlin.

Councillors are: Mrs. J. P. Allen, Mrs. L. Foster, Mrs. J. J. Duggan, Mrs. L. Griffin, Mrs. Pat Coursey, Mrs. J. Jones, Mrs. Joe Kearns, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. J. DeNoble, Mrs. W. DeNoble, Mrs. Wm. Flint, Mrs. Wm. Meagher, Mrs. Leo Collins, Mrs. McCallum, Messrs. Rupert Miller, Leo Blodgett and Douglas Hatton.

At close of the installation Mr. Slattery extended his thanks to the clergy, sisters and executive for their co-operation throughout the year. An address was then read to him, expressing appreciation of his leadership, by Mr. A. J. Atwood, and a gift token was presented by Mr. Leo Blodgett.

Monsignor Butler moved a vote of thanks to the retiring president and executive, stating the organization had had a splendid year and given great help to the school.

Parents were asked to attend the field day and graduation in June. Mrs. O'Brien announced the Diocesan convention June 8th at the K. of C. hall, at two o'clock, at which an election of officers will be held.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. Victor Mattucci and thanked by Mr. Leo Martyn.

Guests present were from St. Mary's Parish, Lindsay, which is planning to organize a P-T Association.

Lunch was served by Mrs. J. DeNoble and committee.

AMERICA'S CHIEF HOPE in the Wimbledon tournament is Maureen Connolly, pictured here in a warm-up match. Prior to leaving for Britain, she requested the committee over there to arrange for men players for her practice sessions.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Must Adjust Demands To Career Of Her Husband

DEAR MISS DIX: My physical and mental health are in serious jeopardy unless I can find a solution to my problem. I am 25 and have been married for three years to a fine man. Although he was driving a truck when I met him, he is now branch manager of a firm. We both work, and go out a lot, so I have no right to complain, but along with Dan's success, he seems to have lost most of his heart.

Is it necessary for a man to become completely absorbed in his work in order to be successful? I think we have sufficient money to live comfortably without his worrying, fretting and living solely for the company. And that's the way it is! He simply lives to please his boss.

The things he does are not compulsory, but any suggestion made is practically an order to him. This has been going on for two years and I'm worrying myself into a breakdown. If I tell my husband of my feelings, he says I'm immature. Perhaps I am, but if immaturity means putting love before business, then I don't want to change. I'll ask if he's dissatisfied with our marriage, and he only laughs at me.

He was very eager to marry me, and I made many personal sacrifices to marry him. He never thinks of these things, either.

A.L.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your difficulty is rooted in a dissatisfaction in your own mind. To help yourself, you must find out what it is, and eradicate it. It may easily be your lack of children, or it may be a nagging resentment over the sacrifices you made to marry Dan. Perhaps you are bored with your own job and actually envy him the interest he has in business.

Suppose He Were Different?

Suppose you consider what your life would be if your husband were entirely different. If he didn't want to work, was lazy and slovenly? Does the picture appeal to you? Of course not! Then don't be so vexed at Dan's overconscientiousness.

You must try to realize just how much a man's work means to him. It is, after all, a life career and one in which he hopes to achieve great things. And who will benefit from the fruits of his labors? You of course. It's all right to say you think his present earnings are sufficient to keep you comfortably, but with a future to provide for, additional income is always welcome.

No man wants to stand still in a job—at least no worthy man. In fact, no one should ever be content at a stationary point. We all want to progress to something better; condemning this universal urge toward higher and better things is to halt civilization. Don't try to buck impulses that are as old as the world.

You see, all adjustments must be made by you in this problem. You certainly aren't a neglected wife if you're taken out frequently. You have no problems over other women, drinking, gambling or any of the evils that drive most of my correspondents to writing. Don't give way to a neurosis. With the help of a good doctor and a firm resolution to put things in a better light, I'm sure you'll come to a sensible outlook.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Is it possible for a man of 37 to fall in love with a girl of 17? I have never cared too much for girls, but this young lady is very sweet. She assures me the difference in age means nothing when two people are in love.

E. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It is practically impossible for you to love a girl so much younger than you! The fact that you have had so little contact with the gentler sex has slightly marred your perspective. You will, I assure you, be much more content with ladies nearer your own age. The girl, herself, is temporarily thrilled at the idea of an "older man" taking so much interest in her, but a twenty-year difference is mighty large.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Can you tell me what my nationality is? My mother is Irish, as all her people were born in Dublin. My father is Scotch and French. Am I right in saying I have Irish blood? My girl friend says my mother's nationality doesn't count.

MISS X

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your girl friend is very wrong. You are a product of all the national strains that make up your background, so you are, properly, Irish-Scotch-French. Since your mother is entirely Irish, and your father's ancestry is mixed, you are more Irish than any other nationality.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"No fair resting!"

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Strawberry Meringue Choice Cake

All ye clever and ambitious cooks gather round. I have a rare beauty of a recipe for you. It is at times such as this that I wish I could insert a glorious color picture at the top of this column—for instance my choice today would be of the lovely Strawberry Meringue Cake that I made last night.

It radiated brightness and oozed deliciousness. One of my neighbors who came over to borrow a lemon, went next door on the other side of me to fetch another neighbor just to have a look at it. I just stood on the sidelines, beaming.

Add today's recipe to your "Special Dessert File". This will appeal to those mothers of young babies on egg-yolk diets, who are collecting egg whites by the dozen. I know you can make angel food cakes and macaroons, and besides don't have time to entertain, but if you could see this cake you would plan a dessert party at least. Those folks to whom you owe an invitation would welcome one to a dessert party. All it requires is this dessert plus quarts of good coffee, the best china and conversation.

Strawberry Meringue Cake

Six egg whites, few grains salt, 1¾ cups white sugar, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, strawberries, whipped cream. In a large bowl beat the whites until stiff with the salt. Begin to add the sugar, while beating, 1 tablespoon at a time, until all is used. Add the vanilla and vinegar. Cover the bottom of a round deep cake pan with heavy wet paper. Parchment paper is fine. A Spring Form is ideal. Pour in the meringue and bake at 250 deg. Fahr. for 1 hour and 15 minutes. Cool. Remove from pan. Crush down centre and make a well. Fill this with strawberries when serving time comes, preferably unsweetened, because meringue is very sweet. Garnish bottom edge with wide rim of whipped cream dotted with perfect berries. A little rim of whipped cream around the mound of berries is attractive too. It does no harm for this to stand a few minutes for the berries to soak into the meringue and make it all the better. This same method may be used with fresh raspberries.

If strawberries or raspberries are not available you might like to try this:

Lemon Schau M Torte (sometimes called Angel Pie)

Beat until stiff 3 egg whites, and gradually beat in ½ cup sugar. Now begin adding another ½ cup sugar alternately with 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Beat until very stiff and glossy. Spread in a paper-lined 9-inch round tin (layer cake tin or deep pyrex pie plate) and bake at 275 deg. Fahr. for about 35 or 40 minutes. Cool. Whip until stiff 1 cup whipipng cream. Spread half of it over the cooled meringue shell. Spread that with cooled Lemon Custard Filling (see below). Top with remaining whipped cream. Chill overnight or for at least 12 hours.

Lemon Custard Filling

Beat 4 egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually beat in ½ cup sugar. Stir in 2 tablespoons lemon rind grated and 4 tablespoons lemon juice. Cook over simmering water, stirring, until thick, which takes about 5 or 8 minutes. This is a grand filling for dainty little tarts, topped with whipped cream.

BUYING — OR SELLING?
When Egg Prices are at peak next fall, will you be Buying or Selling? Provided you have housing for layers, probably more comforting to "pocket nerve" to have plenty home-produced eggs for table, surplus for sale! Well-started three-four-week-old Pullets fast growing, early laying, big-egg Bray stock, should lay by September if raised right. Very reasonably priced right now if taken "shipper's choice"— look: Heavies, per hundred, three weeks, $27.90 four weeks, $32.90. Mediums, per hundred, three weeks $34.90 four weeks, $38.90. (If interested particular breer or cross, ask for "customer's choice" prices, slightly higher but still mighty reasonable.) Day-olds also available new lower prices. Artist Would Paint Cat 34 Years Old

LONDON, Ont., May 22 (CP)—Mrs. William Mallough's Scooter, a yellow tomcat who will celebrate his 35th birthday Sept. 4, may one day be made immortal.

The oldest living cat in recorded feline history has gained the attention of a New York artist who wants to paint his portrait and a Canadian who wants to write a book about him.

Scooter's longevity is second only to that of a lifelong pal, Snooky, an Angora who died in 1950 three days before his 37th birthday.

Scooter and Snooky shared top honors in the all-time and all-nations cat derby in 1945. Snooky, then 32, was named the oldest cat in the world.

Tibet Prime Minister Fired From Job

NEW DELHI, May 22 — (Reuters)— The Prime Minister of Tibet, Silon Lukhang, has been dismissed from office, it was learned today from usually reliable sources here.

Reports reaching here from the Indian frontier town of Kalimpong on the Tibetan trade route say the Chinese authorities in Lhasa, the capital of Tibet, had requested the dismissal of 58-year-old Likang on the groupnds that he had supported Tibetan representations to the Chinest to leave Tibet.

Believes Heparin Helpful To Patients

HAMILTON May 22—(CP)—Dr. Gordon Murray, of Toronto, said Wednesday that, if heparin could be administered to a patient after an attack of coronary thrombosis, the patient's chances for survival would be good.

Dr. Murray, a heart specialist, told the annual convention of the Ontario Medical Association that heparin is of substantial aid in diseases caused by clotting of the blood. The heart disease of coronary thrombosis is the most spectacular of these.

Heparin is an anti-coagulant of the blood.

Obituary

MISS MARY STORTZ

Member of a Peterborough family of years ago, Miss Mary Stortz died Tuesday at her home in New Toronto. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stortz. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. P. Watson of Victoria, B.C., and Miss Clara Stortz of North Bay. The family home was on Elm St.

The body is resting at the Lane funeral home, Hunter St., until Friday at 8.45 a.m. The funeral will take place to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass at 9 a.m., and thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

Claims Record

SCHNECTADY, N.Y., May 22—(AP)—A Schenectady engineer claims the international pipe-smoking record. Thomas Hand kept his briar going 94 minutes, 25 seconds in an "empire state pipe smoking festival," sponsored this week by a pipe-store proprietor. He reported international mark of 92:38 was set in Holland recently.

Pantie Raids Continue Rock Colleges

NEW YORK, May 22 — (AP)— Pantie raids spread across the United States from Maine to California today despite efforts by some co-eds, police and college authorities to stymie them.

Many of the latest forays were in fun but others wound up in violence.

Worst brawl Wednesday night was the University of Oklahoma where a demonstration labelled a "lust for lace" ended in an egg-tossing riot.

And at the University of Georgia students were routed by tear gas and bombs after hurling rocks and eggs at police patrol cars.

The strang fad, in which college boys invade women's dormitories and sororities in search of undergarments, began several weeks ago.

Since Sunday undie sorties have occurred at more than 40 schools, many of them large universities.

In the Oklahoma wrangle at Norman, Okla., last night, about 2,000 male students made off with lingerie loot from 16 women's dormitories.

The panti-pilgering lark turned into an egg-throwing battle after police officers tried persusion, tear gas and finally high-pressure hoses.

Twelve students were arrested.

Threaten Draft.

President John A. Hannah of Michigan State, told some 1,000 students milling around a girl's dormitory, "we don't want any of that notoriety here." Police arrested 25 raiders and the rest gave up at midnight minus loot.

Louisiana State University officials used the Selective Service Act to repulse dormitory invaders. The Dean of Men, Ardent French, told 700 men students expulsion and army draft awaited those attempting to enter the girls' dormitories.

At the University of Georgia, police met 400 youths marching toward a co-ed dormitory. The officers said the students began throwing eggs and stones. The police retaliated with gas and smoke bombs. After a 45-minute tussle, four boys were arrested and the others dispersed.

No one was injured.

Other pantie forays Wednesday night and early today occurred at Western Reserve University, Pomona and Claremount Colleges in Southern California, Bradley of Peoriai, Ill., Cornel of Ithaca, N. Y., Mercer University at Macon, Ga., Virgina Tech and the Universities of Maine, Maryland, Richmond, Kentucky, Arkansas and Louisville.

No A-Bomb Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 22 — (AP)—There will be no atom bomb test today. United States Atomic Energy Commission indicated weather conditions were unfavorable and announced the postponement Wednesday night. It was the third time the test had been called off since it was originally scheduled for last Thursday. No new date was set.

OVERCOME BY GAS

TORONTO—(CP)—Domestic gas which investigators said escaped from a defective heater last night killed Owen Cannon, 75. Coroner Dr. F. W. Tickett declared the death accidental.

Suggest Using Cane Waste For Newsprint

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — Representative Edwin Willis (Dem. La.) today urged a prompt study of the possibility of converting sugar cane waste into newsprint on a large scale.

Experimental work of making paper from bagasse— the pulp left after sugar is extracted from the cane—already has proved successful, Willis said.

"I think the time is ripe for our leaders in the sugar belt to explore this matter and to confer with some of the many experts in this field," he told a reporter.

Willis said the solution to the vexing problems of newsprint shortages and high prices lies in the sugar cane waste of Louisiana, big producer of domestic sugar cane.

Available Yearly

Willis said a new crop of bagasse is available every year whereas it takes 40 years for a Canadian spruce tree to mature and 10 years for the southern pine to mature.

Referring to a $10-per-ton price increase for newsprint sold in the U.S., announced this week by Canadian newsprint companies, Willis said that "there seems to be no limit to the tribute which the Canadian and associated American newsprint monopoly is exacting from our otherwise free press."

Willis noted that the Savannah Morning News recently printed an entire edition on newsprint made from bagasse under a technique perfected by Dr. Joaquin De La Rosa.

He called this "one of the most exciting technological innovations during this century."

$440,000 Hydro Job For St. Thomas Area

TORONTO, May 22 — (CP) — The Ontario Hydro Commission today announced a $440,000 construction program to meet new industrial growth in the St. Thomas area. It said it will instal permanent 60-cycle facilities in a high-tension transformer station just north of the city.

The installations, expected to go into operation early next year, will provide approximately 40,000 horsepower of 60-cycle current for the city and district.

Preliminary work has started in connection with the 60-cycle changeover in the area comprising the municipalities of Listowel, Palmerston, Milverton, Clifford, Harriston, Moorfield, Drayton and surrounding district. An inventory of about 100 plants has already begun.

Mother, Two Babies Perish In Fire

NICTAUX PLAINS, N.S., May 22 (CP)—A 27-year-old mother and her two baby daughters died in their beds when fire destroyed their bungalow in this Annapolis Valley village near Middleton early today.

They were the wife and children of a transport truck driver, in Halifax at the time of the blaze. Dead are Mrs. Shirley Parker, Beverley, 4, and Joan, 3.

Brantford Limits Parking To 3 Hours

To facilitate street cleaning in summer and snow removal in winter, Brantford council has set a three-hour limit on parking on many streets in the down town area between midnight and 6 a.m. Peterborough has a four-hour limit after midnight.

Brantford has specified certain streets for this nocturnal parking, but Peterborough's action has general effect, aimed particularly at the season of snow removal.

Propaganda Talk

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22 (AP) —The Peiping radio Wednesday asserted that British prisoners in North Korean camps are resentful because Britain has no member of the Korean armistice negotiations delegation. It quoted Wilfred Burchett, a Communist correspondent for the Paris Ce Soir, who said he had visited a prison camp in North Korea and talked to prisoners.

EARL CLAYTON REVOIR, Trent River, has been appointed district field man for the Canadian Order of Foresters in Peterborough and district. He succeeds Arthur Reynolds, Peterborough.

Don't Approve Liquor In Barn

TORONTO, May 22 — (CP) — Ontario hotelmen don't think a barn is a good place to hold a banquet and serve liquor.

A meeting of presidents and secretaries of the province's 22 Zonal Hotel Association's Wednesday protested against issuing banquet permits to unsuitable places and cited one instance of a barn being used.

They asked the Ontario Liquor Control Board to issue fewer permits, to insist on proper seating and sanitary facilities and fire safety regulations in the halls concerned.

The hotelmen also asked the board to allow liquor and beer to be served in hotel rooms. Room service was ordered stopped during the Second World War.

Other resolutions asked the board to permit 10 a.m. opening for hotels in rural areas to serve farmers, to allow liquor and beer outlets to open after the polls close in municipal elections, to authorize four different sizes of shot glasses and to standardize the price of beer which now varies in some sections of Ontario.

Toronto Newspaper Instals New Press

TORONTO, May 22 —(CP) — The Globe and Mail announced today in a news-page story it has completed a plant-expansion program, including installation of a giant, color-convertible high-speed press costing $1,300,000.

Another feature is the building of a sub-basement with a storage capacity of 2,100 tons of newsprint, six week's supply.

When all new press units are rolling, 190,000 copies of a 56-page paper can be produced every hour.

Actress Seeks Divorce

LOS ANGELES, May 22 (AP)— Veronica Lake, who won movie fame by combing her blonde hair over one eye, filed suit for divorce Wednesday from Andre Detoth, film director. Her compiaint charged grievous mental and physical anguish, without detailed specifications. They were married in 1944 and separated in 1950, she said. She seeks custody of three children.

Going to Peiping

HONG KONG, May 22 (AP)— Four Australian men and one woman headed by Dr. John Burton, former head of Australia's External Affairs Department, arrived Wednesday by air from Sydney en route to Peiping to assist in planning a Communist-sponsored Asia peace conference. Burton told reporters his group represented a "Peace in the Pacific" Committee.

Unload On Beaches

ORLEANS, France, May 22 — (AP). — American and French troops will begin unloading cargoes across the beaches of France for the first time since the war when a military exercise is started June 1, the U.S. Army said today. The aim is to teach troops the techniques made famous by the Allied army invasion of Nazi-held France from across the English Channel.

Malan Observes 78th Birthday

CAPETOWN, South Africa, May 22. (Reuters)—Prime Minister Daniel Malan celebrated his 78th birthday today amid a hammer-and-tongs argument over his government's "anti-red" drive against South African unions.

Opposition leader Jacob Strauss issued a statement pledging his United Party to support trade unions campaigning against the government because it has "named" several union leaders as Communists, ordered them out of their jobs and restricted their movements.

The latest to be so affected is Gengan Poonen, Indian secretary of the Tobacco Workers' Union, the National Union, of Tea and Coffee Workers and the Rope and Mat Workers' Industrial Union, and vice-president of the Natal Indian Congress, which champions Indians' rights. Today he was ordered out of all his posts, and forbidden to attend any large public meeting or leave Natal province for two years.

Malan said Communists have gained control of trade unions by getting party members appointed as secretaries.

Strauss said it was his party's policy "that the trade unions shall have free and complete independence, subject to the laws of the land, so that they may be effective champions of the workers' cause."

439 Visits Made By Nurses In Month

The nursing staff of the Peterborough Victorian Order of Nurses made 439 visits during April.

Miss Harriet McGeary, nurse-in-charge, in her report at the monthly meeting of the V.O.N. board of directors, Wednesday afternoon, explained that 302 of the total number of visits were for bedside nursing and 137 for instruction.

The branch had an operating month. Miss McGeary explained deficit of $585 dollars during the that deficit was caused by instructional visits which are non-chargeable and by 70 bedside nursing visits for which no payment was received.

Full payment was received for 118 visits and part payment for 114 visits.

There were 65 new patients admitted to care during the month. The total for April, 1951, was 63.

Charges Gov't Tried To Smother Inquiry

KITCHENER, May 22 — (CP)— M. J. Coldwell, National C. C. F. leader, Wednesday night charged that the Liberal government tried "to smother" the inquiry into foot-and-mouth disease, "hoping the investigation could be kept quiet."

He was speaking at a C. C. F. meeting in support of his party's candidate in the May 26 Waterloo North Federal by-election.

He criticized the government's agricultural policy, saying Canada needs forward pricing and long-term marketing plans.

A. Robert Anderson

The funeral for A. Robert Anderson, 532 Charlotte St., who died Sunday, was held Wednesday from the Comstock funeral home.

The Rev. Ivan C. Morgan of Murray St. Baptist Church, conducted the service.

Pallbearers were Stanley Gillespie, Grant Miller, Edgar Spurway, Gordon Griffin, Albert Wray, W. G. Shiner.

Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Getting Married?

HOLLYWOOD, May 22 (AP)— To reports that he may make singer Jane Kean, 28, his fourth wife, Mickey Rooney says: "She's a grand girl. We're good friends and that's all we ever will be." Miss Kean was quoted yesterday as saying she "may" wed the 31-year-old Rooney, whose ex-wives are Martha Vickers, Ava Gardner and Betty Jane Rase.

Polio Publicity Annoys Doctors

HAMILTON, May 22 (CP). — Too much publicity is given to poliomyelitis, the committee on public health suggested Wednesday in a report to the Ontario Medical Association Council.

The committee recommended that in an effort to promote accurate reporting of medical subjects, the O.M.A. offer publishing firms of the province the service of checking on newspaper and magazine articles about medicine for accuracy.

The association passed a resolution asking the Federal Government to allow deduction of all medical expenses for income tax purposes and to allow subscribers to prepaid medical plans to deduct their payments.

At the association's annual dinner Dr. R. H. Malyon of Toronto became president of the association for 1952-53 and Dr. H. T. Ewart, Hamilton, was named president-elect. Dr. W. V. Johnston of Lucknow was re-elected chairman of the association's council.

Three life memberships were announced: to Dr. Isaac Edwin Crack, Hamilton; Dr. Ulysses Joseph Durocher, Windsor, and Dr. George William Thomas Smith, North Bay.

Scouters Club Plans Activities

The Peterborough's Scouters Club held its second meeting Wednesday evening, in St. Luke's hall.

Girl Guide Commissioner Mrs. J. R. Epping gave a report on girl guide activities and said that five companies of guides and three brownie packs will be holding a cookie day May 31.

A group of guides expects to go to Toronto to meet Lady Baden Powell, May 28.

Commissioner Dr. G. R. Langley reported that devised charts of the district with its leaders would be available soon. He also asked that each cub and scout destroy at least 100 tent caterpillar nests.

An appeal was received from Havelock for a scout leader. The Scouter Club sent an invitation to Field Commissioner Art Jackson to have the regional conference held in Peterborough in the spring of 1953.

Committees were formed to plan cub and scout field days in the fall.

Charles Forsyth, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., spoke on leadership.

Dr. Langley invited the Scouters Club to hold its next meeting in July as a family picnic at his cottage.

The rest of the evening was spent in games.

Ike Gets Preference

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)— Newsweek magazine says a poll it took of 50 top U.S. political writers shows a prevailing opinion that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will get the Republican nomination for president and Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois will be the Democratic choice. The Washington reporters gave Governor Earl Warren of California the nod for the G.O.P. vice presidential spot and Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia second place on the Democratic slate.

Nice Kitty

CLEVELAND, May 22 (AP) — For the last five years, 17 Clevelanders have been playing cards together—poker, bridge and gin rummy. All the while, they each contributed $10 a week to a kitty. Today, Harry J. London, secretary of the card club, announced that the kitty, plus $15,000 sweetening, has been used to finance the purchase of a 25-suite apartment house and two smaller apartment houses.

New F-M Outbreak

LONDON, May 22—(Reuters— Further outbreaks of foot-and-mouth disease were confirmed in Central England today, bringing the total since the epidemic began in November up to 334. Cattle slaughtered now number 40,256.

ALLAN H. LEE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee, River Rd., received his Bachelor of Science degree at Queen's recent graduation ceremonies and won the George J. MacKay prize. He was president of his year and president of the Mining and Metallurgy Society and was also a member of the basketball team that won the intermural championship.

Brig. Walsh Says Riots Exaggerated

HANNOVER, Germany, May 22 (Reuters)—Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, commander of the 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade, Wednesday said press reports of clashes between Canadian soldiers and German police Saturday night were "much exaggerated."

He said four soldiers are under arrest and awaiting disciplinary action.

Walsh said a lot of the blame rested on the tavern keepers, who sell all the beer they can to the troops.

Propaganda Used Against Ike

NEW YORK, May 22. (AP)— The anti-defamation league says anti-Semetism has entered into campaigns against General Eisenhower as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

League spokesmen said Wednesday that "professional bigots" have flooded the country with at least 20 anti-Semetic publications attacking the Eisenhower campaign.

Arnold Forster, chief counsel for the league, a branch of the Jewish fraternal organization B'nai B'rith, said some of the literature was used in primary elections in New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, California and Texas.

Forster and Benjamin Epstein, the league's national director, said one publication reprinted a biography of Eisenhower as published in the 1915 U.S. Military Academy yearbook, the "Howitzer."

The biography is captioned "Ike Eisenhower (Swedish Jew)." However, the West Point librarian, Lt.-Col. W. J. Morton, has said the reference was made in jest.

Warned To Watch Reds

MANILA, May 22 — (AP). — President Elpidio Quirino told a meeting of provincial governors and mayors today the Philippines has been warned through its diplomatic representatives to be on the alert for a new outbreak of Communist aggression. Quirino told the group, which included Congressional leaders, the Philippines must make preparations to meet any emergency.

A-Bomb Scientist Indicted On Charge Lying Under Oath

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—Joseph W. Weinberg, a scientist who helped develop the atomic bomb, was indicted today on charges he lied when he denied under oath to a Congressional committee that he had been a member of the Communist party. Weinberg is the man long described only as "Scientist X" by the House of Representatives Un-American Activities Committee during an investigation of atomic spying. Today's perjury indictment, returned by a federal grand jury, is based on testimony Weinberg gave to the House committee.

Weinberg figured prominently in the committee's investigation of spying at the wartime University of California radiation laboratory at Berkley.

In the early stages of its investigation, the committee referred to Weinberg merely as "scientist X" but later identified him and called him as a witness.

Three Counts

The perjury indictment contains three counts. Conviction would make him liable to 10 years imprisonment on each count.

The indictment is based on Weinberg's appearance before the committee May 25, 1949.

Weinberg was fired as a University of Minnesota professor after his grand jury appearance.

Judge James Kirkland ordered a warrant issued for Weinberg's arrest. He fixed bond at $10,000. Weinberg's court appearance was set for June 2.

Telegraphers' Strike Nearly Settled

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—An agreement was reached today providing a basis for ending a 51-day strike by A.F.L. telegraphers against the Western Union Company.

But there were two big "ifs." They were:

1—Western Union must get Federal authority to increase the telegraph rates.

2—The pact must be ratified by the membership of the Commercial Telegraphers Union (A.F.L.). A union spokesman said such ratification is in doubt.

Announcement of the agreement was made by Cyrus Ching, head of the Federal Mediation Service and officials of the union and company.

The company said the workers will be back on the job Monday. W. L. Allen, international president of the C.T.U., said, however, that such a return will be contingent on approval of the terms by the union membership.

Basic Terms

The basic terms of the contract involve:

1—A shift from the 48-hour work week to one of 40 hours, with no change in pay, for those hired before November 1, 1941.

2—A flat 10-cent-an-hour increase for workers hired after that date.

Those hired after the 1941 date were employed on the basis of a 40-hour week, receiving 40 hours' pay.

3—Abandonment of the union shop among W.U. employees, but establishment of what a mediation spokesman called an "agency shop."

4—Employees working 35 hours a week would get a flat $22-a-month increase.

5—Messengers would receive an increase of five cents an hour.

W.U. workers would not have to join the union as heretofore, it was explained, but those who decline to become union members must pay dues.

Company spokesmen would not say how much rate increase would be asked of the Federal Communications Commission, but Allen said he understood the company will ask a flat 10-per-cent boost.

New Weapon Planned By Yard

LONDON, May 23 (Reuters).—Mail thieves struck again Thursday looting a locked mail coach of an undetermined amount in valuables. Their daring raid came as police sought bandits who took £200,000 in small truck holdup here Wednesday.

The thieves Thursday slashed open seven mail pouches in a locked coach of a London to Manchester train. Two of the bags contained valuable packages, but the amount of the loss was not immediately made known.

Scotland Yard is considering a plan to arm all mail truck guards with a jet pistol designed to shoot a cloud of powder, enveloping an attacker up to a range of 20 yards. The powder would fog him, then stick to his clothes, making him a marked man.

British mailmen have never been armed and their trucks are not much better protected than a grocer's.

Scotland Yard's flying squad and ghost squad of undercover men Thursday continued to comb the city's underworld and scores of known criminals have been picked up for questioning.

UN Planes Smash Industrial Centre

SEOUL, Korea, May 23 (AP)—United Nations planes smashed a huge industrial centre southwest of Pyongyang today in the culmination of what the United States Air Force called the greatest saturation bombing attack of the Korean war.

The attack, near the North Korean capital, began Thursday morning and ended at 4 p.m. today. Nearly 800 fighter-bomber sorties were flown against the target.

Burned and blasted in the assault were a Communist hand-grenade arsenal, the surface works of a coal mine, storehouses and nearly a half-mile of machine shops and wire houses. They were along the north bank of the Taedong River between Pyongyang and its port city, Chinnanpo.

Suggest 10-Cent Hike At Port Hope Plant

OTTAWA, May 23 (CP) — A conciliation board has unanimously recommended a general increase of 10 cents an hour for employees of Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited of Port Hope, the labor department announced today.

The employees, members of the United Mine Workers of America, had sought a general increase of 20 cents an hour. The 10 cents recommended by the board would be in addition to a 10-cents-an-hour increase voluntarily granted by the company during the term of the expiring agreement.

The board turned down a union request that the present three-months' probationary period be reduced to one month, but recommended there be no differentiation in future between rates paid during this period and normal rates.

Socialists Fail To Stop Peace Pact

Big Three Ministers Meet In Germany To Sign Contract

BONN, May 23 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today beat down a Socialist bid for a general parliamentary debate designed to prevent his signing a peace contract with the three western powers.

The Big Three western foreign ministers came to Bonn today to sign away old occupation controls and offer Western Germany an equal place in free Europe's defences against the Soviet menace. The contract is to be signed Monday.

The opposition Socialists, by marshalling one-third of the federal bundestag (lower house), forced a special session in an effort to embarrass the chancellor. But Adenauer mobilized his three-party coalition majority to beat down the anti-rearmament opposition's demand for a full-fledged debate, before the contract is signed.

The house rejected an effort to put the debate on the agenda by a show of hands in a short 50-minute session and then adjourned.

In the first foreign ministers' conference on German soil since the Second World War, the diplomatic leaders of Britain, the United States, France and West Germany are slated to sign a peace contract binding the 48,000,000 Germans west of the Iron Curtain to the Atlantic community politically and militarily.

Once signed, the peace pact faces the high hurdles of ratification by the four nations' parliaments, with major trouble expected in the Bonn Assembly. Across the Iron Curtain, in East Germany, Communist leaders are warning of civil war and making implied threats to blockade Red-surrounded Berlin.

The peace pact will liquidate six years of war and seven of occupation. It will give almost full sovereignty to the young West German Republic.

Winding up eight months of negotiations, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the western high commissioners completed most of the details of the pact last night.

Next Monday the unique, historic document will be signed by Britain's Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden, State Secretary Dean Acheson of the U.S., and France's Foreign Minister, Robert Schuman.

Acheson left Washington by special plane Thursday night and is due here in mid-afternoon.

Eden and Schuman will come here from the Council of Europe meeting they have been attending in Strasbourg.

HERE'S CANADA, BARBARA—Although only four years old, Barbara Gillespie (right) is taking a special interest in Canada today because it is Citizenship Day. She visited the Normal School where Helen Stinson, Campbellford, pointed out Canada for Barbara on the globe. In the Normal School, collegiate and high schools, the public and separate schools, classes were celebrating both Victoria Day (May 24) and Citizenship Day.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

12,000 Employees Made Idle; No Disturbances

WINDSOR, May 23. (CP)—Some 6,700 workers arriving for the early shift at Ford Company of Canada plant today refused to cross picket lines set up by striking office workers. Observers took their action to mean, in effect, a strike of the plant's 12,000 workers. About 200 of the 900 office workers set up picket lines at all gates shortly before the production men arrived. Officials of Local 240 United Auto Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), which represents the office employees, announced Thursday that the strikers would picket the plant. The announcement came only a few hours after both labor and management agreed to meet with Labor Minister Charles Daley of Ontario in Toronto in an effort to settle the dispute, which began Sunday.

There was no disturbance as the production men faced the picket lines today.

In Wrong?

Ford officials contended that the office workers who went on strike Sunday had no legal right to strike.

Union spokesmen pointed to a clause in the union-company agreement which stipulates that in the event of an office workers' strike the union would not establish a picket line if non-striking personnel were not used to do work normally done by office workers.

However, union officials said they believe that Ford superintendents are being used to handle day-to-day production scheduling—work normally done by office workers.

Until today only the ofce had been picketed by the office workers.

Union Demands

The union is demanding a $43.30 increase on a monthly basic salary of $191.56. Ford has offered $26, partly retroactive to June 1, 1951, plus automatic $5.20 increases June 15, 1952 and 1953.

A plant shutdown would put 12,000 persons out of work. In this industrialized city where one in three incomes comes from the Ford plant, a Ford strike has an almost paralyzing effect on business activity.

During a 12-day production workers' strike last December, city merchants said business dropped by as much as 80 per cent.

Store Owner Shoots Would-Be Thief

MONTREAL, May 23 — (CP)—One man was shot four times early today by a north-end valet store owner who said he caught two men carrying bolts of cloth from his store. The wounded man is in critical condition. Police say the other escaped in a car.

Police said the wounded man, identified as Roger Binette, was struck twice in the legs and twice in the abdomen.

Eddy Houle, owner of the store, said he had slept in his shop for three years after a break-in in 1949.

Owner Prepared

"I was ready for them," he said.

He told police the pair broke the door window to gain entrance. He said one entered and handed out bolts of suiting material to an accomplice who placed them in a car. Houle said he warned the men and Binette rushed him.

"I shot low and emptied the gun of its six shots," he said.

The wounded man staggered from the store leaving a trail of blood for a block until he collapsed. His accomplice fled in the car as soon as he heard the shots.

73 Operations Man Said Cured

LONDON, May 23 — (AP) — Gerry Fitzgerald, 60, has been pronounced cured after 37 operations in the last six years. Every bone in his body was broken but all he's got now is a "limp."

The native of Los Angeles recently recovered from the 37th operation to repair injuries suffered in a plane crash in the Swiss Alps.

He was unconscious for 20 weeks. Later he crossed the Atlantic 22 times—all but once by air—for the long series of operations.

"They have finished with me," he said happily. "There is little wrong with me except a limp."

Boy's Burglary Tool Better Than Expert's

OTTAWA, May 23 (CP)—Police said Thursday they had uncovered a cache of 52 sticks of dynamite and 100 electric blasting caps in the attic of the home of a 14-year-old boy.

They said they believe the boy is the master-mind of a ring of schoolboy burglars who have broken into collegiates, high schools and lower grade schools in the last three months.

Two 16-year-old school boys were charged with breaking into the technical high school and stealing scientific instruments following discovery of the dynamite cache Wednesday. Both appeared in city court and were remanded one week on $50 bail.

Edward Houston, assistant Crown attorney, said the Crown will ask juvenile court judge Allan Fraser to exercise his discretion powers and allow the 14-year-old lad to be tried with the two other school boys before a magistrate.

Among numerous burglary tools seized by police was an ingeniously notched kitchen knife intended to open Yale locks. Inspector Ab Cavan said no professional break-in man in his experience had even been clever enough to invent such a gadget.

Says Tracing Of Signature On Hospital Cheque Legal

WINDSOR, May 23. (CP)—Norman Mathews, counsel for Dr. P. J. G. Morgan, East Windsor Hospital board chairman, said today that the April 24, 1951, tracing of a signature on a hospital cheque was a "perfectly legal transaction." He was commenting on testimony Thursday by Mrs. Elsie Morley, 26, former secretary to the superintendent, that she had traced the signature of E. S. Poisson, a former hospital board chairman on a $5,000 hospital cheque.

(In two of several stories on Thursday and today referring to the tracing of a signature on a cheque, The Canadian Press erroneously used the word "forged" in describing Mrs. Morley's action. The Canadian Press regrets any reflection on Mrs. Morley which its references may have caused.)

The act had been done on the authority of Mr. Poisson, he said. He produced an affidavit, signed by the chairman which stated that he "could not get down to the hospital that morning" and authorized the doctor to have his signature traced on the cheque from another cheque."

Mr. Poisson was undergoing an operation today and could not testify in person, Mr. Mathews said.

Regrets Accounts

He regretted that some newspaper accounts of the action had used the word "forgery." It implied, he said, that not only did Mrs. Morley commit forgery, but that Dr. Morgan had instructed her to do so. "The evidence was not to that effect."

Commissioner Gordon Fraser, conducting the provincial government inquiry into the hospital's affairs, said that Mrs. Morley's

Artist Makes Trip On Raft

DARWIN, Australia, May 23—Artist Jack Fairweather, given up as lost on a lone voyage across the shark-infested Timor Sea on a tiny raft, is alive and well on Timor Island, a radio message recieved here said today.

The message said Fairweather had successfully made the 560-mile crossing from Darwin, Northern Australia, arriving at Koepang, 180 miles southeast of Dili, his destination.

This was the first news of the 51-year-old Scottish-born artist since a ship reported seeing him three weeks ago in heavy seas clinging perilously to his raft—made of driftwood lashed to three airplane fuel tanks with a broomstick for a mast.

At that time he indignantly refused to be "rescued" by the lugger's skipper. "Certainly not," said the sparse, bearded figure. "I am going to Dil, Timor. Is this the right road?"

Fairweather, who describes himself as a "beachcomber artist," was educated in England. One of his paintings hangs in the Tate gallery, London, and he has held several one-man shows in London.

Forbidden To Wear Nylon Blouses at Work

OTTAWA, May 23—(CP)—The Journal says today in a newspage story that employees have been forbidden to wear revealing nylon blouses in several government departments, two branch banks and several business houses.

"No one will admit responsibility but the fact remains that in several government offices, at least two branch banks and several business houses, nylon blouses have been forbidden as working wear," the Journal says.

"One of the departments in which the blouse ban was reported effective was the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys. But here, as in many others, officialdom washed its hands of the order."

No Paper On Saturday

There will be no Saturday edition of The Examiner as May 24 is Victoria Day. Saturday's comics and other features are being carried in today's issue.

Commonwealth Div. May Help Guard Koje

TOKYO, May 23 (Reuters). — Troops of the Commonwealth Division may go to the United Nations prison camp on Koje Island to help keep order, it was reported tonight by reliable quarters.

Senior officers of the division now are in Pusan, five miles from the trouble spot, and will go to the island Saturday, to inspect the situation, British sources here said.

Gen. James Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, visited Koje Thursday and said he believes all 80,000 Communist prisoners there will be brought under complete control "in a short time."

Try Out New Jet

HATFIELD, England, May 23—(Reuters)—Princess Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth went for a day-long spin over Europe in one of the new Comet jet airliners today. They took off in a brand new Comet from the De Haviland aircraft plant here this morning. They had lunch aboard and were due back late this afternoon.

Not Married 40 Arrested

ACCRA, Gold Coast, West Africa, May 23. (AP)—Forty spinsters have been arrested in the Adansi native state for not getting married.

In April the State Native Authority, self-governing under British colonial rule, put the girls on one month's notice and reduced the marriage fee to five saillings.

The forty failed to find mates willing to wed even at such a bargain price.

Four other native states have announced it's wedding or jail for unmarried females.

The announced reason for all this is to stamp out prostitution.

Frost Has Tax Talks With Ottawa Gov't

TORONTO, May 23 (CP) — Premier Frost returned from a day of conferences with the federal government in Ottawa and said Thursday night he had put forward tax suggestions made during the last session of the legislature.

In an interview, he merely restated his position that "the Ontario government has always been and will be willing to sign a tax agreement with Ottawa when it obtains terms reasonable for the people of this province."

He said the day had been spent discussing mutual problems with the federal government but did not elaborate.

How To Persuade Giraffe To Pull In Neck? British Zoo Wide Open To Suggestions

LONDON, May 23 (AP) — How do you persuade a giraffe to pull in his neck.

The Chester Zoo reported Thursday it has this outlandish problem in triplicate, and is wide open to suggestions.

Chester recently purchased three of the ungainly beasts from the Regent's Park Zoo in London. They are fine, lofty specimens and their little pointed heads range in altitude from 11 to 13 feet.

Chester is 15 miles from London. It is planned to ship the giraffes by truck, in big wooden crates with plenty of room for their necks.

The Zoo sent a man out to check the bridges on the London-Chester road. Some have a clearance as low as 9 feet 6 ins.

But the Zoo refuses to despair.

"We will pack the giraffes in crates with the last few feet of head and neck projecting into removable tops.

"When a low bridge is reached, the crate tops will be taken off. And then, by some means or other—we don't yet know how—we will persuade those giraffes to duck."

Say Missing Diplomat Broadcasts For Czechs

LONDON, May 23—(Reuters)—The Daily Herald today reports that Guy Burgess, a British diplomat who vanished mysteriously last year, is broadcasting regularly from Czechoslovakia.

The paper says in a front-page story that Burgess has been broadcasting regularly three times a week to Britain, but that his name is not announced on the radio.

Burgess disappeared from Britain with another diplomat, Donald MacLean, May 25, 1951. There has been no official record of their movements.

The Daily Herald says MacLean also is in Czechoslovakia working as an adviser in the Far East division of the Prague Foreign Ministry. He deals mainly with problems—from the British point of view—arising in relation to China and Korea.

Hates To Leave

Eisenhower Bids Farewell To NATO Officers And Men

FONTAINEBLEAU, France, May 23—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his voice heavy with emotion, bade farewell today to the officers and men of the Central-Sector Command, of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which he termed the "key field headquarters in the defence of Europe."

Some 300 officers and 700 enlisted men of six countries stood at attention in the courtyard of the one-time summer palace of French royalty, where the Central-Sector headquarters is installed.

Eisenhower, speaking from a flag-draped platform, said in his farewell address: "It is most important that the viewpoint of every nationality should be expressed in a headquarters such as this."

He told the officers to "seek the truth—the convictions and the feelings and the emotions of your men."

Turning to the enlisted men, lined up on the greensward of the courtyard, he told them: "Do not be afraid to express your feelings, your convictions and your emotions to your officers."

Eisenhower was introduced by French Marshal Alphonse Juin, commander-in-chief of Allied land forces in central Europe, who told him, "Whatever the future may hold for you, you will always remain in our hearts our Supreme Commander—our General."

Eisenhower is giving up his command of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces and returning to the U.S. to take part in the campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination. Gen. Matthew Ridgway will replace him.

No More Nonsense

Clark Orders U.S. Troops Get Full Control Of POW's

TOKYO, May 23 (AP)— Gen. Mark Clark said today he had given orders to the U.S. 8th "to obtain uncontested control" of the United Nations prisoner-of-war camps at Pusan and Koje Island.

"The hard core of the rebellious leaders at Pusan already have been isolated from the other prisoners," the United Nations commander said in his first interview since taking over from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

When Clark assumed command May 12 he learned the Communist prisoners in the compounds were running the camps almost to suit themselves. Several riots had to be put down by force.

"The prisoners' flagrant disregard of our instructions will not be tolerated any longer," Clark said. "It is an intolerable situation. The prisoners of war have certain obligations and we expect them to comply. It was in furtherance of this policy that I ordered the 187th airborne regiment to Koje Island."

The paratroopers unit went to Koje last week after Red prisoners had held Brig.-Gen. Francis T. Dodd, former camp commander, a hostage 78 hours and his successor, Brig.-Gen. Charles Colson, won his release by promising concessions.

Clark expressed hope that the P.O.W.S. will "comply with our instructions so that force won't be necessary."

But if they do not, he added, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, has ordered guards to use concussion grenades, tear gas and riot squad tactics.

$100,000 In Gold Taken From Mine, Seeking Thieves

VAL D'OR, Que., May 23. (CP)—Police today intensified their search for the perpetrators of a $100,000 gold brick theft from East Malartic Mines. Announcement of the break-in and theft came Thursday from T. V. Netherey, East Malartic Manager, who said an acetelyne torch had been used to cut through two steel doors and release the locks to the company's vault in which four gold bricks were stored awaiting shipment. Mr. Netherey said the break-in occurred Wednesday night and that gold was seldom kept overnight in the vault, pouring operations generally being completed in time to put the bricks aboard a late-afternoon Montreal train.

Police chief Arthur Robillard said the affair was a "well-organized burglary by people who knew the layout . . ." He did not believe it was the work of a large gang but "somebody must have given the tip that the gold was poured and that it was lying in the vault."

Cut Big Hole

An acetylene torch owned by the mine was used to cut a hole in the steel doors large enough to admit a man. The torch and fueling tanks were taken near the mine shaft and moved nearly a quarter of a mile to the mine refinery where the vault is located.

Chief Robillard said few clews were left but he believed an automobile was used to take the gold away and that it used a highway leading to Ontario.

Entry into the mine was made through a hole in the fence, regularly used by employees taking a short cut.

Mr. Netherey said although watchmen were on duty, no alarm was raised. He said the mine was insured against such thefts although they are rare in the district.

It was April 2, 1947, that the last bullion robbery was staged in the region. Then, two bricks, owned by Sigma Mines (Quebec) Ltd., and valued at $41,000, were stolen at the Val d'Or Canadian National Railways station as they awaited shipment.

Two men were later caught. They confessed and served time for the theft.

Reds Shelling Line Heavily

SEOUL, May 23 (AP)—Communist big guns staged their biggest firepower show in months on Thursday night—a saturation barrage of a small United Nations sector on the western Korean front.

In less than an hour, the Reds poured about 2,400 artillery and mortar shells across a 3½ mile front northwest of Yonchon.

The Allies replied with infantry and artillery fire. About 46 Chinese were killed.

U.S. Eighth Army headquarters had no comment on the significance of the Red bombardment.

U.S. Navy, Marine and Air Force planes dropped bombs on Red troop and supply installations on both sides of the Korean peninsula.

Wonsan, battered northeastern Korean port, was hidden by smoke and dust clouds, after 108 planes from the carriers Boxer and Philippine Sea unloaded 150 tons of bombs there.

Ridgway Says Propagandists Grow Desperate

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) — Gen. Matthew Ridgway said today the Communists have reached a point where their prpagandists are reacting "desperately, furiously—to the growing strength and determination of the free world."

That determination, he said, is "to build a structure of defence, a structure whose solid foundation is America and the American people."

The former Far Eastern commander, in a speech prepared for the combined press clubs of Washington, said that the Communists' situation has led them to pour out "an almost unbroken stream of lies" from the truce talks in Korea, and other world forums.

Ridgway saw two major reasons for "this vicious propaganda."

The first one was a desire to "instill hatred and disunity where they have not existed before" with the United States and individual Americans as the prime targets

For Good Measure

No. 2 was an effort "to convince the world that we have committed all the crimes of which they are themselves revealed to be guilty—plus some additional ones for good measure."

The Communist purpose, in levelling such charges against the United Nations as the use of gas and germ warfare, Ridgway said, is to "divert world attention from their own crimes against humanity."

Ridgway said he understands the Communists are planning "quite a reception for me" when he reaches France to succeed General Eisenhower as supreme commander of the western allies. He noted that such a reception for Eisenhower failed last year but that the Reds were "trying to get a running start in the campaign to vilify me" as a "war criminal, microbe-killer, and Fascist murderer."

Court Dismisses Driving Charge

LINDSAY, May 23 — (ENS).—Joseph Whelan, Kirkfield youth, had a charge of careless driving against him dismissed in Police Court here today.

Whelan was alleged to have been the driver of a car which went off the Bexley-Carden Township road just outside Kirkfield on May 11. The vehicle traveleld 42 feet and came to rest against a hydro pole.

O.P.P. Constable John Williams of the Fenelon detachment, said that he gave permission to move the vehicle, and when he arrived in Kirkfield the vehicle was in the garage with about $300 damage to the front of it.

Magistrate E. A. Gee ruled that there was insufficient evidence in the case to prove that Whelan was driving in a careless manner since no one had seen him driving and the property damage was almost negligible except to the car.

Ask Parents Keep Teen-agers Home

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn., May 23 (CP) —A message over a Canadian radio station Thursday night asked parents of this border ctiy either to keep their teen-agers off the streets or know where they are.

The warning—from International Falls authorities—was aimed at 300 high school students who demonstrated here Wednesday night. They were protesting a lack of recreational facilities in the town.

Broadcasts were sent out over the Fort Frances, Ont., radio Station following a meeting here of law enforcement, judicial, school, civic and civil authorities.

No plan of action was decided at the meeting except to ask the station to air the request to parents.

Fort Frances is connected by the international bridge across the Rainy river with International Falls.

Canada Releases Money To World Bank

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) — Canada Thursday released an additional $41,000,000 (Canadian) to the world bank, to be loaned to member countries at the bank's will.

The step made Canada the second country among the bank's 51 member countries to release, in effect, its full quota of capital for bank loans. It also made Canada the second largest contributor to the international bank.

With about $24,000,000 contributed earlier, the Canadian government now has contributed about $65,000,000. The United States has chipped in $635,000,000 of the bank's total present capital of $829,861,584.

Stock Market Prices Show Some Gains

TORONTO, May 23 — (CP) — Stock market prices struggled upward today in ragged stock market dealings.

Industrial dealings remained in selected issues. A few oils, golds and metals attracted speculative interest but turnovers were moderate. Volume for the first three hours was 1,130,000 shares.

Retail stores led industrials upward with a scattered list of fractional advances. Papers, refining oils, banks and miscellaneous issues also drew firm support, but steels, liquors and manufacturing companies slipped.

Western oil gains ranged from pennies to about 50 cents. Britalta, Calgary and Edmonton, Gridoil, Jupiter, New Superior and Western Homestead pushed higher.

In base metals Consolidated Smelters, East Sullivan, Falconbridge, Golden Manitou, Normetal and Quemont climbed moderately. Mindamar jumped sharply.

Senior golds were mixed in quiet trading. Junior Producers dipped but Prospects held gains and losses in balance.

Eisenhower To Make Visit To Detroit

DETROIT, May 23 (AP) —General Eisenhower will come to Detroit for two major appearances June 14, it was announced today.

The Republican presidential possibility will make a "non-partisan, non-political" address at the city hall that afternoon and a "major speech" at the Olympia Stadium at night.

Eisenhower's first major public appearance on his return from Europe will be at a homecoming at Abilene, Kans., June 4. Michigan backers of the general said the Detroit appearances will be next on his schedule.

OBITUARIES

ERNEST ROSS

A farmer all his life, Ernest Ross, 65, died suddenly today at the home of William Coveney R.R. 1, Hastings, where he has been staying for the past six weeks.

Mr. Ross was born in Douro, a son of the late Louis Ross and Mary Sullivan, was educated there, and later moved to Otonabee township, where he farmed until moving to Hastings.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Church, Douro, and of the Holy Name Society.

He leaves three sisters, the Rev. Sister Della Rosa (Catherine) of Toronto, Mrs. Louise Keenan of Peterborough, Mrs. George Traynor (Agnes) of Rockcroft, and one brother, Michael of Otonabee.

Requiem mass will be said at 9 a.m. Monday at St. Joseph's Church, and burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery, Douro. The body is resting at the Duffus funeral home.

WILLIAM K. LONG

MARMORA, May 23—(ENS)—The death occurred in Kingston General Hospital early on Thursday morning of William K. Long, at the age of 90. In failing health for the past year, he was admitted to Belleville General Hospital at the end of April and later transferred to Kingston for further treatment.

He was born in the Allan Settlement (now known as Cooper) on March 8, 1862, being the son of Irish parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Archie Long. He was the last of his family. He was married in 1890 to Henrietta (Nettie) Embury who survives him.

As they celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary in 1950, they received congratulations from the late King George VI and the Queen Mother, Queen Elizabeth. Mr. Long farmed for a number of years at Malone in Marmora township.

When unable to continue farming, he reverted to his former occupation as cook and was at the Ontario Rock Company's plant near Havelock for some years. He took great pleasure in cooking each hunting season with the same party of hunters until two years ago when health forced him to stay at home.

He disposed of his farm four years ago and since then has resided with his wife in part of the house near Belleville occupied by his son Harold. He was a member of the United Church, a strong Conservative and for 72 years an Orangeman, being made an honorary member of Nickle L.O.L. 285 Malone in 1937.

He is survived by his widow and four children, Mrs. F. J. Wood (Martha), Stirling; Mrs. W. H. Arthurs (Myrtle), Belleville; Mrs. R. J. Ferguson (Keitha), Belleville and Harold, Belleville.

The funeral takes place Saturday, leaving the Belleville Burial Company funeral home for Zion United Church, North Marmora, where service will be held at 2.30 p.m. Burial will take place in Zion cemetery.

Festival Winners To Present Two Concerts

The outstanding contestants of the Peterborough Music Competition Festival which ended Wednesday will be the artists at two final concerts to take place in the P.C.V.S. auditorium tonight and Tuesday night.

Tonight's program will be presented by Festival winners from Peterborough, Port Hope, Otonabee township, Woodville and Fenelon Falls. There will be a variety of performances including vocal, piano, violin and piano accordion solos; adults and children's choirs and verse speaking selections.

The P.C.V.S. Choral Club and Concert Band, the Coventry Singers, George St. United Church will be among the group performers. Soloists will include David Donaldson, of Peterborough, piano; Kenneth McKague, of Woodville, violin; Donna Hopkins, of Fenelon Falls, vocal; Robert Trotter, of Lindsay, tenor.

The concert tonight will be opened by Mayor Hugh Waddell.

This is the first year there have been two final festival concerts. The festival committee of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club, festival sponsors, decided to hold two concerts because of the high standard of the festival this year. The second concert will make it possible for more of the festival winners to take part. There will be different artists at the two concerts.

The winners who will be performing were selected by the festival committee with the supervision of the two English adjudicators, Ronald Biggs and Alex Redshaw.

Tickets for the concerts will be available at the door both tonight and Tuesday night.

Industry Closed Stores Open Sat.

To local industry May 24 is just another Saturday. Most firms are on a five-day week so their employees have Saturday off in any case. Thus no decision has to be made on whether or not to declare it a holiday.

At the Quaker Oats Co. where officeworkers and a skeleton staff work Saturday mornings, usually, there will be a holiday. DeLaval is also closed down.

The C.G.E. is observing it as a normal Saturday; so is the Peterborough Lock Co. and the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Co., both on a five-day week.

The Western Clock Co. is now on a four-day week so there is no problem there, either.

Stores Open

After much discussion the retail stores have decided to remain open on Saturday, as usual, and close on Monday. This decision was made by the Retail Businessmen's Association in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce.

There will be some exceptions; they will close Saturday and remain open Monday.

There will be no holiday for schoolchildren Monday.

Ask Government Finance Housing

MONTREAL, May 23 (CP) — The Canadian Legion beckoned to the government today to finance a long-range, low-cost housing plan. It said home costs have soared so high the majority of workers can't afford them.

The situation had reached the stage where the federal government must step in with direct subsidies.

The Legion recommended:

1. Federal laws to put adequate funds at low interest at the disposal of Canadians for construction of low-rental homes and modest-priced homes for sale. There should be loans at 3½ per cent interest to take care of 90 per cent of the over-all cost in each case.
2. An end to municipal participation in financing housing development under this program.

COMPANY AND UNION SIGN

Today the management and Local 527, United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America signed a one-year contract at the Canadian Raybestos Co. Ltd. The main contract provisions are a reduction of the work week from 45 to 43¾ hours, a wage increase of four cents an hour, and a cost-of-living bonus of 14 cents an hour incorporated into the wages. The new cost-of-living clause is a cent an hour for each 1.4 change in the official index. About 125 production workers are affected. Signees for the company were J. S. Munro and William Kay, and the union signees were John Whelan, Raymond Scott, Donald Batley, George Giles, Robert Evans and Leonard Velleman, U.E. organizer.

Says Tracing

testimony did not constitute an admission to the crime of forgery. Forgery constituted an action performed to the prejudice of someone else.

Mrs. Morley had acted on instructions he said. He urged that newspapers which had used the word in describing the witness' testimony retract their statements.

Mr. Mathews began to cross-examine Mrs. Morley, 26, who has given two days' testimony before the commission, appointed by Attorney-General Porter to investigate the hopital's affairs.

Mrs. Morley's testimony concerning the cheque tracing was given toward the close of Thursday's inquiry session. She stated the action has been performed on Dr. Morgan's orders.

Questioned today as to the details of her employment, Mrs. Morley said that she went to work as secretary for the superintendent July 1, 1945. Her hours were from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Invited To Lunch

Mrs. Mathews asked: "You adhered to these hours?"

"No Sir, not always."

"What do you mean?"

"When I first started to work my lunch hour was from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 and I was invited to lunch every day by Dr. Morgan."

She went on to explain that two had lunched together in a "small dining room at the hospital . . . sometimes until 3 p.m., sometimes until 4.30." This had happened every day "when I first became private secretary." The two had discussed matters concerning the hospital and "other business."

Asked Mr. Mathews: "During what period of your employment was this."

"From 1945 to 1947 in the summer."

Mrs. Morley continued: "During that first year I went to lunch with someone else (other than Dr. Morgan) perhaps every ten days or two weeks, maybe with three or four different ones, including my husband."

Other Engagements

During the last six or seven months before her April 30 discharge from her position she had gone to lunch "with others perhaps a dozen times."

From October, 1951, to the present, she had lunched only with her husband.

Lindsay Plumber Dies, War Town Alderman

LINDSAY, May 23 (ENS) —Herbert Morrison, former businessman and former alderman in Lindsay, died Friday at his residence on Queen St.

Mr. Morrison was a pioneer in the plumbing field and in town he served two years as a town councillor. Surviving is one son, Dr. Stewart Morrison of Manitoulin Island, and one sister Miss Lila Morrison, R.N., at home.

PLEASING UNDER LIGHTS

The War Memorial in Confederation Park appears unusually beautiful these spring nights under its soft illumination. The grass around the mound is incredibly green, tall red tulips border its base and the fresh young foliage of shrubs and trees is magical in light and shadow. Across the way the staring white illumination of the new City Hall, hard and bright in winter and putting the Confederation Park lights in comparative gloom, has softened. The trees in front of the city hall cast patterns of shadow on the walls and subdue the brightness of winter. The building is looking much gentler under this spring lighting.

Legion Rejects Outlawing Of Communism

MONTREAL, May 23 (CP) — The Canadian Legion refused today by a vote of 201 to 115 to give its support to motion calling for the outlawing of Communism in Canada, but supported a request to the federal government that any Communist or person associated with Communists be fired from positions vulnerable to sabotage.

The rejected bid for outlawing Reds was made by William Casswell, who also sought a limit on the number of Communist-country diplomats allowed into Canada.

In its final day the national convention also urged:

4. A standing parliamentary committee of the Commons be named to consider problems of rapid mobilization.
2. The western defences of the Pacific coast be strengthened.
3. An auxiliary force of veterans be estblished to combat subversive activities in the event of war.
3. No Canadian be exempted from military service for racial or religious reasons, and that such groups as the Hutterite Brethern be made liable for military service.
5. Some sort of unit similar to the wartime Pacific Coast Rangers be established in British Columbia.
6. It be made a criminal offence for hotels, restaurants or other public places to refuse entry to persons because of race, color or religion.

Lone Bandit Being Sought

MALARTIC, Que., May 23 (CP) —Police said today they are seeking a lone bandit in Thursday's $116,000 gold robbery from East Malartic Mines.

They believe one man broke into the unguarded mine refinery and carried away some 300 pounds of freshly-poured gold.

Police said about 150 men who were working on the night shift have been questioned. They declined to identify the suspect.

Officers added that tracks leading from the refinery to a hole in the surrounding fence through which four bars of gold were carried, indicated one man had done the job. The hole had been made previously by miners, who used it as a short-cut to work.

Court Finds Fire Set At Army Depot

OTTAWA, May 23 —(CP)—The court of inquiry which investigated a $731,000 fire at the Central Ordnance Depot here in June, 1951, reported there were indications the fire was deliberately set and that thefts had been occurring at the huge depot.

E. B. Armstrong, assistant deputy minister of National Defence, disclosed this Thursday as he read the report of the inquiry to the Commons' Defence Expenditure Committee.

The court found that expert opinion indicates that both the fire which destroyed one section of the building and another smaller blaze at the same time at the other end of the depot, were deliberately set.

Alistair Stewart (CCF, Winnipeg North) wanted elaboration about the suspicion of thefts. If Mr. Armstrong could not elaborate, then the committee should call some one who could.

Second Of Three

The fire was the second of three that have occurred at the depot since March, 1950. There was a loss of $28,000 in the first fire and a $26,000 loss in the last blaze at the depot in January of this year. This was found to have been of incendiary origin and a soldier has been convicted in the case.

Mr. Armstrong also read to the committee the recommendations made by the court of inquiry into the first fire and told what action had been taken on them. Most of the recommendations were implemented, including installation of an automatic sprinkler system which now is almost complete. It cost $160,000.

The assistant deputy minister told the committee that the Central Ordnance Depot is being moved to Cobourg at the end of this year. The present building in West Ottawa will be used for storage of medical and dental supplies.

3,000 Visit Lindsay's 1st Trade, Motor Show

LINDSAY, May 23 (ENS). — Nearly 3,000 visitors have entered the Lindsay Armoury in the past two days to see this town's first annual Trade Fair and Motor Show, sponsored by the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce. Thirty booths have been set up by town merchants and car dealers on the Armoury floor to display their latest wares. Exhibits range from television sets to home movie cameras, toy budgie birds, and live chicks.

Centre space in the floor is taken up by the motor show with a dozen of the newest model cars on display. Also included in the show is a sporting exhibit featuring Peterborough canoes and outboard motors. The exhibit is one of the highlights of the show and is drawing a great deal of favorable comment.

Another feature of the three-day fair is the organ playing of the celebrated radio artist, Roland Todd, who entertains each evening from the balcony above the show space. Chamber officials are extremely well pleased with the response shown for their first trade fair.

Last Trip

NANAIMO, B.C.—(CP)—A locomotive which hauled coal around here for 70 years was presented to the city and has been placed in Piper's Park. Coal mined in an old pit which closed down in 1899 was gathered to provide power for the engine's last jurney.

At Scene of Crime

VANCOUVER—(CP)—Two vicious dogs were captured and killed by police when they returned to the scene of the crime—the chicken coop in which they had killed 155 birds a few days before. The marauders were a German shepherd dog and a sheep dog.

Man Asks To Sell Workers Lunches

Planning to sell lunches to construction crews, and others, if he receives permission from the council, Howard Forgie of Toronto was given an opportunity to meet the council at board of works next Monday night. He is a young married man, about a year in business in Toronto, but he wishes to move to Peterborough.

Several weeks ago, a committee decided not to give him a license because he was mobile opposition to anchored refreshment stands and cafes. He had applied for a pedlar's license.

Some of the business he hopes to develop here would be in offices and smaller factories, and also among employees of construction work, which has been a large part of his trade in Toronto.

At any rate, Mr. Forgie was given a friendly hearing by the council, Monday night, and a motion by Alderman Burrows and Young invited him to tell his story to the board of works.

23-Storey Building Sold For $2,400,000

TORONTO, May 23 (CP) —The 23-storey Metropolitan building in downtown Toronto has been sold for $2,400,000 to the Imperial Life Assurance Company, it was learned today. It was believed one of the largest real estate transactions in Toronto's history.

The sale was made subject to the approval of shareholders of Metropolitan Building Limited.

At one time the tallest building in the Commonwealth, the 26-year-old structure was managed by the Chartered Trust Company for the James J. O'Neill estate.

Man Arrested On Theft Charge

Picked up in Toronto on a warrant Wednesday, Gerard Joseph Clancy, 24, 294 George St., appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp today charged with breaking and entering and theft.

He elected summary trial and was remanded until May 29 on $2,000 bail.

Clancy is charged with breaking into Cliffe Towel's Garage at 69 George St., before daybreak on May 3. The office was entered and $44 was taken from the cash register.

Seen by Motorist.

A passing motorist spotted a man trying to break into the garage and began looking for a policeman. He picked up Constable John Conlin who was patrolling his beat but by the time they returned, the man had entered the garage, broke open the cash register and made off with the money.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said it will be at least two weeks before the crown will be able to proceed with the case, "because it is a fingerprint matter and the R. C. M. P. require at least two weeks notice."

Legion Honors Garnet Samis

Garnet Samis of Lakefield, retired village constable after service of nine and one-half years, was presented with a travelling bag by members of the Canadian Legion, Branch 77, at South Beach Hotel on Thursday evening.

Zone Commander Cy Hopkins did the honors and past-president Walter Chappell presented Mrs. Samis with a bouquet of roses.

Among the 35 members present for the night's highlight and social gathering was Cpl. Harry Baldwin of the village who is at present on rotation leave from the 25th Canadian Brigade in Korea. Councilman Ken Morris, chairman of the Lakefield Police Commission, was also present.

Mr. Samis will still continue his duties as County Constable (Peterborough), which he has performed for the past 9½ years, as well as acting in the same capacity in both Lennox-Addington and Frontenac where he has been active for the past 15 years, and in Northumberland County, 20 years in office.

William K. Shea Welland Inspector

Russia Protests Iran's Taking Aid From U.S.

MOSCOW, May 23 — (CP)— Russia has protested formally against Iran's acceptance of United States aid.

It charged that such action violates the 1921 Soviet-Iranian treaty under which Russian troops are permitted to enter Iran if that country's soil is used by foreign military forces hostile to the Soviet Union.

The Kremlin made its protest in a note delivered by Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky Thursday to the Iranan ambassador here. It accused neighboring Iran of "co-operating with the U.S. government in the implementation of the latter's aggressive plans against the Soviet Union."

Observers here consider it likely that, because of the Russian protest, Iran will reconsider her acceptance of the U.S. aid.

American aid to Iran was cut off last January when Iran refused to sign an agreement pledging to help increase "the defensive strength of the free world." The pledge is required of those getting such aid under the U.S. Mutual Security Act.

Ordered Resumed

American military aid to Iran was ordered resumed a month ago after an exchange of notes between the U.S. and Iranian governments which the State Department said met the requirements set by Congress.

The Soviet note said that by accepting the U.S. help, "the Iranian army loses its character as a national army of an independent sovereign state" and is being put "under the control of the United States government."

"Such kind of action of the Iranian government cannot be viewed as other than an action incompatible with the clauses of good neighborly relations, the support and strengthening of which are the obligation of the parties which signed the Soviet-Iranian-Treaty of Feb. 26, 1921."

In Washington a U.S. official said the Russian protest evidently is designed to intimidate the Iranian government. He said the Tehran government had been under heavy Soviet pressure before and is not expected to give in this time.

Officials in Washington said Thursday night that the U.S. aid to which Russia is objecting consists of military equipment and three American military training missions.

The U.S. sources said all the missions were helping in the training of the Iranian army and police and have no strategic responsibilities.

Held For Triple Slaying Man Remanded Week

LONDON, Ont., May 23 (CP) — Archie Seneca, 33, was remanded to May 30 when he appeared in court today on a charge of murder laid in connection with a triple slaying May 11 near the Muncey Indian reserve.

Seneca, a resident of the reserve, is charged with the murder of Mrs. Lydia Riley. Her body and those of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Henry, all residents of the reserve, were found in a wooded gully.

They had been shot by a .22-calibre rifle.

Senate Passes Bill On US. Immigration

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) — The Senate Thursday night passed the bitterly-fought McCarron bill revising immigration and naturalization laws in the United States.

The bill would wipe out racial barries to immigration, remove present sex discriminations, tighten security screening provisions, and give preference to immigrants with skills needed in this country.

The 302-page measure, sponsored by Senator Pat McCarran (Dem.-Nev.), would retain the present national origins quota system of immigrantion and increase only slightly the number of immigrants eligibl for admission each year.

P. L. QUIP OF THE WEEK
A minister substituting for a friend in a remote country parish, was surprised on observing the old verger, who had been taking up the collection, quietly abstract a fifty-cent piece before presenting the plate at the altar rail. After service he called the old man into the vestry and told him with some emotion that his crime had been discovered. The old man looked puzzled for a moment. Then a sudden light dawned on him. 'Why, sir, you don't mean that old half-dollar of mine? I've led off with that for the last fifteen years.

Farewell To The Twenty-Fourth

Tomorrow a number of Canadians, including those who prepare and bring our The Examiner, will celebrate the birthday of Queen Victoria; it will be the last time in several years that they will be able to do so on what we obstinately persist in regarding as the proper day, until by chance the 24th falls on a Monday. For in future Canadians will remember Queen Victoria, if at all, on the Monday before the 25th.

* * *

Those who have brought this about argue in many ways to show that it is an excellent and much-needed reform. But we think that they deceive themselves; they are victims of the modern passion for tidying and regulating the activities of mankind—an itch to iron out the irregularities and chances of life, and to make it superficially smooth and predictable.

* * *

Queen Victoria herself would be amused, we think, by their anxiety in this respect. During her long life she saw, from a point of special vantage, the strangeness and unpredictability of life. She admired order herself, and sought to impose upon those most directly under her influence a moral and social order of a particularly strict sort. But she could not do it, and there is evidence that during the last few years of her life she mellowed, and recognized her failure. The zeal of the modern worshippers of regularity, who have legislated her birthday virtually out of existence, would amuse her, as it amuses us. Whatever May day we are free from work in the future, we shall continue to think kindly of Queen Victoria on the day on which she was born—the twenty-fourth of May.

Not By Peterborough Standards Alone

The Peterborough Music Festival competition which has just ended was not only the largest in its six years of growth, but also the best, in the ears of competent listeners. Certainly Mr. Alex Redshaw, one of the two English adjudicators, judged it to be far superior in quality, standards and interest to the festival he adjudicated in the city four years ago. It is very important that the Festival is flourishing; it is even more important that its standards are advancing.

A competitive festival which bears no relation in its measurement of performances to anything but itself can be a fool's paradise. If the standard is low, then the highest marks given are not a true indication of the performer's worth. Nor can the adjudicator's comments be taken at their face value. If the standard is high, then even low marks can indicate an acceptable performance and the adjudicator's criticisms can be a tribute to artistry. A festival must bear up under comparison with other festivals. It must set standards of performance and of works to be performed which equal the best standards of other festivals and the best in the art anywhere. Only then can it have validity, real worth to the competitors, and be a credit to the community.

For these reasons the contest pieces are selected by as good a judge of music as the Peterborough Festival can get. It is for these reasons that the two adjudicators were also the judges of other festivals across Canada. They could assess the performers in Peterborough by the same yardsticks they used in Toronto, Winnipeg and other cities. A mark of 75 earned in Peterborough should mean that the contestant could have got the same mark had he performed in Toronto or Winnipeg. And it is for these reasons of high musical assessment that the adjudicators are distinguished musicians and were brought from outside the country. They were able to base their adjudications not only on uniform standards across Canada and on their own high musicianship; but also by standards not merely Canadian but universal.

There are many indications that Peterborough Festival performers are reaching general high standards and that the Festival itself is on a par with other festivals. The adjudicators, though pleasant and helpful, did not withhold severe words when these were necessary. If a performance did not have the quality and skill worthy to be a festival entry, they said so. It is only thus that the Peterborough Festival can improve as it has done over the last six years. We are grateful to Mr. Redshaw and Mr. Biggs for this compliment of applying severe critical standards to the Peterborough Festival. The Festival and performers are good enough and secure enough to take them.

The general level of marks gained under these conditions was high. Many contestants secured eighty or more marks; there was one mark of ninety. There were some outstanding performances, where technical accomplishment matched musical intelligence and sensitivity. We should particularly mention individual solo voices; several notable performances at the piano; the high school choirs, and the church choirs.

External evidence of the importance and worth of the Peterborough Festival is the large number of outside entries. The immediate district of Peterborough was heavily represented, and many came from as far away as Toronto, Kingston, Perth and Orillia. This is a sign that performers and their teachers throughout a wide area of central Ontario consider the Peterborough Festival not only worthy of them, but also its stamp of approval worth having.

We should like to mention the audiences. A festival of performers without audiences is only half a festival. The very word implies a community participation; a festivity. As Mr. Biggs remarked, the audiences during the seven-day program were large, and also notably perceptive and stimulating. With such audiences and such performers, and a constant vigilance to maintain and raise standards, Peterborough can become—what it has sadly not been for many years—a musical centre, an artistically sensitive city. The Kiwanis Club which manages and directs the Festival deserves the warmest commendations of the citizenry.

Bargain Fishing Shack

The Toronto Financial Post tells a story which it believes to be true. A couple were cruising their boat around Northern Ontario. They saw an attractive, and apparently fully-equipped, costly summer home. It was closed. They went ashore to give their curiosity room to inspect the beautiful property and furnishings. They estimated the place to be worth, so finely equipped, at least $45,000.

A real estate man told them that they could buy the place cheaply; that it belonged to an estate whose administrators were eager to get rid of it. "Come on, now, here's your chance. Make an offer." The couple laughingly offered $1,500.

The agent did not laugh. He said that he would telephone the lawyer, who was in one of the southern States. He took their name and address.

A few days later the agent informed them that the $1,500 offer for the splendid place had been accepted. It was theirs.

An incredible story? Not quite. The owner had been a very wealthy southerner. His wife had never been up to or seen any picture of the northern Ontario establishment. Her husband had merely told her that he had a "shack" in the wilds of northern Ontario. When he would leave her to go to it, with an intimate lady friend of whose existence the wife was unaware, it was to the "shack" he went.

When the wealthy southerner died, the lawyers knew that the property was rather valuable, but they preferred to sell it for $1,500 than to cruelly disillusion the widow by getting $45,000 or $50,000 for the fishing shack and thus reveal the existence of her husband's expensive boudoir in the privacy of the wilds.

The moral of the story is, of course, that lawyers have kind hearts rather than cash consciences.

Very Good News

So many people are busy worrying about Russia nowadays that they have no time to worry about vastly greater and more destructive enemies. For centuries man's folly has been depleting the earth of almost every important substance it contains, and the great growth in population during the past 150 years has made this problem of wastage more acute than at any time in history. Great quantities of vital minerals, for instance, are lost every year in the sea, because of our wasteful and heedless way of disposing of our sewage; it is very good news to learn that a means has been found of recovering these minerals.

The recovery is incidental to a method of turning sea water into fresh water. The American Research and Development Corporation has found that electrical energy, in conjunction with new synthetic membranes, will separate the salts and minerals from sea water and permit two streams, one fresh and one salt, to flow from the apparatus. What this can mean to countries starved for water is incalculable, for although irrigation is costly, it is not so costly as thousands of acres of unproductive desert.

What especially interests us, however, is that this process is a means of recovering from the sea minerals, such as magnesium, which do not exist in the earth in generous quantities, and which are of vital important to mankind. This is a striking instance of human folly being offset by human ingenuity.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

ALPHA: When the C.B.C. television station opens in Toronto, will Peterborough people be able to tune into it? And when is the station supposed to open?

ANSWER: The new Toronto TV transmitter is due to begin operating in three months. I have been told that TV sets in Peterborough, with the proper antennae, will be able to pick up the Toronto signal about as well as they now do Buffalo or Rochester; which is very well sometimes, I believe.

TV is a wonderful and extraordinarily compelling medium of communication and entertainment, judging from the survey made recently in four Toronto public schools. It was found that the children from homes with TV sets spend between 25 and 30 hours a week before the screen—four hours a day. By contrast they spend about 25 hours at school.

TV, is seems, is almost an addiction—as powerful in its way as booze or drugs—among adults as well as children; and to my way of thinking, as socially bad, in TV's present stage of development. I have no intention of becoming a TV addict, if I can help it; it interferes too much with social intercourse, private peace, and one's reading and moments of reflective idleness. It seems that the TV screen has a compelling, and I now think a monstrous fascination. I can think of nothing more ludicrous than a group of people, thinking to have an enjoyable social time, sitting around to TV screen, daring neither to talk nor to take their eyes from the jittery image.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN TIME society will adjust itself to TV and put it in its proper place. That place has not yet been found, I fear, although in Britain they are nearer to a proper use of TV than in the United States, it seems. In Britain the TV stations are on the air only a few specified hours during the day. They may broadcast for two hours around tea-time, go off again, and then on for three hours after the evening dinner. The stations do not attempt to drug the listeners twelve or fourteen hours during the day.

Perhaps when TV comes of age it will be worth while. I remember being taken as a child to hear a radio. Admission price was 25 cents. That evening the machine refused to work and the church group which sponsored the show refunded the large audience their 25 cents admission. Today TV is at about the same stage—and I think I would pay 25 cents not to see it.

Perhaps the fault with TV is partly in the use of it which homes permit. The B.B.C.'s research department studied its TV audience. It found that: "the greater the income or the higher the standard of education, the less time people spend watching TV." The B.B.C. report states that "Given two families with differing levels of education but roughly the same amount of money coming in, the odds are that it will be the family whose educational standard is the lower will acquire a TV set first".

This may please those families in Canada which have not yet acquired television sets. The B.B.C. also found that fifty per cent of all television set owners in the United Kingdom are people earning less than $22.50 a week. Perhaps this is a comment on the cheapness of TV sets in the U.K. or on the easy instalment buying which may be permitted there. But the finding may confound Canadians who, not able to afford a TV set, have put up a TV aerial anyway, to pretend to the neighbourhood that they can afford a set and indeed have one. In Britain, not to have a TV set may be a sign of better than average means or of superior education.

SIR: Which has more people, Ontario or Quebec?

ANSWER: According to the preliminary figures of the 1951 census, Ontario's population was 4,562,354, 32.8 per cent of the population of Canada. Quebec's total was 4,010,235, 28.9 per cent of the Canadian total. These figures do not include people hiding from income tax collectors in igloos beyond Hudson Bay, or in villas in the Bahamas.

HAPPY HUNTING GROUND: A week ago tonight, the Dean of Ontario, preaching at All Saint's fiftieth anniversary evensong, aptly recalled some early Peterborough days, as far back as 1818 when the first white settlers in the county arrived in Smith Township. Then as now the Kawartha Lake district was regarded as a haven. The Indians are said to have used Stony Lake as a natural hospital, where sick and wounded warriors recovered their health. To preserve Stony Lake from the intrusion of other tribes, the local Indians invested it with magic, and told stories of ferocious wild beasts and snakes infesting the area, so as to keep people away (including the newly-arrived whites).

It was in this region, relates E. C. Guillet, the Upper Canadian historian, that the Indians obtained their wampum-grass, the best birch bark for their canoes, and game, fish and berries in abundance. These economic facts were further reason for the Indians wanting to keep Stony Lake to themselves.

When the first white settlers arrived the overlord of Stony Lake was "Handsome Jack" Cow. Hence the names Jack's Creek and Jack's Lake.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE WELL-KNOWN Canadian writer Scott Young, who now lives at Omemee, has recently done a short story, for an American magazine, which has a disguised Kawartha Lake setting a century ago. An Englishman comes from Toronto into a pioneer village to fish for a 400-pound lunge he thought should be in the lake. It seems fantastic, a fish of that size, but in those days there were many big fish, even in Stony Lake. Stony Lake used to be known as Salmon Trout Lake. In 1828 the Methodist Mazagine carried a poem entitled "A Happy Hunting Ground", whose first verse ran:

"These waters plenty fish afford,
The perch, and pike, and cat;
And there the spotted salmon swims,
And sturgeon stored with fat".

The salmon trout have gone from Stony Lake; and fishermen have to depend, even in the best Kawartha fishing lakes, on the Department of Lands and Forests,—and to be happy with pickerel if they cannot find the 30-pound lunge which occasionally still lurks.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOR THE RECORD: Peterborough is becoming somewhat cosmopolitan. On our streets and in restaurants, one hears an unusual (for Peterborough) variety of foreign and British accents. This is due partly to the influx of young men from the United Kingdom into the big C.G.E. plant, (chiefly Englishmen) here to earn money and expecting to stay in Canada. But there are also Indians, Chinese, Latin Americans, Frenchmen et al., sent by their governments or private concerns to study skills, processes and developments at the C.G.E.

Next to me at a restaurant counter one evening were two young men having an animated conversation in French. One, speaking impeccable French, looked to be a Canadian. The other, speaking fluent French, too precisely for it to be his native tongue, was darker in complexion.

The Canadian-looking chap was Canadian; his home is in Quebec City and he has been working there as a graduate engineer for the C.G.E. factory in Quebec, which now employs some 400 to 500 workers. He is—like so many other bright young engineers past and present—now in 'The Test' in C.G.E. Peterborough. The other young man is a Brazilian, in town for a few months. His home city it Sao Paulo, a splendid place of a couple of million people, modern skyscrapers and luxurious villas. I believe that he is associated with some Brazilian-Canadian enterprise; but not with Brazilian Traction (the Canadian utilities firm which is Brazil's largest company). His native language is, of course, Portuguese. He says his people still speak it as purely as Portugual people speak, although there are shades of difference in accent and vocabulary. There is, he says, a joint Portuguese-Brazilian commission which suprevises the language—probably something like the French Academy.

In Brazil's secondary schools the two compulsory foreign languages are French and English. The young Brazilian was sipping hot chocolate rather than coffee, even though Brazil is the chief coffee exporter of the world—maybe he does not like the Canadian way of making coffee—but Brazil is also, especially around Sao Paulo, a prime producer of cacao, from which beans cocoa and chocolate are made. He was equally at ease in French and English.

It is refreshing to have around town such pleasant young men. I hope that they enjoy their stay. And I was delighted that a true-blue, charming French-speaking Canadian from Quebec (a Laval graduate) was acting as guide, Canadian interpreter and friend to the transient from sub-tropical regions . . . . We had a mild disagreement about the number of Brazilians who served in Italy during the war; a eulogy between myself and the Quebecer on the beauties of Quebec city; and I parted from the unnamed and unnaming two with commiseration for one of them who was destined to spend some months in Toronto.

Johnson's Foreboding

CHIAROSCURO, by Augustus John (Clarke Irwin).

THERE IS A PASSAGE in Boswell's life of Johnson upon which every reviewer of books must ponder from time to time. It runs thus: "Johnson was by no means of the opinion that every man of a learned profession should consider it as incumbent upon him, or as necessary to his credit, to appear as an author. When in the ardour of ambition for literary fame, I regretted to him one day that an eminent judge had nothing of it, and therefore would leave no perpetual monument of himself to posterity: 'Alas! Sir', said Johnson, 'what a mass of confusion should we have, if every bishop, and every judge, every lawyer, physician and divine, were to write books!' " If the great Doctor were alive today he would find this confusion at its height, and not only those he named, but innumerable politicians, soldiers, deep-sea divers, courtesans and other persons of every trade but that of letters scribbling away like mad. Eminent as they may be in their own line of work, they are amateurs in writing, and their books are, in the main, the very ragtag and bobtail of the literary world.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE NON-PROFESSIONAL WRITER who can really write is an oddity, and it would be remarkable if a man who had attained great eminence in one field were to achieve an equal height in literature. Augustus John is a very great painter—the best portrait painter, some judges say, since Goya. He is only a fair writer, and it is his pleasure to write in jerks. He cares little for chronology, and he has an entirely admirable desire to escape being dull, so he has written his autobiography in what he calls "fragments," and what a news editor would call "short takes." He undertook this work first of all at the request of Cyril Conolly, the editor of the now defunct magazine "Horizon"; the book read better in the somewhat precious pages of that magazine than it does when gathered between covers.

Parts of it are first-rate. John has an interesting vocabulary and a painter's eye, and his descriptions of people and places are sometimes brilliant. But he will not hold himself to his task; he will begin a piece about one of his friends—and he has known many of the people who have made life interesting during the past thirty years—with a superb description of the subject's outer person, and then he will tail off with a trivial paragraph of gossip about somebody else. He has a trick, also, of listing the names of the people who shared some of his experiences with him, as though these names give us a clue to the nature of that experience—which they do not. He is unconventional enough to hint at some of his love affairs, but not sufficiently unconventional to tell us anything about them—with an effect of coyness which is certainly not intentional. The character of Strindberg's widow keeps popping up in the book, always illumined with the light of farce; but we know that this woman, of whom Strindberg wrote with great cogency, was not a farcical character, and we yearn for some considered opinion about her; when at last it comes, it is commonplace.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS IS NOT MEANT to be an ungenerous comment upon the reminiscences of a very great artist. Wildly uneven as the book is, there are fine passages and pages of intense interest in it. But we may wish that John who writes with amusing scorn of artists who have not learned their job, had paid a little more attention to the job of the writer, which may also be an art.

It would be an interesting experiment to get some of these amateur writers, who have distinguished themselves in other arts, in a large prison some day, and subject them to a few hours of Winston Churchill's paintings, H. L. Mencken's piano-playing, Aldous Huxley's preaching, J. B. Priestley's singing, and Thomas Mann's performance on the trombone. That would cure them of their amateurishness when they tackle a job of writing.

YEAR IN PARADISE by Sara Jenkins (Ambassador Books Ltd.)

IT HAS ALWAYS BEEN the contention of this reviewer that teachers, especially grade school teachers, are not only equipped with twice the patience of the average human being and ears that do not register multiple voice noises, but also have the courage of lions, and this very charming novel bears me out.

Janet Browniee, the daughter of a famous opera and concert singer, although beautiful and wealthy, on leaving college decides to become a teacher by accepting a job in a small mining village in Florida, most inaptly named 'Paradise.' Her mother and the pianist that Janet is in love with are both amused at her decision and although they "but-darling-you-can't-possibly" her they raise no real barriers because they think she will never stick it. Once ensconced in the heat and squalor of 'Paradise' poor Janet has a hard time trying to unite her ideals and the grim realities of her work. Living in an overcrowded teacherage, in love with the young principal and engaged to the thoughtless but glamorous pianist, and trying to evade the unwelcome advances of one of the mining officials who is head of the school board, Janet manages to cope with her teaching job through hurricanes, suicides and flu epidemics. At the end of her year she is called upon to decide whether she will sign on again in 'Paradise' or whether she is still just the 'daughter of Edda Hoffman' which isn't the stuff that teachers are made of—not in the Paradise anyway.

Janet solves the problem of her future, both scholastically and romantically in a manner most becoming to a light love story. Sara Jenkins was herself a teacher in Florida for some years so she has had plenty of experience to draw from in the background of this novel. All the teachers and their problems are very real and the book is neither difficult to read nor is it empty.

QUIVERING EARTH by Wilma Russ. (The Musson Book Co. Ltd.)

THIS IS A NOVEL set in the swamplands of Florida at the beginning of the century. The author obviously knows and loves the country she writes about and has a deep understanding of the wildlife there. The actual story is of the growth of a small white child, stolen from her home in babyhood to be company (a doll-baby) for an evil woman who runs a hide-out for pirates and petty criminals in the everglades. This woman is tortured to death by Seminole Indians and the child, then about six years old, is found wandering in the surrounding wilderness by an old trader—Pop Gundyhill. He takes her to live with him and until her 'teens she grows up wild, with only the animals and birds for company, and the old man. Eventually civilisation begins to encroach on their wilderness and with it employment for Keeta and the first sight of pretty clothes and fine manners; also the evil of a Haitian boy whom Pop mistakenly befriends. Out of this tragic association comes Pop's realisation that Keeta needs a woman around and he takes her to the Sugar Creek settlement where she finds employment in the boarding-house, and motherly care from the boarding house keeper. As the years pass she is taught what little the other woman knows—how to read and write and cook—and so when Mark, the son of an engineer and her childhood love returns she is ready to take her place beside him. It is a simple tale, told without affectation, about a kindly old man and young and gentle girl and as such, is thoroughly charming.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The way of the just is uprightness: thou, most upright, dost weigh the path of the just. Yea, in the way of thy judgements, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee. . . .

Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our works in us. (Isa. 26:7, 8, 12.)

✧ ✧ ✧

I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with jewels. (Isa. 61:10.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The glory of the Lord shall endure for ever: the Lord shall repoice in his works. . .

I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have my being. (Ps. 104:31,33.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For we walk by faith, not by sight: we are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord. (II Cor. 5:7, 9.)

Taxes Are Permanent

(Brandon Sun)

When a government of any color finds an easy and sure way of taxation it never lets go. Taxes are seldom if ever removed once they are inflicted. Always there are excuses to keep it going in hidden or open form. Unless, of course, the exigencies of an election may make some reductions or readjustments necessary just then. Then willing electors will vote for a party by prejudice giving the winning party power to mortgage their own assets to pay all or any bills contracted by any department, for its losses and for extravagances for which the government can provide alibis.

Lakefield School Cradle of Navy

"The Grove" Trains Naval Officers' Sons

When Canada's Chief of Naval Staff Vice Admiral E. R. Mainguy returns to The Grove, Lakefield, tomorrow to inspect its naval cadets, he will be like an admiral returning to his own training ship. The Grove is a boarding school for 125 boys, giving the usual academic training through elementary schooling up to senior matriculation; but circumstances have made it much more. It has become the alma mater, the fostering mother of Canadian naval officers.

The late King George went to Osborne as a boy, for his naval schooling. But Canada has no Osborne for aspiring youth tasting a naval career. Royal Roads at Esquimalt is for young men who have already matriculated. So the future Lords Louis Mountbatten of Canada go to The Grove School on the quiet shores of Lake Katchewanooka.

The late Admiral Percy Nelles, Admiral Manguy's war time predecessor, was an Old Boy of The Grove. So are Commodore Hugh Pullen, Captain Cecil Davey and Captain John Roper. Commander Fred Frewer and Commander John Bovey (commanding H.M.C.S. "Crusader") are old Grove boys also.

Four Admirals' Sons

Two years ago four sons of four admirals were attending The Grove, Lakefield. Some have recently graduated, among them Admiral Mainguy's son.

The Grove is not just a school for the sons of naval oficers, nor for pupils wishing to enter the Navy. A majority of its graduates do not go to sea; in fact many end up importantly in Bay Street or St. James Street, or in the professions.

The Grove was designed by its founder and first Headmaster, Sparham Sheldrake, to be a school "for the sons of gentlemen", particularly for the sons of British Army officers in the district. That was in 1879. Curiously enough its present Headmaster, G. Winder Smith, is in the military tradition. He is a graduate of the Royal Military College. But none fosters the naval tradition of The Grove more enthusiastically than Headmaster Winder Smith, who has his old-fashioned yacht in which to explore the reaches of the Kawarthas.

Cottages Above The Lake

The school's nature was laid four-square by its famous and beloved headmaster from 1894 to 1938, Dr. A. W. Mackenzie, architect of its buildings and traditions, moulder of its spirit.

The school's informal, friendly atmosphere and its cottage-like buildings overlooking the lake, continue the homely, pleasant but disciplined and well-mannered ways charted by Dr. Mackenzie.

Notwithstanding its modesty The Grove has much to be proud of. There is its splendid tradition. There is its dignified chapel, with a pipe organ and school choir presided over by an Oxford musician. There is the fine new Memorial House just completed, a tribute to the 54 Old Boys who fell in the two World Wars. There is the freedom and freshness of the pastoral lake countryside. Out of classroom and organized games hours, the boys wander freely over the many acres of The Grove property. In the woods they have built huts, made nationally memorable in Gordon Hill Grahame's novel "Larry," a story about the school a generation ago.

Flotilla Of Small Boats

And of course with its own boathouses and wide lake front, The Grove has a flotilla of small craft which the boys handle like veterans under the benign "Chief", Chief Petty Officer George Lee, D.S.M., friend and counsellor to two generations of Grove boys.

There are other diversions; dramatic productions which the school gives; visits to the Peterborough Little Theatre; entertainment by concert artists, and assistant headmaster William Rashleigh is a horseman and raises thoroughbred ponies with the eager assistance of his Latin pupils.

Tomorrow Admiral Mainguy puts his seal on R.C.S.C.C. "St. George" and his fond approval on a remarkable school. Whether in cricket, naval skills, hockey, football, bird-nesting, maple syrup making, or matriculation standing, the Grove School of Lakefield gets uncommonly sure responses. It is the Osborne of Canada, with Canadian inflections.

The Kawarthas are already starting to hum with the sound of outboard motors. By late June they will be on the lakes by the hundreds, perhaps thousands.

There is a Federal law that requires the licensing of all vessels exempt from registry and propelled by inboard and outboard motors of ten horse power or more. Licences may be obtained free from the City Customs office but the metal numbers for bows and stern, or painted insignia, comes out of the owners' pockets. Peterborough's Port number is 36E.

All this is for the matter of identification and the establishment of ownership. And of course nuisance craft driven by knot-headed drivers can be identified and reported to the R.C.M.P. If, as and when such charges are made, owners who have not looked after licensing are liable to a fine not exceeding $100.

Another law to heed for small boat owners has to do with safety. It is required that motorboats—outboard and inboard—shall be equipped with life saving apparatus, fire extinguishers, marine running lights and sound signalling device.

So, it is no longer a simple matter of throwing your ten-horse on the transom of your boat and go roaring around the lakes. The Government and everyone else wants to know who you are or at least have the means of finding out. Only 135 owners in 1950 and 60 in 1951 have complied with the licensing law at the Port of Peterborough.

Fat was in the fire this week following my report last Saturday of the lucky draw prize mishandling at the recent Sportsmen's Show.

Executives, who didn't know anything untoward had happened, traced and found out that some scoundrel member had tried to get away with the fishing outfit prize and had offered the real winner, an elderly lady, a consolation prize of two merchandize certificates. President Jack O'Neil put things to rights by handing the lady a cheque for $42.50, the value of the prize outfit, and asked her to keep the two trade certificates as well. According to a note he showed me the true winner is now very happy about the settlement. The fast-talking gent is to be drummed out of the Fish and Game fold, says the prexy.

Fish and Gamers are manning a carp net under supervision of a conservation officer on the lower Otonabee River, and results have been very satisfactory. More than 200 carp have been netted in the past 12 days.

A perturbed angler wants to know if he can use one of those spring-grab gaffs for landing pickerel; these devilish contraptions were introduced from the States last year. Although legislation has not been passed yet to prohibit their use there is a very basic law against killing fish until the fisherman determines whether or not they are legal length. So, don't use them.

Same thing applies to the old-time method of whacking a muskie across the back behind the dorsal fin with the edge of a paddle blade; the blow makes the fighting fish rigid and easy to land. But what if it is a few inches under legal measure? You've killed the fish illegally. Better take a chance on these fish plopping off the hook or buy yourself a landing net.

Everything is being put into ship shape along the Trent System these days. Work boats are replacing and painting channel buoys, repairing ravages of winter shove ice to tops and sides of Federal wharves, putting gas-fed lighthouses into operation. The Lift Lock is officially open for traffic and the first visiting cruiser of the year could be one from Oakville, coming through the city early next week.

♠ ♠ ♠ ♠

It's For The Birds

If you went south for the winter and came back to find another family had moved into your home there would be the very heck to pay. Same thing with birds.

Story comes from Stayner about a wren house that has been occupied by two of these birds for the past six years. They didn't arrive on time this year and two cheeky English sparrows moved in. Then the wrens came.

There was a terrific battle and the female sparrow while lunging at the irate wren, was outwitted when the regular owner made an end run into the hole and stayed there. The wrens threw out the sparrows messy nesting material and started their meticulous housekeeping. Now everything is happy at Wren Villa in Stayner.

♠ ♠ ♠ ♠

Nothing but good can be said for the way pickerel are biting these days. True, they have their off times but the general opening was tops with far more fishermen—both district and visitor—participating.

There are some experts' experts, city boys, that can catch walleyes any time or any place they throw in their lures. It makes bystanders without this savvy drool and finally pack up and go home in disgust. Heard of two of these lads up at the Nassau dam the other night that were tossing back 20-inchers all evening while others next to them couldn't get a nibble.

Don't phone me that fishing has slumped. It is all a matter of know-how. Pickerel are waiting to be pulled ashore all over the Kawarthas.

Birth-Pangs Of A Volcano

By O. M. GREEN

Is another volcano about to be born in the little island of Kutubdia, which lies about twelve miles off the coast of East Pakistan (better known as Bengal) not far south of the port of Chittagong? There are signs that it may be so; and a commission of experts has been sent by the Pakistan Government to Kutubdia to study them.

These signs, in the shape of large new deposits of sulphur, are the result of the fearful earthquake which rocked Kutubdia at the end of March. Probably nobody in Europe except seismologists ever heard of this earthquake. Yet from descriptions now received from Karachi the 40,000 islanders suffered an appalling experience.

"For four terrifying days and nights", says Karachi's report, "Kutubdia was subjected to a series of shocks and subterranean explosions resembling cannonfire. The whole island pitched and heaved to twenty earthquake shocks between March 18 and March 21. At each tilt the sea rushed inland. Huts collapsed and fishing boats were wrecked.

"The panic-stricken population cut off by miles of turbulent water from the mainland, spent their days in anguish and their nights in prayer".

Then the shocks and the panic subsided, but there remained the tell-tale sulphur deposits as an omen of perhaps greater trouble to come.

It cannot be thought unlikely that Kutubdia is preparing to give birth to a new volcano, for it lies in the middle of the second greatest of the earth's volcanic chains.

The greatest is that which starts at Cape Horn, reaches all up the eastern side of the Pacific—including with many others such magnificent fellows as Cotopaxi and Popocatapetl in the Andes—to Alaksa. Then the chain turns across the top of the world and downwards through the peninsula of Kamchatka (where there are believed to be fourteen volcanoes), the Kuriles and Japan, where it gave birth to the 12,000 ft. high volcano Fujiyama, one of the loveliest mountains in the world, a perfect snow-capped cone, built up in past ages by successive discharges of rocks and cinders and lavae.

But the chain to which Kutubdia belongs is no mean one. Beginning in New Guinea, it extends northwestward through the Sunda archipelago, where nearly every island is volcanic in some form; through Java, which has forty-nine volcanoes, active, dormant or extinct, and Sumatra; and so to Assam, northern India, and northern Pakistan.

Insects In Multitudes Start Invasion Of Gardens Now

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

Insects of every size and description and diseases due to physiological conditions, various viruses, and fungi will visit your garden, no matter how careful you may be of your plants.

More than half of the known species of animals in the world, if we can believe the encyclopedia, are insects. Yet, strange as it may seem, neither spiders or centipedes are insects, but bugs, since the true insect always has six legs and usually two pairs of wings.

The best-known insects are beetles, grasshoppers, butterflies, and moths. Bugs or insects, call them what you will, can play havoc with your vegetables unless you are prepared with the proper material to attack them the moment of their arrival.

To successfully combat insects or bugs the gardener should know that some chew for a living while others insert a rasping, sucking mouth into the plant to draw upon the juices for their existence.

The more common and destructive chewing insects are the canker worms, cabbage worms (hornworms), brown tail caterpillar, Colorado potato beetle, rose bug, slug.

The sucking insects include the San Jose bug, garden flea hoppers, squash bug, thrip, aphid, chinch bug, and red spider.

One of the many insect invaders the Colorado potato beetle may soon appear in your garden. He succumbs to spray or dusting.

Chewing insects must be combatted by spraying or dusting their food plants with stomach poisons such as lead arsenate, DDT, methoxychlor, chlordane, lindane, rotenone-bearing compounds and fixed nicotine compounds.

Other than rotenone none of these poisons are effective for control of aphids. This pest is controlled by contact insecticides which clog up the breathing pores and thus kill by suffocation. Aphids breathe by means of small pores arranged in pairs along the sides of the abdomen and thorax. Therefore, to be effective, the spray or dust must strike the insect and not be applied on the plants in hopes that he will crawl through and destroy himself.

Fungus is a low form of of plant life which, because it cannot make its own food, feeds on growing plant or decaying vegetable and animal matter. The most important fungus diseases to annoy the gardener are several blights, leaf and fruit spots, scabs, mildews and canker diseases.

Fungus diseases cannot be cured but they can be prevented to a marked degree by the use of protective fungicides applied at the right time. The powdery mildew is the one exception and may be killed with a sulfur dust or spray.

Preventative fungicides include Bordeaux mixture, lime-sulfur, copper compounds and organics like ziram, zinek, ferbam and manzate.

Be sure to note, a fungicide does not kill insects, and an insecticide does not control diseases.

Gardening Questions

Q—Our lot is devoid of topsoil. Our contractor tells us that a crop of rye grass will provide sufficient green manure to offset this deficiency. What is meant by "green manure"?—B. R.

A—This refers to any crop grown for a short period in the garden and turned under to decay in the soil. In soils low in organic matter, the use of green manures is an excellent, although slow, way to increase the content. Winter rye or perennial rye grass make excellent green manure. They may be sown any time from midsummer until frost and will survive low winter temperatures. They are usually turned under early in spring.

Q—What is the best type of soil to use when sowing tomato and pepper seed?

A—Tomato and pepper seed grow best in a mixture of equal parts of garden loam, sand and peat moss. Do not add fertilizer until the seedling plants are planted in the garden.

Famous Deaths—IX.

Belsen, April 24, 1945

I went to Belsen . . . I got this story from Derek Sington, political officer, and from officers and men of Oxfordshire Yeomanry.

Typhus broke out in the camp, and a truce was arranged so that we could take the camp over. The Germans originally had proposed that we should bypass the camp. In the meantime thousands and thousands of people would have died and been shot. We refused these terms, and demanded the withdrawal of the Germans and the disarmament of the SS guards. Some dozen SS men and women were left behind under the command of Higher Sturmfuhrer Kramer, who had been at Auschwitz. Apparently they had been told all sorts of fairy tales about the troops, that they could go on guarding, and that we would let them free and so forth.

We only had a handful of men so far, and the SS stayed there that night. The first night of liberty, many hundreds of people died of joy.

Next day some men of the Yeomanry arrived. The people crowded around them, kissing their hands and feet—and dying from weakness. Corpses in every state of decay were lying around, piled on top of each other in heaps. There were corpses in the compound in flocks. People were falling dead all around, people who were walking skeletons. One woman came up to a soldier who was guarding the milk store and doling the milk out to children, and begged for milk for her baby. The man took the baby and saw that it had been dead for days, black in the face and shrivelled up. The woman went on begging for milk. So he poured some on the dead lips. The mother then started to croon with joy and carried the baby off in triumph. She stumbled and fell dead in a few yards. I have this story and some others on records spoken by the men who saw them.

On the sixteenth, Kramer and the SS were arrested . . . About thirty-five thousand corpses were reckoned, more actually than the living. Of the living, there were about thirty thousand . . .

PATRICK GORDON WALKER,

(Oxford historian, B.B.C. commentator, who went as a military reporter to the concentration camp at Belsen on April 24, 1945.)

AN IRISH FUNERAL

The morning had been beautifully fine, but as they lowered the coffin into the grave, thunder rumbled overhead and hailstones hissed among the bracken.

An Irishman, one is forced to believe in a sympathy between man and nature, and at this moment, when the thunder sounded a death-peal of extraordinary grandeur above the voices of the women, I could see the faces near to me stiff and drawn with emotion.

When the coffin was in the grave, and the thunder had rolled away across the hills of Clare, the keen broke out again more passionately than before.

This grief of the keen is no personal complaint for the death of one woman over eighty years, but seems to contain the whole passionate rage that lurks somewhere in every native of the island. In this cry of pain the inner consciousness of the people seems to lay itself bare for an instant, and reveal the mood of beings who feel their isolation in the face of a universe that wars on them with winds and seas. They are usually silent, but in the presence of death all outward show of indifference or patience is forgotten, and they shriek with pitiable despair before the horror of the fate to which they all are doomed.

—J. M. Synge.

Revoys And U.E.W. In Draw As East City Triumphs To Open Men's City League

Men's senior city softball opened its annual schedule Thursday night at the East City Bowl before a large turnout of enthusiastic fans. Two sizzling struggles took place with George Hawke's strong Revoy Motors squad opposing Jim Carver's U.E.W. boys in the curtain-raiser a 7-7 draw. The nightcap pitted the newly-entered Lindsay Combines against Red Sullivan's East City Orphans and the latter nine hammered out a 15-3 verdict over the visitors.

Aldermen Jim Gillespie and Pat Anglesey opened festivities as the fast city loop got under way, with the former showing old-time form as he whaled a long drive to deep left-field (his wrong field, at that) off the pitcher and his associate in civic affairs watched the pitch from behind the platter. Fifteen draw prizes were awarded between games; everyone had a big time. President Bob Batley welcomed the crowd and promised softball fans the best for 1952, amid loud applause.

A Tight Fit

The opener proved a thriller from start to finish in a nip-and-tuck struggle, always in doubt. The 8.30 curfew for first games prevented extra innings as the two battling teams had to be content with a deadlock.

Jim Driscoll for U.E.W. opposed Earl Revoir of Revoys and the two righthanders twirled well for their respective teams each allowing nine bingles; the former fanned eight the latter six. Revoys held a commanding lead after three and one-half innings of play but the strong bats of Bruce Taylor, Jake Wade, Jack White, Bernie Robson, Jim Conlin and Ray Craig rang out to blast five runs over and tie up the ball game.

Perc Elmhirst cracked the first homer of the season to deep left-centre in the fifth for Revoys while Cowie's great catch off Conlin in the ninth saved a possible homer and Leether sparkled at short for U.E.W. The fielding of Dave Hayes at short for Revoys was a treat also with three putouts and six assists. Ray Craig drove in three runs for the Carver crew while Jack Mackness and Ralph Clysdale each drove a pair home for the Motor squad as the boys all gave their best, wiht Mackness fielding as of old.

Sullivan Hot

George (Red) Sullivan formed a one-man wrecking crew as he personally led his strong East City club to a 15-3 triumph over Lindsay Combines in the afterpiece. The wiry sorrel-top smashed out four solid hits, including two homers and a double to drive in six runs; he scored five as well. His first clout off Easkins in the fifth, with Skeeter O'Heron aboard, soared high over the fence in right and drove Haddy to the showers; while the second wallop was a terrific liner to the lower park scoring O'Heron and Spencer ahead of him in the seventh. Bob Wyatt also homered to deep left in that frame.

Terry Woods took the hill for East City for five innings, gave up one run and two hits then yielded to Lefty Doris who finished allowing two runs on four bunglies. Lindsay used three twirlers in all but none could effectively subdue the power of Orphan's attack despite a game effort. Lindsay looked shappy afield in their new green and white uniforms and will be heard from. Speed Curry drove in three runs and fielded well as did O'Heron, Bob Wyatt and Russ Scriver. Jim Growden's great running catch off O'Heron in the second was a fielding feature in the nightcap and the boys went all out on both teams to give the big crowd a real show

Queen's Plate Entries Trimmed To 20

TORONTO, May 23, (CP). — The Queen's Plate, Canada's richest and North America's oldest continuously-run horse race — it antedates the over-publicized Kentucky Derby by 15 years — goes Saturday with a field trimmed from its original 150 nominated to a probable 20.

This 93rd renewal of the $15,000-added nine furlong classic will be over in less than two minutes but it has all the glamor of a society garden party with the stripe-trousered and mink-coated set fenced off from the pushing and milling of the two-buck bettors. Thousands of Canadians will gamble untold thousands of dollars on the outcome.

This edition of the Plate isn't any different from previous modern day Plates. A crowd of about 40,000 will trample the lawns of east-end Woodbine Park to watch the sleek Canadian-bred three-year-olds pampered from birth and trained for this event.

Wealthy Owners

It costs the owners less than $200 in subscription fees but, by tradition in this century, the men who own Plate winners are wealthy—men who have the money to buy a good foal, hire the best possible trainers and spend thousands of dollars for the privilege of entering the winner's enclosure and receiving the gold cup and 50 guineas donated by the Queen.

Such names as the Seagram family of Waterloo, Ont., R. S. McLaughlin of Oshawa, Toronto's Willie Morrissey, Vince Sheridan and Charlie Hemstead, the late Harry Hatch and Harry Giddings and Edward Plunkett Taylor have won the major share of renewals in the last 45 years or more.

The favorites this time are the Taylor entries of Acadian and Dress Circle, both winners of the six furlong divisions of the Plate trial a week ago. They are quoted at 6-5 odds.

YOSHIRO SHIRAI poses here wearing the Japanese flyweight title belt, but he has a better one now. He beat Dado Marino in Tokyo Monday for the championship of the world in that weight. His manager is Dr. Alvin Cahn, Chicago, a botanist working with U.S. Army in Japan who wrote the National Boxing Association that he started managing the boy as an "experiment." Cahn wrote that Shirai's family was destitute after the bombing of Tokyo and that he was fighting seven to eight times a week to support a family of nine in two crowded tenement rooms. After getting the letter, the N.B.A. rated Shirai a contender and the title fight resulted.

At The Kawartha

Opening day for the business girls started off with a bang—56 girls teed off at 5:30 last evening, and it would indicate that the B.G.'s are beginning a new season for many new members in golf, under Captain Barbara Siddall.

After playing nine holes on a rather wet course, lunch was served by the club steward and his wife, Jack and Lil Brickstock. Margaret Lundy and Barbara Siddall poured tea at a tulip-decorated table.

Low net prizes of golf balls were won by Dorothy Harle and Ruth McKee. Low gross prizes of golf balls were won by Barbara Siddall and Roma Brindle. Other prizes were won by Betsy Astles, Dorothy McElroy, Audrey Oliver and Dorine McDougall.

Captain Siddall introduced her executive as follows:

Vice-captain, Margaret Lundy; social convener, Dorothy Lefebvre; ringer scorer, Roma Brindle; secretary - treasurer, Dorothy Franks.

The B.G.'s will follow the usual routine of playing golf first and eating afterward. Prize money for spoons will be $1.50, same as last year, and must be paid by June 30, in order that members will be eligible to win a spoon. Only one spoon may be won by each member during the season; if winner a second time, points will be given for the year point prize. It is to be hoped that drawing names for partners weekly will enable the girls to become better acquainted with each other. From this week on, lunch after golf, will be served at eight p.m., and should it be raining about tee-off time or before, the girls are asked to go out to the club where lunch will be served earlier than usual.

Ladies' Section

In the 18-hole players' group, Mrs. H. Woodcox won the prize for low gross as well as for the hidden holes. Mrs. J. Gatfield won the low net prize in the 9-hole players' section and Mrs. H. Allison won the second low net prize.

England is contributing its share to the hilarious troupe of touring pro wrestlers. Not only have we had Lord Athol Layton—and his man Gerald—here the past winter, but a new man mountain has come upon the scene. British railway officials find him a great care as he scales 700 pounds and is about eight feet high, or long—when sticking out at either end of a berth. His name is Zehe and he is of German descent, grappling under the name of Gargantua. He is slated for a rematch soon with Jack Doyle in Dublin. Their last went but four minutes since the game but baffled Mr. Doyle found he couldn't get his arms around Mr. Zehe.

Just three local lasses' teams in the softball circuit this season, Marines, Ashby's and Burtol's. Latter is made up mostly of former Westclox players. However, it sounds like a right interesting loop, since three outside teams have been added: Belleville, Cobourg and Lindsay. Apart from a few Belleville-Cobourg games on one or the other diamond, all contests will be staged in the Ashburnham Bowl, so Peterborough fans should get a bang out of the girls' softball play this summer. Schedule opens here Monday eve with Marines vs. Ashby's, and Lindsay vs. Burtol's, first game of the double-header at seven.

Yorks Lead The Pack

Various O.L.A. senior experts around the league are taking a sharp look at the 1952 edition of Toronto Yorks. Won their first two games handily—beating Owen Sound by a bigger score than the champion Petes did. They've padded the squad with seven Brampton players and several from St. Kitts, plus what they had in Toronto last year. Top scorer Scotty McPhail, as playing coach, will make a whale of a difference, too. So, the Timbermen have a tough task facing 'em tonight here when the Yorks invade Miller Bowl at 8:45. It'll be a real test of strength for Bob Thorpe and Co. The latter team treks to Owen Sound on the morrow.

Returning to the C.O.B.L. after a two-year absence, the Petes open the senior "A" baseball season at seven Saturday night in Riverside against Kingston Ponies. The K's are rated pretty highly in early-season predictions, but then the Petes led the Viaduct Loop all last season till they lost out in playoffs to the packed Oshawa outfit, O.B.A. champs. Lefty Dadson or Bill Edger will be on the home mound with Al Menzies catching. Rest of the crew will be picked from Joe Stewart, Freddy Garvey, Neil Thompson, Bryon Young, Bill Huntley, Joe Lowrey, Don Bigford, an import from the Maritimes and several other prospects. Promises to be a good ball game to pry off the seasonal lid.

But Chances Are Slim

Alex Sinclair is making a final effort to round up a sponsor and manager for the local junior ball club, and is seeking permission to keep them in the Lakeshore Baseball League. However, the task appears hopeless now, and doubtless the loop would refuse to give any further consideration to the in-and-out juniors from here. Alex points out that the Peterborough junior club was offered the use of Riverside Park every evening from six to 7:30 and he thought that should be a perfectly reasonable time for juniors anxious to play ball. The seniors, mostly married men, would take the park at 7:30 for their practices. He said the junior pilot first agreed but then changed his mind, and withdrew the club.

* * * * * *

Aldermen Jim Gillespie and Pat Anglesey helped officially open the men's softball season at the Bowl last e'en before a goodly gallery. Looks like some keen action coming up in Bob Batley's circuit. Revoy's and U.E.W. battled to a 7-7 draw in the opener, the 8:30 curfew precluding extra innings. Earl Revoir and Jim Driscoll pitched steady ball and Percy Elmhirst homered in the close contest, marked with some snappy fielding. Red Sullivan led his East City Orphans to a 15-3 win in the nightcap o'er Lindsay as he pounded out two homers, a double and single. Bob Wyatt also hit for the circuit. Terry Woods and Lefty Doris split mound duties for Orphans as Lindsay used three twirlers in vain. Haven't got the schedule for next Tuesday yet.

Miss Pepsi's Bid For Record Collapses

DETROIT, May 23 (AP). — Miss Pepsi's anticipated bid for the world mile speedboat record collapsed Thursday before it started.

A rod inside the craft broke loose and shot through the front engine as she was being primed for the run. The mishap ruined the Dossin brothers' hopes of bettering the present 160-mile-an-hour record.

The brothers, Walter and Roy, owners of the boat, said the record attempt now has been delayed indefinitely. A new Allison engine must be fitted into Miss Pepsi.

Queen Alex Victors

Queen Alex yanked out a 15-14 school softball win over Confederation yesterday with four-run outbursts in the first two frames, five in the third and two more in the fourth. The losers notched one each in the first and fifth, three in the second and nine in a big fourth stanza of a keen tussle. Teams:

Confederation: B. Thompson, M. Bryans, M. Orr, D. Brown, J. Outwater, M. Westwood, B. Trotter, B. Ruttan, S. Weir, C. Fallis, P. Sybley.

Queen Alex.: M. Brown, A. Arnold, D. Kingston, S. Shaw, I. Buckton, J. Weir, D. Dunnett, B. Montgomery, G. Clemans.

Umpire: Gainor.

Lasses' Game Open

In a wide open tussle by girls of the Public School Softball League yesterday, King Edward clouted out a 31-24 decision over Prince of Wales. The latter counted four runs each in the first and third, seven in the second and fifth, with two in the fourth. The winners started off gently enough with three in the first but erupted next heat for 12, adding 11 more in the big third and tapering off with five in the finale. Teams:

Prince of Wales: M. Davis, E. Root, B. Heckadorn, J. Ivison, J. Marchen, E. Batley, E. Rose, B. Succee, L. Heron.

King Edward: M. Harvey, S. Reynolds, L. Hunter, S. Reynolds, B. Bell, S. Callan, K. Hooey, A. James, G. Hobart.

Umpire: J. M. Telford.

Nine In Civic Loop

Nine teams have entered the Civic Softball League, Art Reynolds reports. They are: Grant aud Loucks, Bell Telephone, B'nai B'rith, Provincial Police, Salvation Army, Fairview, Timber Structures, Post Office and Foresters.

Play opens Monday with B'nai B'rith meeting Grant and Loucks at 6:30 p.m. in Ashburnham Park, as Provincial Police tackle Salvation Army in Turner Park. The following night has Bell vs. Fairview at Ashburnham Park, with Wednesday pitting Timber Structures there against Post Office. The schedule will be drawn up shortly.

Players' names must be in the mail to Art Reynolds this week for sure.

Simmons Turns In Shutout As Phillies Blank Pirates

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

Remember Willie Keeler who used to "hit 'em where they ain't?" It seems that modern day hitters are hitting 'em where they are. Except for brief flurries of power the pitchers are pretty much in command these days in the major baseball leagues. Pitchers sparkled both on the mound and at bat in both leagues Thursday with National League hurlers stealing the show with four shutouts.

Curt Simmons, showing no signs of rust following his tour of army duty, turned in the gem of the day. The lanky lefthander pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-0 three-hit triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Simmons fanned eight, walked five and aided his own cause by slamming a three-run inside-the-park home run in the sixth inning to seal his third triumph and second straight shutout.

At Boston the Chicago Cubs and Braves traded shutouts. Bob Rush blanked the Braves 3-0 on four safeties in the opener and contributed to the attack by driving in a run on a single and double.

Turns Tables

Warren Spahn turned the tables in the nightcap, scattering nine hits in hanging up a 5-0 victory. Home runs by Bob Thorpe and Sam Jethroe eased Spahn's road.

Lefty Monte Kennedy put in a strong bid for regular employment by pitching the New York Giants to a 6-0 four-hit victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. He walked only one Card and fanned two in besting Gerry Staley who was seeking his eighth triumph.

Pitchers encountered a rough afternoon at Brooklyn where the Dodgers came from behind to beat Cincinnati, 8-7, and protect their half-game lead over the Giants.

The Dodgers tallied four runs in the eighth inning to wipe out a 7-4 deficit.

Ties Score

Roy Campanella, returning to action after a three day layoff because of a bruised hand, tied the score by socking one of Dutch Hiller's change-of-pace pitches for a three-run homer. Joe Adcock, injured later in the game, smashed a grand-slam homer for Cincinnati and Grady Hatton connected with one on to lead the Red attack.

Mickey McDermott pitched and helped bat the Boston Red Sox to a 3-2 decision over the Cleveland Indians. McDermott singled in the ninth and slid home with the winning run when Johnny Pesky and Billy Goodman followed with singles.

The loss cut Cleveland's lead over the runner-up Washington Senators to two games. The Senators whipped the Browns, 4-2, in a night game at St. Louis.

Ed Yost and Mickey Vernon blasted home runs.

Rain washed out the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox game. Philadelphia and Detroit were idle.

Swedes Favor Amateurism, Find Few Pros

OTTAWA—(CP) — One out of every seven persons in Sweden is actively engaged in sports, yet professional athletes are almost non-existent, reports Pontus Lindberg, a national sports director of Sweden.

Mr. Lindberg arrived here recently to study recreational methods in Canada.

Swedes have a different approach to atheltics than Canadians, he said in an interview. More than 1,000,000 of the country's 7,000,000 adult population engage in some branch of sport. Yet only a few boxers try to earn a living through athletic competition.

The country's athletics are organized under volunteer sports clubs, and all of the major clubs are sponsored by the Swedish Sports Federation.

A weekly soccer pool provides most of the money for the clubs' programs—about $1,400,000 in the last year.

Mr. Lindberg had special praise for Canadian hockey players.

"That is one game you can't be equalled at. Canada could send a 10th-rate hockey team into international competition and still come out a winner."

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Organized baseball's controversial reserve law received qualified approval Thursday in Washington as a Congressional committee told the game's rulers to solve their own anti-trust problems.

Although it killed three bills which would have exempted the professional game from the United States' laws against monopolies, the committee held that baseball needed some sort of reserve clause.

The conclusions came after a 10-month study of the technical, legal and behind-the-scenes operation of major, minor and bush league baseball.

A report from Edmonton on Thursday said Tillsonburg Livingstons, Canadian amateur basketball association champions, are seeking Bob Pickell, one of the top players in western Canada cage circles, for their squad should they eliminate the underdog University of Western Ontario Mustangs. Livingstons lead Western 2-1 in a best-of-five series for the right to form the nucleus of the team which will represent Canada at the Olympic games this year.

Tottenham Hotspurs, English first division club, opened its 10-game North American soccer tour in Toronto Thursday night and shut out Ontario all-star 7-0. Some 11,000 fans watched the game in Exhibition Park.

Governor Thomas Dewey of New York Thursday signed extradition papers in Albany requesting the return of basketball player Bill Spivey from Kentucky to face perjury charges in connection with the big cage "fix."

Johnny Lujack, former Notre Dame star gridder, is reported to have made a final rejection of an offer from Edmonton Eskimos to play football for them in the Western Interprovincial Union next fall.

New York Yankees Thursday handed veteran Johnny Hopp his unconditional release in announcing the recall of rookie pitcher Bill Miller from Kansas City. Hopp was purchased from Pittsburgh Pirates in 1950 as pennant insurance. He cost $40,000.

Royal Copeland, fleet halfback, told Toronto's Mayor Lamport in a telephone conversation Thursday from San Diego, Calif., he would return to Argonauts this year. He has been playing with Calgary Stampeders for the last two years.

Red Wings Edge Royals 2-1 In 19 Innings

By The Associated Press.

The Rochester Red Wings, holders of the International League record for the longest game played, almost tied their own mark Thursday night when they edged the Montreal Royals, 2-1, in 19 innings.

Rochester set a league record on Aug. 13, 1950, when Tom Poholsky, now in the service, pitched the Wings to a 3-2, 22-inning triumph over the Jersey City Giants.

Player manager Harry Walker singled with the bases loaded to break up the longest game of the current season. Fred Martin pitched the first 17 innings for Rochester. Jack Crimian hurled the 18th and gained credit for the triumph. Bob Tiefenauer pitched the 19th. Lefty Mal Mallette opened for Montreal and worked 15 innings. Art Fabro toiled the final four and was the loser.

Ray Jablonski singled to open the 19th but was forced at second by Rip Repulski. Repulski took second on a wild pitch. Lou Oritz was intentionally walked but pinch-hitter Cot Deal beat out a hit to load the bases and Walker followed with his game winning single to centre.

Cuts Lead

The loss cut the Royals' first place lead to 3½ games over the Syracuse Chiefs and Toronto Maple Leafs. The Chiefs, behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Keegan, blanked the Ottawa Athletics, 4-0. The Leafs, who trail the Chiefs by four percentage points, defeated the Buffalo Bisons, 7-1.

Five Ottawa errors figured prominently in the Chiefs' scoring. The Chiefs scored once in the fifth and sewed it up with three in the eighth.

Johnny Hetki also came up with a four-hitter in turning in his second triumph for Toronto. The Leafs collected 11 hits including a home run by Lew Morton. Leaf catcher Andy Anderson was struck on the head by a fast ball in the fifth inning. Hospital reports said his injury was not serious.

Springfield and Baltimore were idle.

United Counties' Loop Elects Executive

MILLBROOK, May 23 (ENS) — On Tuesday evening at a meeting of the northern section of the Durham and Northumberland counties girls' softball loop held in Bethany the following officers were elected: Bob Cathcart of Millbrook, president; Russell Kidd of Bailieboro, Jack Wilson of Yelverton, Roy Ferren of Bethany and Alex. Gilbert of Millbrook, vice-presidents; Marie Carr of Bethany, secretary. A general discussion of softball rules followed. A further meeting to draw up a schedule will be held in Millbrook on Monday.

Request Clean-up In Bookie Operations

CALGARY, May 23 (CP). — Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association—prairie division—at its annual meeting on Thursday in Calgary, unanimously passed a resolution calling on the Attorney-Generals of the three prairie provinces to call in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to clean up the bookmaking situation.

Spokesmen said that the bookmaking establishments were taking a lot of the public's money which otherwise would be put through the mutuel machines.

Jesus Came To Give Life To Apathetic World

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

Jesus defined His work and mission to the world in various ways, and at various times.

He said He had come to seek and to save the lost (Matthew 18:11 and many other passages).

He had come to fulfill the prophecies of Isaiah (Luke 4:16-21). And He had come to bear witness unto truth (John 18:37).

But the one great comprehensive, all-inclusive definition of His mission and redemptive purpose was in the declaration, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly" (John 10:10).

In that declaration Jesus specificially contrasted that purpose of God, in His own mission, with the purpose of others to steal and to destroy.

How appalling that contrast is all through the history of mankind! The Bible, as well as all other great books of man's life, reveal how early stealing and destruction began.

The long course of history is one of rapine and bloodshed, but we need not look to the past to realize the depth and extent of stealing and slaughter. Our own age has revealed evil fully as appalling.

The great tragedies and evils of life are sufficiently apparent. What is not so apparent is that these great evils of violence and destruction have their roots in the lesser evils of men, and in the lack of basic morality.

Dishonesty is at the root of crime, even in the hearts and lives of men who are not legally criminal.

The business man who takes unfair advantage of his fellows is weakening the whole fabric of society. The public official, who betrays his trust, and the honor that he ought to possess, would probably scorn to commit murder, or banditry, or to steal in some grosser way.

One can see plainly, however, in revelations of graft and civic corruption how he has been the actual ally of those who have made stealing and destruction their chief purpose.

One of Tolstoi's great short stories is translated into English under the title, "If You Neglect the Lesser Fire, You Cannot Put Out the Great One."

The lesser fire began when neighbors quarrelled over the possession of an egg, which one peasant's hen had laid beyond the fence of the other.

Then the fire began to spread, until in the actual firing of the barn of the other by one of the peasants the conflagration spread, and the whole village was destroyed.

That is what is happening in the life surrounding us today. So much of it is wrong in its source, in its very beginnings. The habit of today becomes the gripping evil of tomorrow.

Every newspaper in its daily news reveals in its reports of tragedies and accidents the extent of the drink evil, the gambling evil, and the other evils that affect and endanger society—the things that oppose and defy God's life-giving purpose for mankind.

Yet the public attitude is still largely apathetic and ineffective. What the world needs, and what every community needs, is an immense endowment of God's life-giving purpose, as Jesus expressed it, "to give life, and to give it more abundantly."

REV. DONALD M. WARNE

Noted Church Expanding

In a concrete effort to expand its interdenominational character and to promote the spirit of Christian unity, New York's famed Riverside Church will affiliate in the fall with the New York City Congregational Church Association.

At the same time it will maintain its historic and long-standing connections with the American Baptist Convention and the Southern New York Baptist Association.

Announcement of the plan was made by the Rev. Robert J. McCracken, pastor of Riverside since the retirement of the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick in 1946.

For many years Riverside has welcomed churchgoers from all denominations without requiring baptism by immersion as a prerequisite to membership. As a result, more than thirty denominations are represented on the church rolls.

Three years ago a special committee was appointed to explore the possibility of affiliating with other denominations while at the same time continuing Riverside's connection with the Baptist churches.

The committee reported that a link with the Congregational-Christian Churches would be both feasible and practical since neither the Baptists nor the Congregationalists were autonomous and neither insisted upon creedal requirements for membership.

Y.P.S. Service For St. Paul's

At a special young peoples' service planned for St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning the Rev. Donald M. Warne, a recent graduate of Knox College, will preach. Mr. Warne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Warne, 607 Water St. and after the summer supplying at Thornhill he will go to New College, Edinburgh, Scotland, on a travelling scholarship for one year of further study.

The service will be conducted by Andrew Sheddon president of the Young Peoples' Society and he will be assisted by Max Clarke, Norma Bell and Alex Ingram. A presentation from the congregation will be made to Mr. Warne.

By HARRY THEOBALD

Central Ontario Spring Show Reports Balance of $1206 . . . Shorthorn Breeders' Bus Trip June 4 . . . . Women's Institute Annual Meeting at Norwood May 29 . . . Dual Purpose Shorthorn Field Day June 7 Near Madoc.

To the executive of the Central Ontario Spring Show, Oliver A. Dalrymple, Stirling, secretary-treasurer, reported Thursday a present bank balance of $1206.54 with several small bills payable outstanding.

Of that sum, $505.26 was a legacy from the Quinte District Seed Fair, the old organization of district grain growers which the Spring Show has replaced. Actual profit from the first Show here last March will be in excess of $600.

A motion by Ed. A. Summers, agricultural representative, Bowmanville, and Mel McHolm, Port Hope, chairman, directed that $100 be paid to the Peterborough Federation of Agriculture.

That was half the Federation's grant of $200 to help the Show in its transition to permanent place in Peterborough.

Total receipts reported by Mr. Dalrymple, including the previous bank balance, were $4,161, and expenditures $2,954.96.

Reports from the March Show were all favorable, with the somewhat amusing exception of the 25c admission charge that was applied to everybody, including the visiting judges, the President of the Ontario Agricultural College, Dr. J. D. MacLachlan, who opened the show, all the executive and so on down the line.

Concern for costs in the new venture, and for its future, prompted that levy, but with a fund in four figures for the 1953 Show there will be more emphasis on public relations.

A motion by Ald. Harold Rehill and LeRoy Brown, agricultural representative, Lindsay, definitely adopted the name Central Ontario Spring Show. Mr. F. C. Paterson was chairman of the meeting.

It appointed a nominating committee to submit officers and executive and also a draft constitution for consideration next fall, probably in November.

Its members are: Lynn Fair, Uxbridge, agricultural representative in Ontario county; Stewart Bowman, Peterborough, representing the federal Department of Agriculture; Ken Fallis, Toronto, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture; Garnet Rickard of Bowmanville; Robert Armstrong of Cavan; Frank C. Paterson; A. O. Dalrymple, agricultural representative in Hastings county; Mel McHolm of Hope township; M. H. Johnston of Peterborough Exhibition; John Hunter, representing Peterborough industries.

The secretary was instructed to thank the Peterborough Federation of Agriculture for their support.

Norman McConkey, president of Peterborough Exhibition, told the meeting that the directors were planning a building to replace the barn destroyed by fire last month. Its size and location, he said, should enlarge the facilities at Morrow Park.

Co-operation of the Exhibition directors in accomplishing the success of the first Show was generally expressed.

MILLBROOK'S SHOW

An error in the prize list of Millbrook's 103rd livestock show, Wed. June 11, is directed to the attention of juniors taking part in the beef calf club competition.

Eligible calves are within the age brackets of Aug. 1, 1951 and Jan. 30, 1952, which is a correction of the dates mentioned on page 29 of the prize list.

Eleven prizes in that event range from $7 down to three of $2 each. Jay Whittington of South Monaghan is president of Millbrook Agricultural Society.

The horse show is a feature of this first district fair of the year. There are seven classes, from heavy draughts to saddle horses and .

The other classes include Jersay cattle, Shorthorns, Aberdeen-Angus and Herefords and swine. The afternoon program presents novely acts, singing and dancing.

✦ ✦ ✦

TWO HEREFORD DAYS

Ten breeders are consigning seven bulls and 18 females to the fourth annual Eastern Ontario Hereford show and sale, Friday, June 6 at Morrow Park (Peterborough Exhibition grounds).

The catalogue announces the show for 11 a.m. and sale time is 1.30 p.m. with W. S. O'Neill of Denfield auctioneer.

The consignors are: Mervin Smith, Cavan; R. E. Thurston, Bobcaygeon; F. E. Birdsall of Birdsall; D. A. Kerr of Smith township; estate of M. M. Boyd, Bobcaygeon; H. Elmhirst, Keene; Edmond Reavie, Flinton; Allen Linton, Cobourg; Homer J. Hawkey, Indian River and Charles Fisher, Bailieboro.

Ontario Department of Agriculture provides a premium of 20 per cent of the purchase price, not to exceed $75, as an encouragement to farmers wishing to purchase quality stock.

Dave Kerr's Kerryvale Farm herd makes its debut in the auction ring with three entries, a heifer and two bulls that are substantially endowed with Old Orchard lines and sinew. Executive of the Hereford breeders are sponsoring this sale with confidence that the 25 animals are collectively the best consignment in the four years' experience of the Eastern Ontario Hereford Breeders.

Officers are: President H. J. Hawkey; vice-pres., Chas. Fisher; secretary Wm. Mood; treasurer, E. V. O'Toole; directors: Allan Linton, Rod MacAlpine, Mervin Cochrane, Archie Clysdale and Harold Elmhirst.

Field Day, June 7

Associated with the show and sale is the field day and picnic of the Ontario Hereford Breeders at the farm of Col. F. E. Birdsall, Rice Lake, on Saturday, June 7. The provincial association accepted the invitation of Col. Birdsall to meet at his farm which is splendidly located at the east side of Rice Lake.

"ARMADA" ARRIVES

Calrossie Armada, the imported Scottish Shorthorn for which Louis Cadesky paid $23,520, reached Louada Manor Farm on Pigeon Lake this week. It arrived with several other animals purchased at the Perth sale in Scotland for Mr. Cadesky after a quarantine period of nearly a month at Halifax.

✦ ✦ ✦

BEEF CLUB MEETS

The 4-H beef calf club had a good meeting Wednesday night at the Lou Shaw farm with Lorne as club leader. Ken Best was impressed by the interest of those parents who accompanied the youngsters to this meeting.

✦ ✦ ✦

ONTARIO CROP REPORT

Recent rains turned the scale of crop prospects toward another season of heavy production. On that point a U.S. farm paper says: "Whatever prices are, the more you have to sell, the better off you should be if you make a special effort to hold down costs. Plan your affairs so that you will owe less in relation to assets at the end of the year than at the beginning."

Immediately after that editorial recommendation comes a blue note from Prince Edward county in this week's report from the Ontario Department: "Farmers generally are disgusted with the price situation. Payments from some cheese factories are held up until sale of cheese."

Lanark mentions a big increase in acreage of grain corn and soybeans. Old pasture lands are being cleared of thorn trees and are being plowed and planted to corn.

South Simcoe: Boys and girls' swine club gilts with satisfactory health status are fairly difficult to obtain, and are ranging in price from $30 to $40 a pair. "Regular potato growers' acreage will not vary much from last year."

Bruce: "Farmers are in a happier frame of mind with the firmer tone of the beef market, plus recent rains."

Victoria: Grass, hay and spring crops has made remarkable growth in the last few days.

Grenville: "Cheese and dairy cattle situation is a lively topic, and quite unsettled."

Prescott: "A consider increase in the number of dairy cattle is being noted on the average farm."

✦ ✦ ✦

RECORDS COUNTED

The 352 Holstein heifers for Italy were carefully selected for blood lines and type from leading Ontario and Quebec herds. Requirements included an average production on the three nearest tested dams of at least 16,000 lbs. milk on a mature three times a day milking basis. George M. Clemons, secretary of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, reported that "they are a high class lot, and many would have been strong contenders at the shows this year had they remained here."

They were the first lot of Holsteins to leave Canada since the imposition of the foot and mouth diesease embargo. This big shipment left Montreal May 15.

One heifer was from Henry Sharpe's herd in Smith.

✦ ✦ ✦

FIELD DAY JUNE 4

Peterborough Shorthorn Breeders of which Mr. Lou Shaw is president are arranging a bus trip to the Morley Beath farm for the field day, June 4, of the Eastern Ontario Shorthorn Breeders. The local group are co-operating with Victoria and Durham for this show. The corresponding event last year was at Louada Manor Farms in Harvey township, a big success. The Beath farm address is Oshawa, R.R. 2.

✦ ✦ ✦

VEGETABLE VALUES

In estimating the value of a vegetable garden this year, Prof. T. O. Graham of the Department of Horticulture, O.A.C., suggests a return of close to $50 from a lot 30 ft. by 100 ft. If some of the produce is stored for winter, the value of that average garden moves up to $80. Prof. Graham has prepared an advisory chart, copies of which may be obtained through the office of F. C. Patterson, agricultural representative.

✦ ✦ ✦

200 FROM TEXAS

Macdonald College, Que., will be visited June 11 by 200 Texas farmers and their wives in their tour of eastern Canada. They are specially interested in problems of raising beef cattle in this country.

✦ ✦ ✦

PARENTS PRESENT

Six fathers of swine club members who attended that 4-H Club meeting Monday evening at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Reg. McMullen were a special encouragement to Don Best, agricultural assistant, and George Shoniker, club leader. Mr. Best urged the young folks to adopt punctuality as one of their requirements. Having set their time of meeting, they should make a sincere effort to be on time.

✦ ✦ ✦

FIELD DAY SPEAKER

W. P. Watson, Ontario livestock commissioner, will be the speaker at the Eastern Ontario Shorthorn Breeders' field day June 4th at the Morley Beath farm.

✦ ✦ ✦

BROOKLIN FAIR

Date of Brooklin Spring Fair is Saturday, June 7. This is an Ontario county event that usually attracts some people from the Peterborough district.

✦ ✦ ✦

W. W. DAWSON ON C.B.C.

"What About Grass Silage?" is the subject assigned to G. R. Johnson, secretary of the silage research committee of O.A.C. in the C.B.C. crop production series. His half hour talk, 12.30 to 1 p.m. is listed for Wednesday, May 28.

"Haying Methods" will be discussed on June 11 by a representative of Macdonald College, Que. Bruce Beer of Brampton, a former Manvers township junior farmer, is speaking on "Summer Pasture Management", June 25.

W. W. Dawson of Otonabee will be heard on August 13. His subject is "Fall Wheat."

✦ ✦ ✦

DISTRICT FIELDMAN

Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, confirms the appointment of R. G. Gregg as engineering fieldman for the counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Victoria, Durham, Peterborough, Northumberland. His headquarters are at Lindsay.

✦ ✦ ✦

JUNE SET-ASIDE

Canada's three national dairy organizations endorse the June set-aside for the continuance of the industry's advertising fund. Gilbert McMillan, president of the Dairy Farmers of Canada says this public relations program was long overdue.

J. J. Creighton, president of the National Dairy Council, reminds producers that need of this fund has been accentuated by threats to the industry from such conditions as the embargo on dairy cattle, the encroachment of vegetable oils, and the growing competition from other foods for the consumer dollar.

✦ ✦ ✦

$1,100 FOR HEIFER

Norman McConkey of Lifloc Farm was one of the buyers at the National Holstein sale at Oakville. He paid $1,100 for a bred heifer from the herd of R. C. Given of Georgetown.

George R. McLaughlin of Elmcroft Farm, Oshawa, sold a bred heifer, Elmcroft Silver Duchess, for $2,850 to John Steckle of Kitchener. Top price for a female at the 1951 sale was $1,975.

U.S. buyers picked out eight Holsteins that are to be kept in this country by the men who sold them until the embargo is lifted. Theodore Devine of Taunton, Mass., paid the best price of the sale at $6,500 for the eight months old bull, Glenafton Booster, consigned by J. J. E. McCague of Alliston.

The 60 animals brought $54,337 for the average of $905, as compared with the average of $1,044 a year ago. Sixteen head sold for at least $1,000. Four bulls averaged $2,731; 39 bred heifers $785; and 12 milking females $767.

LAKEHURST OUTING

Ken Best, assistant agricultural representative, and John Bell, district forester, will lead the Lakehurst 4-H forestry club on a field trip Saturday, May 31. The young members are to meet at the Community Hall at 10 o'clock, and are asked to pack a lunch.

✦ ✦ ✦

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Annual meeting of Peterborough Women's Institute will be at Norwood Town Hall Thursday, May 29, beginning at 10 a.m.

✦ ✦ ✦

AYRSHIRE BREEDERS

Peterborough-Durham Ayrshire Breeders Club is meeting Tuesday, May 27, in the office of the Department of Agriculture. They have at least four topics for discussion: plans for their Red and White Day at Lakefield; proposed exhibit at Peterborough Exhibition; to consider the sale of cattle that has been suggested from Peterborough Federation; and a proposed bus trip, joining with the Crop Improvement Association in their trip to Kemptville and Ottawa.

✦ ✦ ✦

CONFERENCE AT GUELPH

Frank C. Paterson and his assistant, Ken Best, are attending next week a conference of the extension service staff of the Ontario Department of Agriculture at Guelph.

✦ ✦ ✦

GOING TO OLYMPICS

R. J. Steckle of Waterloo county, recently appointed assistant agricultural representative in Renfrew, has been selected as one of the four wrestlers to represent Canada at the Olympic Games this year in Helsinki, Finland. He is a former member of the Waterloo Lions dairy calf club, and was graduated this year with honors from Ontario Agricultural College.

Mr. Steckle specialized in animal husbandry, and was awarded the Ted Wildman trophy for general proficiency during his four years at O.A.C. He will be granted leave of absence to attend the Olympic Games.

✦ ✦ ✦

FINE RECORD OF D.P.

Arriving in Canada four years ago, Frank Duizer, now 19, has achieved outstanding success as a new Canadian and 4-H Club member. He did not learn English until he arrived in this country, yet last fall he won the inter-provincial public speaking competition at the Maritime Winter Fair. He was also a member of the grain team that represented New Brunswick at the National Club Week, Toronto, and spoke at one of the banquets about his 4-H experiences as a new Canadia:

Recently Mr. Duizer enlarged his record by winning top honors in livestock judging at the Amherst spring show and sale.

✦ ✦ ✦

PLAN SPRAY DAYS

When Ken Fallis was here Thursday afternoon, a spray day was planned for the first week in June, lacking only the exact date. It took shape in his conversation with Frank Paterson, and then it was suggested that "Mel Johnston ought to be in on this". Details will be decided within a few days.

"With the municipal spraying machines that are available in Peterborough we ought to be able to arrange for a demonstration," Mr. Fallis proposed. It was thought the Warden R. R. Stewart would be willing to help . . .

Two of these "spray days" are announced for western Ontario, one at Ridgetown May 30 and the other at Mt. Bridges June 4. This increasing doubling of the sprayers on warbles and weeds will cause dismay along the roadsides, apart from the fields of agriculture, where mustard, ragweed and other unprofitable growth is unwanted.

✦ ✦ ✦

MADOC FIELD DAY

Leonard Trotter, president of the Peterborough and District Dual Purpose Shorthorn Club, will be host at his Mapleville Farms, near Madoc, for the club's field day Saturday, June 7, beginning at noon.

The location is one mile east of Madoc on No. 7 Highway, and about half a mile to the north of the highway. Signs will direct visitors. The program will include a parade of Dual Purpose Shorthorns, judging competitions, races, pony rides for children, and the feature will be an address by Prof. George Raithby of the animal husbandry department, O.A.C.

A draw for a calf will be at 4 p.m. This is a basket picnic, and those attending are requested to bring lunch.

HOLSTEINS TO ITALY—This shipment of 352 pure-bred Holstein calves bound for Italy are shown assembled prior to embarkation at Montreal. They will further augment the herd of Canadian Holsteins owned by Count Gaetano Marzotto, Portogruaro, Italy. This is one of the largest shipments of Holsteins ever to leave Canada and is the first lot exported since the outbreak of foot and mouth disease started in Saskatchewan. The colves were selected from the herds of leading breeders in Ontario and Quebec.

GEHL SINCE 1859 PRONOUNCE IT "GAEL"
LET US SHOW YOU

Why farmers switch to the GEHL FORAGE HARVESTER

Everybody who sees the Gehl operate acclaims its superior performance and greater value. Like those famous Gehl feed cutters and silo fillers used since the first silos came, Gehl Forage Harvester has a cutting mechanism that REALLY CUTS . . . clean, uniform and fast.

Works swell on windrowed hay or combined straw. Makes haying an amazingly-fast job . . . saving time, men and money. One man operates it. Puts hay where you want it, and in half the space.

With row-crop attachment . . . makes the same savings in filling silos . . . makes silage that packs well and keeps well. Separate blower elevates forage to silo or any part of mow. Equipped with own engine, or with power take-off.

Come in now, and let us show you why "Everybody wants a Gehl."

FARMERS!
how to raise pigs on
TERRALAC
SYNTHETIC SOW'S MILK

1. Litter is farrowed and left with sow 48 hours to give baby pigs benefits of colostrum. Watch to avoid crushing losses during this period.
2. At the end of 48 hours, place baby pigs in brooders according to size. This reduces chances of "runting."
3. Mix Terralac with water at room temperature.
4. Feed Terralac on a "free choice" basis in feeding troughs which give each pig a chance to eat as much as it wants.
5. Keep pigs warm and protected from drafts. A controlled source of even heat is best, supplemented with heating elements or lamps to keep a constant temperature of not less than 80 degrees.
6. Introduce approved "pig starter" containing an adequate amount of Terramycin at end of first week. Feed free choice. Provide plenty of water after 1 week.
7. Remove pigs from brooders at end of second or beginning of third week. Place in clean pens with sanitary bedding. Source of even heat is still important. Sanitation is essential. Feed Terralac twice a day.
8. Cut down on Terralac during 4th week until by fifth week pigs are on dry feed entirely. Stop feeding Terralac when pigs reach 17½ pounds. Be sure "pig starter" contains adequate amounts of Terramycin supplement and that pigs are fed Terramycin-fortified feeds during the growing and fattening period, as continuity of the antibiotic is essential for best feed results.

SPEEDY PAINTERS—A crew of 35 Edmonton painters took just eight minutes and 18 seconds to paint this frame bungalow and claimed a Canadian record for the job. They whacked more than two minutes off a previous record—10 minutes and 32 seconds—set in Winnipeg last year.

Potato Supply Next Winter May Be Light

Peering into the provincial potato crop at May 7, the monthly report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture says: "Higher prices of seed, fertilizer and other operating costs, together with past experiences of extremely low prices, will definitely have an influence on total acreage this year, with the result that no increase over 1951 is anticipated.

Unless the 1952 yield is considerably higher than the previous year, light supplies might feature next winter's market.

Supplies of old potatoes on farms are about exhausted, except for individual small quantities. A few growers still have seed for sale."

The report quotes the average price of potatoes last year at $2.23, third highest since 1931. Top average for that period was $2.50 in 1948; $2.40 in 1946; $2.17 in 1943; and $2.16 per cwt. in 1945.

At the low end of the price list since 1931 were 55c per hundred pounds in 1932 and 69c in 1935.

If the lively prices since midwinter, climbing with increasing scarcity of supplies, continue this year, a new high would probably be written into the record for 1952.

BRIDGE STAYS CLOSED—Deputy Sheriff Michael Rivich (left) serves a court order on East Chicago, Ind., bridge tender John Bialas compelling Bialas to open a draw-bridge to allow the passage of a Standard Oil tanker. The vessel has been held up since May 1 because oil strike pickets blocked the bridge. The bridge remained closed, however, pending the serving of similar court orders on several city officials.

Scarcity Of U.S. Potatoes Traced To Wilful Waste

Sale of United States surplus potatoes to foreign governments for the price of the sacks several years ago is contrasted in this week's news with an extreme domestic scarcity and resulting black market.

The Office of Price Stabilization in Albany, N.Y., urged housewives a few days ago to report any attempt to collect "under-the-counter" bribes.

Black marketeers were reported working openly in Cayuga county where one wholesaler said his company had never seen a worse situation in 22 years. He said most potato sales meant "five dollars over the table and five dollars under."

Cleveland Plain Dealer recently recalled that guaranteed potato prices and subsidies on surplus crop encouraged farmers "to plant like mad." Thousands of tons were allowed to rot or were destroyed or were virtually given away to some foreign countries.

The price support program was abandoned in reaction to public protests of such wastefulness. Farmers cut back on their production. Then, the Office of Price Stabilization put a ceiling on potatoes which further discouraged planting, thus creating a government made shortage. But, there was one loophole in the regulation: "seed potatoes were not controlled."

"This was an open invitation to growers and dealers to classify what stocks they had as seed. Prices went up and table potatoes all but disappeared from the market. In some parts of the country dealers cannot supply their customers except by buying seed potatoes at high prices and selling them as eating potatoes either at a loss or in violation of OPS ceilings."

$6.65 In London, Ont.

The scarcity of potatoes in Canada was reflected in the price of $6.65 a 75-pound bag in London this week.

The firm of Gamble Robinson Ltd. said Monday: "There is a terrific shortage of potatoes in the U.S." Another wholesaler said U.S. authorities were trying to keep their potatoes from coming into the Canadian market.

Robert Williamson, member of the United Retail Food Merchants Association said Prince Edward Island potatoes were selling in London (Ont.) Monday at $6.35 to $6.65 the 75-lb. bag. Last week's price was $5.50 to $5.75.

"Reason for the U.S. shortage was suggested in the reduced acreage planted following the "potato dumping" two and three years ago."

Price Of Seed Potatoes May Restrict 1952 Crop

Higher than usual prices for seed and fertilizers will likely be determining factors in the acreage devoted to potatoes throughout Ontario this year. This is the recent opinion of the members of the Potato Committee, Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association. They were generally agreed that there will not be overall increase in potato acreage for the Province this year. It was felt that most commercial growers will plant about the same as last year. A few will drop out because of high initial outlay, but there are likely to be very few newcomers. Last year's potato acreage of 81,000 was the lowest ever recorded.

In discussing ways and means to encourage consumption, the committee dealt with fertilizer recommendations from a quality production standpoint and grading from the merchandising angle. A motion was passed unanimously favouring a 4-12-10 fertilizer as an overall recommendation instead of 5-10-13. The seven grower members all agreed that the 4-12-10 they had used on their own farms in recent years resulted in apparent improvement in quality. It was also noted that the 1951 crop in general was of better quality than that of former years, and the more general use of 4-12-10 fertilizer was given as one reason. There was considerable discussion relative to the use of sulphate of potash, instead of muriate in order to avoid possible detrimental affect on quality from chlorine in the muriate of potash.

Request Improved Weather Service

OTTAWA, May 23 — (CP) — Improvement of weather-forecasting facilities at London, Ont., was urged Thursday night in the Commons by H. O. White (P.C., Middlesex East).

Speaking during discussion of Transport Department estimates, Mr. White said many Western Ontario groups — particularly farmers—feel the need of an improved weather service.

Don't Tolerate Yellow Rocket

Melville H. Johnston, county weed inspector, hopes few farmers are making the mistake of casually looking on the yellow rocket as a member of the mustard family, "and not such a bad kind of weed."

He wishes there were more like his Monaghan neighbor Walter Brown who recognized the rocket for what it is: a comparatively new enemy that should not be tolerated and given field room.

"Mr. Brown picked through a 10-acre field three times last year, and right now there is not a speck of it. Yellow rocket should not be mistaken for mustard. It does catch the eye like mustard, but its flower is a darker yellow.

The roots are a powerful cluster that spread out pretty broadly. It seems to be in alfalfa more than anywhere else. The best recommendation is to get rid of it altogether by pulling it before it gets established."

That's the yellow rocket, somewhat disguised as mustard. Then, there's goat's beard, another invader at the top of the Johnston proscribed list. This is another weed that is not widely recognized, partly because it has resemblance to the dandelion. But, it has longer tapering leaves, and a root of six to 10 inches.

"A good idea is to dig it out if there is not too numerous," Mr. Johnston said. 'Goat's beard is a milky plant, like milkweed. Cultivation will kill it. I hope farmers will not let it bloom and seed."

Mr. Johnston attended the weed spraying meeting Monday night at Assumption Hall in Otonabee. He commented that Warden R. R. Stewart of that township is actively supporting weed control and eradication.

Seaway Plan Provides For Water Levels

OTTAWA, May 23 —(CP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway project has provision for protecting water levels up and down stream from the development, Transport Minister Chevrier said Thursday night in the Commons.

The Minister was replying to a request for a statement on the government's policy with respect to flooding on the Great Lakes by abnormal water levels.

Mr. Chevrier said the problem, serious and of international importance, was created largely by natural causes such as precipitation.

He indicated the government is not planning to lower its Gut Dam on the St. Lawrence River. That would only bring down the lakes' level by about 5½ inches and might cause a "serious crisis" downriver.

Ordain Seven Men

MOOSE JAW, Sask., May 23—(CP)—Bishop M. E. Coleman, of Qu'Apelle, Thursday ordained seven men into the Anglican church, four as deacons, three as priests. One ordained priest was Sidney Gordon Horne, of St. Catharines.

Sails From Montreal

OTTAWA, May 23—(CP)—Sir Alexander Clutterbuck said goodbye to Ottawa Thursday and left for Montreal where he sails today for the United Kingdom. Sir Alexander, Britain's High Commissioner here for the last six years, will soon take up his new post as High Commissioner to Australia

W. J. Murphy Buys Holsteins $1580 For Three At London

Wm. J. Murphy of Lindsay parted with $1,580 for three animals at the Ontario Holstein Classic sale at London, May 17. The 40 head consigned by western Ontario breeders averaged $368 for a total of $14,720. Harry Hays of Calgary was auctioneer.

Highest price was $650 for Pomona Excel-O-Gram, two months bull calf from the herd of Bruce Thornton, Thamseford, paid by G. W. Nixon of Ilderton. Only four bulls were offered, and three of them exceeded $500.

Mr. Murphy bought a four year old son of Marksman for $500 from W. N. Blanchard of Freeman, Ont.; and his bid of $550 was highest for a bred heifer, consigned by R. H. Shore of Glanworth. A five year heifer at $600 brought the top price for females.

Another Murphy selection was a seven year old cow that cost him $530. It was sold by Ralph E. Jenner of Charing Cross. Eight milking females averaged $424, and 20 bred heifers $364. This was the first Classic promoted by Gordon Ainslie of Blenheim and Wilfred James, Sarnia. They expect to make it an annual event at London.

Mr. Murphy has bought many Holstein cattle in his day, and in motoring to the Classic auction he wasn't merely travelling around to help maintain morale in the industry. It is altogether likely that he recognized the London fair grounds sale as an opportunity to pick select animals at a price substantially favorable to buyers.

Further Prosecutions Likely In Thefts

OTTAWA, May 23 — (CP) — Defence Minister Claxton said Thursday he expects further prosecutions will be laid in connection with thefts at defence establishments.

Replying to a question in the Commons, he said the new charges will be laid when legal advisers of the Department of Justice think it advisable. He gave no numbers.

Benefits Of Fertilizing Pastures Shown By Tests

The benefits from fertilized over unfertilized pastures are well illustrated by the results of trials conducted for a number of years by the Division of Field Husbandry, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, and at several of the eastern branch farms.

In the Ottawa district on the basis of forty different fertilizer trials conducted over a number of years, fertilized areas produced, on the average, 60 per cent more herbage, on a dry weight basis, than unfertilized areas. The fertilizer treatments had a beneficial effect on the composition of the herbage as well as on yield. Fertilized plots contained, on the average, 50 per cent more clover, and 30 to 40 per cent less weeds than unfertilized plots.

At Lennoxville, Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere and Normandin in Quebec, average increases of 50, 55 and 63 per cent respectively were obtained by fertilization.

In the Maritime Provinces at Fredericton, N.B., Nappan and Kentville, N.S., and Charlottetown, P.E.I. fertilized plots have produced over 50 per cent more than unfertilized plots.

These increases were attained by surface applications of suitable fertilizer.

It is not possible to suggest any one fertilizer that would be suitable for all soil and climatic conditions. In general, phosphorus is almost certain to be required, and on heavy soils where legumes grow naturally, it may give the desired increase. Where clovers do not grow naturally the use of fertilizers containing nitrogen is generally advisable. In addition potash is usually necessary for sandy soils.

In the interests of economy there is a limit to the amount of fertilizer to apply. A liberal initial application of not less than five hundred pounds will generally be the most economical. This should be followed by similar treatments at intervals of three or four years.

Although barnyard manure is ordinarily used on crop land its value for use on pastures should not be overlooked.

Ask Privy Council To Decide Authority

OTTAWA, May 23 (CP) — The privy council will be asked to give a final answer to the question of who has authority over inter-provincial and international highway traffic.

Ontario has taken action to bring the federal-provincial controversy before the privy council, seeking to upset a 1951 judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada favoring the federal government.

Federal authorities said Thursday they understand Ontario will be supported by Alberta, one of six provinces which fought out the issue with the federal government before the supreme court last year. So far as is known here, other provincial governments are not joining in the action.

Jungle Animals To Be Sought For Quebec Zoo

By TOM McCUSKER,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC, May 23—(CP)—Some of the 300,000 Quebecers and tourists who flock annually to the nearby zoological gardens aren't satisfied with the more than 200 species of North American wildlife. They want jungle animals, particularly African lions.

Dr. Armand Brassard, the director, announced at this year's opening—the 21st—he plans to take action. By 1956, two African lions will be introduced to the famous Gardens and will be housed in specially-heated quarters. The quarters will later expand as part of a pavilion to include other jungle species.

Last fall, Harry F. McLean, Merrickville, contractor, well-known for his distribution of sums of money and unusual gifts, offered the Gardens a tame South American cougar. He hoped it would be named Maurice after Quebec's premier, Maurice Duplessis.

But the animal was a female and the offer was accepted with thanks.

Popular Zoo

Absence of lions, however, did not keep more than 1,500,000 persons from visiting the Gardens in the last five years. Last year, a record 325,404 persons saw some 50 species of wild Canadian animals ranging from the bison to the beaver. There are about 160 species of birds, including exotic South American peacocks and Mexican jays.

Perhaps the biggest drawing card is the gannet, the large white bird which, with thousands of its species, dots the Gaspe coast. Only last March, it travelled all the way to New York for a television engagement sponsored by the United States "Wild Life Unlimited" Association.

Built partly as a public works project in the dark days of 1931, at a cost of $175,000, the zoo now extends over 90 acres with an additional 30 acres under development.

It is set picturesquely in the Laurentian - mountain village of Charlesbourg, some seven miles north of Quebec City.

One visitor apparently impressed with the setting is the one-legged seagull just arrived for his 12th straight summer as a non-paying guest.

Not the sociable type, he usually brings his own mate and spends the summer ignoring other females of his species. In the fall, he springs off his single limb and migrates south.

AFRICAN COUGAR—Some of the 300,000 persons who annually visit the zoological gardens at Charlesbourg near Quebec City had a long-felt wish come true when an African cougar was included among the birds and animals on display. A gift of Harry F. McLean of Merrickville, Ont., wealthy contractor and philanthropist, the cougar was captured and tamed by Mr. McLean. Dr. Armand Brassard, director, has announced that by 1956 two African lions will be added to the collection made up primarily of North American wildlife.

Britain Molds Plane Fleet On Jet Lines

LONDON — (Reuters) — The builders of Britain's wartime Spitfires and Hurricanes have been given the signal to go ahead with building what may become the worlds' finest and fastest air fleet.

Prime Minister Churchill recently announced a "super-priority program to strengthen depleted defences and prevent a recurrence of 1940, when Britain had to depend upon a handful of fighters to stave off the Nazis.

The Ministry of Supply has disclosed that the defence program includes planes which are direct descendants in design of the pioneers of the Battle of Britain.

Among them are jet bombers, fighters claimed to be the world's fastest, and all-weather interceptor aircraft which incorporate the "flying wing" and the "delta wing"—latest principles in jet design.

Tests of the new types are continuing and many of them already are in production.

First of the fighters is the Hawker Company's sleek P.1067, recently named the Hunter. Its swept-back design is developed from the piston-engined Tempest fighter, the veteran Hurricane and a long line of fighter designs.

The Air Ministry has refused to hint at the performance of the Hunter. But air observers claim the Hunter is the world's fastest. It is fitted with the Rolls Royce Avon jet engine.

New Spitfire

Parallel with the Hunter, Vickers-Supermarine will produce their Swift, from the same stable as the wartime Spitfire and the racing seaplanes which won the Schneider Trophies of 1927, 1929 and 1931.

The Swift is also powered with the Avon engine and is usually described as being in the 700-mile-an-hour class.

Two British jet-bomber designs have been announced so far. The first is the record-breaking Canberra, with two Avon turbo-jet engines, already in production in Australia and by the Glenn Martin Company for the United States Air Force.

Anti-Atom-Bomber

Much later than the Canberra, Vickers announced the Valiant, a bomber equipped with four Avon engines. It is larger than the heavy bombers of the Second World War.

Sometimes referred to as Britain's "atom-bomber," the first prototype of the Valiant crashed near Bournemouth in January while on a test flight. The accident was put down to a minor fault which could easily be righted. The second prototype made its first flight at Wisley, Surrey, on Good Friday.

The Fairey Aviation Company has recently brought out an anti-submarine plane, the Gannet, equipped with two Mamba jet turbines driving propellers and the latest electronic devices for air-sea warfare.

The latest class of fighter to be developed by British and U.S. air forces is the "all-weather interceptor" which carries equipment designed to bring down atom bombers before they can do their work. Two of these are scheduled for priority manufacture in Britain—the DeHavilland DH-110 and the Gloster GA-5.

Challenges Lamport To Duel With Plows

TORONTO, May 23 — (CP) — Ottawa's Mayor Charlotte Whitton Thursday challenged Toronto's Mayor Allan Lamport to a duel—with plows.

The scene of the skirmish will be a plowing match at Carp in the Ottawa Valley in October.

Mayor Lamport accepted the challenge:

"What else could I do? If I did not I'm a heel. I will win, of course, so I'm a heel anyway."

Fifty-five-years-old Dr. Whitton is a welfare worker, while Mr. Lamport, 47, is an insurance broker.

Valuable Can Opener Returned To Store

CLEVELAND, May 23 (AP) — The gold-plated, jewel-studded can opener that a department store sold by mistake has been returned.

The store announced Thursday the purchaser, Anthony Bontempo, has been rewarded $100.

A clerk mistakenly gave Bontempo the fancy can opener—which was on display and insured for several thousand dollars—when all he asked for was an ordinary can opener.

U.S. Living Costs Up

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) —The United States government Thursday reported a slight rise in living costs that hoisted its index to within a shade of the all-time peak. The index rose in mid-April to 189.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average. The all-time high of 189.1 was registered last January.

GEN. MARK W. CLARK—He wrestled around with the osteopath

Gen. Mark Clark Cool Hand In Hot Spots Like Far East

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Major upsets like the one he was thrust into over POW uprisings in Korea don't make much of a dent in the cool, reserved demeanor of Gen. Mark W. Clark, new commander of U.S. and U.N. forces in the Fast East.

The successor to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway has the happy faculty of taking such things in stride. Before this ruckus, he hit the front pages as President Truman's nominee to the highly controversial post of ambassador to the Vatican. When the pressure against creating the job became too great for the President, Gen. Clark quietly asked that his name be withdrawn.

But the fact that he had been nominated showed what the White House and Pentagon thought of Clark's abilities.

Appointment Protested

Previously Clark was publicly embroiled in a more personal affair. A group of former officers and men of the 36th Texas National Guard Division protested his appointment as Army Field Force Commander before Congress.

They questioned his judgment in ordering the 36th to cross the Rapido River during the Anzio landings of World War II which resulted in 2,128 casualties. But when an Army report denied bad judgment in the case, his appointment was approved.

A 10 per cent. military background is probably responsible for Gen. Clark's stoic, aloof and highly efficient way of life, which has won him many military honors. Born on the Army post at Madison Barracks, N.Y., May 1, 1896, a son of a West Point colonel and grandson of a Civil War surgeon, it was natural for Clark to elect West Point as his school.

Not Outstanding

At the Point neither his scholastic nor social records were outstanding. He was graduated 110th in a class of 139. Little is recorded or remembered of him as an outstanding personality.

People close to him claim there is really only one recorded example of Clark wit. Reporting on a trip to an osteopath he told a friend:

"The osteopath and I wrestled around a bit, then I threw him out the window, and I just sat there with my left leg wrapped around my neck."

Clark's mother also takes his talents pretty much as a matter of course. At a party in Washington during the war, just after Clark had led his forces into Rome, everybody was praising her son's feats. To one person she sniffed:

"I don't see what everybody is so excited about Mark for. His father always taught him to be a good soldier. What he has done is no more than anybody could expect of him."

Clark is generally regarded as having the perfect general's bearing. Six-feet, two-inches tall, he stands and walks rigidly erect. He is lean, hard, has broad square shoulders, and a hawk-nose gives him a faintly Lincolnesque look. He speaks in clipped, precise phrases.

The most exciting and adventuresome event of Clark's military career is the eight days he spent on the Algerian Coast, after being landed secretly by submarine, gathering data and information for the later invasion of Africa by Allied forces during World War II.

After the landing, he successfully negotiated with a group of French generals to order a cease-fire on French resistance.

It was after leaving the Point that it became apparent Clark had a brilliant career in store for him. He took to studying in his spare time, and won recognition for valor and leadership during World War I. Between wars he was almost coaxed out of the Army to take a job as executive with an Indiana utility company, but was talked out of it by his father.

One of Gen. Clark's big assets is the ability to impress persons over him or who work with him by his persuasiveness, frankness and decisve thinking. "Buttering up" anyone is not his way of doing business. And while he has none of the Eisenhower warmth, for instance, Clark does have ability in handling diplomatic matters. He can turn on the charm when it's necessary.

Clark is known in the Army as a tough but not a harsh leader. His chief concern has always been to have men under him well trained. Old friends who speak of him with great affection are hard to find in the Army, but there are plenty of officers who have served with and under him who greatly admire him as a soldier.

He is married, has a married daughter, and a son who is also a West Point graduate and a Korean veteran.

Stanley McBride Former Reeve Of Haldimand

ROSENEATH, May 23 (ENS). —Funeral service for Stanley McBride was held in Centreton United Church on Tuesday and conducted by the Rev. J. N. Lovelace, Roseneath, a former pastor of the deceased.

Mr. McBride was born at Centreton in 1880, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William McBride. In 1917 he married Mrs. Pearl Grey Slade, who died in 1948.

Mr. McBride was a member of Centreton United Church, a staunch Liberal in politics, for many years a member of Haldimand township council and also was reeve of the township and a member of Northumberland and Durham counties council. By occupation he was a successful drover and farmer.

His death occurred on Saturday, May 17th, suddenly at his late residence, Centreton, from heart attack.

Surviving are two sons, Bill and J. D. of Centreton; a step-daughter, Mrs. Delbert Brisbin, Roseneath; two step-sons, Harland Slade, Sudbury and Warren Slade, California; also six sisters, Mrs. John Honeywell (Henrietta), Mrs. Charles Blodgett (Bessie), Misses Georgina and Thomasina McBride, Centreton; Mrs. Cyril Beaumont (Mary), Calgary; Mrs. Archie Lamonte (Edna) Winnipeg.

Senator Charges Press Failed On Coverage

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP) —Senator Wayne Morse (Rep.-Ore.) renewed in a Senate speech Thursday his complaint that the press generally failed to put significant stress on the importance of continued steel production in news stories on the steel industry seizure.

Similar assertions by Morse earlier this week brought denials by some individual newspapers and by Wright Bryan, president of the American Society of Newspaper editors, that his complaint was unjustified.

Bryan, editor of The Atlanta Journal, said then: "News coverage by the American Press of all viewpoints on the steel controversy has been thorough and complete.

"Anyone who says otherwise simply has not read the newspapers, or else refuses to believe the evidence before his eyes."

Morse has supported President Truman's seizure of the steel industry.

General Failure

Morse based his complaint particularly on what he termed "a general failure of the press to point out the contentions" of defence secretary Robert Lovett in testimony to a Senate labor subcommittee on April 24.

He said Lovett's testimony was to the effect that if the steel furnaces cooled for 48 to 52 hours they could not be returned to operation for two or three weeks.

The date for Lovett's testimony was 16 days after Truman seized the mills and made an address stressing that he had seized them because of the importance to national security of maintaining steel production. Truman's address was reported in all newspapers and published textually in many.

Morse put in the Congressional record a tabulation he said the Library of Congress had prepared for him of space given in five newspapers to Lovett's testimony. This listed five inches to Lovett's testimony and 979 inches to Federal Judge David A. Pine's decision that the steel seizure was illegal.

The newspapers used were the New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune, the World-Telegram, the Washington Post and the Washington Star.

The tabulation said Lovett's testimony received 1½ inches each in the New York Times and Herald Tribune, none in the World-Telegram or Washington Post and two inches in the Star.

Gold Robbery Interests Secret Parley

TORONTO, May 23. (CP) — A $125,000 gold robbery at the East Malartic Mines, Malartic, Que., heightened interest today in the results of two-day secret talks betwen 32 Canadian and United States law enforcement agencies here.

The theft of four gold bricks, said to be the largest from any Canadian mine, came shortly before the close Thursday of the meeting, inspired by recent increases in metal smuggling from Canada to the United States.

Chairman of the meeting was the Ontario Director of Prosecutions, W. B. Common. Others present included Assistant Commissioner M. F. E. Anthony of the R.C.M.P., Chief Inspector William Lougheed, of the Ontario Provincial Police, Chief Constable John Chisholm of Toronto, members of the Ontario and Quebec Mining Associations and officers of the U.S. Secret Service, Treasury Department and Customs branch.

Recent Raids

Recent police raids in the U.S. have netted large quantities of gold, nickel, copper and brass smuggled across the border and sold on the black market: An indictment is pending against various members of a smuggling gang named before a U.S. grand jury in Buffalo.

Toronto, Montreal and Windsor are thought to be major smuggling centres. Little if any metal smuggling has been uncovered in Western Canada.

Officials said defence measures in the U.S. for control of precious metals has brought about the increase in smuggling. Nickel sells in Canada at about 30 cents a pound, and brings about $1.25 a pound on the U.S. black market, it is reported:

Thieves stole $96,000 in gold from the Coniaurum Mines near Timmins in August, 1950, and $75,000 worth of bullion from the Delnite Mines in June, 1950. Both shipments were later recovered.

STREET-CARS DWINDLE

Trolley buses replaced streetcars in four more Canadian cities in 1951—at Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatoon and Hamilton.

Big Caribou Herds In Hudson Bay Area

CHURCHILL, Man. — (CP) — Eskimos in the Churchill area had plenty to eat during the past winter.

Reports from the coast of Hudson Bay and points at least 100 miles inland say there have been more caribout than for many years. Many wintered in the area.

Further back in the barren lands, the caribou went south in September and none wintered there. The trek back north is reported to have begun two months earlier than for several years.

Animals were seen moving in smaller bands of 400 and more, instead of great herds. One herd of several thousand caribou was seen around Chesney. It took three days to pass that point.

Easy Credit Aids U.K. Car Sales

LONDON — (CP)—Removal of credit restrictions in Canada and reduction of the Excise Tax on automobiles from 25 per cent to 15 per cent are expected to help Britain's balance-of-payments battle.

Automobile associations, trade journals, newspapers and a Board of Trade spokesman here all welcomed the Canadian government's decision, saying it would almost certainly cause a sharp increase in British car exports to Canada.

Shipments to Canada sagged last summer when instalment-buying restrictions were made more severe. Cars already sent to Canada were returned here for re-export. At the end of 1951, British sales in Canada totalled fewer than 40 cars a month compared with 6,597 in May the same year.

The increased Canadian purchases now expected may help to make up for loss of markets elsewhere in the Commonwealth, particularly in Australia.

The Austin Company, largest Canadian supplier, has decided to exhibit the Austin Seven as well as the A40 Somerset at the Vancouver Motor Show starting June 16. Twenty British motor firms will be represented at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto in August.

PRAYS FOR CRASH VICTIMS—Pan American Airways employe Humphrey Toomey (centre) reads a prayer at the grave of one of the 50 victims of a plane crash deep in the Brazilian jungle. With him are members of the various search parties which made their way to the site. American citizen Scott Magness and a Brazilian Air Force major, who had flown in by helicopter, were reported released after being held hostage by the search party led by Lino de Mattos (second from left) to insure the party's air evacuation.

M.P.'s Disagree With Sellars On Need For Private Offices

OTTAWA, May 23 (CP)—Watson Sellar, outspoken auditor-general of Canadian government accounts, said Thursday he believed "We go to extremes in providing private offices" for civil servants.

We in the civil service like our own cubbyholes," he said in continuing testimony before a committee of the Commons, studying government accounts for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1951.

He said he believed the civil service should follow the example of private industry and put more people into large open offices to save floor space.

David Croll (L-Toronto Spadina) and Philippe Picard (L-Bellechasse) said they disagreed to a certain extent with Mr. Sellar. Private offices were essential in some cases.

Mr. Croll said men doing important work should have small rooms to which they could withdraw for meditation.

"There generally are small rooms provided for meditation," interjected Douglas Harkness (PC- Calgary East), amid laughter.

Mr. Croll said the Toronto income tax offices were an example of the need for private offices. There hundreds of assessors must keep taxpayers waiting in order to obtain a room where affairs could be discussed in private.

Suggest Overhaul Of Liability Law

OTTAWA, May 23—(CP)—Overhaul of Federal Law regarding the liability of transportation companies was urged Thursday night in the Commons by J. W. Murphy (PC—Lambton West).

He noted that under existing regulations private commercial air lines are limited to a liability of $20,000 per aircraft seat.

Mr. Murphy mentioned the fire which destroyed the steamship Noronic at her Toronto berth in 1949 with loss of 119 lives. That was another case, he said, where inadequate compensation was paid. Some families left with dependents got only a few thousand dollars.

Killed By Explosion

QUEBEC, May 23 — (CP) — Albert Nadeau, 31-year-old man who police say suffered from a mental disease, was found Thursday blown to bits on the banks of the St. Charles River here. Police say the lumberjack placed two sticks of dynamite in the ground Wednesday night, lighted the fuse and received the full impact of the explosion.

Ask Brockville Be Given New Railway Station

OTTAWA, May 23 (CP)—George Fulford (L-Leeds) asked Thursday night in the Commons that Brockville be given a new railway station to replace its 92-year-old union station.

The anceint structure, said Mr. Fulford, is old enough to qualify as a national monument but is altogether too decrepit for that.

"It is a disgrace to the Canadian National Railways and a menace to the town," he said during consideration of transport department estimates. "The facilities for express, mail and baggage are inadequate and obsolete."

Mr. Fulford said the railway is lucky not to be facing suits for heavy damages resulting from the poor conditions.

"If the railways insist on giving service like that," he said, "I feel they are bound to lose more and more passenger travel."

He added:

"From the standpoint of those living in Brockville the worst aspect is that when trains enter the station, especially eastbound passenger trains, the main artery of traffic leading from the south end of Brockville to the north is blocked.

Urges Subway

"One method of relieving the situation would be to build a subway. In 1945 the municipal council applied to the board of transport commissioners and a plan for such a subway was devised. Brockville is built on pre-Cambrian granite and as a result the cost of such a subway would have been in the neighborhood of $[illegible],000 the town's share being $300,000.

"Another solution would be to move the station farther east so that trains would not block the main artery of traffic. If the station were to be moved, not by the wildest stretch of the imagination could that old derelict which the Canadian National chooses to call a station be moved. It would mean a new station, which expense would have to be borne entirely by the Canadian National because the Canadian Pacific uses the facilities of the station on a lease basis.

Need Weather Station

"There is one other matter which I should like to bring to the minister's attention . . I refer to the necessity of having a weather station somewhere in the Upper St. Lawrence Valley. Totally different weather conditions prevail in the St. Lawrence Valley to those in the Ottawa Valley. At the present time the Brockville radio station broadcasts the weather reports issued for Haliburton, simply adding 12 hours to the report. I do not know what method is used by the local newspaper, but I can assure you that it is equally unsatisfactory.

"When the St. Lawrence Seaway is completed it will be vitally necessary to have a weather station in the upper reaches of the St. Lawrence Valley. Inasmuch as this station will have to be built eventually I urge that it be built as soon as possible so that our farmers may have the benefit of accurate weather forecasts."

Patricia Neal Prefers Films To Stage

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 23 —(AP)— "My dear, I simply can't wait to get away from these tawdry films and back to my first love, the theatah."

That's the equivalent of the comments a Hollywood reporter often hears while prowling the film stages. Hollywood seems to be filled with stars who can't wait to dash back to the legit. That's why it was refreshing to hear Patricia Neal uphold the movies vs. stage experience.

Miss Neal can speak with authority on both mediums. She scored a hit on Broadway as the mean southern belle in "Another Part of the Forest." She was snapped up by Hollywood and has appeared in a dozen pictures since then.

Mistakes Revealed

"But I think the movie experience is much more valuable," she remarked on the set of "Something for the Birds." "On the stage, you aren't able to see yourself. You have the tendency to keep repeating the same mistakes. But in films, you have a chance to see your work and find out what you are doing wrong. You have to improve, or else."

"I did everything wrong in my first picture, 'John Loves Mary,' " she recalled. "I was on Broadway in a drama, so they brought me out to do a comedy for my first film. My makeup was all wrong, and my hair was drawn back so my chin looked as though it stuck 'way out to here.

"The next one was 'The Fountainhead.' I'm not ashamed of it, even if people did hoot at it. It was a little ridiculous for a man to take a tiny stick of dynamite and blow up a whole housing project."

The actress said that she does not regret having thrown her lot with films instead of the stage. When she made the move, Helen Hayes defended her in a magazine article.

Steady Work

"Miss Hayes said she didn't blame young stage players who succumbed to the lures of Hollywood," Pat remarked. "She pointed out that it wasn't like the old days in the theatre when managers would take care of actors and actresses, and provide them with a steady run of plays.

"Nowadays, the actors are strictly on their own. They may get a good run of a year or two and then be out of work for a long time. It's small wonder that stage people seek the security of studio contracts.

Affirm Death Sentence

ALBANY, N.Y., May 23 (AP)— The Court of Appeals affirmed the death sentence for Lewis Wolfe, wealthy Montreal contractor and self-styled "Messiah" who killed his wife in 1943 because he said, "voices" told him to. The court set the week of July 7 for Wolfe's execution in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison. Wolfe, now 45, was convicted Nov. 1, 1944, in Brooklyn of first-degree murder in the shoe-bludgeoning of his second wife, Paula Mona Wolfe.

Neither Wet Nor Dry

MATTAWA, May 23. (CP) —Only 28 of some 400 eligible voters turned out Wednesday for a vote on the establishment of cocktail lounges in this town about 35 miles east of North Bay. Twenty-two favored the lounges, two were opposed and there were four spoiled ballots.

NORTH KOREAN FLAGS fly from crudely-constructed poles set atop huts in a U.N. prison copmound on Koje Island as four Communists watch and report on the activities of their U.S. captors. The prisoners posted lookouts after two minor revolts had been squelched without bloodshed on the violence-ridden island. U.N. officials claim some Reds are surrendering voluntarily to agitate and incite riots in prison compounds, providing fodder for the Communist propaganda machine.

C.N.I.B. Board Names Executive

MARMORA, May 23—(ENS) Review of past year's activities were given at the annual meeting of Hastings County Advisory Board of the Canadian National Institute of the Blind held in St. Audrew's Hall, Marmora, on Tuesday evening.

The general financial statement presented by A. D. Archibald showed income to have been $7,321.49 and the year finished with a surplus of $177.96. Miss E. Robbin, treasurer, in her report showed the 1951 campaign to have yielded $6,174.49 as against $5,091.38 the previous year.

Preceding the meeting was a dinner for which circle 2 of St. Andrew's Women's Association catered. Chairman was George Wishart.

Reports were given by members for their own community as follows:

Madoc, Mrs. J. W. Hulin. Marmora, Mrs. F. R. Wells; Stirling, Mrs. F. W. Houchin; Trenton, Mrs. A. J. Boorne; Tweed, Mrs. J. Le Sage; Belleville, Mrs. A. D. Archibald; Bancroft, W. R. Robinson.

The secretarial report having been given by E. S. Fairman, Miss R. Munroe, home teacher for eastern Ontario gave her report.

Twelve blind persons in Hastings county received home teaching this past year and the majority are making handicrafts. In Hastings county there are more women than men taking the handicraft course. She was followed by C. Randall, president of the White Cane Club of Belleville, who detailed the activities of his organization. Miss E. Robbin then reported for the 1951 campaign.

Preston Timmins, field secretary, gave his report. He was pleased that the Belleville White Cane Club had been able to send two delegates to the Kingston and Kitchener meetings of the C.N.I.B. At the end of the fiscal year the registration of blind in the six counties covered by him was 118 with 113 cases where prevention of blindness was attempted.

Mr. Archibald gave the statement of expenses and income of the Hastings Board.

The slate of officers for the incoming year was presented and approved as follows:

Chairman, G. Wishart, Belleville; 1st vice-chairman, Mrs. H. Rollins, Belleville; 2nd vice-chairman, Mrs. M. Tripp, Trenton; 3rd vice-chairman, Mrs. F. Houchin, Stirling; secretary, E. S. Fairman, Belleville; treasurer, Miss E Robbin, Belleville; campaign treasurers, H. Fuke, Belleville, A. J. Boorne, Belleville; welfare convener, Miss M Peck, Belleville; public relation convener, Mrs. M. C. Ward, Belleville, Miss Frances Vandervoort, Trenton.

As guest speaker, Alfred W. Sparks, supervisor of field services for Ontario said that two tragic facts in human life were these— We never value a thing until we lose it and we only advance through suffering. He had personally discovered this—that those who lose sight, appreciate theg reatest fulness of things. The C.N.I.B. could be looked upon as one of the great centres of re-education. Through the work of the Institute, the blind get inspiration one from another which begets confidence and independence. The first thing to be dealt with in a new case of blindness is the paralysis of the mind. The mind has to become untangled from the confusion thus entailed.

Awarded $1,500

ALBANY, N.Y., May 23 (AP) —A woman who said she found a mouse in a bottle of soft drink and became ill has won a $1,500 court verdict here. Miss Mildred Milden said she obtained the drink from a vending machine April 22, 1948. A jury returned the verdict against the Associated Coca Cola Bottling Plants, Inc., of Albany.

Auxiliary Euchre.

HAVELOCK, May 23 (ENS) — Eleven tables were played at the weekly euchre party sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Havelock-Belmont Legion held in the Legion Hall. The prizes went to the following: Del. Salter, Jack Bannon, Mrs. Wesley Smith and Harvey Gordon. One prize was donated by Mrs. H. Hubble.

Trent River W.I. Plans For District Annual

TRENT RIVER, May 23—(ENS) —The Trent River branch of the Women's Institue held their May meeting at the Community Hall. Mrs. Ross Pollock, vice-president, was in the chair.

Plans were made for the district annual meeting which will be held in Norwood on May 29. About 20 will attend from the branch with cars supplied for transportation.

Mrs. Harry Mann and Mrs. Ross Pollock were appointed to purchase a gift for caretaker of hall who volunteered his services. Five dollars was donated to the Cancer Society.

Mrs. Deline gave a detailed report on the executive meeting held in Peterborough recently. Prize winners on the dress competition are to take their dresses to the distriot annual when further competition prizes will be awardd.

Mrs. W. C. Inkster gave a paper on a cereal firm. Mrs. Ernie Vaness offered to be hostess for June meeting. Mrs. Eric Little program convener, presented the following program: readings by Mrs. Frank Openshaw, Mrs. George Alley and Mrs. Eric Little; a contest "Conveniences Our Grandmothers Missed" was won by Mrs. Frank Openshaw and Mrs. George Alley. Lunch was served by hostess Mrs. Openshaw, assisted by Mrs. James Cooke, Mrs. W. Lewis and Mrs. George Alley.

Strange Malady Kills 9 Cattle, Not F-M Disease

ERIN, Ont., May 23—(CP)— Nine head of cattle have died in the last 10 days of a disease which is not yet identified. Fifteen others are affected, all on the farm of Gordon Gregson near this central Ontario town 35 miles west of Toronto.

Veterinarians said the ailment is not foot-and-mouth disease which has broken out in Western Canada. Analysis of one of the animals is being carried out at the Ontario Veterinary College at Guelph, 20 miles south of here.

Farmer Gregson, who bought most of his herd last fall, said he first noticed one of his animals ill last week. It died within a matter of hours after violent suffering. Thursday a second animal was found dead. Last Sunday two more cattle died. Since then five other head have died and 15 others show signs of being infected.

Strikes Suddenly

The illness strikes the animals suddenly, usually becoming apparent only two or three hours before they die.

First indication is a listlessness followed by a dropping of the ears. The back legs then become weak and the limbs quiver and shake during three or four spasms. Then the beast apparently goes blind and begins racing around in circles, foaming at the mouth and gasping for breath. In a short time it topples over dead.

The Federal Agriculture Department has sent an inspector from its Health and Animals Branch at Toronto and samples have been collected from the animals.

Use Of Time, Property W.A. Worship Theme

OMEMEE, May 23—(ENS)— "The use of time and possessions" was the worship theme at the May meeting of Trinity United Church W.A. Tuesday evening.

Mrs. M. Jones was appointed a delegate to the W.A. convention at Fenelon Falls May 21. Mrs. Lang, assisted by members of her group, conducted the worship, Mrs. Burt Pogue, Mrs. G. Nelson and Mrs. C. G. Shaw assisting. Miss Lillie Race played a piano solo.

The theme was developed by Mrs. S. Moyer. She believed that day was more profitably spent in which time was taken to start it rightly that is, with thanksgiving and prayer for guidance. It takes time, she said, to be a good neighbor and to do church work, but it is much more gratifying than to spend all our time on one's own selfish pursuits. As for possessions, hugging them gives no lasting satisfaction. "We give when we love," said Mrs. Moyer.

Relax Ceilings On Copper In U.S.

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)— The government Wednesday relaxed price ceilings to let United States manufacturers pay more for imported copper.

The move was designed to get supplies of Chilean copper moving again to the U.S. Chile halted shipments May 9 in an effort to get a higher price.

The plan is to let wire and brass mills charge more for their products when made of imported copper.

The office of defence mobilization announced that the office of price stabilization will permit copper wire and brass mills to add to their ceiling prices 80 per cent of the increase in cost of foreign copper above the 27½ cents a pound specified in the old Chilean agreement.

Chile has been seeking 33 or 34 cents a pound.

Canada's copper producers likely will get higher prices for their exports as a result of the United States move to relax price ceilings on imports, production officials said in Ottawa.

Canadian domestic copper prices also may rise, they said, but the situation likely will be so confused for the next few weeks that no one will be certain just where prices will settle.

1. IT'S HOMOGENIZED — All ingredients so thoroughly dispersed that they remain permanently in solution. Thus they perform their various functions rapidly and efficiently.
2. LOWERS OIL CONSUMPTION—High Viscosity Index and tough heat-resistant properties keep oil consumption down.
3. KEEPS MOTORS CLEAN — Detergent and dispersant additives hold dirt in suspension so that it drains away at regular oil change intervals.
4. PREVENTS ACID ACTION — Neutralizes harmful acids, protecting motor against this major cause of excessive engine wear.
5. FIGHTS WEAR—Gruelling road-tests across Canada, under supervision of an independent testing laboratory, proved that there was no appreciable wear on motor parts.
6. INCREASES GASOLINE MILEAGE—Cleansing action of oil, plus high film strength, enables piston rings to operate freely, thus sealing the combustion chamber.
7. PREVENTS ENGINE RUST—Penetrates and clings to engine parts, counteracting engine deterioration.
8. FLOWS FREELY—Low cold-test properties give instant protection to all vital parts.
9. RESISTS THINNING—Even under extreme heat, this amazing new oil keeps a protective film between vital engine parts.
10. SUPPRESSES FOAM — Provides "bubble-free" lubrication—offsets oxidation—reduces oil consumption.

ABBEY ORGANIST—Dr. William Neil McKie, organist and choirmaster of Westminsetr Abbey visited Toronto during his tour of Canada as examiner for the Associated Boards of the Royal Schools of Music. Four and a half years ago the Australian-born musician played at the wedding of Princess Elizabeth. It is possible he will play at the coronation next year, although no appointment has yet been made, he said. "But it has always been the custom in the past for the Abbey organist to play at coronations," he added.

Gov't Support Boosts Cattle Prices

TORONTO, May 23 — (CP). — The Agriculture Department's price support program this week brought prices of Ontario Stockyard butcher cattle of A, B, and C quality to a higher level. Steers and heifers were 50 cents to $1 higher while cows and bulls were strong to 50 cents higher. Calves were about steady with exception of in-between veal calves which dropped $1. Hogs, sheep and lambs were steady, while sows gained $1.

The cattle run totalled 8,063, with a cleanup on all grades. Choice weighty steers sold from $26.50-$27.50, with a few selling at $28. Good steers were $25-$26, with medium steers bringing $24-$25 and choice light steers $26-$27. Good heifers sold mostly $25-$25.50 with heifery cows upward to $23 and medium cows $18-$20. Good heavy bulls sold at $19-$21 with light butcher bulls selling at $24 and common bulls downward to 15. Good to choice fed yearlings sold from $25.50-$27. Good stockers sold strong at $25.50-$26, with a few at $25.50-$27, and common stockers from $20.50-$24.50.

Calf receipts totalled 1,350. Prices were at $24-$26 for good to choice vealers with common to medium veals from $14-$22. A few good stock calves brought $25-$27.

Hog receipts were 4,600. Grade A hogs sold at $26 with sows bringing $15 dressed.

Sheep and lamb receipts totalled 200. A few good spring lambs sold from $38-$40, while medium quality feed-lot lambs were $20-$25. Medium to good sheep sold mostly $16-$20, with common lambs downward to $6.

Handshaking Campaigns Nearing End In Two Ridings For By-Election

TORONTO, May 23 (CP). — Handshaking, doorbell - ringing campaigns are drawing to a close in the ridings of Waterloo North and Ontario where federal by-elections will be held Monday.

Virtually all the candidates, three in each riding, have given much of their time to getting out to meet as many voters as possible, shake hands and chat with them, and to ask personally for their support. Other methods of campaigning have taken second place.

The Waterloo North seat became vacant upon the appointment of Louis O. Breithaupt as lieutenant - governor of Ontario. Norman C. Schneider, 63-year-old meat-packing executive, will try to hold it for the Liberals. His opponents are Elizabeth Janzen, Progressive Conservative, and Leonard Schroeder, C.C.F.

The vacancy in Ontario riding, which includes the automotive city of Oshawa, arose from the resignation of Walter Thomson last fall to lead the Liberal forces in the Ontario general election campaign in which the Progressive Conservatives under Premier Frost were re-elected. The candidates are John L. Lay, a nephew of the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Liberal; Herbert Roy Scott, C.C.F., and Mayor Michael Starr, of Oshawa, Progressive Conservative.

Main Issues

Prices and taxes are the main issues on which the by-elections have been fought. Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. speakers urge voters to register a protest against rising prices and taxes, while government supporters say Canada has never been more prosperous.

Waterloo North, with 4,281 eligible voters in the rich farming and industrial area containing the cities of Kitchener and Waterloo, has been held by the Liberals since 1917. In the 1949 federal election, Mr. Breithaupt polled 17,715 votes, against 7,233 for the Progressive Conservative candidate and 7,137 for the C.C.F.

Miss Janzen, 34-year-old manager of a real estate business, has been campaigning 16 hours a day, travelling thousands of miles and shaking hands with upwards of 20,000 persons.

About as vigorous campaigns have been waged by Mr. Schneider, who is head of the Waterloo-Wellington Airport Commission, and by Mr. Schroeder, 47-year-old Canadian Congress of Labor organizer and head of the riding's C.C.F. association.

Campaign speakers at rallies have included Justice Minister Garson, Finance Minister Abbott, Trade Minister Howe and Health Minister Martin for the Liberals; John Diefenbaker, member of Parliament for Lake Centre, Sask., for the Progressive Conservatives; and J. M. Coldwell, national C.C.F. leader.

In Ontario riding, Mr. Lay, 39, is seeking to retain the seat the Liberals have held since 1930. He resigned recently as the Massey-Harris implement company's sales supervisor for Latin-America, a position he held for 14 years.

Trying to regain the seat the Conservatives last won in 1926 is Mayor Starr, 41-year-old order manager for an industrial plant.

The C.C.F. has had all its posters printed in luminous paint in its campaign in support of Mr. Scott, 54-year-old district farmer who, like Mr. Lay, is making his first major political bid.

Some of the prominent speakers who took part in the Waterloo North campaign have appeared at meetings in Ontario riding. External Affairs Minister Pearson spoke for the Liberals, as did Mr. Abbott, Mr. Garson and Trade Minister Howe; Mr. Diefenbaker took part in the Progressive Conservative campaign and George Drew, the party's national leader, spent a day in the riding, but made no speeches; Mr. Coldwell was a C.C.F. speaker, as were Alistair Stewart, member of Parliament for Winipeg North, and E. B. Jolliffe, the party's Ontario leader.

In the 1949 election, Mr. Thomson received 13,412 votes in Ontario riding, compared with 9,803 for the Progressive Conservatives and 9,344 for the C.C.F.

Gov't Trying To Solve Case Of 7 Canadian Ships

OTTAWA, May 23—(CP)—Canada regards the escape of seven government - financed merchant ships to a Communist China port as a "serious matter."

Transport Minister Chevrier said Thursday night in the Commons that the Departments of External Affairs, Justice and Finance are "working" on the case, but said he can give no more specific information at this time.

"There are international difficulties that do not make it easy."

He added that the Communist-seized vessels, built in Canada on a $12,000,000 government-backed loan to the Chinese-controlled Ming Sung industrial company, still are under Canadian registry. It would be a mistake to take them off because Canada then would lose its mortgage on the vessels.

The loan by which the vessels were built in Canadian yards was later defaulted by the Ming Sung Company. The ships were on trading runs out of Hong Kong at the outbreak of the Korean war and later put in to a Red China port and stayed there. They last were reported at Canton.

Revives Matter

The Ming Sung ship matter was revived by Howard Green (PC—Vancouver-Quadra) during consideration of Transport Department estimates. He said the government should "do something" to recover the vessels.

Mr. Green said that if the Canadian ships were not flying the Canadian flag they were breaking Canadian law. They were entitled to the "protection" of the Canadian and British and perhaps even the Allied Navies in the Far East. He did not say what he thought should be done.

Mr. Chevrier said he does not know if the ships are flying the Canadian flag now that they are in Communists hands.

Consideration of Mr. Chevrier's 1952-53 estimates for a total of $96,596,544, brought the usual flood of requests by members for local developments.

George Fulford (L—Leeds) urged a new railway station for Brockville, and the Rev. E. G. Hansell suggested a new C.P.R. station for Calgary.

During the discussion Mr. Chevrier, in reply to a previous statement by Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said he believes the effect on Alberta of recent increases in "transcontinental" freight rates has been magnified.

Small Increases

The minister said only a small number of transcontinental rates have been increased by the railways since legislation was passed last year giving Alberta some of the benefits of the low transcontinental rates. Only eight or 10 commodities were affected.

Mr. Low, returning to the attack, said that the government-owned Canadian National Railways has been "led around by the nose" by the Canadian Pacific Railway in seeking the rate increase. The C.P.R. would not have been able to increase the rates without the agreement of the C.N.R.

Before members considered estimates they devoted three hours to a measure to extend through 1953 the government's financial assistance to marginal gold mines.

Mines Minister Prudham said he believes the gold mining industry, though now in difficulties because of production costs, will emerge stronger than ever. He did not agree with opposition contentions that the industry was "dying."

The gold-assistance legislation finally was approved in principle and put through a clause-by-clause study. Final approval will come later.

NATIVE REGIMENTS

The King's African Rifles, enlisted from African tribesmen, have long been a vital force in maintaining authority in East Africa.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM J. WINDREM

OMEMEE, May 23 (ENS). — William John Windrem, 80, died Thursday in St. Joseph's hospital, Peterborough. His wife, formerly Margaret Goodhand, died about three years ago.

Mr. Windrem was born in Emily township, three miles north of Omemee, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Windrem. After his marriage in 1897 he lived on a farm in South Emily and for a time in Manvers township, but after his father's death some 30 years ago, returned to the homestead north of Omemee where he lived until his retirement about a year ago.

He leaves an adopted son Thomas, and Thomas' son Grant who has lived in the Windrem home since he was a small boy. He also leaves four brothers and one sister: Albert of Moose Jaw, Sask.; Gilbert and Elmer of Peterborough; Walter of Ida, and Mrs. Burns (Annie) of Beaverton. Two brothers, Thomas and Orman, died some years ago and two sisters, Mrs. Foster Eggleston (Lizzie) and Mrs. William Perritt (Amy) recently.

The funeral will be from the Morcombe funeral home, Saturday, May 24 at 2 p.m. The Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt will officiate. Burial will be in Emily cemetery.

Missing Douro Man Feared May Have Fallen Off Auburn Dam, Drowned

Alfred Yeatman Failed To Return Home Left For Work Thursday Morning Firemen Drag Fast Water Below Dam

On the offchance that the worst has happened, city firemen are today dragging below the Auburn Dam on the Otonabee River for 63-year-old Alfred Yeatman who has been missing since Thursday morning. Mr. Yeatman has not been heard from since he started out 8:30 a.m. Thursday, lunch in hand, to cross the top of the Auburn dam on his way to Highway 28. He lives in Dquro township, just off the River Road, three quarters of a mile north of the city.

A plasterer by trade, Mr. Yeatman told his wife Hazel that he was going to cross the dam to work on a housing project in Smith Township. He was to be picked up at the west end of the dam by Art Weeks, Water Street builder.

Mr. Weeks said today that Mr. Yeatman didn't turn up for the job.

When her husband hadn't returned early today Mrs. Yeatman telephoned the police. They have 11 children, including four daughters of school age.

At noon firemen were dragging from a fire department motorboat in the fast-moving water just below the dam.

Police say Yeatman may have suffered a weak spell and toppled into the river while crossing the dam.

Nearly All Land In Subdivision Sold Already

Apparently demand is treading on the heels of supply of building lots as manifested by the experience of city council with its new Queen Elizabeth subdivision.

The property has been divided into 123 lots. At the beginning of this week only seven or eight were left, and so far it has just been a matter of trying to put the land on the market. In between is a minor problem of distribution—who gets what lots, and how?

When you have building customers on the doorstep, you feel like treating them all alike. But, the Queen Elizabeth land of 25 acres isn't all alike, and it has been suggested that the buying builders draw lots by lot.

No More Room

Wish of the council has been to lend a stout hand in providing lots for building this year. Within the city's boundaries there is not enough serviced or even serviceable land left for contractors' enterprises. Hence the further bulge along the border of Smith. Its survey was rushed after the city's optioning, and what remains now is the detail of supplying the finished lots to the builders.

Car Crashes Into Bridge On County Rd., Driver Hurt

James W. Sloane, 31, of 63 Little St., was treated at Civic Hospital Thursday night for face, chest and leg injuries received when his car crashed into the abutment of a bridge on the North Monaghan-Cavan boundary road. The accident occurred a mile northwest of Berry's service station, six miles northwest of Peterborough.

Sloane was driving along the boundary road when his 1937-model car skidded on the gravel and struck the cement abutment on the bridge spanning Jackson Creek.

A nearby farmer heard the crash and found him in a dazed condition.

Left Side Damaged

The whole left front of Sloane's car was stove in and the steering wheel was crumpled. Damage is about $300.

The impact threw Sloane forward against the windshield. He received a cut on his lower lip, his chest and both his legs were bruised. Dr. Robert Pow gave him medical treatment and then permitted him to go home.

O.P.P. Constable Roy Feeley investigated.

12 Soldiers Returning Home

Eleven soldiers from Peterborough and district are returning to Canada from Korea on rotation leave. Their train will arrive in Toronto Union Station at 11 a.m. Monday.

The Peterborough soldiers in the group are Sgt. R. S. Bonneville, 215 Hunter St.; Gnr. C. A. McFarland, 201½ Charlotte St.; Pte. S. M. Tully, R.R. 3, Peterborough.

Soldiers from surrounding communities are: Lt. W. B. Stoddart, Lindsay; Pte. A. J. MacDonald, Bowmanville; Cpl. W. L. Moon, Madoc; Pte. J. B. Burns and Gnr. W. J. Keeler, Cobourg; Pte. D. C. Kelly, Campbellford; Cpl. B. J. Powell, Pte. W. Ashley and Gnr. R. J. Crawford, all of Trenton.

Curse Of Kawarthas Algae May BeBlessing

Algae, cursed by summer vacationers in the Kawarthas, may turn out to be a blessing. In England, a German chemical expert is conferring with British officials on the pond crop known as chlorella, the green scum found on stagnant waters. It is related to the algae that bloom each summer in the lakes around Peterborough. Dr. Fritz Gummert, the expert, says the scum, with proper development, may be "the answer to every essential need — from more cattle to cheaper fuel for your car.

Air Cadets To Receive Ensign For Squadron

Peterborough's Air Cadet squadron will receive its ensign Tuesday night at its first annual inspection, to be held in Morrow Park.

Inspecting the squadron will be Air Commodore W. W. Brown, C.D., of Central Command Headquarters, Trenton, and H. L. Garner, president of the Air Cadet League of Canada, will present the ensign. Time of the inspection is 7:15.

COST OF INDIGENTS

Belleville General Hospital board has written off a deficit of $46,888.70 for the care of indigent patients of 1951. City's taxpayers will be billed for this loss, although many of the indigents were not Belleville residents. Since the annual report was prepared, a further grant of $10,000 was received from the province in April.

Principal Says Complaints Have No Foundation

GORDON FARQUHARSON

LAKEFIELD, May 23 (Staff)—Principal R. E. Sutton of Lakefield District High School said today he would not make a statement at this time, although "the complaints against me are absolutely unfounded."

The high school board was told Tuesday night that a threat of pinklisting hangs over it. The Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation had, said Chairman George McIlmoyl, threatened pinklisting if the resignation of Mr. Sutton were not accepted.

At the same meeting, resignations were received and accepted from five teachers, and a board member, Edward Rath.

Pinklisting would consist of the federation advising any teacher applying for a job at the Lakefield high school that there were unsatisfactory relations between the principal and the teachers.

Statement

Mr. Sutton's complete statement was worded in this way:

"While the complaints against me are absolutely unfounded and I am confident that any impartial tribunal would find them so, I do not think I should embarrass the board at this time by making any statement. But I am prepared to make a full and complete explanation and defence before the proper authorities to any and all complaints made against me."

It was understood that behind at least four of the five teachers' resignations lay differences between Principal Sutton and his staff. These differences were not specified at the meeting.

Edward Rath, the board member who resigned, said at the time, he was "unable to stay on any board that wilfully ignored information that they knew had caused the resignation of at least four teachers."

Mr. Rath said today that he would release a statement on Monday, giving a full account of his reasons for resigning.

REFERRED CLINICS

X-rays were given 73 at the referred clinics held at St. Joseph's and Civic Hospitals during May. These clinics are sponsored by the Peterborough County T.B. Association.

G. Farquharson Heads Kinsmen

Gordon H. T. Farquharson was elected president of the Kinsmen Club for 1952-53 at the club's annual meeting Thursday night, held at the Kawartha Club.

He succeeds Clare Boorman, the retiring president.

Other officers elected were: Arthur Black, first vice-president; William Roche, second vice-president; Howard Powell, secretary; John Robertson, treasurer and Bob Hamilton, registrar.

The directors for this year will be: Carl Greenside, Don Grills, Harley Carr, Bud Laplante and George Bennett.

HE LEFT HIS TACKLE

A Mr. Coulter of 860 Bayview Ave., Toronto, forgot his fishing tackle box last weekend while trying his luck at the Bottle Lake dam, Catchacoma Lake entry. He values it at $30 and having recently arrived in Canada from the Old Country, is anxious to know if anyone has heard of its whereabouts. Phone him Mayfair 0353, collect.

Fire Squelched At Young's Point

Prompt work by the volunteer fire brigade at Young's Point prevented the home of Jack Ayotte, Kawaratha Park, from burning down late Thursday afternoon.

As it was an upper bedroom was badly damaged by fire. Some children's clothing, bedding and curtains and blinds were destroyed. Damage is about $150.

Lit Match

The fire started about 5:30 p.m. when five-year-old Patricia Ayotte, who lives there with her grandfather, struck a match to see her way about in a dark clothes closet. She had come home from school and was told by her grandfather to change her clothes before going out to play. So she could see what she was doing Patricia struck a match and clothing ignited.

Patricia was not injured.

The volunteers, along with the pumper, went to the Ayotte home, three miles north of Young's Point and managed to confine the fire to the bedroom.

About 60 men were present at one time offering their services.

Victoria Day First Holiday Of Summer

Most Canadians celebrate Victoria Day on Saturday, commemorating the birth of Good Queen Victoria on May 24, 1819. But a few communities here and there will observe the holiday on Monday, in keeping with the trend to fix holidays for Mondays to give grown-ups and children alike a long weekend.

This is probably the last year that the holiday will be celebrated on May 24 except when that date falls on a Monday. Action already taken by parliament awaits Royal assent and Victoria Day next year, for instance, will be celebrated Monday, May 18.

The legislation sponsored by J. L. MacDougall (L., Vancouver Burrard) provides that Queen Victoria's birthday will always be celebrated on a Monday. A final amendment in the Commons, before the matter was sent on to the Senate, proposed celebration of the holiday on the Monday immediately preceding May 24, starting in 1953.

Outdoor Holiday

Regardless of the date, Victoria Day is the first warm weather holiday of the summer in Canada and the occasion for many sports events, trips to the country and fireworks in cities and towns. Police chiefs in many localities have already issued their warnings about careless use of fireworks, but a lot of rockets will be fired and cannons exploded as children and their elders mark the day in town and countryside.

Apart from the city celebrations, there will be a great exodus to lakes and streams as cottage-owners put their places in shape for the summer. The two-day break provides opportunity for fishing and hiking expeditions as well as family trips through the green countryside.

Empire Day

Empire Day, as distinct from Victoria Day, was marked in schools all over Canada today, Friday. From the kindergarten kiddies up to the senior scholars many schools put on Empire Day plays for he occasion, designed to symbolize the patriotic bonds that link the Commonwealth and Empire. Many provincial education departments provide their schools with a typical framework for such observances, including programs and demonstrations that have won acclaim in previous years.

On Saturday, however, celebrating Canadians will give thought to the great Queen who died 51 years ago after ruling for 63 years and six months. Victoria had ascended the throne at the age of 18—just seven years younger than the present Queen Elizabeth was when King George VI died last February.

Gov't Undecided About Control

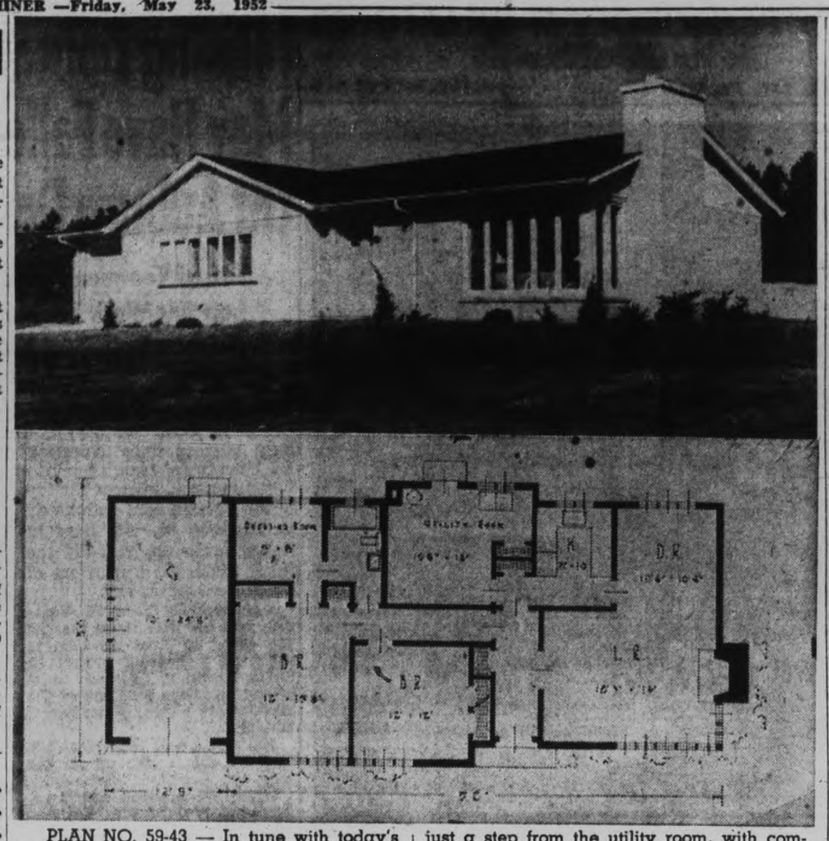
OTTAWA, May 23 —(CP)—The Federal government soon must decide whether it should take over control of interprovincial and international highway transport, the Commons was told Thursday night by Transport Minister Chevrier.

The Minister said the fact that the government still has this question under consideration is the reason why it has decided against allowing truckers to appeal formally before the Board of Transport Commissioners at this time.

Report Canadians Eating Less Beef

OTTAWA, May 23 (CP)—Agricultural economists said Thursday that Canadians are eating less beef but more pork this year and the result may be a supplus of between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000 pounds of beef for 1952.

The estimate of surplus was contained in the May edition of the agriculture department's review of Canadian agricultural conditions.



PLAN NO. 59-43 — In tune with today's trend, this architect-designed one storey home has made good use of open planning, as evidenced by the room layout below. Here we find a good sized living room given an additional feeling of spaciousness by incorporating it with the dining room. See how bright and convenient U-shaped kitchen is, and it's just a step from the utility room, with complete first-floor laundry facilities. Heating equipment is stowed away in this room too, since there is no basement. This home was erected on a beautiful property in Oakville. House contains about 23,000 cu. ft.—For working drawings write Home Builders in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Que. Candidates Nearing End Of Campaign

MONTREAL, May 23 —(CP)—Six candidates moved this weekend into the final stages of campaigns for two Federal by-elections being held Monday in rural Quebec constituencies.

The contests are in Roberval and Brome-Missisquoi, with a three-man fight in each.

The campaigns largely have been fought on national issues, though local questions have been discussed by the candidates.

Progressive Conservatives have called for a protest vote against Liberal-government policies on inflation, the cost of living and defence expenditures. Liberal speakers have campaigned largely on the record of the government and Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Both seats formerly were represented in the House of Commons by Liberal members.

Roberval, the big farming-lumber riding 120 miles north of Quebec city, became vacant when the incumbent J. A. Dion, was appointed to the Quebec bench. The vacancy in Brome-Missisquoi, industrial-agricultural riding about 35 miles southeast of Montreal, came through the death of Liberal member Henri Gosselin.

Three Candidates

Three candidates are seeking election in Roberval — Paul Spence, 45. Mistassini accountant, who represents the Progressive Conservatives: Cyrille Potvin, 41-year-old Roberval lawyer and official Liberal candidate, and Adjutor Boulanger of St. Felicien, an Independent-Liberal who has been campaigning as a supporter of Mr. St. Laurent.

In Brome-Missisquoi, the line-up includes Joseph L. Deslieres, 55-year-old Mayor of Sutton, Liberal; Henri Demers, 55, Farnham business man, Progressive Conservative, and Philip Borgan, farmer from St. Ignace de Stanbridge, representing the C.C.F.

In the 1949 general election, Mr. Gosselin captured Brome-Missisquoi with 8,831 votes, against 6,266 for his Progressive Conservative opponent and 681 votes which went to two minor candidates. The seat is traditionally Liberal.

In that election Mr. Dion won Roberval with 8,103 votes, against 6,078 for an Independent candidate and 1,234 for a candidate representing the Union of Electors.

The Progressive Conservatives have thrown front rank speakers into the campaign in both ridings. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, has visited both ridings. Mr. St. Laurent has not campaigned actively, though his Cabinet lieutenants have stumped for the Liberal cause.

Asks Red Ban

In Roberval, Mr. Drew called for the banning of the Communist party in Canada, the establishment of a French-language Military College and the building of a railway line from Chicoutimi into the northwestern Quebec Chibougamau mining district.

The Liberal candidate, Mr. Potvin, has urged support for a "great Canadian"—Mr. St. Laurent—"doing justice" to French-speaking Canadians. He has been supported in the hustings by Veterans Minister Lapointe.

In Brome-Missisquoi, Postmaster General Cote told campaign meetings the Progressive Conservatives criticized the Liberal administration, but have nothing better to offer. Mr. Deslieres said the Liberals, have produced social reforms "which have improved the lot of Canadians."

SURVIVED CRASH—When a diesel locomotive pulling 67 boxcars smashed into a caboose drawn by a steam locomotive M. J. Kennedy of Belleville, riding in the caboose, suffered severe head injuries but survived. The caboose was smashed to matchwood. The accident occurred a few miles east of Toronto. Four other Belleville men also were injured. Austin Mahon, Canadian National Railways terminal superintendent, blamed an open switch on the main line for the crash.

Convention Report Given Lakefield W.A.

LAKEFIELD, May 23. (ENS)—Mrs. Stanley Burger was program convener when the Women's Association of the United Church met Tuesday afternoon for their May meeting in the Sunday school room. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Earl Edwards.

Mrs. Elmer Northey, treasurer, reported a bank balance of $223.72 and the roll call was taken by Mrs. Perce Darling.

A report of the Women's Association convention held recently at Wesley was given by delegate Mrs. Sandy Millage. The flower committee report was given by Mrs. H. J. Brown and the visiting committee by Mrs. John Murphy who reported 37 calls made during April and May. President Mrs. Sherman Northey presided for the business.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Burger and Mrs. E. Erwin.

Water Hammer Harmful On The Piping

Most home-owners are acquainted with water hammer—regard it as a nuisance — but too few understand its cause or harmful effects on the household's water piping. Water hammer occurs when water flowing in a pipe is suddenly stopped by a quick-closing valve or some similar device, producing high pressure resulting in terrific impact and the creation of energy waves rebounding through the water at high velocity.

In order to conceive the magnitude of this force it has been estimated when water hammer occurs in small pipes the pressure is increased by about 55 pounds per square inch above the flow pressure for each foot per second of sudden decrease in the velocity of the flow. Accordingly, if a body of water flowing at a rate of only 5 feet per second is stopped suddenly, a maximum pressure rise of 275 pounds per square inch (55 x 5) may occur. This pressure is in addition to the normal static pressure at the point of impact.

Thus it may be seen that water hammer is a destructive nuisance which can cause water pipes to vibrate; loosen pipe supports; overstress piping, fittings and joints causing leaks or actual ruptures; and damage to fixtures. Not generally recognized is the fact that water hammer accomplishing progressive destruction may exist in water lines even where its presence is not indicated by violent hammering and noisy vibration.

Fortunately, in most homes the water valving-devices are of the slow-acting type Any hammering or rattling (water hammer), emanating from the water piping can usually be traced to a spring actuated or solenoid-operated valve installed without a relief device, or to a loose faucet washer cup, spindle or other item subject to vibration.

Commercial devices are available to relieve water hammer conditions and are sold under trade names such as relief valves, surge suppressors, shock absorbers and air chambers.

Re-elected Chairman

KINGSTON, May 23 (CP)— J. M. MacDonnel, Q.C.M.P., of Ottawa, has been reappointed chairman of the board of trustees of Qupeen's University, Principal W. A. MacIntoch announced.

Other appointments and elections:

For four years, Senator C. H. Hardy, Brockville; H. G. Bilton, Hamilton; Dr. Dennis Jordan, Toronto; Mrs. D. W. Boucher, Kingston, and Alex E. MacRae, Ottawa.

Squealing Mob Sees Actor's Body

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—An unruly, squealing mob of 500 bobby soxers and grown women elbowed one another and police Thursday for a final glimpse of actor John Garfield's body.

"We came a long way to see John," some of them shouted amid a bargain basement scene of confusion outside a 76th street funeral home.

Garfield, 39, who starred in tough guy roles on stage and screen, died Wednesday of a heart attack.

About 500 persons filed past his bier before the chapel finally was closed to the public at the request of the family.

Another 500 were locked out. They refused to leave and began heckling police as they tugged, pulled and pushed each other for favored positions near the door.

After about 35 minutes of this disorder, the family relented and allowed the doors to be reopened.

Logical Happening

MELBOURNE, Australia, May 23 (Reuters).—The chief of New Zealand's naval staff, Commodore F. A. Ballance, said Thursday it is "only logical" to expect "enemy" submarines in Australian and New Zealand waters at any time. Ballance, here for defence talks, was answering reporters' questions on reports that there have been unidentified submarines sighted off Australia and New Guinea.

Nelson's House Burned

KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 23 (AP).—The house at Port Royal in which Admiral Lord Nelson lived 170 years ago was destroyed Thursday night by fire. The building at the famous old pirate town had been used recently as a school. Nelson, Britain's greatest naval hero, lived there while serving with the West Indies fleet following the American revolution and before he won fame in the Napoleonic wars.

Baby Thriving

WORCESTER, Mass., May 23 (AP).—Fairlawn Hospital says a 4½-pound girl was born 11 days ago after an abdominal pregnancy —in which the child is conceived outside the womb. The baby was reported to be thriving. The New England Journal of Medicine says there are only 556 cases in medical literature where such babies have lived more than seven months.

Toronto Wins Plaque

TORONTO, May 23 (CP)—The International Association of Chiefs of Police has awarded Toronto a plaque in honor of the fact that this city's record of traffic law enforcement last year was the best in its population group on the North American Continent. In all classes, Toronto was second only to Minneapolis for the low fatality record.

Imprisons Tax Staff

HITCHIN, Hereford, England, May 23 — (Reuters) — William Newman, 65, was sore about the income tax he had to pay. So he tied up the door of the local tax office, imprisoning the staff inside. This, he told the judge Thursday, was "so they couldn't defraud anyone else." He was fined 10 shillings for being drunk and disorderly.

It's A Great Day To Work At Home—Or Go Fishing

Yes, it would be a wonderful day to get out in the garden and see how the seeds are sprouting. In fact, it's such a beautiful spring day, what with the sun shining, the leaves leafing and everything green bursting out all over, it's a crime to be cooped up in a stuffy office.

If it wasn't for old "Simon Legree" in the front office taking such a dim view of such goings on, it would be a good day to say "to heck with working in this sweat shop," and head for home and the backyard.

Anyhow, it should be easy to slip away without being noticed on a day like this, because the boss told his secretary he's going out of town after lunch. He should have added, so he can spend the afternoon polishing up on his golf.

It's too bad, the lawn should be mowed, the wife's been nagging about digging up the flower beds for the last couple of weeks, then too, it's getting awfully warm upstairs these nights with all those storm windows still on. It's a downright waste of time to be fiddling around at work on a day like this doing a job that could be just as well taken care of tomorrow or next week when the all that work to be done at home.

Should Go Slow

The trouble is, it's a bit dangerous for a man to whip into things with too much energy this time of year, when he's out of condition. Pushing a lawn mower takes a lot of energy, and the old ticker isn't as good as it used to be. With a husky 12-year-old doing nothing but sitting at school all day, why should his old man have to cut the grass? A fall from a ladder can result in serious injuries, and those windows on the third floor are hard enough to put on, let alone remove, and then shinny down a 24-foot extension ladder, holding the sash in one hand and hanging on with the other. One false step and it's a long way down. Who wants to spend all summer in hospital looking at nothing but pretty nurses, flowers in vases and get-well cards?

Maybe it would be a good thing to phone up those fellows who were advertising in the paper last week. They're experts at taking off storm windows, so why should an amateur risk his neck?

Then too, every time anyone starts digging in the flower bed, the wife nearly has a stroke. She wouldn't speak for two weeks last spring, after her delphiniums were rooted out; after all, they looked like young burdocks — the small leaves looked almost the same; how is a man supposed to be an expert botanist, anyhow. Perhaps it would be better to let her putter around the flowers by herself in her spare time.

Up At The Cottage

But, it sure would be a great day to be able to get out to the cottage on Chandos Lake, there's a lot of odd jobs that need doing, it should be painted his spring, the roof needs patching and Joe Simpson was saying the other days the northeast corner should be raised with a new cement block, before the whole building sags . . . confounded phone always interrupting a man when he's trying to get out from under a stack of work up to his neck. Hello, Jim, what's that? Would I like to slip out to Cavan Creek with you and Bill for some trout fishing about 3. You bet I would. No, I won't have any trouble getting away, the old boys' out of town this afternoon. I'll just tell his secretary I'm going downtown to make a few calls. It sure is a great day to go fishing, they should be biting good.

WINNIPEG —(CP)—Onion sets and multipliers were reported in short supply here after many people stocked up for their home gardens. Dealers said the good crop of last year had been reduced by spoilage and shrinkage of seed over the winter.

Man Declares Age 121, Not Too Old For Insurance

LOS ANGELES, May 23 (AP) —You think you're too old for insurance? Well, Joseph Dawn Louzier says he's 121. Lloyds of London gave him a $10,000 policy under a newspaper's travel and pedestrian plan offered to subscribers.

Louzier is sharp, alert and doesn't look a day over 90. But he says he was born near Ridgetown Hill, Pa., April 30, 1831. He's never been able to get a birth certificate, he concedes. His father, he says, was a Mohican Indian, his mother half French and half Mohawk Indian.

For reporters, he has such recollections as:

Sleeping in a bed for the first time in Washington, D.C., "before he was 30," and chatting a few minutes with President Lincoln.

Serving as a paid scout for the Union Army, meeting General Custer, but: "I didn't care much for him. He was bull-headed."

Meeting the outlaw James boys and Cole Younger while riding range in the southwest—"socially y'might say." Never did business with them. I was always an honest one."

Of television: "Scairt me at first. Now it keeps me up 'til 12."

Of marriage: "I'm a widower now, but I ain't given up. I'm looking for a fat gal so I can walk in the shade on sunny days."

Formula for long life: "Just keep breathin', son. Just keep breathin'."

Assaulted Wife, Put On Probation

CAMPBELLFORD, May 23 — (ENS)—Wilbert Robbins, of R.R. 3, Dartford, pleaded guilty and received one year suspended sentence when he appeared before Magistrate R. B. Baxter here today, charged with assault occasioning bodily harm. The charge arose out of an incident about three weeks ago when Robbins struck his wife with a tire wrench. The blow injured the face of Mrs. Robbins severely.

Robbins received a stiff warning from Magistrate Baxter regarding a recurrence of the type of treatment. He said he was taking into consideration the fact that the man had several children to support. The probation officer will make periodic calls at the home to see that things are running smoothly.

Provincial Constable Donald W. Erskine, of Campbellford, laid the assault charge against Robbins.

Gov't May Intervene

LONDON, May 23 (Reuters) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill Thursday warned the Socialist-controlled Ruham County Council, which for 18 months has tried to introduce a "closed-shop" policy of employing trade unionists only, that the government will intervene if it does not change the policy. Last year the council insisted that everyone in its employ must produce evidence of membership in a trade union or professional association or be dismissed.

Greater Freedom

LONDON, May 23 (Reuters) — British government plans to give greater freedom to private airlines will be announced in the House of Commons next week. Alan Lennox-Boyd, minister of transport and aviation, in an official statement to the house will outline the government's plan to allow charter firms to compete with the two state-controlled companies, British Overseas Airways and British European Airways.

Talks Collapse

DETROIT, May 22 (AP).—Negotiations to end a two-weeks-old strike of 15,000 A.F.L. carpenters in the Detroit area collapsed today. Carpenter picket lines have made idle 100,000 members of six other A.F.L. unions in the construction industry. Striking carpenters are asking a 15-cent hourly wage increase, plus five cents an hour in health and welfare benefits.

Marmora News

A miscellaneous shower was held in St. Paul's parish hall Wednesday for Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Empey who were recently married.

Miss Miriam Savage spent a few days in Toronto this week on business.

Save Baby's Life

LONDON, May 23 (AP) —The life of a two-pound, three-ounce baby was saved at sea Thursday night with bottled oxygen which the U.S. navy rushed to a ship 800 miles out in the Atlantic. The U.S. transport Washington radioed that she had rendezvoused with the refrigerator ship Bluejacket and taken on bottles of oxygen—just a few hours before a supply for the premature baby would have run out. The infant was born three days ago to Mrs. Janet Rozelle of Dallas, Tex., enroute to Bovingdon, Hertford, England, where her husband is stationed.

Touring Europe

PLYMOUTH, England, May 22—(AP)—David Ferguson of Toronto, 35-year-old D-day veteran, landed here today from the Ile De France for a bicycle tour of Britain and Europe which he will never see. He was blinded by a shell blast at Caen, France, in 1944. With him is his wife, Patricia, 28. They met when she was a nurse in Toronto. They ride a tandem bicycle with Patricia navigating and describing the countryside to David, who provides most of the motive power.

Arctic Invasion Mixed Blessing For Eskimos

OTTAWA, May 23 —(CP)—The white man's invasion of the Arctic has been a mixed blessing to the Eskimo.

That was the concensus of men who have most to do with the far north at a conference here this week.

A round-table conference, called by Resources Minister Winters and consisting of representatives of eight government departments or agencies, the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches, and the Hudson's Bay Company, held a two-day conference Monday and Tuesday.

The conference was closed to the press and public. A 1,500-word statement was issued Thursday.

Spread of tuberculosis among Eskimos is "increasing seriously," the report indicated.

Rapid Depletion

Concentration of Eskimos at posts and settlements had resulted in the rapid depletion of accessible country produce and there had been a consequent decline in their vitality and resistance to disease. The inclination of some Eskimos to depend on government aid had lessened their desire to seek game and food in outlying areas.

Employment of older Eskimos at various centres was depriving the younger generation of parental training and many were unfitted to follow the Eskimo's traditional mode of life.

The R.C.M.P. reported the Eskimo is a law-abiding citizen when his actions are considered in the light of his situation and his view of the law.

Will Build Cyclotron

TOKYO, May 23 (AP) —Kyodo News Agency today said the finance ministry has earmarked $22,222 for building a cyclotron at Kyoto University. The university had asked for $41,667 to set up an atom-smasher to replace the one destroyed by the Allies immediately after the surrender of Japan. Kyodo said the new one will be built on the same site.

Hastings Boy Falls From Bike, Breaks Arm

CAMPBELLFORD, May 22 — Eight-year-old Peter Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Orr, of R.R. 2, Hastings, suffered a fractured right arm on Thursday when he fell from a bicycle.

An older boy placed Peter on the bicycle and gave him a push to start him down a hill. The younger lad was unfamiliar with riding a bicycle and fell to the ground, fracturing his right arm.

X-rays at the Campbellford Hospital revealed the break was of a serious nature. After being treated by Dr. W. W. Baker, the boy was taken to a Peterborough hospital to have the fracture set.

New Brunswick Has 2-Party Vote Campaign

SAINT JOHN, N.B., May 23 — (CP)—Voters in two federal by-elections mark their ballots in New Brunswick Monday with the echoes of a straight two-party campaign ringing in their ears.

Hedard J. Robichaud, Liberal candidate in Gloucester, and Hugh Tait, his Victoria-Carleton running mate, are depending on their party's record, stressing social services provided by the government.

Their Progressive Conservative opponents, Albany M. Robichaud, Q.C., in Gloucester and Gage W. Montgomery, have appealed for a "protest" vote against government spending, high taxes and the high cost of living.

George Drew, national P.C. leader, speaking Thursday night at Bathurst, said a vote for the Progressive Conservative candidate would be a stroke against present living costs and high taxation. If Albany M. Robichaud were sent to Ottawa is would show "Gloucester is not satisfied with the present state of affairs. Theg overnment would know that it is time to do something before the next federal election."

Less One-Sided

It was "not good," Mr. Drew said, for a government to be supported too strongly by one party. Voters should make the division of seats less one-sided.

External Affairs Minister Pearson speaks tonight in support of Mr. Tait.

Mr. Robichaud, 40, recently resigned as fisheries director for New Brunswick. Unrelated to Albany M. Robichaud, he campaigned on Liberal achievements and said his government had brought about a "revolution" in Gloucester county's deep-sea fishing industry.

His opponent, a 49-year-old Bathurst barrister and "true son of Gloucester," stressed the need for a change in government.

In Victoria-Carleton, Mr. Tait, 34, Woodstock weekly newspaper publisher, and Mr. Montgomery, 54, Woodstock barrister are friends in private life and began the fight with a handshake. They will vote at the same poll.

The death of Progressive Conservative H. H. Hatfield left Victoria-Carleton vacant. It nas been held mainly by Conservatives since 1925. C. T. Richard opened the Gloucester seat when he was appointed to the New Brunswick bench. Liberals have held it since 1900.

Traced Chairman's Signature On Cheque

WINDSOR, May 23 (CP). — Cross-examination of Mrs. Elsie Morley who told a Provincial Government investigating commission she forged a $5,000 East Windsor hospital cheque will begin today, commission officials said.

Mrs. Morley, 26, former secretary to Dr. J. J. G. Morgan, hospital superintendent, has been testifying for two days before a commission appointed by Attorney-General Porter to investigate the hospital's affairs.

Late Thursday, under questioning by Arthur A. Macdonald, chief counsel for the investigating body, she told how she "traced" the signature of E. C. Poisson, a former hospital board chairman, on a $5,000 hospital cheque.

The action had been performed, she said, on the orders of the hospital superintendent, who told her the chairman was "not available." Date of the cheque—it was made out to a firm which supplied building materials for construction of a 132-bed hospital wing—was April 24, 1951.

To Clarify Points

Mr. Macdonald's questioning of Mrs. Morley ended late Thursday and it was expected that she would be asked today by Keith Laird, a Windsor lawyer, to clarify points of her testimony. Mr. Laird is representing the interests of M. F. Brobst, an ex-hospital board chairman on whose instigation the investigation was ordered.

Mrs. Morley testified Thursday that:

1. A package labelled "morphine" had been left on the hospital switchboard, presumably to be taken from the hospital.

2. Quantities of food bought by the hospital had been donated for consumption by persons who had no connection with the hospital.

3. It was for five years a regular hospital practise to purchase household goods for re-sale at cost to hospital employees. No purchase tax had been paid.

4. Dr. Morgan had sold a hospital water cooler to a board member.

Mrs. Morley's testimony on the morphine incident was described by her counsel, Ross S. Riddell, Windsor, as constituting "answers to questions which were put to her." He said there was no presumption that "anything improper" had taken place.

The witness said on one occasion when she had been doing substitute duty on the hospital switchboard she had noticed a package lying on the top of the switchboard addressed to Mrs. Agnes Block, secretary to Windsor's Mayor Arthur J. Reaume. The package had been enclosed "in an ordinary hospital envelope."

Labelled Morphine

Having inadvertently spilled some soda-pop on the envelope, the witness said, she had thought it necessary to replace the covering. She found inside a small manila envelope labelled "morphine."

Questioned as to the disposal of hospital food, Mrs. Morley said that "on many occasions" Dr. Morgan had donated roasts of meat to hospital staff members. In April, 1950, the hospital had provided a free noon luncheon for 150 persons at Sacred Heart Church, Windsor. The luncheon had been held to commemorate Msgr. W. E. Dillon's 25th anniversary at the church.

The purchase of household goods for re-sale had been a regular practise at the hospital from 1946 until late in 1951, the witness continued. The goods—fans, television sets, tea-kettles, toasters, sheets and linens—had been re-sold at cost o hospital employees.

Since the commodities had been bought by a charitable institution, no purchase tax had been paid.

She described the water-cooler transaction this way:

J. Leslie Straith, a board member, had bought the cooler from Dr. Morgan, he had paid $300 in cash which the doctor paid into the fund against his personal debt. A further $300 cheque of Mr. Straith's had been charged against the board member's debt to the fund. The fund had not benefitted by the $300 water-cooler purchase price.

Veterans Want Meyer Kept Life Prisoner

By DOUGLAS HOW.

MONTREAL, May 23 (CP). — The Canadian Veterans' Parliament thinks Kurt Meyer should stay in prison for life.

The 14th and largest national convention of the Canadian Legion came to that conclusion on Thursday and narrowly rejected an Ontario request that he be brought back to Canada from Werl Prison in Germany.

The convention ends today after five days of debate and decisions which have reflected fears about Canada's defence position, unemployment, and certain phases of immigration. Recommended were numerous improvements in war pensions, veterans' allowances, the civil service, and employment practices.

Two clergymen were elected to pilot the organization for the next two years.

The Meeyr issue lined up beside the preparedness program and conscription—the less provocative term selective service was adopted—as one of the major issues of the whole assembly.

Study Resolution

Before the honvention Thursday was a resolutiton contending that the government is taking steps to release the German wartime general found responsible for the shooting of 18 Canadian prisoners of war in 1944 and urging that no such steps be taken.

To that was added an Ontario amendment requesting that the 42-year-old Meyer be brought back to a Canadian prison "to restore faith in the government's statements and to keep faith with the fallen."

The Ontario amendment was defeated, but by a margin so narrow the chairman had a hard time making a ruling.

The main resolution was passed by a large majority even though several speakers with overseas fighting records argued against it, including Frank Mather of Estevan, Sask., who was taken prisoner at Dieppe and implied that Meyer could no more know about shootings by his troops than the Canadian general at Dieppe could know at the time whether Canadians shot German prisoners.

Among those who spoke in favor of the resolution was Hugh Lamb of Streetsville, Ont., who said he had buried his pals shot by Meyer's men and wanted no part of any release for the man responsible.

In the convention's election of officers, Dr. C. B. Lumsden, 57, who lost an arm and won a gallantry award as a stretcher-bearer in the First World War, was elected president. He teaches Bible studies to Baptist theology students at Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S.

Another clergyman, Dean J. O. Anderson of Winnipeg, was elected first vice-president. Other officers elected included Erle Burgess, St. Thomas, Dominion chairman.

It is the first time two ministers have led the veterans' body.

FRANCIS P. BROOKS, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks, graduated recently from the University of Toronto as a civil engineer. He leaves soon for Newfoundland where he will work for federal government on a topographical survey. Mr. Brooks received his high school education in Havelock and served 22 months as a gunner with the R.C.A. during the Second World War.

Chimps And Convicts Act Same When Caged

LONDON—(CP)—D. O. Hebb, a Montreal professor, says you can learn a lot about criminals from chimpanzees.

The professor, regarded as an outstanding authority on the mental processes of the ape, told an audience of psychiatrists and scientists tests of five years ago have convinced him there isn't much to choose between caged apes and a "prison population of human beings."

So Professor Hebb advised the more than 100 doctors present at Maudsley Hospital, well-known research centre for criminal psychology, to do some practising on champanzees.

As one indication of the similarity between apes and humans, the Montreal professor said the female of the species is the one to watch.

"You can easily fool a male chimp, but you cannot fool a female," said Professor Hebb, leaving his audience to draw its own conclusions about human beings.

Bridge Cost

REGINA—(CP)—Restoration of the $900,000 bridge at Saskatchewan Landing which was damaged by ice floes last April will cost about $325,000, according to the Highways department. In restoring the wrecked spans the floor level of the bridge will be raised 10 feet.

Australia's Cattle Herds Depleted Through Drought

By GRAEME BROOKS

BRISBANE—(Reuters)—Drought —the worst in living memory—has wiped out six-years' increase in herds in the vast North Australian cattle belt and sharply reduced export prospects.

Greater production of Australian beef from this big cattle-raising area has been affected for years to come and the industry faces the dry winter period with barren pastures and trickles where swift streams ran.

Cattle have been dying by the thousands in the stricken areas and cattlemen are considering plans to bore wells deep into the earth to tap water reserves far underground in a desperate attempt to save valuable breeding herds.

Other Factors

Immediate prospects for the industry are poor. Main reasons, apart from the stock losses, are: insecurity of land tenure (most properties are held on lease), lack of economic security for landholders, inadequate rail and other transport facilities, high taxation and inadequate prices.

Under a new 15-year agreement, which operates from July, Britain will pay Australian producers about a quarter of the price they could get from the dollar countries. The British food ministry has agreed to pay less for prime beef than the local Australian market offers.

J. H. Kelly, Bureau of Agricultural Economics research officer, warns the latest losses will cut Australia's cattle population from 10,200,000 (200,000 less than a year ago) to about 9,000,000, the number after the disastrous droughts of 1945-46.

Beef production, he says, probably will drop from 650,000 tons, including 65,000 tons for export, to 560,000 tons with little if any for overseas markets.

The Queensland Meat Export Company Limited, one of Australia's biggest meat-handling firms, said in its latest annual report that government-to-government bulk buying tends to damage seriously Australia's reputation for high-grade meats and that the loss of goodwill might be hard to regain when private trading resumed.

Beetles Ready To Gobble Caterpillars

MONTREAL — (CP)—A hairy, brown-grey worm is in for the shock of its life this year.

Billions of the destruc[illegible]le creatures, known to en[illegible] as the forest tent caterpillars, are preparing to eat their way through thousands of square miles of forest, with no knowledge of the fate awaiting them.

The thing that will stop them is a common garden-variety of beetle which breeds nicely as long as there are plenty of tent caterpillars about to provide a regular diet.

A spokesman for the Plant Protection Division of the Federal Agriculture Department says it takes an industrious beetle virtually seconds to eliminate one tent caterpillar and head for another.

The beetles and the caterpillars work in three-year cycles.

When the caterpillar population reaches sizable proportions, the beetle begins to cut it down. That's just what he is expected to do this year.

The first season of the cycle results in about a one-third decrease in caterpillar ranks. The second season reduces the population virtually to nothing. Then nature's pendulum swings the other way. With no ready food, beetles diminish and the tent caterpillars increase.

Last autumn the provincial Department of Lands and Forests made a caterpillar egg count. The check indicated the biggest infestation in years and tree-owners were warned to protest their trees by spraying insecticide.

IT SHOULDN'T HAPPEN TO A DOG —"Pop" Pomeranian, left, doesn't approve of this "family" portrait. Gordon Dobbin Heads Figure Skating Club

Gordon Dobbin was elected president of the Peterborough Figure Skating Club for 1952-53, at the club's recent annual meeting.

The other officers elected were: W. J. Garner, first vice-president; Roy Lewis, second vice-president; Mrs. Russell Cole, treasurer; and Mrs. Howard Simpson, secretary.

The directors of the club for the coming years are: Mrs. Don Wood, Bert Austin and F. B. Smitheram.

Oil Painting Cache Uncovered

MONTREAL, May 23—(CP)—Discovery of a cache of $8,000 worth of oil paintings in a downtown department store, including near-life-size portraits of Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, led to the arrest Thursday of a 45-year-old Toronto man.

The man was identified as Lucien Shine, wanted by police for theft of at least two of the paintings.

Two of the seven paintings have been identified as stolen in the Toronto district.

The other five include portraits of Winston Churchill and George Bernard Shaw. Where these five came from has not yet been established.

Tips from banks where Shine did business led police to his Montreal apartment.

Police said the paintings were left in Shine's name in custody of the department store for exhibition purposes and eventually to be sold.

Radioactive Method Spurs Saskatchewan Insect Study

SASKATOON—(CP)—Saskatchewan scientists have made great strides in the study of insect movements by labelling them with radioactive tracers, and then checking them with a Geiger counter.

The systems developed to tag wireworms, cutworms and black flies were used for the first time by the Saskatchewan research men. The projects have been carried out by the Dominion Entomological Laboratory in Saskatooon in co-operation with the University of Saskatchewan.

This field of insect research is in its infancy and as new techniques are perfected, endless research possibilities are uncovered.

Dr. A. P. Anason, in charge of the Entomological phase of the research, said the significance of tagging underground insects with a radioactive particle is that underground insect behavior now can be observed under practically normal circumstances.

Research workers found it was impossible to place the radioactive particle insi[illegible] body of the wireworm without killing it. It was found, though, that the particle could be cemented to the last segment of the worm's body without disturbing it too much.

In the meantime, movements of the worms between shedding of the skin are being observed.

Aimless Worms

The studies show that the worm doesn't know where he is going.

Direction of movement was haphazard, and the individuals appeared to have no way of locating food other than by striking it in their random movements through the soil. It is possible for them to pass within half an inch of a food deposit without finding it.

Dr. Arnason said it was found that worms prefer a moderately-moist soil and a temperature of about 75 degrees. As the topsoil dried out they moved to a lower depth. Worms commonly died before being able to find their way out of soil heated to more than 90 degrees.

Cutworms, considerably larger than wireworms, can survive having the particle of radioactive material injected inside the body cavity.

To study the dispersal of black flies and mosquitoes, the insects are tagged in the early stages of development by raising them in a radioactive solution for a short time and then returning them to their natural habitat.

A few hundred thousand individuals were tagged, but very few were located later. It was concluded that millions of insects would have to be tagged before indications of dispersal movements could be found.

Believes Slump Only Temporary

LONDON — (CP)—The trouble with British industries, hard hit by changes in the economy, is only a temporary fit of indigestion, not a symptom of a general slump, says Manning Dacey, economic adviser to Lloyds bank.

Addressing the annual conference of the Wholesale Textile Association, he forecast an early comeback by business interests such as the textile industries that had borne the brunt of recent import restrictions by certain Commonwealth countries.

"I can see no evidence at all," he said, "that we are entering on a period of general slump."

There is no indication either that the country has entered upon a sudden wave of thrift. Although the average family is economizing on food and clothing, more is being spent on tobacco, beer and entertainment.

"The obvious conclusion is that the recession in the textile and some other consumer trades is purely temporary," Dacey said. "It is only a fit of indigestion."

He suggested a fall in prices might well be the necessary condition of ecovery. But with incomes rising while food subsidies were being withdrawn, he believed home demand for many goods would be back to normal before the end of the year.

Nassau L.O.L. 100 Years Old

L. O. L. 457 at Nassau is celebrating its hundredth anniversary this year. At their May meeting, members played host to a large number of Orangemen from Peterborough and surrounding counties.

The lodge was formed and its warrant issued November 20, 1852. Worshipful Master at that time was Phillip Sargent.

At the May meeting, county officers for Peterborough West were present and exemplified the Royal Arch Purple Degree, with County Master R. Langley in the chair, and A. Holden, Grand Lecturer of Grand Orange Lodge of British America, director of ceremonies.

P. Howden, Master of L.O.L. 457, welcomed the visitors and introduced Mr. Holden, who spoke on the principles of the association and of the unity which must be maintained against communism.

Other speakers were M. Brown, Grand Lecturer for the Grand Lodge, Ontario east, the county master and several primary lodge masters.

Unchristian Drivers

WILLESDEN, England—(CP) — Speaking of people who regard themselves as "superior beings" as soon as they are behind the wheel of a car, Rev. Gerald Ellison, Bishop of Willesden, said: "Christians should know that to allow oneself to be mastered by machines is a blasphemy and a sin."

COUNTY COUNCIL MEET

The June meeting of the Peterborough County Council has been set back one day. The dates will be June 12, 13, and possibly 14. Originally the Council were to meet a day earlier but the date was changed because on the 11th four Pakistan students of municipal affairs will be investigating the county organization. Chief item on the June session is deciding on the equalized assessment for 1953.

RAINS AND RISING WATER

Water levels on the Trent System have risen due to recent steady rainfalls throughout the district drainage system. Stop logs have been eased out at control dams to allow the seasonal flood to get away to Lake Ontario and the level today is about ten inches below the top of George St., wharf.

BRITAIN'S "A" CHIEF — Apparently overjoyed with his new assignment is Dr. W. G. Penney, 43, who has been named to take charge of Britain's first test of an atomic device. Test will take place on Monte Bello Islands, off the coast of Australia, where an atomic test station is being set up.

EVERYBODY SAYS:

"A neighbour is one who knows more about your affairs than you do."

You'd be surprised what the other fellow knows about you. But usually when you treat him right, he treats you right.

You can tell by the smell if your wash is really clean.

SURF GETS WASHES TWICE AS SWEET FAR, FAR CLEANER

OTHER SUDS

Ordinary suds leave traces of soap scum, SMELLY GREASE and dirt deep in fibers. Clothes CAN'T SMELL SWEET because they aren't really clean! Try Surf next washday.

SURF SUDS

Surf suds leave no smelly grease and dirt in fibers . . . NO "DIRTY CLOTHES" ODOR. Surf-washed clothes smell TWICE AS SWEET because they're deep down, through and through clean!

"No Substitute for Professional Hair Styling"

say lovely Canadian models

"On a modelling assignment, you can't take a chance on a makeshift hair-do. To be safe, I go to a good shop, where a trained beautician guarantees good results." — says Rusty Knight

"An amateurish permanent would never do for camera work—or for good grooming at any time. I rely on a qualified beautician." — says Beverley Loyst

"A competent beauty operator knows the answers about hair. When grooming is important, it pays to trust only an expert with the care of your hair." — says Lois Whitehead
